HOLD SPECIAL CHURCH MEETING

Resolutions Adopted on Service of Rev. Frank R. Shipman Who Is Made Pastor Emeritus of South Church—Parish to Take Action on Filling Vacancy

Rev. Frederick B. Noss will be called to fill the pastorate of the South church for a period extending from October 1, 1930 to the annual meeting to be held in January, 1932, according to a vote taken at a special meeting of the church held Wednesday evening in the vestry with Frederick H. Jones as moderator. It will be necessary to confirm this action at a meeting of the parish to be held in the near future. It was also voted to elect Rev. Frank R. Shipman whose present term of service as senior pastor expires October 1, pastor emeritus.

The business meeting was held following a devotional service led by Rev. Mr. Shipman. The resignation of Gordon B. Elliott as superintendent of the church school was read and accepted. The filling of the vacancy until the meeting was referred to the board of Religious Education.

Mr. Jones was then elected moderator and following a prayer by Deacon Arthur W. Bassett he asked the clerk of the church, John A. Arnold, to review the circumstances which led to the calling of the special meeting. Mr. Arnold mentioned that Mr. Shipman was called to be a pastor and his request in the following year for an assistant which resulted in the calling of Rev. Frederick B. Noss in October of 1929, with the provision that they serve jointly for one year, until October 1, of 1930.

A year ago a joint committee of church and parish was appointed to study the pulpits needs. This committee originally consisted of Miss Jane B. Carpenter, Miss Esther Colby, Burton S. Flagg representing the church and Augustus P. Thompson, Henry A. Bodwell and Philip F. Ripley representing the parish. Miss Carpenter and Miss Colby subsequently resigned and their places were filled by Miss C. Madeleine Hewes and Nathan C. Hamblin.

The clerk then read a letter from this joint committee addressed to the Prudential committee recommending the calling of Rev. Frederick B. Noss for one year. Philip R. French reported for the prudential committee which concurred with this suggestion and also gave the report of the special committee on salary composed of Percy R. Holt and N. C. Richards and made the appropriate motions which were carried.

On the motion of Mrs. Thaxter Eaton it was unanimously voted: "That Dr. Frank R. Shipman be and hereby is elected pastor emeritus of the South church, Andover, free from responsibility or care."

The report of a committee on resolutions composed of Arthur W. Bassett, Mrs. Thaxter Eaton and John A. Arnold was given by the chairman and also unanimously adopted as follows:

Whereas the South church has been vouchsafed during a membership of thirty-six years, the privilege of sharing bountifully in the sweetness and light, the comradeship, the paternal care and the friendly sympathy of Frank R. Shipman, and

Whereas this church has received the ministrations that have flowed from his

HOLD OPENING MEETING

Woman's Union of South Church Discuss Plans for Altering Vestries, Season's Program Announced

The opening meeting of the season was held by the Woman's Union of the South Church in the vestry yesterday afternoon with Miss C. Madeleine Hewes presiding. Following a devotional service reports from the various departments were given as follows: Miss Florence Cummings, prayer circle; Miss Jane B. Carpenter, for Mrs. G. Edgar Folk, missionary department; Mrs. Thomas Hall serving. It was voted on the motion of Miss Hewes that the members of the kitchen committee to spend $50 on new kitchen utensils.

Mrs. Myron H. Clark, president of the Massachusetts Congregational Conference and Missionary society spoke of the meeting to be held at the Lawrence Street Congregational church on November 6, with sessions at 10.30 and 2.30 and asked for the same fine support from the women of the South church that was given at the last meeting of the Andover and Woburn Branch given last spring.

William H. Brainerd of Wellesley, advisory architect to the church planning board was the guest of the afternoon and outlined plans for making the church vestries more useful and beautiful. He commended the women for desiring to start alterations at this time and advised them to plan the changes carefully to meet their special problems. The suggestions included plans for the accommodations of the five departments of the Sunday school, Boy Scouts, women's and girls' organizations, and a new organ.

Following the discussion, tea was served by Mrs. Frank T. Carlton and Mrs. Frederick H. Jones pouring.

The following program for the season of 1930-1931 has been announced for the Women's Union of the South church:

Sept. 25—Quarterly Meeting, 3.00 p.m.

The season's first meeting for the Women of the parish.

Oct. 2—Prayer Circle, 3.30 p.m. "Stand therefore having your loins girt about with truth." Ephesians 6:14.

Oct. 8—Tea to welcome the Abbot girls.

Oct. 16—Harvest supper.

Oct. 16—Sewing meeting, 2.30 p.m.

Oct. 30—Sewing meeting, 2.30 p.m.

Nov. 6—Prayer Circle, 3.30 p.m. "And having on the breastplate of righteousness." Ephesians 6:14.

Nov. 13—Sewing meeting, 2.30 p.m.

Nov. 20—Missionary meeting, 3.00 p.m.

Nov. 27—Sewing meeting, 2.30 p.m.

Dec. 4—Joint meeting of prayer circle and missionary department, 3.00 p.m. "And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace." Ephesians 6:15.

Dec. 11—Sewing meeting, 2.30 p.m.

LIONS CLUB ORGANIZES

Meeting Held at Crystal Ballroom Presided Over by Frank H. Hardy—Andover Presents Forty-Nine Charter Members—Officers Elected

"AUNT LUCIA" COMING

Popular Comedy to Be Presented Two Evenings under Auspices American Legion—Large Local Cast

Two hundred fifty persons will take part in "Aunt Lucia", a collegiate comedy to be staged in the Town hall on Thursday and Friday evenings, October 2 and 3, under the auspices of Andover Post, 8, American Legion. The specialties will include the flapper chorus of the Sig-Sig-O-Ritty sorority, with the twenty-eight college girls played by business men and the singing of the Square and Compass Glee club as the college glee club, and a Baby Pageant.

The play, which promises to be one of the biggest home-talent shows ever staged in this community is a burlesque on American college life and has a number of hilarious comedy spots. This show has been staged through the entire United States with hundreds of organizations, and has been a tremendous success whenever played. Everyone who has seen the show claims that no one can afford to miss it.

The play itself deals with the story of the home-coming of Bula Bula college. The setting of the show is a fraternity drawing room. The whole plot revolves around the fact that the school is anxiously awaiting the arrival of Lucia Wakefield, the old-maid aunt of one of the students who is worthy fifty million dollars and who plans to give the college a large sum of money; she is to be the honored guest at the home-coming of Bula Bula college.

Jerry Watson, played by Phil Higgins, one of the college boys, with the help of George and Dick, played by Charles Murray and Frank Davis, dresses himself up as an old lady for the entertainment of his fraternity brothers. While dressed in this outfit, he is mistaken by Prof. Gaddis, played by James Flannery and Dean Howard, played by Mrs. Arthur Coleman as the real Lucia Wakefield from Florida, and they immediately introduce him as such to the college president. Once in this dilemma, it is impossible for him to explain without getting in wrong, and so he is carried on throughout the play masquerading as Lucia Wakefield, when in reality he is only Jerry Watson.

Around this character, who is playing the part of the fake Aunt Lucia, all the fun and comical situations of the play develop. Professor Gaddis and Mr. Collins, played by William A. Doherty, and the Butler and Charter night of the Lions club of Andover, in the Crystal ballroom, Shawshen Village, Thursday evening, was a roaring success and the spirit manifest by the large number present augurs well for this newest member in the ever-growing circle of Lions clubs throughout the world.

Inspired by the untiring work of the Gillette brothers, "Curt", International commissioner of New England, member of Saybrook, Conn., Lions club and M. King, member of Willimantic, Connecticut Lions club, the sponsors of the movement in Andover presented one of the largest lists of charter members, 49 in number, that has been enrolled.

A banquet, served by Caterer Gregory Christie, which was interspersed with songs and roars led by "Curt" Gillette, started the evening's festivities, the menu consisting of fruit cocktail, combination salad, roast fresh duck, giblet gravy, mashed potatoes, cranberry sauce, parker house rolls, fruit cake, cookies, ice cream and coffee. Divine blessing was invoked by Rev. Alfred C. Church. Following the banquet, J. Everett Collins sang "The Two Grenadiers" and an encore "On the Road to Mandalay" with John A. Arnold at the piano. Music during the banquet hour was rendered by "Mal's Collegians".

The toastmaster of the evening, Frank H. Hardy, past president of the Lawrence Lions club, in his introductory remarks spoke of the purposes of this first service club in Andover as a civic organization which should be in all towns and cities. He added that while the other service clubs performed a worthwhile duty and service, it was gratifying to him that the Lions club was a reality in Andover, and that the members would look back in later years and regard this as a red letter day in the history of civic Andover.

President Nathan C. Hamblin responded with the greetings of the club to the out-of-town clubs represented by President James Hainsworth of North Andover; President Fred Herbst of Salem, N. H.; First Vice President Harry Harris and Secretary Howard Ayers of Methuen, as well as members from Melrose, Waterbury, Conn., Saybrook, Conn., and Willimantic, Conn. Two telegrams were also read conveying greetings and sincere wishes for the success of the club from Lions International Headquarters and from Lion Frank H. Brigham, Methuen, Me.

The speaker of the evening, Dr. Alfred E. Stearns of Phillips academy, touched on the aims and purposes of the club for furthering civic interest in the town and pointed out one specific instance where the club might be of great value in bringing about a better

The Football Code

Both in play and by tradition football is a distinctively academic game—the game of the schools and the colleges. The friends of the game must accordingly rely on the schools and colleges for the preservation of its past traditions and maintenance of the high standards of sportsmanship in its play, which are to be expected in a distinctively academic game.

In some sports it is possible to attain reasonably high standards simply by the adoption and enforcement of rules, but this is not true in football. There are so many men engaged in action, the action is so rapid and so constantly shifting, that it is impossible for any official to discover every possible infraction of the rules.

The committee, in the remodelling of the rules that has gradually taken place, has endeavored to prohibit and suitably penalize all forms of unfair tactics and practices. It has also endeavored, so far as possible, without affecting the integrity of the game itself, to remove special temptation or opportunity for unsportsmanlike play.

