The First Snowfall

Down on the otherwise white walls of our press room, an enterprising, weather-minded printer has kept a record which is of particular interest this week. It includes the list of first snow-falls for the past four years, and the evidence would seem to indicate that we're in for a flurry any day now.

In 1931 the first snowfall came on November 3, which would have been last Sunday if it were this year. The following year the first fall came on November 9 (tomorrow this year). Two years ago November 6 saw the first snow-fall—that's 1933's Wednesday.

But maybe here's the reason why we have had no snow this year. Last year's—last year's snowfall came on October 12, much earlier than usual. The average for the preceding three years was November 6; October 12 is 25 days before the average; and therefore to maintain the November 6 average, the first snowfall this year should come on December 1.

You may leave your snow shovel in the collar until the end of the month—that is, providing the weatherman approves of Townsman mathematics.

"Henry—the Flit!"

"Article 13—To see if the town will vote the sum of 10 cents for the purpose of buying a fly-swatter for the school committee room."

That's just a preview of some future town warrant. Last Tuesday night after several school board members had tried to discreetly brush away the many flies in the committee room, Arthur Lewis suggested that it might be money well spent to buy a fly-swatter.

Flies always bother the school committee, because for years they've heard people say: "I wish I were a fly on the wall at some of these school committee meetings."

An Official Recovers

We thought for a second at the Punctured-Manning football game Tuesday that Clarence Elwell, former Methuen coach who has turned his attention to officiating now, was in a tight spot. A Manning player was tackled and the ball bounced up into the arms of Mr. Elwell. We think the excitement of seeing the ball come at him made the former coach blow his whistle inadvertently, so that when he caught the ball, the play had ended and it was not a fumble.

However, who would have been the ruling if the whistle hadn't blown? What happens, in other words, when an official recovers a fumble? We don't know the rule behind such a situation, but we do know that the ball had not been dead Tuesday, 22 players would have been in a pile trying to recover the ball, and at the bottom of the pile would have been Clarence Elwell, "the unwilling motive."

His lecture will be followed by a question period. There is no charge for admission and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Officials, Citizens Address P. T. A. on School Needs

N. A. Supt., Local School Officials and P. T. A. Members Speak on Problems

A number of the problems facing the local schools was brought to the attention of the members of the Andover Parent-Teacher association at a meeting held in Stowe school hall last Wednesday night. The program, prepared by Mrs. Harold Rafton, was intended to cover the general needs of all the schools as well as the specific needs of some of the outlying schools.

Frederick H. Jones, superintendent of schools in North Andover, whose committee has over 100 members, presented a list of recommendations for teacher appointments lately, spoke on the "local teacher" problem. He stated that a survey had shown that the depression had brought six trends in the last four years. They were: teachers appointed to teach subjects for which they were not trained; relative number of school committee members appointed; teachers long out of the service were returned to the profession; the committee not electing the first nominee of the superintendent; teachers elected because of need; and pressure from the candidates' circle of friends.

To Complete Year with Appropriation

The school department will finish the year with a small budget. Mr. H. Jones, superintendent, reported that the school department is in a difficult financial position, according to the report made by Superintendent Henry C. Sanborn at the school committee meeting Tuesday evening. The instruction and textbook accounts will be considerably overdrawn, but a surplus in the repair and miscellaneous accounts will make up for the other deficits, Mr. Sanborn reported.

Miss Doris Groesbeck of Lawrence was appointed instructor of a new adult education course for Americanization purposes to be held in the vicinity of Carter's corner. The committee voted to adopt a section of the general laws by which which will take the cost will be borne by the state. The class will meet three nights a week. Miss Groesbeck has conducted similar classes in Lawrence.

Mr. Sanborn suggested that the 90 hours professional study requirements through which teachers are given a $100 increase in salary be made more rigid by specifying that two-thirds of the work be done in a college granting a B.S. or A.B. degree. The matter was referred to the teachers' sub-committee which is to present a report at the December meeting.

The superintendent reported that twelve fifth and sixth grade pupils had been transferred to Indian Ridge from John Dove because of overcrowding.

