Annual Egg Hunt at Guild Tomorrow

The annual Easter egg hunt will be held at the Andover Guild tomorrow morning at ten o'clock, with the Women's committee headed by Mrs. Donald Appleton, in charge. Eggs, chicks, bunnies, and Easter novelties will be distributed throughout the building, and on a signal by a bugle, the hordes of children will once again scamper off in a mad scramble for the trophies. Miss Marion Schermer will give the signal on the bugle. She has given the signal for the start of the hunt for several years.

Egg rolling will be enjoyed after the hunt. Last night there was an Easter party for the night children. Mrs. Robert Franz and Miss Margaret Davis were in charge.
Tonight there will be two basketball games at the Guild, the Wasps vs. Sherrill Juniors and the Guild vs. North Andover. Play will start at 7:30. The Sherrill A and B teams will play two Lawrence teams at the Guild tomorrow night at 7:30.
Wednesday night at 7:45 there will be a puppet show for the Guild children, featuring the "Merry Mannikins." One play will be "Mr. Rabbit's Message" and the other "Goldilocks and the Three Bears." After the show the Mother bear will give a little birthday cake to every child whose birthday comes on the first week in April. All names, with age must be at the Guild by Wednesday noon.
On April 6 the Guild will put on a similar show in North Andover.
Admission Wednesday night will be free to all children who have membership cards. The charge for others will be ten cents for children, and twenty-five cents for adults.

Hit-and-Run Driver Kills C. C. C. Boy

Lowell Boy Found Horribly Mangled Tuesday Morning on South Main Street Near Wildwood Road—Several Cars Probably Drove Over Body

Archibald Cantara, 22, a Lowell boy stationed at the local C. C. C. camp was fatally injured early Tuesday morning by a hit-and-run driver. His badly mangled body was found about three o'clock on the South Main street roadway near Wildwood road. No trace has been found of the driver.
Both of Cantara's legs were broken fourteen inches above the heels, and there were several bruises about the front of his body, legs and arms. There were also three deep cuts on his forehead. Death was attributed by Medical Examiner Dr. Victor A. Reed to a fractured skull. It was impossible to learn whether the young man had been killed when he was first hit, or whether death had followed the possible riding over his body by other hit-and-run motorists. The fog was very thick at the scene of the fatality.
Frank H. Taylor, operating a truck for Alger Bros., of Boston, found the body while he was travelling toward Andover. He noticed the inert form of the boy lying on the right lane of the highway with his head toward the center of the road. He reported to police in the square that he was almost on the body before he noticed it, and he had to swing sharply out to miss it. He did not stop for further examination, he said, because he feared that it was a decoy for a holdup.
Sergeant Leonard Saunders summoned Officer Arthur Jowett from Shawheen and the two proceeded to the scene, later being joined by Officer Frank McBride. Medical Examiner Reed was summoned, and his report led to the belief that several cars had passed over the body.
One of the dead man's shoes was found eighty feet from the body. No other evidence could be found to determine either the place or the time of the killing. The body was still warm when the police arrived.
The body was identified by James L. Cooney, a cousin. The young man had been at the camp for eight months. His mother died about nine months ago. He is survived by his father and a brother.
The police found that Cantara had been visiting Louis Casey in Lawrence Monday night, and had left there about ten o'clock with another C. C. C. boy. They separated on hitch-hiking back, and further information as to the Cantara boy's movements was lacking.

Town Loses Last Pair of Horses

The town of Andover lost two of its faithful employees last week, when Prince, one of the B. P. W. team, was shot to put him out of his misery, and Jerry, the other member of the team, was retired to the Nevins farm in Methuen. The pair of white horses were the last in the town employ, and have been working in the public works department for years. Prince became ill a short time ago and finally he had to be shot. Jerry kept on working in single harness. Prince was about 22 years old and Jerry 20 years old. William Collins has been the driver.
The board plans to use trucks in the future for road work and to hire horses for plowing walks in the winter.

