50th Wedding Anniversary Is Observed

Well-Known Ballardvale Couple Celebrate Fifty Years of Married Life

Tuesday, June 7, marked the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. Augustus F. Fuller of Ballardvale. The happy couple were united in marriage in Lynn in 1882 at the home of the bride by the Rev. William Spaulding and the Rev. Mr. Gannell.

Mr. Fuller was born in Lynn on July 27, 1852, and lived with his parents in that city until his marriage. He received his education in the Lynn schools and was a well known socialist. Mr. Fuller was born in Providence, Rhode Island on April 24, 1849. He attended the public schools of that city and in 1873 graduated from Brown University, receiving his A.B. degree. In 1876 he entered Bangor Seminary and completed the course of study in two years, graduating in 1878.

Mr. Fuller started in the ministry at Mattapoisett, where he was ordained October 18, 1878 and Mr. and Mrs. Fuller made their residence there until the spring of 1886. Two pastorates followed this appointment, one at West Medway, and one at Billerica, each for three and one half years. This was followed by an appointment at Easton for eleven years. During each pastorate Mr. and Mrs. Fuller left behind them a host of loving friends. In the year 1904 Rev. and Mrs. Fuller came into the lives of the Ballardvale folks, accepting the charge of the United Congregational Church where he worked untriflingly with the younger people, the members of the church roll and the community in general.

Many of their old acquaintances have passed on but on Tuesday, their fiftieth wedding anniversary, many of the old and many new friends called to wish them extended happiness and blessings. Open house was held from two thirty until five o'clock when their friends called and they were showered with many gifts. Flowers were in evidence everywhere and expressed their thoughts as only flowers can. Bouquets were received from Rev. Frederick Wilson, the Davies family, H. J. Gardner, the Byington family, Miss Annie Clemons, Miss

Three teachers, one from Andover, were appointed at the meeting of the School committee Tuesday evening to take the charge of Mrs. Crittenden, Miss Farnham, and Miss Perkins, all resigned. Miss Mary Gertrude Bailey of 38 York street was the local appointee. The only other outstanding business done at the meeting was the adoption of a motion to try the experiment of a single session at the Stowe Junior High school for the coming year.

Miss Alice M. Perkins of Dover, New Hampshire, was appointed to the high school faculty to teach science. She will fill the place left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Crittenden, who resigned following her marriage to the vice-president, and Ruth Mitchell secretary. Amy Phillips was named as delegate to be sent to the Girls' Friendly Society Holiday House at Milford, N. H. for one week.

Bertha Hilton was elected president for the coming year, with Ruth Saunders being chosen vice-president and Ruth Mitchell secretary. Amy Phillips was named as delegate to be sent to the Girls' Friendly Society Holiday House at Milford, N. H. for one week.

Invited guests at the supper were Miss Clarissa Townsend of Newton, Diocesan president of the Girls' Friendly Society, and Rev. and Mrs. Charles W. Henry. Mrs. Howe is retiring as branch president. The gift was presented by the retiring president of the society, Emma Stevens and was accepted with appropriate remarks.

The parish house was prettily decorated, with iris and daisies blending in harmoniously with the orchid and yellow crepe paper which was draped on the tables. The menu consisted of chicken patties, butter beans, potato chips, cole slaw, rolls, ice cream with strawberries and iced tea.

May Use Reserve Funds for Relief

With the monthly appropriation accounts for May showing a very small balance left in the Soldier's relief funds, as announced in last week's Townsman, the question arises as to what will be done when the appropriation is exhausted. At the beginning of the year there was no indication that the amount needed would be more than last year's expenditures, and because of this, no increase was asked for in the annual warrant. However, it appears now that the funds will run out long before the end of the year. In the event that they do, the Board of Public Welfare may with the permission of the Finance committee draw from the reserve funds in the treasury, or the town assembled in special town meeting may appropriate additional funds.

Soldiers' relief disbursements are given to those Andover residents who enlisted from this state and had a settlement here. If a veteran comes in from out of the state he must reside here for five years without receiving any aid before he is entitled to soldier's relief.

Women Voters' Gymkhana Proves Outstanding Success

Harriet Cole Adjudged Best Horsewoman, Elizabeth Weaver Wins Award for Most Improvement and Elizabeth Kurth Receives Prize for Best Pet

Despite a hot sun that beat down unmercifully last Saturday afternoon, the Gymkhana sponsored by the Andover League of Women Voters attracted several hundred people to the Cornelia Wood estate at Shawheen Village. Early in the afternoon it was evident that the affair would be a great success financially as well as socially. Cars were parked from the bridge over the Shawheen almost into the center of the village and many others were parked inside the grounds.