So far as the rules themselves are concerned, the Committee feels that it has done about all that it can do, and it has been with continually increasing satisfaction that the members of the committee, in common with all other lovers of the game, have observed the rapid improvement in the standards of play. Each year there has been less attempt on the part of the players to "beat the rules," and unfair tactics have largely disappeared. The "anything to win" coach is disappearing. Officials are generally more efficient and fearless and their rulings are more and more being accepted without quibbling.

There are, however, still many school teams, and even some college teams, that seem to fail to recognize that the first obligation of every football player is to protect the game itself, its reputation and its good name. He owes this to the game, its friends and its traditions. There can be little excuse for any college player who allows the game to be smirched with unsportsmanlike tactics.

In the case of the players in the school teams, however, the committee is inclined to believe that unsportsmanlike play is due largely to ignorance of what the proper standards are and what the great host of former players and friends of the game expect from the boys who are just learning it. For the benefit of those who are just beginning to learn the game the Rules Committee has decided to publish in the official book of rules the following suggestions:

HOLDING

is prohibited by the rules because it does not belong in the game of football. It is unfair play. It eliminates skill. The slowest man in the world could make a forty-yard run in every play if the rest of his team-mates would hold their opponents long enough. The game is to advance the ball by strategy, skill and speed without holding your opponent.

Perhaps a good game could be invented, the object of which would be to advance the ball as far as possible with the assistance of holding your opponents, but it would not be football. It would probably become a team wrestling match and, unless drastic rules, rigidly enforced, prevented it, a free fight. If your coach cannot show you how to gain distance without holding your opponents, get another coach. It is fair to assume that he does not understand the strategy of the game.

SIDE-LINE COACHING

is prohibited in the rules because it is considered an unfair practice. The game is to be played by the players using their own muscles and their own brains. If an onlooker, having seen all the hands in a game of cards, undertook to tell one of the players what card to play, the other players would have just cause to object.

The committee by its ruling has endeavored to prevent as far as practically possible the sending in of substitutes for the mere purpose of giving information as to the following play, which removes the chief incentive for sending in information.

BEATING THE BALL

by an unfair use of a starting signal is nothing less than deliberately stealing an advantage from the other side. An honest starting signal is good football, but a starting signal which has for its purpose starting the team a fraction of a second before the ball is put in play, in the hope that it will not be detected by the officials, is nothing short of crookedness. It is the same as if a sprinter in a hundred-yard dash had a secret arrangement with the starter to give him a tenth of a second's warning before he fired the pistol.

TALKING TO YOUR OPPONENTS

if it falls short of being abusive or insulting is not prohibited by the rules, partly because it ought not to be necessary and partly because no rules can make a gentleman out of a mucker. No good sportsman is ever guilty of cheap talk to his opponents.

TALKING TO OFFICIALS

When an official imposes or makes a decision, he is simply doing his duty as he sees it. He is on the field representing the integrity of the game of football, and his decision, even though he may have made a mistake in judgment, is final and conclusive and should be so accepted. Even if you think the decision is a mistaken one, take your medicine and do not whine about it. If there is anything to be said, let your captain do the talking. That's his business. Yours is to keep quiet and play the game.

You may meet players, and even coaches, who will tell you that it is all right to hold or otherwise violate the rules if you do not get caught. This is the code that obtains among sneak thieves and pickpockets. The crime in their code is getting caught. The football player who intentionally violates a rule is guilty of unfair play and unsportsmanlike tactics, and whether or not he escapes being penalized, he brings discredit to the good name of the game, which it is his duty as a player to uphold.

Diner: "Waiter, did not you hear me say 'well done'?"
Waiter (ignoring pink steak): "Yes, sir, thank you very much sir. It's seldom we get any praise, sir."

Son: "I didn't know where the Azores were."
Father: "Well, in the future just remember where you put things."

"Inside" Information

Fruit enough to make vinegar for a year's supply is wasted on many farms. Surplus or inferior fruit will make good vinegar. Apples, grapes, peaches, oranges, persimmons, and some berries are satisfactory, say scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Any fruit containing enough sugar will serve the purpose.

Vitamin C in the diet is supplied by the citrus fruits (oranges, grapefruits and lemons) raw cabbage, turnips and tomatoes, raw, cooked, or canned. Apples, potatoes, raspberries, spinach, sprouted legumes, and string beans are other good sources of this vitamin. The body has only a limited capacity to store vitamin C. Also, this vitamin is very easily destroyed by heat and oxidation. Hence in planning the menu it is well to include at all times one or more of the foods known to supply vitamin C.

The Federal food and drugs act requires every package of food except those containing one half ounce or less to carry a plain and conspicuous statement of the quantity of the food in the package. Do not be influenced by the apparent size of the package; read the labels. It frequently happens that what appears to be a large container will actually contain less material than one that seems smaller. The first injunction to the housewife, say Federal food officials, is to read the quantity-of-contents statements on labels—that is, the net-weight or net-volume statement, determine whether the quantity received is the same as expected, compare this quantity with the quantity offered by other brands of the same quality, and buy the product which gives the best value for the money.

OIL OLOGY

MOTOR CARE TALK

"Are there any 'clinkers' in your motor?"—P. Troleum.

Like coal, gasoline and oil burn with a percentage of ash—or carbon. Poor grades often coat the firing chamber with sticky carbon deposits, which are a damper on your power.

Sooty gas and oils are highest grade products—their carbon deposits are soft and fluffy and are carried off through the exhaust. Stoke up on these high grade fuels—and keep the "clinkers" out. Better use them regularly.

Looking Back Twenty-five Years

Arthur Comeau of this town has gone to Yarmouth, N. S., for a visit with his parents. Mrs. Julian Burdick is visiting her mother, Mrs. Eben A. Baldwin of Morton street.

The contract for heating the West church parsonage has been awarded to George Saunders.

John Soehrens, the barber, has moved from his temporary quarters in the Draper building to his remodeled shop in the Dean building.

John Clinton, the well-known night watchman is serving as a juror at the session of the Superior Criminal court which is being held in Lawrence.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Benevolent society of the Free church was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Russell on Tuesday afternoon when officers for the current year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Henry Russell; vice president, Mrs. David Lindsay; secretary, Mrs. George Hussey; treasurer, Miss Agnes Smith; directors, Mrs. Charles Hussey, Mrs. Walter Donald, Mrs. John Gordon, Mrs. Walter Allen, Mrs. John Richardson, Mrs. Andrew Kydd and Miss Ada Buchan; collector, Mrs. Isabella May; superintendent of the foreign department, Miss Lucia Clark; assistant, Miss Annie Smart.

Allan M. McCurdy has entered the freshman class of Dartmouth college.

Miss Louise Hardy has returned from a several days' trip through the White mountains.

Miss Rena Hemenway has entered upon her duties as a teacher in Claremont, N. H. Rev. J. Edgar Park of the West church will occupy the pulpit of the Free church next Sunday morning.

Rev. James Austin Richards, formerly of this town was installed pastor of the United Congregational church in Newport, R. I., on Wednesday. George A. Parier represented the South church at the exercises.

Robert M. McCurdy, who recently published in the "Bulletin of Bibliography" a "Bibliography of Articles Relating to Holidays" for the use of public libraries, left on Tuesday for New Brunswick, N. J., where he is assistant librarian in the Gardner A. Sage library.

After a delightful journey through Canada to the Pacific coast, and a pleasant trip in Alaska and back along the coast, with stops at several places between San Francisco and Los Angeles, Miss Mabelle Ethelyn Bosher located for the winter at Colorado College where she is acting as assistant to President Slocum in the college office.

Miss Margaret Saunders is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Saunders on High street.

Representative John N. Cole was one of the speakers at the annual dinner of the Essex Agricultural society at Peabody on Thursday.

J. William Dean is now occupying his new store having moved into it last week part of last week. It is thoroughly up-to-date in every respect.

Phillips academy started the fall term yesterday morning with an attendance, which from present indications, will be larger than for the past few years. Two hundred new students had registered up to six o'clock last night and there are scarcely two available rooms within the school precincts. This is considered remarkable, as last year there were houses where only one or two rooms were taken. Dr. W. P. Newton, who has so long been connected with the academy, has gone to Rutgers' college, New Brunswick, N. J., and his place will be filled by Mr. Keep, assisted by Mr. Hocking of the Seminary. Foster W. Stearns, instructor in English and Latin, has resigned, and his classes will be taken by Mr. Bullinger, who taught here two years ago, but spent last year abroad. George H. Richards, instructor in mathematics has resigned and Henry L. Agard has been chosen to fill his place. Mr. Agard is a graduate of Wesleyan university, and has been connected with the academy at Wilbraham academy. Mr. Keep's work in modern languages and Latin will be taken by Charles W. French, a graduate of Boston university, and who has been teaching for the past two years at the Hackley school, Tarrytown, N. Y. John E. Lansing, instructor in natural sciences, leaves to take advanced courses at Harvard. J. Emory Root, a graduate of Harvard, will fill the vacancy. Mr. Root has been an instructor at Cornell for one year, and for the past two years has been head of the department of sciences at Cushing academy.

A more beautiful day could not have graced the occasion of the 90th anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Sarah Gould which was celebrated at the home of her son, Milo H. Gould in Scotland district. The venerable lady was agreeably surprised when in the morning a number of her family assembled at her home. After the greetings were over, the guests enjoyed the morning in a social way and at noon all sat down to a fine repast. In the afternoon, an original poem was read and a few songs were sung. Pictures were taken of four generations of the family of which Mrs. Gould was the head. Included in the party were two sisters and one brother of Mrs. Gould, twelve children, fifteen grandchildren, and ten great-grandchildren. Mrs. Gould was the recipient of many tokens of love from members of the family and neighbors, including flowers, money and fancy work.

John H. Flint has recently sold to Henry Alford a building lot on Walnut avenue.

