

Playground Activities Start Next Week

Under Guild and B. P. W. Auspices, Children of Andover Will Enjoy Another Summer of Supervised Play and Work—Changes in Instructors

The official opening of the Andover Playground will be on Monday, July 2, although the apparatus for play will not be put in place until after the Fourth of July celebration.

As usual the playground will be open five days a week from two in the afternoon until nine or, as the days get shorter, until dark.

No drastic change will be made in the program of play, but several new games are being planned and new handwork projects will be worked out.

On the committee in charge besides Mrs. Tyler will be L. R. Kimball, Mrs. Charles Gabeler and Mrs. Edson Andrews.

Oldest Hay Scales in U. S. Still Used

The oldest hay scales in the United States are still in use in North Andover, and the Hay Scales Association, composed of some of the town's most prominent citizens, still exists.

In 1819 the citizens of this town, then a part of Andover, felt the necessity of providing a public scales where hay and other produce might be weighed.

The Hay Scales Association was formed and 25 shares of capital stock, with a par value of $10 per share, were issued.

In order that a public weigher might be available at all times, a small building was erected near the scales.

The scales are located in North Andover center, close to the village common, in the midst of other historical points of interest.

Addison Gallery Exhibit for July

A small group of water colors, consisting mostly of flower studies, by Miss Amy Pleaswell, and her pupil Mrs. Richard Fay, will be on exhibition at the Addison Gallery from July 1 to July 15.

Invited to Submit Work for Exhibit

Artists in this vicinity are invited by the Merrimack Valley Art association, a group recently organized to encourage creative art in the Merrimack valley, to submit work for an exhibition by Merrimack valley artists.

The exhibition will be held at the Addison Gallery of American Art, Phillips Academy, from July 21 to September 10. It will include paintings in oil and water color, drawings and sculpture.

Artists are to submit their work at a local center, at which a director of the Merrimack Valley Art association will be in charge. The center for Andover and the surrounding towns is the Addison gallery.

The entrance requirements for this exhibition are as follows: 1. Paintings must be framed. Preference will be given to canvases 25 x 30 and smaller.

2. The entrance fee is fifty cents per object. The fee is payable at the local center when the work is submitted.

3. Responsibility. While the Addison Gallery is donating its exhibition rooms for the exhibition, it cannot take the responsibility for objects chosen.

Appointed Teacher of Diction and Voice Culture

The many friends of Miss Katherine Sullivan of this town will be interested to learn that she has been appointed teacher of diction and voice culture at the National Little Theatre Guild, at the Lake Shore Theatre colony, Westford.

Miss Katherine Sullivan is a specialist in his or her own line. Miss Sullivan, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Sullivan of Elm street, is a graduate of Rosemont college where she was prominent in dramatic circles.

Members who will go in their own cars are asked to look for the signs on Lowell street directing them to the picnic grounds. The ticket committee will dispose of no more tickets after Friday night.

Pythian Sisters Plan Picnic

Garfield temple, 56, Pythian Sisters, met Monday evening in Fraternal hall. The temple will hold its annual picnic in July, the time and place to be announced later.

A group of members went to Chelsea Thursday evening to attend the reception to the Grand Trustee, Mrs. Mae E. Howe.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the following men: Thomas Thim, James C. Souter, John McGrath, Fred Westcott, Ralph T. Berry, Thomas W. Nell, Thomas B. Gorrie and David A. MacDonal.

VAUGHAN—BRADY CREHAN—BRADY

Two of the loveliest weddings of the season were solemnized on Wednesday evening in St. Augustine's church, when two of the daughters of Mrs. Mary M. Brady of 5 Dumbarton street, Shawshen village, Gertrude Alice and Marie Claire were united in marriage, the first with John J. Vaughan, Jr., of Lowell and Marie with Harold F. Crehan of New York City.

The brides were given in marriage by their brother, Francis P. Brady of Lawrence and the ceremonies were performed by Rev. John B. Leonard, O.S.A.

Both brides wore gowns of white satin en train and tulle veils caught up with orange blossoms. They carried silver bouquets of gardenia, bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor for both brides was Miss Anne Brady, their sister. She wore yellow embroidered mousselin de soie and yellow picture hat of straw with trimmings of purple velvet. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses with violet delphinium.

The matron of honor and bridesmaid were also sisters of the brides. Mrs. Gilbert H. Stone wore pink silk net with leghorn picture hat trimmed with blue velvet ribbon and flowers and Miss Helene L. Brady wore blue silk net with leghorn hat trimmed with pink velvet ribbon and flowers.

Merton Vaughan of Staten Island, N. Y., was best man for his brother and Mr. Crehan's best man was Seward Proctor, an intimate friend. The ushers were Lester H. Sellars and Joseph D. Reynolds, both of Lawrence.

Preceding the ceremonies Mrs. Thomas Vaughan of Hartford, Conn., sang beautifully "Mother at Your Feet I'm Kneeling" and following the marriages "O Salutaris." The wedding marches were played by Miss Annie Donovan, church organist.

