Over 300 Present at Old Tavern Opening

Persons from Many Surrounding Towns Visit Historic Abbot Tavern Monday Afternoon—John V. Holt Re-elected Historical Society President

Open-house for a day on Monday at the ancient Deacon Isaac Abbot Tavern, under the auspices of the Andover Historical Society, proved to be a very successful occasion, despite the persistently falling rain.

Approximately three hundred persons came to view the historic spot, so intimately linked with the early Andover days, and to do honor to the names of Abbot and Locke.

Beautiful furniture and rare antiques of the period had been loaned and effectively arranged by the committee; generous friends had sent choice flowers, knickies in costume received the guests and served tea and cakes.

The register of attendance presided over by Mrs. Burton S. Flagg, lists the names of many neighboring towns, and those from near by historical societies, while not less than 30 visitors bearing the name of Abbot or claiming kinship were there in person, with greetings from others too far distant to attend. Priscilla Abbot of this day and generation, kept alive the memory of the famous Priscilla and her historic Bible.

In the receiving line were: William A. Trow, Mrs. John V. Holt, Mrs. Henry C. Sanborn and Mrs. Charles W. Ward, while Mrs. Henry S. Jenkins, Miss Clara R. Boynton, Mrs. James J. Abbott, Miss Kate Jenkins, Mrs. Frank Carlton, Mrs. Roy H. Bradford and Mrs. G. Richard Abbott acted as hostesses in the various rooms.

At the tea tables Mrs. Charles E. Abbott, Mrs. Dudley Freeman, Mrs. Woodson Ezell and Mrs. Frederick M. Newton poured and the servers were Mrs. C. Carleton Kimball, Mrs. Carl F. Hatticher, Mrs. Charles E. Palmer, Miss Helen Eaton, Mrs. F. Tyler Carlton, Mrs. Nathaniel Stowers, Mrs. W. Shirley Barnard and Mrs. Foster C. Barnard while Mr. and Mrs. James T. French extended every courtesy in their apartment.

At eight o'clock the annual meeting of the society was held, with President John V. (Continued on page 2, column 1)

Held in $4050 on Incendiary Charge

Earl Downes of River street, Ballardvale, was held in $4050 bail in District court Wednesday morning when he was arraigned on charges of drunkenness, wilfully and maliciously setting fire to a dwelling, and wilfully and maliciously setting fire to a building.

Downes was arrested by Chief of Police Dane Tuesday night when he found him in an intoxicated condition near a fire which officials claim was set in an unused boarding house on Dale street belonging to Marshall I. Stone of Boston. When found he had a pint of gin in his pocket, part of which had spilled over his trousers.

The fire department was called out by an alarm from Box 24 at 11 Tuesday evening. The old structure had not been used for some time, but Chief Emerson estimated that if it were to be reconstructed for use, it would cost $3000 to $5000 to repair.

When Chief Dane arrived, he looked through the crowd, but could find no trace of any suspicious person. He then searched the surrounding territory, and found Downes near the railroad track. Downes has been before the court before on false alarm cases.

The case was continued until next Thursday.

Rev. Ernest A. Miller of Lawrence, president of the Lawrence Council of Religious Education, was the speaker of the evening. Rev. Frederick A. Wilson, D.D., conducted the worship, and Mr. Deyernmond led the song service. Supper was served by the World Wide Guild girls.

The new officers will meet November 12.

Howard McKean Cutler, 31, of 9 Abbot street, was removed to the Lawrence General hospital from Dr. Walker's office. He had severe cuts about the legs, his left arm and left shoulder. George Ripley, 23, of 11 Abbot street, was cut on the head and was treated at the doctor's office.

The two men were riding in a Ford cabriolet with the top down, when an ice truck operated by William H. Carter, 73, of South Main street, came out of a side road with a load of ice. Hope to Lease Smith and Dove

A concern reputed to employ about 300 persons is now conducting negotiations with a view of leasing the old Smith and Dove factory. The name and business of the firm are being withheld, so that boards of trade in other towns will not have an opportunity to solicit the company. Negotiations with the mattress company which made inquiries here last summer are at a standstill.

Local Grange Votes to Oppose License

Resolution Urges Members and Citizens of Andover to Vote "No" on Both Questions at Coming Election on November 6

Andover Grange went on record as being opposed to the granting of any licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors in Andover at its meeting Tuesday night. The resolution adopted follows:

"Andover Grange, believing that the sale of intoxicating liquors in our town is detrimental to its best interests, urges its members and its fellow-citizens to vote 'no' on both liquor proposals at the coming election."

