Town's Share of Gas Tax $15,011

Andover will receive $15,011 as its share of the proceeds of the gasoline tax, as the result of a bill signed by Governor Ely recently. The measure provides that from the proceeds of the gasoline tax there will be paid for local highway construction the sum to be apportioned among the municipalities in proportion to the amounts for which they will be assessed for the state tax of the current year.

No Definite Plans on Unemployment

Definite plans as to what should be done about the local unemployment situation have not yet been formed by the emergency committee appointed last week by the Board of Selectmen. The committee met Tuesday evening and discussed the conditions, but no decision was reached. One of the first steps to be taken will probably be that of registering the unemployed. The Board of Public Welfare has attempted to do this in the past, but for some reason, possibly because it seemed connected with charity, very few men registered. Another meeting will be held in the near future.

David Simes was once again the hero of a Poms pond rescue yesterday afternoon about 2.30 when he went to the aid of a woman who was seized by cramps 200 yards out in the pond. Simes, who was a lifeguard at the pond two years ago, swam to her and brought her safely in. Simes has rescued several people at the pond already.

Andover Team Favored to Win Track Meet at Exeter

Victory at Harvard Interscholastics and Season's Performances Indicate a Blue and White Triumph — Records Expected to Fall Tomorrow

Phillips Andover and Exeter academies meet once again in the third annual track classic Saturday afternoon on the Plimpton Playing Fields Beyond, Exeter, N. H., starting time 3 o'clock. As has been proven so many times in previous years the final result of an Exeter and Andover meet is practically impossible to predict beforehand. But after figuring out the times and distances made by each team during the preliminary season, it would be safe to predict an Andover victory by 75 to 51. Because Andover won the Harvard Interscholastics with a total of 62 points, it is favored to win in the New Hampshire hills Saturday afternoon. Exeter on the other hand figures that the meet tomorrow is a dull meet and that they will be competing on their own field, which should be an advantage for the Red and Gray rivals.

Poms Committee Appoints Guards

Six life guards were appointed by the Poms pond beach committee at a meeting Tuesday night. Three will be on for one week and three for the next, and they will alternate this way throughout the summer. John A. Robertson and George Forsythe will act as Senior Guards, while Albert Cole, Albert McCarthy, Irving Whitcomb, and William C. Crowley, Jr., will serve as junior guards. Lillian Donovan will again serve as matron. The committee decided Tuesday evening to open the beach on June 25. The sub-committee in charge of the beach will be: Henry Todd, Joseph I. Pitman, and Herbert Wright. Mr. Wright is chairman of the general committee and Frank S. McDonald is secretary. The Board of Selectmen appointed William A. Harnedy to the committee Tuesday. The other members, in addition to those named above, are James R. Mosher, William C. Crowley, and Charles A. Gregory.

Balancing the Budget

The American public seems to be forgetting that money makes the mare go. Millions of people are today deriding Congress because it has been taking so much time in balancing the budget, but at the same time they protest whenever Congress tries to find a possible source of income. Both the National and the State legislatures have to discover some means of financing the government's activities, but no matter what plans are brought forth there will always be a group to say, "No, it would ruin us and the country if you put a tax on our product."

The General Court of Boston has been considering a one-cent raise in the gasoline tax, but motorists and gasoline men immediately declared that the large trucking interests would be driven out of the state and motorists on the border would ride into the adjoining states for their gas. A tax on cigarettes would ruin the tobacco industry, a levy on amusements would run actors and actresses out of business, and a raise in postal rates would close the doors of the publishing houses. The legislators do not know which way to turn next. On one side they have people saying, "Spend some money on me," and on the other side people saying, "Don't take any money away from me." And all around them they have everyone wondering why they are so slow in balancing the budget.

Practically the same thing happened in Andover. Those who had to pay the taxes demanded, and justly so, that the rate be kept as low as possible. Fortunately, however, the demands on the expenditure side of the ledger, as important as they were received only minimum appropriations, if any. As a result, the town was able to strike a balance with the lowest tax rate since 1917. None of the needs of the town were left without being taken care of with the exception of the appropriation for the charity department, and this was not due to the complaints of the taxpayers but rather to a too optimistic feeling on the part of our various relief agencies.

The solution of the national and state problems would seem to lie in the adoption of a less selfish attitude on the part of the public and a more careful planning of public expenditures on the part of the legislators. No taxpayer has a right to demand that his taxes be entirely removed, but he certainly has a right to demand at a time like this that what he does pay should be used for something absolutely necessary. It seems unfair to the Massachusetts motorist that he should be forced to pay an extra cent on every gallon of gasoline he buys unless it is used for new road construction. Our legislatures should pay a little more attention to where the money is going and then they will probably find that most of the taxpayers will make them up, temporarily at least, and if this is done, the Nation will find, just as Andover did, that the drain on the taxpayer's pocket will be far less severe.

