HOLD LADIES' NIGHT

Men of South Church Present Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers Who Speaks on "Aviation"

"All air men simply adore General William Mitchell," said Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers, speaking on "Aviation" at the ladies' night of the South church men's club, held last Friday evening in the vestry. "Even if he was insubordinate, he did a great thing for the air service, and for the country."

Mrs. Rogers also read General Mitchell's plan for a unified air service which is approved by many thinking people.

The charm of Mrs. Rogers' personality held her hearers as she gave carefully compiled figures concerning the air service, whether connected with the army, the navy, or the mail service. She prefaced her remarks by thanking those of her hearers who supported her in her recent campaign. When she first returned to Washington, she was a little annoyed when, during the course of her business, she announced over the telephone "This is Congressman Rogers speaking," to hear the party at the other end of the line saying, "A girl in Mr. Rogers' office wants to talk."

This feeling soon wore off, said Mrs. Rogers, realizing as she did that she was her husband's emissary and with the growing desire to be the "errand girl" of her constituency and to serve them in every way possible.

Few people realize, said Mrs. Rogers, the extent of our air service. The army has 1700 airplanes in good working order, 130 obsolete planes and 132 planes of special types for experimental purposes. In 473,500 miles traveled by navy planes, there have been thirty-six deaths, and in 2,501,000 miles traveled by mail planes, there have been only two deaths. The comparatively few deaths in the mail service is due to the fact that the United States has the finest lighted air way in the world. The trip from San Francisco to New York is made in thirty-six hours and that time will soon be reduced. Nevertheless the average life of an aviator is only ten years and he is not considered a good risk by insurance companies. When an officer is killed his place is often filled by someone from another branch of the service, so the promotion of aviators is not so rapid as might be expected. In the navy, a commander in the air service is not necessarily an air man, but in the army he usually is.

Mrs. Rogers is intensely interested in the air service, in all its branches and believes that it deserves all the support that can be given it.

At the close of the talk, an opportunity was given to those present to meet Mrs. Rogers.

President V. D. Harrington presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker of the evening. Delightful music was furnished by members of the church quartet, including solos by Howard Bottomley.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served by the social committee.

A majority of Andover telephone subscribers who voted in the recent telephone poll (although not a majority of the entire number of subscribers) voted that they preferred the service with the "extended area" even at a higher flat rate, rather than to pay five cents for each call to North Andover and Lawrence.

The vote was 712 in favor of the extended area, and 641 for the restricted area. The figures have been submitted to the Public Utilities commission, and the decision will rest with them. The result of the poll does not necessarily mean that 712 subscribers will be able to thrust upon 641 other subscribers, a form of service which they do not care to pay for, and for which many of them have no use.

As a matter of fact, more business men, that is 94 as compared with 72, voted for the old rates or the old service such as were in effect before August 1. The telephone company, when the referendum ballot was sent out, offered only a definite choice of one of two forms of service. First, the base rate now in effect, with an extra five-cent charge for each call to Lawrence as follows:

Residence Service per month—1 party unlimited $2.75; 2 party unlimited $2.25; 4-5-6 party unlimited $2.00; 15 or more party, rural, $1.75.

Business Service per month—1 party unlimited $4.50; 2 party unlimited $3.75; 15 or more party unlimited $2.75; 1 party measured (70 calls).

Second, a proposed base rate, with no extra charge for Lawrence calls as follows:

Residence service, per month—1 party unlimited $3.25; 2 party unlimited $2.75; 4-5-6 party unlimited $2.25; 15 or more party, rural, $2.25.

Business service, per month—1 party unlimited $7.00; 2 party unlimited, —; 15 or more party unlimited $3.50; 1 party measured (70 calls) $4.25.

Out of a total list of 1593 subscribers, 1353 returned the ballots to the board of selectmen or 84.9 per cent. The percent of subscribers who expressed a wish to have the present system changed was only 44.7 percent of the total number of subscribers.

The figures are given as sent out by the selectmen of the town and C. D. Richards, division commercial superintendent of the telephone company:

Number of business subscribers to whom ballots were mailed	206
Number of residence subscribers to whom ballots were mailed	1387
Total	1593
Number of subscribers who expressed preference for local exchange	94
Business	547
Residence	641
Total	641

LAWRENCE COLONIAL

The close of the present week finds the Norwood Players firmly imbedded in the hearts of the theatregoers of this vicinity and present box-office sales seem to prove the fact that good seats will be obtainable only through reservations as far in advance as possible.

"The Last Warning" the offering for this week, has all the shivers and gasps that the press agents guarantee and those who have witnessed the play state that it is indeed unique.

There are plenty of hearty laughs interspersed, however which give play to all the emotions man is heir to, shivers, gasps, thrills, fright and laughter; they are all present in good measure giving one a splendid evening's entertainment.

Starting Monday and continuing throughout the week the Norwood Players will present the "Alarm Clock" which is considered the funniest show ever produced before the footlights. It is a genuine farce from start to finish and is a continuous laugh with never a let-up from the rise of the curtain to the last act.

The "Alarm Clock" is a French farce by Maurice Hanrequin and translated by none other than Avery Hopwood, the author of "The Best People" which was so successfully produced by the Norwood Players at the Lawrence playhouse last week. Mr. Hopwood is the world's greatest playwright and in view of this, coupled with the fact that Charles Frohman was the man who first produced this farce on Broadway where the show enjoyed a long and profitable run, leads one to easily believe that this comedy will prove to be excellent entertainment. It can also be confidently expected that Director O. L. Jackson of the Norwood Players will cast his characters in such a manner as to display their various abilities, such as the last two weeks have disclosed and real laughs are in store for those who contemplate paying a visit to the Colonial this coming week.

K. of C. League Organizes

At a meeting of the Knights of Columbus bowling commission held in the K. of C. rooms last Friday evening, plans for the year were completed. It was suggested by members of the commission that six teams be included in the league this year, supplanting the 12-team arrangement that was in vogue for the past two seasons. With the league thus condensed it is believed that more interest will develop. A provision has been added, however, that if two more teams can be formed they will be admitted to the league.

The team captains are Cornelius O'Brien, Patrick Doherty, Arthur Beer, John Nelligan, Archibald Sullivan and Henry Page. Each team was allotted a captain, but only five will be allowed to compete in a match. The captains of the various teams, have the sole right to choose the bowlers for any match.