The vote was not unanimous. The third and fourth degrees were worked on a large class, Tuesday evening, the third, by the Ladies' Degree Team and the fourth by the regular officers. There were a large number of visiting grangers. A most delicious supper was served at seven o'clock by Mrs. Ethel Robinson and her helpers.

The Grange will visit Draught Grange, November 5 and North Reading Grange, November 21. Also Andover Grange is invited to attend Church Sunday evening, November 4 at seven o'clock when "Grange Night" will be observed. The sermon will be on the subject, "What We Have Learned From Hard Times." There will be special music.

November Club to Sponsor Lectures

To those interested in following intelligently the events of this changing world it will be welcome news that the November Club is to sponsor a course of four lectures by Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor. The lectures will be free to members of the club and a charge of fifty cents for each lecture will be made of others who wish to attend.

Mrs. Taylor has the essential qualities of a good lecturer: personality, exploring mind, ability to interpret facts and an extensive fund of information. All this is combined with a gift of vivid expression and a pleasing voice. Her college and social background, her life in different parts of the United States, plus her varied and unusual travel abroad have equipped her well for her work.

No further invitation is needed to attend these lectures and it is hoped that many will avail themselves of this unusual opportunity. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

Taking a Mile

The clergymen, the prominent educators of our town, and the local Grange have gone on record in the last few weeks as being opposed to the continuance of licenses for the sale of liquor here in Andover...

License has failed here in Andover, not because the people of the town in general were incapable of conducting the legal sale of liquor, not because of any supposed degrading effects from liquor itself...

The majority of the voters of Andover do not favor prohibition; the majority of the voters feel that a person should drink if he so desires. But they feel also that when drinking or the carrying on of liquor sale here becomes detrimental to the best interests of the town...

There can be no doubting that the conduct of the local package stores, and the conduct of several of our licensed restaurants have been a credit to the town. Andover is proud of these dealers, and it regrets that the abuses of a few restaurant owners with only beer licenses, combined with an interpretation of the law which makes it necessary for the town to tolerate the offending dealers...

The Townsman has not concentrated its attack on "habitual drunkards"; Andover would have these poor unfortunate weak-minded persons with or without license. But if we vote "No" in November, it would mean that we will on December 31 be rid of several places in town which have become, to speak plainly, "joints." We would no longer have what are actually saloons, dimly lit, harboring a gang of men who don't know when to stop, men who hang around leaning against Main street buildings...

Being liberal, being broadminded, does not mean that the voters of this town should let such conditions continue. It means that the voters should be liberal-minded toward the town rather than to a few individuals in the town who have proved that they are not worthy of any liberal treatment. They were given an inch; they took a mile. They were given a license; they took away Andover's reputation for respectability. Andover will have to take the inch back to recover the mile.

Siftings

Jimmy Roosevelt, is just like prosperity. He doesn't seem to show up when the Democrats want him to.

Hiltel was to have made a statement on church affairs yesterday, but a toothache prevented it. His teeth, unlike his statements, are evidently not false.

Most merchants feel that the old saying "Give credit where credit is due" should be changed to "Give cash where cash is due."

It seems nice to feel that "Public Enemy No. 1" has become synonymous with "next to be killed."

"They had a row under the Harvard goal posts Saturday which leads us to suggest again a way of keeping rosters away from the uprights. Just paint them with molasses a few minutes before the game ends."

Over 300 Hundred Present at Old Tavern Opening

Holt, presiding. Reports of the Secretary and Treasurer chronicled the year's activities and showed a small balance on the right side of the books because of the added generosity of the sustaining members.

A great need was expressed by the treasurer for more members in this class, those who would like to make a yearly contribution of a sum greater than the nominal dollar membership, for there is much work of an educational and historical nature that the society could do for the real benefit of Andover and her citizens.

The report of the Nominating Committee was accepted and the following officers were elected: John V. Holt, president; William A. Trow, first vice president; Scott H. Paradise, second vice president; Mrs. Charles E. Abbott, honorary vice president; F. Tyler Carlton, secretary; Edwin P. Brewster, Treasurer; Mrs. Frank T. Carlton and Miss C. M. Underhill directors for a period of three years.