There will be no E.R.A. nursery school here this year, Mr. Sanborn reported, because the new regulations limit the pupils to children of needy parents and the classes would not be large enough.

The superintendent reported that there was no cause for alarm either from infantile paralysis or scarlet fever.

Miss Helen Munroe was granted an increase of $92 for having completed 90 hours of professional study.

Mrs. Shires was appointed janitress at the F. A. school.

State Highway Work Going On

The blanketing of a section of River road under the special state highway maintenance allotment of $1200 was completed this week. The work on Haverhill street from the North Andover line to the concrete stretch was scheduled to start this morning. A cutback asphalt is being used with pea stone, there being about 3-8 of an inch of pea stone laid on top.

The Board of Public Works this week started laying the stone and tar on the Main street sidewalk.

Taxpayers Group Continues Work

The reorganization committee of the Andover Taxpayers association met in the town offices on Tuesday evening. There was a lengthy discussion of the by-laws to be presented at the first general meeting of the association. Every attention was centered on making the proposed association truly representative and non-partisan. It is hoped that the general meeting of the association may be held in the near future and that the membership drive will soon be underway.

Brilliant Violinist in Abbot Concert Tuesday Evening

Joseph Knitzer, Young Virtuoso, Later to Appear as Soloist with Stowkowsky

Joseph Knitzer, who is one of the most brilliant violinists in this age of phenomenal virtuosi, is to give a violin recital at Abbot Academy on Tuesday night at eight o'clock. Knitzer, though barely past his "teens," has won so many prizes and foundation grants that his list reads like a catalogue of competitions held in this country during the past three years.

The oft repeated tale of struggle and almost unbelievable hours of practice that is told of the great players of the past has been and is being enacted in the life of this phenomenal young artist. Born to a struggling Jewish family in New York, Knitzer has from infancy shown marked ability, and has been kept constantly at the terribly formidable task of perfecting his technique and artistry. He is now a polished player, one who can do the formidable things that only the giants of the violin can hope to do, and he does them with an ease that makes them appear ridiculously easy. During the past two years Knitzer has played the Mozart and Brahms Concertos at Chautauquas and these performances have fairly taken the vast audiences by storm.

In the immediate future Knitzer will appear as soloist with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra with Leopold Stowkowsky in Philadelphia and New York.

The two major pieces on Knitzer's Abbot Academy concert are the Mozart Concerto and the Brahms d minor Sonata. Miss Kate Friskin is pianist.

It has been the policy of Abbot Academy to bring out the most promising young artists in the field from time to time, and the school has been very fortunate in its choice. The last three singers who have appeared at Abbot in the past three years are all now at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Admission to the Joseph Knitzer concert is fifty cents.

It was voted to contribute a sum to the Trustees of Public Reservations. Also, a committee of five was appointed to try to eliminate the unsightly billboards of our town.

To Open School of Town Affairs

What does a Board of Selectmen do? Who is on the Finance committee and what are its duties? What proportion of Andover's money is spent on welfare, on schools? The town meeting the best form of government for Andover?

These are questions which, at some time or other, every intelligent woman voter will ask herself, and, on thinking it over, she may find that she does not know the answers. The League of Women Voters is offering an opportunity to every woman in Andover to learn more about her town and its governmental functions through a School of Town Affairs which will comprise five monthly meetings of the League.

The opening meeting of the school will be held on Tuesday, November 19, at 3:00 p.m., when Frederick Butler, the town moderator will discuss "Town Government, Past and Present." Mr. Butler will lay the foundation for the succeeding study by telling of the origin of town government in New England, its development into local government, its development into local government, its development into local government, its development into local government.