David S. Burns of Summer street has purchased from Rogers and Campion the real estate numbered 6 Park street.

Dr. E. C. Conroy has purchased from Walter H. Coleman the property on Essex street known as the Chickering place.

Elmer Philbrick of Essex street has purchased the property of Frank E. Ward on Summer street.

On Saturday from four until seven, the house of Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Elliott of Frye village was the scene of great festivities for fourteen little folks as it was the occasion of celebrating the fifth anniversary of the birth of their niece, little Dorothy Evans.

Dr. N. B. Russell tendered the Dental club an out ing Wednesday at his camp at Hagggett's pond. After a repast prepared by the host, a baseball game was played and a list of sports was run off. H. F. Holt and A. E. Hulme of Andover were among those who attended.

West Parish Wesley Hardy of Roxbury has been spending the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hardy.

Miss Bernice Boutwell entertained a number of her friends from the Abbott and Bailey districts last Saturday, the occasion being her eighth birthday.

Fred C. Way supervisor of the Boston City hospital, is spending a two-weeks' vacation with his father, Clarence Way of Osgood road.

Mrs. Edwin Cooley of Winchester spent the day on Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. Caroline Bailey.

Letters have been received from Miss Grace Livingston who left Hagggett's for Pasadena, Cal., last month.

Ballardvale Miss Jennie Donovan is attending the Notre Dame college at Lowell.

Miss Grace Burke is taking a course at Burdett's Commercial college.

Mrs. Abbie Woodlin has been spending the past month with relatives in New Hampshire.

Miss Nellie F. Sherry has accepted a position as stenographer in the office of one of the largest coal dealers of Boston.

A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McIntyre, Dale street, when their daughter, Miss Alice Gardner McIntyre was united in marriage to Irving Rowland Shaw, son of "Serinment" and Mrs. Josephine Wood of this place. The wedding march was played by Miss Adele Matthews. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Augustus H. Fuller, beneath a beautiful floral arch, in the presence of about seventy-five of the immediate relatives and friends. The parlor was decorated and arranged in a very elaborate and tasteful manner by Miss Lizzie M. Rowland and Miss Jean McFarlane. On their return from their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will live in their new home on High street.

Changes in Boston and Maine Train Service

Faster service on the "Minute Man", Boston and Maine afternoon express to Chicago and on the "Green Mountain Flyer" (day express to and from Montreal); new service for theatre goers and Boston Garden patrons at various points; together with new and improved connections to and from several through trains are among the features of the time and winter timetables of the Boston and Maine made public yesterday. The schedules are effective next Sunday with the close of daylight saving time.

The "Minute Man" westbound is speeded up 10 minutes to leave the new North Station at 3:10 p.m. instead of at 3:00 p.m., and on its eastbound trip also will be ten minutes faster; the "Green Mountain Flyer" is speeded up five minutes northbound, leaving at 8:50 a.m. on its Boston and Maine-Rutland railroad run to Montreal, and is ten minutes faster on the return. New afternoon train service to reach New York at 8:10 p.m. is provided from Boston and Maine points between Fitchburg and North Adams.

The "Flying Yankee", non-stop train between Boston and Portland in each direction, will leave Portland at 5:15 p.m., arriving in Boston at 7:30 p.m., giving the State of Maine an evening theatre and Boston Garden service.

At Greenfield, the Boston and Maine is establishing connections between the "Minute Man" eastbound from Chicago to Boston, the "Dartmouth" from White River Junction, Vt., to New York, via Springfield, and the afternoon train from Fitchburg to Troy, N. Y., to give passengers from points served by each of these trains prompt connections to the destinations of each of the others. This arrangement is said to provide a service for western Massachusetts greatly improved over any which has been available for years.

Under a similar rearrangement to provide more convenient schedules centering at Concord, N. H., early morning trains from Plymouth and from Claremont Junction are being re-scheduled to provide thirty to forty-five minutes later departure from these points, converging to leave Concord at 9:30 a.m.

Out of Boston, the "Gull", fast night train to Maine and the Maritime Provinces, will leave the North Station at 9:30 p.m. instead of at 10:40 p.m., and the Bangor express which formerly left at 7:40 p.m. will leave at 7:00 p.m., the latter change providing arrival at northern Maine points in time for earlier business engagements than have previously been possible.

The Boston and Maine's service is substantially the same as that of last fall and winter, although experimental service operated during the summer from Boston to Greenfield and return is being discontinued because of inadequate patronage, it is stated.

Old for Lamb

"Isn't it hard," said the landlady, "to think this poor lamb was cut down in its youth to satisfy our appetites?"
"Yes," replied the unhappy boarder at the end of the table, "it is tough."

Not Too Good, but Not Fitted for Such Work

Millions are to be spent upon the roads of the country to help the unemployed, but many of the unemployed are white-collar men.—Boston Globe.

Does that imply that white-collar men are too good to work on the roads of the country? Do you think it would hurt them to do so? Is a man lowered by any honest occupation?

Chicago and WABC of New York, will play to a record-breaking attendance of dance enthusiasts at Roseland this evening.

Next week is closing week at Roseland, with the final dance program scheduled for Saturday evening, October 4. Roland Russell's Kollicking Kamblers, important factors in Roseland's unprecedented success this year, will monopolize the orchestra stage as they will play for check dancing on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday evenings. With the closing of Roseland next week, the Balmoral Associates will shift the scene of activity to the famous Crystal ballroom in Shawshen village. The grand re-opening of the Merrimack Valley's most beautifully decorated ballroom is scheduled for Friday evening, October 10. It will be Crystal's policy to offer select dance programs every Wednesday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

Andover Christian Endeavor Union Notes

The first Union meeting of the year will be held Monday evening, September 29, at the Free church. There will be a Workers' supper at 6.30 p.m. and then the regular Union meeting at 7.45 p.m. Plans for Andover Union's part in the Lawrence convention of October 11, 12, and 13 will be formulated. An added feature of the evening will be a travelogue by two members who attended the World Conference in Berlin this past summer. Everybody is urged to attend, seniors and intermediates alike.

The members of the Union executive board enjoyed a week-end party at Big Island pond at Windham, N. H., on Saturday and Sunday, September 13 and 14. Thirteen members left the Free church at 3.41 p.m. on Saturday, heading in the general direction of Windham, N. H., and arrived without injury at Big Island pond after having passed somewhat hastily through the townships of Lawrence, Methuen and Salem, N. H. At this point the appetites of the several members were so sharp and keen that they had to avoid cutting remarks. Under the personal supervision of Miss Mary K. Francis, a delicious and bountiful supper was served which sufficiently strengthened the members so they might tackle the mighty problems of the business meeting led by President William Emmons. In the midst of said meeting Miss Charlotte Hovey and Messrs. Norton and Stone "blew" in after having completed an exploring expedition in an attempt to spot the location of the camp. At 11.09 p.m. the members decided that bed was the next feature number, whereupon the boys trotted down to their cottages on the lake shore and went straight to bed and to sleep. Not so for the fair sex, for at 2.10 a.m. their lung power was only getting its second breath. It's a wonder the boys slept at all, with poor Bob Stone on a cornstalk mattress. Verne Frost and Bill Emmons expected to find Bob eaten by corn borers. Came the dawn—and far out in the lake sat a lone figure, in the stern of the boat writing a "sermon" for the morning service. In due time another famous M. K. Francis meal was enjoyed and then came the Sunday service with its hymn singing and sermon which terminated rather humorously when as Verne Frost closed his talk, William Emmons announced the singing of the hymn "Some Day He'll Make It Plain." Various forms of amusement were employed by the members until a typical banquet dinner was served with very artistic favors, a result of the deft hands of Mary K. Francis. The afternoon hours were taken up in the form of cleaning up and committee meetings. The members returned late Sunday afternoon in as happy a mood as they had left this town.

V. A. F.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Christie of Shawshen village, who have been spending the past two weeks at The Hawthorne Cottage, Jackson, N. H., were the guests of honor at a surprise party held at the Cottage, Monday evening.

Andover Couple Surprised by Summer Guests on Vacation Trip

The occasion was the observance of thirty-five years of married life for Mr. and Mrs. Christie. The actual date is later, but the summer friends of the couple, realizing they would not be with them at that time, took the occasion of their vacation to give them the surprise.

Following the supper on Monday night, the guests gathered around the Christies' table and Charles W. Hughes of Pawtucket, R. I., was requested to read a little poem. No inkling of what was to follow, was surmised by the special guests, until, as Mr. Hughes proceeded in his inimitable fashion to read the poem, written by Mrs. E. C. Edmunds, it dawned on them that the surprise was on them. As further evidence of esteem, Mrs. Christie was presented with a handsome glass electric lamp, which she innocently had picked out at a gift shop in the afternoon, and had greatly admired. Amid clapping and handshakes, Mr. and Mrs. Christie were congratulated.

Those who got up the affair were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Shattuck of Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hughes of Pawtucket, R. I., Mrs. E. C. Edmunds of Andover, and Jeremiah Sullivan of Boston.

Register and Vote

All residents of Andover who have not registered to vote here should do so before the chance to become voters at the state election expires. There will be several meetings of the registrars to voters so that there will be plenty of opportunity to secure the right of franchise.

And important as it is to register, it is far more important to vote when eligible to do so. No person who is qualified to register should fail to do so. It is a civic duty. But once registered there is a further obligation and that is to vote at all elections.

Many people who consider themselves good citizens often hold too light an opinion of the value of their vote. They may not mean to shirk responsibility or to evade their duty. It is often a question with them of mere convenience. They feel, perhaps, that they are too busy to go to the polls or they satisfy their conscience by telling themselves that their vote is not really needed. There will be votes enough anyway, they say, and one vote will hardly make any difference. They forget that if 500 or 1,000 Andover people think the same as they do it may make a big difference in the result.

There are so many important issues involved in the coming state election that a full vote in Andover, and for that matter throughout the commonwealth, is highly important. If the people are to really rule, in conformity with our democratic form of government, they should vote.

