Poppy Day Will Be Tomorrow

Saturday will be Poppy Day in Andover and young girls wearing the insignia of the American Legion will greet you on the streets and ask you to buy a poppy. The money raised from the sale of these flowers symbolic of Flanders Field is used to aid wounded veterans and veterans in ill health due to service days. The money is used to a great extent right here in Andover while some is used to take care of our local men who are now in government hospitals and other federal institutions. No price is set on the poppy, but each citizen is asked to contribute what he can afford. The price of a movie or a few cigars is a quarter or so, and what better sacrifice can we show than by contributing a similar amount and denying ourselves a momentary pleasure to make possible enjoyment or at least contentment to the boys whose sacrifice began in 1918 and still continues.

Andover Post No. 8 appeals to its citizens and asks that they make it possible for the continuation of the noble work being done in Andover for the disabled and sick veterans.

UNIQUE MUSICAL SHOW

Young Men's Brotherhood of the Free Church to Repeat "The Music Box" Given Last Night

There still remains a chance to see and hear "The Music Box", a unique entertainment given under the auspices of the Young Men's Brotherhood of the Free church in the parish house Thursday evening. It will be repeated tonight. The audience was promised "something different", a show without special lighting effects, scenery, ballet dancing, or Scotch jokes, but still worth seeing. The promise was made good—all except the Scotch jokes, and they were really too good to leave out.

The music was catchy, the chorus good, the comedian funny and the soloist of the best. Walter Kidder's "Only let me hear the song of the sea" was alone worth the price of admission, and with Robert Nichols at the piano the young people of the Free church did a remarkably good piece of work.

The scene of the slim story on which hangs the musical entertainment is laid in a music shop. There is Mr. Cupcake who owns the shop, the "darling sales girls", a villain, Aaron Appicart, who seeks to put Mr. Cupcake out of business and a hero, the representative of Mr. Zeigfeld, who at the eleventh hour buys all the catchy songs and saves the day.

Harry Rodger is the master of ceremonies, who manages the show with the poise of a professional, and incognito, contributes a solo.

Mr. Kidder's songs "Tommy Ladd" and "Do You Know My Garden?" were so enthusiastically enjoyed that he returned to sing "Mandalay"—as one seldom hears it.

Dan MacDonald delighted the audience with his impersonations and the singing of "When I Get Back to Scotland" and "I Love to Be a Sailor".

The "Music Box" is an original play by Stanley C. Hickok of 94 Elm street with the story and songs written by Mr. Hickok and the music for it by Robert Nichols, a member of the Knickerbocker Quartet. Walter Kidder is also a member of the Knickerbocker Quartet, a well-known baritone and radio artist.

The cast of characters:

- Master of Ceremonies: Harry Rodger
- Mr. Cupcake: George Early
- Aaron Appicart: John Gallagher
- Julius Jewsharpp: Tom Gorrie
- Pansy: Andrew Jackson
- Violet: Benjamin Miller
- Joe Radish: Evelyn Mayer
- Senior Haircuttino: Walter Kidder
- Bill: David Black
- Carl Porter: Carl Porter
- Customers, visitors and passersby at the Music Box: David Petrie, William Skea, William Mackenzie, Harry Gouck, Edmund Sorrie, Thomas Holden, Duncan Bissett, Alfred Bissett

The original songs are:
Remember, The Attic Song, The Brown Road, Just a Little Tune and Pansy, VI and Joe.

Stanley A. Hickok is the leader of the class and with the assistance of Mr. Nichols coached the play.

Two hundred-fifty women and girls enjoyed the hospitality of the A. P. C. sorority at a supper followed by an entertainment which took place in the South church vestry on Tuesday evening.

The decorations were apple blossoms, the color scheme being carried out with green runners and pink napkins. A hostess at each table amply supplied the wants of her guest. The menu included fruit cup, chicken patties, peas, potato chips, pickles, graham and white rolls, raspberry sherbet, cake in great variety and coffee.

Fancy caps in gay colors pretty, odd, becoming, or ridiculous added to the festive appearance of the party.

The supper was followed by an entertainment furnished through the courtesy of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company, which necessitated the invasion of the usual sanctity of the vestry on these occasions by three men who appeared not at all disconcerted to find themselves in such a conspicuous minority. Joseph W. Cassidy, Lawrence district manager, told the story of the "Science of Communication", tracing its history from the days when messages were sent by fire signals and runners to the present day when from any telephone in the country one may speak with all countries west of Asia as well as South America. Not only is it possible to speak, but also to see the person with whom one is talking, and also to send pictures. Mr. Cassidy believes that even greater marvels will be realized within the life-time of the younger members of his audience.

Three reels of moving pictures were then shown illustrating the operation of the telephone: "Hello Europe", "Every Day and Every Way", and "Behind the Lines". There was also a piano solo by Douglas Malley.

The members of the supper committee were Mrs. Raymond Brackett, Mrs. G. Richard Abbott, Mrs. John Holmehed, Mrs. Foster Barnard, Mrs. Franklin Ellis, Mrs. Clifford Marshall, Mrs. Percy Crosby, Mrs. Malcolm McCreren, Mrs. Ada Brown, Miss Helen Steed.

The decorating committee: Mrs. Harold Leitch, Mrs. James Downes, Mrs. Roy Daniels, Mrs. Carl Elander, Mrs. Franklin Roberts, Mrs. Hugh Ewing.

The entertainment committee: Mrs. Frank Gould, Mrs. George Collins, Mrs. J. S. Jennings, Mrs. Ralph Draper, Mrs. Kirk Temple, Miss Anne Stone, Miss Florence West and Miss Helen McGraw.

The hostesses in charge of Mrs. Philip L. Hardy were: Mrs. Fred Gould, Mrs. Tyler Carlton, Mrs. Osborne Sutton, Mrs. Roy E. Hardy, Mrs. Roland Glines, Mrs. Roy Dearborn, Mrs. Arthur Jenkins, Mrs. Frank Crawford, Mrs. Frederick Noss, Mrs. Robert Souter, Mrs. George Abbott, Mrs. Harry Hayward, Mrs. John A. Burr, Mrs. J. Everett Collins, Mrs. Edward Williams, Jr., Mrs. Harold Godfrey, Mrs. Frank Petty, Mrs. Theodore Tyler, Mrs. Charles Gregory, Mrs. Douglas Pitman, Mrs. Arthur Cole and Misses Marion Abbott, Ruth Abbott, Maria Fairweather, Florence West, Ann Stone, Marion Hill, Gladys Hill, Catherine Ballard, Alice McCreren, Helen McGraw, Helen Robertson, Helen Sargent and Miss Edith Kendall.

The first deep-sea fishing trip of the season by Andover men was made Wednesday from York Harbor, Maine.

About 800 pounds of pollock and cod were caught. The two largest fish, weighing twenty two and twenty-five pounds were caught by Matthew Burns. The 25-pound fish has been on display in the window of Stacey's drug store. The most fish were caught by F. H. Stacey, well known local druggist, who caught 155 pounds.

THEATRES

METROPOLITAN THEATRE
Seldom have stage and screen attractions been blended into such a harmonious whole as is the case at the Metropolitan this week when "Young Man of Manhattan" on the screen vies for public favor with Horace Heidt and his Californians on the stage. Here, in sporting parlance, is a "natural"—a show that attains greatness in every way.

