Judge Chandler Warns Speeders

A warning that speeders in Andover would receive higher fines than five dollars if speeding here continues was handed down in District court Tuesday morning by Judge Frederic N. Chandler when two offenders were arraigned. Several other speeders have been fined in the court recently.

Both Sidney M. Hodson, Jr., 17, of Reading and James H. Robinshaw of Methuen pleaded guilty to charges of speeding and were each fined five dollars. State Patrolman William B. Killen testified that he clocked Hodson at 62 miles an hour and Robishaw at 60 on the Reading road on October 7.

ley Barnard.

Mr. Holt introduced Mr. Charles Sutherland Tapley, who spoke on the patriot Israel Putnam. The story of this great leader was given complete in every detail and made interesting by many incidents gathered first hand by Mr. Tapley on his visits to Pomfret, Conn. Mr. Tapley spoke of Connecticut's desire to claim Putnam in spite of the fact that he was born in Danvers and lived in that town and Boxford for 22 years before moving to Connecticut. He spoke of Putnam's interest in farming and beautification of his town, his encounter with the she-wolf of Pomfret, and his activities in the French Wars. Putnam's second marriage brought more social contacts and he opened a tavern at Brooklyn, Conn. He was 56 when he came to Boston in April of 1775. Five years later he suffered a paralytic stroke which limited his physical activities for the remaining 11 years of his life, but did not impair his keen mind or active interest in the people and things about him.

Cider and doughnuts were served and the members enjoyed a social half hour before disbanding. Peter Dehais, 45, of Greenwood road, was fined $25 in District Court Tuesday morning, on a charge of assault and battery. Dehais pleaded guilty to a charge of assaulting Michael Harrison and breaking his nose on last Sunday evening. Harrison claimed that he had protested when he discovered Dehais attempting to sell his pigs.

Sarkis Colombosian of West Andover was arrested Sunday night in Lawrence as the result of a disturbance in front of the Armenian church in which it is alleged Colombosian stabbed another man. The brawl started when both men attempted to address a meeting of parishioners from the floor at the same time.

District Deputy Mrs. Ada Austin of Malden was a guest at the meeting of the local Pythian Sisters in Fraternal hall Monday night. After the meeting the members enjoyed refreshments served by the following committee: Mrs. Fred Adams, Mrs. Thomas W. Neil, Mrs. Lily Harris, and Miss Lily Nairn.

The annual inspection and work will take place at the second meeting in November, and the annual district convention will be for C. C. C. Camp

May Build State
Police Base Here
Highways in this section, especially the by passes and thoroughfares over which the heaviest traffic now travels, will in the future be more carefully partolled by the blue uniformed officers of the state constabulary, it became apparent this week when it was learned that the transfer of the barracks of the state police at Reading is to be made either to Andover or to North Andover.

This transfer of the barracks of the state police to partol this area from a better operating base. At the present moment it is thought that with the transfer, a new barracks building will be erected which will better be able to care for the officers assigned to this area. This building will be somewhat on the scale of the new state police barracks at Topsfield, which will cost $30,000, and which will be opened some time next spring or early summer. These barracks are located at the intersection of Salem street and the Newburyport turnpike at Topsfield, and more commissioned officers may be assigned there. With 15 men, a sergeant and a corporal, Topsfield will become one of the largest, if not the largest of the sub-stations in the commonwealth. The new barracks will be a most complete building with its cells, living quarters and communication equipment.

Merrimack Valley "Scenery"

Sometime next month a large group of citizens from Lawrence, Lowell and other communities in the Merrimack Valley will attempt to have Governor Ely approve a four-lane highway which will follow the north side of the river to its mouth. Water will follow the north side of the river to its mouth. The street railway company has verbally agreed to give up its rights to the trolley tracks along the rivers, on that all that is necessary now its hower the state to sanction such a highway, it would be doing a grave injustice mot only to the communities on the south side but to the taxpayers throughout the state as well.

The road which tentatively has been chosen for this development is only one of several routes from Lowell to the sex.

Lowell street in our own town is used quite extensive by motorists withing to differ the road on the north side of the river, but part of River road is in depton to the road could be made to bear.

