Gives Education Talk at Meeting of League

Jerome Burt, State Supervisor of Secondary Education, Tells of Growth of High Schools—School of Politics Next Week

Jerome Burt, the State Supervisor of Secondary Education in Massachusetts, spoke at the January meeting of the Andover League of Women Voters, held Tuesday evening, January 15, in Abbot hall, opened through the courtesy of Abbot Academy. He began by giving a brief history of Secondary Education in the United States, which was very interesting. The 30th anniversary of the Boston Latin school will be celebrated this spring as it was founded in 1635, but the first public high school, the English Classical school was started in 1821. A very surprising statement he made, was that there were only 200,000 young people in public high schools in the United States in 1890, whereas today there are seven million! No wonder there are housing difficulties!

In 1890 there was a narrow academic course, today 85 per cent of that seven million students are not going to college and must be planned for, causing a great change in curriculum to meet the needs of the tremendous increase in the number of those students intellectually less competent. In 1915 the National Education association formed a committee to look into the needs of the situation. "If you can't choose your pupils, you must fit your school to them." In 1918 this committee reported on the "Cardinal Objectives for Secondary Schools," and Mr. Burt's talk was based mainly upon these objectives, of which there were seven in the report, and Mr. Burt added an eighth. These were elaborated and explained clearly and interestingly. Without going into details the list was (1) Training in Health, (2) Mastery of Fundamental Processes, (3) Worthy Home Membership, (4) Vocational Training, (5) Civic Training, he emphasized the fact that in the last presidential election there were only 58.60 per cent of eligible citizens who voted, (6) Worthy use of leisure, and (7) Ethical Training. Mr. Burt's addition eighth point was World Mindfulness. At the conclusion of his talk, the audience kept him busy answering questions.

There are three study groups in the League this winter: one under Mrs. Alan Blackmer's leadership on "The Trends toward Nationalism and Planned Economy, taking up Fascism, Socialism, Communism, Democracy"; Mrs. Harold Ruffon will lead the Education group and Mrs. C. S. Lamont is chairman of the group on Child Welfare. Any one interested in joining one of these will please get in touch with the leader.

School of Politics

The Andover League would like to draw attention to the fine program of the School of Politics conducted by the Massachusetts League of Women Voters at Agnes house, Radcliffe on next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, January 22, 23, and 24. For $2.50 the whole of the program may be enjoyed or single sessions are 75 cents each. Mrs. A. Graham Baldwin, Taylor hall, or Miss Helen (Continued on page 2, column 4)

Christ Church in Annual Meeting

The annual parish meeting of Christ church will be held Monday in the parish house at eight o'clock. This meeting elects officers of the parish and representatives to the various church conventions. Three vestrymen retire each year and are not eligible for re-election for one year. This year Fred H. Eaton, Fay H. Elliott, John D. Little, and Harry Dalton (who has moved away) will be replaced. It is always an important affair in church life.

At 6.30 on Monday a parish supper will precede the meeting. This supper is not an annual event but will be held on this one hundredth anniversary year of parish life. Tickets may be purchased from members of the vestry or heads of the Guilds.

The service in the church will precede the annual meeting. On Thursday the meeting of the committee, which will plan for the one hundredth anniversary celebration next fall, was held in the rectory. The special committee consists of Henry G. Tyler, Benjamin Jaques, Rev. Arthur Taft, Charles S. Cook, Mrs. W. E. Howe, Miss Alice Jenkins and Mrs. A. T. Boutwell.

Assessors Not to Ask for Machine

There will probably be no request for "a machine for the assessors" at the annual town meeting this year, it was learned this week. Last March Chairman Hardy requested $1200 for a "machine for the assessors," not an automobile, but a machine to be used by the clerk in doing the recording. The clerk has been using instead a typewriter with a very long carriage, and this was evidently proved satisfactory.

Annual Banquet Held

The annual banquet of the Andover Square and Compass club was held last night at the club hall, with Fred M. Blodgett being the principal speaker. He gave an interesting talk on an Alaskan hunting trip by airplane, and also showed moving pictures of hunting, fishing and wild animal life in Alaska. The banquet committee: Henry E. Miller, chairman; Foster C. Barnard, Augustus Remington, Mitchell Johnson, William A. Allen, Charles T. Gilliard, Leonard D. Sherman and Howard T. Mailey.

Andover Pythians Install Officers

Mrs. Lily Harris was installed as most excellent chief of the Pythian Sisters and George T. Gilley as chancellor commander of the Knights of Pythias at joint installation ceremonies held Monday evening in Fraternal hall.

