C. C. C. Company Evacuates Town

Two years ago yesterday the 110th Co., C. C. C., came to Andover, and on next Monday it will leave this town, having completed its work here. The company will move to Freetown State Forest, Assonet, about eight miles north of Fall River. Work will be done there similar to the work here.
Capt. John E. O'Hair will remain with the company as commanding officer, and Lieut. Jacob Bowman will also remain. Thomas D. Taylor, of this town, who has been state superintendent in charge of the work here, will continue in that capacity at Assonet. Leo Liebermann is to continue as educational supervisor.
Lieut. Sterling F. Sandow went to Assonet with an advance party to prepare camp for the company. Then he will be transferred to camp in the Blue Hills reservation to take over a position as commanding officer of that camp.

Brother and Sister Fined in Auto Case

Miss Margaret D. Breen and her brother, Charles, of Lawrence were each fined $25 in District court Wednesday morning on charges of operating to endanger resulting from an accident on North Main street near Railroad avenue Monday night.
Miss Breen reported to the police that she was travelling south on Main street and followed another car in cutting out to pass another car. In so doing she struck a machine operated by Chester S. Foye of North Reading. Miss Catherine McCarthy, a passenger in the Foye car, was injured.
Officer Arthur Jowett took Miss Breen in to custody. While a crowd was around the accident looking the cars over, Miss Breen's brother having received a telephone call that his sister was in an accident and fearing that she had been hurt, drove up, according to the police, at a high rate of speed into the crowd. Officer William R. Shaw brought the charge against him.
Emmanuel S. Clancy of Dorchester appeared a fine of $100 in District court Monday morning. He had been adjudged guilty of operating under the influence of liquor and operating to endanger on the night of May 11, when his car crashed into a car operated by William Shank of Lawrence, which in turn collided with a car driven by Francis Benson of Marland road. Officers Arthur Jowett and David Gillespie brought the charges.

Degree Exemplified by Local Masons

More than 100 Masons were present last Monday evening at Past Masters' night when the third degree of Masonry was exemplified. Past Master James Anderson, holder of the Price medal for 50 years' membership delivered the charge.
The chairs were filled by the following past masters: Worshipful Master, Nesbit Gleason; senior warden, Henry A. Bodwell; junior warden, Herbert S. Stillings; senior deacon, Gordon R. Cannon; junior deacon, Malcolm B. McTernan; senior steward, Albert W. Lowe; junior steward, George M. E. Holmes; secretary, James Anderson; treasurer, Charles T. Gilliard; inside sentinel, Alexander Morrison; marshal, Roy E. Hardy; craftsmen, William D. McIntyre, Philip F. Leslie and Fred W. Gilliard.
Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Musicians' Club in May Meeting

The Andover Musicians' club held its final meeting of the year on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Willet Eccles, Hildie Field, the president Joseph N. Ashton, presiding, at the recommendation of the nominating committee. Mr. Ashton was re-elected president for the year 1935-36, and Mrs. Mervin E. Stevens secretary-treasurer.
The attention of the members was called to the fact that next year's meetings would take up the composers of the period 1835 to 1935, thus furnishing decided and interesting contrast to the works of the years 1650 to 1750 which were studied during the past winter.
The program of the evening was devoted to the noted English composer of the 17th century, Henry Purcell. Mrs. Kenneth S. Minard furnished interesting data on his life and compositions. The first number, an anthem, "Lord, thou knowest the secrets of our hearts," was followed by 33 excerpts from the opera "Dido and Aeneas," with solo parts taken by Mrs. Willet Eccles, Mrs. Mervin Stevens, Mrs. James Eaton, Mrs. Alfred Harris, Mrs. Kenneth Minard, J. Everett Collins, and Carl W. Wetberg, and choruses done by Mrs. Walter Pike, James Kenneth Fisk, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Eaton, Mrs. Kenneth Fisk, Mrs. Wetberg, and Mr. Collins. Miss Marion Abbott and Mrs. Roger Higgins accompanied.
The club stands adjourned until October.