It is understood that Andover will branches, Route 110 cutting through the carried on one super-high and connecting in with U. Entron of The Townsman:

In the course of the discussions prevalent with the James Otis Club, relative to the most feasible and economical power for operating Pumping Plants—whether steam or electricity?—it came out at one of our meetings that all, seemly, is not as it should be regarding the screening apparatus (or apparatuses), supposed to prevent fish and miscellaneous debris from entering the suction or intake pipe, submerged and leading from a point out in the pond, to the Pumping Station situate on the bank. He would need to tell us that at the completion of the new high school he emptied our class rooms in Punchard, at that dime ousing 140 pupils, to make room for a carenter's shop, a sewing room and a store-oom for lumber; that when the new school uilding at Shawsheen was completed he brick Richardson chool, then housing 75 pupils, and left this nitire structure to go to "whrack and ruin." ind not content with this unjustifiable waste of school space his "school system" shut upher Osgood school house and emptied two in school space his "school system" shut uphe Osgood school house and emptied two in school space his "school system" shut upher of the properties of school space his "school system" shut upher Osgood school house and emptied two in content with this unjustifiable waste of school space his "school system" shut upher Osgood school house and emptied to funder stored in contents of the young people's society. vided by our taxpayers? We already owe $15,000 on our high school and $110,000 on our Shawsheen school house. Before planning to run the town deeper into debt to build new school rooms would it not be wiser to utilise the school rooms now empty and pay off the $125,000 due on our two new school build-ings?

the school rooms now empty and pay of the S125,000 due on our two new school buildings?

But the Townsman further informs us that our Superintendent "is also drawing up detailed estimates as to the extra yearly expenses incurred by the erection of a new building." It may enlighten the taxpayers to know that the year prior to the building of the high school our total school cost was $53,770 and our transportation cost was $2,990 but the very first year of the occupancy of the new school, with 29 pupils less than the year before, the total cost jumped from $53,770 to $50,789, or over $7,000.

This cost increased each year thereafter until it reached $111,876, just prior to the completion of the Shawsheen school in 1924. This second new building jumped the cost over $14,000 the first year, totalling $126,459, and this amount went on increasing until 1931 when these schools cost the taxpayers $150,335. Meanwhile our transportation charges ran up from $2,990 to $11,087.

In the light of these indisputable and significant facts, and faced as we are by unworted stress and confusion in the business world, is it not imperative that our Superintendent confine his planning to the utilization of these empty school rooms rather than in seeking to run our town deeper into debt by urging a new school building?

The late Lyman G. Cole before his passing requested that in the columns of the Townsman his sincerest thanks be expressed to those in the drug store who were so kind to him during his illness, particularly Charle Dalton and William McRenzie; to Dr. Blake who attended him so faithfully, always bringing him cheer as well as caring for him as a physician; to Dr. Stowers, who was very kind to him; to Dr. Simpson, who doctored him during his periods of terrible pain; to all the neighbors who were so kind all summer keeping their children quiet; and to all those who brought fruit, thowers and good things to eat during the summer months. Putting up a brave fight to the end, he stated that he was leaving the earth very happy and wished his friends to remember him just as he was in the store.

NEWS OF OTHER DAYS

Fred H. Jones of this town won the consolation cup in the championship series by defeating R. T. Todd, one up in 19 holes at the play-off of the monthly handicaps of the Merrimack Valley C.C., Saturday afternoon.

The jury in the case of Alexander Crockett against the town of Andover returned a sealed verdict of $1800 for the plaintiff in superior civil court Monday. Crockett sought $10,000 for personal injuries caused by an alleged defect in Andover and Ballardvale in the winter of 1905. He was driving a grocery wagon for J. H. Campion & Co., and was thrown out, breaking his leg and sustaining other injuries.

The New School

To the Editor of the Townsman:
Prior to the building of our new high school in 1917 the town was caring for 1337 school children; today the town is caring for 1357 school children; today the town is caring for 1386 pupils. This shows an increase of 249 in our total school enrollment during the last 16 years, or less than 16 additional pupils a year. To provide for this 249 extra pupils the town, at a cost (including interest charges) of nearly $500,000, constructed two new school buildings having a combined capacity for 680 children, or 431 over and above our present enrollment.