The Temple officers were installed by Deputy Grand Chief Gertrude Hall and suite of Haverhill and the lodge officers were installed by Deputy Grand Chancellor Leroy Pettigrew and suite of Rockport.

At the ladies' installation all the officers were presented flowers from the Knights, with Mrs. Thomas Neil, past chief, receiving a cameo pin. Mrs. Harris was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers and a pin was presented by Mrs. Ralph T. Berry in recognition of her three years of service as mistress of finance. Mrs. Berry was succeeded by Mrs. Mabel Johnson. Gifts were also presented to the installing officers.

Guests were present from many towns and communities, among them being Grand Master Herbert C. Brimmer of the Grand Lodge and Deputy Grand Chancellor Frank Raymond, high sheriff of Essex county. Following the installation program a brief entertainment was held. Those installed were as follows:

Garfield Temple—Most excellent chief, Mrs. Lily Harris; junior chief, Mrs. Jessie Polard; manager (pro tem), Mrs. Annie P. Davis; mistress of finance, Mrs. Mabel Johnson; keeper of seals and records, Mrs. Annie MacDonald; protector, Miss Margaret Neil; guard, Mrs. Ida Adams; and past chief, Mrs. Thomas Neil.

Garfield Lodge—Chancellor commander, George T. Gilley; vice-commander, Ralph T. Berry; prelate, Jesse E. West; master of work, Thomas Thin; keeper of seals and records, Thomas B. Gorrie; master of finance, James Skae; exchequer, Thomas Neil; inside guard, David MacDonald; outside guard, Hugh Steed; and past commander, Harry Hurwicz.

A chicken supper preceded the installation.

Start Water Line to Police Barracks

The water pipe for the extension from South Main street along Gould road to the new state police barracks on the by-pass has arrived. The E.R.A. is now working on the extension, which involves the necessity of digging a trench through frost-hardened ground.

Gould road is being gravelled and a bad turn near the by-pass is being straightened out. Willow road is being surfaced.

On Tuesday morning seven pairs of mittens were given out to the E.R.A. workers. They were made by the E.R.A. sewing group.

Work is continuing on Spring Grove cemetery, cutting wood and sewing.

Glacier Priest Tonight

Rev. Bernard R. Hubbard, S.J., familiarly known as the "Glacier Priest" will speak tonight at the Meeting-room of Phillips Academy on his various explorations. He will also exhibit films. The lecture will start at 8.15, and admission is fifty cents.

To Hold Farm and Garden Conference

Garden Club to Conduct Conference in Town Hall on April 3—To Hold Painting and Poster Contests

The annual Farm and Garden Conference will be held on Wednesday, April the third in the town hall. While under the general direction of the Garden club, this is a community day; and everyone who is interested in vegetables, fruit, flowers, out-door cooking, piazza furnishings, etc., is invited to attend. The usual spring market will be a feature of the day. If you have anything to sell, please reserve space by notifying Mrs. Carl Pate, teacher as early as possible.

In connection with the Conference, there will be two contests:

1. Paint-a-Room. Two quart of excellent inside paint and a paint-brush will be furnished to everyone who qualifies for entry. Applicants must know how to paint or must learn how before entering the contest. A committee will visit the premises before work is started and will give a blue ribbon for greatest improvement. All who wish to enter, will please give their names to Mrs. Henry Hedwell before March 1.
2. Poster. A blue ribbon is offered for the best poster made by an Andover boy or girl under eighteen years of age. The poster may carry any appropriate design but should contain these words only: "Andover Farm and Garden Conference, Town Hall, April 3, 1935." Each poster must be the unaided work of the contestant. All posters should be given to Mrs. Henry C. Sanborn before March 15.

Mary Byers Smith is general chairman.

Thirteen Foreign Boys at Academy

Thirteen boys from twelve foreign countries are included in the registration at Phillips Academy this year. Thirty-four states and the District of Columbia are represented.

The foreign representation includes two students from Canada, and one each from China, Cuba, England, Greece, Japan, Roumania, Turkey, Syria, Philippine Islands, Siam, and Hungary. Massachusetts with 195 boys leads the states, with New York's 149 second, Connecticut has 53, New Jersey 39, and Pennsylvania 36. One each comes from Alabama, Arizona, Georgia, Maryland, New Mexico and Wisconsin.

The policy of preferring applications from boys who plan to stay two or more years is shown in the fact that this year for the first time there are more upper middle school seniors.

Catholic Daughters to Hold Initiation

Initiation ceremonies for the Catholic Daughters will be held Monday evening, January 28, in K. of C. hall, with state officers and staff in charge. A program of entertainment has been planned with Mrs. Albert Perrault in charge. The state court choir from Boston will sing.