A wedding reception was held at the Wildwood Inn immediately after the ceremonies. About 100 guests attended. Both couples left on extended wedding trips. Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan will make their home in Lowell, Mr. and Mrs. Crehan will reside in Mt. Lebanon, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mrs. Vaughan was formerly employed in Lawrence, while Mrs. Crehan was a hair-dresser employed in Andover.

LANCASTER—BELL MCCARTHY—BELL

A pretty double wedding took place last Saturday afternoon at four o'clock at St. Joseph's church, Ballardvale, when Misses Rita and Mary Bell, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Bell of Andover street, Ballardvale, became brides. Miss Rita was married to Daniel Lancaster, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lancaster of Methuen, and Miss Mary Bell, became the bride of John McCarthy, son of Edward McCarthy of Andover.

Rev. Fr. Hart performed the double ceremony. Miss Katherine Flaherty, the church organist, played the wedding music. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion with cut flowers.

The brides were gowned alike in white organdie, and they wore white picture hats, and carried yellow roses and blue larkspur.

A reception was held at the home of the brides' parents following the ceremony and a

6-Mile Road Race Sanctioned by A.A.U.

The six-mile road race to be held in conjunction with the Fourth of July celebration in Andover has been sanctioned by the N. E. A. A. U. Many entries have already been received, and the committee of the Andover post, 2128, V. F. W., which is sponsoring for the second consecutive year Andover's Independence Day celebration, expects that some of the foremost runners in this section will compete for the beautiful silver cups to be given to the winners.

Already one or two of the runners have tried out the six-mile route in preparation for the grind on the holiday. The runners are to start in front of the Musgrove building in Andover square and trot down Essex street to Shawshen road as far as the West church. Here the runners will turn down Lowell street, cross Shawshen square to Haverhill street, and continue to Peters street. Thence the contestants will go to Wilson's corner, and down Elm street back to the square. Then they will finish by running up Main street to Punched avenue and then to Bartlett street to the playstead where they will circle the track once. The hardest part of the course is the eastern end of Haverhill street where a slight hill leads to Peters street.

After passing this stretch of the route, the runners should have little difficulty in finishing the race.

As the race has been sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union, only registered athletes will be allowed to compete. Those who have not yet registered with the A. A. U. can easily do so by calling at the V. F. W. rooms in the Musgrove building or by getting in touch with Commander Harold C. Cates at 279 North Main street, who is also handling the entries for the race.

Tonight there will be a special opportunity for those who wish either to register or to fill out an entry blank to do so at the V. F. W. quarters, Room 11, in the Musgrove building in Andover square, between 7.30 and 8.00 o'clock and tomorrow morning between nine and ten.

This makes several rare wins for Phil and stamps him as the outstanding dog of New England.

Fourth of July Celebration in Town

Plans Complete for Another Glorious Fourth in Andover—Bonfire, Sports, Road Race, Midway and Fireworks on Holiday Program

Plans Made for Whist and Picnic

The regular monthly meeting of the Legion auxiliary was held in the Legion hall last evening.

Mrs. Harry Wrigley and Mrs. Mary Alexander were delegates to the Department Convention recently held at Swampscott, and Mrs. Wrigley gave a very interesting report of the meetings.

There will be a whist party at the home of Mrs. Emma Keenes, Friday, July 13, in Ballardvale.

The auxiliary will have their annual picnic July 21 at Salem Willows.

Plans are being made to hold a lawn party, the date to be announced later.

Will Operate Trucks to Poms Pond

The Cross Coal company will operate trucks to and from Poms' pond for the benefit of the children who come from the center of town, as it has done in the past, starting Sunday, July 1, at one o'clock and every day thereafter, weather permitting until the season closes in September.

Those who ride are asked to conduct themselves in a proper manner, with no pushing or crowding, so that accidents will not occur.

Entertained at Choirmaster's Home

The senior choir of the Free church was entertained at the home of the choirmaster, Ernest L. Thornequist in Reading last evening and a jolly time was had by everyone playing games and singing. Refreshments were served.

Those present were: Mrs. John Souter, Mrs. John Denholm, Mrs. Robert Lochhead, Mrs. Gertrude Allicon, Ruby Laurie, Emma Stevens, Etta Brown, Isabel MacLaren, Alice Elliott, Jessie Cottis, Thomas Gorrie, Lewis Paine, William Crowe, Robert Carrigan, Robert Williams, David Wallace, Wengell Kydd and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thornequist.

Punchard Alumni Banquet Successful

Large Gathering of Former Punchard Students Fills Hall—Dr. C. M. Fuess Speaker—Greetings Sent to Mrs. Flint, Graduate of First Class

The festivities occasioned by the 75th anniversary of the first commencement of Punchard school, on Friday evening, were the last which will be held in the old school building and the largest group of alumni which has come together for some time, gathered in the hall for a farewell.

Electric lights on the outside of the front building gleamed in the dusk making an effective decoration and reminding one of the diamond jubilee of the school.

The hall was lavishly decorated with bunting and garden flowers and an appetizing menu was served to about 260. Seated on the platform at the head table were President Geoffrey B. Nicoll of the alumni association, county boys and girls with song, Dr. C. M. Fuess, headmaster of Phillips academy, who was the principal speaker, Principal Nathan C. Hamblin, Rev. Charles W. Henry, president of board of trustees of the Punched Free school and Superintendent of Schools Henry C. Sanborn.