Fundamentally Sound

With the entire world battling unemployment, American business brains baffled by Russian short selling of wheat, unrest in Germany, Cuba and South America, and internal strife in China, with America stirred by wet and dry agitations, and with a constantly growing science-religion controversy among the many major problems that beset us, it is encouraging to find that there are such things as tranquility, tolerance, contentment, sanity and solidity in this great country.

Such a condition was recently revealed by the residents of a small New England coast island. The occasion was the annual fair and community supper. With some seventy residents and a sprinkling of "summer people" present the event provided three hours of genuine sociability preceding and following a bountiful "meal" that demonstrated the delectable possibilities of home-cooking. All of which helped restore one's faith in the soundness of American institutions and the intrinsic worth of the class of Americans whose sturdy industry, rectitude and genuineness have been so important a factor in making the United States the world's strongest nation.

Farm produce equal to the best the country can produce was on display, including luscious peaches, apples, honest-to-goodness squash and pumpkins, potatoes, fragrant flowers of many hues, ducks, chickens and fancy wattle that showed remarkable skill—all the result of patient, intelligent effort on the part of the little handful of people who make their homes on that rugged isle.

In the gathering was the school teacher, who through many years has provided the fundamental education that enabled many men and women to make their mark in the business and professional world far from their native town. The minister, who spreads the gospel among the natives on side trips from his city church, mingled with them and enlivened the after supper program with anecdotes that added to the cheerful atmosphere of the occasion. Genuine enjoyment shone in the faces of young and old.

Legion Nominates Officers

Nomination of officers took place at the meeting of Andover post, 8, American Legion in the Legion hall Tuesday evening. The new officers of the post will be elected at the next meeting, which will be held October 14.

All Legion members who are to attend the National convention in Boston next month must have their 1930 Legion membership cards and also identification certificates in order to get reduced rates on the railroads and to gain admission at reduced rates to the various affairs and attractions in Boston, also to the special parking areas. Members may register at the Legion headquarters at any time. Adjutant Joseph A. McCarthy has reported that many veterans have renewed membership in the Legion and a large number have signed up for new membership.

After the business meeting refreshments were served by the following committee: Herman Hilton, J. Harry Hilton, James Fairweather and Douglas Hutchison. The meeting was one of the largest held for some time and at the close of the program the members gathered about the piano and sang the new songs for the National convention with Adjutant McCarthy at the piano.

Christ Church Notes

A corporate communion service will be held for the Woman's Guild at Christ church, Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

The first fall meeting of the Woman's Guild will be held Thursday, October 2, at 2.30 in the rectory and all members of the parish are cordially invited to attend. Tea will be served.

The Boy Scouts of the parish resumed weekly meetings last Friday night. The troop committee for the season, will be: John D. Little, chairman; Charles A. Hill, Sr., secretary; Henry E. Miller, treasurer; J. S. Fursman, Clayton Monro and Charles Warden. Wendell Lever will again serve as the scoutmaster in place of Donald Dumont who has left for Oberlin college in Ohio.

Rev. Henry F. Sherrill, who will become bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts October 14, will administer confirmation at Christ church, November 16. Classes in preparation for confirmation will start Tuesday, September 30.

The Young People's Fellowship of Christ church met Sunday in the parish house with three new members present. A business meeting will be held Sunday evening.

Editorial Cinders

'Be patient with every one, but above all with yourself.'—Francis De Sales

Again we have a detailed report of the activities of the Board of Public Works that tells exactly what it has done since the last report, and what sum of money was expended on each particular job. It followed a financial statement issued by the school committee dealing in generalities only.

Abbott Academy may well find satisfaction in the creditable feat of Miss Barbara Lord of Wolcott avenue who won the freshman competition scholarship at Mt. Holyoke by attaining the highest rating of all girls from New England who took the college board entrance examinations. She graduated from the academy last June.

Though Sir Thomas Lipton cannot take with him the "old mug" he yearned to win, the loving cup gift from Americans should soften the disappointment of this prince of sportsmen, who has won something far more to be treasured than a yachting trophy,—the love and admiration of a nation.

With winter ahead and the unemployment situation still tense, are Andover people doing all they can to provide work for those who need it? The wealthy are being urged to buy luxuries now, but by hiring men they could put their money where it would furnish quicker results than through the gradual relief of depression through heavy purchases. Why not do both?

The ban on burning grass until the drought is broken is a wise precaution to take. Andover has had enough experience in the matter of destructive brush fires to warrant taking all possible measures to prevent such fires here.

The Punched High school football team opened its season with a creditable victory, but a better test of the capabilities of the eleven will come with the Wakefield game on Saturday. That the team will do its best, win or lose, is assured under the Lovely regime.

Garden Club Holds Annual Meeting

Mrs. John M. Stewart was re-elected president of the Andover Garden club at the annual meeting held Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. W. Dacre Walker of Main street. Other officers elected were: Vice president, Mrs. A. H. Chamberlain; second vice president, Mrs. Mitchell Johnson, corresponding secretary, Mrs. George Brown; recording secretary, Mrs. W. D. Walker; treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Sweeney; executive committee, Mrs. Peirson S. Page, chairman; Mrs. Eben A. Baldwin, Mrs. Frederic N. Chandler, Mrs. Philip F. understanding between the people "on the hill" and those "down town." He stated that there was quite a little doubt in his mind as to where this mystic gap or line began and ended and said he firmly believed it to be a figment of imagination. Unfortunately, however, it is a condition which holds true in every academic and college town but it is one which he believed could be changed through the influence and help of the Lions club members.

He continued by saying that "the hill" needed the suggestions, the view point and the contact of the townspeople for he knew of no profession in the world that narrowed a man down more than the teaching profession unless that man kept his contact with the affairs of the town. He quoted some sound advice given him by his predecessor, Dr. Bancroft, "Tie up with every organization and activity in the town in which you are to live and it will be the best thing for you."

In closing he said he felt that the community was fortunate in having a Lions club and he offered his hearty good wishes for the welfare and success of the club.

Following the address G. Loring Burwell, International Service Director in New England, and the Gillette brothers entertained with songs.

Toastmaster Hardy then introduced District Governor Robert Boys of the 35th district which includes Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont. He presented the charter to the club and it was accepted by President Nathan C. Hamblin.

District Lieut. Governor Ike Cowan of Melrose was called upon for a few remarks and told of the aims and purposes of the clubs of building for the future.

Several notices were given relative to charter night of the North Andover club Wednesday, October 1, Merrimack charter night Wednesday, October 2, and the first regular meeting of the Andover Lions to be held Thursday, October 9. At this meeting G. Loring "Shorty" Burwell will be present and will show a film of Lions work and activities in various localities.

 One of the prettiest church weddings of the season took place Saturday afternoon in Christ church when Miss Mary Lillian Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Cole of 45 Abbot street became the bride of Benjamin Merrill Durland, Jr., of 351 Main street, Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Merrill Durland of La Grande, Oregon. Rev. Charles W. Henry, rector of Christ church performed the ceremony and the single ring service was used.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, George F. Snow. Her only attendant was Miss Minnie Valentine. C. R. Holberg of Willmar, Minn., was best man for Mr. Durland.

A reception and wedding supper followed immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents which was beautifully decorated with a variety of asters.

The bride's gown was of blue silk crepe, trimmed with silver beige lace with blue hat and shoes to match. Her flowers were white gardenias. The maid of honor wore brown silk crepe with hat and shoes to match. Her flowers were tallisun roses.

The bride is well known and popular in Andover. She attended the local public schools and graduated from Punched high school with the class of '25. She is a member of the Girls' Friendly society of Christ church and also of the Young People's Fellowship of the same church. The bridegroom is a graduate of Oregon State college in the class of '29.

FITZGERALD—MCALOON
 At a pretty wedding ceremony held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in St. Michael's church, North Andover, Miss Elizabeth Katharine McAloon, daughter of Mrs. William McAloon of 34 Second street, North Andover, became the bride of Martin Fitzgerald, son of Mrs. Margaret Fitzgerald of 81 Greenwood street, Rev. Fr. Michael Buckley officiated, using the double ring service.

The bride was attended by Miss Nora Walsh as maid of honor and also by Mrs. Frank Weir, Mrs. John Cyr and Miss Mary McAloon. The best man was Frank Merrill. The bride wore an attractive wedding gown of ivory satin, with a long veil in train caught with a coronet of orange blossoms.

The maid of honor was attired in a dress of robin's egg blue with shoes and hat to match, while the other attendants wore Nile green, yellow and peach colored satin gowns with hats to match. All carried arm bouquets of roses. The bride's flowers were orchids and lilies of the valley arranged in a shower bouquet.

A reception was held at the home of the bride following the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald departed late in the evening on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and New York. On their return they will reside at 34 Second street, North Andover.

Mr. Fitzgerald is in charge of the H. P. Hood store in Andover.

Punchard High scored an easy 20-0 victory over Rockport High last Saturday. The contest was staged at the Andover playground before a large crowd of grid fans.

The warm weather slowed up the game considerably, making it most uncomfortable for the players and forcing a number of halts. Punchard's offense was very clever, however, it was shown splendid form, considering that it was their first taste of competition.

Punchard completely outclassed Rockport in every department of the game and romped to a one-sided victory. The Punchard defense functioned well and the home goal was never in danger.

The Punchard scores came in the first, third and fourth periods, the last touchdown being made in the final minute of play.

Harry Gouck was easily the outstanding player for Punchard, featuring the engagement by long runs. In the third period he reeled off a gain of thirty yards and in the fourth, repeated the stunt. His last romp just preceded the final touchdown, which he brought on the next play. All three touchdowns were made by Gouck. Higus Asonian scored two points after touchdown to make it an even score of points.

Cleaves surpassed for the visitors with a fine display of all-round work.

Punchard's next game is to be played at Wakefield on Saturday.

High Street Accident Has Court Sequel
 Thomas Morrissey, 22, of 45 High street, Andover, pleaded not guilty in District court Thursday morning when he was arraigned on charges of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and operating negligently so that the lives and safety of the public might be endangered. He was held in bonds of $600 when the case was continued until October 2.