On Monday evening, February 25, the court will present a three-act play, "The Kentucky Detective," in K. of C. hall. Mrs. Frank Welch will direct the cast. Dancing will follow.

Mrs. Lyman F. Cheever of 5 Pynchard avenue and Mrs. James H. Eaton of 5 Morton street stopped off recently in New York City.

In weather which kept most of us in-doors, a robin was seen this week by residents of Summer street, Mrs. H. Allison Morse reports.

Red Cross Elects Local Chairman

Frederick H. Jones of Central street was elected chairman of the Andover Chapter of the Red Cross at a recent meeting held at the home of Alfred Ripley. Mr. Jones succeeds Allan V. Heely, now headmaster at Lawrenceville school, Lawrenceville, N. J.

Clarence Waugh was chosen a director to fill Mr. Heely's place. The names were presented by Ralph N. C. Barnes, chairman of the nominating committee. Thaxter Eaton served as acting chairman.

Trying to List All Old Scouts

The North Essex Council, Inc., of the Boy Scouts of America is attempting to secure the names of all men, no matter what age, who were formerly scouts in the Council's district. It is planned to hold a monster reunion in the near future.

All former scouts are asked to sign their names on blanks left at the Andover Bookstore or Lowe's drug store. Absolutely no expense is entailed.

Town Officers All Seeking Re-election

Several more candidates took out nomination papers this week, swelling the list to twenty. This morning Miss Mary E. C. Geagan of River street, Ballardvale, senior member of the school committee, took out papers for re-election, thus completing the list of present office-holders who are seeking another term.

Yesterday afternoon Walter I. Morse, member of the Board of Public Works, took out his papers and in the morning Milton W. Chambers of Lowell street added his name to that of George M. Squires as opponents of Mr. Morse.

Frederick C. Smith, chairman of the school board, and Mrs. Annie S. Angus are also candidates for re-election, as is George G. Brown for board of health.

The selectmen's field was not increased this week, but there were many unconfirmed rumors that one of the town's most popular men would enter the race. No definite statement has been forthcoming, however.

The list of candidates to date:
Moderator (1)—one year
*Frederick Butler, Lowell street

Kindergarten Classes Start

Two kindergarten classes have been started in the Shawheen school under the F. E. A., with the Shawheen P.T.A. as sponsors. Classes are held daily from 9 to 12.

Two Lawrence teachers have been assigned since there are none in Andover coming under Class A, the neediest class, of the F. E. R. A.

P. A. Trustees Meet
The trustees of Phillips Academy held their regular meeting last Sunday. No one was chosen to succeed the late Judge Elias B. Bishop.

Savings Bank Has Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Andover Savings bank was held at its banking room on Monday afternoon, with the largest attendance in the history of the bank. The report of the treasurer indicated a large increase in deposits and surplus during the year. The general trends in the Savings Bank business indicate a much brighter outlook over one year ago.

The following corporators were elected to office: Trustees for three years, Frank E. Butterick, Edward V. French, Alfred E. Stearns, Abbot Stevens; president, Burton S. Flagg; vice-presidents, Frederic S. Boutwell, Philip F. Ripley; clerk, Alfred E. Stearns; new corporators, Louis S. Finger, Claude M. Fuses, Harry G. Tyler.

At the trustees meeting following the above the following were elected to office: Board of investment, Burton S. Flagg, Frederic H. Jones, Frank E. Butterick; auditing committee, David Shaw, Philip F. Ripley, Edward V. French.

To Start Cooking Classes at Guild

Miss Madeleine Kimball will conduct a cooking class for women, at the Andover Guild, during the winter and spring terms. Miss Kimball would like to meet all women interested in taking her course, on Tuesday evening, January 22, at 7.30 o'clock at the Guild house. She will outline the courses at that time. Miss Kimball, a graduate of Framingham State Teachers' college, is a trained and experienced home economics teacher and this will be a rare opportunity for the women of the community.

Slattery Class Whist

A whist will be held this evening at the home of Mrs. Dana W. Clark of Maple avenue under the auspices of the Margaret Slattery class of the Free church. Miss Jean MacLeish is in charge.

Miss Geagan, Mrs. Angus, Mr. Smith Again Out for School Board — Brown for Health Re-election and Morse for B. P. W.

Several more candidates took out nomination papers this week, swelling the list to twenty. This morning Miss Mary E. C. Geagan of River street, Ballardvale, senior member of the school committee, took out papers for re-election, thus completing the list of present office-holders who are seeking another term.