The film, "Young Man of Manhattan," is an adaptation of the famous newspaper novel of the same name, written by Katherine Brush, a former Boston newspaper woman. This book has been the best selling novel of the past season and is recognized throughout the land as being the most authentic story of the lives of newspaper people and their doings ever written. Claudette Colbert enacts the leading role and she is brilliantly supported by Charles Ruggles, Norman Foster and a large cast.

Horace Heidt and his Californians are known to people throughout the rest of the country as the finest stage band in America but, unfortunately, up to now they have never appeared in New England. Their reputation is such that the mere billing of this act fills theatres to capacity. Their youth, versatility and talent have won for them a place among the elite of their profession and their Boston engagement is certain to result in the making of thousands of new enthusiastic supporters for them. They are a complete show in themselves and their reception here is bound to reflect glory to them.

"Ringside Seats" is the title of the organ solo this week, and will be played on the new Wurlitzer by Arthur Martel.

In the Grand Lounge this week is the Home Building Exhibit, a show that has never before been given to the patrons of a motion picture theatre. Advance inquiries indicate interest far above the average among the theatre-going public.

For the week starting Thursday, May 22, the screen feature will be "The New Adventures of Dr. Fu Manchu" with Warner Oland and the same great cast that played in the first "Fu Manchu" film. On the stage will be "Lanterns," with "The Chinese Whoopie Revue," Pickard's Chinese Synopators and Jones & Wilson.

LINCOLN SPELLING MATCH

on "associate" and the deciding word was "valise".

"Ecstasy," the most troublesome word to members of the 6th grade, bowled over ten in a row. Fortunately the last girl left standing could spell "millinery"; two boys were unable to "proceed" and the last two both failed on "nineteenth". "Colonies" was the final word.

"Transient" and "caucus" were puzzles for the seventh grade, who offered "transient" and "caucus" by their stand though they waded successfully through "irresistible" and "periscope".

Once started to spell "aquarium" with "c" for its second letter, it was difficult, even though a member of the 8th grade got it out. So old-fashioned a word as "saleratus" was unfamiliar to several and swept the stage clear of all except the winner. Three had to be recalled to determine who should receive the second prize, which was decided by "niche".

"Irresistible" was difficult for even high school students. Three, of the original thirteen entrants, stood fast for a long time but were finally conquered by "alignment" and "ostracize".

In the finals three girls and seven boys took part. The words which thinned the ranks were "zephyr", "calyx", "scintillate", "chaperon", and "annually".

The contest closed at 9.40.

Points of Interest in Andover

The Hardy house, also known as the President Adams house, as it stands at present, dates from 1805 but according to tradition it occupies the site of the oldest house on Andover Hill. For four years it was occupied by Eliphalet Pearson, Principal of Phillips Academy and for twenty-three years it was the home of Principal Adams. Later it was occupied for many years by Professor William B. Graves. It is now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Newton where Mrs. Newton will be hostess on May 30 and 31.

Rabbit Rock at the edge of Missionary Woods was the resort of early Missionary students at the Andover Theological seminary. It is marked by a memorial tablet on a native granite boulder brought from Carmel Woods and dedicated October 12, 1910. The inscription reads as follows: "In the Missionary Woods once extending to this spot, the first missionary students of Andover Seminary walked and talked one hundred years ago and on this secluded knoll met to pray. In memory of these men, Adoniram Judson, Samuel Nott, Samuel J. Mills, Samuel Newell, Gordon Hall, James Richards, Luther Rice, whose consecrated purpose to carry the gospel to the heathen world led to the formation of the first American Society for Foreign Missions, in recognition of the two hundred and forty-eight missionaries trained in Andover Seminary, and in gratitude to Almighty God this stone is set up in the centennial year of the American Board, 1910."

Samuel Phillips hall is the recitation hall of Phillips academy. The building the gift of the alumni of the school was first used at the opening of the winter term in January, 1924. It was under its portico that President Calvin Coolidge stood to deliver the Sesqui-centennial address on May 19, 1928.

At the John-Esther Art gallery at Abbot academy during the Tercentenary celebration there will be a beautiful exhibit of water color paintings by well known contemporary artists. The gallery was the gift of Mrs. Esther Smith Byers a former student at the School and was opened to the public in February 1907.

Abbot Academy Notes

The group of water colors selected by Mrs. Van Ness was shown for the first time in the John-Esther Art Gallery on Saturday afternoon. The members of Les Beaux Arts are taking charge of the gallery on Sundays and the pictures may be seen from two to five o'clock on Saturday afternoons until the close of school.

At the meeting of the New England School Library Association at which Miss Hopkins presided on Saturday afternoon, May 10, Andrew Kough, librarian of Yale University and president of the American Library association told of the progress of the beautiful new Sterling library. He also described the needs of the A. L. A., and spoke of school libraries and their work.

Miss Lucy Bell of the State Normal school in Salem was elected president for the coming year, and Miss Ethel Kimball of the Boston University School of Education was elected secretary-treasurer.

Izaak Walton's

"We pledge ourselves to restore for posterity the outdoor America of our ancestors," through the symbol of the Izaak Walton, have resolved on its conservation.

Into the needs and structures of the modern era the Walton program fits in two important ways not often noted. As a field for constructive leisure a wholesome outdoor life offers high advantage, and in an industrial world, where leisure becomes more and more a cultural and an economic problem for producers and consumers both, this outdoor field is increasingly significant. To conserve the wild life and the woods and waters is to conserve also the best of human leisure and human living. On the farm problem, with its surplus acreage, the Walton programs also have a good effect. Saving swamps from drainage, restoring forest lands, saving the game lands and waters; the ark refuge of the Jackson Hole country, the Horicon marshes of Wisconsin, the Royal Gorge of Colorado, the Superior forests, the western duck refuges, the black bass laws and the stream pollution campaigns, the national forests for the East and Middle West are monuments to their good will and vision. The campaigns under way for a national system of wild life refuges, the salvage of the Cumberland and the Potomac falls, of Currituck sound and Back bay in Carolina, the Capitol park system, show the great work to do. The pioneer loved and destroyed nature. Modern Americans,

TERCENTENARY ANNOUNCEMENTS

Old Folks' Concert
The Old Folks' concert, with two performances, on Friday and Saturday evenings, May 30 and May 31, under the direction of J. Everett Collins, will be of high quality. The Parish Glee club, together with the Square and Compass club, form a large mixed chorus, which will present a rich program of old music. The numbers will not be limited to the usual old-fashioned songs from Father Kemp's collection, but will include besides rounds and glees some fine old chorales and choruses. Different groupings of men's and women's voices, separately and together, will afford a pleasant variety.

The orchestra, arrangements for which are in charge of Miss Helen Eaton, will add greatly to the enjoyment of the concert.

A delightful feature will be the introduction of a minuet by eighteen dancers in costume under the direction of Mrs. Edward C. Nichols. This will serve as an interlude between the first and second parts of the musical program.

Tickets are still available at the Andover News Store, from Hugh Ewing. It would be well, however, in order to avoid disappointment, to secure very soon tickets for friends from out of town, as well as one's own.