Three runs by Howe high in the last two innings of the game with Punchard last Friday fell short of overtaking an early four-run lead piled up by the local team in the first inning. The Punchard boys combined four hits with three errors to produce the winning margin. Hurley allowed only four hits, three of which were in the last two innings.
It took only six and one-half innings for the Punchard team to run up a 19 to 5 score over Storey high of Manchester-by-the-Sea in the play-off game yesterday afternoon. Captain Cliff Walker, making his debut as a pitcher, allowed nine scattered hits, fanned 12 and walked but one, while at bat he hammered out a single, double and triple. Hackney hit a homer as one of his three hits.
Tuesday the Punchard team brought their two-day hit total to 41, collecting 22 safe hits against Drauc to defeat the neighboring team 15 to 2. Capt. Walker repeated his feat of the previous day by hitting a single, double and triple. Jimmy Platt allowed only four hits.
Wednesday evening Punchard took a close 2 to 1 decision from Johnson high. Both pitchers worked excellently, with Hurley allowing only three bingles.

No charges were preferred by the police against the driver, who claimed that the child had run out in front of her car.
The youngster was removed to the Lawrence General hospital where it was found that she had a questionable fracture of the skull, contusions and abrasions.
Mrs. Northam reported that the child had run across the street, and that she had turned left but a truck was coming the other way.

Suspect Incendiarism in Ballardvale Fires

Fires Yesterday Afternoon in Jaques Coal Yard and Old Chemical Works Believed Set—Lawrence Apparatus Called in as Auxiliary

Two fires, believed to have been set simultaneously, called the entire Andover fire department out shortly before five last night, with the result that Engine 8 of Lawrence had to be called in to cover in at the Central station in case of any other alarm. Last night Chief Charles F. Emerson of the fire department and Chief of Police George A. Dane grined a suspect for several hours but finally released him when no evidence was found to prove his guilt. This morning a state fire inspector was called in to investigate by Chief Emerson.

The first call came from Box 25, Argilla road and Andover street, at 4:40 for a fire at the coalsheds of Benjamin Jaques. At 4:53 Box 28 at the Ballardvale fire house was sounded for a fire at the old plant of the Beaver Chemical company on Dale street.

The Jaques blaze is believed to have been set in a toilet in a shed on the south side. The woodshed was destroyed, but a truck was saved and the coalsheds proper were saved. Chief Emerson estimated the damage at $1,000.
The dyeworks blaze was discovered almost simultaneously by Henry Platt and Mrs. Dane, wife of the chief of police. Platt sounded the alarm and Mrs. Dane phoned the station. A two-story building, a one-story building and a storehouse were destroyed. The buildings formerly owned by Philip F. French and now the property of the Andover Savings Bank, had not been used for several years.

Alison Morse. Admission will be by ticket except for former pupils of the school who are invited to attend.

Courteous Circle to Meet

June 6, 6:15 p.m., at Mrs. Burke Thornton's is the date of the next regular meeting of the courteous circle of the King's Daughters. Members are asked to bring a basket lunch which will be enjoyed out doors, if weather permits. Coffee will be served by the hostess. After the picnic supper there will be a meeting in charge of the devotional committee. The thought for discussion will be "Soul Growth" or "Christian Living." Members should come prepared to give their experiences along that road that all may reap the harvest.

State School Bill Again Thrown Out

The state school bill filed with the state legislature by Ralph W. Emerson is definitely out. Representative Thomas J. Lane stated Tuesday night. The committee headed by fiery Mr. Langone reported leave to withdraw on the bill, and the report was accepted.
Rep. Lane has been endeavoring to have the state department of public works investigate the advisability and feasibility of reconstructing the portion of Main street near Phillips academy's campus. He introduced a bill into the legislature to that effect, but the speaker recommended that the department make the investigation without any special legislation. It is understood that this will be done.

