CLAM SUPPER AT ENGINE HOUSE

Representative Gathering of Men Discuss Town Problems while Enjoying Hospitality Offered by Andover's Firemen

Unstinted praise of the efficiency of the fire department, appreciation of the hospitality of the fire laddies, a plea for great co-operation by the citizens of the town for a three-party agreement for the widening of North Main street and a fund of apt stories and anecdotes marked the speeches at the housewarming and steamed clam supper last Friday night by Andover Steam Fire Engine Co. No. 1, at the Central fire station.

The gathering was one of the most representative which has ever attended one of these and every walk in life in Andover was represented. Several of the speakers commented upon it and one ventured the suggestion that a gathering once a month could accomplish for the town what two or three organizations now are trying to do. With the backing of such a body of citizens any thing could be accomplished.

Henry Todd, captain of the company, wastoastmaster and was in one of his best moods. He sprang a big surprise when the gathering in the banquet hall awaited the succulent bivalves, by introducing Congressman William T. Connery, Jr. of Lynn. Congressman Connery proved a delightful entertainer. He regaled his hearers with stories he told the buddies overseas to while away the weary hours and also told some of the humorous anecdotes of life along the trenches. He spoke of the work he wastrying to accomplish in Washington for disabled veterans and in conclusion illustrated his efforts by reciting "Whispering Bill," the story of a Civil War boy, wounded by a bullet which spared his body but killed his mind.

Congressman Connery was given an ovation as he finished and left to address a Congressman Connery was given an ovation as he finished and left to address a political gathering in Lynn.

The clams were then served and it was a busy time for all. The fire laddies were waiters and they saw to it that everyone was supplied. There was an abundance of everything, with excellent coffee made by Caterer Rhodes. Hallowe'en decorations added a finishing touch to the banquet hall.

After dinner speeches were then in order. Toastmaster Todd briefly introduced each one in turn. The speakers were Selectman Andrew McTernen, Charles F. Emerson, fire chief; Henry C. Sanborn, superintendent of schools; Charles J. Bailey, district motor vehicle inspector; Henry A. Bodwell, chairman of the town finance committee; Frank L. Brigham, claim adjuster for the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance company; John F. O'Connell of the state fuel committee; Fred G. Cheney, district telephone manager; Joseph A. Rand of the Andover Steam Laundry; Attorney William Odlin and John Traynor of "old Frye village." All spoke in highest praise of the efficiency of the local fire department.

Superintendent Sanborn said that the fire department was a fine example of discipline, combined with rapidity of action and efficiency and was an object lesson on these three points to children of the public schools (Continued on page 6, column 5)

Mrs. Walter Edward Howe, were the guests on Saturday of the Girls' Friendly societies in Boston.

During the afternoon, with forty other girls, they enjoyed a seven-mile hike to Chestnut hill. This trip, together with the hike at Milford in February will count toward the hundred-mile record which will entitle the girls to a special emblem. Plans are being made to entertain the Boston girls in Andover later in the season.

The Girls' Friendly Lodge, at the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Fairfield Street, opened for inspection for the first time on Saturday evening, was the scene of a very jolly Hallowe'en party, which the Andover girls also attended.

What Is the Red Cross?

On November 11th, Armistice Day, the American National Red Cross will begin its Ninth Annual Membership Roll Call.

The Roll Call is not a canvass for money, although many chapters throughout the country will make a local appeal for funds with which to carry on work in their own communities. The Roll Call is a nation-wide enrollment of the members of the Red Cross who, by the payment of one dollar or more, become members of the organization for the ensuing year. It is in this way that the voluntary organization, fundamental to all Red Cross societies throughout the world, is continued.

It is a listle hard to define just what the

the voluntary organization, fundamental to all Red Cross societies throughout the world, is continued.

It is a little hard to define just what the American Red Cross is, because it is at least three things in one. It is an international, an ational and a local organization.

Internationally, the American Red Cross is part of a League made up of the Red Cross societies of fifty-three nations banded to gether for the purpose of coordinating, standardizing and administering international relief. As the American Red Cross was largely instrumental in the organization of that League, it must stand ready to take the lead in ministering in the name of common humanity to necessity, wherever it exists in the world. There is no question of international politics or foreign entanglements about it; it arises out of the logic of events.