A very feeling tribute to the Locke family was given by Rev. Charles W. Henry, vividly picturing the beautiful character of Miss Florence M. Locke, her charm, her culture and her conservation to her ideals of youth and education and her own attitude towards life. Rev. Frederick A. Wilson, D.D. read a brief extract from one of President Washington's letters to his nephew, Bushrod Washington in 1783 which is well worth re-printing. It follows:

FOR SERVICE AND QUALITY FOOD CALL ANDOVER 1287 BEEF, PORK and LAMB Have you tried our sausage? DEHULL'S MARKET Centrally located at 45 MAIN ST.

"Be courteous to all, but intimate with few; and let those few be well tried before you give them your confidence. True friendship is a plant of slow growth, and must undergo and withstand the shocks of adversity before it is entitled to the appellation. Let your heart feel for the affections and distresses of everyone, and let your hand give in proportion to your purse; remembering always the estimation of the widow's mite, that it is not everyone that askest that deserveth charity; all, however, are worthy of the inquiry, or the deserving may suffer."

Talk on Abbot Family Following this the announced speaker of the evening, Mr. William A. Trow, vice president of the Society, gave a carefully prepared paper concerning the Abbot family, as particularly connected with the tavern in the lives of Deacon Isaac Abbot and his son Isaac; the old tavern made famous by the brief visit of Washington in 1789, an occasion in her history which Andover is pleased to remember and publicly celebrate as opportunity offers.

Mr. Trow's paper commanded the close attention of the listeners, fully appreciating the careful study and research involved. It will be filed with the archives of the society. Mr. Trow also voiced his personal memories of Miss Locke, who was an active member of the Andover Historical Society and to many it seemed an occasion worthy of the one whose family had made it possible to open Miss Locke's home to her friends for this noteworthy meeting.

During the afternoon the Andover Historical House at 97 Main street was opened for visitors. The hostesses in costume, Miss Alice C. Jenkins, Mrs. J. Oran Sheppard and Miss C. M. Underhill, were busy with guests coming from the Abbot Tavern or finding their way thereto.

The booklet recently published by the society entitled Historic Houses and Sites is a suggestion guide for historically inclined visitors.

Andover Missionary Conference Thursday The Fall meeting of the Andover District of Massachusetts Missionary Conference will be held on November 1 at All Souls Church in Lowell at 10.30 a.m.

The speakers will be Mrs. Mary D. Carver of Boston, who will lead a discussion on "Adult Education and Worship," Mrs. Henry J. Bennett who will speak on "Our Work in Tottori, Japan," and Rev. Robert W. Cole of Leyden church, Brookline, on the subject "Peace." Conference will open with Mrs. Carver's Discussion instead of the business session as usual.

Communications

The Other Side TO THE EDITOR OF THE ANDOVER TOWNSMAN: I have read with considerable interest, letters signed by the Reverend George B. Frost and your Editorials on the subject of voting either for or against the continuation of licenses for sale of liquor, beer and light wines in Andover.

It seems that only one side of this question is being presented and that the opinions given are neither liberal nor broadminded. In your Editorial of August 31st you appear to assume that a large number of our Townsman are against the renewal of the licenses whereas this is of course a matter that can only be decided at the polls.

In Mr. Frost's letters I find much to criticize in the immoderately exaggerated language used evidently with the object of trying to establish as a fact that there is a lot of drunkenness in Andover now. This is the language of the old time Teetotaler who seemed to think because he did not want to drink himself that no one else should do so. It was these people, animated by a spirit of fanaticism, who started the idea of Prohibition, the ignoble experiment calculated to undermine the liberty on which our Constitution is founded.

The penalization of hundreds of soberminded and temperate people who wish to drink good sound beverages for the sake of a few weak-minded drunkards is essentially unjust. Prohibition was founded on this idea and aroused many otherwise temperate people to deal with bootleggers as a protest against the manifest injustice of the Prohibition Amendment and the Volstead Act. The country as a whole has repudiated Prohibition. Are we to permit a comparatively small and prejudiced minority to force it on Andover?

The entire situation involves a question of responsibility. Are we capable of governing our town and controlling the sale of liquor or not?

I understand that our Board of Selectmen have been most careful to issue licenses only to responsible people and have already proved that they are ready to cancel the license of anyone selling to those classified as habitual drunkards. I would also like to point out that the package store on Barnard Street is a credit to this town and that it would be a manifest injustice to the owner to put him out of this business and also to many highly respected citizens who deal there.