Selectmen to Allow Salaries to Be Paid

The board of selectmen, it was learned this week, are planning to let the salaries of the town's elective officials go through even though they were not definitely set at town meeting. Last week a letter was received by the Townsman from Edward H. Fenton, the men acting director of accounts at the state house, stating that the town should hold a special town meeting to rectify its error in not setting the salaries. The selectmen, however, do not intend to do anything about it.
Mr. Hardy this morning stated that the board had not taken any formal action on the matter, but that they had discussed it informally. He said that he had communicated with Mr. Fenton between the time that the Townsman came out and the time when Mr. Fenton died suddenly on Sunday. He reported that Mr. Fenton said that the salaries were legal, in direct contrast to his statement to the board, however, that he did not care to say whether Mr. Fenton's opinion to him was written or not.
The chairman of the selectmen told the Townsman that he had asked Mr. Emerson if he mentioned salaries and Mr. Emerson told him he had. The Townsman's stenographic records, however, have no mention of salaries in Mr. Emerson's motion. Furthermore, by law the town clerk's record of the meeting is the official one, and this record has no mention of the salaries.
Mr. Hardy maintains that the town does not have to vote the salaries annually, although before town meeting Mr. Fenton told him that the town should do this. It could not be ascertained whether the board was unanimous on the matter or not.
Mr. Fenton's letter to the Townsman follows:
Dear Sir:
I am in receipt of your letter of the 19th inst. and note your inquiry regarding the vote making an appropriation for town officers, and in reply I would state that I am of the opinion that it would be necessary for the town to fix the salary of the various elective officers by specific vote. I do not believe that the mere voting of an appropriation for salaries fixes the salaries of the various officers.
Apparently from your letter the salary of certain elective officials was not even mentioned at the time the appropriation was voted and therefore it would seem to me that in order to clear up any doubt as to the amount of money to be paid the various officials, it would be advisable to have a special town meeting to vote on this specific question, especially if it is desired to have the appropriation voted for playground supervision made effective, as of course the vote making an appropriation of $1250 under an article in the warrant which merely called for $750 is illegal, and I would suggest that after fixing the salaries for this year, at the annual meeting each year the amount to be paid the various elective officials be fixed.
Yours very truly,
EDWARD H. FENTON
Acting Director of Accounts

Will Pay Elective Officials Despite Mr. Fenton's Letter to Townsman Stating that Special Town Meeting Should Be Held to Vote Them

Shortly after four o'clock Wednesday afternoon a truck, driven by Walter Slawa, 19, of Lawrence and owned by Samuel E. Furneaux of Lawrence, overturned on North Main street, a short distance below Harding street.

Slawa stated that he was travelling down North Main street when a car in front of him stopped suddenly. Male Choir Opens New Headquarters

The Andover Male Choir held its first rehearsal in its new quarters in the second floor rear of the National Bank building, formerly used as quarters of the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance company. J. Everett Collins was in charge of the rehearsal.
The club has been presented with a Chickering grand piano, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon E. Starke. Miss Marion L. Abbott, club companion, was at the piano Tuesday evening. A large amount of money and a cabinet have been presented to the club by the Andover Square and Compass club. Several tables which go to make up the furnishings of the quarters were made by the club president, David L. Coultts.
Two large portraits, one of Beethoven, the other of Mozart, hang on the wall. They were loaned by Mr. Collins. They formerly were the property of the late John Bacheiler, many years ago organist and choir master at Christ church, where he trained Mr. Collins as a choir boy. The shield won by the club last year, from the Andover and Federation contest also adorns the wall.
Several guests from Beverly addressed the group at the rehearsal. They were Joseph Lemery, key man of Group 2 of the New England Federation of Men's Singing clubs; John S. Crowley, vice-president of the New England Federation of Men's Singing clubs and a member of the Beverly Men's Singing club; Clarence R. Lunt, secretary of the Beverly club and G. Lester Morse, membership secretary of the same club.
Mr. Crowley brought the greetings of the Beverly club and of the New England Federation. He told the Andover group that they are destined for great success and that they are one of the most promising clubs in the federation. He added that after the fine concert the local club gave last January in the George Washington hall at Phillips Academy it is evident the townspeople are with them in spirit. Mr. Crowley spoke of the important part music plays in life and urged that musical groups be organized on the same scale as athletics and be put on a solid financial basis. Men he said are now turning to the divine attribute of music.

