The first event was the Sunday service at 10.30. In the evening the vesper service was characterized by a series of songs. Monday afternoon an informal tea was enjoyed from three to five, and Monday evening the climary of the celebration came in the anniversary dinner. Wednesday the Merrimack River Baptist association held a convention at the church.

The Sunday Sermon

Rev. Mr. Bartlett in his sermon dwelt on the living Church of Jesus Christ, "the cornerstone of which was laid nineteen enturies ago. The sermon follows in part:

"Blessed be the Lord God of our fathers who hath put such a thing as this in the king's heart, to beautify the house of the Lord which is at Jerusalem." (Pz. 7.27)

"Geautiful in elevation, the joy of the whole earth, is Mount Zion, on the side of the north, the city of the great king." (Ps. 48:2)

Appear at Meeting
A group of four men headed by William
A. G. Kidd, the sponsor of the last town meeting, were given a hearing at the meeting of the Emergency committee Monday evening, but nothing in the line of results were obtained since the line of results were obtained since the four were self-delegated and not true representatives of the unemployed. The requests made were that more money be spent for unemployment relief and that the 40 cents per hour wage now given yell the committee be increased to 50 1-15 cents per hour, the rate given the steady workers for the town.

In answering for the committee, John F.
O'Connell, stated that the amount spent was dependent on the amount contributed, and that the committee was seeking the co-operation of the unemployed in getting funds.
Forty cents per hour, he added, is more than other towns pay, and the committee could see no advantage in paying a higher rate and giving less hours. Both matters had been considered at the town meeting with same result.

Cash, Jewelry, and Home Lost in Fire

The local fire department was called early Wednesday morning to a fire just over the town line in North Reading which destroyed about $1000 in bills left in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Boylan, proprietors of a fried clam establishment on the Reading road. The cottage was burned to the ground at an estimated damage of $5000, and it also destroyed some valuable jewelry owned by Mrs. Boylan. Defective wiring was advanced as the cause of the fire.

Mrs. Boylan had neglected to place the money, receipts from the fried clam stand, in a bank, because she felt it was safer in her

Planning Rally for High School Team

Last week the Danvers-Punchard football game proved the popularity of high school football in Andover, and accordingly the alumni association is planning a monster rally for next Friday night. The local team plays Amesbury a week from tomorrow and in order to keep up the town's support of the high school aggregation, a parade will be held through the town with red lights and the school band stirring up enthusiasm. A demonstration is being planned for the front of the town hall. Programs at five cents will be sold tomorrow at the Needham game and also at the Amesbury game.

Tax Association to Hold Election

The directors of the Andover Taxpayers association at their next meeting Monday night will appoint a nominating committee to chose 27 nominees to be presented to the members of the association for election. This number will include three competing candidates for each position on the board of directors as stated by the by-laws of the organization. Election ballots will be sent to the members by mail in November with the candidates listed in alphabetical order. The association has received an invitation from the New England Council of Taxpayers associations to delegate three members to attend the convention of that body to be held in November.

Republicans Form District Council

A Republican District Council has been organized in Andover under the chairmanship of William A. Trow of Lowell street, Shawsheen, to co-operate with the Republican Town committee of Andover in all their work in connection with the coming election
Their first object is to raise funds necessary for the work of both State and Town committees. The council states that they feel assured of the support of not only all loyal Republicans, but many others who, whatever their party affiliations may be, must realize the necessity of electing Herbert Hoover to the Presidency of the United States for another terms oa sa to ensure a continuity of policy and avoid the danger of a change of administration in this crisis. The executive committee of the Council is formed as follows: William A. Trow, chairman, 31 Lowell street; W. M. Fitzitugh, secretary, 15 Morton street; Mrs. Annie S. Angus, 119 Main street; Mrs. Esther W. Smith, Os Shawsheen road; and Harry Sellars, 5 Avon street.

Those interested in helping the Council are asked to communicate with any of the above-mentioned. Subscriptions may be sent to John M. Erving, treasurer of the Republican Town committee of Andover. Offers to act as canvassers and helpers in the work will also be welcomed by the committee.

The following appeal for fruit and farm produce was received at the Townsman office Tuesday morning:

"It is difficult to find a class of people who are suffering more from the depression than engineers, architects, and their assistants. Highly educated, cultured, refined men who have given their best to our civilization and yet suffer with the rest. Each day brings to our attention the heroic attitude of some of these splendid men.

"The Emergency Planning and Research Bureau of Boston, Inc., sponsored by the Boston Society of Architects and combined Engineering societies of Boston, are doing every thing in their power to relieve the situation. They are making an appeal for fruit and farm produce. We would like to send a truck load for Andover. One half a truck load of apples has been donated. Anyone having donations to add to make up full load may leave same in the garage of G. Edgar Folk, 75 Chestnut street, or notify him and the materials will be called for."

