Fur Bathing Suits
It's all ready. The first really incontrovertible evidence of the coming season was noticed a few weeks ago on a huge billboard on North Main street. The sign had been advertising summer wear since June, and it was a large picture of a young lady attired in a bathing suit made of a little less cloth than they used to use in the olden days' bathing hats. Below the bathing suit another sign had been nailed: "August Fur Sale."

E Pluribus Unum
We had the pleasure Tuesday of meeting not the Siamese twins, not the Dionne Quintuplets, but the Siamese Quadruplets. Herb Chase brought them in, all in one hand. We didn't know whether to say: "It was a tomato," or "They were tomatoes." Maybe we'd better compromise between the two, and compromise with correct grammar also by saying "They was a tomato," or "It were tomatoes."

Andoverians Air Minded
The giant Condor plane, owned by the Chamberlin Nichols combine gave many Andoverites their first experience with Air Liners on the Holiday at the new Air Port, in North Andover. Among those who flew with Ruth Nichols, were Robert V. Deyerdmond, Mary Deyerdmond, and Mildred Forsythe.

An Editor's Mail
If you want a recipe for lemon meringue pie, if you want to know what the latest type airplane is, if you want to know the birthplace of your favorite radio artist—just call the Townsman editor. Not that he knows the answers—he doesn't—but from some of the titles bestowed on him on the addresses of the envelopes he receives in practically every mail, he should know the answers to everything from what Haile Selassie eats for breakfast to what color Aimee MacPherson intends to have her hair next.

Household editor, woman's page editor, society editor, radio editor, aviation editor, sports editor, music editor, city editor, motion picture editor, contest editor, political editor—that's just a start. The one that we derived most pleasure from was the very significant title "state editor," but the really big thrill comes when someone forgets all the specific

What You and Your Neighbors Were Doing in Days Gone By

Twenty-five Years Ago
Joshua L. Paine of Washington avenue is visiting in Eastham, Cape Cod.

Thirty-five Years Ago
Miss Agnes Gillen of Washington avenue left town Thursday for Salt Lake city, where she has accepted a position as teacher in a private school.

Forty-five Years Ago
Miss Mira Wilson, P.H.S., '09, will enter Smith college this fall.

Forty-five Years Ago
Because of serious illness in the immediate vicinity, the bell on the Free church will not be used for the present to announce the services.

Forty-five Years Ago
Among the many visitors at the flower show Saturday was Miss Helen Keller. Miss Keller was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. James R. Fuller.

Forty-five Years Ago
Percy J. Dole of this town won first place in the 440-yard run, which was one of the field events held on Labor day at the Lawrence Riding Park.

Forty-five Years Ago
The Soldiers' Monument committee met last evening to make arrangements for the dedication of the new statue on October 2.

Forty-five Years Ago
A large number of new teachers are included in this year's public school staff. They are: high school, Nathan C. Hamblin, Ray E. Homery, Ruth E. Jenkinson, Harriet A. Foss, and Louise M. Farnsworth; Stowe, Mary Farnham; Samuel Jackson, Katherine S. Pease, Pearl M. Johnson; Indian Ridge, Eliza V. Coburn, Katherine E. Tracy, Lena M. Clark; Bradlee, Ruby S. Copeland; West Centre, Margaret S. Hoyt; Bailey, Bertha S. Welter; music, Henry L. Stoney.

The special town meeting suggested by P.W.A. officials for not later than September 15 will probably not be held until October because the P.W.A. officials have not yet passed on the specifications for furniture and equipment it was learned last night.

Architect Percy F. Gilbert several weeks ago took into Boston the proposed specifications for furniture and equipment. No action has been taken by the federal officials as yet. After the specifications are approved a call for bids would have to be issued and this takes two weeks at least. Then after the estimated cost of furnishings was obtained, it would take probably another two weeks to call a special town meeting.

The committee did not meet this week, but a meeting will be held next Monday. No chairman has been elected as yet to succeed Frank H. Hardy, but Hugh Bullock has been serving as chairman pro tem at most of the meetings.

Steady Progress on Construction
Steady progress is being made on the construction work. Yesterday the boiler fronts were put on. It is expected that by September 15 one of them will be ready at low pressure, with high pressure available probably four days later.

The two top floors of the junior high are almost ready for plaster, the furring on the partitions now being put in. Workers are striking down on the outside. The cornice is practically completed, and one day's work remains on the roof.

The final foundation wall for the gymnasium was expected to be ready some time today. The brickwork on the auditorium is complete to the main floor, and the stone-work underpinnings for the large front steps are complete.

