Accomplishments of Congressman Rogers

Prompt, courteous and efficient attention to even the smallest desires of her constituents and a sterling record of accomplishment in National affairs as well, should assure Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers' re-election in the Fifth Massachusetts district with a vote even in excess of previous years.

Congressman Rogers' devotion to her district and her attention to the needs of her constituents are well known. Her annual visit to every town and city of her district, in which she meets the citizens personally, keeps her in close touch with the people she represents. There is no matter too small to merit attention, none too large for her to undertake. A Republican—the representation she gives her district is non-partisan so long as it aids one of her constituents or benefits her district. When Congress is in session she is constant in attendance and assiduous in study of legislation before it. When Congress adjourns Rep. Rogers spends her time in the district assisting those who may have dealings with the Federal government and encouraging industries to take advantage of the cooperation Federal legislation extends.

Rep. Rogers has reached the position of being unofficially recognized as the spokesman for World War veterans in legislative matters. She is a member of the World War veterans Committee and chairman of the sub-committee on hospitals of that committee.

Her work for the soldiers began in 1917, in France, and continued for five years at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, with the disabled. President Harding designated her as the Presidential representative in the care of the disabled, an honor which has been confirmed by President Coolidge and President Hoover. Veterans are her strongest supporters, regardless of party lines, as her work on hospitalization is untiring. Hospital bills passed by Congress for $16,000,000 and $15,000,000 are named "The Rogers Bills" in recognition of her work.

Of the accomplishments of her present term in Congress, her almost single-handed battle for the use of Massachusetts granite in postoffice construction is outstanding. In Lowell, where a $350,000 building is under construction the first bids resulted in the contract going to a Midwest firm with Indiana limestone specified. But when construction started—and due only to Rep. Rogers' perseverance, a Lowell firm had the contract. Lowell firms had the sub-contracts and Fifth District quarries will furnish granite instead of Indiana supplying limestone. When the Worcester contract was let, Indiana limestone was again designated but when construction begins—Fifth District granite will be used. Again Mrs. Rogers was on the job.

In the tariff battle Representative Rogers was unceasing in her efforts to protect the workers of the Fifth District. Practically everything the Fifth District called for was obtained as increased employment and better prospects for the future testify. Slowly, the improvement in the cotton and shoe industries is making itself felt—optimism instead of pessimism is permeating the industry. Her efforts to increase the use of goods made in her district are nationally known, her untiring work to bring industry and federal agencies together to better conditions is beginning to show results. The tide has turned and the future will see the fruition of Representative Rogers' work.

Other major accomplishments that might be briefly mentioned include:

- New Post Offices in Lowell and Andover.
- Increased appropriations for construction work on hospital buildings at Bedford.
- New National Guard building at Camp Devens.
- Increased appropriations for Trade Commissioners to sell American Goods in foreign countries and to provide additional commissioner in Boston office of Department of Commerce.
- Appointment of employment agent in Boston Branch of Veterans Bureau to act as liaison between employers and jobless veterans.
- Representation for New England on all commodity committees under Federal Farm Board to assist in distribution of New England farm products.
- Sponsored $31,000,000 new hospital bills for care of the disabled veterans.
- Stimulation of use of cotton, woolen and leather goods made in the Fifth District.

Stimulation of aviation, in particular in its relation as a future asset to business and distribution.

With a record such of service and accomplishments Mrs. Rogers has certainly lived up to the slogan "Always on the Job." On November 4 voters of the Fifth Massachusetts would do well to adopt for their slogan "Keep Her on the Job."

Dean Academy 18—P. A. O.

Dean Academy kept the slate clean for the season by defeating Phillips academy Saturday, 18-0. The boys from Franklin worked to perfection even on the rain-soaked, wind-swept gridiron and taking advantage of the gale at their backs in the first period, pushed over two touchdowns. Their third one came in the last quarter on an intercepted forward pass.

The punting of Tucker for Dean was a big factor in the first two scores while King was below par in his booting. Even with the wind his kicks were not getting the usual distance but were sliding off to the side, due in no little part to the first charging Dean lineman who were hurrying him.

Few forwards were attempted by either team, with Dean having the better luck with their heaves. Andover had little success in carrying the ball and with the exception of a spurt in the third period could not get going against the strong Dean line. In this period Sherry crossed the last line. Andover kicked off again and Tucker made 11 yards on the first play. A long forward, Sherry to Tucker, carried 34 yards to the Andover 16-yard mark and Rideout covered the remaining distance on a sweep around his own left end.

The second period failed to produce any scoring or anything spectacular, both teams resorting to punting frequently. Andover received the kick-off and started down the field aided by King's 30-yard dash in the third period but failed to function after the 30-yard line was reached and gave up the ball on downs after two forwards were grounded.

The punting duel continued through the middle of the last quarter. With the ball in Andover's possession on their own 15-yard line, King attempted a forward that was snared by Herlihy who raced 25 yards for a touchdown.

The summary:

"HOOD'S are too fussy...

that's why I don't sell them my milk"

THIS statement made by a milk producer was intended as an indictment. We took it as a compliment and so pass it on to you.

We are "fussy" about a lot of things. About cleanliness, about scientific sanitation, about equitable relations with those with whom we deal. We are more than fussy about those things that make for Quality in the milk that comes to you with the Hood seal.

If you could visit one of the Hood country plants where milk is received from the Hood farmers every day, you would understand why we were charged with being fussy. If you could visit the dairies where Hood's Grade A Milk is produced you would see at once just what this being fussy means.

We are fussy, but the producers of Hood's Grade A Milk like our fussy ways and give us their whole-hearted co-operation in maintaining the Hood high standards of purity, richness and cleanliness.