The members of the teams are: O'Briens: Harold Eastwood, James Dyer, Jeremiah Looney, Edward Eldred, Edward O'Connell and Cornelius O'Brien. Dohertys: Robert Winters, Peter Dougherty, Leo Driscoll, John Barrett, Louis Lefebvre and Patrick Doherty. Nelligans: John Clifford, Edward Doyle, Francis Kelly, John Cussen, Frank Markey and John Nelligan. Sullivans: Clarence Eastwood, Joseph Fallon, Francis Daly, Leo Zalla, Edward Downs and Archie Sullivan. Beers: Edward Lefebvre, Frank Nelligan, Patrick Barrett, Neil Cussen, Jeremiah O'Connor and Arthur Beer. Hoods: Richard Crowley, Pete McParland, Edward Kelley, Albert Galant, Emil Dufresne, Henry Page.

Monday and Thursday are the regular bowling nights but the captain may by mutual consent, change the night of any match.

The schedule for the first round: Monday, Oct. 19: Sullivans vs. Beers, O'Briens vs. Nelligans. Thursday, Oct. 22: Doherty vs. Hoods. Monday, Oct. 26: Beers vs. Nelligans; Dohertys vs. Sullivan. Thursday, October 29: O'Briens vs. Hoods. Monday, Nov. 2: Doherty vs. Beers, Sullivans vs. O'Briens. Thursday, Nov. 5: Nelligans vs. Hoods. Monday, Nov. 9: Nelligans vs. Dohertys; O'Briens vs. Beers. Thursday, Nov. 12: Sullivans vs. Hoods. Monday, Nov. 16: Nelligans vs. Sullivans; Dohertys vs. O'Briens. Thursday, Nov. 19: Beers vs. Hoods.

Campaign to Save Babies

The State Department of Public Health blames artificial feeding for a very large percent of infant deaths. For this reason the Department is asking physicians and nurses all over the State to lay special stress on breast-feeding. A breast-feeding campaign is being launched in six cities and towns in Massachusetts, to obtain actual figures as to the value of breast-feeding. In every case the physicians of the city or town are the backbone of the campaign. Under their supervision the nursing organization is visiting the mother of every new born baby, and encouraging the mother either by a personal visit or through the mail until the child is six months of age. In this way it is hoped that the number of babies receiving the advantages of breast-feeding will be increased.

Expecting to have a quiet little game of "cribbage" with a neighbor and friend, imagine the amazement of F. H. Knight when all unsuspecting he answered a ring at the door bell at his pleasant home on Maple avenue, to find a gathering of fifty friends to greet him instead of two. Mr. Knight, the popular express agent for B. B. Tuttle, was afflicted with a lumbago a few days ago, and his friends found it out - accordingly the party. The scheme was fostered by members of Crystal Rebecca lodge of Lawrence to which Mrs. Knight belongs and among whom her husband has a deserved popularity. M. D. Currier of Lawrence, in behalf of the gathering, presented Mr. and Mrs. Knight with a handsome banquet lamp, and Mr. Knight with a fine German time, which and a general good time ensued for a few short hours, but before the guests departed, Mrs. Knight showed that she had not been entirely unprepared for their visitation, by inviting her guests to partake of some light refreshments.

Last Monday, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Andrews of Main street arrived at the anniversary of the day on which, sixty years previous, they had stood together before the Rev. John L. Taylor, one of Andover's good old pastors in whose memory the beautiful stained glass window was erected at the South church. Their wedding was celebrated in the house which stood in the spot at the corner of School and Central streets now occupied by the residence of Mr. Esther Byers. The groom, then a young man of not quite twenty-five years, was employed by the new railroad, the beginning of the Boston & Maine, in this locality, with which he was connected for many years. His bride, a few months older, was Margaret Griffin, also an Andover girl. Standing up with Mr. Andrews as best man, was George L. Davis of North Andover, whose own marriage occurred a few months later. After their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Andrews lived for a time in the house on Essex street just below the depot, now occupied by John Saunders. Later the young couple moved to the house opposite the present site of the Catholic parsonage. Mr. Andrews owned the land on which his home stood, as well as that across the street, now occupied by St. Augustine's church and the parsonage. Mr. Andrews' eighty-five years have touched him lightly, and he still may be seen driving about town with his speedy horse, or if one calls at his comfortable home, he is likely to be found at work in the barn or about the yard.

Mrs. Joyce and Mrs. Maurice Curran have gone to Baltimore to visit Misses Mollie Curran and Bessie Joyce.

The old sawmill in Frye Village has been demolished.

About one hundred and fifty people gathered at the South church vestry to hear Mrs. Francis E. Clark speak upon her recent visit to China. At the end of the address, as this was the annual meeting of the Auxiliary of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions, the election of officers was held. It resulted as follows: President, Miss Emily Carter; vice-presidents, Mrs. H. S. Robinson, Mrs. T. C. Pease; secretary, Mrs. F. E. Whittemore; treasurer, Mrs. G. T. Eaton.

At the annual meeting of the Ladies' Benevolent society of the Free church, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. Newton Cole; vice president, Mrs. Stephen Jackson; secretary, Miss Ada Buchan; treasurer, Miss Agnes Smith; directresses, Mrs. Martha Goff, Mrs. Henry Russell, Mrs. Charles E. Hussey, Mrs. David Lindsay, Mrs. James Anderson and Mrs. Joshua Paine; superintendent of the Whatsoever society, Mrs. Fred Goff; superintendent of Foreign Missionary auxiliary, Mrs. F. A. Wilson; secretary, Miss Martha Goff; superintendent of Mothers' meeting, Mrs. F. A. Wilson; secretary, Mrs. David Lindsay. Supper was served at six o'clock by the ladies, to which the husbands and other friends were invited. In the evening, the following program was presented: Piano duet, Mrs. F. A. Wilson, Miss Annie Smart; solo, "Crooze Love Song," Mrs. J. Newton Cole; clarinet solo, Roy Lindsay; song, "Voices of the Woods," Mrs. Herbert Goff; solo, "Asleep in the Deep," Will Scott.

At the annual meeting of the Ladies' Benevolent society of Christ church, it was voted that the name of the society be changed to the Woman's Guild of Christ church. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. H. H. Tyer; vice presidents, Mrs. J. R. Fuller, Mrs. Fredic Palmer; secretary, Miss C. H. Swift; treasurer, Mrs. Charles L. White. A social tea for the ladies of the parish followed at 4.30 o'clock.

Phillips Alumni Report

The eighteenth annual report of the Phillips academy alumni fund, covering the year 1924-25, has just been printed and soon will be sent out to the alumni. It shows that the amount received from this source during the period just closed was $25,155, a larger sum by more than $5000 than was ever recorded in any single year. The number of contributors listed for 1924-25 was 174, an increase of 250 over 1923-24. The actual sum transferred to the trustees after all expenses have been paid is approximately $23,250. It is interesting to note that the total sum contributed since the fund was first established in 1907 has been $244,904.51.