THE TRUSTEES OF PHILLIPS ACADEMY, By JAMES C. SAWYER, Treasurer, Eaton and Chandler, Attys., Lawrence, Mass.

First Act Authorizing National Highway Plan The first act authorizing the construction of the national highway was passed in March of 1890 and proposed a road from Cumberland, Md., only to the state of Ohio. As public belief that the river would be more than sufficient for all transportation west, the constitutionality of expenditures for a road this side of the river was raised and debated.

When the road approached the Ohio, the friends of further extension had to sweat blood to secure an appropriation of $10,000 for locating a route for the road to the Mississippi. It was not until 1825 that congress appropriated $150,000 to build a road to Zanesville and the next year $170,000 to continue the road. Even by this time many were still vigorously opposed to so unpractical a project as a national road westward when the Ohio river could carry all the traffic.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Howard Harrington, Andover's Well-known Singer, Gives Views on Music

HOWARD HARRINGTON

"Get all the operatic experience you can, even though your interest lies mainly in concert work, all of it will be extremely valuable to you," is the advice Howard Harrington, concert singer, formerly of this town, gives to the young men and women with ambitions in this field.

In these days so dark with uncertainties, a true honest to goodness success story is about as rare as it is welcome. Nevertheless this happy description exactly fits the case of Howard Harrington, whose successful appearances on the concert stage have justified many times over the pride and interest with which his many Andover friends have been following his career.

Mr. Harrington is particularly enthusiastic regarding the future, and he mentions opera as his next probable venture. "Radio is too commercialized, and I don't care for the movies," he explained. Mr. Harrington has sung frequently over the radio in the past, but the difficulty of arranging a program in the limited time allowed, is his chief reason for disliking it.

Despite offers from a moving picture company to make screen tests with the possibility of later making a series of light operas opposite Rosa Ponselle, he has, up to now, refused to consider this phase of the profession. "My real interest remains in concert singing," he went on, "and my reason for desiring opera experience now is because I appreciate the value it will be to me in my future work."

Miss Bertha Wells, his Boston manager, reveals a recent offer from New York which will probably result in an engagement for him in the Junior Metropolitan Company, this fall. He plans to study next year with Madame Esparanza Garrigue, who was also Caruso's teacher. His New York manager is Miss Harriet Stell Pickernell.

Mr. Harrington has just returned from a very successful tour of New York and Philadelphia, where he sang at various private homes and clubs. He has had an offer for the position of soloist with the Philadelphia Symphony next season. Many will doubtless recall his performance here a few years ago in a musical sketch entitled "Powder and Patches" in which he appeared with Miss Irma Watson.

The most important advice which Mr. Harrington has to give young people starting out on a musical career is to practice regularly, keep good hours, and above all to secure a good music teacher. Most of his ten years of training have been in Boston under Rulon Y. Robinson, head of the voice department at the New England Conservatory of Music, who sang here Wednesday night. He studied one season in New York with La Forge, Lawrence Tibbett's teacher.

Taking the leading role in Aida, he will sing in regular performance of that opera to be given by the People's Symphony under Sevitky, at the home of Alvan T. Fuller, this summer. He has been associated with this organization for some time. His greatest ambition is to sing the role of Tristan in "Tristan and Isolde. His favorite music is the lieder music of familiar German composers. Accompanying him at all of his recitals is Edwin Blitfeld, well known pianist.

Mr. Harrington, whose home is at 17 Salem street, attended Pynchard High School graduating in the class of '27, and attended Phillips Academy for one year.

EARNING ITS KEEP

Two sisters live together. One is a secretary. The other, a semi-invalid, is housekeeper. The secretary decided to put in a telephone to help her sister in ordering supplies.

"Curiously I have found it of unexpected help to me, too," she reported. "I can communicate with my office if unable to report in person. When walking to the train would mean getting drenched—I now can call a taxi. I can be reached at any time by those who may need to get word to me. So, besides being an invaluable help to my sister, it does enough for me to earn its keep."