Free Church C. E. to Conduct Dance

The Young People's Christian Endeavor society of the Free church will hold its fourth annual dance in the parish house on Friday evening, February 1. Plans are progressing rapidly, and it is expected that a record crowd will attend.

Music will be furnished by Pete Laramee and his orchestra. Refreshments will be served.

Miss Jessie Dobbie is chairman of the committee, with James Gillespie, Isabel Biomette, Anne Jamieson, and Henry Donohue assisting her. Tickets may be purchased from the committee or from the members of the society.

Van Amburgh to Speak Thursday

C. J. Van Amburgh, state ballistics expert, will speak on "Finger-printing Bullets" at the meeting of the Service club next Thursday night in Square and Compass hall. The meeting will start at 6.15 p.m.

Files State School Bill

Ralph W. Emerson of Shawheen village has filed a bill with the state senate asking construction of a school for feeble-minded in Andover.

Savings Bank Changes Hours

Beginning with the week of January 21st, 1935 the Andover Savings bank will be open for business as follows: daily, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.; Saturdays, 9 a.m. to 12 m.

The bank will be open Wednesday afternoons instead of Saturday as heretofore.

Bids Called on New Junior High Project

Will Be Opened on February 11 at Seven in Town Hall —Special Town Meeting Cannot Be Held Before February 18

Special Articles to Ask Appropriations

One of the special articles for the coming annual town meeting will ask for an appropriation to cover the cost of a water extension along Greenwood road from Lowell street to the end of the present six-inch line on Chandler road.

An appropriation will also be requested for the construction of sidewalks on Shepley street, Binney street, and Fletcher street. These three streets, running off Union street in Shawheen village, have a sidewalk only on one side of the street.

It is also understood that another article will ask for the reconstruction of Ballardvale road.

The Board of Public Works will not ask for a new reservoir this year.

Physical Education Adviser to Speak

Carl Schrader, state supervisor of physical education, will speak before the Andover School Teachers' association on next Thursday evening at eight o'clock in the Stowe school assembly hall.

Mr. Schrader's visit here is particularly important at this time because of the proposed construction of a gymnasium. Last fall he was the unwitting center of quite a controversy in town when it was asserted that he had said that the gymnasium in the Boston architect's revised plans for the local project was large enough. He is later reported to have denied the statement.

All interested citizens are invited to attend this lecture.

To Try to Finish Assessors' Survey

Over $5,000 will probably be asked this year for the completion of the assessors' survey, according to the present plans of the assessors. The assessors will meet with the finance committee Monday evening.

Chinese Christian at Chapel Sunday

Coming straight from that part of the Orient toward which the eyes of the Western World have been looking so apprehensively, Dr. T. Z. Koo, Chinese Christian and scholar, has returned to the United States for another series of lectures and meetings in school and colleges. Dr. Koo has often been called "missionary to the Christian world." His understanding and interpretation of the message of Jesus has been so compelling and so dynamic that scores of people have felt that he has brought back to Christian forces in this country new life and vigor. Dr. Koo has been in great demand not only by the churches in America but also by college groups from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast. Phillips Academy is fortunate to have him for Sunday and Monday, during which time he will meet with various student and faculty groups.

Officers Elected by Church School

The annual business meeting of the Free church school was held Sunday. Dr. Wilson gave the reports of the Home Department which is in a very healthy condition with a membership of 47 and a substantial balance in the treasury. The missionary department's report was also made by Dr. Wilson and the projects of the school were benefited by generous contributions from the treasurer.

The report of the treasurer, George Keith, showed a very encouraging balance. The superintendent, Robert V. Deymond expressed his thanks to the members and teachers of the school for their loyal cooperation the past year.

Arranging Party for Snow-Train

A party of Andover residents is being organized to go on the Snow Train trip to Crawford Notch on Sunday. Twenty-one have already joined the party, and if forty join, a car will be reserved for the local group. Any others wishing to go should call George K. Sanborn, 249 J, before Saturday noon, and he will make the arrangements, including transportation to Lawrence.

The train will leave Lawrence at 8.45 a.m. Sunday morning and will arrive back in Lawrence at 9.50 p.m. The trip through the Notch gives an excellent view of the mountain scenery. Stops are made at Bartlet, Crawford Notch, and Fabyan.

Snowshoeing may be enjoyed, as well as skiing on the Mt. Washington carriage road, with shorter runs and practice slopes for the less intrepid skiers.