The best record, so far as amount is concerned, was made by the class of 1900, which gave $2307 on its 25th anniversary. Other outstanding classes are 1892, with $1861; 1896, with $1800; 1883, with $1056, and 1895, with $1000. The largest number of contributors came from the class of 1910, from whose members 130 made gifts. The class of 1892 was second, with 97, and the class of 1902 third, with 72. In percentage of contributors, 1893 leads, with 65 per cent, followed closely by 1910 with 61 per cent.

Farmers Will See Dairy "Movie" Film

It will be "Dairyman's Night" in Andover Thursday, October 29, when dairy farmers in this vicinity, and their families, will be the guests of John Shea for the evening in West Andover Grange Hall.

Mr. Shea has secured a motion picture projector and has arranged for a special showing of an intensely interesting three-reel motion picture, "Safe-guarding the Foster Mothers of the World." Everyone in the community who is interested in dairying is invited to be present.

"Safe-guarding the Foster Mothers of the World" was especially designed and produced to help practical dairymen solve some of the everyday problems connected with the profitable production of milk by up-to-date methods.

While the picture has a lot of educational value, it doesn't attempt to preach or "point a moral" for farmers. It is packed with interesting scenes from start to finish, showing in a simple, straightforward way how dairymen can improve the quality and quantity of their milk.

There are sections illustrating the general care and feeding of dairy cows under ideal conditions on an experimental farm, and other sections showing the scientific production of dairy feed on a large scale.

Here the spectator is taken behind the scenes in a great mill. He sees chemists analyzing various ingredients, testing them before they are taken from the cars, and at various stages in manufacture. He sees tons of raw materials ground, blended, mixed, cleaned, weighed and sacked.

There will be no charge for the entertainment, and Mr. Shea promises both an interesting and a profitable evening for everyone who attends.

Andover Red Cross Elects Officers

The annual meeting of the Andover Branch of the Essex County Chapter of the American Red Cross took place last Sunday afternoon at the home of Dr. C. M. Fuess. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Chairman, Dr. Claude M. Fuess; vice chairman, Mrs. George L. Selden; secretary, Thaxter Easton; treasurer, C. Carleton Kimball.

Miss Anna Kuhn was obliged to resign as secretary and chairman of the Civilian Relief committee but remains as a director. Mrs. C. D. Thompson and Dr. A. E. Hulme were elected as new members of the Board which is now constituted as follows:

Directors for one year—H. A. Bodwell, Mrs. E. T. Brewster, Miss A. W. Kuhn, Mrs. H. G. Francke, Dr. C. E. Abbott and F. H. Jones.

For two years—H. C. Sanborn, Dr. W. D. Walker, Mrs. A. P. Thompson, C. C. Kimball, Mrs. G. L. Selden, Mrs. J. L. Phillips and J. L. Burns.

For three years—C. W. Holland, Dr. A. E. Hulme, Mrs. C. D. Thompson, C. M. Fuess, Mrs. G. F. French, Mrs. I. W. Southworth and T. Eaton.

Mr. Jones was again selected to take charge of the Annual Roll Call, November 11 to 26. This year's membership of 2380 was the largest in Essex County. Mrs. C. D. Thompson was elected chairman for the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals and Mrs. A. P. Thompson for the Civilian Relief committee.

The work of the dental nurse in the schools, which has been financed for the last six months by the Red Cross, was favorably commented upon. Miss Marie Campbell, the district nurse, then reported on her year's work. She said that one of the children whom the Red Cross sent to the Health Camp at Middleton last summer gained fourteen pounds while there.

Baked Bean Supper at Baptist Church

Saturday between 4.30 and 7.30 o'clock in the vestry of the Baptist church the Senior Christian Endeavor offered its patrons a baked bean supper which was attended by a large number. The proceeds were divided on a percentage basis, 75 per cent going to the church and the remainder to the society. Having pledged a certain amount of money for the financial support of the church, in this way the society hopes to fulfill its obligation to the church and still keep the finances of the Christian Endeavor in good condition.

The social committee which had the supper in charge are to be congratulated for the efficient service they gave at the supper. The following served on the committee: Chairman, Miss Gladys Dennison, Dora Dennison, Ray Wilson, Margaret Manning, Effie Ross, and they were assisted by Mrs. Ellis Hudson, Mrs. E. Walker Holden, Mrs. C. N. Bartlett, Mrs. John Berry, Mrs. Harry Stanton. The waitresses were: Ruth Hutchison, Margaret Thompson, Doris Axon, Charabelle Mason, Evelyn Herbert, Jimmie White, Edna Albers, and the boys who served coffee were: Clare Norton, Morris Williams, Robert Kierstead.

The menu consisted of frankfurts, baked beans, rolls, cabbage salad, relishes, pie, coffee and cheese.

The vestry was prettily decorated for the occasion with autumn leaves, Robert Kierstead being in charge of the decorations.

Red Cross Activities

The Red Cross Roll Call will start in Andover, Wednesday, November 11, and close November 25. Last year, Andover was first in membership in Essex County with 2,380 members. The total receipts were $3,424.50 from which fifty cents per membership was deducted and sent to the National Red Cross. Andover received $2,233.75 as its share, an increase of about $860.00 over the previous year. It is hoped this year that Andover's share will reach $3,000.00, but this can be accomplished only by an increase in the already generous canvassers, and by the loyalty of the volunteer canvassers.

Andover spends its allowance on the support of the District nurse, the Dental Nurse, and on Civilian Relief. Miss Marie Campbell is on call at any time of the day, to any citizen of Andover, rich or poor, and has proven her value in a remarkable degree. The Dental Nurse has been a new venture for Andover. Miss Margaret V. Cronin of Ballardvale divides her time among the Andover schools, cleaning and examining the children's teeth, and recommending treatment by the family dentist wherever it is necessary. Her monthly report for the last two weeks in September shows a sum total of pupils cleaned 135 cavities in temporary settings 507, cavities in permanent settings 228, cases needing no attention 26. The relation of sound teeth to health is an exceedingly important one.

Observe 25th Anniversary

Seven children have blessed the union. They are: Edward, Rose, Raymond, Louis, Rena, Henry and Jeanette.

Mr. and Mrs. Lefebvre were married in the St. Jean Baptist church, Lowell, October 17, 1900 by Rev. Joseph Desjardins. They resided in Lowell for the greater part of their lives, removing to Andover seven years ago.