Providence has made us strong and rich and self-sufficient. We owe it to ourselves to be ready to extend help and succor to those who are caught in the grip of catastrophe, and in that world-wide service, wherever necessity demands it, the Red Cross evaluation of the Rogic of the World's Greatest Organists and the Sullivans played on the Knights of Culmbus alleys Monday evening the latter transitional relief and composer, who is to appear in Andover on Saturday evening, December 12, at 8 o'clock was born in Hull, England, in Rodown born bilind, the young boy never permitted this infirmity to affect his surpose of his life, which at a very early age of the determination to be a musicion or to darken the earnest purpose of his life, which at a very early age of Siriem 180 years and the Sullivans played on the Knights of Culmbus alleys Monday evening the latter transtood all fur points away from their rivals. First Birthday Party home Saturday atternoon by inviting, alarge number of his boy and girl friends to a Hallowe'en party.

The house was very attractively decorated for the occasion, the living room and dining room like a fairy bower in autumn, with the rustling leaves overhead, and the lanterns from which grinning ifsees looked. Cats in the corners, bats in the leaves made the place just spooky enough to please the children who were older and who had just been initiated into the mysteries of Hallowe'en.

The dining table had a great big birthday cake in the center of the table, and all around the edge were lollypop dolls dressed up as witches. These were given out to the children as favors. Little black and orange baskets filled with candy were also presented to Junior's small guests to take home as mementoes of the occasion.

During the afternoon Esther Francis, a pupil of Miss Rose Scanlon, gave several solo dances which were much enjoyed and the children seated on the living room floor sang songs and played games.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake, and y and peanuts were served by the hostess, Miss F. H. Graves, assisted by Agnes Murphy, Abbie Green and Saran and Goldie Francis.

Among those present were Ruth Hardy, Judith Hardy, Helen Hardy, Priscilla Yates, Edward Huntress, Evelyn Spinney, Donald Spinney, Elizabeth Eastman, John Anderson, Sally Burns, Nancy Burns, G. Edgar Folk, Jr., Evelyn Folk, Dorothy Foster, Helen Foster, William Harnden Foster, Jr., Eleanor Daniels, Barbara Hammond, Teddy Hammond, Joan O'Riordan, Bernadine Barrett, Joseph Barrett, Harriet Sellars, Barbara Sellars, Charles Sellars, Chara Holland, Esther Francis, Mariette Whitzenmore, Hazel Wright, Allan Chadwick, Charles A. The following notice of a recital given by Nina Mae Forde, soprano, and Virginia Farmer, 'cellist, is reprinted from The Boston Daily Globe of November 4. Miss Farmer is the granddaughter of Mrs. T. J. Farmer and the nicce of Miss Nellie Farmer of Whittier street in this town.

Nina Mae Forde, soprano, and Virginia Farmer, 'cellist, were heard last night in recital at Steinert Hall by a friendly audience. Each proved herself an unusually good performer. Seldom, indeed, does a recital by a little known singer and a little known assisting artist offer so much to please a listener interested in musicianly singing and playing.

Mrs. Forde has a lyric soprano voice of fine quality. In old airs by Handel, Haydn, and Arne she sang with a keen feeling for the line of the melody and for its spirit. Schubert's "To Music" was also movingly sung. In this sort of number there was an ease, a bert's "To Music" was also movingly sung. In this sort of number there was an ease, a genuinely lyric quality to her singing. In showing airs by Gounod and Costa, Mrs. Forde's performance, although competent, gave far less pleasure. She occasionally forced her tone in these numbers. One noted as an unfortunate mannerism her habit of clipping off the ends of phrases too abruptly.

habit of clipping off the ends of phrases too abruptly.

Miss Farmer played pieces by a variety of undistinguished composers, chosen rather to please a popular audience than for musical worth. Popper's pretentious and rather inept "Hungarian Rhapsody" was her least satisfactory effort. Since no better woman 'cellist has been heard in Boston in the past decade, and not more than two or three better men, it was a pity Miss Farmer did not give her hearers more substantial musical fare. Both these artists should be heard in public again.