The latest announcement of activities in Andover's observance of the Tercentenary is one from the school children who have been zealous to have a share in the celebration. Thursday afternoon, May 29, at two o'clock on the playstead the Stowe Junior high school will put on a pageant, which will be a very suitable prelude to the plans for the three-day celebration. The program follows:

SERIES OF PROGRESS
Indian. Purchase of Andover; War dance; Bradstreet rescue.
Religion. Early church; Witchcraft; Modern Idea of Union.
Educators. Dame schools; Later schools 1830; Modern school.
Transportation. Founding of Connecticut; walking; Covered Wagon and Oregon trail; Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh, airplane. Reading.
Patriotic Sons. America, America the Beautiful.
Miss Anna Chase of the Stowe school faculty is in charge of this program.

After this formal feature on the playstead there will be a procession of children under high school age with flags and banners, several a hundred of them singing "America" as they march from the playstead to the American house. This should be a charming sight and spectators of the pageant will enjoy this demonstration by the children.

The singing will be under the direction of Miss Miriam Sweeney, supervisor of music in the public schools.

Provision for Visitors
For the convenience of visitors to town during the celebration, special arrangements have been made for providing food. Luncheon at seventy-five cents, will be served at the South church vestry on Friday and Saturday, May 30 and 31, from 12 to 2.30 o'clock. Through the courtesy of the November club the clubhouse will be used as a Coffee Shop, where sandwiches, doughnuts, and coffee may be obtained from 10 to 6 o'clock on Friday and Saturday. As has been announced, tea will be served in the gardens of the Abbot Homestead and the Historical society house, 97 Main street, on the afternoons of Friday and Saturday.

The Historical society is glad to sponsor a project that is so directly in line with the purposes for which it was founded as the celebration of this tercentenary anniversary. The officers are confident that the members will respond generously to the need for funds to cover the expenses. Next week the Soliciting Committee, under the leadership of Miss C. Madeleine Hewes, will ask for contributions of food and money. Checks may be made to the order of Burton S. Flagg, treasurer.

The Coming Celebration
 Radiant nature will supplement the smiles of welcome that will greet visitors to Andover during the Old-Home-week observance which constitutes the Andover celebration of the Massachusetts Bay Colony Tercentenary. Always a town of great natural beauty, Andover never looked better than she does this season. With vegetation somewhat ahead of schedule, the rare days we expect in June have favored us in May and, with pleasant weather, the days set apart for the local observance of the Tercentenary will find Andover blooming and lovely, with foliage and flower in its prime.
 As the growing plans for the event are unfolded the program ensures a delightful three-day celebration, of great interest to all who live here, to all who used to reside here, and especially so to all who may come here for the first time to enjoy the wealth of historic association the town has to offer.
 No towns have more attractions than Andover and few have as many. And through the wise planning and diligent endeavors of the members of the Andover Historical society it is evident that the best possible use of what the town has to offer is to be made.
 Andover people can take pride in their town and also have a feeling of satisfaction over the effective manner in which the society has arranged to entertain them and the many visitors who will flock here for the occasion.

New Postoffice
 Andover can have a new postoffice by the end of another year if prompt advantage is taken of the opportunity offered. According to the announcement in the recent issue of the TOWNSMAN from Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, who represents this district in Congress, as soon as the appropriation bill is passed, proposals for the sale of land for a site will be advertised for twenty days. If those who own land that meets the requirements as to size, etc., will offer their property at a figure that can be accepted by the government officials the entire movement will be speeded up. Selection of a site would then be an easy matter to determine. Plans and specifications cannot be prepared, of course, until the location is settled, for a building that would be suitable on one location might not be adapted to another site. The sooner the site question is settled, therefore, the sooner the plans can be prepared. It goes without saying that the sooner the plans are ready the quicker the contract for construction can be awarded.
 Unless there is accord in the matter all along the line there is likely to be delay in the carrying out of the project. It is high time that Andover had a modern postoffice building, conveniently located. There is now an excellent chance to get one within a reasonable time, if unnecessary procrastination is prevented through energetic steps towards the end in view.
 With all concerned working together to accomplish this public improvement, which means so much to the town, the project can be carried out before 1932. It is to be hoped that hearty cooperation will make this possible.

Editorial Cinders
 "It is not by change of circumstances, but by fitting our spirits to the circumstances in which God has placed us, that we can be reconciled to life and duty."—F. W. Robertson
 There should not be and there need not be any ill feeling between the citizens of Andover and the student body of Phillips academy. The many course taken by the Student council at the academy in connection with the disorderly conduct of some of the students at the May breakfast in promptly apologizing for the disturbance and sending a letter to the selectmen expressing appreciation of the tolerant attitude of the authorities in the matter will do much to further cement the friendly relations between Hill and Town.

Local Society Represented at Meeting of Massachusetts Diocese
 The annual service of the Girls' Friendly society of the Diocese of Massachusetts was held Monday evening at Trinity church, Boston. The Rev. Henry K. Sherrill, Bishop-Elect of Massachusetts expressed his appreciation and thanks for the letter of congratulation and support pledged by the Girls' Friendly society in his new work. An inspiring sermon was given by Rev. William M. Bradner, executive secretary of the Department of Religious Education.
 The following members from Christ church attended the service: Mrs. Walter E. Howe, Mrs. Ernest Johnson, Miss Emily Richards, Alice Wrigley, Lucy Stewart, Helen Saunders and Helen Sime. The banner of the local society was carried by Miss Helen Saunders.

Free Church C. E. Elects
 At the recent business meeting of the Free church Christian Endeavor society the following officers were elected for the year 1930-31:
 President, William Barnett; vice president, Margaret Laurie; secretary, Anne Jamieson; chairman of publicity, William Bradford; chairman of social activities, Evelyn May; chairman of prayer meeting, Evelyn May; chairman of lookout duties, Margaret Laurie; chairman missionary activities, Catherine Jamieson and Hettie Farnsworth.
 Next Sunday evening an interesting meeting will be held in the Free church parish house at seven o'clock when A. C. Church, Jr. of Honolulu will lead the meeting and everyone, old and young, is invited to attend.

Punchard Honor Roll
 The roll of honor for the spring term at the Punchard school has been announced as follows:
 1930—Ruth Bodwell, Albert Cole, Miriam Smith, Robert Stone.
 1931—Mary Beer, Annie Rizzo, Grace Russell, Margaret Sparks.
 1932—Eleanor Barnard, Irene Chadwick, Ruth Fairweather, William Foster, Barbara Hammond, Evelyn Higginson.
 1933—Priscilla Abercrombie, Mary Barnard, Betty Bliss, Betty Buchan, Ella Coderberg, Beulah Dennison, Mary Donerty, Marion Fettes, Agnes Gallagher, Barbara Lee, Donald Mayo, Dorothy Mears, David Nicoll, Edmond Sornie.
 Eleanor Barnard, 1932, and Dorothy Mears, 1933, had the highest honors.

Parents Requested to Register Children About to Enter First Grade
 The School Department requests all parents who are entering children in the first grade in September to register them at the school which they will attend. It is important that the parent should accompany the child. The registration should take place at once at the earliest convenience of the parents. Such registration took place last year and proved very beneficial.

Arbroath Night to Be Observed
 Arbroath night will be observed at the meeting of Clan Johnston, 185, O. S. C., in the Fraternal hall this evening.
 Members of the clan who came from Arbroath will entertain the other members of the clan.
 James Page is chairman of the amusement committee who will serve refreshments.