The Cornelia Wood estate at Shawheen having been able to secure the Wood estate for the Gymkhana. There was ample room for everything, with some of the pets being on exhibit in the stables, others in a ring to the rear, and the horsemanship show in an enclosure at one corner of the spacious grounds. Down near the pond refreshments were served with a band providing music, while children enjoyed themselves by riding in the boats or by sticking their feet in the water when mother was looking the other way.

Register Now!

The Andover Emergency Committee is now trying its hand at registering the unemployed. The town Board of Public Welfare and the local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars have both made an attempt to list those out of work, but neither has been successful.

payers who cannot afford an increased rate with the recent boom in valuation, but there are also town employees who cannot stand the loss of two weeks' pay, especially after having just given to the Lawrence Chest and to almost every other conceivable charitable organization which sees in the town employees an excellent chance to secure funds.

Everyone seems willing to go to a factory to see the manager about work, but the minute the town offers to help those who want jobs, most of the unemployed refuse to leave their names. If anyone wants a job today, he must go after it. No work will come to him who stays at home or idles around the street corners; it is the go-getter who will secure the position while others who would not apply remain dissatisfied and complain about everybody from Hoover down to the lowest town official.

Unjustifiable Discrimination A report from the chairman of the Andover Emergency committee yesterday left the impression that the fire and police departments, selectmen, clerks and janitor of the town had voluntarily given up two weeks' pay for the unemployed funds. Investigations however would seem to indicate that the town employees were asked to give up part of their pay. If this is so, it seems an entirely unfair method of securing funds.

If there were the possibility that some had secured or some received their pay every week without earning all of it, this method would be justifiable in these particular cases; but the Townsman is sure that those who work for the Town of Andover earn their pay just as any other class of employees. They are distinguishable in no way from other classes. Some people will feel that the emergency committee's action is justified because the town help is sure of fifty-two pays a year, but so are some of the other workers in Andover. If the committee went around to every man or woman in town who receives a weekly stipend and said: "You had better give us two weeks' pay; it is your duty to do this," the fund would not grow very rapidly.

The flurry of excitement at the beginning of the week about the calling of a special mass meeting for the discussion of the unemployment situation fortunately has subsided for the time being. There had been a feeling throughout town when the Emergency Committee was first appointed that nothing constructive would be done, and as time went on without any of the committee's plans being made public, this feeling was intensified. The sponsor of the mass meeting called it off when he was informed that some action would be taken immediately. This seemed a fair thing to do, since the committee should be given a chance to solve the problem in its own way. The question of publicity as regards official or semi-official actions is one which has long bothered Andover, and undoubtedly the mass meeting would never have been considered if the committee had offered something definite to the public through the press. The complete plans were given out Tuesday evening, however, so that the unemployed no longer suspect that nothing will be done.

Engagement Announced Announcement was made this afternoon of the engagement of Miss Dorothy L. Patten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Patten of Nashua, New Hampshire, to Kenneth S. Minard, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Elmer Minard of Boston. Miss Patten is a graduate of Smith College and is now a member of the faculty of Abbot Academy. Mr. Minard is a graduate of Brown University and has an M.A. degree from Harvard. He is now an instructor at Phillips Academy.

(Continued from page 1) with observation. She has spent considerable time in Andover schools consulting with and observing the present supervisors. A rule of the school committee requires two years' experience, but in Miss Bailey's case this rule was waived. The work of working under the direct supervision of the art supervisor. Miss Jenkinson was also appointed without experience for the same reasons. Miss Perkins will come for a salary of $190. Miss Oliff for $180 and Miss Bailey for $110.

Single Session Adopted Two months ago Frederick Smith, newest member of the school committee, made a suggestion that a single session be adopted at the Stowe Junior high school. The committee adopted this suggestion at the meeting Tuesday, the reasons given being: (1) to reduce the length of the school year, and to get away from home; (2) to reduce the work of long non hours. The sessions will be from 8:30 to 1:45, with a half hour for lunch. This is done primarily for those who live away from the center of the town and who therefore must spend the present hour and a half non recess at school. The principal objection raised in the early discussion of the plan was that Stowe had no equipment for hot lunches. However, it is expected that some arrangement will be made whereby hot food can be made available to the pupils in the winter. All the janitors were appointed at the same salary with the exception of the West Center school janitor who will hereafter receive only $22 a year since only one room in the building is to be used at present. The committee also approved the continuation of the present bus drivers with the understanding that there may be salary adjustments later because of the possible changes in bus schedules due to the adoption of the single session. When the matter of the truant officer appointment was taken up, two names were suggested, Robert Dobbie and John Campbell. Dobbie is the present officer. The matter was left in the hands of the superintendent, who will report to the committee, which will come in the early fall. The chairman of the sub-committees were vested with the usual authority to act in emergencies and report in the fall to the general committee.

