More Hindrance than Help

It was two weeks ago last Tuesday that a news dispatch from Washington announced that an Andover W.P.A. project had been approved. Telegraph wires carried the information to the Boston newspapers in almost no time at all, an airplane could have covered the distance between Washington and Boston in a very few hours, an automobile or a train could make the trip overnight—but it takes the government a few weeks to inform Andover that it is going to grant $492 for the Board of Public Works to use on building a tennis court.

The local administration had not received approval from Washington yesterday morning, despite the fact that federal officials announced it to the press associations in Washington sixteen days before. Communication and transportation have made great strides in the last century, but governmental methods are still as slow as they were hundreds of years ago. With only horses to bear the news, it took much less time for the information that the Declaration of Independence had been signed to reach Boston from Philadelphia than it has for the official approval of the W.P.A. work to arrive here.

The chief trouble is of course that the governmental route from Washington to Andover has stop-overs of a few at Boston and at Salem. The pink, primrose, buff, white, and azure application blanks which had to be filled out in quintuplicate by the local officials were first sent to Salem where they had to be approved; after the people in Salem who don't know anything about Andover had examined them, the blanks went on to Boston; and then after the people in Boston who don't know anything about Andover had examined them, on they went to Washington, where some more people who don't know anything about Andover examined them.

Finally all the officials that the federal government is trying to support gave their approval to one of the smallest of the many projects sent in by Andover. For a while that gave hope that possibly some W.P.A. work would start here in the very near future, but it seems that even the approvals have to be sent back through Boston and through Salem, possibly to be re-approved. The result is that the E.R.A., which was supposed to have petered out in August is still going on.

The fondest hope of Andover's citizens is that someday private employment conditions here will be such that the town's officials can say to the Washington officials: "You can keep your money, and your pink, primrose, buff, azure and white slips. You've been more of a hindrance than a help."

Siftings

Admiral Byrd could never have felt any worse than the least of us when the covers tumble off on a night like last night.

The newspapers should set up two standing headlines. One day they should use: "See Promise of Peace in Ethiopia," and the next day: "Il Duce's Troops Advance in Ethiopia."

The Spring Grove cemetery trustees evidently "not requisit in pace."

We hope those lungs of Officer Deyerdmond don't knock the microphone down Sunday evening.

More trouble: The Governor has landed in California and the President in South Carolina. Just when we'd become used to sensible government again.

How Our Readers Feel

On Health Board Office
To the Editor,
Andover Townsman,
Dear Sir:—Apropos of your recent editorials about housing our department of Public Health in the Town House I'd like to say that there is a gentleman here in town who has a plan for remodeling the rear part of the Town House but from what I have learned of his plans they do not go far enough to include the housing there of the P. H. dept.

However his planning made me think a bit, and I can see where, if the building was remodelled there would be ample room to house the P. H. dept., and possibly make more room for other things also.

For instance there seems to be many more narrow stair-cases than are necessary, while I think one fairly wide one on each end, and the middle of the ground floor on both sides of them for offices and some hall space could be made away with also.

What a pity a project hadn't been started to build on the rear as this gentleman advocates and also remodel bit inside. Our Town House must be quite aged and could stand being brought up to modernity a little.

I think the site couldn't be improved upon, right in the heart of things as it is. I understand something is to be done about the ground in front which will add a great deal to the general appearance of things.

You are quite correct in saying the proper place for the health dept., is in the Town House and most cities and towns have theirs housed in their governing buildings. It would give it a bit more prestige, I'm certain.

RECOMMENDS COURSE

EDITOR OF THE TOWNSMAN:
A most unusual method to serve Sunday School workers, parents, puzzled young people, and the public in general is being employed by the Greater Lawrence Council of Religious Education this fall. Professor C. E. Wildman of Boston University will be the sole teacher in a course of four Friday evening meetings from 7:15 to 9:15. "The Bible" is the general theme, and each session opens some part of the Bible to one's attention. The sessions will meet at Russell Hall, Lawrence Y. M. C. A. beginning Friday November first. A nominal fee of twenty-five cents for the entire series is suggested. I am sure Dr. E. A. Miller, president of the council, will give further information if wanted. Dr. Miller's address is given in the phone book.

Colonizing Ethiopia Not an Easy Task

Italy could utterly defeat Ethiopia in two weeks, but it would take a generation to achieve Il Duce's primary desire of colonization. Said Harrison M. Lakin of York Village, Me, one-time U. S. consul to both Italy and Ethiopia, in an address at the hall of the Town House last Saturday afternoon. Bombers could wipe out the principal cities without any trouble, Mr. Lakin asserted, but it is not such an easy matter to subjugate a people which for centuries has known no other instance save its own. France's difficulty with Morocco was cited as an example.