An innovation this year was the presentation of the silver long cup to the oldest alumnus or alumna present instead of to the one coming the longest distance to attend, and James J. Abbott, who admitted being over 75, was the favored recipient.

An interesting fact was brought out that Hannah Harding Flint, who was a member of the first graduating class was still living at her home on High street, and greetings were sent to her by the secretary, from the assemblage.

Dr. Fuess in his address held up the schools as the foundation of civilization and expressed the need for the so called fads and frills to equip boys and girls with something with which to take up their leisure time. He spoke highly of the Andover schools and said that they are in good hands and those in charge of them are doing a fine job. He told his audience not to listen to the would-be prophets who oppose the newer education and not to believe anyone who says that too much money is being spent on the schools.

Dr. Fuess said in closing that Phillips academy regards itself as a part and parcel of Andover and he pledged himself and his colleagues on the academy faculty to cooperation with the town.

Principal N. C. Hamblin spoke of the growing responsibility for creating a group of young people who will take their duties in life seriously and the school he said is being called upon now more than ever to turn out good citizens. Good citizenship begins with good neighborliness and he expressed a hope that the boys and girls will acquire that spirit.

As has been the custom for some years past two bouquets were awarded to classes with the best percentage of attendance. The one to the class out under 25 years went to the class of 1924 with 26 percent present, 11 of 43 members. The classes of '79 and '89 were tied, each having 50 percent, three of six members present. President Nicoll presented the bouquet to the classes jointly. They were seated at the same table.

The reports of the secretary, treasurer and of the trustees of Punched Alumni funds were accepted as printed on the programs. The vote was passed on motion of Harold A. Johnson, '21.

Veterans Sponsor Celebration

The Veterans of Foreign Wars again this year are going to give the town of Andover a real old-time Fourth of July celebration, one which will rival that of most other towns in this vicinity.

Too many people last year, however, went out of town because they thought that somewhere else there might be a little larger bonfire, or perhaps a more lavish display of fireworks.

Punchard Alumni Banquet Successful

The association extended a vote of appreciation to Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith, who compiled an excellent history of the school and to William V. Emmons who edited the 75th anniversary book.

On motion of Arthur R. Lewis, '14, Miss Clara A. Weddings Feature Last June Week

(Continued from page 1) wedding luncheon was served. The home was decorated with cut flowers, palms, and ferns. The two couples received the guests standing under an arch of cut flowers and ferns. There were a large number of guests at the reception.

Both couples left during the evening on a wedding trip through the White Mountains and Canada. When they return Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster will reside at 13 George street, Methuen, and Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy will make their home at 29 Pearson street.

The brides are well-known in Ballardvale and Andover. Mr. Lancaster is employed as a compositor by the Eagle-Tribune in Lawrence.

GROVER—MORRISON The wedding of Miss Gladys Marie Morrison, daughter of Police Officer and Mrs. Henry A. Morrison of 115 Berkeley street, Methuen and Elmer J. Grover, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Grover of 7 Harding street, this town, took place at a nuptial mass on Saturday morning at ten o'clock in St. Laurence's church, Lawrence.

The mass was celebrated and the ceremony performed by Rev. William Donovan, O.S.A., formerly of Andover, and the occasion was largely attended by relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

John A. McGilvery, church organist, played the nuptial music and during the mass Mrs. George J. McCarthy rendered Gounod's "Ave Maria," and Joseph Donovan sang "Panis Angelicus" by Lamillotte, and "Lord Amen" by the altar. The altar was decorated with cut flowers.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, was attractively gowned in white satin with a long train and she wore a long veil of plain tulle also on train and shielding the face. Her flowers were a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley. Her sister, Miss Dorothea Morrison was her maid of honor and only attendant and she wore a frock of blue tulle edged with pink and harmonizing accessories and carried a bouquet of pink roses and pale blue larkspur.

Melvin G. Grover, brother of the bridegroom, was his best man and the ushers were William A. Morrison, a brother of the bride, and William A. Doherty of this town, a friend of the bridegroom.

The reception was held at Bay Lodge, Methuen immediately after the ceremony and a wedding breakfast was served. The decorations were garden flowers.

After an unannounced wedding trip the couple will live on Forest street.

The bride is a graduate of Boston University's Sargent School of Physical Education and she has taught for the last three years at Rosemont college, Rosemont, Pa. The bridegroom is a graduate of Phillips Academy and Harvard and is editor of the Andover Townsman.

KIDDER—BARBOUR Miss Mary Eglewold Barbour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barbour of 278 Clarendon street, Boston, became the bride of Alfred Kidder, 2nd, Harvard '33, son of Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Vincent Kidder of Phillips street at a mid-afternoon ceremony in Trinity church, Copley square, Boston Saturday. Bishop James Craik Morris of Louisiana and Dr. Arthur Lee Kinsolving, rector, officiated.

