 (Wm.(1) Jn(2) son of Jn.(3)/Tom(4)) who died in jail of debt. He was(Tom⁴) at one time a noted lawyer. The body was not buried until almost decayed and the jailor did do by digging obliquely through the jail wall to the graveyard. The community, or whoever had charge, feared that they would be responsible for debts of prisoners, if they buried them. This all happened in 1785. Where was Tom (5), the Judge, all this time, I wonder ?
