Mrs. Hansen is confident that the 1932 ummer school will be the most successful ver held in Andover, and that the children ill receive great benefits from it.

Shawsheen Man Finds Odd Flower

A most unusual floral specimen has been found by William Thompson in the garden at his home, 6 Argyle street. He has counted eighty-one blooms growing from one bulb of a regal lily. The blooms have been appearing at the rate of more than twenty a day, and Mr. Thompson expects that by Sunday or Monday the flower will be in full bloom. He is very anxious that all Andover garden lovers interested in seeing this remarkable plant come within the next ten days to examine it. The flower is in his front yard, opposite the Shawsheen hospital.

Employees Assist

A gliupse into our neighboring towns down the line, Reading and Stoneham, shows that there as well as here the town employees are doing their share in helping out the relief situation. The Reading muni-opal workers are giving a ten percent salary ontribution for relief expenses, and in Stoneham it is expected that the employees will give five percent for the remainder of the year. The action of the Reading employees probably makes unnecessary the calling of a special town meeting to appropriate money for the welfare and soldiers' relief departments. The Stoneham unemployment committee has raised between $3000 and $4000, but more is needed.

Spending Faster

The town spent $37,962.62 less in the first six months of 1932 than in the corresponding period of 1931, according to figures prepared by Town Treasurer Thater Eaton during the week. However, the amount spent this year is more than half of the total appropriations for 1932, whereas the expenditures a year ago were not up to the fifty per cent mark.

a year ago were not up to the hitly per cent mark.

The expenditures through June 30, 1932, amount to $260,976.49 as compared with $298,939.11 a year ago. However, the appropriations this year amounted to $521,155.07 and in 1931 to $603,021.22. Other items such as income and corporation tax refunds should also be taken into consideration, but these figures are not available as yet. However, it has been predicted that the income from this source would be less this year. If one were to consider the appropriations and expenditures alone, the town would have a balance of $260,178.58 this year as compared with $304,082.11 a year ago.

outstanding Citizens

The town employees have one again showed their excellent public spirit in the matter of vacations. A state law passed in 1914 requires that regular town laborers be given a two weeks' vacation each year without loss of pay, but at this time Andover's public workers have co-operated admirably in eliminating the extra expenditure made necessary by the hiring of outside help for such vacations. The police officers, who have received two weeks each year in the past, have virtually given up their vacation, for although they are having two weeks off, they have all relinquished their days off each week so that the town treasury would not have to meet the usual vacation demand. In other words, they are all working seven days a week for fourteen weeks to make up for the fourteen days they are away, whereas normally they would work six days a week and still have the two weeks' vacation.

The same story is true for the other but present indications point to a total expenditure of more than twice that amount.

If this goes on, we will soon be counting the Morse and Dickenson workers among the town's permanent employees. Every year it is said that it will be finished soon, but "soon" never comes. The townspeople cannot fail to be indignant about the carrying out of this project. No one likes to purchase anything on the condition that it will cost a certain sum and then find that he must continue to pay indefinitely.

We have been told that the low tax rate can be attributed to this survey. Possibly it can, but no one is fooled by this statement. The taxpayer is more concerned with the total amount he has to pay and not with how much he has to pay per thousand dollars of valuation. What good is a three dollar decrease in the tax rate if it is made possible by a big boost in valuation?

This plan was evidently entered into blindly, with no thought as to just how long the work would last. To receive any value for money already expended, we will have to continue until the whole town is revalued, so that all the tax payers are placed on the same basis, and it is this that is so irritating to townspeople.

It is time to put a stop to something that has almost become a permanent fixture. When an appropriation for the assessors' survey is asked next year, the voters should grant it only on the absolute assurance that it will be the last. We elect an assessor each year, and we do not intend to start in hiring permanent assessors.

Rev. Frederic Palmer, D.D., rector of Christ Church for a quarter of a century from 1888 to 1913, died last Monday at the home of his brother, Professor George Herbert Palmer, 11 Quincy street, Cambridge. Dr. Palmer had been failing in health since the first of the year and had been confined to his bed for the past three weeks.

Dr. Palmer, known and beloved by all workers in the Episcopal church of this district, was famous throughout the United States as a lecturer and writer. He was born in Boston on August 6, 1848, the son of Julius A. and Lucy Manning (Peabody) Palmer.

In 1869 he received his A.B. degree from degree of bachelor of sacred Incology from the Andover Theological Seminary.