Dr. Bequereat Tells About Hornets and Wasps

The life history of hornets and wasps was delightfully told by Dr. Joseph Bequereat at the meeting of the Andover Natural history society held in the Pynchard lecture room on Tuesday evening. Interesting facts presented in a popular way, stimulated an interest in these insects which none of his hearers had ever felt before.

The lecture was illustrated by blackboard drawings and lantern slides which showed the delicate provisions of nature by means of which the hymenoptera or insects with two pairs of wings, "hook" these two pairs together for flight, making them the best fliers of all insects. Bees "unhook" their wings when alighting, but hornets and wasps plug theirs over to a convenient narrowness when in repose, an arrangement which gives them great agility when "hopping off."

Dr. Bequereat commends the arrangement to the study of the ingenious American inventor, hoping he may find inspiration for a flying machine less cumbersome than the present models.

There are thirty or forty species of wasps in New England. These may be divided into the solitary and social wasps. The solitary wasp builds its nest of clay on a dead branch in which it stores the larvae of insects. The larger paper nests of the social wasp are familiar in appearance to almost every one as well as the nests formed by one layer of cells shaped like those of the honey bee built by the "polistes" often in barns.

The social wasps form a perfect community, each individual living for the good of the community rather than for himself. Dr. Bequereat told the story of a wasp nest and swarm beginning with the mother wasp, her first swarm consisting only of workers, later swarms including males and females. At the end of the season, the workers die and the females hibernate under stones. A wasp community lasts only one season, from April to October, unlike a swarm of bees which is perpetuated from year to year.

A rising vote of thanks was given Dr. Bequereat at the close of the lecture.

Omar P. Chase presided at the meeting. One new member, Mrs. Evelyn Marr, was received.

"Harvard Advocate" Appears from Andover Press in New Dress

The following notice concerning the "Harvard Advocate," which is now printed at the Andover Press, is reprinted from the New York Times book review of October 4, 1925.

Old friends of the Harvard Advocate will scarcely know it in the new dress in which it appears beginning with the September number. The new cover, a simple and dignified one, was designed by William A. Dwiggin, who designed the new cover for Harper's Magazine. But why the Advocate's cover is blue is a mystery unless it is intended to indicate that the Board of Editors has laid aside such childish things as college rivalries and is now publishing a magazine for general circulation. The September number has ninety-two pages and later issues will have a hundred or more. The contents of the September issue include "How the Well-Dressed Freshman Will Live," by Major, Polonius Pringle, "The Hind-Quarters of an Elephant," by Walter D. Edmonds, Jr., and "The Poet Meddard and the Sultan's Daughter," by Esseng von Bierschaum. Something tells us that last name is a nom de plume or, possibly, a nom de Corona. Mr. Edmonds's article, be it known, is a discussion of the architecture of the Yard.

Pynchard 7-Framingham 0

Pynchard High outplayed Framingham High throughout four periods of play at the Union avenue park Saturday afternoon but were only able to acquire seven points while holding their opponents scoreless.

The game was largely played, fumbles by both sides being frequent. Nevertheless play was interesting to watch; the end runs of Murphy, the Pynchard quarterback, and the line-plunging of Captain Coutts being features of the Pynchard attack. Lavin, Framingham's left tackle, was the defensive star of the losing team. The lineups:

The Telephone Poll

One of the first things to strike a person looking over the results of the telephone poll is the large number of subscribers who answered the questionnaire. To get returns from about eighty-five percent on any matter is very gratifying. It indicates that the telephoning public is highly interested in the kind of service they are getting, whether restrictive or including Lawrence under a flat rate.

Another impression from the poll is the closeness of the results. Less than three percent of the votes received constituted the majority, 676 favoring the present system while 712 desired a change to the proposed flat rate, including Lawrence.

This close vote is all the more surprising, when one considers the many protests that were made when the change was brought about. It seems that human nature is still very fickle, wanting something badly when it is taken away, and not caring particularly about it when it can be obtained. It is certainly true that not nearly as many favor a change as might have been expected, judging from the objections raised two or three months ago.

If the question is now a matter of accepting one plan or the other, it seems that the system now in effect should be continued. It is obviously unfair to make 611 subscribers pay extra for a service which they do not need and do not want. In this case there would be 712 dissatisfied customers on the Company's books, which obviously is an undesirable situation, as much for the Company as the public.

Since such a large proportion of those having telephones would grumble under either plan used exclusively, the only reasonable thing to do seems to put both systems into effect, letting each customer choose the service he wants. This would satisfy at least 641 customers more than either alternative now open, which is something for the telephone company to consider. It does not seem that this dual plan can increase the company's operating costs by any appreciable amount. Those wanting the extended area service could have it at the rates now quoted, at no extra cost to the Company. Those desiring the restricted area service should have it at the present rates even though there may be a slight additional bookkeeping expense involved in recording all outside calls and billing only part of them. The telephone company has recently put into effect a substantial increase in rates. Instead of giving as good service, or better than before, it is trying to give us far less satisfactory service. This seems very unjust to the telephone users of Andover, who feel that while the rates have been raised, the service has been less satisfying.

Smoke Screens

Smoke has its place in the world and a smoke screen is at times a useful thing. During the war it became a general practice to conceal certain military and naval movements by the use of such a device. In Andover a smoke screen, instead of being beneficial, is a distinct menace. And the burning of many piles of dry leaves this autumn has provided us with a great deal of undesirable smoke during the past days.

It is a good thing that these leaves should be destroyed by burning. The town does well to undertake this task. But the manner in which the leaves have been burned has proven to be harmful.

One of the beauties of this town is that its streets are lined with such a large number of trees. Yet this very condition brings about a serious problem at this time of the year for there is both danger and inconvenience in burning these many leaves on our streets. There have been times when the road has been full of such a dense volume of blinding smoke that automobile drivers have almost crashed into one another or nearly struck some pedestrian as they suddenly have been confronted with some unexpected obstruction a few feet ahead of them in the road. That we have not yet had some serious accidents on this account is due more to good fortune than what the conditions on the road warrant. There is also a second difficulty in the form of considerable inconvenience to all who must fill their lungs with such unpleasant fumes.

One way to meet this situation is to transport the leaves to the outskirts of the town before burning them. While such a method would solve the problem, the cost involved would be so prohibitive as to make it impracticable.

A far less expensive plan, but one which would work better than the haphazard method now in use, would be to have the conditions of the wind determine the burning of the leaves. If, for example, the wind is blowing from the east, across a road going north and south, the leaves should all be burned on the west side of that road. In this way the road would remain clear of the blinding smoke and the expense of moving part of the leaves across the street would be slight. If on the road mentioned above, the wind blows along the road it would be best not to burn at all, for to do so would put certain lives in jeopardy. The aim must be to keep our streets as clear of smoke as is possible. This applies with particular force to our highways with their heavy traffic. These must not be allowed to resemble the traditionally fog-laden streets of London.