The bride, a Vincent club and junior league member, was given in marriage by her father and was preceded to the candle-lighted altar by nine attendants. She wore a gown of ivory satin and her mother's lace wedding veil, also a lace yoke and sleeves that her mother wore as a bride. Her bouquet was of lilies of the valley and orchids.

A sister, Miss Julia Barbour was maid of honor and Randolph A. Kidder, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Among the wedding guests, sharing attention with the bride couple, was Dr. Ernest F. S. Hansfaeng, head of Hitler's foreign press bureau, who attended the wedding reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. Kidder is studying for his doctorate at the Peabody Museum and after October 15 he and his wife will reside at 5 Shady Hill square, Cambridge.

SAWYER—CLAY The wedding of Miss Katharine R. Clay, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. J. R. Clay of 75 Howe street, Methuen, and Charles H. Sawyer, curator at the Addison Art Gallery took place on Thursday afternoon in Grace Episcopal church, Lawrence.

Bishop A. W. Moulton of Utah, former rector of the church performed the ceremony assisted by the rector, Rev. Raymond A. Heron.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENTS The wedding of Robert Edward Maynard of the Phillips Academy faculty and Miss Clara Christina Minsinger took place on June 24 at Dorchester.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Archibald Freeman of the Phillips Academy faculty and Mrs. Edwina Duffey at Cortland, N. Y.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Richardson of Reading and Franklin W. Zwicker of the same town is announced as taking place on June 16. The Richardson family are former Andover residents.

Christ Church Notes During July the preachers in Christ church are expected to be as follows: July 1 and 8, Rev. Arthur F. Roebuck, Curate of Grace Church, Lawrence, Mass. July 15, Rev. James A. Muller, Ph.D., Professor of Modern Church History, Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass. July 22 and 29, Rev. Thomas A. Bridges, Assistant Principal, Longwood Country Day School, Brookline, Mass. Rev. A. F. Roebuck is well known in this vicinity and was formerly a missionary in Nevada. He is an interesting speaker. Prof. Muller is remembered pleasantly from his visit here in the winter. Rev. Thomas A. Bridges is a formerly at All Saints, Brookline but prefers the teaching to the pastoral office. He is a ready speaker. The 7.30 a.m. services on Thursday will be omitted during July.

Total Cash received 317.74. Balance June, 1933 292.04. Grand total $609.78.

Our welfare work this year has been to help 32 families in whatever way needed beside sponsoring a whist party to help a Punchard graduate when we realized $55 for the same. We have spent $204.23 on this work. We sent seven Thanksgiving baskets for which our club is famous for doing each valued at $7. We also sent six Christmas dinners, all to families in town. We wish to thank those who sent vegetables and supplies toward our baskets at Thanksgiving and also cash donations.

We are especially grateful to the Knights of Columbus who so kindly gave us the use of their hall for the benefit whist party and to Mr. James E. Greeley for the door prize, to Miss Mary L. Smith and other Punchard teachers who aided us on this case we give thanks.

We feel another year of good work goes down on our records.

Respectfully, MARIÉ CROCKET, President. AGNES L. DOWNS, Secretary. EDNA L. ALBERS, Treasurer.

Involved in Automobile Accident in N. Andover

A young girl and a youth suffered injuries in a bad triple crash which occurred late Monday afternoon at the junction of Turnpike street and Railroad avenue, North Andover about five o'clock.

Clement Lavin, 18, of 82 Bennington street, Lawrence, passenger in another machine, also received slight injuries which did not require hospital treatment.

According to the police report, a coach operated by Mrs. Edith H. Clements, 48, of Torr street, this town, was operating south on Railroad avenue and had stopped at the intersection in conformance with the regulations. A sedan driven by Ovide Fiola, 27, of 22 Wendell street, Lawrence, was operating down Turnpike street and when at the intersection collided with a machine driven by Umberto Coletta of 156 Maple street, and then veered off ramming the coach.

Fiola claimed in his report, that Coletta, who was operating north on Railroad avenue did not stop at the intersection as required. Only two were injured as a result of the accident. The machines of Fiola and Mrs. Clements were badly damaged from the crash and had to be towed from the scene.

Party for Voyagers to Old Country Held A surprise bon voyage party was held at the home of Mrs. Andrew MacLachlan in Washington avenue, last Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Charles Fettes and her daughter June who will sail for Scotland and the Shetland Islands on July 8.

The guests of honor was presented with a pocketbook and a sum of money. During the evening a recitation was given by Mrs. Alexander Duke and a harmonica duet was played by Mrs. Peter Doherty and Mrs. Alexander Duke.

Vocal selections were rendered by the following: Mrs. Doherty, Mrs. Jack, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Bland, Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Fettes, Mrs. MacLachlan, and Mrs. Duke. Community singing was also enjoyed.

Those present: Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Duke, Mr. and Mrs. James Skea, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew MacLachlan, Mr. and Mrs. James Ruxton, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bland, Mr. and Mrs. W. Comment from the Independent The Stoneham Independent recently carried a story on two arrests made in Stoneham for the Andover police. The story follows:

The Andover police department is seriously considering a plan whereby members of the Stoneham police department will do their work in the future. Two catches by the Stoneham police on successive nights this week makes an interesting story.