The Coming Celebration
 over Andover in battle formation. Perfect alignment was maintained, a marvelous exhibition of what skill and discipline can accomplish. Such mass maneuvers in the air are common sights in the West, but are rare in the East, and the recent air display on the Atlantic seaboard gave a new idea in this section of the extent to which the air arm of the navy has been developed.
 The Punchard High School baseball team seems to be coming into its own. The school's football successes of many years have come to be taken as a matter of course under the efficient coaching of Eugene V. Lovely, who has had remarkable success in developing available material and rounding out effective team work. While his baseball teams have had less noteworthy records, Punchard has done creditable work on the diamond, nevertheless; and this year, the ground work laid in former seasons is producing results that indicate outstanding achievement on the diamond.
 Aged Abbot, now 101, shows more and more sprightliness and vigor as the years roll on. Now well started on the second century of accomplishment the school not only maintains the traditions of the past but demonstrates activity that portends progress and prosperity for the future.
 The wide variety of the activities of the Andover League of Women Voters revealed by the reports at the annual meeting indicates that the members are keeping well informed on all public questions. By so doing, they are rendering service of value both to themselves and the community.
 Although the closing of the woodlands of the state disappointed and inconvenienced sportsmen and those who delight in forest strolls, the proclamation of the governor to that effect was fully justifiable under the circumstances. The unusually dry spring created an emergency that required the taking of drastic measures to save the woods from flames. The warnings to motorists against throwing cigar and cigarette butts and lighted matches to the roadsides from machines was also needed, for thoughtlessness in that respect has already caused incalculable damages to the tree lands of the commonwealth. The woods have been opened to the public again since conditions warranted such action, but the Parker butt ban will remain. Punishment of offenders it may be possible to detect will prove one of the most effective means of preventing brush and forest fires in the future.

Wilson's Corner Control Signals
 Installation of traffic control signals at Wilson's corner, scene of many serious accidents in the past, commenced a few days ago under the direction of the public works department. The agitation for traffic signals at this dangerous intersection started many months ago and when the lights are completely installed motorists will be given added safety.
 The signals consist of electromagnetic lights similar to those which are now in use at the corner of Main and Chestnut streets, Andover. The green light will be on continuously for traffic proceeding along the thoroughfare from Lawrence to Salem, except when the "go" signals are shown for traffic proceeding along the route from North Andover to Andover. The signals are expected to be in operation within a few days.
 The state department has also made plans for the installation of yellow blinkers at two other dangerous intersections on the Den Rock road, at the corner of Peters street and at Railroad avenue. Numerous accidents have occurred at both intersections and the installation of the caution signals is expected to reduce accidents to a minimum.

Henry Price Medal Presented to Veteran Masonic Member
 James Anderson of 2 Chestnut street was given a testimonial Monday night by his brothers in St. Matthew's lodge, A. F. and A. M. at the communication held in Masonic hall in recognition of his 50th anniversary as a member of the order. Mr. Anderson is a past master of St. Matthew's lodge and served for twenty-five years as secretary. During the course of the evening he was presented with a Henry Price veteran Masonic medal given by the grand lodge to members who have completed fifty years' membership in the order. The presentation was made by Rt. Wor. Joseph W. Sherlock of Lawrence, district deputy grand master of the 11th Masonic district.
 Mr. Anderson has been one of the most active members of St. Matthew's lodge and has missed communications only when his absence was due to illness.
 Mr. Anderson was born December 12, 1852 in Beth, Scotland, 11 miles from the home of Robert Burns. After coming to this country he worked for a short time at Paterson, N. J., and later in Lowell before coming to Andover, July 10, 1883. At that time he accepted a position as a huckle maker with the Smith & Dove Manufacturing company and remained as a faithful worker with that company until 1922, when he was pensioned with several others who had worked there for the greater part of their lives after coming from Scotland. Mr. Anderson had charge of repairs in the huckle shop.
 Mr. and Mrs. Anderson have one son, James G. Anderson, at the present time principal of the high school at West Medford, and one daughter, Margaret, now Mrs. Theodore L. Dodge of South Andover, Pa.
 In addition to receiving the veteran Masonic medal Mr. Anderson was given a beautiful bouquet of fifty carnations for his wife, as the gift of St. Matthew's lodge. During his long Anderson enjoyed the privilege of raising his son in the order.
 Mr. Anderson's Masonic record follows: Raised in Royal Blue Lodge, No. 399, Kilbirnie, Scotland, May 19, 1880. Affiliated with Paterson-Orange lodge, No. 43, April 14, 1881. Affiliated with St. Matthew's lodge, April 4, 1887; master of St. Matthew's lodge in 1893-1895. Secretary of St. Matthew's lodge, November 29, 1897-November 27, 1922.
 Among the visiting dignitaries present were: Rt. Wor. Joseph Sherlock, D.D.G.M., 11th Masonic district; Rt. Wor. Brother Harry Wilkinson, Past D. D. G. M., 11th Masonic district; Wor. Brother Edgar G. Wilson, D. D. G., Marshal, 11th Masonic district.

Obituary
MRS. GEORGE BUSS
 Mrs. Mary A. Buss, wife of George Buss, died at the family home, 60 Essex street, Friday morning, May 9, following a long illness. She was born at Valley Falls, R. I., forty-six years ago, and had resided in Andover for the past nineteen years. She was a regular attendant at St. Augustine's church and was a member of the Sacred Heart sodality of that parish.
 She is survived by her husband, George; two daughters, Elizabeth and Agnes; five sons, John, James, Paul, Arthur and George, Jr.; two brothers, Arthur McBrinn of Ware and John McBrinn of Rhode Island; three sisters, Mrs. Theresa O'Brien of Rhode Island, Margaret McBrinn of Rhode Island, and Sister Agnes Marie, Mother Superior of the Little Sisters of the Poor at Bristol, England, her father, Thomas McBrinn of Rhode Island.
 Funeral services were held at the family home, 60 Essex street, Monday morning with a mass of requiem in St. Augustine's church, sung by Rev. Charles A. Branton, O. S. A. At the offertory Miss Katherine E. Donovan rendered Leybach's "Pie Jesu" and as the body was borne from the church, Miss Annie G. Donovan played Beethoven's funeral march. Burial was in St. Augustine's cemetery.
 The bearers were: John Carroll, E. Hagan, James Grant, Harry Davey, David Simes and James Munro.
 Delegations were present from the fifth, seventh and eighth grades of St. Augustine's school.

Firemen's Relief Association Holds Annual Meeting
 The annual meeting and election of officers of the Firemen's Relief association was held Monday evening.
 Routine business was transacted. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Fred L. Collins; treasurer, A. MacKenzie; secretary, Kerr Sparks; directors, Chief Charles F. Emerson, Deputy Chief Hilton, Captain J. Cronin, Lieutenant B. Oldroyd and Charles S. Buchan.
 Malcolm Lundgren was appointed a permanent call man by Chief Charles F. Emerson.
 The resignation of William Stevens was accepted. Mr. Stevens has resigned after having been a member of the fire department for 60 years.