Mr. Lakin knew Haile Selassie long before he was even thought of as a possibility for King of Kings, and he knew Mussolini while the latter was editing the socialist newspaper and later when he started his own paper "Popolo d'Italia."
Mr. Lakin mentioned that when Italy became a great power in 1870, practically the whole of Africa had been colonized by the Netherlands, the British, the Portuguese, Spanish, Turks and Germans. Italy asked the other nations for a little territory there, and France and England agreed, the result being that Italy secured some territory in this deal and later secured Tripoli from the Turks in a war which found Turkey not even trying.

Mr. Lakin stated that he did not feel that it would be wise to apply sanctions severely, because it might be a case of putting out a small fire by starting a big one.

This Sober Town

The obliging operator says "The whole line is out of order."
It seems that the rain—it did rain Wednesday, you know—doesn't help some of the telephone lines. We thought that the whole line might be out of order, but we also thought that Gene, with his store of scientific knowledge, might have disconnected the phone so that he wouldn't be bothered by reporters calls.

4 Plus 52

Did you ever wonder why frequently after the brush alarm, box 4, rings, a call goes out from Box 52. Since we feel that the fewer fire alarms the better—the blossoming thing makes too much noise—we decided to find out the reason for the double alarm.

It seems that if you're a call man on the fire department, you don't have to answer Box 4, but if you don't hustle to the station on Box 52 or any other such alarm, your pay check will not be as impressive looking as if you had. A call man gets so much a year—we'd find out exactly how much only it's nighttime now and we want to get this written so that we can go to bed to make up for the sleep we lost when Box 54 rang at the other morning—but the point is that for each Box alarm he misses, the callman is docked a certain amount. We don't know whether or not a call man misses too many fires he'd owe the town money.

So that is the reason for Box 52 tagging along after the brush fire call. Sometimes it's first call doesn't get enough callmen out, and so the sterner warning has to blast out that b—d horn atop the fire station. Someday maybe someone will invent a vest pocket radio which call firemen could carry around after the brush fire call. Sometimes we'll have to listen to the four toots with the threat of 52 to follow.

A Surplus of 1's
Talking about telephones—we were somewhere else in this column—we think there ought to be a law against such numbers and the telephone company has indicated on Mrs. Harold Cates of Shawsheen village. We wanted to get some whist party results from Mrs. Cates yesterday. Looking in the directory, we found that her number was 111-M.

We picked up the receiver, but when we got half-way through the number, we lost track of the times that we had said 1. Panic-stricken, we stopped short, added an "M" and waited for the worst. We imagine we only gave three 1's, for the person who answered informed us that we had the wrong number.

After we had proffered our apologies, we tried again and gave the number successfully, the reason for our success being that we grouped the 1's to pairs, like this: 11-11-M. Two pairs of 1's are much easier to count than four single 1's.

Obituaries

Thomas M. Lunan
Last Monday afternoon following a funeral service in Malden, a committal service was held in Spring Grove cemetery, Andover, for Thomas M. Lunan, younger son of the late William and Isabella Cable Lunan, former residents of Andover at 91 Elm street.

He died in Malden Saturday in the fifty-ninth year of his age after a long illness. After graduating at Pynchard High school he took a course on the Massachusetts Nautical Training Ship for two years and followed it with studies in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology from which he graduated with high rank in 1901.

He developed much skill and success as a chemist and for eleven years was connected with manufacturing firms in Buffalo N. Y., from which he went to Poughkeepsie to become manager of the Palatine Aniline and Chemical company there. In 1919 he had a severe illness which permanently impaired his health and the family moved to Malden, which has ever since been their home.

Besides his widow, Adelaide Cox Lunan, he leaves two sons, Frederick W. and Thomas M., Jr.; two daughters, Alice and Mrs. Dorothy Lunan Ryhn and three granddaughters, also a mother, Dr. William C. Lunan of Southbridge; a sister, Mrs. Mary Lunan Hazen of Athens, Georgia; and several nephews and nephews of whom Mrs. Gladys Napier Deyerdmond, Margaret Lunan Collins, William and Franklin Collins and George and Floyd Napier are residents of Andover.

Weddings

Black—Manning

A lovely October wedding, in which the principals were two of Andover's popular young people, took place in the Free Christian church on Saturday, October 19, when Doris Ruth Manning, daughter of Mrs. Mary B. Manning of High street, became the bride of Alexander Petric Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Black of 36 Burnham road. The ceremony was at seven o'clock, Rev. Alfred C. Church, the pastor, being the officiating clergyman. While the guests were assembling, the organist, Ernest L. Thornquist rendered a program of wedding music and just before the bridal procession entered the church, George M. Knipe, cousin of the bride sang "O Perfect Love."

