NEWMAN FAMILY

MARK NEWMAN, Sr., brother to Samuel, was born in Ipswich, Sept. 7, 1772. (Parents not given in record.) He came to ANDOVER after serving as an instructor at Phillips Exeter Academy. He recalled Benj. Abbott, Principal at Exeter Academy, as born in the old red house near John Abbott's place. He was a Deacon of South Church for 40 years; Principal of Phillips Academy here, 15 years ; assistant principal, 1 year; Justice of the Peace, 41 years, and had the book store 35 years, where he spent some time every day. (I feel sure the book store was over Brown's store, 1853, and that the tin type may be his own.) Died Sept. 7, 1853.

He married in Boston, Sept. 29, 1795, Sally Phillips, who died Nov. 18, 1811, age 46. (So. Ch.) His second wife was Mrs. Abigail Dodge of Farmsworth, N.H. (I guess it was some connection of the Dodge tribe that got Hannah Haskell her place in Chicago.) Their marriage intentions were filed Oct. 21, 1814. Mark and Sally Phillips, had :

Samuel Phillips (2), b. June 6, 1797 ; Professor; unm. d. Feb. 10, 1842.

Margaret Wendall(2) b. March 3, 1801; father was then Principal at

P.A. ;(doesn't say what became of her.)

Sarah Phillips (2), b. ^(belle a redoubtable in the war) March 19, 1802; d. Nov. 22, 1827.

Mark (2), b. July 13, 1804; died at his grandfather's in Ipswich, Sept. 10, 1805.

Mark^H (2), 2nd., b. June 9, 1806; m. Mary Dickinson of Amherst, Sept. 13, 1828.

Hannah (2), b. June 6, 1809; m. Rev. Samuel A. Fay of Northboro, Sept. 26, 1833; she lived in red brick house with Margaret- near the Episcopal Ch. and later built a home on the hill near Dr. Jacobson; became helpless in old age; cared for at Capt. Johnson's until death; survived only by neice Emma Newman, daughter of one of her brothers.