On Sunday night, Sergeant William O'Toole received a call from the Andover police stating that they wanted a car with New York registration plates which had gone through that town. Sergeant O'Toole sent the word out to the patrolmen and a short time later Patrolman George McDonough came to the station with the desired party.

Patrolman McDonough held Richard L. Baum of Adams House, Harvard College. Baum had been previously stopped in Andover for driving without a Massachusetts license but was released when he agreed to pay an Andover boy $4 to drive him to Cambridge. Once outside the town limits, Baum ousted the driver from the machine. The Andover police learned of the situation and called here. The next day in court, Baum paid a fine of $25.

Andover was grateful for the work of the

"Is his accounts at the office?"
"No, in his accounts to his wife of where he'd been the night before."

HERE COMES THE BRIDE

By PAUL VANCE

© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate, WNSU service

THE little fruit steamer had just arrived from the states—a big event for Port El Sol where everything is reckoned as "two boats ago" or "three boats from now." The smelly sun-drenched wharf was a scene of mad activity. Dark-skinned shirtless stevedores sweated and swore as they carried enormous packages of merchandise from the ship to pile on empty flat cars or dump into waiting carts.

In the general office the superintendent of the division, Mike Carew, was busily scanning the pile of letters that had just reached his desk.

He was a lanky young fellow under thirty, with gray eyes which twinkled merrily when not focussed intently on some object under scrutiny.

The letter he was reading seemed to absorb all his thought. Suddenly he looked up, also rising from his chair. "Hang me for an egg-eating iguana!"

In one swift stride he carried the letter to the auditor's desk, where he slapped it down in front of another young man.

"Read that, Andy—and weep," he commanded. "What's he done now?" queried Andy Benton, as his quick eye scanned the sheets in a familiar bold hand.

"Got married," answered Mike, curtly, much as if saying, "He's dead." Andy picked up the letter for a careful reading.

I am, Sir, MRS. JOS. ROGERS. A tight feeling caught Mike in the throat. If only the letter had reached Joe first, as intended, he would have read between the lines. But now—what a chance for friendly festivity!

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rogers arrived two boats later. If his job had not required it, Mike would never have gone down to meet that boat. But as it was, he steered clear of the promenade deck where the passengers were congregated. Only once did he catch a glimpse of Joe and a tall straggler female.

As he dodged down a companionway Joe spied him with a bunch of officials up forward and pounced on him like a hawk on a chicken. Without a "by your leave" to the astonished officials, he dragged him aft.

"Here he is, Myra!" he shouted. Mike chilled at the note of triumph in his voice, but decided to make the best of an awkward situation.

As yet he had seen only the bride's back, but Joe's last mighty shove forced him through the circle around her and placed him practically at her side. She turned to receive him.

Mike tried to speak, but could only gasp. He stood gaping at the slender, blue-eyed woman who was Joe's wife.

"Kiss the bride, you old pirate," ordered Joe as he drew them together. As Mike remained in a daze, he whispered, "Old dumb-bell, I wrote the letter. She knows nothing about it."

Just then Andy loped up for his tenth look at the bride. "Say, you two pikers," Joe called. "Where's the reception committee?"

Mike had to grin. Andy grinned sheepishly back. Again Joe had made them feel miserable and wretched for two weeks—and they still liked him.

back on Mike's desk as gently as if it had been a stick of dynamite. "Gad, what a woman! Looks like you'd put your foot in it this time, Mike." "Say!" shouted Mike, enraged by the holler-than-thou accent in his tone. "Where do you get that you-stuff? Didn't you help write that letter?" "You signed it," said Andy. "I wash my hands of the whole affair."

"Oh, yeah! And who said she was made outa star-dust—that her eyes had cabbaged the moonbeams?" "I was only quoting from Joe's letter, as you are entirely aware."

"Well, Joe must have been drunk on tiger's blood. Say, Andy, can't you just picture the kind of forget-me-not of the angels she is? Tall and bony, wears specs, and has shark's eyes. One of those women that gobble up you like a turkey instead of swearing."

Mike gingerly picked up the letter and read it again with interpolations of his own.

"Sir— Your abominable letter addressed to my beloved husband, Joseph Rogers, by a happy coincidence fell into my hands. (Yeah, fell in the world, all right. I'll bet your octopagan tentacles search every pocket he has) "If your intentions were as nefarious as this letter would lead one to believe, then fate was indeed kind to me in placing it in my hands."

(Fate, and who else?) "It is evident that you are trying to separate two tender hearts whom God hath joined together." (The Almighty would have to hootle me, old gal—um-m-m—let's see how she winds up—) "Unless you persist in your attempt to cause trouble between us, I shall never show this letter to my dear husband, who has always spoken of you in the highest terms of affection and esteem."

There was a transit December 9, 1874, and another December 2, 1882, and another pair of December transits will not occur for 243 years—in 2117 and 2125; but during this period two June transits will occur, in the years 2004 and 2012.

Reading at Distance
From experiments made regarding the most favorable color combinations for reading at a distance, it was found that the most legible print was black upon yellow background. The order of merit obtained for different combinations is as follows: (1) black on yellow; (2) green on white; (3) red on white; (4) blue on white; (5) white on black; (6) white on red; (7) white on green; (8) white on black; (9) white on blue; (10) white on red; (11) green on red; (12) red on green.