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the procession moved down the aisle headed by the ushers, Mayhew P. Stickney of Linden, N. J., formerly of Andover, Allen Lalacheur, John Petrie, a cousin of the groom and William Pomeroy, cousin of the bride, all of Andover. Next came the two bridesmaids, Miss Helen Black, a sister of the groom and Miss Genevieve Mander of Malden, cousin of the bride, and the maid of honor, Miss Marion H. Wilkinson of Onset, also the bride's cousin. Lastly came the bride, alone, charming in white tulle and train, a veil of illusion cap shaped, crowning her hair. Her wedding ring was of gardenias.

They were met at the front of the church by the groom with his best man, Charles E. Milligan of Ballardvale, and there the vows were spoken, the double ring service being used.

The bride's attendants wore gowns of rust tulle with brown velvet caps in the autumn shades and their bouquets were of small chrysanthemums. The church was decorated with fall flowers and white pine, snapdragons and chrysanthemums predominating, and the nuptials were further adorned with lighted candles placed in candelabra, the whole being most effective.

Following the ceremony, after the bridal party had left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, a reception was held in the parish house to relatives and especially invited guests. Here also the autumn colors were in abundance, the receiving court standing in front of greenery and autumn leaves. Besides the attendants, Mr. and Mrs. Black were assisted in receiving by the bride's mother and the groom's parents. The gifts were further adorned with lighted candles placed in candelabra, the whole being most effective.

The bride is a graduate of Pynchard High school, 1928, and is a monotypist in the Andover Press. Mr. Black is employed by Burchard Horne of Lawrence.

Both are active workers in the Free church and have many friends all of whom wish them every happiness in their new home together.

Disbrow-Gunter

Miss Annie Gunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gunter of Methuen, and Walter A. Disbrow, son of George Disbrow of Chandler road, were united in marriage at the West church parsonage last Saturday afternoon, with Rev. Newman Matthews officiating.

The attendants were: Mrs. Myrtle McQuestion, sister of the bridegroom, and Herbert Disbrow, the groom's brother. After the ceremony the couple left on a wedding trip to New York and Chicago.

TRUCK SLIGHTLY DAMAGED

Slight damage resulted from a fire in the motor of a truck owned by the Lawrence Waste Paper company on South Main street about seven o'clock last Friday evening. The ignition wires were burnt as the result of a back fire.

Box 4 and Box 31 were sounded for the blaze.

Who's Who in the Press Club

How do you do! May we introduce our humble selves? We are the Press Club of Stowe School—Dorothy Christie, Emily Poynter, George Nicoll, Bradford Holt, Donald Boynton, John Nunez, Bruce Root. From Monday morning to Friday night we move about our school with eyes and ears alert for NEWS. Each week we contact our principal, the subject teachers, home room officials, club leaders, and sponsors of assembly programs, in the hope of getting some interesting tidbit for our column.

But Tuesday and Wednesday are our big days. Then we write our rough drafts, have them proofread by Miss Atkinson, our club advisor, and make our final copy. On Wednesday afternoon some weary but well-pleased member of the club turns in the notes at the Townsman office, and we start all over again.

"As reporter for the clubs and girls' sports I make my weekly rounds,"—Dorothy Christie.
"My task is to find contributions from the regular classroom. It may be a good composition paper, the dramatization of a literary masterpiece, a project in social studies, a contest in mathematics or something else a bit unusual,"—Emily Poynter.
"Home room news, which of course includes personal items, is my field,"—George Nicoll.
"Nothing in the line of boys' sports is ever allowed to escape my notice,"—John Nunez.
"I attend every assembly with paper and pencil ready, so that I may report the programs fully and accurately,"—Bruce Root.
"We are the business managers. Too, we handle any special assignments which do not come in the particular line of any other club member. We pinch-hit for absentees,"—Donald Boynton and Bradford Holt.

Badges Presented

An assembly was held on Monday morning at which the regular traffic squad was presented with badges showing that it had efficiently performed its duties so far—Bruce Root.

Personals

Miss Gates and Miss Hinchcliffe were both absent Tuesday.
Emily Poynter is still out after two weeks of absence due to a back injury.

Last Friday Horace M. Poynter made an appeal to the teachers of the school for the Community Chest.
Our sympathy goes out to Barbara Gahn, who was called from school Wednesday morning on account of her brother's illness.—George Nicoll.

Girls Sports Notes

Room 1 is the champion this week for volley ball, having earned 20 points. For two days it had 100% attendance. Room 3 had the same score for one day.
Miss Gates hopes that more girls will report for outdoor sports on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons as this activity will have to stop when cold weather comes.—Dorothy Christie.

