Town Meeting May Last for Two Days

One of the Longest Warrants in Recent Years with Many Controversial Articles Stimulates Belief that It Cannot Be Settled in One Day

With the town warrant closed and containing 39 articles, the largest number in a good many years, there is a belief about the town meeting will last more than one day, running over from Monday, March 14, to Tuesday, March 15. This belief is strengthened by the fact that several of the articles in the warrant are controversial and contain "dynamic" parts...

Letter of New Lights

A letter to Frank H. Hardy, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, explaining the whole matter, reads: Dear Mr. Hardy: With reference to your telephone of this morning regarding report of Traffic Engineer Taylor relating to changes and signaling at the junction of North Main Street and South Union Street in Andover, I would say that immediately after I talked with you on the telephone I received said report...

Other Interesting Articles

There is an article asking authorization to take by eminent domain and to pay $550 damages to the Boston and Maine railroad for two parcels of land in the West Parish, known as part of the old Lowell and Andover railroad, in order to keep the shores of Haggitt's Pond from pollution. The state recommended this action after investigating possible sources of pollution of the town's drinking water.

Washington Liked Andover So Much, He Sent His Family Here

Andover has had, from colonial days up through the years to the present, many distinguished visitors but none have either outshined in fame or have been pointed out with more pride than George Washington. The following lines are taken from his diary of November, 1789, in which he recorded a few of his impressions of this visit: "Well Cultivated Andover"

Washington Liked Andover So Much, He Sent His Family Here

At his death the chair was hung with funeral crepe. The two mahogany claw-foot chairs from the Phillips Mansion are on display at the Addison Gallery of American Art at Phillips Academy in conjunction with an exhibition of paintings of Washington in commemoration of the bicentennial anniversary of his birth. It is now a matter of conjecture, as to which chair Washington really sat in because there were two of the same kind in the house. In the intervening years, there has been due to change and difference of opinion this uncertainty.

Never Forgot His Visit

Andover of Revolutionary Days never forgot Washington's visit. His death caused profound grief in this town where he was personally known and revered by so many citizens. At a town meeting the eulogy of this patriot, soldier, and statesman was pronounced by Honorable John Phillips of North Andover.

Tied With Blue Ribbon

Washington then proceeded to the mansion house of his friend, Judge Samuel Phillips, founder of Phillips Academy and later Lieutenant Governor of this State. He was graciously received by Madame Phillips and spent some time in the company of Judge and Madame Phillips and their children. It is recorded with authenticity that, after her distinguished visitor had departed Madame Phillips tied with a blue ribbon the chair in which George Washington had sat and in which she allowed no one thereafter to sit.

Washington Ball Comes Next Monday

Names of People Who Will Take Part in Specialties are Listed Today

Plans for the annual George Washington ball by the Andover Historical Society have gone forward with much care and labor and it promises to excel its predecessors as the sponsors have hoped that it might. The interest shown indicates that a large increase in attendance may be expected this year.

Trouble Brews on Account of Snow Removal

Local Truck Ploughs Want More than They Can Get from B. P. W.

While the attention of the townspeople has been drawn in the past few weeks to the number of men who have been seeking employment from the Board of Public Works, the truck owners of the town have been waging a private war of no mean intensity against the board. They have been fighting about snow removal, their complaint has been that they have not been given as much work as they ought to get.

Work Wanted

Anyone in town who has work to be done of any kind, whether it be chopping wood or painting doors, part-time or full-time, and who is in earnest desire to relieve the unemployment situation in Andover, such as it is, will please call Mrs. Lotta Johnson, public welfare worker, telephone 19 or leave word for her, so that she may be able to place some of the people on her unemployed list. Mrs. Johnson will appreciate deeply the cooperation of the townspeople in this important matter.

Answer to Thief Charges

The answer to thief charges is, in the first place, the outside truck costs the town less money than hiring a local truck; in the second place, the men who operate the outside during snow storms are local men and citizens of Andover; and in the third place, the owner of the truck, which comes from Lawrence, is a taxpayer in Andover for he owns property at Foster's Pond.

Sells Town Equipment

The outside truck is owned by the Lawrence Crushed Stone company which in turn is owned by the New England roads machinery company. The latter has sold equipment for snow plowing to the town. Every year the town spends some money with this organization on its equipment.