"Have Got" Correctly Used
"Have got" is correctly used to indicate the result of a special effort, as "I went after the book and I have got it." But the use of "have got" for "have" is one of the most common errors in English. In statements concerning possessions, such as "I have got a headache," or "I have got a job," the redundant "got" should be omitted and the word "have" used alone. Also in statements concerning compulsion, similar to "I have got to go," the word "got" should be omitted.

Plant Beds Sterilized
Even plants need the safeguard of sterilization of their habitat on occasions. Operators of greenhouses are forced at times to sterilize the soil in the seed beds to prevent their plants from contracting various plant diseases which can cause thousands of dollars in damage unless prevented. The usual method of sterilization is to heat the soil in the seed beds with steam pipes, the soil being raised to a temperature of 212 degrees Fahrenheit.

The Dorr Rebellion
The Dorr rebellion was the outcome of an essentially democratic movement in one of the last strongholds of conservatism, on the question of manhood suffrage. On May 3, 1842, the "Suffrage Legislature" assembled at Newport, R. I., with Thomas W. Dorr as governor. King, the legitimate governor, proclaimed martial law. The suffrage party appealed arms. Their troops were dispersed and Dorr fled.

Consistency of Fog
Fog is a heavy mist consisting of tiny globules of water floating in the air. Fogs on or near the sea are clouds come down to earth that spread out more than in the sky. The fog that forms over cities is the damp mist combined with smoke, dust and other impurities in the air. Fogs come when the upper air acts as a blanket and keeps the misty air down until the wind blows it away.

Beau Brummell
The real name of Beau Brummell was George Bryan Brummell. He was a splendid spendthrift, at one time a man of wealth, a dresser in exquisite taste, and the arbiter of fashion among the courtiers of the prince of Wales, with whom he was an intimate. Brummell was born in 1778. Early in life he managed to make the acquaintance of the prince and from that time his star was in the ascendancy. He had a fortune, which he spent lavishly. He maintained an extravagant establishment in London until his last penny was gone. For some time he lived on credit. Then, one by one, his friends deserted him. The prince turned against him, and he was obliged to flee to France in order to escape arrest for debt. After some years in wretchedness his mind failed him and he died in a hospital for mendicants in 1840.

First Theater in Capital
Aside from occasional performances given in Blodgett's hotel, which was at the southwest corner of Eighth and E streets, northwest, Washington had no playhouse in its first years. In 1803 a number of citizens met at Tunnell's tavern and planned the erection of the first theater in the city. It was built in 1804 on the northeast corner of Eleventh and C streets, and known as the Washington theater. Tunnell's was on the southeast corner of Ninth and Pennsylvania, southeast, and was founded in 1796—Washington Star.

Grunt Fish in South
Grunt is an excellent southern food fish, particularly abundant off Key West, and is light bluish with brown or brassy spots and other markings. As generally caught it is classed as a pan fish, but big specimens will reach four pounds in weight.

Transits of Venus and When Phenomena Occur

If the orbits of Venus, the earth and the sun were all in the same plane, a transit of Venus—her apparent passage across the face of the sun—would occur once in every 224 days, the time in which Venus takes to make the circuit of her orbit. But, says a writer in Cleveland Plain Dealer, owing to the different inclinations of these orbits it only happens at long intervals, that when Venus passes one of her nodes—or points at which her orbit intersects that of the earth—she is in a direct line between the earth and the body of the sun.

The earth passes the line of these nodes, respectively, on or about December 7 and June 6, so that transits can only occur near these dates. Usually a pair of transits occur near one of these dates with an interval of eight years between; then 243 years must elapse before a transit can fall upon the same date again. But near the middle of this period—not exactly the middle, because neither Venus nor the earth travels quite uniformly in its orbit—one or two transits will occur at the other date.

There was a transit December 9, 1874, and another December 2, 1882, and another pair of December transits will not occur for 243 years—in 2117 and 2125; but during this period two June transits will occur, in the years 2004 and 2012.

Circus Held by Village Children

Sonny Malley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Malley of Arundel street, received play-ground equipment for his birthday, June 8th and since that time the village has been agog with prospects of a circus conceived by Mr. Malley. Each evening would see the yard busy as any "Big Top" with the children assigned to stunts and practicing hard for perfection. The parade must be put over in a big way and so that required a great deal of rehearsal. The big day came and promptly at two o'clock the parade formed in front of the Malley home.

Albert Malley, Jr., "Sonny" dressed in a cowboy suit and seated on his fiery steed drawn by Richard Stevens, led the procession. Little Carl Lindsay, Jr., dressed in a miniature police suit acted as drum major and certainly had been drilled to perfection.