If you think a telephone would earn its keep for you, get in touch with your local business office. New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Camp Doctor Appeals
 Dr. Edward J. O'Donoghue, camp doctor at the two local C.C.C. camps, appealed a fine of $100 imposed on him in District court last Friday morning for operating an un-insured automobile. He was released on bonds of $300. A charge of operating a unregistered automobile was filed.

Motor Vehicle Inspector James French testified that on May 21 he had seen the doctor driving a car with 1934 registration plates on Jenkins' road. It is understood that legally the doctor was within his rights as long as he kept the car in the state forest.

SOME AUTO SUGGESTIONS

Idiot!—I had the right of way and you know it!

Whatcha staring at—can't a guy stop and fix his car?

Why don'tcha look where you're going!

Bill Holman, the widely-known cartoonist, has given some suggestions for the prevention of automobile accidents. His advice, appearing in a new booklet on the traffic problem published by the Travelers Insurance Company, is as follows:

- Check the wheel—make sure that a loose nut isn't holding it.
- Be sure the Miss in the motor is sitting beside you.
- Don't race trains to crossings. If it's a tie you lose.

For jaywalkers every year is leap year.

Be sure the only crank in the car is in the tool box.

A pedestrian is a man who missed the payments on his car.

If you must have a blowout have it at home.

A bird at the wheel is worth two in the ambulance.

Beware of green drivers on red lights.

Development of Red Cross Told in Stowe School Prize Essay

An interesting description of the development of the American Red Cross is contained in the following essay on "Clara Barton" written by Ethel Brierly of Stowe school. The essay won first prize in the contest recently conducted by the American Legion auxiliary.

"Pioneers of our country have been many, and great and lasting fame have they earned in achieving their separate goals.

"In mentioning pioneers we are apt to think largely of new lands, new trade routes, new inventions and other lines of endeavor. None of these should be passed over lightly. Nevertheless, when we think of pioneers we must not fail to mention that great pioneer of all time, namely, Clara Barton, founder of the American Red Cross.

"When quite young, Miss Barton had her first training as a nurse. For two years one of her brothers lay between life and death. Through all his illness she nursed him, and this experience was a stepping stone to success in her chosen career.

"Her early education was received from members of her family, after which she attended schools in and around her own town of North Oxford.

Taught at 15
 "Miss Barton taught school at the age of fifteen in Texas Village, a small town not far from her home. She later taught in New Jersey after attending a seminary in New York. Her health failing she went to Washington to recover, and this visit was surely the cause of the birth of the American Red Cross.

"It was 1854 when she came to Washington, and there she secured a position as a clerk in the Patent Department.

"About this time war clouds were beginning to gather over Washington, and when war was declared Miss Barton was appointed to disperse money and supplies to the soldiers. She also volunteered as a nurse in hospitals there.

"During the fighting she went directly to the battle fields, tending wounded and dying soldiers of both armies. Her great self-sacrifice and heroism showed all through her services on the battlefield.

"After the war, her health still failing, she went to Switzerland to recuperate. There she learned of the European Red Cross Society working under the Geneva Treaty and saw many of its well organized relief measures in the Franco Prussian War, in which she enlisted as a Red Cross Worker.

"Seeing the relief measures so well organized in Europe, she determined to have her own country awake to the great benefits of this European Red Cross Society.

Returns to U. S.
 "She returned to the United States in 1873, after her Franco Prussian experiences, broken in health, but still carrying hope of founding the American Red Cross.

"Upon her arrival in Washington, she interviewed President Hayes, but got no encouragement either from him or Congress.

"With the inauguration of President Garfield things changed. He encouraged her to proceed in organizing the American Red Cross which she succeeded in doing between the years 1881-1882. She became the first president of the organization and held that office for twenty-three years.

"The Red Cross in Europe was solely for relief, but Miss Barton made it known that the American Red Cross was to meet and supply public need in all calamities.