During the war, smoke was used to protect lives; let us not use it to endanger lives.

Local Minister Takes Part in Debate at Washington Conference

Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, minister of the South church, who has already made a name for himself in discussions on Social problems, notably in his pamphlet relative to the United State Steel Industry, is finding an opportunity to give expression of his opinions at the National Council of Congregational Churches now being held at Washington, D. C.

In yesterday's discussion when the more conservative members of the council attempted to introduce an "open shop" plank, Dr. Henry Styles Bradley, pastor of the leading Congregational Church in Portland, Maine, and formerly of Worcester, denounced the American Federation of Labor as "the most conscienceless monopoly in the United States." Others joining with Dr. Bradley were the Rev. E. Victor Bigelow of Andover and the Rev. Howard J. Chidley of Winchester. In the morning session Mr. Chidley had an amendment to the creed adopted reading: "It means that labor shall recognize its responsibility to society by giving an honest day's labor for an honest day's wage." But in the afternoon session the paragraph was sent back to the committee which, in reporting, ignored the Chidley amendment.

Mechanical Rubber Sold to Tyer Rubber Company

The sale of the Mechanical Rubber company to the Tyer Rubber company was effected on October 15.

Incorporated in 1920 the Mechanical Rubber company has been carrying on its business in floor space leased from the Tyer Rubber company in factory No. 2. Since the owners of the building have consolidated their manufacturing plant in factory No. 2 it became necessary for the smaller concern either to move or consolidate with the Tyer Rubber company.

At the time of the sale the officers of the Mechanical Rubber company were Edwin Reed, president, and A. D. Lamont, treasurer and general manager.

The business of making rubber rollers for the textile trade, tanneries and special machine manufacturers varying in size from small rollers to those weighing a ton will be carried on as usual with the same customers by the Tyer Rubber company.

Welcome Home MacMillan Arctic Expedition

ZENITH WEEK—Oct. 4 to Oct. 9

Our Greetings to Commander MacMillan and Commander McDonald—home from the Arctic. The story of the MacMillan Arctic Expedition—"the greatest expedition of modern times"—is also the story of another triumph for Zenith radio.

"Zenith" was MacMillan's exclusive choice because he had found by actual experience that it gave sure, dependable results. Zenith radio in the Arctic established new records for long-distance communication, penetrated the heretofore impenetrable Auroral Band. On this, his latest voyage to the Frozen North, Zenith radio enabled him to keep in instant touch with America, Europe, New Zealand—to all parts of the world—and to send back word of his discoveries to the civilized world.

What was good enough for MacMillan, the radio he relied upon and never found wanting, is good enough for you.

At the time we welcome home the MacMillan Expedition we welcome also the opportunity to demonstrate Zenith—"the best there is in radio"—in your home, at your convenience. Call or telephone, today.

Communication

TO THE ANDOVER TOWNSMAN:

Every community today has its ever perplexing problem of traffic regulation and indeed it is one of a most serious nature. Several interested citizens in our town, through the courtesy of the Townsman, have made suggestions as to the best way of coping with this problem, and our town officials have taken steps in the right direction. To the writer's mind there are two distinct phases of the remedy to be applied: the first to study traffic in general, the second, to attend promptly to the danger spots.

It is truly amazing to watch the heavy traffic that passes over our Main street and if one would spend an hour in counting the machines that pass, he would scarcely believe the figures. However, when one considers that several of our school children have to pass across the busy thoroughfare six times a day, the problem ceases to be amazing, but becomes serious. This brings us to the second phase of local traffic duty—protecting the danger spots. The most dangerous corner today on Main street is the cross road at Main and Chestnut streets, as the Press Building, New Block and Bank Building are all built quite close together, making almost a blind entrance onto Main street. The lighting at night at this corner is terrible. The trolley car switch is just a few feet below the corner and many times a car parks there awaiting a car coming down the hill. This line has selected this corner as its station to pick up passengers. These statements are enough to convince one of the danger at this corner, but let us go on. Business men in stores adjacent to this corner have told me of nineteen accidents during the last year, some minor, but others quite serious. The local police department and the board of selectmen agree that this corner is very dangerous. Citizens of the town have approached the selectmen and asked for a traffic officer there especially at the hours that the school children were going to and coming from school.

For several days an officer was directing traffic and protecting the school children at this point. But alas, as is always the case, when laxity of duty make an appearance, something is sure to happen. Such was the case on Tuesday, October 20, at 11:45 a.m., when an officer should have been there, but was not.

I have always taken a deep interest in town affairs, but expressed my opinions only once or twice. I have associated with men who were instrumental in having an officer placed at this corner at school hours. The reason I am expressing my opinion now is because the victim of the recent auto accident at this corner was my little five-year-old nephew. Were it any other child I would not take the same stand as I take now, for I have long advocated better protection at this corner. We can thank kind Providence that the accident was not as serious as it might have been, yet the machine passed over the little fellow and it is a miracle that he was not killed. This happened because an officer was not on the job when he was supposed to be.

At the time of the accident witnesses state that there were three police officers in Andover Square but not one at the dangerous corner. The selectmen state that an officer should have been there. The police officials state that an officer was on his way when the accident occurred. But "being on his way" is not "being there." As I understand the situation, an officer is to be there when the school children are going to school as well as coming from school. These hours are approximately 8:30 to 9 a.m.; 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.; and 3:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. These are the hours that he should be there, but it would be a very fine investment against accident to have an officer there all day. To my mind this is even a more dangerous corner than the crossing further down where an officer is constantly duty.

Probably there was a misunderstanding; probably the police budget does not warrant an officer at this corner; probably there are other reasons for this apparent negligence, but the matter stands that my little nephew was hit by an automobile at this corner which was supposed to be under the vigilance of a traffic officer. The accident might have happened to the son or daughter or any other citizen of Andover and it is for their future assurance against a similar fate that I am sending in this communication to The Andover Townsman.

I write this not with a chip on my shoulder nor with the least semblance of antagonism. I write, not to try to reprimand the selectmen or the police officers, but simply to bring before the voters of Andover a very serious situation which must be remedied at once. I sincerely hope that other citizens of Andover who may have the same opportunity of observing this particular corner will express their opinions in the hope that we can feel safer in the future regarding our children at this most dangerous crossroad.

Cutters at Tyer Rubber Company Return to Work

The twenty-five cutters who went on strike at the Tyer Rubber company on Monday returned to work this morning after a conference with the management.

