The INGALLS FAMILY

of ANDOVER

The NEW ENGLAND REGISTER, for JAN. 1896, publishes a note from Chas. Hazeltine on the INGALLS family. He thinks Robert Ingalls of Skerbut, Lincolnshire, England, was father of Edmond and Francis Ingalls who came to America in 1629, with the planters. Mr. Hazeltine found a will at Lincoln Cathedral Probate Ct., which mentioned a wife, Elizabeth; called Edmond the eldest son and Robert, the second. Francis was the youngest. Robert received 20 £bs. ; Francis, 30 £bs. To Ann Cleasbie, a maid servant, he left 5 £bs. To all of Henry Cleasbie's children, one ewe lamb. To his cousin Henry's children, (probably nephews) 1 ewe lamb; to brother Henry, a black faced cow; to the poor of Skerbut, 10 sh.; 1/2 the estate to his wife, Elizabeth, for life; 1/2 to son Edmond, then, the rest later. Elizabeth and son Edmond, exec. July 12, 1617.

Wm. Shinfold and Robert Harrison, witnesses.

The brothers, Edmond and Francis established themselves 1st in Lynn, Edmond becoming a malster and Francis a tanner. Edmond was drowned 1649, in March, while crossing Saugus Bridge on his way home from a business trip in Boston. He had a wife, Anne, who may be the Cleasbie lass mentioned in the will of father Robert. Ed's wife d.

Francis lived near the Swampscott line and died in 1672, age 71. The tanning vats that he used in the first tannery in Mass. Colony were in position as late as 1825.