The pair of white horses were the last in the town employ, and have been working in the public works department for years. Prince became ill a short time ago and finally he had to be shot. Jerry kept on working in single harness. Prince was about 22 years old and Jerry 20 years old. William Collins has been the driver.
The board plans to use trucks in the future for road work and to hire horses for plowing walks in the winter.

Selectmen to Allow Salaries to Be Paid

The board of selectmen, it was learned this week, are planning to let the salaries of the town's elective officials go through even though they were not definitely set at town meeting. Last week a letter was received by the Townsman from Edward H. Fenton, the men acting director of accounts at the state house, stating that the town should hold a special town meeting to rectify its error in not setting the salaries. The selectmen, however, do not intend to do anything about it.
Mr. Hardy this morning stated that the board had not taken any formal action on the matter, but that they had discussed it informally. He said that he had communicated with Mr. Fenton between the time that the Townsman came out and the time when Mr. Fenton died suddenly on Sunday. He reported that Mr. Fenton said that the salaries were legal, in direct contrast to his statement to the board, however, that he did not care to say whether Mr. Fenton's opinion to him was written or not.
The chairman of the selectmen told the Townsman that he had asked Mr. Emerson if he mentioned salaries and Mr. Emerson told him he had. The Townsman's stenographic records, however, have no mention of salaries in Mr. Emerson's motion. Furthermore, by law the town clerk's record of the meeting is the official one, and this record has no mention of the salaries.
Mr. Hardy maintains that the town does not have to vote the salaries annually, although before town meeting Mr. Fenton told him that the town should do this. It could not be ascertained whether the board was unanimous on the matter or not.
Mr. Fenton's letter to the Townsman follows:
Dear Sir:
I am in receipt of your letter of the 19th inst. and note your inquiry regarding the vote making an appropriation for town officers, and in reply I would state that I am of the opinion that it would be necessary for the town to fix the salary of the various elective officers by specific vote. I do not believe that the mere voting of an appropriation for salaries fixes the salaries of the various officers.
Apparently from your letter the salary of certain elective officials was not even mentioned at the time the appropriation was voted and therefore it would seem to me that in order to clear up any

That Salary Matter

Despite the late Mr. Fenton's opinion that Andover should hold a special town meeting to rectify the mistake made when the town failed to vote salaries for its elective officials as required by law...

The majority of the board base their decision on some rather unusual reasoning. They allow that no salary was voted to the tree warden, but at present Mr. Berry is receiving pay as moth superintendent...

If the amendment were made in that form, the salaries would be legal enough. But was it? The stenographic record taken by the town clerk is as follows: "I amend the motion of the gentleman by making the amount $18,220, the same as it was last year..."

But the selectmen should not have to depend either on Mr. Emerson's memory or the town's stenographic record. The state law requires that the town clerk keep a record of the votes passed at the town meeting, and also that he transmit to the assessors and the accountant the amounts in detail appropriated at the meeting...

The town clerk's record has not a single mention of a salary save that of the board of public works secretary. Nor have the detailed appropriations which he transmitted to the assessors or to the accountant any statement of the salaries. How then can the selectmen state that salaries were specifically voted? Don't they believe the town clerk's records that they must adopt the most unusual, unbusinesslike method of asking a man what he said two weeks after a meeting what his motion was?

If this affair were taken to a court, the justice would not pay a bit of attention to what Mr. Emerson thought he said, for there are plenty of people in that audience who could quite justifiably say that he said nothing about salaries. More credence would be put in the stenographic record, but of course the justice would base his final decision on what the law says is the official report of the meeting...