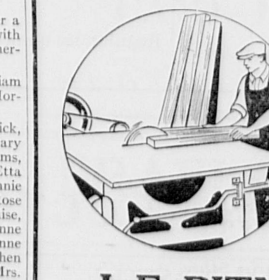

Morrissey is alleged to have been the operator of an automobile which burst into flames after crashing into a tree on High street. Charles Patti, 19, of 180 Prospect street, Lawrence, who was riding in the car, narrowly escaped being burned alive when he was pinned in the wreckage of the car. He was rescued by two young men who lived near the scene of the accident.

Card of Thanks
 David C. Young of the new Park street market wishes to thank the people of Andover for their kind cooperation and patronage on the opening day, September 20th. He also wishes to announce that his telephone has been connected, Andover 850.

Tendered Surprise Party

A surprise party was held Monday evening, September 22, at 4 Highland road in honor of Miss Jennie R. Hinchcliffe by the Margaret Slattery class.

Miss Hinchcliffe very recently tendered her resignation as teacher on account of ill health and the girls will feel very deeply the loss of her leadership. She will continue her interest in the girls and to share in their good times.

The president, Miss Marion Silva, presented Miss Hinchcliffe a token of the girls' esteem and friendship. Although much surprised, Miss Hinchcliffe responded in a very gracious manner.

Music and games were enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Fall Excursion to the Berkshires

Sundays September 28th, October 5th and 12th are the three dates selected by the Boston and Maine Railroad for its annual low fare excursions to North Adams. At this time of the year the glorious autumn foliage of the Berkshires is at its very best and many people take this opportunity to enjoy it.

As an added attraction—excursionists who so desire may travel by Boston and Maine Transportation company motor coach over the Mohawk Trail between Greenfield and North Adams—in either direction—for but $1.00 more than the special excursion price of $3.00 for the round trip.

Tickets are good from Andover on all regular Boston and Maine Railroad trains arriving at North station on the day of the excursion in time to connect with the excursion train—and returning from Boston on regular connecting trains after the arrival of the excursion train.

The excursion train leaves North station, Boston at 8.35 a.m. (E.S.T.)

The seventh generation down from the George Abbot of Andover. This coincidence came about through the marriage of his grandfathers who were William Abbot of the Rowley line and Sarah Abbot of Andover. They lived in the stone house on Cuba street at the junction of Red Spring road where his father was born in 1855. And so, with his wife and Dexter Franklin Abbot, 2nd he has returned to Andover to carry on his part of the family name with his home and workshop at 21 High street.

Former friends of David E. Abbott will be glad to hear that he has returned to Andover as an interior decorator and cabinetmaker. He will specialize in making reproductions of many of the lovely antiques which are found in museums and private collections as well as a number of the less pretentious pieces which find a proper setting in so many of the homes of today. These copies will be from originals that range from the humble footstool to the John Seymour tambour front secretary which sold in New York City last January for thirty thousand dollars. All pieces will be put together the same as the original, using the mortise and tenon type of construction and being held together with wooden pegs. To use Mr. Abbott's words, "I make all my pieces the same as the maker of the original would like to have his work carried on."

Mr. Abbott came to Andover as a boy when his mother died twenty-two years ago and lived here with his cousin, Miss Anna Abbott of Chestnut street, who was then secretary of the Andover Guild. With her he moved to Springfield four years later. He attended the Essex County Agricultural School in the same class with Sidney White but decided that for his temperament, agriculture would be a better hobby than a vocation so he became a window-trimmer. There he found the blending of colors and the study of proportion and balance very interesting and soon became the buyer for the drapery department. This was for over-the-counter trade only, and so Mr. Abbott changed to a decorator's position in Lynn and took a night course at the Scott Carbee Art School in Boston for which he received his diploma. Mr. Abbott hopes that his eight years of decorating, the last two of which he has specialized in colonial interiors, will meet the favor of those who call upon him for assistance.

Mr. Abbott is of the tenth generation of the descendants of George Abbott of Rowley and hands as tenderly during his first pastorate of twenty years and his second of two years.

Be it resolved that the South church hereby publicly acknowledges and records in its history the love it bears for him and its consciousness of the debt for which it is beholden to him.

These resolutions will be suitably engraved and presented to Mr. Shipman.

The moderator was then empowered to appoint a representative committee from the church to unite with a similar committee from the parish to continue the study of pulp supply, the report of the previous committee having been accepted and its members having been discharged with suitable thanks for their services.

Returns to School at New Hampton

Nearly one half of the 155 students who entered the New Hampton School for Boys and Junior College of Business Administration are residents of Massachusetts according to the enrollment report made public this week by Frederick Smith, principal.

Forty of the Bay State boys are entering New Hampton for the first time.

Among the Massachusetts boys returning to the school is C. Milton Jackson of Andover.

WEST PARISH

Miss Mary F. Gould of Waltham is visiting Mrs. Sarah M. Wagstaff of Lowell road. Miss Esther M. Lewis has returned from a visit with her sister Mrs. E. E. Metcalf of Saugus. Miss Ruth Russell of Atlantic and Parker River, was a week-end guest of Miss Isabel Pillsbury, Lowell road. Essex Pomona Grange meets with Haverhill Grange on Thursday at ten o'clock. Dinner will be served by Haverhill Grange at noon. Mr. Barry, who bought the farm known as the Shattuck Place, on Lowell road is building a large barn with the intention of dairy farming. Andover Grange held a most interesting meeting on Tuesday when Charles Preston of Danvers gave a talk on "Bird Banding" which was both instructive and interesting. The Ladies' Aid society will hold its October meeting, by invitation, at the home of Miss Clara Boynton, Main street, Andover on Monday afternoon, October 6, instead of the meeting that is usually held at the vestry on the first Wednesday of the month. The Ladies' Aid society of the West Church will hold a rummage sale in the vestry of the Baptist Church on October 3, from 9.30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Those having donations are asked to notify Mrs. John Buchan, Telephone 762 or Mrs. Herbert B. Merrick, Telephone 158, and they will be collected.

ABBOTT VILLAGE

Mrs. Margerson of North Main street has moved with her family to Baker's lane. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Willard and family of Red Spring road spent the week-end with relatives in Hudson. Mrs. Ives has returned to her home on Essex street after spending two months visiting in Scotland. Miss Katherine Milne of Cuba street has returned to Boston University where she will enter her junior year. John Sullivan of Brockton spent a few days at the home of his mother, Mrs. Christina Sullivan of Red Spring road. Miss Helen Hackney has returned to her home on Red Spring road after spending six weeks at the home of her brother at Atlantic City.

Mental Disease Oddities

Among the patients at the Royal Edinburgh hospital for mental and nervous diseases suffering from "stereotypy" is a man who wrote a single word in the same way 2,500 times without stopping. Another spent all his spare time for eighteen years shuffling and reshuffling a pack of cards. A third spent forty-eight years in the institution and never asked for anything except "train fare to Cur-lis."

Where Montcalm Died

One of the landmarks of Lower Town (the old part of the city of Quebec) is the little cigar store on St. Louis street, once the residence of a Doctor Arnoux, where the French commander, Montcalm, mortally wounded in the battle of the Plains of Abraham, was brought, and where he died. His remains were buried in a shell-hole in the wall of the Ursuline convent chapel.

Old Trail Still Used

The Grand Portage originally was a nine-mile trail that ran west from Grand Portage, Minn., to the Pigeon river, in the east tip of the Arrowhead country. It was built by fur traders in 1783 and was the first white man's road in the state. Its outline can still be traced today and part of it is in use.

BALLARDVALE

Miss Ruth Davis is spending several days in Newton. Miss Margaret Cronin was a recent visitor in New Haven, Conn. Misses Rita and Father Trow of Jamaica Plain visited here Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Alfons Mallouix of Woburn street will reside in Lawrence. Miss Lena Doucette of Reading visited relatives here during the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. George Day of Watertown spent the week-end with relatives in the Vale. Mrs. William Caffrey of Tewksbury street spent the week-end with relatives in Lowell. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haslett who have been residing on High street will move to Dorchester. This evening the Hope Chest club will hold its weekly meeting with Mrs. Charles Sherry of Clarke road. Miss Ellen Caffrey has returned to South Boston after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Daley. John Dirkman of Syracuse, N. Y., spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brogan of Center street. Miss Mary H. Tracy and Miss Jane Arnold of Santa Barbara, California visited their aunt, Mrs. George T. Byington last week. Judge Stanley Dunn and children have returned to New Haven, Conn., after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Cronin of Center street. The Ballardvale Kindergarten opened Monday in the Bradlee school at nine o'clock with Miss Eleanor Driscoll of North Andover as teacher for the third year. At a meeting Monday evening in the Congregational church vestry, it was voted, 13 to 7, to invite Rev. Marion Phelps, who preached last Sunday at the morning service, to become pastor of the church. Services were resumed Sunday morning in the Methodist church at 10.30 a.m. with the pastor, Rev. E. H. Scheyer, preaching the sermon. The Sunday school classes were in charge of a corps of teachers. The 4-H Lunch Box club will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alvin Zink of Chester street. These classes entered last year and have proven profitable to the girls of grammar school age attending. The Bradlee Mothers' club will hold a white party next Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. William Clemons of Andover street. A fine assortment of prizes will be awarded to the high scorers. Refreshments will be served. The social committee of the Congregational church is making plans for the annual harvest supper which will be held in the church vestry on October 9. Each year this event is looked forward to by people of this and neighboring towns who attend in large numbers. An appetizing menu is planned. Miss Margaret Arnold and Bradford Arnold, who have been spending part of the summer with Mrs. George T. Byington of High street, will attend Swarthmore college. Both young people are well known in this vicinity, where they have in the past entered into activities of the Congregational church. The Andover Association of Congregational churches, which comprises the churches of Lawrence, Lowell and Andover will convene Thursday afternoon and evening in the North Chelmsford Congregational church. Rev. Herman Van Lunen will be ordained and installed pastor of the North Chelmsford church.

