Henry(1) Haggett, born about 1593, was on the records in Salem in 1642, and in Wenham, 1670. In his will, made Dec.7,1676, his age is given as 83.(In a memo on back, it is called " Goodman Haggott's"will.) He died 1677.

Moses (2) Haggett lived in the West end of the town, see Bailey, page 121. He was not on lists as proprietor, before 1678-(although they are not regular until that date.) In 1679, he bought from Stephen Johnson, his brother-in-law, 14 acres of upland and 7 acres of marsh on South West side of Blanchard's Pond. He paid 12 shillings per year to the Church, as tribute, and Town tax. He was then of Ipswich, the home of Joann Johnson, before the family came here.

Blanchard's Pond was named "Haggett's", for him, after he and Tim Moore bought up the Blanchard estates and owned the island in the middle of the pond, 1720. The name often given was ".5 Mile Pond."

Tradition has it that he was trying to make a settlement in 1676 and was clearing lots when he and his sons were taken prisoners by Indians. The family doubtless escaped.

Peter French's estate or one near Follansbee, was probably the old Haggett place.

 Hannah (6) b. 1789; cousin of the tribe of Eunice Russe and Prince Ames, on mother's side.

John (6), b. about 1791;-the rest born away somewhere.

I don't know where Jerre lived after father Tom and Susan sold out to Burtt. Maybe they hired a place. Jacob Haggett's place near it, was held by Peter French on a mortgage and here, Simon Crosby lived in his old age. Old Mr. ^APoor said that a man named Wright, who had once lived in the Hagget home where ^{Simon} Crosby stayed, was killed by Indians. The original Haggett
 / homestead included all the Burtt land and along the north side of the pond-along the route owned by the R.R. Tom sold it to Burtt in 1760.

The South Church record gives the death of Jonathan, so all that were left, were this Jerre^{SS} and the girls- if Tom survived the Revolution himself.

127:235; Tom (4) Haggett, for 100 £bs. from Chas. Furbush, sells a pasture on Wood Hill. .. Somebody, probably Griffin, who lived near, for 25 £bs. got land on the Road from Tom Blanchard's to Kendall's sawmill. (Probably the last he held here of much account. Think he died on Middlesex side, before 1776.)

Poor on his visit here, went to the home of Jedidah Burt. Burt told him that the house was bought by his grandfather Burt, partly from Thomas Haggett, 1756. A Crosby owned some of it, so after Sam Crosby married Jacob Haggett's widow, he lived on the farm and Moses and Tom's places were near.