Van Amburgh to Speak Thursday

C. J. Van Amburgh, state ballistics expert, will speak on "Finger-printing Bullets" at the meeting of the Service club next Thursday night in Square and Compass hall. The meeting will start at 6.15 p.m.

Files State School Bill

Ralph W. Emerson of Shawheen village has filed a bill with the state senate asking construction of a school for feeble-minded in Andover.

Savings Bank Changes Hours

Beginning with the week of January 21st, 1935 the Andover Savings bank will be open for business as follows: daily, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.; Saturdays, 9 a.m. to 12 m.

The bank will be open Wednesday afternoons instead of Saturday as heretofore.

B. P. W. Kept Busy Yesterday

Yesterday's storm kept the B. P. W. busy from noon on. At noon when the snow was about two inches deep, eleven sidewalk plows were put on, and from 3 to 3.30 fourteen truck plows started on the streets.

Fourteen trucks were used this morning hauling away snow, two in the Vale, two in Shawheen and ten in the center. Forty-five men were employed in the center shovelling, about eight in the Vale and six in Shawheen.

Three horses were still working on the country roads.

THE ANDOVER TOWNSMAN

Published every Friday at the Press Building, Andover, Mass., by the Andover Press... ELMER J. GROVER, Managing Editor... Entered at Andover Postoffice as Second Class Matter

Start Thinking Now

The annual town meeting is not too far off for every single voter in Andover to make up his mind to act sensibly this time.

Offhand, if a person were to try to answer the question: "Why have our town meetings done so many crazy things lately?" he would answer: "Because there are a few irresponsible men who do a lot of equally irresponsible talking at the meetings."

As long as the present moderator continues to allow the same latitude in town meeting speaking as he has allowed the last few years, the voters of Andover will have to go on listening to these speakers.

Analyzing the situation further, you will begin to wonder where the sensible persons are; why don't they talk? And that leads to one more question: What happened to the taxpayers' association?

When we had the taxpayers' association in active existence, no such situation prevailed. Men came to town meeting prepared to give their opinions, and gave them. Unfortunately, there were excesses which brought the association's activities to a close.

Siftings

Governor Curley seems to have put an end to the in. com. Story.

Huey Long, now that he is beginning to have trouble with the Louisiana populace, probably agrees with the proverb, "Uneasy lies the head that wears the Kingfish's crown."

Louisiana is beginning to realize that even Kingfish will be intolerant if you keep it too long.

When the snow gets higher, the tax rate goes higher, and the coal pile gets lower.

We hope all the potential candidates are not as shy in office as they are in taking out their papers.

Expense Not Large for Sunday's Snow

The week-end snow storm proved comparatively inexpensive to the town, according to Charles T. Giliard, superintendent of the Board of Public Works.

Only Main street was plowed by truck, and the sidewalks were cleared out twice. Very little sanding was necessary.

Needy of Town Increase Rapidly Following Story in Last Week's Townsman

"Townsman advertising pays," Dr. J. J. Daly, local E.R.A. administrator, discovered Saturday morning when the weekly food was given out to the town's needy.

One afternoon this week a very much perturbed town official walked into our office and settled himself very wearily into the chair beside our desk.

Communications

"That Fare Is 'Troo Share'"

To the Editor: I have read with avidity the communications concerning the fare from Shawsheen to Andover square and I am surprised at the lack of interest of our elected officials.

There should be intelligent consideration given to the five-cent zone by our elected officials and the bus line officials.

Let's have a five-cent zone in Andover, from Shawsheen to Andover line, to Andover square and vice versa, from the square to Andover hill, etc.

NEWS OF OTHER DAYS

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Dr. and Mrs. James R. Fuller who have been visiting in New York, have returned to Andover.

Edward Carter of New York has been spending a few days in town.

At a meeting of the Parish club last evening held in the Glebe house, Mr. George Shaw spoke on the subject "Southern California."

It is reported that David May has purchased one of the cottages on Washington avenue formerly owned by George W. Stiles.

Mrs. Charles E. Abbott read a paper on the "Phillips of Andover" before a meeting of the Samuel Adams chapter, D. A. R., held last Saturday at the home of Mrs. George W. Dow in Lawrence.

At a general teachers' meeting held last Monday afternoon to consider the advisability of forming a Public School Teachers' association, a temporary organization was effected with Miss Downes, principal of the John Dove school, as chairman, and Miss Hill of the Stowe school as secretary.

Superintendent Hutchison, Principal Curtis of the high school, and Miss Dodge, principal of the Indian Ridge school, are a committee to present plans for a permanent organization.