Tercentenary Committee Asks for Loan of Silhouettes and Miniatures
 I have been asked by the Loan Exhibit Committee of the Tercentenary Celebration to assemble a loan collection of portraits, silhouettes and miniatures for showing in George Washington hall during the three day celebration May 30, 31 and June 1st. This exhibit will be held in the large east room on the third floor of George Washington hall and the loans will be safely hung in a fire-proof building.
 If there is any one who will lend any portraits, silhouettes or miniatures for this exhibit it will be appreciated by the Committee. As I do not own a motor car it is impossible for me to transport these loans except for the very small ones. I should therefore appreciate their being brought to me at my office in George Washington hall. Every effort will be made to care for these loans and to restore them to their owners in the same condition in which they are received.
 The portraits should be of some individual who has been in some way connected with the past of Andover. The silhouettes and miniatures should be of any subject, so long as they are owned by residents of Andover. The larger portraits will be hung on the walls of the exhibition room and the small ones will be shown in a glass case.
 I can not ask individually for these loans because I do not know Andover homes sufficiently well to have learned where such articles are owned, so I must depend for the success of this showing on the generosity of the owners.

Andover Guild Corporation Holds Annual Meeting
 The annual meeting of the Corporation of the Andover Guild was held Wednesday evening at the Guild house with Arthur Sweeney presiding.
 The report of the secretary was given by Mrs. Horace M. Poynter and that of the treasurer by George A. Higgins. The receipts for the year have been $6,013.93 and the disbursements $5,435.31, leaving a balance on hand of $578.62. This amount is inadequate to carry on the work through the summer, but it is expected that good friends of the Guild who have not yet fulfilled their pledges for the year will come forward with amounts sufficient to make the usual summer stock possible.
 Mrs. Horace M. Poynter was re-elected clerk and George A. Higgins was re-elected treasurer. New directors were elected as follows: for three years, Mrs. Charles F. Cabeler, Mrs. J. Edson Andrews, Mitchell Johnson, C. Carleton Kimball, Roy E. Hardy; for two years Edmond E. Hammond. Other directors are Mrs. Robert Franz, Mrs. Donald Appleton, L. C. Newton, Harry Tyler, J. R. Kimball and Mrs. W. D. Walker.
 The president will be elected at the next meeting of the directors to be held the second Wednesday in May.

He is 81 years old while Mrs. Abbott who before her marriage was Miss Alice Raynor of Ballardvale, is 80 years old.
 The couple received the well wishes of their host of friends on the anniversary day.

 Installation of traffic control signals at Wilson's corner, scene of many serious accidents in the past, commenced a few days ago under the direction of the public works department. The agitation for traffic signals at this dangerous intersection started many months ago and when the lights are completely installed motorists will be given added safety.
 The signals consist of electromagnetic lights similar to those which are now in use at the corner of Main and Chestnut streets, Andover. The green light will be on continuously for traffic proceeding along the thoroughfare from Lawrence to Salem, except when the "go" signals are shown for traffic proceeding along the route from North Andover to Andover. The signals are expected to be in operation within a few days.
 The state department has also made plans for the installation of yellow blinkers at two other dangerous intersections on the Den Rock road, at the corner of Peters street and at Railroad avenue. Numerous accidents have occurred at both intersections and the installation of the caution signals is expected to reduce accidents to a minimum.

Obituary
MRS. GEORGE BUSS
 Mrs. Mary A. Buss, wife of George Buss, died at the family home, 60 Essex street, Friday morning, May 9, following a long illness. She was born at Valley Falls, R. I., forty-six years ago, and had resided in Andover for the past nineteen years. She was a regular attendant at St. Augustine's church and was a member of the Sacred Heart sodality of that parish.
 She is survived by her husband, George; two daughters, Elizabeth and Agnes; five sons, John, James, Paul, Arthur and George, Jr.; two brothers, Arthur McBrinn of Ware and John McBrinn of Rhode Island; three sisters, Mrs. Theresa O'Brien of Rhode Island, Margaret McBrinn of Rhode Island, and Sister Agnes Marie, Mother Superior of the Little Sisters of the Poor at Bristol, England, her father, Thomas McBrinn of Rhode Island.
 Funeral services were held at the family home, 60 Essex street, Monday morning with a mass of requiem in St. Augustine's church, sung by Rev. Charles A. Branton, O. S. A. At the offertory Miss Katherine E. Donovan rendered Leybach's "Pie Jesu" and as the body was borne from the church, Miss Annie G. Donovan played Beethoven's funeral march. Burial was in St. Augustine's cemetery.
 The bearers were: John Carroll, E. Hagan, James Grant, Harry Davey, David Simes and James Munro.
 Delegations were present from the fifth, seventh and eighth grades of St. Augustine's school.

Tercentenary Committee Asks for Loan of Silhouettes and Miniatures
 I have been asked by the Loan Exhibit Committee of the Tercentenary Celebration to assemble a loan collection of portraits, silhouettes and miniatures for showing in George Washington hall during the three day celebration May 30, 31 and June 1st. This exhibit will be held in the large east room on the third floor of George Washington hall and the loans will be safely hung in a fire-proof building.
 If there is any one who will lend any portraits, silhouettes or miniatures for this exhibit it will be appreciated by the Committee. As I do not own a motor car it is impossible for me to transport these loans except for the very small ones. I should therefore appreciate their being brought to me at my office in George Washington hall. Every effort will be made to care for these loans and to restore them to their owners in the same condition in which they are received.
 The portraits should be of some individual who has been in some way connected with the past of Andover. The silhouettes and miniatures should be of any subject, so long as they are owned by residents of Andover. The larger portraits will be hung on the walls of the exhibition room and the small ones will be shown in a glass case.
 I can not ask individually for these loans because I do not know Andover homes sufficiently well to have learned where such articles are owned, so I must depend for the success of this showing on the generosity of the owners.

 James Anderson of 2 Chestnut street was given a testimonial Monday night by his brothers in St. Matthew's lodge, A. F. and A. M. at the communication held in Masonic hall in recognition of his 50th anniversary as a member of the order. Mr. Anderson is a past master of St. Matthew's lodge and served for twenty-five years as secretary. During the course of the evening he was presented with a Henry Price veteran Masonic medal given by the grand lodge to members who have completed fifty years' membership in the order. The presentation was made by Rt. Wor. Joseph W. Sherlock of Lawrence, district deputy grand master of the 11th Masonic district.
 Mr. Anderson has been one of the most active members of St. Matthew's lodge and has missed communications only when his absence was due to illness.
 Mr. Anderson was born December 12, 1852 in Beth, Scotland, 11 miles from the home of Robert Burns. After coming to this country he worked for a short time at Paterson, N. J., and later in Lowell before coming to Andover, July 10, 1883. At that time he accepted a position as a huckle maker with the Smith & Dove Manufacturing company and remained as a faithful worker with that company until 1922, when he was pensioned with several others who had worked there for the greater part of their lives after coming from Scotland. Mr. Anderson had charge of repairs in the huckle shop.
 Mr. and Mrs. Anderson have one son, James G. Anderson, at the present time principal of the high school at West Medford, and one daughter, Margaret, now Mrs. Theodore L. Dodge of South Andover, Pa.
 In addition to receiving the veteran Masonic medal Mr. Anderson was given a beautiful bouquet of fifty carnations for his wife, as the gift of St. Matthew's lodge. During his long Anderson enjoyed the privilege of raising his son in the order.
 Mr. Anderson's Masonic record follows: Raised in Royal Blue Lodge, No. 399, Kilbirnie, Scotland, May 19, 1880. Affiliated with Paterson-Orange lodge, No. 43, April 14, 1881. Affiliated with St. Matthew's lodge, April 4, 1887; master of St. Matthew's lodge in 1893-1895. Secretary of St. Matthew's lodge, November 29, 1897-November 27, 1922.
 Among the visiting dignitaries present were: Rt. Wor. Joseph Sherlock, D.D.G.M., 11th Masonic district; Rt. Wor. Brother Harry Wilkinson, Past D. D. G. M., 11th Masonic district; Wor. Brother Edgar G. Wilson, D. D. G., Marshal, 11th Masonic district.