Editorial Cinders

With the resignation of John A. Arnold from the Finance Committee Andover has lost an industrious, tireless worker. Mr. Arnold has served on the committee for three years and was its secretary for two years. Unfortunately his new duties with the Federal Mutual Fire Insurance company in Boston will occupy most of his attention and he will no longer be able to continue his work on the Finance committee. The Townsman wishes Mr. Arnold the best of success in his new endeavors.

It has been called to our attention that the wording in last week's editorial on the new Emergency Committee led to a feeling on the part of many readers that we were criticizing the present town welfare staff. Our suggestion was merely that this committee should have been organized long ago so that the needs of today would not have to wait until all the necessary preliminary steps were taken before they could hope for relief. We did not intend to cast any aspersions on the work of the Board of Public Welfare. The new committee will of course not supplant the town authorities, but instead will conduct a drive for funds to be spent under their direction, since the money will be used to greatest advantage under their capable supervision. Last week's editorial ended with the statement: "The next depression should see Andover better prepared, and it is hoped that when business again goes into a slump, relief efforts will be co-ordinated immediately and not two years and a half after the start of the decline." This was the whole point of the editorial, since we feel that Andover's needs would be better off today if this committee had been appointed long ago to conduct a sustained drive.

Communication

To the people of Andover:
Although I am a sportsman myself and somewhat of an athlete, I have witnessed in the past months the preparation for a "football game" which ended last Tuesday night, the like of which can hardly appeal to the minds of those of you who have the best interests of the town and of your loved ones at heart. I refer to the political "juggling" engaged in by a member of the committee in charge of what to me is the one affair of the town where such biased activities should be absolutely excluded, the one organization on which the safety and future of the coming citizens of our town depends so largely.
In the past years the bathing beach at Pomp's Pond has been for hundreds of parents a swimming place to which they could send their little ones and feel reasonably sure that their return would be safe and unharmed. The committee in charge of such an undertaking should be one which has an active and accurate knowledge of the conditions met with at the pond and should be one which keeps the best interests of the town and the success and safety of the pond activities foremost in their proceedings. Far from that, it seems, has been the actions of an officer of this committee on whom I shall lay the burden of this communication.
If the results of the previously mentioned meeting had been in accord with the benefit of unemployment there would be less need for this writing, but, as has happened, three of the appointees are not the most needy and are far from being as capable as two who have served in the capacity before and who were not appointed. These last two are most capable and have a real need for employment, so it does not seem consistent that they should not be given a chance in place of their inferiors.
Do not think that I have a biased or selfish purpose in writing this, but rather think how much better qualified I am by my five years of service at the pond to know the conditions of which I write. Think rather of how you would feel if someone dear to you were endangered to satisfy the ego of one whose actions detract from rather than add to the success and safety of an enterprise whose object is so desirable.
To the parents of the town I wish to say that, whatever has happened, as far as I am concerned and if my appointment is not rescinded as a result of this only just indication to you of what has happened, my interest in the supervision and protection of your children will not be less because of such

and the parents may feel as assured now as in the past years that everything possible will be done to protect and instruct the children of the town.

Signed,
JOHN A. ROBERTSON

Stowe School Notes

Friday morning a program was given to celebrate Memorial Day. It appears in this week's Townsman under the heading "Observe Memorial Day at Schools."

Orders are now being taken for the eighth grade class pictures.

The following poem was written by Isabelle Fenner of the seventh grade at Stowe.

TO "ANDOVER'S LONE STAR"
To the one who helped make our country great,
I do, this poem dedicate,
"Andover's Lone Star"
What greater a name,
Could a man even desire to claim.
"Our Star" took hardships lightly,
Now he shines ever so brightly.
One of five thousand, maybe more,
Who was tired, weary, and footsore.
Yet he went on,
Following in the footsteps of those who were gone,
Honor him now, sing ye his praise,
And make happy all his days.