Hold Entertainment and Sale

Thursday evening the social committee of the Willing Workers society sponsored an entertainment and sale in the Methodist church vestry. A number of moving picture reels were shown with Horace Slute in charge and a well-known impersonator of Lawrence gave several humorous selections. Frankforts, home-cooked food, candy and grabbers were on sale.

Delegate to Grand Lodge Gives Report

Last Friday evening a meeting of the Shawshnee lodge, 14, I. O. G. T., was held in the community room, with a large attendance. Chief Templar Marshall Grant presided. A report was given by Mrs. Margaret Grant, who was first delegate to the Grand Lodge meeting, held in Mattapoisett, which was as follows: An invitation was extended to the Grand Lodge by the district officers of the Merrimack Valley to hold the Grand Lodge session of 1931 in Methuen. This was accepted. Mrs. Grant then reported the newly appointed officers of the Grand Lodge, as follows: G. C. T., Mrs. Addie Johnson; grand councilor, Rev. Mr. Peacock; G. V. T., Agnes Pawling; grand superintendent of juvenile work, Emma Chase; grand superintendent of legislative work, Mrs. Emma Parrington; grand secretary, Frederica Shanks; grand treasurer, George Tillot; grand chaplain, Annie Tengally; grand marshal, Laura Hayes; grand deputy marshal, Mr. Treno; grand guard, Mrs. Margaret Grant.

After all officers were installed, Miss Emma Parrington presented Grand Chief Templar Addie Johnson with a chest of gold from all the subordinate lodges of Massachusetts. She responded in a fitting manner, thanking all for their thoughtfulness. Bouquets of flowers were given to all officers.

Shawshnee lodge has invited Brook lodge, 12, of Methuen, to be their guests at the first November meeting and the General Fisk lodge of Lowell will be guests of the local lodge at the first October meeting. Plans are also under way to serve a banquet to the victorious baseball team.

Knights Bowling League Opens

The Knights of Columbus bowling league season opened Monday night at the K. of C. alleys. Matches will be rolled Monday and Tuesday nights throughout the season which will close April 4. Under the supervision of the bowling commission the alleys have been renovated, the lighting system improved and painting done. Eight teams comprise the league and each team will bowl one match a week, the schedule being similar to that of last season which was the most successful ever held. The schedule for the season follows: First quarter—Sept. 22—Nelligans vs. Harnedys and Eastwoods vs. Cussens. Sept. 23—Lefebvres vs. Sheas and Davises vs. Youngs. Sept. 29—Cussens vs. Nelligans and Davises vs. Lefebvres. Oct. 6—Eastwoods vs. Youngs and Harnedys vs. Eastwoods. Oct. 7—Harnedys vs. Cussens and Youngs vs. Lefebvres. Horticultural NEWS

CHANGE NOTED IN APPLE PLANTINGS

Long-Keeping Kinds Giving Way to Higher Qualities.

The newer apple plantings in New York state have fewer varieties, according to Prof. L. H. MacDaniels of Cornell university. This is a wise move on the part of the fruit growers for orchards with fewer varieties are more convenient for spraying and harvesting, and packing and marketing can be done more efficiently. The danger in this trend, says Professor MacDaniels, is that varieties are often planted in large blocks without provision for cross-pollination. During the last decade there has been less demand for the poor quality, long-keeping dessert apples such as McIntosh, Delicious, Northern Spy and Yellow Newton. Fancy varieties, as McIntosh and Northern Spy, require special handling and care and are adapted to special markets that will pay a premium for quality. Strain varieties as Baldwin and Rhode Island Greening can be grown on a more extensive scale with less cost to the bushel and they sell well in a general market. New England experiment stations have limited the number of apple varieties recommended for planting to seven varieties. In New York the climate of the different apple regions varies so that not all kinds are suited to all districts. Nowhere else does the Rhode Island attain the finish and quality as in parts of western New York. However, it would be foolish to plant Greenings on a light soil or to put Baldwins or some of the other red varieties on heavy soils, says Professor MacDaniels. A list of recommended varieties for New York is available from the state experiment stations at Geneva or from Cornell university.

Water Sprouts Useful for Apple Tree Braces

In pruning young apple trees you often notice weak crotches in the scaffold framework of the tree that you wish might be braced. Did you ever think of using water sprouts for braces? Many fruit growers do and find they can frequently develop very nice braces for weak crotches from water sprouts. Stayman and Delicious trees are particularly weak from the standpoint of crotches and can often be helped in this way. Take a water sprout from each limb forming the crotch and bring these two sprouts together and twist them around each other several times until they stay wrapped. It may be necessary to tie the ends down with waxed twine which will hold but will not girdle. The sprouts soon grow together into a solid branch that increases in size with the growth of the branches and so keeps of sufficient size to be an effective brace. Weak crotches are often most apparent in trees from eight to fifteen years of age and fortunately on trees of this age there is usually an opportunity to brace with water sprouts. Before cutting water sprouts off from scaffold branches see if you cannot use some effectively for brace wood.

New Grafting Wax Is Favored by Illinois

Farmers who are expecting to make tree grafts will be interested in a new grafting wax recommended by the University of Illinois, made with: 2 pounds resin, 1/2 pint raw linseed oil, 1 pound beeswax, 1/2 pound lamp black. Place the resin, beeswax and linseed oil in a dry kettle and melt. Use a slow fire as mixture is inflammable, move from fire and stir in lamp black and pour in shallow pans to cool. A wax melter can be used conveniently to melt the wax and once melted it can be applied with a brush, to the wound or graft.

Horticultural Hints

Spray thoroughly to protect the fruit trees from insect and disease attacks. Debudding has developed greater terminal growth in young apple trees than pruning. Orchards which are carefully and systematically sprayed with lime sulphur will hold leaf spot in check. It is either a case of spray the cherry tree or expect it to die. It is desirable to stop cultivation of orchard soil about the middle of August. Planting of certain cover crops during August is a commendable orchard practice. Winter vetch is an excellent cover crop and may be planted at this time. If the cherry leaves are turning yellow and falling off it is probably because the cherry leaf spot fungus has attacked them. The fungus may be killed with a lime-sulphur spray. Use liquid lime-sulphur at the rate of one gallon to 40 gallons of water.

Oddities for Traveler to Observe in Hawaii

"Believe it or not," but Hawaii grows a variety of bananas whose fruit ripens within the trunk of the plant. This was one of the verified assertions submitted in a "believe it or not" contest conducted by a Honolulu newspaper. Other "believe it or not" were: Every word in the Hawaiian language ends with a vowel. The smallest kingdom in the world once existed in the Hawaiian Islands. The kingdom of Miloli, on the Napali coast of Kauai, a few hundred yards wide and a few miles long, was formerly inhabited by about 200 Hawaiians under their own king. The water from a waterfall in Nuuanu valley never reaches the ground direct. In Honolulu you can stand on dry pavement on one side of the street and see it rain on the other side. The island of Mooliki, a little south of Maui, was lost by Hawaiian royalty in a poker game. The nightingale of Kona is not a bird; it is a Jackass. The old Kaunakapili church in Honolulu was built with two steeples to carry out the wish of King Kalakaua.

Institute That Houses Millions of Microbes

The Lister Institute of Preventive Medicine, Chelsea, England, contains the largest collection of microbes in the world. They number some 1,500 different varieties growing in little glass tubes about five inches long, and though they look harmless enough, some amongst them would, if let loose and distributed, probably start an epidemic which might easily vie in deadliness with those recorded in the Middle Ages. All these tiny organisms, the majority of which produce diseases of various kinds in human beings, animals and plants, require constant skilled attention much as do flowers and vegetables in an ordinary garden; while some are so delicate that they can only be bred successfully in incubators, corresponding to the hothouses of horticulturists.

Part of Lost Atlantis?

The five inhabited Sclly Islands are St. Mary's, Treseo, St. Martin's, St. Agnes and Bryher. The capital is Hagh Town in St. Mary's. This, together with Star castle, dating back to the time of Queen Elizabeth, is situated on a sandy peninsula known as the Garrison. The town has a harbor, used by the Penzance steamers, and a roadstead where large vessels may lie at anchor. The main industry of the islands is flower growing. The islands have figured in history at various times. Supposedly, they are all that is left of the lost continent Atlantis. Then some suppose they were the Cassiterides, or "Tin Islands" of the ancients. They are now part of the Duchy of Cornwall, thus belonging to the prince of Wales.

Mania for Degrees

Frenchmen have a mania for degrees, titles, and other excuses for putting letters of the alphabet after their names. A Parisian banker received a visiting card from a gentleman requesting an interview with something like this after the name: Member of the Institute, Town Councillor of the Somme, Member of the Association for Municipal Reform, Contributor to the "Journal de Geneve," etc. Taking one of his own cards the banker wrote, under his plain name: "Member of the Taxicab Using Public, Contributor to the Paris Gas Company, Martyr of the Paris Telephone service, etc., is too occupied with his own business to receive visitors today."

THEATRES

METROPOLITAN THEATRE "Three Faces East", with Constance Bennett, star of "Common Clay" and Eric Von Stroheim, most noted of "spy" characters, comes to the Metropolitan theatre for the week beginning September 25. "Three Faces East" adapted from the great stage play of the same name, reveals for the first time on the talking screen, the inner workings of the great spy systems of two countries engaged in the World War. Most thrilling of all spy melodramas is this and the bravery of the men and women engaged in the work is graphically portrayed. In addition to Miss Bennett and Mr. Von Stroheim, there are found in the cast such familiar names as Anthony Bushell, William Courtney, Crawford Kent, Charlotte Walkers and William Holden. Beginning the week of October 2, Charles "Buddy" Rogers makes a personal appearance at the Metropolitan theatre. The stage show with "Three Faces East" is a Jack Partington production "Oh Uncle" with Arthur and Mortan Havel, comedians, Helen Lockhart, Denise Dooley, Johnson and Duker, Bud Williamson and the Dave Gould Girls. An organ novelty "The Paramounters" will be offered with Arthur Martel and Esther Newcombe at the dual console. The Metropolitan Grand Orchestra with Arthur Geisler conducting will offer an overture, "A Musical Crazy Quilt." Lobby entertainment will be as usual a feature and dancing continues nightly except Sunday, in the Grand Lounge. Beginning October 2 will be presented "The Sea God" with Richard Arlen and Fay Wray.