Second Oldest Resident Passes

Miss Emily Carter, oldest member of the Abbot academy alumnae and the South church, and the second oldest resident of the town, passed away at her home, 153 Main street, Wednesday afternoon. The funeral services are being held this afternoon at two at the late home. Following cremation in North Andover, the ashes will be buried in South church cemetery.

Miss Carter was 97 years and one month old, having been born here nearly a century ago, the daughter of the late Richard and Abigail Buck Carter.

Miss Carter's passing will be mourned by hundreds of Phillips and Abbot graduates who knew her during her stay here. For many years a number of Phillips students roomed at her home, and at commencement time both Abbot and Phillips graduates returned to stay at her house. She kept in touch with the boys who roomed with her even after they went out into business and professional life.

Those who know the story of Andover cottage the academy dormitory given by the college of Andover will recall that Miss Carter had a leading part in securing the funds for it.

Walking to Be Endangered

The other evening while riding on High street we noticed a man walking along the road holding a flashlight which he flashed every time a machine appeared. It attracted our attention first because it was unusual, and it kept our attention because it shouldn't be unusual.

The public today has to pay an enormous sum of money for the protection of pedestrians. Andover pays police officers, and a good part of their time is spent in the traffic box placed at the entrance to Andover square in order to better protect pedestrians, whereas better protection of motorists would be obtained by having the box out in the center of the square.

Siftings

We received a Chamber of Commerce dispatch extolling the Florida climate the same day the news of the hurricane appeared in the papers.

The P.W.A. evidently got a little ahead of themselves when they asked for a town meeting by September 15.

Horseshoe pitching is becoming popular in Andover again. It's the only game in which ringers are allowed.

You might as well prepare for it a week in advance: next Friday is Friday the thirteenth.

The school committee meetings lately have been one-half to one-third as long as they used to be. What, no filibusters?

MONDAY NIGHT WHIST

Winners at the Sons of Veterans auxiliary whist Monday night were: door prize, John Leary; Miss Anna Neas, Mrs. J. Wilkinson, George Peters, J. O'Leary, Mrs. Hugh McLaughlin, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Wyman, Mrs. James Turnbull, Mrs. Jennie Hall, Mrs. M. A. Burke.

night. We don't know whether it's been changed since. Mr. Hamblin doesn't want it there—it's too conspicuous, and it seems that Head Janitor Fred Collins had a few ideas as to just where a picture of a principal who had just completed 25 years should go.

Andover at the Peak

A few years ago Town Treasurer Thaxter Eaton unearthed some figures which, despite the objections of Danbury, Conn., proved that Andover had more Harvard men per unit of population than any other community.

Weddings

Gould—Gagnon Two prominent young people of Shawshen village, Miss Ramona Gagnon, 11 Fletcher street, and George G. Gould, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gould of 13 Binney street, were united in marriage Monday morning at a nuptial mass in St. Anne's church, Lawrence, Rev. Armand Latraverse, S.M., was the celebrant at the mass, and he also performed the ceremony.

Obituaries

Mrs. Archibald J. Mayo Mrs. Grace C. Mayo, wife of Archibald J. Mayo, passed away at the Lawrence General hospital last Friday night following a serious operation performed earlier in the week. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at her home, 76 Lowell street, with Rev. Charles W. Henry, rector of Christ church, officiating. Burial was in West Parish cemetery.

Signs of Fall

Thaxter Eaton and Walter Billings sending out the notices for the opening Service Club meeting. Miss Putnam and her successor, Mr. Sherman conferring with Miss Putnam warning the newcomer of what he's got to face. Superintendent Sanborn wondering what kind of cigar the contractor will give him for losing the wager that the heating plant would be ready on time.

Hanging a Principal

Just what law, or code of ethics, is it that prevents a man from hanging a picture where he wants it. We don't mean in his own home—the answer to that one is obvious. But if he's the principal of a school, why doesn't he have the right to say where a certain picture shall go—especially when it's a picture of the principal of the school?

Eddie Cantor Wonders What Fast Automobile Drivers Think About

"Ask a thousand automobile drivers—I mean those reckless ones—going 50 or more miles per hour—what they are going to do with the time they save, and see how many can give you an intelligent answer?" That's the question which Eddie Cantor raises in the booklet "Thou Shalt Not Kill," published by the Travelers Insurance Company on the automobile accident casualty record of last year.

"Believe me," adds, "I'm not trying to be facetious when I tell you that if automobile accidents continue on the increase it will soon reach a point where people will be saying that a person killed by a speeding automobile died a natural death."