After the singing of "America," Father Charles A. Branton, O.S.A., will give the benediction.

Post Office History

Post Office History

The first post office in Andover was located in the Abbot tavern. This was in 1795. During the postmastership of Jonathan Swift the office was located at his colonial residence at the corner of Central and Brook streets. The third office was located in the square where Campion's store was formerly located. In 1859 it was transferred to the present location of the Board of Public Works in the town hall. In 1897 the Musgrove building had its turn, and in 1917 the present office was taken over.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stanton (Woodbury)
Evans passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George M. R. Holmes, 39 Bartlet street, Sunday afternoon, October 9th, in her eighty-fifth year. She was the daughter of Capt. William and Rozella Woodbury and was born in Gloucester, Mass., June 20, 1848. She was one of ten children of whom a brother, Austin R. Woodbury of Chattanoga, Tenn., is the only survivor.

Mrs. Evans was married to Nathaniel W. W. Tufts of Boston in 1873 and went to Worcester to live. Mr. Tufts was forced, on account of his health, to go to California taking his wife and daughter with him. He passed away in 1875. Mrs. Evans and her daughter came to Chelsea and made her home there with her mother for many years. In 1897 she married Robert A. Evans and they later moved to Cambridge where they lived for a number of years. Later they went to Piermont, N. H., where Mr. Evans died some eleven years ago. On the death of her

Ira B. Hill, 71, died Tuesday evening at his home on Lupin road after a short illness. The greater part of his life was spent in Andover, although he was born in Lyndeboro, N. H. The late Mr. Hill was well known throughout town as a charter member of Andover lodge, 230, 1. O. O. F., a member of St. Matthew's lodge, A. F. and A. M., and a post master of the Grange. In January 1925 four members of the Hill family were installed as officers at the Grange, with Mr. Hill taking over the mastership, Mrs. Hill becoming Ceres, and their two daughters, Marion and Giadys entering the offices of lecturer and treasurer, respectively.

Besides his wife, Emma F., and his two daughters, he leaves to mourn his loss as brother, Fred M. Hill of North Andover and two nephews.

This afternoon at 2.30 a Masonic funeral is being held from his home and interment will be in Spring Grove cemetery.

Sparks Fly as Legion

(By the Stoneham Independent) STONEHAM—A group of more than fifty taxpayers and Legionnaires assembled in Legion Hall last week to discuss local tax situations and to organize some sort of taxpayers' association to investigate local financial problems of the town and perhaps to influence and direct beneficial changes. The result was a heated session of argument and debate following talks by two National Economy League speakers, the appointment of organization and nominating committees and the decision to meet again next Monday evening.

Concord Legion Post Against Cash Payment

(By the Concord Herald)

CONCORD—Resolutions against immediate cash payment of the veterans' adjusted compensation, or the so-called bonus, were sent last week to state and national head-quarters of the American Legion by the James J. Mansfield Post of the legion. This action resulted from a resolution passed at a meeting of the post deprecating the recent votes by the department and national head-quarters of the legion in favor of the payment.

School Employees of Ipswich Donate Pay

(By the Ipswich Chronicle)

IPSWICH—Employees of the School Department recently met to consider what could be done by them to help relieve the unemployment situation, and it was voted to donate five per cent of four months' salary to be expended on a project to be selected by a committee consisting of the school principals. The total contribution will approximate $1450. The fund will be used to develop an athletic field, the men employed to be designated by the Unemployment committee.

Reading Legionnaires Hit Economy League

(By the Reading Chronicle)

READING—Local World War veterans viewed with some concern the first efforts made in the town to sign up members of the National Economy League which took place at the Reading Taxpayers association meeting the other night. Many of the Reading veterans feel that much of the league's propoganda against veterans' benefits is not a complete picture of the situation.

No action on the recent developments has been taken by the local Post, 62, American Legion, but individual Legionnaires claim that all of the facts about veteran benefits are little known by the average man. They say that it is incorrect to assume that the entire a mount of the national tax bill alloted to veterans goes to World War veterans, that this includes Civil War, Indian wars, Spanish War, Philippine insurrections, and other benefits and pensions.

They say further that many of the sums paid for so-called non-service received in the service but for which the war records are lost.

Shown at Gallery

Tremendous interest is being shown in the collection of pictures now on display at the Addison gallery. Forgetting names and selecting the works, guided merely by his one of the fame of PORTER ROAD - - TEL. 938-M

Judson Smith's "View of Roundent" stands out from the others because of its unusual coppery coloring. Herbert Meyer in his "View of a Town" has painted a very real little community. Aldro T. Hibbard has a snow scene that is very well done. He has another winter scene, "Ice Pond," in the permanent collection.