C. E. Hallowe'en Party

On last Friday evening a crowd of merrymakers gathered in the barn of F. H. Foster on Central street, the occasion being a Hallowe'en masquerade at which the South church Congregational society of Christian Endeavor played host to the Baptist society. About forty young people appeared in costume as ghosts, witches, gypsies and clowns. The men's prizes went to members of the Baptist society; the one for the most original costume, to Bruce Torrey, who was dressed as Aunt Jemima of pancake fame, and the other to Ray Wilson as a ghost.
The women's prizes went to members of the South church society; that for the most original costume to Alice Grey, a pajama girl, and that for the most disguising to Mildred Morse, a witch.
Pamelia Proctor, chairman of the social committee, had charge of the games. The refreshments of cider and doughnuts were in charge of Dorothy Trott and Clara Richards.

Party on Eleventh Birthday

A birthday party was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Duff in honor of the eleventh birthday of their son, Thomas. During the afternoon piano selections were given by Catherine Winters and Carl Keuhner and vocal selections by Jackie Smith. Hallowe'en games were played and refreshments served by the hostess.

Those present were: Misses Catherine Winters, Mary Smith, Rita Duff, Mae Hastings, Helen Ferrier, Kita Hastings, Mary Darly, Mary Duff, Patricia Duff, Catherine Darby, Margaret O'Brien and Thomas Duff, Billie Donovan, Bill Daly, Edward Newcombe, Carl Keuhner, Andrew Ferrier, Joseph O'Brien, Francis Mooney, James Smith, Jackie Smith, John and David Hackney.

The Garden City Trio gave a fine enter-tainment in the Fraternal hall last Friday evening.

Brush Fires Sunday

The local fire department responded to a call Sunday morning at 11 o'clock when some brush on land owned by James Napier and Edward Foster took fire. The blaze was estinguished with little difficulty and no damage resulted.

According to fire officials the blaze was started by children playing in the vicinity.

The Winter Wardrobe

Many mothers are shocked at the scanty apparel of their daughters. They fear colds and all sorts of illnesses. As a matter of fact, the habit girls have nowadays of wearing the same sort of under-garments winter as well as summer is not a bad one. Apartment house and office heat would be hard indeed on the individual of the red flannel days. They are the ones who would start sneezing and coughing, as their bodies would be overheated and sensitive to any draft. The girl of nowadays is all right—indoors—but she should remember that out-of-doors she needs just as warm a coat and just as cold-proof shoes and stockings as did the girl of 1800.

The Red Cross Roll Call

The announcement of the beginning on November 11.— Armistice Day,—of the annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross draws our attention once more to an institution which, as we see it, merits the encouragement of us all. Our own community is to be congratulated on its freedom from the numerous petty "drives" which in many cities are continually annoying residents with their importunities. Here in Andover most of the volunteer public health work has for some time been centralized in the local branch of the Red Cross, and only the generous contributions of our citizens have made possible the continuance of this service in our midst. It is the Red Cross, for instance, which pays the salary and directs the activities of Miss Campbell, the District Nurse, whose unstinted devotion to duty and willingness to help have been so much valued by everyone who has had occasion to ask for her aid. It is the Red Cross, which last year opened a dental clinic in the schools and is now employing a dental nurse to continue this kind of work among children. It is the Red Cross, which sends each summer several

Hallowe'en Party for Clan Auxiliary
A very jolly Hallowe'en costume party was held last evening by the Woman's Auxiliary to Clan Johnston in Fraternal hall.
The hall was decorated with streamers of black and yellow and more than thirty-six of the members were in gay costumes.

During the business meeting held early in the evening and presided over by Mrs.
David Forbes, a relish dish in cut glass and silver was presented to one of the sisters, Mrs. Gendreau, a recent bride, who before her marriage was Miss Bella Turner.
The first bit of fun on the program was a mock marriage with the following characters: Bride, Margaret Petrie; groom, Agnes Stuart;
bridesmaid, Susan Bisset; best man, Eliza Smith; flower girl, Elizabeth Lamb; ring bearer, Christine Stewart; minister, Rolina Doig.
There was also music including solos by Susan Bisset, Mary Stewart and Agnes Stuart, a violin solo by Anna MacFarlane, a solo dance by Eliza Smith, and songs by a chorus.
The members of the chorus, all of whom were in costume, were Rolina Doig, Elizabeth Lamb, Eliza Smith, May Holden, Lily
Dunbar, Jessie Bisset, Isabel Caldwell,
Doris Ferrier, Christina Cairnie, Mary
Stewart, Christine Stewart, Agnes Stuart, Hazel Valentine, Mary Gordon, Susan Bisset, Rita Hughes, Agnes Lowe, Margaret Bertram and Margaret Petrie.
The program concluded with a grand march, where shepherdesses, soldiers, sailors, Dutch girls, farmer boys, colored mammies, Pierrots, Japanese girls, and gypsies stepped off gaily to the music of kazoos, a handorgan and monkey bringing up the rear of the procession.
Refreshments of sandwiches, doughnuts and tea were served by the social committee, which had charge of the entertainment,
Mrs. Charlotte Holden, chairman.
Bobbing for apples in pans of water and on strings, and other Hallowe'en games, furnished no end of amusement to the onlookers and put the finishing touch on a most successful party.
A "sing song" for the benefit of a protege of the Clan will be held by the men of the order on November 20.