Following a readjustment made on wages for piece work, found necessary to make the wage scale correspond with that paid for similar work in competing factories, resulting in a reduction in many instances, twenty-five cutters refused to return to work Monday morning.

A committee of two, Matthew Herward and Ernest Hayes, appointed by the employees from their own numbers has during the week visited three competing factories for the purpose of comparing cutting room rates with those in the local factory. Satisfied that the wages at the Tyer Rubber company are fair in comparison with those paid elsewhere, the cutters consented to return to work. Where possible, the management has agreed on its part to make some concessions if found practicable after another comparison of rates.

Christian Endeavor Notes

The subject at the Sunday evening meetings of the Christian Endeavor societies was: "What Can Be Expected of Christian Citizens." The question of citizenship was discussed and the government of the town considered; several departments were criticized and others praised by the members. Although the majority of the local Endeavorers are not of a voting age yet, the discussion showed that they are interested in the way in which town affairs are conducted.

The leaders at the various meetings were: Baptist church, Mrs. C. Norman Bartlett; Free church, Mayhew P. Stickney; South church, Walter Gordon; West Church, Roger Lewis.

Sunday night's meetings launched the citizenship department's part of the fidelity campaign, which is being conducted by all Christian Endeavor societies in the entire world. There are to be more of these meetings, one each of the next three Sundays, and the townspeople are cordially invited to attend these meetings and see what the young people of Andover have to say about the community and world citizenship.

In conjunction with the citizenship program of a fidelity campaign, a big citizenship rally will be held next Sunday for the Endeavorers of Essex county union in the First Baptist church, Haverhill, at 3:30 o'clock. The meeting is in charge of Abbott B. Foster of Manchester, citizenship superintendent of Essex county union. He has secured as the speaker of the day, Russell L. Kirk, prominent Boston music teacher.

Beginning at the age of eighteen, he taught the art of which he was so fond, to hundreds of young men and women among whom are some of the most accomplished musicians in Lawrence today. His music room faced the green slopes of the Reservoir and it was in this wide, airy and sunlit room that he spent the greater part of his time. In addition to being one of the most talented pianists and teachers in the city, Mr. Vose was also an accomplished organist and played that instrument in the leading churches in Boston, Haverhill, Andover and Lawrence. At the time of his death, he was organist at the United Congregational church.

His social and fraternal activities were confined for the most part to the Knights of Pythias lodge of Lawrence. Among the music organizations with which he was affiliated were the Chadwick club and Pianoforte Teachers' association, of which he was vice president.

He is survived by his wife, Caroline E. M. Vose; three sons, Burton M. Vose, chancery commander of Quindaro lodge, 32, K. of P., Elliott L., and Ronald S.; a senior at the Lawrence High school; three brothers, Captain Charles R. Vose of the Lawrence police department, ex-Alderman William H. D. and Herbert C. Vose; two sisters, Mrs. Albert L. Drummond and Mrs. F. Allison Blackstock, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at two o'clock at the United Congregational church, and Rev. F. A. Wilson, pastor emeritus of the Free church, officiated. Prayers were held at the late home, 15 Reservoir terrace, at one o'clock. Quindaro lodge No. 32, K. of P., assisted in the services at the church. Silvertone company, 22, Uniformed Rank, K. of P., conducted services at the grave in Bellevue cemetery.

DR. WILLIAM P. SUGATT
Dr. William P. Sugatt, a former resident of Lawrence and for forty years a dentist in Boston, passed away Thursday, October 15, at his home on Ivy street, Boston, following an illness of several months.

EDGAR H. VOSE

A lifelong resident of Lawrence, and for a period of many years one of its outstanding teachers of piano, organ and harmony, Edgar H. Vose, passed away Tuesday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock at the family home, 15 Reservoir terrace. Although he was known to have been ill for the past few days, the announcement of his death was altogether unexpected and came as a startling surprise to the hundreds of friends and acquaintances he had made during a lifelong residence in that city. He is well known in Andover, where he was for some time organist at the South church.

Mr. Vose was born in Lawrence, forty-nine years ago, the son of the late Probation Officer Clinton P. Vose and Ella E. Vose. He was educated in the Lawrence public schools. His interests there were concerned solely with music and after his grammar school days, he studied at the New England Conservatory of Music and afterwards mastered the piano and organ under the tutelage of Heinrich Gebhart and Mme. Helen Hopekirk, prominent Boston music teachers.

Beginning at the age of eighteen, he taught the art of which he was so fond, to hundreds of young men and women among whom are some of the most accomplished musicians in Lawrence today. His music room faced the green slopes of the Reservoir and it was in this wide, airy and sunlit room that he spent the greater part of his time.

In addition to being one of the most talented pianists and teachers in the city, Mr. Vose was also an accomplished organist and played that instrument in the leading churches in Boston, Haverhill, Andover and Lawrence. At the time of his death, he was organist at the United Congregational church.

His social and fraternal activities were confined for the most part to the Knights of Pythias lodge of Lawrence. Among the music organizations with which he was affiliated were the Chadwick club and Pianoforte Teachers' association, of which he was vice president.

He is survived by his wife, Caroline E. M. Vose; three sons, Burton M. Vose, chancery commander of Quindaro lodge, 32, K. of P., Elliott L., and Ronald S.; a senior at the Lawrence High school; three brothers, Captain Charles R. Vose of the Lawrence police department, ex-Alderman William H. D. and Herbert C. Vose; two sisters, Mrs. Albert L. Drummond and Mrs. F. Allison Blackstock, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at two o'clock at the United Congregational church, and Rev. F. A. Wilson, pastor emeritus of the Free church, officiated. Prayers were held at the late home, 15 Reservoir terrace, at one o'clock. Quindaro lodge No. 32, K. of P., assisted in the services at the church. Silvertone company, 22, Uniformed Rank, K. of P., conducted services at the grave in Bellevue cemetery.

The fact leading up to the contest are more than of ordinary interest. Dr. Bush left two daughters, Miss Theoda Foster Bush of Wellesley and Ella Agnes Von Szendeffy of New York City. The will is being contested by the elder daughter, Mrs. Ella Agnes Von Szendeffy, who under its terms receives the income of $30,000 worth of stocks, held in trust for her by the Old Colony Trust Co., during her lifetime and after her death the income to be paid to her children until they arrive at the age of twenty-five years, when each will receive half of the principal of the trust fund.

Each of the daughters is given $1000 outright and each of the grandchildren $500 and two nieces are each given $500, and the residue of the estate is given to the daughter, Theoda, for life with the power of disposition by the will.