"For the first twenty-three years while she was president of the organization, whenever floods, famines, or other calamities occurred, Miss Barton was ready to unfurl the banner of the Red Cross, and to go to the aid of suffering humanity. Many times during these years, Miss Barton herself went to the field to aid in the relief work. Whenever she worked there was efficiency, and order and quick decision.

Starts First Aid
 "In 1904 Miss Barton resigned from the presidency of the Red Cross. After her resignation she took up the organizing of home nursing which was called 'National First Aid Association of America.' She lived to see First Aid taken up by the American Red Cross which now has its departments of life saving, first aid, home hygiene and public nursing, besides the American Junior Red Cross which was organized in 1917.

"Miss Barton's ninetieth birthday was a happy one, and it was on Christmas Day 1911. It was her last. Her long life service ended on April 12th, 1912. The great and effective work during the World War is a fitting monument to the memory of that great American Pioneer, Clara Barton, founder of the American Red Cross."

MISCELLANEOUS

DEAR Mrs. Post: My young son gesticulates with his knife and fork at table. This habit upsets me terribly but I can't seem to break him of it. Can you suggest any way?

Answer: Would he mind if he saw you do it? If he would, you might copy him—especially if a friend of his is present. If he does not care, then you will either have to deprive him of some small privileges or (and in my opinion better) let him earn a privilege or an award by marks of excellence: 100 meals without doing it once, for instance, would earn something he wants.

My dear Mrs. Post: Are cards removed from funeral flowers before the flowers are arranged? Or are the names simply written down for a record to use in writing thank you notes?

Answer: They are taken off and a description of the flowers written on the back of each card, for future thanks.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a new daughter just three days old. My husband was killed two months ago. Under these tragic circumstances shall I announce my baby's birth by sending out cards as we would have done, or do I simply do nothing about it at all? If an announcement were sent to the newspaper, how would it be worded?

Answer: Sending announcements of a child's birth is entirely a matter of personal inclination. In your case it would be best to telephone or write to your intimate friends; they in turn tell others. I mean, of course, that a member of your family will do this for you. To send a baby card tied to your own black bordered one would emphasize the tragedy very painfully. I wouldn't if I were you. The announcement in the newspaper would read: "Daughter of Mrs. John Jones and the late Mr. Jones."

Dear Mrs. Post: When my husband and I happen to be in the room, should we shake hands when a boy friend of my younger sister leaves after having spent the evening in our house? This sister lives with us.

Answer: If your sister's friend is a regular visitor, you would probably look up and, without paying particular attention, say, "Good night, Tom." If he is a stranger, or some one who does not come to the house often, your natural impulse would be to shake hands with him when he leaves.

Collecting Brazil Nuts
 One of the most dangerous jobs is the collecting of Brazil nuts in the jungles of the Amazon valley. The peons who gather this world crop, which is neither planted nor picked, are not only beset on all sides by deadly animals, insects, fishes and plants, but they are in constant danger of having their backs broken or skulls cracked by the four-pound pods which are frequently falling around them from a height of 100 feet.—Collier's Weekly.

Temples of Paestum, Italy
 The temples of Paestum, in Italy, are world-famous, and the ancient city there, founded about 600 B. C., has been thoroughly excavated and explored. Three of the temples known as the Basilica, and the other two respectively dedicated to Ceres and Neptune, date from 570 to 420 B. C., and all belong to the Greek period. The fourth, known as the Temple of Peace, is a building of the Roman period.

Fake Castle Ruin Famous
 Although a fake, Rothley "Castle" at Rothley, England, is so famous that it is to remain as part of the scenery and any attempt to destroy it will meet with the opposition of Rothley citizens. It stands on a commanding position on a lofty and rugged crag. It has a square tower and curvated wall, embattled and loop-holed, and each wing ends with a bastion.

Acoustics Play Tricks
 Noise plays many tricks. In the great cathedrals of Milan, Cologne and St. Peter's an organ note lasts so long that any rendition is a confused jumble. In St. Paul's in London and in the Hollywood Bowl it is possible for two people 90 feet apart to have a whispered conversation, owing to the acoustics.