Women Are Steadily Swinging To The Laundry

Each week marks more definitely the turning of women from home washing to our Modern Laundry.

As women enter more actively into social and civic life, they delegate to others the tasks which do not require their personal attention.

The recognition of woman's equality with man is being established. National suffrage is coming. Equal rights with men in all lines of activity are coming. Under these new conditions women are rapidly being forced to discriminate more keenly between the essential and non-essential, between the relatively unimportant and important thing. They are learning to drop the burden of small things in favor of the greater opportunity and responsibility of large things.

They are using our SEMI-FINISHED laundry service. Everything washed, dried, and flat work ironed at 8c a pound plus 1c a piece.

A notice in the Townsman of March 21, 1919, begins with these words, "Andover's Rare Loyalty."
This was in response to an appeal to the public toward raising funds in order to give our returning soldier boys a fitting "Welcome Home."
Many of those boys, but not all, did come home, and some of those who did come will never be the same, after undergoing the horrors of war.

Many of those boys, but not all, did come home, and some of those who did come will never be the same, after undergoing the horrors of war.

And now our Legion boys are holding a Bazaar in order to help those less fortunate than themselves — as in Essex Courty alone there are forty in Danvers Asylum.

It is for such unfortunates as these that the Legion and its Auxiliary have worked so hard to make this Bazaar a success. — Won't you show your "Rare Loyalty" by coming to the bazaar tonight and tomorrow afternoon and evening and show the boys that you do remember what they so willingly did for you?

Abbot Receives Gift to Rebuild Organ

An important gift has recently been made to Abbot Academy, by Mrs. Dorothy Davis Rimmer, of North Andover, and, more recently, of England, to be applied to the further development of the organ in Davis Hall.

In 1912, Mrs. Rimmer, whose father, George L. Davis, were Trustees of the Academy, presented the school with a beautiful two-manual organ, which has contributed greatly to the atmosphere and spirit as well as to the musical development of the school. Expansion of the music department has made ever-increasing demands upon the resources of the instrument until it has become evident that enlargement was most important.

Mrs. Rimmer's handsome gift will make possible the addition of at least twelve stops and chimes, and will develop the instrument into a three-manual organ of comprehensive and adequate dimensions. The organ will be practically rebuilt, not only will the foundation and sonority of the tone be augmented, but there will be a great gain in variety of color, and spontaneity of expression.

The contract has been given to the Hall Organ Company, New Haven, Connecticut, the original builders.

Women of Solomon Islands Fade Early

In their youth, the women of the colomon islands are slender and grace-Solomon islands are slender and graceful. However, they are like certain flowers, they blosson early and very soon fade. They marry sometimes before they are in their teens and become prematurely old from the drudgery of the day's labor—bringing up bables, tending gardens, making mats and pottery. Their dress consists of a fringe of hemp-fiber; or, where the white man's influence has penetrated, of a skirt of callco, called "liava-lava." The figures on the imported cloth oc The figures on the imported cloth oc-casionally suggest new designs for or-naments or pottery made by a native artist, who adapts them to his own artist, who adapts them to his own best needs. By the help of a sing thrown over her shoulder, a young mother from the island of Maiatta carries with ease her sturdy, healthy bales, one on each hip. Though unclothed, they wear necktaces and anklets. Children are usually carried in this fashion until they are three or older, despite their weight. Like the men, a woman prepares for the delights of smoking in some chance hour of restly tucking her clay pipe and perhaps her tobacco and match-box into the pocket formed by her tight armiet.