CHEAP BREAD Is No Fit Food for Your Baby!

If there is a baby in YOUR house, you are probably already planning for his or her future . . . but right now the big idea is to build up his or her health.

Naturally, in infancy, milk is the only food, but in a short while BREAD, the first solid food, is given the little tot.

Right now most stores are stocked daily with several brands of bread—some are quality products, others are cheaply made to sell at a price. Be on your guard when anyone says, "This is just as good as 20th Century." There's no such thing! The only loaf of bread as good as 20th Century is ANOTHER loaf of the same kind. Remember this, Mothers:

Cheap bread weakens a child's resistance to sickness. Cheap bread is the costliest in every instance.

Insist on 20th Century Bread. You're getting genuine home-like bread . . . you're building UP the health of your child when you give him or her

Track Lovers Will Have Treat at Academy Meet Tomorrow

Andover People Who Want to See Some Schoolboy Records Broken and Some Fine Running and Field Events Will Enjoy Occasion

By James N. Cole The schoolboy track meet of the indoor season takes place tomorrow afternoon at the George B. Case Memorial cage under the auspices of the Phillips Academy Athletic association starting promptly at 2 o'clock.

The meet will be the eighth annual affair to be held by the Academy and has become generally regarded as one of the best interscholastic indoor track and field meetings in New England.

M. Lawrence Shields, manager of the meet, has drawn the entries of 307 boys from twenty-one public high schools in the state. And he has also made up a choice list of ten relay races.

Of course, among them there will be the Phillips Academy and Yale Freshman relay, which should be a magnificent race. Phillips relay team won their annual relay from Exeter last Saturday night at the Boston Arena running the course in 3 minutes 38.4-5 seconds. George de Mare, John Dorman, Joseph Duchesne, Fredrick Harper, and William Walker, 2nd, will run for the blue tomorrow. Yale will be Baldwin, Coombs, Dunbar, Ingersoll and Mertz.

Battle for Honors The battle for top honors is expected to center among Lawrence, Everett, Boston English and Brookline with the writer giving the mill city a slight favorite to carry off the silver shield, given to the team scoring the greatest number of points. Lawrence won in 1926 and will be out to repeat tomorrow.

Newton High won a year ago with 17 2-3 points and the best Coach Ernest Perry's boys could do last year was to gather in a total of 12 1-6 points for fourth place.

Records to Aim At The records at which the young men of the public schools will shoot tomorrow are 4-3-5 seconds for the dash; 5-1-5 seconds, 40-yard low hurdles; 34-3-5 seconds, 300-yard run; 1-18 2-5, the 600-yard run; 2-26 3-5 for the 1,000-yard run; 2-24 3-5 for the relay. Field events: 11 1-4 feet, 11 1-4 inches, the running high jump; 10 feet 2-1-2 inches, standing broad jump; and 50 feet 11 inches for the 12-pound Shot Put.

John Donovan of Lawrence High, one of the greatest schoolboy hurdlers in the history of New England who at the B. A. meet last Saturday evening equalled the 45-yard high hurdle mark in six seconds flat, should break his record in the low hurdles at the cage tomorrow. This is not all Donovan, who is the son of Patrick "Patsy" Donovan, old-time manager of the Boston Red Sox who a few years ago acted as advisory coach of baseball at Phillips Academy, can do. John competes in the high jump and standing broad jump. Recently in a meet against the Phillips Academy Junior Varsity track team, he leaped over the bar at five feet five inches.

Ado Committo, fleet-footed Everett star, is picked to take the 40-yard dash event with a blow of Newton and Edwinstown Roberts the Lawrence flash close upon his heels.

New Records in Making The 300-yard run with Lawrence Scanlon of Boston English, Donald McKee of Everett, Arthur Willis of Lawrence, Cahill from Newton, Higgins a Medford lad, and Battles of Lowell High should prove to be one of the most outstanding events of the day. McKee who is according to experts favored to win will be pressed hard by Scanlon and a new record may be made. Joseph Dineen, present Exeter Academy track captain, holds the record for the 300 in the cage. When running for the Lawrence High team on Washington's birthday, 1930, he made a record of 34 3-5 seconds. James Pender of Lawrence High who can cover the 600-yard run in one minute 24 1-5 seconds will give Joseph Pais of Everett and Murphy of Medford a merry race.