Walker Lindsay was the drummer, Walter Cassidy and Douglas Howe, trumpeters and they were followed by the other children in fancy costumes or carrying flags furnished by Mr. Malley. James Gillen, Jr., clown; Ann Scanlon, cat; Rebecca Stevens and Janet Gillen, butterflies; Richard Clough, cowboy; James Christie, Jr., and William Christien, Indians; Marilyn Barlow, elf; Gilbert Clough, Jane Lindsay, Harry Emmons, Richard Lindsay, Carol, Norma and Mary Lou Lindsay and Stephen Moss. The children were applauded as they marched up down the streets and traffic on Balmoral street was halted for the procession to proceed to Haverhill street.

Richard Stevens, the "Man on the Flying Trapeze" performed his stunts as per schedule and the children all joined in the song. When the cowboys killed the Indians, Stephen Moss and Walter Cassidy sang "Home on the Range." Marilyn Barlow recited a poem, "Fairies" and there was a boxing match between John and Robert Neil. One of the attractions was a trick dog owned by Joseph Maddox. An admission fee of two cents for children and three cents for grown-ups was charged and Mrs. Albert Malley and Mrs. Raymond Howe served the traditional lemonade. A sum of three dollars was realized and this will be given to the Salvation Army.

C. C. C. Visited by Business Men

Last week C. K. Brown and William Riley of the Boston Y. M. C. A. accompanied by ten business men visited the C.C.C. camp in Andover to complete the Vocational Guidance project inaugurated under the auspices of the Adult Educational committee.

Each business man held a private conference with one C.C.C. member, in which he sought to advise him on his major problems. The counselor obtained the man's work-history and study-history and from that showed the counselor what jobs offered likely to have to take in order to reach his goal.

A meeting of the Adult Educational committee, the first corps area educational adviser, Mr. Holland, and the Company 110 educational adviser will be held in Boston the middle of July to evaluate the experiment and work out a vocational guidance project which will be applicable in all the C.C.C. camps in New England.

Articles Needed by C.C.C.

The provisions made by the government for reading in the Civilian Conservation Corps are excellent. A library of 100 fiction books is renewed every 20 days. A permanent library of text books on birds, animals, trees, parks, trails, etc., is part of each camp's reading supplies. Subscriptions have been made to scientific, fiction, news, pictorial and current event magazines. Ten daily newspapers are received. Yet with these provisions little appropriation could be made for reading facilities. The C.C.C. camp in Andover could well use several easy chairs and couches. If anyone wishes to donate any of these articles, he can have an army truck call for them by telephoning the C.C.C. camp Andover 604-W.

There is also a large group of men ambitious to learn the repair of automobile motors. The best method of instruction is to have the mechanics, in a machine, take it apart and reassemble it. If someone has a car which he wishes to offer, it could be used profitably by the class in motor repair.

Essex County Health Camp Opens for Season

The Essex County Health Association's summer health camp in Middleton opened yesterday for its eleventh season when eighty children susceptible to tuberculosis arrived to spend eight weeks of healthful living, in an endeavor to build up their bodies to ward off disease.

During the past decade the Association has cared for 400 children and but one child has died from tuberculosis, an enviable record. The summer health camp is made possible by the annual sale of Christmas Seals.

This year as in the past the camp will be under the supervision of Miss Vera D. Griffin, field secretary, Miss Rae E. Kauffer, educational secretary, a staff of eight counselors and a camp nurse. Dr. Olin S. Pettigill, superintendent of the Essex Sanatorium, and president of the Essex County Health Association will examine children from time to time to check their condition. The average gain per child at the summer preventorium is approximately five pounds.

A new committee will be known as the "Child Guidance Committee" will be inaugurated this season with Dr. Clarence Bonner, superintendent of the Danvers State Hospital as chairman. Several improvements have been made at the camp this year making it one of the finest of its type in the local area and a camp nurse. Dr. Olin S. Pettigill, superintendent of the Essex Sanatorium, and president of the Essex County Health Association will examine children from time to time to check their condition. The average gain per child at the summer preventorium is approximately five pounds.

Whist Party at K. of C. Home

A successful whist party was held Tuesday evening in the Knights of Columbus home under the auspices of Court St. Monica, 783, Catholic Daughters of America.

The door prize, a quart of punch, was won by Mrs. S. Frank Burns.

Two special prizes were awarded as follows: a cake to Mrs. William J. Doherty and a bracelet to Anna Rita Burke.

Whist prizes were awarded to the high scorers as follows: Miss Mary Gauthier, waste basket; Mrs. William H. Navin, sugar; Miss Katherine Hurley, flower pot; Mrs. Patrick Sullivan, coffee; Mrs. William J. Doherty, salt and pepper shakers; Mrs. Walter J. Morrissey, hosiery box; Mrs. Joseph E. Fallon, pickles; Miss Mary E. C. Geagan, sugar; Mrs. M. A. Burke, coffee; Josephine Cleary, coffee; Mrs. John F. Davis, jelly; Miss Bessie Geagan, powder; Miss Ann Nelson, towel; Mrs. Bernard Reilly, glasses; P. J. Barrett, stationery; Mrs. S. Frank Burns, flower pot; Mrs. Fred L. Collins, towel.

Harvard Club's Prize Award

The winner of the New England Federation of Harvard Clubs prize for this year has been awarded to Ernest Alfred Johnson, Jr., of this town, an upper middle class Phillips academy. Johnson's record in scholarship has been unusually high. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Johnson of William street, Shawshaven village.