BABSON SAYS THERE IS SOME IMPROVEMENT IN OUTLOOK FOR HIDE AND LEATHER INDUSTRY

Firms Make Consistent Profits Which Apply Scientific Methods to Production Stock Control and Merchandising—Always Profits for Those Who Produce Superior Products Economically and Market Them Efficiently

Babson Park, Massachusetts, September 26, 1930. A generation ago, the feeling prevailed that a young man would do well to make connections in the leather business. Today the feeling prevails that he would do well to stay out. This is most unfortunate because such a pessimistic feeling towards the industry makes it appear very unattractive to aggressive young men who might otherwise come to the industry with new ideas and an unprejudiced mind. New blood means new ideas and progress. Nevertheless, there are firms in different phases of the leather business which for years have made fairly consistent profits. These firms are the ones which apply scientific methods to production, stock control and merchandising.

Most successful tanners adhere to a strict policy of short-term contracts and prompt payments. This makes for faster turnover, and at the same time reduces chances of being oversold in a rising market. Furthermore, these firms consciously or unconsciously use facts to guide them in the formation of their policies. Of course, the use of such facts has to be coupled with the ability to interpret them. Remember that there are always profits to be made in any industry for firms which produce superior products economically and market them efficiently.

Fluctuating Hide Prices a Major Problem

Few industries are subject to such rapid and extensive price changes as hides and leather. Inability of the tanners and manufacturers to foresee these price movements and make proper adjustments for them is the reason why the leather business is always alternating between feast and famine. The very nature of the raw materials constitutes a major difficulty in the leather business. Hides, being a by-product, are relatively beyond control as to supply. In other words, in most industries increasing demand is met by an increase both in price and supply. However, in hides an active demand does not necessarily bring an increase in hide supply, but usually results in disproportionate price upturn.

The sharp upward movements in prices from 1926 to 1928 were largely due to the feverish demand on the part of the tanners when the demand for leather increased. Likewise radical declines have since taken place as the demand for leather decreased. This state of affairs has meant that most leather companies showed profits while prices were advancing, but that such profits were rapidly wiped out or changed into losses on a declining market. Many tanners have tried to maintain earnings by using the average cost of the soaked hides as a basis of production costs. They have found this to be difficult in a declining market. Because of lack of courage or fear of competition during such markets many tanners have sold on a replacement basis and sometimes made price concessions or adjustments on sales already made.

Hide Price Cycle at Low Point

There have always been cyclical movements or swings in hide prices. These have extended over periods of about three to three and one-half years. Of course, price cycles do not follow in the same groove each time. There are many influences which at any particular time tend either to contract or accentuate the cycle price movement. In the first place, there is a marked seasonal variation in the price of hides which is largely a reflection of the difference in quality of hide taken off. However, making allowance for these variations it would seem that the price cycle is now at a low point and should turn upward.

Another great influence upon the hide price cycle is the movement of general business. The price of No. 1 Native Packer hides and an index of general business from 1893 to date shows a close relationship. If business declines at the same time that the hide price cycle starts on an upward swing, the tendency is to neutralize the price upturn, and vice versa. Also, because the stock market often anticipates business conditions, one finds even a closer relationship between stock market movements and hide prices. The significance of this study at present is that any upturn in business probably will be anticipated by the stock market, and very quickly followed by the hide market.

Factors of Supply and Demand

A study of the world supply of hides is an important factor in forecasting the probable cycle movement of hide prices, for as previously mentioned, the supply of hides is relatively inflexible. A shortage in this country is soon made up by imports from foreign countries. Current reports of the world-wide supply of hides seem to indicate that European stocks are not heavy, and that as they enter world markets, prices should firm. The domestic supply of native packer hides is dependent upon cattle slaughter. Figures on beef production show a cycle movement extending over periods of about eight to nine years. The peak of the last cycle was reached in 1927, since which date production has been slightly decreasing. It appears that, in 1930, the trough will be reached and production will again begin an upward trend.

To analyze domestic hide demand, it is necessary to study the shoe industry. Each year about 80 per cent of total leather output is used to make shoes. This year has been one of far-reaching depression. Men's shoe production for the first six months of 1930 was eight per cent below the corresponding period of 1929. However, for the balance of this year we are facing the more active Fall season, and with prices of hides and leather very low, retailers may increase their purchases of men's staple shoes, in the hope of a speculative profit when prices recover. All things considered, I anticipate that shoe and leather demand will be somewhat more active this Fall.

Near-Term and Long-Term Outlook

Over the shorter term—for the rest of 1930—I look for some improvement in hide and leather demand. General business is expected to pick up somewhat and this will do much to create confidence. Shoe production should reflect the upturn in general activity and the hide and leather market should tend to develop strength. Total leather stocks may appear burdensome to some in the industry. However, they are largely concentrated in tanners' hands, as stocks held by shoe manufacturers and consumers, generally, have been reduced to low levels. In other words a buying vacuum is being created.

However, in judging the long-term outlook it should be remembered that the leather industry is one that has "grown up." The period of rapid development and expansion in this country has been passed. The boom days are over and the outlook is for a relatively slow rate of growth in the years ahead. This will mean the weeding out of the inefficient and those who fail to keep step with changing conditions. What of the effect of the long-term trend of the leather industry upon the individual company? The answer to this question will depend largely upon the management. Conditions are such that to grow as it should or even to hold its place, the company will be obliged to cut costs and improve its product and merchandising.

Business by the Babson chart now stands at 17 per cent below normal compared with three per cent above normal at this time a year ago.

Egg Man, played by Douglas Hutcheson, all fall in love with this fake Aunt Lucia and try to marry her. Her proposal scenes are flowery, insistent and very funny. Instantly Jerry finds himself playing the part of the old lady, he makes love to the other boys' girls, enjoys the prop-sals of the men and generally adds to the comedy of the play. Dean Howard, the old-maid school teacher, and Prof. Gaddis, the old bachelor, who have been lovers for thirty years finally come together and are married, only after the Professor finds that Lucia Wakefield was only a man. At the end, the real Lucia Wakefield, who is in Florida wires the necessary amount of money for the building of the college stadium and Jerry wins back his girl who has stepped out with the college sheik.

The cast characters there are the three college girls, Betsy, Molly and Ethelyn, played by Esther Valentine, Eva Bourassa and Alice Neilligan. There is also the college president, Dr. Seamore, played by Thaxter Eaton and Mrs. Seamore, played by Mrs. George Walsh, who add to the dignity of the cast. The two freshmen, comedy parts played by Sumner Davis and Arthur Mullen are also very clever. Other characters are the glee club president, Everett Collins and the fraternity president, George Early.

The opening of the show is featured by a Baby Pageant as a curtain-raiser, with over three hundred children between the ages of five and eight taking part. The special dramatic reader, Miss Katherine Wilcox, gives the readings and the children form a very effective background.

Novel features will set forth the activities of the many departments and commissions carrying on the government of the Commonwealth.

Commission on Expositions: CHESTER I. CAMBER, CHARLES P. HONAN, FRANK W. WRIGHT

Washington Current Comment

General Pershing has just reached three score and ten, and says that he is old by the calendar only. The woes of the world war and the cares of a long life have wrought small change in his mental or physical vigor. Cato learned Greek at eighty and Germany finds a place for President Hindenburg at eighty-three. General Pershing is to be looked forward to at least a decade of studious repose or useful endeavor.

A well-known oil company, accused of price-fixing, has been let off on its promise to be good. Modifying slightly the words of Scripture, the Court may have said: Go, and skin no more.

Deaths due to auto accidents are on the decline, according to reports received by the Department of Commerce. Signals and brake equipment are entitled to much credit. Then, too, the pedestrian public has come to realize that a highway is a more dangerous place than a railway, and upon the part of the motorist there is a slowly awakening consciousness that on him has devolved a responsibility akin to that of the railroad engineer.

The recent German elections show that the fatherland is oppressed by too many political parties, each strong enough to be a nuisance, none strong enough to handle the reins unaided. American elections often are unsatisfactory, but they end with one factor in control, and another factor forming a united opposition capable of supplying salutary checks and balances.

Maine has a law which forbids the soliciting of rides from strangers, saving in cases of emergency, a form of legislation which should be enacted everywhere. The hitch-hiker has become an intolerable pest, rapacious for free transportation, and ready to reward courtesy with a lawsuit. The day of his general suppression is at hand.

Boulder Dam has been begun. It will be finished in eight years, after ten years of dickering. It is easier to conquer Nature than to overcome the obstacles that are interposed by the workings of the human mind.

"Twenty-eight Week-End Speeders Are Assessed in Court." Right. The week-end passes quickly enough as it is.

To broil tomatoes, wash them, remove the stem ends, cut in half, put in a greased shallow baking dish, add salt, pepper and melted butter or other fat to season, and place under the flame of a broiling oven, far enough from the flame to allow the tomatoes to cook before browning. Broil for 20 to 30 minutes or until tender and lightly browned. Serve hot garnished with parsley on crisp buttered toast.

Baked pears are a pleasant variation from baked apples. If the flavor is not very pronounced, a little lemon juice will tone it up. Under ordinary use a floor needs waxing only two or three times a year. Applying too much wax is a common mistake. Oil should never be used on a waxed floor as it softens the wax.

A hint on the children's clothes. Buy a lot of the same kind of buttons—a stock design, easy to duplicate—and always keep a reserve card on hand. Then you won't have to hunt to match the buttons that come off, and little dresses will always look neat. Also use rather large buttons on children's clothes so that they can button and unbutton their own garments.