Farms regularly inspected by trained experts. Cows examined and tested by veterinarians. Milk tested at the country stations and again at the Hood laboratories. Quality, Quality, Quality. Safety, Safety, Safety. Yes, we're fussy.

RICH MILK—Better than legal requirements for Grade A Milk. Rich all through.

CLEAN MILK—From clean cows, produced under rigid supervision. Hood's standards three times as strict as State laws.

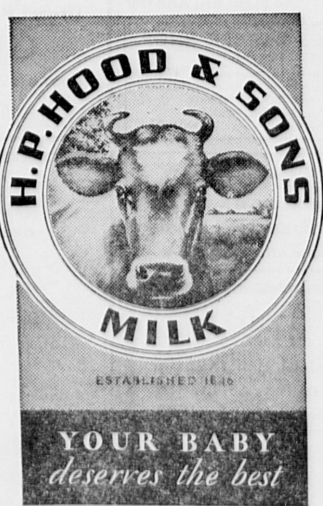

TESTED COWS—From cows tuberculin tested under State and Federal supervision, and then especially selected by our own inspectors.

CLEAN BOTTLES—Bottles are scientifically cleansed and sterilized

SEALED BOTTLES—Double sealed to prevent tampering or contamination.

PASTEURIZED—With the most modern and scientifically correct methods and equipment.

Phillips Academy Notes

The first attraction on the concert schedule for the year will be a program given by Germani, the famous Italian organist, who will play on the evening of Tuesday, November 4th.

The October number of the Phillips Bulletin, which is now being delivered to the alumni, contains, in addition to the regular news items, an article entitled "Vergilus Discovered" by Philip R. Allen, '22, a discussion on the topic, "Small College or a University?" by Alan R. Blackmer, and a biographical sketch of Henry Augustus Rowland, 1848-1901, by Scott H. Paradise. The issue also includes many interesting reproductions of photographs of the new buildings on Andover hill, including the Phillips Inn, the Dining Hall, and the Addison Gallery of Art.

wholly upon published authorities. I have made no original investigation. The field for research is promising and I hope to pursue it as I find the leisure to do so. A considerable section was taken from the territory of the Parish in 1762 by the first settler, John H. Shattuck, who had been known then as the Poor district, the name being given to it by the descendants of Daniel Poor, one of the original settlers of the town, who were living in it.

As compared with $29,249,355 in September last year. This is an increase of $5,981,101, or 20.45 per cent. For the first nine months of the year the figures continue less favorable, reaching a total of $348,421,621, which is some $26,647,085, or 8.14 per cent. greater than last year.

Mortgagee's Sale

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Fatsy Rozi and John Integlia of Andover, County of Essex, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to the Andover Savings Bank, dated May 17, 1926, and recorded with North District Essex Deeds, libro 423, folio 243, for breach of the conditions contained in said mortgage, and for the purpose of enforcing the same, will be sold at Public Auction on the premises hereinafter described on Monday, November 17, 1930, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, viz: A certain parcel of land, with the buildings thereon, situated in said Andover, and being bounded and described as follows: Northeastly ninety-five (95) feet by Maple Avenue; Southeastly one hundred and ninety (190) feet by land now or late of one Beary; Southwesterly one hundred and one (101) feet by land now or late of one John H. Flint; Northwestly one hundred ninety-three (193) feet by land now or late of one H. W. Smith.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETS

At the pond. In 1687, he bought from Thomas and Sarah Abbot a farm of twenty acres at the pond. Here again is something significant: This was Thomas Abbot, Jr., (Abbett in marriage record) later, Captain of Militia, adopted son of the original George Abbot, and his wife Sarah (Sara in marriage record) Steward. It spoils a good tale to have to say that Thomas Abbot, Jr., and his wife never lived on the land, but on their farm at Moor. In the description of the land sold, no, something significant. It was bounded on the north with the land of Samuel Blanchard and on the east with the land of John Frye, sen. on the south with marked trees, the South easterly corner tree being a marked white oak and the south west corner there is a black bush marked, the west side of the land is partly bounded with the land of Stephen Osgood. (This is quoted from George Moor in his Moor Genealogy.) Here surely is more interesting information.

Holden's Independents Win Game

Holden's Andover Independents won a victory Sunday afternoon on the Ballardvale playstead from the Ballardvale Athletics by one touchdown, made in the first five minutes of play. Bissett, Tammany and Skea were the stars for Andover, while Bonner, Stillman, Lawrence and Grealish played well for the Athletics. Sparks caught one forward pass for a substantial game.

Hallowe'en Party

A Hallowe'en party was held last Friday afternoon in the Congregational church vestry by the primary department with fifty-three children present. As the children entered the door, they were greeted by a ghost. Games were played and contests held. Prizes were awarded to the winners. Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies, cup cakes, sliced jello with whipped cream and hot chocolate were served.

Agricultural School Notes

Alumni Banquet and Dance, November Twenty-five. The Essex Aggie Alumni association banquet and dance will be held at Hathorne Park, Parker, Monday evening, Tuesday, November 25. Following a short business meeting of the Association at 5.30 p.m. the alumni and faculty of the school will gather in the Homestead building for the annual banquet at 7.00 p.m. This year the class of 1920 will hold a reunion, thus following the custom which is now well established for ten-year classes to return for the annual banquet and dance. The annual fall dance will immediately follow the banquet. The evening's events are in charge of the Alumni association, Horace J. Shute, secretary-treasurer. Address Essex County Agricultural school, Hathorne.

September Fire Losses

The losses by fire in the United States during the month of September, as compiled from the reports received by the National Board of Fire Underwriters from its member companies continue to show a substantial increase over the monthly figures of last year. Part of this increase is attributable to deficient rainfall in many sections of the country and part is attributed to less efficient housekeeping in industrial plants due to business depression. The September fire loss total reported by the National Board was $35,230,