From 1874 until 1878 Dr. Palmer was pastor of a Congregational Church in Revere. He then became a deacon in the Protestant Episcopal Church, and in 1879, as priest, became assistant minister of Emmanuel Church in Boston. He remained there for a year, taking charge of a parish in Jenkintown, Pa. from 1880 until 1888. In the latter year he came to Christ Church in Andover, where for twenty-five years he remained as rector. In 1913 he discontinued his work in the pulpit to become lecturer on homiletics at the Harvard Divinity School.

Tennis Tournament at Balmoral Courts

The Balmoral courts

The Balmoral tennis courts will be the scene Monday of a mammoth tennis tournament for children between the ages of 8 and 14. The contests, sponsored by the Balmoral Spa, will be under the direction of Henry J. Simmers and James N. Cole. No charge will be made for the use of the courts, and tennis balls will be provided for the players.

There will be two classes, for children under 11 and for those over that age. If enough girls make application, there will be a separate tournament for them. Otherwise the girls will play against boys of their age. Entries will not be accepted after 6 o'clock on Saturday, when drawings will be made at the Balmoral Spa. Any boy or girl between the ages of 8 and 14 in Andover, North Andover, Lawrence, or Methuen may enter the tournament. In making application, the boys and girls should give their full name, their age, and also their telephone number, if any. The play will start 9 o'clock Monday morning and will continue until dark. The players should be properly attired, and every contestant must wear sneakers.

Trizes will be awarded to the winners in the various classes. Further information can be secured by communicating with Mr. Simmers state that the purpose of the contests will be to interest the youngsters of Andover in tennis and that every boy or girl should enter regardless of what he thinks his chances of winning may be.

H.:P. Hood 3; Sherrill 1

The H. P. Hood nine tightened up the the League last Friday night by defeating the league leading Sherrill club at the Playstead 3-1. A three-run third inning gave the Hood team the victory. In this inning a walk, an error, and a Lindholm single accounted for two runs, while another run scored when Fettes made an error. Ken Wallace starred for the Sherrillites with two hits out of two times at bat.

Wildcats 11; Post Office 6

The Postoffice nine lost their fourth consecutive game Wednesday evening when the Shawsheen Wildcats outscored the mailmen 11 to 6. "Fran" Daly hurled for the losers and turned in a good game, but weird fielding in the 6th inning by his mates allowed 9 runs, and caused the defeat.

Morgan and Webster were the star batters, the former thumping out a long triple while "Web" slammed out three lusty singles.

Bobby Walker pitched for the winners and I had able support from "Stretch" Pearson, Punchard star.

Concerning Hairs

A German scientist has numbered the hairs on a human head and finds that the average brunette's total is 121,360. Blonds have about 20,000 more and red heads around 30,000 less. So, while a red hair is more conspicuous on a coat collar than one of the brunette persuasion, there are 30,000 less chances for a red one to find a resting place and that's a scientific fact worth taking into consideration.—

35 Years As

4-H Club Members

More than one hundred young people returned from a gloriously good time at the 4-H Camp in Boxford Saturday night.
Andover sent nine members from the several clubs. A party of leaders were present on Friday night when prizes were awarded for the various types of camp work including nature collections of bugs, butterflies, and wildflowers, various kinds of handcraft, etc.
Joseph Hanson of the "Forest Preservers" was awarded the highest honor by being chosen the boy "Camp Spirit" of 1933. He will be the special guest of the 4-H clubs of Essex County in camp in 1933.
This honor is bestowed upon the boy and the girl who in the minds of the leaders best live out during the week campspirit, a willingness to do for others and good sportsmanship.

During the candle-light service Miss Viola Messer of Methuen who has been a delegate to the National 4-H camp in Washington, D. C. passed on to the spirits of 1952 a light from her candle brought from there. This boy and girl in turn gave light from their candles to those chosen for 1953. Four campers were chosen who had shown the best illustrations of the 4-H's, namely head, heart, health, and hands. Their candles were lighted, other candles were given to camp members and inally the entire room was aglow from candleight alone. Songs and other features were introduced during the aglow from candletight alone. Songs and other features were introduced during the ceremony which was led by Harvey Letand, one of the State Leaders.

The Camp was in charge of Horace J. Shute, County Club Leader, who deserves much credit for the able way in which all was handled.

The assistants are those who are giving unsparingly and without charge to make possible the week rich in its influence for high ideals and happy living for club delegates, the chef alone receiving any pay for his services.