BANANA DESSERTS

The banana is one of our most popular and well liked fruits, one we can always find in our markets and it deserves a chapter all for itself.

Banana Bavarois.—Scald one cupful of milk in a double boiler. Stir in two teaspoonfuls of gelatin previously soaked in two tablespoonfuls of cold water. Add one cupful of sugar and when cold and it commences to set stir in one cupful of banana pulp and one cupful of whipped cream. Pour into a mold and place on ice to set. Serve with:

Mousseline Sauce.—Bring one cupful of milk to a boil, add one-half cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful of flavoring, mix well, set aside to cool, then add one-half cupful of whipped cream.

Banana and Coconut Dessert.—Cut four bananas into four pieces, place in a buttered pan and sprinkle with three teaspoonfuls of lemon juice. Beat an egg white until stiff, add three tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar. Add one-half cupful of shredded coconut, put a tablespoonful of this meringue on each section of banana. Bake until brown. Serve with whipped cream.

Banana Bread Pudding.—Take three slices of bread or three rolls, break into small pieces. Pour over this two cupfuls of milk, one-half cupful of sugar, four bananas sliced, stir in lightly two beaten egg whites and bake for half an hour. Serve hot with a sauce using the two egg yolks beaten well, one-fourth of a cupful of sugar and a cupful of boiling milk; stir and flavor, then serve hot. A little lemon juice and rind may be used for the flavoring.

Banana Fluff.—Cut one-half pound of fresh marshmallows into small pieces. Whip one cupful of heavy cream, add one teaspoonful of vanilla, one-half cupful of sugar, a bit of salt, stir in the marshmallows, one cupful of broken nuts (less may be used), and one cupful of banana pulp finely mashed. Serve with crushed strawberries, or over ice cream of any flavor.

FIND APPLE SCAB CAUSE OF INJURY

Big Secret Is to Keep Exposed Parts Protected.

Apple scab continues to be one of the chief causes of loss to apple growers. This disease and the fungus which is the primary cause are being critically studied by Dr. G. W. Keitt and his associates in the department of plant pathology of the Wisconsin college of agriculture. Experiments are being conducted at Madison both in the orchard and greenhouse and at the Peninsular branch experiment station at Sturgeon Bay, where a laboratory is maintained during the growing and harvesting season.

It has been found that the fungus commences to discharge spores into the air from dead apples leaves on the ground very early in the spring. The conditions favoring spore discharge and early infection are frequent rains and comparatively low temperature.

Apple bud development is very slow at these low temperatures but the green tips of the sepals and leaves start between the forced open bud scales and provide an opportunity for the early discharged scab spores to find a place to grow.

Lime sulphur, (1-40) with lead arsenate (1-50) has given the best control of scab, especially when applied before a rain. If impossible to get spray applied before a rain much benefit may be secured if an application is made as soon as the leaves are dry following a rain. Several other sprays have given good control of scab when applied before a rain but were less efficient applied following a rain. Scab spores are discharged during and after a rain, while the leaves are wet. This accounts for the great abundance of scab infection during the wet spring of 1927.

The first spray should be applied when the developing sepals and leaf buds show green tips. A second spray should be put on when the blossom buds are in the closed cluster condition before the appearance of pink color.

After this the regular schedule may be followed. The whole secret of success in apple scab control is to keep the exposed parts protected from fungus invasion during their young and susceptible condition. This is especially true in wet seasons.

Substitute Apples for Pears South and West

So complete has been the failure to control pear blight, particularly in the Middle West and South, that pear growing has been abandoned and apples frequently substituted. With the planting of many apple orchards, resulting in a greater concentration of this crop, the blight soon became a serious menace to such varieties as Spitzenburg, Jonathan, Yellow Transparent, Maiden Blush, and Grimes Golden.

Seeking in desperation for some measure that would bring relief, the apple growers in several states grasped at the idea that the few pear trees remaining in the vicinity of their apple orchards were responsible for the blight on apples. They were convinced that the germ lives over winter largely in pear trees and was disseminated from them in the following spring to nearby apples.

In this belief they were partly sustained by the fact that scientists for about thirty years had supposed the cause of overwinter almost entirely in blight cankers situated on large limbs or on the trunk. Inasmuch as such cankers are relatively rare on apples and are very common on pears, then it is quite obvious, if the scientists' supposition were correct, that the pear tree offers exceptionally favorable conditions for overwintering the germ and disseminating it to other hosts.

Desirable Cover Crop to Plant in Orchards

Vetch is a desirable cover crop to plant in young orchards. Plant oats or some other crop with the vetch early in September. The oats will act as a cover crop to the vetch after they have been killed by early freezing weather. A combination of this kind is as good as anything that can be had as a cover crop for trees. You will do well to use care in pasturing live stock on the vetch. There will be some danger in letting cattle into the field of vetch. You will probably have about the same result that you would have in pasturing cattle in alfalfa under similar conditions.

Good Strawberries

The Progressive strawberry is the safest for general conditions since it will succeed on almost any type of soil, and under almost any conditions, if it gets reasonably good culture. The Mastodon, however, is a very nice berry for home use and gives a great deal of satisfaction because it is of such large size. Plant some of each. The Progressive will ripen a little earlier in the spring than the Mastodon and will color a little better in the fall.

Home of Francis Drake in Small English Town

One of the rooms in the oldest house at Staines, England, the Knowle, where Sir Francis Drake lived for a time, has been stripped of some valuable wallpaper, which has been sold to a London antiques dealer. This paper, hand-painted with Chinese pictures, was prepared about 1730 by a famous Chinese artist, who came from Shanghai. Its removal from the wall involved a long and anxious process. After being dampened the paper was backed to prevent mishap, and then carefully peeled. Owing to cold weather the process was intermittent, and some days were spent before the paper was finally removed. The Knowle was for centuries in the possession of the Pellett family. It is a curiously built house, almost surrounded by a low corridor, suggestive of a ship's alleyways, though the original architecture has been affected by later additions to the building. Sir Francis Drake, like other distinguished sailors, seems to have been a great lover of dogs, and placed tablets on the walls recording the loss of some of his pets.

Defenders of Jerusalem Worthy of Their Race

When Titus, son of Vespasian, soldier, emperor of Rome, after a long and exasperating siege, took Jerusalem, Mount Zion held out last of all against the legions. In spite of the efforts of Titus to save the splendid temple Herod had rebuilt and beautified, some recreant flung flaming torches into it and caused its utter destruction.

It seemed as though with it all hope of preserving their nation had vanished, and the remnant of the Jewish defenders of their city hurried across the bridge over the Tyropoeon gorge between Zion and Moriah, into the old city of David, and the ancient palace of their kings, where they put up a fierce resistance to the Romans until the last man was slain or wounded, and the buildings David had built, and others had added to, had fallen in ruins about them.

Diesel Engine

During the last decade of the Nineteenth century Dr. Rudolf Diesel of Leipzig brought out an internal combustion engine which involved in its operation a principle that had never before been applied in practical mechanics. Doctor Diesel understood the value of high compression and conceived the idea of mixing the fuel and air at the very moment when power is needed for the working stroke. He came to the conclusion that cheap, low-grade oils could be utilized as fuel if introduced into a highly heated charge of compressed air at the proper time. He enlisted the aid of manufacturers and after some experimentation brought out the most economical heat engine that had ever been produced.

Barley From Saul's Town

Samples of grain found by the Chicago Field museum, Oxford university expedition to Mesopotamia in 1928, in the ruins of the buried city of Kish, "the first city founded after the flood," have been declared by experts of the United States Department of Agriculture to be barley. Three jars of grain were found in two ancient buildings that had been buried for thousands of years below the original surface. One building was in a stratum just above the level where traces of a flood were discovered, which, according to archeological evidence, occurred about 3200 B. C. The grain is now practically pure charcoal.

While soldiers of the American Expeditionary force were stationed at the barracks in Paris there were strict orders that all men must be in the barracks by midnight. It became a regular occurrence to see one of those one-lung taxicabs stop at the gate and three or more soldiers dash out from the taxicab and through the gates calling as they came: "Gangway for a bucket of paint." This was the signal to the sentinels at the gate to step aside and let these fellows through, then close up and not let the taxicab driver through to get his money.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Joy of Youthful Readers

Probably Edward Stratemeyer could have claimed the distinction of being the most prolific writer of juvenile fiction. During the 40-odd years of his writing life he produced more than 600 juvenile books, among which are the "Old Glory" books, "Soldiers of Fortune" series, the "Putnam Hall" series and the "Frontier Boys." Writing under a variety of pen names and with numerous secretaries, this author brought out in addition to the above mentioned, boys' lives of many great men.

History of Paper Making

The art of making paper seems to have been known to the Chinese at a very early period. Different writers have traced it back to the Second century, B. C. Paper first became available for the rest of the world in the middle of the Eighth century. It was probably first brought into Greece from Asia. There is record of its use by the Empress Irene about the end of the Eleventh century. The manufacture of paper in Europe was first established by the Moors in Spain in the middle of the Twelfth century.

Oxygen Pumped for Torches

Cutting steel under water with electric torches is entirely feasible, and a good deal of work of that sort has been done. Oxygen is supplied from above for the torches just as it is for the divers.

Bee's Short Working Life

Bees may be industrious, but a working bee lives only about six weeks. At the end of that time its wings are frayed and it dies, not of any particular disease, but apparently from sheer exhaustion.

Long Wait

One way of getting a raise in salary is to wait until the boss appreciates your worth. The only trouble is you are likely to become an octogenarian in the meantime.—American Magazine.

Perpetual Fear

A baby, it is said, has only two fears—loud noise and loss of support. He recovers usually from the former but rarely ever from the latter.—Haverhill Evening Gazette.

South American "Tea"

Mate is the favorite drink of about 15,000,000 South Americans. It is made like any other tea—by steeping and boiling in water until the desired strength is reached.

Showing True Colors

In a will you throw off all the sham and pretense of a complex world. A man's will reveals character as no other document can.—American Magazine.