We don't want to feel that our selectmen are slipping over this thing, letting it go through illegally. If they are going to do that, how about the playground? Are they going to slip that through too? Of course they won't. The town officials should be paid, and the town children should have their supervised play, but in neither case should an illegal process be followed.

It may be a lot of bother to vote specifically on all the salaries, but that's what the law says. Remember it may be much easier to cut across lots when you're out walking, but when there's a "No Trespassing" sign up, you'd better go all the way around.

Office for the Health Board

Many people in town are of the opinion that the Board of Health should be allowed an office in the town house, and there seems no really valid reason why it shouldn't. Somehow it does not seem right for a town department to have to carry on its business in the rear of the chairman's store instead of in a public building...

The one argument which could be used against moving the board of health office to the town house would be that at present there seems to be no space for it. However, it would be a simple matter to partition off the rear portion of the court room, which would allow a door and window space for both the office and the court room. It has been a long time since the court room has been used regularly as a court room, and it might as well be put to some permanent purpose. The portion left would be large enough for any case which would be handled in local trial court.

Something along these lines should be done, since the present arrangement is most unsatisfactory. The board of health is working for the public, and it should be given a public place in which to work and to keep its public records. Anyone coming to town today to find out something from the board of health would first go to the town house where he naturally would expect the health office to be, and he would think it very unusual when he was told that he would have to go to the rear of a local store to transact his business.

Editorial Cinders

We suppose that there is a special place in the hereafter reserved for hit-and-run drivers, people who are so cowardly that they dare not face the consequences of a deed which has meant death. Ordinarily, when a motorist kills a man, it is an accident in which he may not be at all to blame or in which he has been guilty of a certain amount of negligence. But when a person kills someone and then runs away leaving the body on the highway, it becomes mightily close to being out-and-out murder by a coward killer. Early Tuesday morning the fogs may have been so dense that a motorist could not see a pedestrian until he was too close to avoid hitting him; then again the C.C.C. boy may have been walking far out in the road as some of them unfortunately do. But no matter what the circumstances, no matter how guiltless the driver may have been in the accident, by running away without giving aid to the man who was hit, without reporting to the police, he did something which we hope will remain on his conscience until the end of his days.

Next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday the local Legion post is holding an Andover Industrial Exposition in the town hall, with some of the local merchants offering exhibits of their various products or merchandise. Be sure to visit the Exposition. It's free, and you'll have a good time during the entertainment periods and an interesting time examining the exhibits. Then don't let your interest in Andover merchants stop Friday night. They deserve your patronage all the time.

"On time" is a first-class recommendation.

Will Celebrate Fourth of July

The Veterans of Foreign Wars will again sponsor a big Fourth of July celebration this year. Last year after several celebration-less Fourth's, the V. F. W. gave Andover a fine celebration at the Playstead, and this year an even bigger and better time is promised. It is hoped that the citizens will again provide the co-operation which was such an important factor in making last year's observance a success.

The committee in charge will be headed by Commander Harold S. Cates. Assisting him will be: James Dougan, Arthur W. Cole, Charles Bowman, Alex Blamire, Edward Dodge, William Snyder, John Stewart, Charles Muller, John Erving and Robert Deyermund.

Well, $112,700 is nothing to be sneezed at, is it? Don't forget your date at the Exposition next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

"Pay for the officials, no play for the children" seems to be the selectmen's motto.

Now that CWA is giving way to FERA it was nice to learn that PWA is also to be given a chance here.

Be careful on Sunday—Easter on April 1 has a dual personality—sort of Jekyll and Hyde affair.

Reply to "Shame on Andover"

Editor of Townsman: After reading the article entitled "Shame on Andover," I would like to ask, Mr. Taxpayer, as he signs his name, where he got his broad views about town affairs and patriotic and sober citizens. Also about the I. W. W. in Haverhill. I am glad he signed his name "Mr. Taxpayer." It would do Andover a great injustice if he had signed it "Taxpayers."