On Saturday afternoon and again on Sunday evening, Miss Jackson comes to Abbot every year to speak and to hold conferences with the students especially those in the senior class. The conferences are very helpful in that Miss Jackson offers a wealth of information concerning vocations which are open to women after their formal education is completed.

On Tuesday evening, January 22, the senior middle class will present four one-act plays to which the public is cordially invited.

November Club to Meet

Mrs. Maude McGary Tibbetts will give readings from Dickens' Bleak House at the meeting of the November club Monday afternoon at 3:15. The literature department will be in charge.

Legion Auxiliary to Meet

The local Legion Auxiliary will meet next Thursday evening in the Legion rooms.

The monthly meeting of the Essex County Council American Legion auxiliary will be held Saturday at Legion home, Central street, Peabody, at 2:30 p.m.

Officers and members of the auxiliary are invited to attend a joint installation of Lawrence post, No. 40, Jewish War Veterans of the United States and the ladies' auxiliary to be held Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the Y. M. H.

Knew Their Winds

The ancient Greek navigators knew enough about the seasons and directions of certain winds, such as the etesians and the Indian monsoons, to utilize them in making voyages that would have been difficult or impossible without such knowledge, states a writer in the New York Tribune. After the Fifteenth century the trade winds of the Atlantic and the Pacific were similarly turned to account. At the close of the Seventeenth century the earliest attempt to chart ocean winds was made by Halley, the English astronomer, whose crude map of the trade winds and monsoons implies that he had a certain amount of statistical information at his disposal.

Water as Food

Commonly speaking, foods are those substances eaten or drunk for the building up and maintenance of the human body and to supply energy for its activities. In the more exact scientific sense, only those constituents of the foods consumed which are actually assimilated are considered foods, the remainder being waste. Water may be regarded as the most important of foods, constituting nearly 70 per cent of the human body. It is an absolute necessity for the maintenance of life. The average weight of water consumed per day, only part of which is assimilated, exceeds the dry weight of all the other foods combined.

Patchwork Quilts

Patchwork is older than history. Primitive man utilized scraps of animal skins and furs for clothing. It was one of the first decorative arts practiced by such ancient civilizations as the Egyptian and Chinese. In Europe it was flourishing at the time of the Crusades when applique was employed in the making of battle banners and draperies. In America the handicraft arrived with the earliest settlers, being a direct heritage from England.

BRIDES ASK—

DEAR Mrs. Post: I want to send one wedding invitation to a mother and father and their two unmarried daughters living with them. Since "and family" is not allowed by best form, please tell me just how their names are written on one envelope?

Answer: Mr. and Mrs. John Jones and on the line below, the Misses Jones.

My dear Mrs. Post: The soloist and organist who are to sing and play at my wedding are friends of my young uncle. They are not asking a fee but are doing it for me because he asked them to. I am going to invite them both to my reception, which is to be a large one. Outside of this, must I buy them each a gift?

Answer: I don't think I would say a One Thousand Thirty-Six (1,036) feet to a point, thence southerly to the granted premises, thence by broken lines northerly and northerly Three Hundred Six (306) feet to a point, and One Hundred Thirty-Eight (138) feet to a point in the southerly line of said Lowell Street and the place of beginning, containing One Hundred Forty-Four and Thirty-three (187) acres, be or more or less, the same more or less, or howsoever otherwise the said premises may be bounded, measured or described.

The above described granted premises are shown on a plan entitled "Plan of Will Rose Farm owned by American Woolen Company, Andover, Massachusetts." John Franklin, C. E. is to be recorded herewith, being the same premises conveyed to you by the mortgages herein by deed of even date to be recorded herewith.

The above described premises are conveyed hereby subject to a mortgage to the Andover Savings Bank for $9,000.00. The grantors, jointly and severally, covenant hereby with the grantees, their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, that the grantees, their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, may at all reasonable times, while any money shall remain unpaid on the note secured by this mortgage, enter upon the granted premises and into any building thereon to view the condition of the mortgage property.

Said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles, municipal liens and assessments, if any. Terms of sale: Five Hundred ($500.00) dollars in cash or certified check will be required to be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of the sale. Other terms to be announced at the sale.

Nice Girl

By WILLIAM DE LISLE, McClure Newspaper Syndicate, WNU Service.

SPEECHLESS, Mrs. Brenzel stared at her sullen-faced son as the full, awful meaning of what he had just told her sank into her brain. Years ago, before her late husband had made a fortune in pickles and preserves, Mrs. Brenzel would have accepted the present situation with some philosophical statement like "Boys will be boys." But in her new and exalted sphere she could only look upon it as the tragedy of tragedies.