Football Notes

Thursday, October 17, saw the Stowe squad playing against the Phillips Andover Bush-leaguers. The game concluded with the score 24 to 0 in favor of Stowe, our first victory of the season. There was a return game scheduled for Wednesday, but it was called off because of rain.—John Nunez

THE NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1936

Why do we say The New Ford V-8 for 1936?
Of course, the newest engine in the low-price car field is still the V-8 engine. Since Ford made it available to all car users (keeping it as economical as cars with fewer cylinders) the Ford V-8 has been the newest engine on the market, and remains the newest for 1936.
You may buy a car on minor "talking points"—some specially advertised feature "with the car thrown in"—but, after all, it is the engine you buy when you buy a car. Hence we put the engine first.
Other new points about the car make a long list.
Its lines are much more beautiful. The hood is longer and sweeps forward over the distinctive new radiator grille, giving the car a length and grace that are instantly impressive. The fenders are larger, with a wide flare. Horns are concealed behind circular grilles beneath the headlamps. New steel wheels.
Ford upholstery—always of sterling quality and excellent taste—is rich and enduring. The appointments of the car have a new touch of refinement. There is no question about the increased beauty of the Ford V-8 for 1936.
In more practical matters, many improvements have been made—Steering is made easier by a new steering gear ratio. The cooling system circulates 5 1/2 gallons of water through a new, larger radiator. Natural thermosiphon action is assisted by two centrifugal water pumps. New style hood louvers permit a rapid air-flow around the engine.
Easier, quieter shifting of Ford gears—The gear shift lever now travels a shorter distance.
The two qualities you want in brakes—Brakes that stop the car with ease and certainty. Ford Super-Safety Brakes of the long-tested, fool-proof, mechanical design.
Safety—as always—in the electrically welded genuine steel body. Safety Glass all around at no extra cost. Hundreds have written grateful letters because this glass has protected the safety of their families.
A car you can drive without strain all day, if you like, in city or country. Steady, holds the road, responds to the driver's touch like a well-trained horse. You don't have to "push" or "fight" the Ford V-8—driver and car easily get on terms of good understanding with each other.
An engine has much to do with the roominess of a car. Very much indeed. A long engine uses up car space. The compact V-8 engine permits much of the ordinary engine space to be used by passengers.
It really is a great car in every way, this 1936 Ford V-8—the finest, safest, most dependable Ford car ever built. Now on display by Ford dealers.
LOW FORD V-8 PRICES
THIRTEEN BODY TYPES—Coupe (5 windows), $510. Tudor Sedan, $520. Fordor Sedan, $580. DE LUXE—Roadster (with rumble seat), $560. Coupe (3 windows), $570. Coupe (5 windows), $555. Phaeton, $590. REVAMPED SOCCER TEAM DEFEATS LAWRENCE 4-0

The Andover soccer team, reinforced by the addition of three new defensive players, whitewashed the Lawrence team 4-0 at the playstead last Sunday. All the goals were made in the second half.

The wind helped in scoring the first goal, Milne, right outside, counting on a corner kick which curled into the net. The second goal came shortly after when referee Anderson called a foul in the penalty area on Lee, the visiting goalie. Dundas' toe made the score 2-0.

The third and fourth goals were not long in coming, McGrath booting in a hot shot for the third and Denholm converting a corner kick from Milne.

The local line-up: Deyermund, g; Dundas, rb; Dererich, lb; Gordon, rb; Hunt, chb; Bisset, lb; Milne, rf; Denholm, rf; McGrath, cf; Smith, lf; Thompson, lof; subs, Scott and McCarthy.

PHILLIPS 1-WORCESTER 0

A goal made in the third period by Day was sufficient to keep Jim Ryley's academy soccer team's slate clean by defeating Worcester academy 1 to 0 last Saturday. The local team had the edge practically all the way, but the scoring opportunities were few. Stott, a local boy, was between the sticks for Andover.

SOCCER TEAM TO PLAY AT LOWELL

The Andover Soccer team will oppose the Lowell eleven Sunday at the latter's home grounds at 2-30.

Although Andover will meet with stiff opposition being matched with one of the best teams of the Merrimack Valley League little fear is felt in soccer circles after the game the local team played last week when they defeated South Lawrence by a score of 4-0.

Although the team has not been selected for this week's game changes that will be made will not be minor.

That Chesterfields are milder and taste better is no accident...

The farmer who grows the tobacco, the warehouseman who sells it at auction to the highest bidder, every man who knows about leaf tobacco will tell you that it takes mild, ripe tobaccos to make a good cigarette.

In making Chesterfields we use mild ripe home-grown and Turkish tobaccos.