The will, which was made September 26, 1921, while the testator was a voluntary patient in a sanitarium in Hartford, states that he makes a provision for Theoda greater than that made for his daughter,

Ella and her children, for the reason that during his lifetime he had contributed largely to the support of his daughter, Ella, and her family, while he had given little or nothing to his daughter, Theoda.

The issues for the jury are as to the testamentary capacity of the testator and whether the will was legally executed. The circumstances under which it is claimed Dr. Bush contributed to the support of his eldest daughter and her family involves one of the incidents of the World war. Her husband, a physician of Austrian ancestry, had a good practice in New York up to the breaking out of the World war, when, owing to the prejudice prevailing against aliens, he lost his practice and was obliged even to work as a laborer, and during this time Dr. Bush, it is claimed, contributed largely to the support of his daughter and her family.

The younger daughter, being intensely patriotic, apparently could not forgive her sister's being married to an Austrian.

Dr. Bush, the father, had suffered from several strokes caused by a tumor on the brain and finally went to the private sanitarium in Hartford, where he was kept under surveillance of an attendant to a more or less degree.

ESSEX COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL NOTES

Homemaking Department Notes

The instructors in the Sewing Department have been spending their Saturday forenoons in Boston, studying the new styles in fabrics, garments and millinery. The students in the upper classes are making wool dresses in the lovely new shades of flannel and other firm materials and are getting a knowledge of the following problems: bound buttonholes, set-in pocket, seam finishes and setting in the kick plait.

Each girl is also making a hat for her own use or for some relative or friend and is getting the very profitable knowledge of hat construction and trimming.

Girls' Basketball

Basketball practice has started in the Homemaking Department and there are enough girls in training to make four good teams. Interest is growing and the classes are ready to support their teams to the limit. Miss Geraldine Boardman, and Miss Marjorie Hawkes, both of Danvers, are acting cheer leaders.

Canning Course

The canning course in the school is now completed, and the students are doing their home project canning. The girls know how to make all kinds of jelly, jam and conserve, as well as how to can fruits, and vegetables, both cold pack and open kettle. The air in the school building has been fragrant with spice and vinegar, as the students in the cooking laboratories have been making various kinds of relishes from green and ripe tomatoes, peppers and cucumbers.

Football

The football squad is putting in some hard practice daily in preparation for the game with Sanborn Seminary at Kingston, N. H., next Saturday. Coach Page and Assistant Coach Eastwood are working hard to develop a team out of practically new material.

4-H Club Notes

Several 4-H Clothing Clubs are already under way. Miss Thompson, at the Rowley Center School, is leading two clubs there. Miss Smith, at the Marsh School in Methuen, is carrying on two clubs with the help of older club members. Miss Esther Perley, is to have Mrs. Edward Tucker's assistance in handling the Junior High Club in Georgetown. At Topsfield, Doris Smith is carrying on the work with a group of young girls. Mrs. Jahnke is going to help her club at Linebrook School, Ipswich, with another series of interesting work.

Food Club work, including supper clubs, lunch-box clubs, and cooking clubs, will be formed wherever leaders and interest make it possible.

Poultry club enrollment is coming in now and about thirty good clubs are anticipated. New groups are forming each week in the different communities and indications point to a busy winter for the 4-H Clubs in Essex County.

Phillips Academy Football Team Beaten by Strong Lawrence High Team

A crowd of more than 6000 watched a crippled Andover team go down to defeat before the powerful Lawrence High School team in a game played last Saturday on Brothers field. The 14 to 0 victory scored by Lawrence, furnished a real upset, as even the most loyal Lawrence supporters hardly dared hope that their team could turn back the Academy team which had only a week before held the strong Harvard Freshman eleven to a scoreless tie. No doubt the fact that six of the Andover regulars, including Capt. Sandberg, backfield ace, were unable to play had a direct bearing on the outcome of the game. However, too much credit cannot be given the Lawrence team which outplayed Andover in nearly every department of play and which clearly deserved its splendid victory.

The Andover team could not seem to develop its running attack and only on two or three occasions made gains of any length. In the first period Andover had the ball in a fire position to score after a beautiful run of thirty yards by Riley, who took the ball from Thompson on a criss-cross and brought it to the 4-yard line. The Lawrence line held and Andover failed to gain in three attempts to penetrate the line. On the fourth down, Richardson dropped back to the 15-yard mark and attempted to drop kick. The kick was blocked by McCarthy, the Lawrence right guard, who picked up the ball and ran to the Lawrence 33-yard line, where he was downed by Richardson. This was really Andover's only threat as thereafter Lawrence held the upperhand.

In the second period, Lawrence scored its first touchdown on a well executed forward pass from Lee to Hewitt, the latter taking the ball over the last white line after eluding Thompson, the Andover safety man. Hewitt then punned the extra point with a drop-kick.

In the third period Lawrence again executed a long forward pass, Lee to Hewitt, bringing the ball to the 6-yard line. Here the Andover line stiffened and Lawrence gained only two yards on two rushes, but on the next play Haphey went through for a touch-down. Hewitt again drop-kicked the extra point.

In the last period Andover resorted to the open style of play, trying many forward passes, with no success, the last attempt being intercepted. The game ended with the ball in the possession of Lawrence.

The punting of Richardson and his excellent work on the defense was the outstanding feature of Andover's play. Lawrence showed a market superiority in teamwork, the line and backfield working in unison throughout the game.

Tomorrow Andover tackles the Yale Second team, and it is expected that most of the cripples will be in condition to enter the fray.

Fortify the Children

Schools are now in full swing. In many places the school rooms are overcrowded with pupils and school authorities are finding difficulty in caring for them. But not one of them can be spared, declares the A. L. A. We want them all. They are the anchorage that is to hold this nation steady in the years to come. We are jealous of our school children and we must guard them from every danger.

The school is to train the mind—to build up character and to fashion ambition into a vital force along proper paths. In order for each one to reach the goal he must be kept healthy and whole and allowed to develop without being crippled by accidents or disease.

As a preventative against disease the school physician looks after the health, and as a preventative against injury, safety instruction should be taught until each child instinctively knows what danger is and how to avoid it. Parents who make this a part of the daily instruction in the home have little to fear when the age is reached for school attendance.

The child steps out of the home fairly well fortified by thought of safety. He has already learned to obey and when he is told not to dash across the streets, not to play in the street, not to steal rides or fool with dangling wires at any time or place, he minds and is thereby saved untold suffering. He has learned his safety lesson each day of his life. He has been taught that fire burns—that matches are not for little hands to play with—that bottles must not be taken

Historical Coach

Until a few years ago, Phoenix, Ariz., possessed a stage coach that had been held up and robbed more often than any other in existence. It began running in the seventies, between Prescott and Tombstone, and was actually robbed 83 times. Eight drivers and as many express messengers were killed on it. It was originally a handsome Concord coach pulled by eight mules and cost $1,800 in Tucson, but its sides were later split by rifle and pistol bullets and in more than one place the leather lining was cut with the stroke of a bowie knife.