I am informed that the police force is co-operating with the Board of Selectmen and that as a result there is very little real drunkenness in Andover, the actual number of habitual drunkards being less than ten in number. Is every temperate man to suffer a gross injustice because of these few who call themselves left to the proper authorities to handle.

If we do not have licenses in Andover those who wish to drink can easily and will go to Lawrence to get what they require and will do their shopping in that city at the same time to the detriment of Andover merchants. If we are unwilling in the matter of drink and use what influence they may have for good in this direction not only personally but through the many church organizations in this town.

In conclusion I earnestly urge all lovers of the fundamental doctrines of true Americanism to vote for the retention of the licenses in Andover not to be afraid of the responsibility that accompanies such action.

drowned in June of 1871. After this Mrs. Wagstaff moved to Andover, living with an aunt, and forty-five years ago she came to West Parish to live in the old Hunt homestead, in which she died. A great reader and a lover of clean stories, she loved the Bible most of all. Her friends ever enjoyed the tales of her younger days and of Andover seventy-five years ago. For many years she had been very deaf so that the joy that music might have been to her was denied, but the world to her was a beautiful place.

She is survived by a brother James Hunt, a nephew, Worthley Hunt and a grand-niece, Mary Hunt of Detroit. The funeral will be Saturday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock at her home on Lowell street. Rev. Newman Matthews of the West Church will officiate and burial will be in the West Parish Cemetery.

Sunday Soccer—Andover football club vs. Lowell football club, playstead, 2:30 p.m.

Sport Notes

Amesbury Ties Punchard Despite several long gains in the last period of the game on the playstead last Saturday afternoon, Punchard was unable to break a 0-0 deadlock with Amesbury high. The local team clearly outplayed the visitors, with the backfield doing well both in its end runs and its passing.

Captain Tammany, Sayles, Hackney, Gillen, Walker, and Mitchell all proved outstanding on the defense with Walker and Hackney showing up especially well as a forward-passing combination.

Captain Tammany by a sparkling tackle nullified the only Amesbury scoring threat at the beginning of the second quarter when Brozewich had a clear field ahead of him after receiving a punt.

The local line-up: Winkley, I.e.; Elder, I.T.; Pomeroy, I.g.; Sparks, Lynch, C. Mitchell, c.; Platt, r.g.; Boynton, r.t.; Hurley, Sayles, r.e.; Doherty, Hackney, q.b.; Chlebowicki, Gillan, I.b.; Walker, Tammany, r.h.; P. Mitchell, Hackney, I.b.

Pitman Wins Two

Joseph I. Pitman kept up his winning streak in skeets this week-end, with a perfect 50 at the local shoot Saturday and a 48 at the Ipswich Fish and Game shoot Sunday.

The results of the local shoot: J. I. Pitman, 25-25; 50; L. Harris, 22-23; 45; Stanley Stoddard, 19-21; 40; G. D. Bowen, 20-18; 38; Dr. Brown, 18-19; 37; Mr. Lambert, 13-17; 30. In the 410 gauge class Claxton Monro broke 14-13, and Mrs. J. I. Pitman and Mrs. Leslie Kinsman in their first attempt at shooting the small gauge, both broke seven each.

Lawrence 1—Andover F.C. 0

The Lawrence soccer team scored an early goal Sunday afternoon to defeat the Andover F.C. 1 to 0 in Lawrence. The local forward line was by far the better of the two, but excellent defensive work by McAllister and Ross at fullback and Lee in goal kept the locals from scoring.

The Andover line-up: Henderson, goal; Craig, I.b.; Dundee, r.b.; Bissett, I.h.b.; Denholm, c.h.b.; Simes, r.h.b.; Deyermann, L.o.f.; Smith, I.f.; McGrath, c.f.; Carver, r.f.; Campbell, r.o.f.

A large delegation from the Swampscott Post, headed by Commander Porter, visited and a happy evening was spent in entertainment.

Three Vehicles Crash

No one was injured Monday morning when three machines were involved in an accident on Lowell street, near the old railroad crossing. A truck, operated by Paul Bergeron of 89 Bromfield street, Lawrence, parked on the right side of the road, coming toward Shawsheen, when it was hit on the rear left by a DeSoto sedan operated by F. Foris Gladu of School street, Lowell. Gladu was travelling toward the village when he skidded into the truck. Then the rear end of his car swung out into the road, striking a Ford coupe operated by Carl H. Johnston of Brentwood road, Exeter. Johnston was driving toward Lowell.

Both automobiles had to be towed away, but the truck was able to proceed on its own power.