"You say you asked this girl—this Claire De Shong—to marry you?" she said. "I did," Henry replied in a dull tone.

"My poor boy!" Mrs. Brenzel almost wept the words. "You were trapped. Those chorus girls are always scheming to . . ."

"She's a very nice girl. . . ." Henry offered. "Don't talk nonsense!" his mother snapped.

"And you asked her in writing?" she continued. "In writing!" "I'm afraid I did, mother."

Henry shifted nervously. At twenty-four he was what is generally known as a misfit.

"Henry, you will leave this matter to me!" Mrs. Brenzel said at last. "Yes, mother," Henry said dutifully. "But she's really such a nice girl. . . ."

"Nice? Don't be a fool!" Mrs. Brenzel ordered. "That afternoon her car drew up at the small apartment house where Claire De Shong lived. The girl herself answered the door.

"Are you Miss De Shong?" Mrs. Brenzel demanded. "I am."

"I am Mrs. Brenzel." "Henry's mother? How nice of you to call!"

"I have not called," Mrs. Brenzel said firmly. "Not in that sense. I wish to see you for a moment."

Mrs. Brenzel followed the girl into a dainty little sitting room, furnished daintily in black and yellow. It was just the sort of place Mrs. Brenzel had expected to find.

"I understand," she began, "that my son Henry has been talked into proposing marriage to you."

"Talked into, did you say?" Claire asked in a puzzled tone. "Yes, I believe in saying what I have to say simply and without beating about the bush in any way. Miss De Shong."

"Well, it's news to me!" said Claire. She took a cigarette from a silver case at her elbow and lit it.

"Do you mean that he has not proposed?" Mrs. Brenzel demanded. "I don't mean anything of the sort. He certainly has proposed. I have the letter in my writing desk now."

"That's what I meant. He has been invigled—"

Suddenly Claire broke into Mrs. Brenzel's sentence with a laugh. Mrs. Brenzel shifted uncomfortably in her chair.

"What I want you clearly to understand, Miss De Shong, is this: Henry has no money of his own. Not a penny. And if you insist on marrying him even his allowance will stop. I never weaken," she added, "once I've made up my mind."

Claire struggled for calm. "Henry told me you were rather hard," she observed. "It's a pity he hasn't a little, even a little, of your nerve, Mrs. Brenzel."

"I must ask you not to be impatient!" Mrs. Brenzel snapped. Claire flushed. "I don't know about that!" she cried. "You come to my apartment uninvited. You grossly insult me, and then tell me not to be impatient. What do you expect me to be?"

"The poor boy now sees he has made a mistake," Mrs. Brenzel continued, paying no heed to the girl's outburst. "He is as anxious to do the right thing as I am. And it's quite obvious that money is what you're after."

"Well, Henry hasn't anything else, has he?" Claire asked. "I am willing to pay you a thousand dollars for that letter. I have the money right here." She tapped the purse in her lap. "A thousand dollars," she repeated.

Claire smiled. "Is that what you think Henry is worth?" Mrs. Brenzel frowned. "To you, yes!" she said, thereby registering her first score.

The younger woman smiled again. "It's a bargain," she said. "I'll get the letter."

"If you ask me," was Mrs. Brenzel's parting shot, "you've done very well out of this affair."

"Exceedingly well," Claire agreed enthusiastically. "Now John and I can be married."

"John?" Mrs. Brenzel came to a full stop at the door. "My fiancé," Claire explained. "We've been sweethearts for years, but couldn't afford to get married. The depression, you understand. . . . That's one reason I took that dancing job. I wanted to help. But now, thanks to you Mrs. Brenzel, everything is all right."

Two Local Churches in Annual Meetings

Free and South Churches in Excellent Financial Condition, Reports State—Free Church to Hold Annual Supper on Wednesday Evening

The South Congregational and the Free Congregational churches both held their annual meetings Wednesday evening, with greetings being exchanged between the two churches. The South church also held its annual supper with 171 attending, but the Free church supper will not be held until next Wednesday, at which time the various organizations will report.

The outstanding feature of the South church meeting was the decision to secure contributions for placing a bronze tablet in memory of the late Rev. Frank R. Shipman, D.D. in the auditorium. The first gift, amounting to $25, was presented by Mrs. G. Richard Abbott in behalf of the A. P. C. sorority.

Both churches showed a fine financial record for the year, according to the reports of the treasurers. Stanley C. Hise reported for the Free church, while the South church figures had been distributed in printed form on Sunday.

Nathan C. Hamblin was chosen moderator at the South church. Letters were received from absent members and greetings extended to those absent through illness.