The Coming Celebration
 over Andover in battle formation. Perfect alignment was maintained, a marvelous exhibition of what skill and discipline can accomplish. Such mass maneuvers in the air are common sights in the West, but are rare in the East, and the recent air display on the Atlantic seaboard gave a new idea in this section of the extent to which the air arm of the navy has been developed.
 The Punchard High School baseball team seems to be coming into its own. The school's football successes of many years have come to be taken as a matter of course under the efficient coaching of Eugene V. Lovely, who has had remarkable success in developing available material and rounding out effective team work. While his baseball teams have had less noteworthy records, Punchard has done creditable work on the diamond, nevertheless; and this year, the ground work laid in former seasons is producing results

Hold Meeting in Interest of Law Enforcement

"The Baby Volstead Act is a necessary check on liquor traffic. Persons working for its repeal seek to deprive the police of valuable aid in enforcing law and the only way to minimize the evils of liquor is to prevent its sale altogether," said Officer George Sweeney of the Lawrence police department speaking in the Town hall Wednesday evening at a meeting held in the interest of law enforcement under the auspices of the Andover Constitution Defense League.

Officer Sweeney took up and answered one by one the reasons the "wets" are for wishing for the repeal of the baby Volstead act. In twenty of the cities and towns of over 10,000 population which he has investigated, only two show an increase in arrests for drunkenness in the past six years.

The speaker does not believe that prohibition is the cause of the crime wave, stating that the gangsters got their grip on Chicago twenty-five years ago. Neither does he believe that liquor cases log the courts, nor that the enforcement of liquor laws diverts the attention of the police from the prevention of more serious crimes.

Mrs. Thomas Nixon Carver of Cambridge, who was one of the representatives to appear before the Judiciary Committee in Washington at a hearing held in March, read the same paper which she presented at that time, bringing forward figures to show the enormous reduction in the cases of crime and charitable organizations since the advent of prohibition. Her purpose in coming to Andover was two-fold; to inform her hearers as to what they would be voting about next November, and to instruct them how to mark the ballots so as to vote No.

"We are in the midst of the greatest social experiment of modern times, the control of drunkenness, which is one of the great evils of civilization," said Professor Carver. "The necessity of conserving man power in war time led to the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment and Professor Carver had charts showing the progress of its enforcement with an acute dip in the number of arrests for drunkenness in 1920 with a subsequent rise, though not to a level nearly equal to prewar days."

Rev. Herman Van Lunen of the Ballardvale Congregational church extended an invitation to attend divine worship in his church Sunday, May 25. This was also accepted.

Marie Nichols' Recital

Miss Marie Nichols, director of music at Sarah Lawrence college, Bronxville, New York, gave a violin recital at Abbot academy last Sunday night that proved to be one of the major musical events of the season. The program was well chosen, opening with the ever beautiful G minor Sonata of Tartini, beautifully played, including the highly interesting D minor sonata of John Ireland, and closing with an interesting group of smaller pieces. Miss Nichols was in good form, displaying, as always, ample poise and authority. She was ably supported by Miss Kate Friskin at the pianoforte. The piano was the most arresting part of the Ireland sonata, which, in spite of very superior pages, was a little inclined to details at the expense of the whole.

The Tartini music was the best, and beautifully played, whereas the audience seemed to like the smaller group. The program: Sonata in G Minor Turini Andante Presto non troppo Largo, Allegro commodo Sonata in D Minor Ireland Allegro leggiadro Romance, Sostenuto quasi adagio Rondò, Allegro sciolto assai Memories Scott Irish Dance Scott Stimmung Achron Wellenspiegel Fibich Poem Scherzo-Tarantelle Wieniawski

Two Plays by Junior Helpers

Two carefully rehearsed plays, "Fudge and a Burglar" and "The Land of Night" were given by members of the Junior Helpers of the South church in the vestry on Saturday evening. A college girl's room where preparations were being made for a spread was the scene of the first play. These preparations were twice interrupted; once by a burglar, whose appearance caused a tremendous sensation, and again by a girl who proved to be none other than a girl who was not invited to the party, and again by the arrival of three austere members of the faculty. The curtain fell on this serious situation.

The second and more ambitious play combined a poetic impersonation of Night, Dawn, a Moonbeam, Sunbeams and Star Maidens with the idea of a very modern member of the League of Women Voters and her Irish maid—who, by the way, was the brightest "star" in the galaxy as far as histrionic ability goes—who were stranded by an airplane accident in the Land of Night and had unknown to themselves, in their transit through the air snatched away the mantle of darkness which is eventually returned by Eloise, a little earth maiden, and the play closes with the singing of "Just a Song at Twilight".

The Princess of Night was beautiful in a costume of midnight blue spangled with stars and her cousin, the Princess of Dawn, was radiant in yellow with a crown of golden rays. The Star Maidens were all in midnight blue, while the Sunbeams were in yellow and the Moonbeam in silver. Two dances, one by Jane Waldie, Barbara and Harriet Sellars and Eleanor Daniels, and the other by Helen Kimball and Evelyn Spinney, as well as a song by Marion Suter, "How I Love to Go High in a Swing" added variety to the program. Mrs. Marion R. Bigler acted as accompanist, both for the singing and the dancing.

The first play was coached by Mrs. John A. Burt and the second by Miss Mary W. Ballard, Mrs. Helen Edmundson with Miss Mary Richards acting as prompter. Mrs. Raymond Brickett assisted in the costuming. During intermission hoodies were sold by members of the Junior Helpers.

Markers for Graves of Police Officers Who Have Passed On

The Andover Police Relief association has obtained three new bronze markers to be placed over the graves of Robert T. N. Black, who was shot while in the performance of his duties in November, 1925, Michael T. Welch, who served as a reserve officer for nearly half a century and William L. Frye, who served as a regular patrolman longer than any other officer. The new markers bear the words: Andover Police Relief Assn. The name of the departed officer over whose grave the marker stands appears on a strip below a shield. The state arm is raised above the shield and a small wreath is at the bottom of the shield just above the name of the officer. The new markers were made by the Gorchamp Equipment company of Boston.

The Andover Police Relief association has been in existence for a little more than four years. It was organized shortly after the slaying of the late Officer Black whose untimely death was responsible for the founding of the association. The police officers will soon be equipped with new badges which have already been ordered and promised for Memorial day when they are scheduled to be worn for the first time. The shield will bear the town seal. They will have no numbers as the old badges do, but the words "Chief" and "Sergeant" will appear on a half moon raised above the badges of Chief Frank M. Smith and Sergeant James Napier.

Water Color Exhibit at John-Esther Art Gallery

Until Commencement, the gallery will be open on Saturday afternoons to the public from two to five o'clock. Every type of landscape is present—tropical, northern snows, vivid Dodge MacKnight rocks, and the sea in all its aspects, from the Squall by Woodbury to calm summer bather beaches. In the modern manner are Cosimini's studies—strong, angular lines and vivid colors, the painting falls on the brow of John Whorf's ship until one feels the reality of the ship; Nellie Littlehale's flowers offer red and orange in contrast to the deep blues of Benson's snow and sea and Rice's mountains; peasants, tropical huts, cathedrals, monuments, Harry Sattou's colonial house; the clarity of Sears Gallagher and Marion Monks Chase, all are here. Mrs. Van Ness is to be congratulated upon the collection she has assembled, in which some of her own work appears.