No Blare of Trumpets

With the opera flourishing, and the names of prima donna figuring in all the papers, it is interesting to read added the first appearance of such a lady on the British stage. It appeared in 1692, and ran as follows: "The liallan lady, just come over sea, will so famous for her singing, will perform." No more than that, not a word about her palaces, her jewels, her pets, or her differences with other gifted ladies. No mention even of her name.

Andover 0-Yale Fresh 17

A heavy Yale freshman football team de-feated Phillips Andover academy Saturday at New Haven by the score of 17-0. The academy eleven outweighed almost 15 bounds to a man, made but little impression on the Yale line and was dangerous only in the first quarter when an offensive drive carried them to the 15-yard mark. An attempted field goal by Richardson when they were held for downs went wide of its mark.

attempted field goal by Richardson when they were held for downs went wide of its mark.

Yale started a baffling attack against the flue in the second period. Garvey scored after he, Miller and Capt. Brandenburg, using end runs and slashing off tackle drives, had carried the ball into scoring position. Miller kicked the goal.

In the third period Yale secured the ball at the Andover 40-yard mark where Luci fumbled. A pass, Garvey to Decker, and run by Brandenburg brought the ball to within 12 yards of the Andover goal line. Brandenburg then scored the second touchdown and Miller kicked the goal.

The Blue displayed a rugged defense for running plays in the fourth quarter and after holding Yate for downs at their 19-yard mark forced Miller to try for a field goal. He kicked it and gave the yearlings their 17 points.

The prizes were awarded yesterday afternoon by Frank L. Brigham, general agent.

The contest, open to pupils of the seventh and eighth grades, was held in order to stimulate interest and educate young people in the necessity of fire prevention, and to emphasize individual responsibility in the prevention of fire with its appalling loss of life.

spelling.

Those who acted as judges were George Hinckley, manager of the Mutual Adjustment Bureau, Boston; Edmond Sanders, vice-president of the Merchants and Farmers Insurance company, Worcester; Charles F. Danforth, secretary of the Mutual Fire Insurance association, Boston.

The letter from Mr. Sanders, announcing the successful contestants is as follows:

The easiest way of preventing fires is by being careful in every way. If people never laid down a cigar or a match or left matches where children and mice could get at them that would prevent many big fires. If all chimneys and stoves were kept clean another cause of fires would be removed. Cleanlines in general is very important for many fires start in rubbish in attics and cellars and unfinished houses.

So if everybody would be careful all the time and also keep everything clean most fires would never get a chance to start. But after a little fire once gets started the main thing is to prevent it from getting to be a big fire for it is the fires that mean a big loss of money.

schools, hospitals, banks, factories, garages and almahouses. The hose should be connected with the stand pipes and the nozzle all the time. There should also be good fire departments in every town and city. There should be good water pressure and a plenty of hydrants.

Most forests fires are preventable. It would help to prevent forest fires if campers would be more careful. Nobody should go away and leave a camp fire burning because a spark might fly and start a forest fire. When leaving a camp fire anybody should make sure that the camp fire is all out. If water is handy put water on the fire, if not, put dirt.

Smokers often start fires by dropping lighted cigarette butts or cigar ends. Therefore smokers should be more careful when outdoors.

In all of these ways fire could be largely prevented and the loss of life and money would be very small instead of very large.

The Orange and Black of Punchard were lowered for the second time this season, when Gloucester High, a powerful and smooth working machine, tripped them up on the Andover playstead Saturday afternoon by the count of 20 to 12. The Punchard team were dangerous at every turn of the conflict, and a slight break in luck would have turned victory to their faces at the least provocation. Gloucester High who conquered Methuen High some weeks ago presented the fastest set of backs that have appeared on the Andover playstead in recent years, and they manipulated their way through the Punchard line for three touchdowns.

caused by 488 fires. The biggest causes were (1) carcless use of matches, (2) children playing with matches, (3) malicious mischief, and (4) fires set on purpose. So you can set that most of these fires need never have happened. Fire insurance companies say that nearly all fires everywhere could be prevented.