Contracts Awarded Bids on several items were received and the contracts were awarded to the lowest bidder. C. S. Buchan was the only bidder on six "Force" shades for the Samuel Jackson school and three for the Bradley school. His bids were $42 and $19.50 respectively. Roof work to be done at the Bradley school was awarded to Horne and some work at the old high school, the passageway between the old and the new, and the Stowe school was awarded to Wilson. Definite bids were not received on either job, but it is estimated that neither will cost more than $50. J. E. Pitman, with a low bid of $55.02, received the contract for miscellaneous carpentry work on various buildings, electric wiring in one room, the hall and basement of the West Center school with switches will be done by Charles Hill, who bid $74. John Schermer with a bid of $100 won the painting job at the West Center school. The building, which will receive two coats of white paint, according to specifications Schermer will also do some miscellaneous painting around the various buildings for $133, while William Holden will do the basement work and the ceilings at the John Dove school.

The Finance committee reported that the Duffy bill for concrete work which had created a mixup at the end of last year had been paid out of a special fund. It was also moved that the matter of disposing of the old power mower be left in the hands of the Finance and Grounds committees. A list of textbooks was submitted for approval. They follow: "An Introduction to American Civilization," by Harold Rugg, published by Ginn and Company; "Change in Civilization in the Modern World," by Rugg, published by Ginn; "Our Book World," Primer, New First Reader, New Second Reader, and New Third Reader by Miss Florence Piper, Tuttle reading specialist and lecturer, published by Longmans, Green and Company. The financial statements for the month ending June 7 follows: General expense, $538.40; Expense of Instruction, $10,861.81; Textbooks and Supplies, $232.71; Janitor's Salaries, $757.30; Fuel, Elementary, $126.55; Janitor's Supplies, $142.91; Repairs, $490.68; Health, $319.39; Transportation, $1,110.56; Tuition, $259.54; Total, $14,839.85.

Formally Protests Appointments A complaint against the recent appointments to the position of life-guard at Poms pond was made in a letter sent yesterday to the school committee by John A. Robertson, who were chosen senior guards. Robertson sent a letter last week to the Townsman, and he followed it up yesterday with a formal protest.

The two senior guards assert that safety instruction and the regulation of activities at Poms Pond will not be effectively realized this year with the two shift arrangement and with inefficient guards. They feel that the action of the committee will not permit of the best handling of the pond program, and because of this they state that "the responsibility for any mishap which may be attributed to your actions shall be carried directly by you."

Poms Pond Committee, Andover, Mass. Gentlemen: In the past years three features have been stressed in the regulation of activities at Poms Pond Swimming Beach. The safety of those attending has been the first of these, the instruction of the children by the latest methods of teaching next, and lastly the exclusion of undesirable as much as possible so that contact with them by the others attending might not affect the inclinations of the latter.

Through the actions of your committee, the feasibility of the furtherance of such a triple purpose has been greatly increased. Safety is obtained by having interested, capable, and vigilant guards. Your actions have not increased the interest in their work of those appointed, nor is the capability of at least two of them evident to ones such as ourselves who have had the opportunity to see them in such an environment over a period of years but also to pass on their qualifications, while two who made application and were not considered, one of whom is David Smith, have immensely higher ability to see trouble and to act in the most efficient method to overcome it. The prime necessity for instruction of a large number of children in teaching them to swim is that they be taught by class work instead of individual attention and anyone claiming that any kind of instruction cannot be as efficient with different instructors control the activity on different weeks, the one not knowing just what has been given by the other and neither instructor being in a position to follow closely enough the progress of each student to prescribe special exercises best for the learner. Again it has been, as stated above, considered essential to exclude undesirable such as profane, rough, or immoral persons, and it is obvious that under an alternate control it would be quite useless to exclude a person one week if he knows that on the following week those in charge will immediately not recognize him as a previous offender.

In former years we have felt ourselves willing to assume these obligations and to take the responsibility for any happening in relation to them. Under the present conditions, due to your actions, we cannot see how such a program can be efficiently carried out, and feel that, while we shall do our best as in former years to insure safety, the responsibility for any mishap which may be attributed to your actions shall be carried directly by you, and it shall be yours for which to account. Of this feeling we wish to make record. JOHN A. ROBERTSON GEORGE FORSYTHE

Numerous friends of the bride couple were present.