A Friend Who Knows a Friend

"It's so easy to break the speed laws, and once they're broken, there's always a friend who knows a friend who can 'fix' your ticket for speeding. Not until the time arrives when we have respect for the most important of all motorcycle cops—our own conscience—not until then can we hope for relief from the thousands upon thousands of tragedies that happen annually through reckless driving."

First Editions of the Bible
The Bible had a hard time finding its way into the English language. The first two editions had to be printed outside of England, one in Zurich in 1535 and the other in Paris in 1539. In America, the first Bible was printed in the Indian language in 1603 and the second in German in 1743. Not until 1782, or 143 years after our first printing press started, was an English Bible printed in this country.—Collier's Weekly.

I looked up Satisfy and it says— SAT-IS-FY. Something that pleases, gives satisfaction; something that just suits. For example, you are pleased with a dress. As applied to cigarettes, it means one that is MILD—that is not harsh or bitter; one that TASTES just right. Chesterfield... the cigarette that's MILDER. Chesterfield... the cigarette that TASTES BETTER.

TOWNSMAN SPORT SECTION
Hadley Captures Title in Five Sets
Coach Calls Out Punchard Squad

Partridge's Early Lead Overcome by Veteran
Ralph Hadley, local veteran tennis player, overcame a two-set lead at the Balmoral courts last Sunday to win the Greater Lawrence 1935 senior tennis title from Walter Partridge, champion two years ago. Partridge had eliminated last year's champion, Samuel Rockwell, in the semi-finals. A year ago Rockwell had defeated Hadley in the finals.

Last Year's Veterans Reported Yesterday
Coach Eugene Lovely of Punchard high yesterday gave out uniforms to twelve letter-men who reported for the initial practice of the season. Today the coach planned to call all the candidates out in an effort to see what he would have to work with this year.

Sports Schedule
Tomorrow, Medal play, 12 in 18, 1-2 handicap.
Sunday, Sweepstakes.
Last day for third round in Knowlton Memorial Trophy matches.
Ski Shooting
Tomorrow, Sportsman's club, by-pass, 2
Wednesday, by-pass, 6 p.m.

Poor Danno
The Boston Herald this week carried a little item about Mike Gardner, well-known employee of the Hayes estate. Those who've seen Mike will probably realize that the article was no exaggeration; those who haven't seen him will just have to take our word for it that Danno would have a tough time.

Sports Comment
Here's an Iron Man Stunt
It was an unusual record that Karl Billhardt, who leaves tomorrow to take over the coaching at Tome school down in Maryland, made while he was a student at Phillips. In his senior year, 1924-25, Karl played every minute of football, every minute of basketball and every inning of baseball for the academy.

Wanted—A Soccer Mussolini
"You know what's the matter with Andover's soccer, huh?" "Well, I'll tell you, it's because—" "There's too darned much of this committee stuff, too many bosses." "We can always guess the reception any of our articles will meet by listening to the remarks of the folks out in the composing room. Last Friday while the Townsman was being made up two of the employees mullied over our question: "Where's Andover's soccer?"

ESSEX COUNTY FINALS
The finals of the Essex county tennis tournament are to be held tomorrow at three o'clock at the North Andover Country club. Albert Stitt of Longwood and Edwin Fuller of Salem are the finalists.

P. A., P. H. S. Schedules
Both the Punchard and Phillips football teams will start their competitive seasons shortly. The schedules follow:

Old Maids' Home an Arsenal
Residents of the peaceful Paris suburb of Montrouge were perturbed over rumors that a house in the district occupied by two aged spinsters was a veritable arsenal. Finally the police were prevailed on to investigate. In the house they found 17 military rifles, dating back to 1870, modern revolvers, rounds of ammunition and even hand grenades.

Seven-Mile Thread in Gift
Seven miles of homespun woolen thread, plucked from the necks of Shetland lambs, were fashioned by two women, over eighty years of age, of the Shetland Isles, into an exquisite lace shawl as a wedding gift from the islanders to the Duchess of Kent. Although seven feet square, the shawl weighs less than 2 1/2 ounces.

"Mickey" Walker Reports for Catholic U. Team
Howard W. "Mickey" Walker, who was on his way to make football history at Brown two years ago before leaving the Rhode Island college, has reported for the varsity team at Catholic university in Washington, D. C. Last year he entered C.U. and starred on the freshman football and track teams. Walker captained the baseball team at Punchar and also excelled in football. Then going on to Governor Dummer, he won letters in three sports.