Andover Schools Are Ransacked

Petty thieves in search of money, upset the classrooms of Punched high school and Stowe Junior high school in Andover Wednesday night, when their search failed to return any cash rewards. It was the third school break in two nights. The thieves found some small change in the Samuel C. Jackson school which they entered Tuesday night. Supt. Henry C. Sanborn of the Andover school department, believes the thieves entered the schools in the hope of picking up loose change in the desks. They were apparently disappointed Wednesday night because books and papers in several rooms were disturbed and thrown into disorder. Entrance was gained through windows in all three cases. Two arrests have already been made and according to the police boys, both sixteen years of age, confessed that they entered the Punched school, although they deny entering the other school buildings. At present they are out on bail, and are to appear in Lawrence Juvenile court next Thursday.

PUTTING "POISE" INTO SELF-CONSCIOUS FROCKS

Dry cleansing takes out that wishy wensness and puts back unobtrusive charm. A new frock makes you feel a bit self-conscious...not altogether at ease. That's why many women tell us, that they would rather wear a dress after the Arrow has cleansed it, because it has really taken on some of her very own personality. That's the Arrow's specialty...restoring pristine charm and prolonging the fabric freshness to one's frock. Another thing is dependable dyeing.

James Watson Speaks before Andover Grange

Andover Grange met on Tuesday evening at Grange hall with James Watson of the New England Homestead as the speaker of the evening. The quiet attentive audience was a tribute to the interesting talk which he gave. One felt as Mr. Watson spoke that it didn't need stories to make a lecture interesting; a thorough knowledge of the subject and a convincing way of bringing it before the audience served far better.

His subject was "The Live-Stock Industry of New England." Few knew that so much depended on this industry and few realized the resources of New England until Mr. Watson's clear-cut words were told the tale in words not soon to be forgotten. Those who missed the lecture have lost an opportunity that seldom comes, for Mr. Watson is in great demand. A vote of thanks was tendered him and the committee, who has tried for two years to secure him for an evening with Andover Grange.

Mal Hallett at Roseland This Evening

The peerless Mal Hallett, America's greatest ballroom attraction, comes back to Roseland-on-the-Merrimack for his first triumphant appearance of the season this evening. Hallett and his rationally famous Columbia recording and Vitaphone orchestra comes back to the scene of his first triumph after the longest engagement on record in Hollywood, California. As Mal invariably breaks all previous Roseland attendance figures on the occasion of his first visit, it is practically certain that he will establish still another record this evening. This great band, which was thunderously acclaimed at Nutting's last Monday, will play at Roseland tonight from 8.30 until 12.30 in the morning. Roland Russell's regular week-end check dancing party tomorrow evening.

A tremendous popular demand for still another return engagement results in the booking for next Friday evening, May 23, of Billy Murphy's sensational Arcadians, successors to Mal Hallett in New York's million-dollar Arcadia last winter. Roseland patrons like the Arcadians better every time they hear them and another great throng will be on hand to welcome them next week. Of particular interest to Roseland patrons is the further announcement that Mal Hallett will make his second Roseland appearance on Friday evening, May 30, Memorial night. And Roland Russell's Ramblers, who need no introduction, will present the musical program for check dancing every Wednesday and Saturday evening.

Millions Make Spark Plug Change

Early reports to the Champion Spark Plug company indicate that all records for Champion National Change Week were eclipsed this year, according to company officials, who believe that when full returns are in for the designated period, May 5 to 11, even last year's high mark will be exceeded.

National Change Week was inaugurated in 1925, after prolonged investigations by various motor car manufacturers and Champion engineers had definitely proved that periodic replacement of spark plugs results in marked improvement of a car's performance. It also saves more than enough gasoline in and oil to repay the cost of the new plugs. Each year has seen a steady growth in the number of motorists observing the Week.

The record success of 1930 Change Week is attributed in large part to advertising. In addition to publications of national circulation, Champion this year used the largest newspaper space in Change Week history, more than 1000 newspapers, representing practically every town and city of 5000 and more population in Canada and the United States. It is said to have been one of the largest single newspaper advertising campaigns ever undertaken by any manufacturer of automobile accessories.

Stolen Car Recovered in New York

The New York police were notified after the theft to be on the watch for the car and for Joseph Agofsky, the twenty-year-old "Bad Boy", who was suspected of the theft. Agofsky is suspected of several similar thefts including the theft of a car owned by Reinhardt Kneuper which was recovered in Windsor, Conn., the car of Gustave Graichen which was recovered in Lawrence, the car of Dr. Joseph Levek which was recovered in Danbury, Conn., a Packard sedan that was stolen in Fairfield, Conn., and recovered in Methuen, and a Cadillac coupe which was stolen in Bridgeport and was recovered in Andover.

Perhaps the automobile may replace the horse some day, but just now as never before the good horse is a race prize almost beyond price. Many of us have enjoyed for some years the beautiful colts raised and owned at Thorneia Farm and each new beauty has attracted new interest. Just now Mr. Richardson is centering his hopes upon a handsome young stallion, Henry M. Whitney by Biengen (2-06-14) considered by good judges to be one of the most promising young trotters in sight. It is difficult to say which part of his beautiful form gives the most pleasure to Mr. Richardson, the horses he raises or the broad acre he has reclaimed into fertile fields. Both are certainly such achievements as to give much satisfaction to any man.

J. E. PITMAN ESTATE IS TAKING ACTIVE PART IN 1930 ROAD-BUILDING PROGRAM

Local Firm Has Contract to Supply 11,000 Barrels of Dragon Portland Cement to Be Dragon Used in Construction of Stoneham-Reading Road—Can Also Supply Super Cement for Waterproof Floors, Foundations, Etc.

The J. E. Pitman Estate are taking an active part in the State Road building program for 1930 in the district which they serve in the building material line. Keen competition seems to be the order of the day, and the Pitman Estate of 63 Park street, Andover, were successful in getting the contract to furnish 11,000 bbls. of Dragon Portland Cement, for the Stoneham-Reading road, to Angelo Susi & Co. of Boston, the contractor.

Mr. Susi states that he selected Dragon Portland Cement because of its quality, workability and uniformity. He had previously used Dragon on several roads in Maine during 1928 and 1929, and was very much impressed with the results obtained. The J. E. Pitman Estate who have grown steadily in the community during the past few years, are handling Dragon Portland Cement and are daily furnishing the local contractors with the only Portland Cement made in New England, packed in New England-made bags and sacks and shipped over New England railroads.

The Lawrence Portland Cement company, makers of Dragon Portland Cement, also furnish the local trade through the J. E. Pitman Estate with Dragon Super Cement for waterproof floor, foundations, etc., Dragon Mainrok Lime and Mainrok Hydrated Lime. The Lawrence Portland Cement company's method of selling their goods through the local dealer puts before everyone the opportunity of buying the very best materials that can be made in quantities large and small to meet individual requirements.