John A. Arnold, retired clerk after eight years' service, and Walden E. Bassett was chosen to take his place. Other officers elected were: treasurer, Frank R. Petty; assistant treasurer, Irving J. Whitcomb; auditors, Dr. Percy J. Look and Arthur W. Cole; deacon for six years, Dr. Percy J. Look; deaconess for six years, Mrs. Carl E. Claudi; presidential committee for three years, Foster C. Barnard and Mrs. P. Bartlett Whittemore; finance committee for three years, J. Augustus Remington; commissioner of the cemetery for three years, Jonathan E. Holt and superintendent of ushers, Dr. Malcolm B. McTernan.

The meeting closed with benediction by the pastor, Rev. Frederick B. Noss.

At the Free church James Gillespie served as moderator pro tem in the absence of Harrison Brown. Reports of the various committees were received as follows: trustees, Dana W. Clark; standing and missionary, Rev. Alfred C. Church; Sunday school, George Keith; and music, Thomas B. Gorrie.

Mrs. William B. Morrissey was elected deaconess to take the place of Mrs. Thomas Peters of Lowell street, who has served in this position for some time. Other officers: Moderator (for one year), Harrison Brown; Clerk (for one year), Rev. F. A. Wilson; Treasurer (for one year), Stanley C. Hickok; Assistant Treasurer (for one year), Lewis S. Paine; Auditor (for one year), Harold T. Houston; Trustee (for four years), Thomas B. Gorrie; Deacons (for three years), Joshua L. Paine and Thomas B. Gorrie; Church School Superintendent (for one year), Robert V. Deyermund.

Useful Orchids

Orchids are not only beautiful but they are also useful. Strand Magazine, London, says. Many of them have distinctly practical uses and several are used for medicinal purposes. "Vanilla," says the writer, Sir Josephth Colman, chairman of the orchid committee of the Royal Horticultural society, "is too well known to need description, yet few know it as an orchid. A Paris physician claims to have discovered that the essential oils distilled from certain orchid flowers have proved a relief in tuberculosis cases. Many flowers of less patrician quality could not claim so much practical service to mankind."

Magnetism

Faraday demonstrated in 1845 that all substances, even the gases, are either attracted or repelled by a sufficiently powerful magnetic pole. Practically, however, the metals responsive to magnetism are the three which, with their alloys, comprise the ferromagnetic group. These are iron, nickel and cobalt. Certain other combinations of metals will respond to the magnet. Thus there was discovered in 1903 an alloy—Heusler's alloy—which is comprised of copper, aluminum and manganese, and which is said to be not greatly inferior to iron in its capacity for being magnetized.

Use of Radio Beams

Radio beams were first devised to help navigators follow a straight course in bad weather when they cannot see the ground. The "am course" radio signal or radio beam is a steady hum in the radio receiver, which breaks after a few seconds, when the call letter of the sending station is repeated in dots and dashes. Then comes the steady hum again, followed by the dots and dashes. The radio beam "off course" signal is a dot and dash, or a dash and dot, depending upon which side the pilot is off his regular course.

Thirteen Women in Andover Older Than Town's Oldest Man—One Nearing 99

If the nineteenth amendment had been in effect in 1909 when the Post came, awarded now to the oldest man in town, was first given, who would now hold the cane, providing that equal rights were given to women in cane-holding as well as in voting?

When the cane was awarded last fall on the death of George J. Cummings, the choice lay among three men, all of whom were 88.

A search through the town street list of polls shows that Andover can boast of ten women nonagenarians (should we say "nonagenariennes"?) and 51 women octogenarians qualifying as of April 1, 1934.

The street list shows two aged 97, (one of which should have been 98 on April 1) one 96, one 95, two 93, two 91, two 90, three 89, three 87, three 86, four 85, five 84, ten 83, seven 82, seven 81 and nine 80.

The men of the town then seem to be mere youngsters compared to the ladies. At least they are according to the street list, which in several cases gives the right age. We are below the entire list of the nonagenarian and octogenarian clubs, realizing that the street list is not infallible and that the writer may have overlooked a few names.

It is one of the country's standing jokes that a lady never likes her age mentioned, but the ladies below, we hope, will forgive us, for they are past the age when women are five to twenty years younger than they really are—they are at the age when they can actually glory in it. Here is the list of club members, and we hope the membership will remain intact.

The nonagenarians are: 99, Rhoda W. Davis, 67 Salem street; 97, Anna T. Byington, High street, Ballardvale; 96, Charlotte Baker, Argilla road; 95, Emily Carter, 153 Main street; 93, Feronia R. Carpenter, 26