Medford High looks for a first place in the 1,000-yard run with Kosowyc as their star. Cullen of Lowell, Giantonio from Lawrence, Rae of Brookline and Tanner of English all running close.

The standing broad jump has Johnson, a Newton High boy, as the favorite but John Donovan will have something to say about this. I almost forgot to mention John lived in Andover a few years back.

De Gutis of Trade school seems to stand out above others in the shot put event. Put a Lawrence boy Hajjar can toss the iron ball 45 feet 9 inches.

The order of events are as follows: 40-yard low hurdles, trials and semi-finals; 40-yard dash, trials and semi-finals; 40-yard low hurdles, finals; 40-yard dash, finals; 300-yard run, trial heats; 600-yard run, final; 1,000-yard run, final; 1,000-yard run, final; Field Events; Shot Put; Broad Jump; and High Jump.

Awards to Be Made Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded to the winners of first, second and third places in each event; and gold medals to each member of any relay team. A silver shield will be given to the team scoring the greatest number of points. Points will be scored on a 5, 3, 2, 1 basis and three points will be awarded the school whose member, or relay team, betters a meet record. No team will be eligible to win the shield unless it is represented in the relay race. Points will be awarded in comparative times in this event, each team being timed. Five points will be awarded to the team making the best time and one-half point less for each succeeding team.

Men making the fastest times in trial heats of the 300 will be given preference of the pole in the final event. Heats will be run in the 600 and 1,000-yard run; prizes will be awarded according to times made; first, second, third and fourth men will be timed in each heat.

Richard C. Floyd of Harvard will again be Referee of the meet. M. Lawrence Shields, manager of the meet is due for congratulations as athletic chairman of the Phillips Academy Athletic Association for the way these annual affairs are conducted.

Abbot Academy

The talk given by Miss Sophie Chantal Hart of the department of English at Wellesley College, on Saturday afternoon, February 6, was heartily enjoyed. Her perception and keenness of wit were greatly appreciated, and her excellent vocabulary was noted. The young ladies of English had an important achievement in reality for Miss Hart's hearers that reading had been unable to supply.

On Sunday evening Miss Bailey conducted the service in Abbot Hall, and on Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock, she led the first of the Lenten vesper.

The faculty recital of Tuesday evening, February 9 was well received, and the appearance of Miss Theodate Johnson was a new feature of the program. Miss Johnson sang three numbers in a voice which has improved and grown greatly since her days at Abbot.

On Sunday evening, February 14, the girls had the rare pleasure of hearing Miss Bailey read poetry in the Recreation Room. Club Griffoyle opened on Tuesday evening, the 16th. Miss Cynthia James, hostess, saw that all of her guests had a most pleasant time. Various "gentlemen" in all sizes of evening dress and of English lads in an attractive evening gown gave a sophisticated glitter to the affair, and the three-piece orchestra made the evening a great success. In Miss Bailey's absence, Miss Kelsey and Miss Carpenter were the guests of honor, carrying especially lovely flowers.

The Washington's birthday holiday which is almost here, will find everyone on tip-toe to be off. The break in the winter term will make the time seem much shorter until the spring vacation begins on the twenty-fourth of March.

After the return from the holiday, on the twenty-second itself, the next important event will be the lecture by Mr. M. J. Richardson, who represents the Association for the preservation of wild flowers. The lecture, to which no admittance fee will be charged, and to which all friends of the school are invited, is particularly pertinent to conditions here in Andover, where wild flowers are apparently so profuse as to encourage picking. The date of the lecture is February 27.

Report Need for "Opening Purses"

The Andover committee, appointed at the special Town meeting of January 22, reports that relief conditions in Andover do not warrant any specially organized appeal for funds at this time, providing townspeople open their purses a bit wider. The committee, which made the inquiry, comprised Maurice J. Curran, Fred H. Eaton and John F. O'Connell. Their report follows:

"The committee appointed at the special town meeting, held January 22d, talked with officials and representatives of special relief agencies and we are glad to report that funds of the town and of the special agencies are carefully handled, but with a commendable leaning towards generosity.

