BAKER FAMILY
OF ANDOVER

COMPILED BY
CHARLOTTE HELEN ABBOTT

The BAKER FAMILY

John Baker of Norwich, England, was in Ipswich, 1634, with his wife, Elizabeth. He was born in 1592 and she in 1600. John was one of the original grantees of Topsfield, receiving 150 acres in 1661. This bounded on Baker's Pond, later Hood's, which he deeded later to his son, Thomas(2).

John held to his land in Ipswich, and I think, settled there finally. A paper in the Reg. of Deeds, dated 1676, Norwich, England, mentions John's brother Benjamin and his cousin Richard. In 1680, Nath'l Greenwood, attorney in Boston of Thos. Wetherell of Norwich, gave a receipt for money paid by John Baker, Sr., "late of Ipswich, now of Topsfield."

The children of John (1) and his wife, Elizabeth, were :-

Priscilla (7) Frye (above) had Eliza A. (8), who married Henry W. Abbott, and a daughter, a Mrs. Ingersoll of New York was her g-daughter. They said that Priscilla and Nat he Frye, lived on (John(5), (Ben(5), the Raymond place, which I doubt. Joseph(6) Frye, who married Susanne Sargent(6) Baker, was the owner of the old home and was born there. Both men, Joseph (6) and Nath(6) had the same great uncle, Nath'l (3) Frye.

When Joseph(6) Frye left Andover to go to Canada to smuggle horses, after the Revolution and near the War of 1812, he owed his brother-in-law, Symonds(6) Baker, a note. He-Joseph, was caught smuggling in Canada and was hanged there. My father's cousin, David Russell brought the news home.

Before he left, he lived on the Cooper place at the Pond and Susanne grandson, stayed there awhile with the children. Her son Asa Hinchcliffe, son John of her daughter Susanne(7), who married/Hinchcliffe, got the idea that his grandfather was murdered, at the instigation of the Bakers who wanted the money he had lent them, -when the truth was, that he never had paid the note he borrowed and they knew nothing of his death until Russell brought the word.

It was said that he was hanged unjustly, not being guilty of a very extensive smuggling business, but feeling ran high at the time and both sides were very severe on anybody caught under suspicion, and he was with a gang that was implicated. The estate was conveyed to the Baker<sup>s</sup> to secure the note, hence comes the tale of "stealing the estate." Young Hinchcliffe was advised to ask his sister, a Lynn woman, the true tale .

Dr. Symonds Baker purchased the estate after her death and it is still held by the great grandson, George Baker. In 1781, Joseph Ballard and his wife, Hannah, sold to Symonds Baker, Holt's Great Meadow on the road to Salem. ( Near Prospect Hill spmewhere).

According to the 1797 record, the northern boundary of his farm was Bixby Abbott's land, and gates were on the line. He paid a tax, 1798, of $3. signed by Wm. Farnum, Collector of Revenue.

1:110...Dec.27,1715...Capt. Thomas(2) Baker applied to Salem Court for damages, claiming that his meadows were flooded over from the dam of the old mill owned by Isaac Peabody. The claim was not allowed. 1726 old Isaac Peabody died and left the mill to his son, Joseph, so Capt. Thomas again tried to get damages and was awarded 18 shillings a year. For 70 years the Baker family collected this fee, until 1801. Then Joseph and John Batchelder owned the Baker farm and they brought suit against Jacob Peabody, then mill owner, for flooding their meadows and they were awarded $18 damages and were to have $3 per year. This they collected until 1870.