Monk Man of Learning

The epithet "Admirable Doctor" was bestowed upon Roger Bacon (1214-1292), an English monk of the Franciscan order. He was without doubt the greatest philosopher of his time. His great work, the Opus Majus, was written about 1265, and first printed in 1733. It treats of nearly all the sciences. He was accused of practicing black magic; and in 1278 a council of the Franciscans, jealous of his superiority, condemned his writings and committed him to prison in Paris where he remained for ten years. He died at Oxford about 1292.—Kansas City Times.

SHAWSHEEN'S THIRD WIN

Indians' Victory over Coats Makes Three in a Row by Shut-out Route. Bethlehem Here Tomorrow

Shawsheen ran its string of consecutive victories to three last Saturday afternoon when they defeated the J. and P. Coats team 1-0, in an American league soccer contest before 2500 fans. This is the second win over Coats this season, the Indians defeating the "Threadmen" here two weeks ago, 2-0.

The game was very evenly contested all the way. The first half seemed about to end scoreless when Drummond, just before the interval, fouled Wilson outside of the penalty area. Lorimer took the kick and with a smashing drive beat the Coats' goalie, who seemed unsuspected, with a mass of players in front, trying to block the drive.

In the first period Shawsheen attacked early and Wilson broke through, testing Parks with a strong drive, the goalie making a fine score. Harvie was dangerous the next minute, but his shot struck the outside of the net. Murdock saved well on a shot from McAvoy and at the other end Parks was at his best in dealing with Smith.

Lorimer made a great play in stopping Langley as he was going through. Both sides were trying hard for a score and Shawsheen finally got the chance which was accepted by Lorimer on the free kick. The second half was fought out on even terms, most of the playing being confined to midfield.

By virtue of the victory, Shawsheen is now in fifth place in the standing. The team meets Bethlehem Saturday at Balmoral Field and a win over the steel workers will put them up another notch. Their three straight victories should bring out a large crowd and with Stark of Bethlehem making his first appearance here, should be an added attraction. This player was the leading goal scorer in the league last season, and this year is in second place to date in this respect. He is the man the Indians will have to watch Saturday for once he gets away he is hard to stop.

The summary of Saturday's game:

Collection Wins Again

The collection department bowling team, mainly through the efforts of Allen, were able to keep their slate clean Wednesday night, winning from the ledger department team by six pins. The winners were behind 27 pins going into the last string but Allen's high single of 115 pulled them through with six pins to spare. He also had the best triple of 282. Freiwald bowled well for the losers, getting 101 for single and 276 for a three-string total.

Had Gone Far Enough

A married couple were knocked down by a motorcar. The car dashed away. The police arrived and found the couple bursting with indignation. "Do you know the number of the car?" asked the policeman. "Yes," replied the husband; "by a strange coincidence the first two numbers formed my age and the second two the age of my wife."

"John," said the wife, "we will let the matter drop at once."

No Dust-Free Air

Dust-free air does not exist anywhere in nature, though it can be obtained by certain filtering devices in the laboratory, says Nature Magazine. From the earth's surface up to regions far above the highest clouds every cubic inch of air contains dustmotes. Near the earth the dust is mostly blown up from the soil by the winds. Far aloft the millions of meteors that enter the earth's atmosphere every day contribute their quota of fine solid matter. Lastly, every great explosive volcanic eruption spouts up enormous quantities of dust to great heights.

GOLF COURSE OPENED

National Stars Officially Dedicated New Course at Shawsheen. Guilford and Oumet Star

A third golf club in the suburbs of Lawrence was formally opened last Friday afternoon when the Shawsheen course of 18 holes was dedicated with a match between four of the leading amateurs of the state. Francis Oumet of Woodland and Rodney W. Brown, the Country Club, Brookline, played Jesse P. Guilford, Woodland, and Parker W. Whittemore, the Country Club, Brookline. Oumet and Brown won five up and four to play but Guilford turned in the best medal score of 75 for the 18 holes, Oumet trailing him by two strokes. Brown had a 79 and Whittemore an 84. Guilford's score was three above par.

A large gallery followed the players and most of the contingent saw the course for the first time. All were impressed with it and complimented the officials of The Andover Company, the promoters of the course.

It was laid out by the late W. H. Follett, and both greens and fairways were in excellent condition. It is nearly 6000 yards in length. The terrain is that rolling, natural sort which suits the fancy of the golf architect. It is not an overtrapped course, but one will find the rough difficult to get out of if the ball chances to wander from the fairways. The tees are well on the long sort, many having the triple terrace effect and the greens, possibly to some, are expansive. Although the par for the course is 72, this figure is bound to be shattered as the players become familiar with the course.

The quartet which had the honor to open the new course were all well pleased with the layout, and predicted a bright future for the club. Guilford was the only one who had played it previously to Friday's match and had the honor to register the only eagle. He sank a 15-foot putt at the 10th hole, the ball having only sufficient strength to roll to the brim, hesitate, and then drop in.

The condition of the course and the excellence of the fairways can be judged from the fact that during the entire 18 holes not one of the players took a preferred lie. They considered the second and eleventh holes as the gems of the course and the seventh and sixteenth as the only ones without any character.

Knights of Columbus Bowling

The first match of the season at the K. of C. bowling alleys was held Monday evening, four teams contesting. The Beers took three points from the Sullivans while the O'Briens defeated the Nelligans three points to one. On Thursday evening the Dohertys will play the Hill's Milk team. The scores follow:

Crankcase Oil Reclaimed

Research workers of the General Electric company recently have developed a method of reclaiming motor oil which, it is said, permits the original filling of oil to be used for the life of the car, says Popular Science Monthly. This system is said to remove the road dust, carbon and other impurities that the oil collects in use. Also the process is said to remove, along with the dust and carbon, certain components of the oil that are useless for lubrication.

Mail Boys Lose Second

For two strings the mailing and accounting departments of the Administration building had a close race for honors at the Shawsheen bowling alleys Tuesday night, but in the last one a spare on a strike by Keys took the wind out of their sails and the accounting finally won by 35 pins. Keys had the high single of 105 and Chiras hit 271 for the best three-string total. It was the second defeat in as many starts for the mail boys and they are now going to challenge the stenographers in an endeavor to win one match.