The veterans, Joseph Duchesne, Jr., of Lawrence and John Dorman are ready for the gun in the 800-yard run. The mile run will have Daniel Ninde, of Fort Wayne, Ind., and David Putnam of Keene, N. this mark which he made last year. Two other teammates, Llewellyn Collins, Jr., of South Orange, N. J., and John Prescott of Grafton are excellent jumpers, having done around 5 feet, 10 inches. Andover may make a clean sweep in the broad jump with Yale as Ritzman of Durham, N. H., Walter S. Ray A. Graham, Jr., of Roslyn, L. I., captain-elect of the 1932 football team, William Dwyer, an Andover boy, and William Jones of Hingham are the Andover shot-putters. Graham tossed the 12-pound ball in the cage January 25, 1932, a distance of 52 feet, 1 inch. Andover's leaders in the twelve pound hammer are Captain Henry A. Gable, winner of Winnuth, Ill., and Norman Cahners, Gardner will be representing the Blue and White for the last time as he graduates in two weeks. He has been a football star, captained the hockey team twice and has been one of the most popular boys at the school for the past four years. He is coached for Yale. Cahners is the favorite. He tosses the ball well over 170 feet.

In the discus Andover will pin their hopes on Malcolm Millard of Highland Park, Ill., who in the New Hampshire meet threw the plate 126 feet, 8 inches and William Dwyer, who can throw it 123 feet, 8 inches. John Barclay of New Haven, Conn., and Donald Kimball of Kenilworth, Ill., are the Andover javelin throwers. Married Men Lose to Single Men 12-1

In a game that went into extra innings Wednesday evening the single men of the Andover Press defeated the married men, 12-1. The game was originally scheduled to be seven innings, but the married men thought that they might be able to make a hit if another inning were played, and since the single men were far ahead they agreed.

Walter Johnson, who is known around the office as Harold, was in the box for the unmarried boys and twirled a masterful game. The scorer, who was a single man, recorded 25 strikeouts for Johnson in the eight innings, but the married men have made a protest and it will be passed on soon by President Heyder. Blackburn, an ex-Haverford star, was behind the plate.

Alfred Harris, captain of the Benedicts, started in the box but his stay was short-lived, for certain reasons. (Note—The reporter would not give the reasons, because Harris would drop the type before it reached the "Townsmen anyway.") Fredrickson, the most recent addition to the married men's team, relieved Harris and managed to cut down the number of single men's singles.

Several fielding gems were turned in by Collins at third base, who specialized in back hand stops. As a rule the ball had a funny way of dodging the married men when it came rolling toward them, and because of this several single men reached first on errors. At times two of the married men would hold a consultation as to which would stop the ball which was coming toward them, but in most cases the ball did not wait for their decision. Very few errors were made by the single men, principally because their opponents very rarely hit the ball. The outstanding slip for the single men was made by the center fielder, who at the time was trying to think up a few knicks to write about the married men in his "Townsmen" account. Practically the only man in the benedicts' team who did not make an error was Valz who only played for an inning and therefore did not have to accept any chances.

The line-ups follow:
Atlocks: Davis, c.; Harris, p.; f.; Sweeney 1b.; Keogh, 2b.; Paine, s.s.; Collins, 3b.; Fredrickson, p. s.s.; McDonald, c.f.; Dumont, r.f.; Valz, c.f. Schachts: Blackburn, c.; Johnson, p.; Winters, 1b.; Carney, 2b.; Polgreen, s.s.; Renny, 3b.; Coyle, l.f.; Grover, c.; Lannon, r.f.
Stickney umpired.

Police Notes

Wilfred Lepine of Wells, Maine, was fined $100 Wednesday in the first session of Superior criminal court for driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor in Shawshen, January 17. Judge John M. Gibbs administered the fine. Lepine defaulted when his case was first called in Lawrence. Officers Carl Stevens and Arthur Jowett went to Maine and brought him back on a capias. He was fined $100 in the lower court at Lawrence and appealed.

All information regarding the liquor laden truck seized in Andover last week has been turned over to the Federal prohibition officials. According to police the truck was owned by Dominic Costa of Railroad street, St. Johnsbury, Vt., and was operated by Arsilie Aulacone of 18 Main street, St. Johnsbury. It is said that a Ford coupe with registration 402,484, was acting as a convoy to the truck. It was owned, it is claimed, by James Givores of 46 Union street Lowell and operated by Matthew J. Nicolopoulos of Drauc.

Thomas Ward of 74 Auckland street Dorchester was arrested Saturday evening by officer James Walker on a charge of drunken driving after the gasoline company truck and trailer which he was operating crashed into a street railway pole near the Lawrence line, a machine operated by Henry Peatman of Woburn street, Ballardvale and the traffic beacon in Shawshen Village. In District court Tuesday morning the operator pleaded not guilty to charges of drunkenness and operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He was held in $350 bail with the case continued until July 7. Ward was driving south on Main street when he struck the pole near Louie's tea room. He continued along Main street and collided with the Peatman machine shaking up the occupants, Mrs. Fred Caddick of 5 Lynn street, Dorchester, and Miss Sylvia Littlefield of Woburn street, Ballardvale. Next he hit the traffic beacon in Shawshen square.