"There can be no let-up in giving by the people of Andover for the remainder of the Winter, but if all purses are opened just a bit wider we see no reason for any special appeal, or organized drive, in behalf of the needy or unemployed.

"We feel that the work being done by the churches, also in a quiet and unostentatious manner, deserves continued and better support. Through the pastors, and their committees of lay workers, many families are helped who otherwise might have to call upon the Town for aid.

"Your committee is inclined to believe that giving in Andover is now on a more intimate and neighborly basis than elsewhere and it would be well to keep it so. Therefore, we suggest that you make a personal appeal to do your part until the crisis passes. If you have no ready cash to contribute, serviceable warm clothing, particularly for men, can be used by the Red Cross, Board of Health, churches and other special agencies. Boys and girls shoes, in good condition, we know will be appreciated. Furthermore Mrs. Johnson, the Board of Health nurse, can occasionally use a generous pot of soup, stew, or other nourishing foods for invalids."

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our many friends and relatives for their kind expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement. DAVID CUNNINGHAM AND FAMILY

November Club Hears Woman Commissioner

Mrs. Tillinghast of U.S. Immigration Department Explains Work and Problems

"America and Aliens" was the subject of an informative and absorbing talk given by Mrs. Anna Tillinghast, immigration commissioner of Boston before the members of the November Club which was hosted at its community day program, Monday to the officers and members of five local women's clubs. They were the Tuesday Club, the Mother's Club, the Shawheen Woman's club, the League of Women Voters, and the Parent-Teachers association.

The program was the November Club's contribution to the commemoration of the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington.

Undesirable Effects
The Commissioner described the obviously undesirable effects of unrestricted immigration to this country between 1890 and the years immediately preceding the World War.

A condition such as the serious problem of unemployment, prevalent in 1921, which was caused in large measure by the unretarded influx of aliens, has been prevented from recurring by the passage of several immigration laws, putting the number of immigrants on a quota basis. The present problems of unemployment and depression will in his opinion, be worked out satisfactorily.

The questions of non-quota aliens, such as the Canadians, Mexicans, and Newfoundlanders, and the matter of naturalization were taken up by the speaker. The deportation law was explained and clarified, and various anecdotal stories were related to the interested audience of the tricks and wily measures resorted to by those who have sought to enter or remain in the United States illegally.

Among the varied group of offenders are numbered those who cleverly forge legal documents, passports, naturalization papers, and birth and marriage certificates, those who use the temporary status of visitor or student to illegally prolong their stay and dodge the vigilant immigration authorities, and those who fake parentage and relationship to enter and live in this country without right.

The speaker, in conclusion, claimed, with authority, and showed by concrete example that the newly-arrived immigrants are treated, contrary to popular rumor and ill-founded opinion with humanity, kindness, care, and justice.

Next Meeting

In closing, the Commissioner expressed the hope for cooperation between the native and foreign born for the greater good, and progress of the Country.

A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served. Mrs. Philip P. Cole, Mrs. Roscoe Duke, Mrs. John Mercer and Mrs. William Jaquith acted as hostesses.

The next meeting of the November Club will take place at the clubhouse on Locke street, February 29. The speaker is to be Mrs. Annie Russell Marble, a noted civic leader, and teacher.

The art department of the club is to enjoy a trip to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and Mrs. Gardner's Museum on the twenty-fifth. The Drama Department will meet at the home of Mrs. Henry Bodwell, February 19th.

Town Meeting May Last for 2 Days

The bill asking $30,000 for the purpose of widening Main street from the Chapel avenue and the State line is expected to be killed or tabled, for it is expected that in another year this project can be carried forward with the state, county, Phillips Academy and the town sharing the expense, while as the bill now stands, the town would have to pay all.

An article asking registration of unemployed has been filed by Michael M. Dwyer, candidate for the Board of Public Works. Applications for work in the Board of Public Works, Free and Moth Departments must be filed on Fridays for work the following week, the article says. This plan is the one followed by the town of Reading, and there it has worked out well. Several other articles ask for acceptance of ways and additions to streets and extensions of water mains. In next week's Townsman the complete warrant will be published.