Punchard Beaten 26-0; Improvement Shown

Though beaten at Amesbury Saturday by the score of 26-0, the Punchard high team in the last quarter played a far better brand of football than they have in any game so far this season. The first three periods saw the locals playing listlessly, making bad miscues on the offensive and being woefully weak in their tackling. But in the last quarter the Punchard aggregation showed what it was really capable of when it started deep in its own territory and marched steadily down the field. At the end of the game the local eleven was in a scoring position, seriously threatening for the first time since its runaway victory over Rockport in the opening game of the season.

The feature of the game as far as Punchard

The feature of the game as far as Punchard The feature of the game as far as Punchard was concerned was a mighty heave from Hurley to Russell which was the big factor in the final rush of the local team. Hurley, who ordinarily plays in the line, is the star punter of the Andover team, but instead of punting on this occasion he tossed a mighty forward to the right end for a substantial gain.

If the Punchard team plays all its games the way that it played the last quarter, it will be doing itself justice. Built up as it was of inexperienced players, it seemed to develop a bad feeling of inferiority in its earlier games. On the offensive, the boys were too much in a hurry to get off, so that the opposition could easily guess the coming play and many fumbles occurred on the passes back from center. On the defensive, especially in the opening periods, the players seemed to be possessed with a feeling of hopelessness and accordingly did not tackle as they should have. However, in the last period, they played the brand of football that they are really capable of, the brand they play in practice.

RED CROSS CLOTHES THE NATION'S NEEDY

Flour, Bread, Clothing Reach Into More Than Five Million Homes of Jobless

The greatest task ever undertaken by a relief agency in the history of private charity is drawing to a close with the final distribution of cotton clothing to more than five million families by the American Red Cross. At the direction of the Congress, beginning eighteen months ago, the Red Cross undertook to convert the wheat and cotton surpluses of the Farm

Cross undertook to convert the wheat and cotton surpluses of the Farm Board into food and clothing for the unemployed and needy. In the consequent operation, this relief agency entered upon a commercial enterprise greater than any single commercial firm has ever undertaken in the same period of time.

In the ensuing months the Red Cross converted 85,000,000 bushels of wheat into flour and bread and gave it to 5,803,000 families. The distribution was through 3,700 Red Cross chapters and hundreds of other charitable agencies. During the severe northwestern drought of 1931 the Red Cross also gave wheat in the form of food for livestock to 184,188 families.

The clothing — dresses, underwear, overalls, jumpers, sweaters and stockings for men, women and children, and even blankets and comforters—was distributed to 5,465.410 families. More even blankets and comforters—was distributed to 5,465,410 families. More than 54,000,000 ready-made garments and 92,000,000 yards of cotton cloth were given to the needy. This clothing came from 844,000 bales of cotton.

The wheat distribution was co ed in June, 1933, and final distribution of cotton clothing is occurring in the fall months.

In handling these tasks voted to it by Congress, the Red Cross will expend from its own treasury $735,000.

At the same time the organization carried on its regular program of disaster relief; of service to the veterans of all our wars; of educational and welfare our wars; of educational and welfare work through the Junior Red Cross; of health education and public health nursing and of life saving and first aid. Funds for this work come from the membership roll call the Red Cross chapters conduct from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, when every one is invited to join the Red Cross and aid in this vital relief work.

Seven hundred thousand women vol unteers under the Red Cross banner sewed for the needy last year and many thousands still are making cot-ton garments for their Red Cross

The Red Cross has 3,701 chapters and 10,000 branches of chapters. Thus it can be mobilized nationwide in a great relief task within 24 hours.

Stowe School entered the NRA parade Monday evening, October 16, with a float and a large group of marchers. The float represented a scene from "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which was written by Harriet Beecher Stowe, for whom the school was named. Uncle Tom and Little Eva sat before a rough log cabin, at the rear of the float sat Mrs. Stowe, facing her book characters. The following people took part: Uncle Tom, George Lawrence; Little Eva, Jean Thayer; Mrs. Stowe, Valerie Simmers. The school owes a debt of gratifued to those who cooperated by lending the cabin, the truck and the costumes used.