Injured at His Home

Jacky Irvine, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Irvine of 50 Balmoral street, Shawshaven Village, suffered a severe fracture of the left leg when he fell twelve feet to the ground from the front porch of his home.

The accident happened last week Thursday night when Jacky, climbed the porch and tried to walk along the railing falling to the ground just as his mother rushed to save him.

At the Lawrence General hospital, Jacky was reported as doing nicely and is responding to treatment.

Entertained Friends

Last Friday afternoon, Marjorie Foster entertained a number of her school friends at a party given by her mother, Mrs. William P. Foster and Mrs. F. Homer Foster at the latter's home.

Games, under the direction of Mrs. Eugene Lovely, were played in the beautiful pine grove.

Those present were Jane and Janice Allen, Carol Holmelund, Lillian Lovely, Margaret McFarlin, Gladys Martinsen, Evelyn Porter, Phillips, Marjorie and John Foster, Mrs. John Franklin.

Injured in Collision

George Milliken of 625 Andover street, Lawrence, suffered a laceration of the right leg late Tuesday afternoon in an accident in which two machines collided in Andover square, overturning the machine in which he was a passenger.

According to the police report, a coupe driven by Milton R. Crossman, Jr., of 4 Winthrop avenue, Lawrence, going north on North Main street, was struck by a light sedan operated by Margery H. Bejian of 40 Pleasant street, Haverhill, which was traveling west on Elm street.

The coupe was hit on the right rear wheel and turned over on its left side, smashing the wheel and top. The front end of the sedan was also damaged considerably.

Guest at Kitchen Shower

The W. W. G. girls of the Baptist church recently tendered a kitchen shower to Miss Edna Thompson at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Thompson on Gould road. Miss Thompson is to become the bride of Richard Lounsbury.

During the evening's program Miss Ruth Thompson and Miss Esther Stokes dressed as an elderly couple presented the gifts to the bride-to-be. As the "old woman" was presenting a bouquet of kitchen utensils and giving the usual congratulations and advice the old man opened an umbrella and showered handkerchiefs over her head.

Refreshments were served by the following committee: Miss Clarabell Mason, chairman; Mrs. Kenneth Thompson, Mrs. Charles K. Barnett and Mrs. Fred H. Otis, Jr.

Those present: Misses Bethulah Dennison, Edith Herbert, Clarabell Mason, Alice Herbert, Ruth Thompson, Marian Herbert, Helen Thompson, Esther Stokes, Edna Thompson, Ruth Dennison, Mrs. Fred Otis, Jr., Mrs. Carlton Smith, Mrs. Everett Ward, Mrs. Charles K. Barnett, Mrs. Everett M. Lundgren and Mrs. Kenneth Thompson.

Marriages

Kent Alden French of Washington street, Eseter, N. H., and Helen Schultz of 3 Bel avenue, Exeter, N. H., were married at 2 Stonehedge road by Rev. F. B. Ness.

Cancer Clinic at Lawrence Hospital

Pain is rare in the early stages of cancer. Yet many individuals wait until pain occurs before consulting their doctor for the lump or the sore they have noticed for some weeks. Waiting for pain may allow an early cancer to develop into one for which little can be done. Delay is dangerous.

A cancer clinic will be held at Lawrence General hospital Tuesday July 3rd to 10 a.m.

Marriage Intentions

Norman Howard of 9 Sutherland street and Simone Rheame of 16 Tyler street, Lawrence.

Increase in Probate Court Fees

William F. Shanahan, Register of Probate for Essex county announced today at Salem that the legislature has recently passed legislation entitled, "An Act relative to Entry and Other Fees in the Probate Court." Mr. Shanahan said, "because of this new legislation, which becomes effective September 1, 1934, approximately twenty matters, which heretofore have carried no entry fee, will call for a fee of either one or three dollars, depending upon the nature of the matter filed. This new schedule, in most instances, will not become operative in cases where the matter presented deals with estates valued at $1,000 or less, nor will the schedule now in force be affected by this recent legislation. It is estimated that this will result in an increased revenue of $100,000 throughout the Commonwealth."

Manx Cats

A question sent to the Boston Globe for information regarding the curious Manx cats was answered in this amusing and interesting manner.

(Quote Boston Globe) Mrs. F. Andover: "How the cats on the Isle of Man came to be tailless is a mystery. There is a theory that they are the descendants of the tailless cats from Spain which escaped to the island when two ships of the Spanish Armada were wrecked there off Spanish Point, in the year 1588.

Some naturalists say that the Manx cat is a cross of an ordinary cat and a rabbit, arguing that the cats have long and stronger hind legs than the ordinary kind.

Another theory is that the cats were originally brought from Japan.

A legend current in Man is that the Manx cat was the last of the animals to get into the Ark, and its tail was trapped when Noah slammed the door.

Said the cat, and he was Manx.
"O, Capt. Noah, wait!
"I'll catch the mice to give you thanks
And pay for being late."
So the cat got in, but, O!
His tail was just too slow.
Manx cats have the reputation of being good mousers."