The easiest way of preventing fires is by being careful in every way. If people never laid down a cigar or a match or left matches where children and mice could get at them that would prevent many big fires. Some means of protection are extinguishers sprinklers, stand pipes and hose. Extinguishers should be hung from three to five feet from the floor and in conspicuous places. Sprinklers should be installed in all public buildings such as schools, hospitals, banks, factories and garages There should also be stand pipes and hose and nozzle in

FRANKLIN and COMMON STS.

It is seldom that a picture is made into a drama, as in most cases the picture is made from the drama. But when Gloria Swanson's great picture success "Manhandled" was screened Mr. Walton Butterfield saw the great possibilities in it for a play and dramatized the picture. The play does what the picture could not do and that is, that it gets the dialogue across in the most entertaining manner. The play follows the story of the picture to every detail. The story of Tessie MacLean, the little basement shop girl who longs for the better things of life, is a picture

MANAGER HARRY NORWOOD

Absolutely true to life. Her sweetheart, Jim Hogan, i an inventor and Tessie loves him flearly by t while he is out of town is persuaded to enter the fast set through her friend, Pinkie Doran. Here she learns what her sweetheart, Jim, has warned her of, the real meaning of "Manhandled." The seen in Brandt's Studio in Greenwich Village where Tessie entertains the "400" with her pranks and becomes their idol is one of the great scenes of the play. How Tessie awakens to her danger and returns to her sweetheart is a love story that everyone will enjoy whether they have seen the picture of the school hall as friends and witches for on a cottemen of the high school, held in the school the freshmen of the high school, held in the school the freshmen of the high school, took the freshmen of the school hall as friend prints, cook the freshmen of the school hall as friend prints, cook the freshmen of the school hall as friend prints, cook the freshmen of the sc or not. The play bound, in splendid comedy situations.

Miss Devereaux will appear as "Tessie," the little shop girl, a part which gives her an apportunity to show her admirers the full scope of her talents. She appeared in this part the latter part of last season at Port Richmond, L. L., and scored one of her greatest successes. Mr. Rawlings will have a part in Jim Hogan, Tessie's sweetheart, that it is especially suited to him and one that his followers will adore. The other members to of the company all have splendid parts and be it is expected that this play will prove the biggest hit of the season.

As an added attraction, Manager Norwood has made arrangements with the Doykos Co., Lawrence furriers to hold their fur fashion show between the acts at each performance next week. Seat checks will be given out and a beautiful fur coat will be presented to the lucky seatholder at the end of the week.

SHAWSHEEN CLIMBING

Shawsheen continues to climb in Shawsneer continues to Climbia in the American soccer league and is pratically tied for first place with Fall River, Providence and Boston. Their percentage is better than either Boston or Providence and equal to Fall River. equal to Fall River. The latter has played two more games than the Indians who have the given the Marksmen their only defeat of the season.

Last Saturday Newark went down on Balmoral field 4 goals to 1. The victory was hard-earned for it incurred the loss of Andy Nixon for two weeks. He was the victim of one of the most outrageous decisions ever given by a referee and George Lambie is riding for a fall. He has been at Balmoral field on four successive games and his work gets worse each week. The teams on the rest of the circuit won't have him and Shawsheen fans are clamoring for a change. Peeved because he could not beat Nixon. Rafferty, the Newark outside left, attacked the clever Indian halfback and for defending himself, without striking Rafferty, Lambie, despite Nixon's protest, was ordered off the field for the first time in his career. Rafferty was wholly unprovoked Lambie did not see the attack and his decision was an insult to one of the cleanest players in soccer.

Sunday, the Indians went to New York and pinned another defeat on the Giants 3 to 2. Shawsheen has not lost a game since October 17.

Saturday's game with Newark proved to be an easy victory and the weakest team that has been seen here this season. The local team started with some of the regulars on the side lines who were being saved for Sunday's game. It was not until after 35 minutes of play that Shawsheen scored the first goal when Dixon took a pass from Turner and shot the ball through. Inside of seven minutes Lorimer and Carrie added two more, and half-time was called with the Indians leading 3 to 0.

Midway through the last half a scramble in the goal mouth gave Lorimer another opportunity which he accepted, making a fine drive for Shawsheen's fourth score. Newark's only goal came shortly after this when Rafferty netted a close shot.

With a three-goal lead, Shawsheen was content to play a defensive game. Newark had one excellent chance to score when Murdock left the goal, but Mills ran in and saved by heading the ball out.