MARKET SLUMP CAUSED BY DISREGARD FOR EARNINGS

Babson Park, Massachusetts, May 16, 1930. The lesson which investors should learn from this latest market slump is that prices cannot hold their advances unless backed up by an improvement in business. Once more we have witnessed a spectacle of market operators trying to push the market up beyond the level justified by earnings. The decline was but a natural consequence. When it became apparent that earnings for the first quarter were showing up poorly and that prospects for the second quarter were none too promising, stocks once more took a nose dive. The prudent investor will keep his feet on the ground in this period. He will watch the actual trend of business. He will not buy unless the industry shows a definite upward earnings trend, and then he will buy only if the stocks are on a reasonable price basis in relation to actual profits.

Prices Outstripped Earnings

The careful students of industry knew that most of the price advance this year was based on hope rather than on facts. The average stock market gain in the price of over 300 industrial stocks in 1930 was 19 per cent. At the same time, the earnings for the first quarter of 1930 of 150 representative industrial companies averaged about 24 per cent below the first quarter of last year. Stock prices were pushed up in the face of declining earnings. The high point in industrial stock prices in 1930 was reached about April 10. At that time stock prices were only 10 per cent below a year ago, whereas earnings for the first quarter were 24 per cent below. A reaction was inevitable.

Washington Current Comment

The tariff bill has gone to the senate, amid the cheering of foreign nations, who do not like the pressure of a curb bit. Ultra-marine opposition will find some support in the United States among students of diplomacy and political economy, but if the measure is to be defeated, a more cogent reason than the objections of outsiders will have to be produced. The bolts cannot be too large or the bars too strong for the high protectionists; Solons who favor tariff as a means of revenue are willing to let Europe do the paying, and the pure-breed free-traders are a vanishing race. What has been accomplished may not be proper medicine for America, but few are interested in the suggestion that the bottle should be thrown away because its contents are not good for the ailments of Europe.

How Various Groups Were Inflated

I believe firmly in the long pull outlook for certain good power, light, and gas companies. At the same time, I have cautioned against buying them at inflated prices. The power, light, and gas group of stocks was subject to a pre-mature advance this spring, like other groups. Earnings in the first quarter did gain six per cent, in sharp contrast to the falling earnings in most industrial lines. Nevertheless, there was not justification for the extreme advance of 42 per cent in the average prices of power and light stocks in three months' time. At the high point in April, these utility stocks were slightly above April, 1929. It, therefore, should be expected that they should suffer in the latest decline. The correctionary movement of the market was necessary, and it has placed these stocks on a much sounder investment basis.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL NOTES

The advantages of using all cuts of meat rather than selected few will be pointed out by Prof. V. A. Rice of the animal husbandry department, Massachusetts Agricultural College, and Max O. Cullen of the National Live Stock and Meat Board at the meeting arranged for home-makers of Essex County at Russell hall, Y. M. C. A. building, Lawrence, on Monday, May 26, at 7.30 p.m. This meeting has been arranged with the hope of bringing to local women information which will prove helpful to them in their task of preparing those everlasting three meals a day, 365 days a year.

Summer Projects

The main projects for the summer in 4-H club work are canning, flower gardens, and vegetable gardens for the girls and vegetable gardens and baby chicks for the boys. There are other projects such as dairy, pig, small fruit, and summer clothing which are open to all boys and girls.

Live Stock Exhibit at Brockton Fair

This year for the first time Brockton Fair is to have a 4-H live stock exhibit which will be open to all 4-H boys in Massachusetts raising sheep, swine, poultry, or dairy animals. All animals must be owned by the club member exhibiting on or before June 15. All dairy animals must be registered and tuberculin tested.

M. A. C. Radio Forum Starts Again

Starting June 1, the weekly radio broadcast from the Massachusetts Agricultural College over station WBZ and WBZA, instead of being in dialogue form, will be on a strictly forum basis; namely, questions and answers, according to the radio man at the college.

Under a late ruling of the Supreme Court of the United States, the display of bottles and corks for the making of home-brew can be stopped.

This is too important a matter to be overlooked, but what can be said about it without offending either the wets or the dries? Mr. Justice Holmes, who rendered the decision, has furnished material for comment of a kind which will start no argument: "The decisions under the revenue acts have little weight as against legislation under the affluatus of the Eighteenth Amendment." Affluatus is a good word, and there should be room and use for it equally in the propaganda of teetotalers and of the bibulous.

Experts in psychology in search of work should explain why everyone entertains a repugnance for bull fighting, yet feels a secret satisfaction when he reads in the papers that an American has made good as a matador in Spain.

A conductor who tried to argue a Berlin audience into the quiet hearing of a new French opera, told his tormentors that they had no idea of the difficulties to be overcome, half of the chorus being required to sing C sharp and the other half C flat. The people in pit, balcony and box may have felt like Dr. Johnson who, when he heard a bag-piper's execution praised as "almost impossible" replied: "Would it were quite impossible!"

Certain Industries Doing Better

As was natural, these groups of stocks which were most grossly inflated in the spring rise, suffered the greatest declines. In fact, this latest market slump was a readjustment whereby prices of various groups out of line with earnings or earnings prospects, were scaled down. To bring stock prices nearer in line with earnings their decline was necessary. It is noteworthy that those industries which actually showed a substantial upward trend in earnings this year suffered relatively small declines in the market break. Of course some speculative favorites which had over discounted the earnings gain in these industries experienced wide breaks, but for the most part these groups give a good account of themselves.

The food stocks have held well. The reason is obvious. Earnings of a group of representative food companies advanced two per cent in the first quarter of this year compared with last. Still at the high point in April, the price of the stocks was six per cent below last April. The gain from January to April this spring was only 12 per cent. With an upward earnings trend and an absence of inflation in price level, some of the good food stocks should do well.

Other industries showing earnings' gains this year over last are, agricultural implements, paper and paper products, printing and publishing, and railroad equipment.

The Easiest Way

Too many people are absolutely indifferent to work. They take no interest in doing it exactly right, in doing it quickly, or getting it out on time. Life to them is just one long-drawn-out dream of "getting by" in the easiest way, and with as little exertion as possible, of either mind or body.

Go on to the Dog!

The self-assertive man in the corner seat was talking to a friend. "Yes," said the loud-voiced man, "I always bring my dog in the car with me and then I know what he's up to. I allowed him to travel in the baggage car once, and had to pay for a lot of stuff he was supposed to have eaten."

"Since you know what your dog's up to," he remarked, quietly, "I suppose you know he's half finished the fish you're taking home?"—London Tit-Bits.

Idea of Liberty Imbued in Youthful Colonials

The subject of coasting inevitably recalls the ancient tale of the ashes on the slide, of pre-Revolutionary days in Boston. That yarn is given, in its original and presumably authentic form, in a letter written by John Andrews of Boston to William Barrell on January 29, 1775. Andrews wrote: "I shall close this by giving you a small anecdote, relating to some of our school lads—who as formerly in this season improv'd the coast from Sherburn's bill down to School street."

"General Haldiman, improving the house that belongs to Old Cook, his servant, took it upon him to cut up their coast and fling ashes upon it. The lads made a muster, and chose a committee to wait upon the general, who admitted them, and heard their complaint, which was couched in very genteel terms, complaining that their fathers before 'em had improved it as a coast from time immemorial, etc. He ordered his servant to repair the damage, and acquainted the governor with the affair, who observed that it was impossible to beat the notion of liberty out of the people, as it was rooted in 'em from their childhood."

The house of Gen. Frederick Haldiman, who couldn't have been such a bad fellow, was on School street at the present site of the City hall, as a tablet on the fence tells today.—Boston Herald.