Exeter and Andover Meet in Baseball Classic Saturday

New Hampshire Nine Has Had Better Preliminary Season Record, but Andover Boys Have Shown Much Promise—Game at Brothers Field

by James N. Cole

On Brothers Field tomorrow afternoon a throng of graduates and undergraduates of Phillips Andover and Phillips Exeter academies will pause for an hour or more to watch the fifty-first annual baseball game between the blue and white and the red and gray.

At three o'clock when Empire-in-Chief Edward Kellier of Cambridge announces "Play ball!" the Andover nine will go out on the field ready to duplicate its achievement of 1930, when the over-confident Exeter warriors were upset 4-2. Incidentally the 1930 score in the same as last year's score; only Exeter was the winner.

Under the coaching of Karl Billhardt, the Andover nine took its preliminary season in stride and defeats rolled off the Andover bats like water off a duck. It is the Exeter game that the Andover boys point toward.

This season the Andover nine led by Captain George O'Neil, curly blonde-haired veteran catcher of a year ago, has won but three games in a dozen played. This does not include the game in which the Andover Town team defeated the Billhardt-coached nine.

The Blue and White has been stepped on by Tufts Freshmen 15-7, Boston University Freshmen 7-2, Boston College Freshmen 20-6, Yale Freshmen 10-3, New Hampshire Freshmen 6-3; Harvard Junior Varsity 6-3 in 14 innings; Huntington School 7-3, Holy Cross Freshmen 11-2, and St. John's Preparatory school of Danvers 6-2. But right in the middle of this drab aspect, the Andover team exploded in the face of the Harvard Freshmen nine and won 9-8. The other two bright lights in the Andover gloom were victories from the Governor Dummer Academy nine (in the private school class) 5-1 and the Kirkland House dormitory nine of Harvard 20-6.

Exeter's preliminary record this year is a little better than Andover's.

They have defeated such teams as Huntington school, a team that won from the blue and white; Norwood High School, Yale and Holy Cross Freshmen, both of which scored triumphs over the Andover nine. They also defeated among others Worcester, Cambridge Latin, and Hebron Academy.

Now on the other side of the ledger we find

Coach Simon Murch's Red and Gray nine dropping games to the Harvard Freshmen, a team which Andover won from Tufts, Brown, Boston College Freshmen, St. Anselm's and St. John's Preparatory teams also defeated the Exeter team.

Karl Billhardt, Andover coach was undecided Wednesday concerning his pitching choice. He named two boys. But our guess is that the win will go to Michael Reiter, a south-paw pitcher from College Point, N. Y. He is the same lad that pitched for the Andover team against Exeter last year and who did a fine job in the box.

Coach Billhardt's other boy is the 16-year-old boy, Montague Mead of Washington, D.C., a right hander who has done well in the box this season.

Captain George P. O'Neil, a hard fighting athlete from Sewickley, Pa., and who has been a letterman in both football and hockey, will do the catching behind the plate tomorrow. O'Neil will be singing his swan song, for he graduates next week.

Malcolm McTear of New York, Andover Town boy and former star athlete at Pynchard High School, who last fall played on the Academy football eleven, is slated to hold down the left field berth. McTear last year while at the High school was awarded the Carl Rust Parker Memorial prize as the best student athlete in the school. He has continued his good work at the academy.

The centerfield assignment is a toss-up between Edwin Pomerleau, 16-year-old Lawrence boy, and the son of Peter L. J. Pomerleau who in his college days was a smart ball player, and George Stevens who played on the all-club team last year. Frederic Weaver will play in the right field.

Andover's infielders will be Robert Cooke from Paterson, N. J. covering first base. Cooke has made a great improvement in his playing this year and makes a good man for first base. Cooke has already made a letter in hockey. Mather Whitehead, another resident from the state of New Jersey, will play first base. He is the same young Mr. Whitehead that played in the Andover backfield last fall. When he hits a baseball it goes for extra bases. Louis Willard is named to cover the short field in tomorrow's game. Andover's third baseman will be Paul Corrigan, who played with the All Club team last year and he also hit a home run in the game against the Exeter All Class team.

He was born in Sweden 88 years ago. For many years he was employed as a gardener but for the past few years he had a farm of his own.

He is survived by his wife, Johanna; one son, Charles Benson of Concord, N. H.; Barbara Benson of Concord, N. H.; and Stanley Benson, of Montreal, Quebec.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from the late home. Services were conducted in the Free Christian church at two o'clock by Rev. Frederick A. Wilson, D.D., pastor emeritus. During the services Mrs. K. A. Parisian rendered "Abide With Me" and "He Leadeth Me". Interment was in Spring Grove cemetery.