League Members Study Local Tax

Twenty women have registered for Mrs. Ralph N. C. Barnes' study group on "Town Taxes and What is Done with Them," and two meetings have already been held. On Tuesday afternoon, in Mrs. Barnes' home, Mrs. Harry Emmons and Mrs. Byron Hall reported the money spent by the town of Andover, the state requirements for this aid and its administration. Miss Susan Ripley and Miss Judith Ragsdale answered questions concerning the $19,000 expended this year on Old Age Assistance. Mrs. Merrick, Mrs. Phillips Pray and Mrs. Harriet Lewis reported the money spent by the town of Andover, the state requirements for this aid and its administration. Miss Susan Ripley and Miss Judith Ragsdale answered questions concerning the $19,000 expended this year on Old Age Assistance. We're Coming Back

The year 1935 will go down in history as a period in which there were two major events which helped to re-establish prosperity in America. One is the Supreme court decision through which the bulk of the Democratic so-called "recovery" legislation was declared unconstitutional, and the other was the November state elections in which the Republican party was once again given the endorsement of the thinking people in the various states.

The results of Tuesday's elections were better than the Republican leaders had anticipated, because most of them felt as the Democratic Alfred E. Smith once opined: "Nobody's going to vote against Santa Claus." But the results show that the voters are beginning to realize what the real source of the federal government's ills is; they are beginning to see finally that if themselves will sooner or later have to pay for the gifts that Santa Claus has been giving them.

Even children won't believe in Santa if it turns out that he's an Indian giver.

Supporting the Democrats
Tonight the local building committee will open bids on hardware for the new school and a week from tomorrow bids for furniture and other equipment will be opened. And when all the figures are gathered together and analyzed, the committee will then know how much more the town will have to pay to finish the job properly.

Many citizens of Andover, and perhaps the members of the committee themselves, have frequently wondered if the town might not have been better off if it had built the buildings itself, without the so-called help but actual hindrance of the P.W.A. In all probability, it would have cost Andover no more, for the many rigid and absurd requirements of the Public Works Administration have undoubtedly added a considerable sum to the total cost, a sum which might conservatively be stated to be at least as large as the grant which was secured from Washington.

It is common knowledge that contractors bidding on P.W.A. jobs always add a certain percentage to their figures in order to provide for the additional cost of the P.W.A. Here in Andover for instance there had to be an inspector appointed to keep a check on the cement plant, and that cost the town additional money. There were checks here and checks there, with federal auditors running out every once in a while to check the checkers.

Furthermore, the chances are that the job would have been finished by now if there had been so much waiting for the grant and for various other official documents emmeshed in red tape. It would have meant a substantial cut in the cost of the buildings, because material expenses have mounted since Andover first approved the proposition in 1933.

The purpose of the P.W.A. was to provide a stimulus for communities to employ men in building operations. That purpose could just as well have been fulfilled without all the red tape that the administration has imposed on the various towns and cities. They could have made the grants, and then let the local officials go ahead without further hindrances. Andover could have started work much sooner, and the workers would have been taken off the relief list earlier.

As it is, this town is not only paying for new school buildings, but it is also paying for salaries for some of the Democratic party's wards.

Siftings

The building committee will probably do an awful lot of praying before the equipment bids are opened next Saturday.

If the Republican strength continues to increase, it might be "changing horses in the middle of the stream" again next year.

We presume those sanctions haven't stopped you from eating spaghetti as yet.

The utilities act has been declared unconstitutional in its entirety. The administration must have thought that when we repealed the 18th amendment we repealed the whole Constitution.

Punchard will lead Methuen 13 to 7. That's our guess, a combination of 95 percent hope and 5 percent reasoning.

Stowe School Notes
Armistice Day Observed
Armistice Day was observed in Stowe school with an assembly program presented by members of 8E under Miss Stevens' direction this morning. The setting for the play given was a schoolroom. The play was organized to show that all countries are brothers and because in earlier times one country warred on another in no reason for hatred now. John, an American boy was played by William Ferguson; Greta, a German girl, by Jean Fisk; Eva, an American girl, by Dorothy Christie, and Yvonne, a French girl, by Aida Greece. Concluding the program Will Ferguson played taps and Thomas Davies played the echo.—Bruce Root

Knitting Work
The members of the knitting club want to be of service to others in the school as well as to learn how to knit. Every member is learning how to knit by actually making something. In addition to this individual work, every one is working on a project. Some are making samples of stitches and patterns, to be displayed with an explanation of the use of each, and others are preparing a scrap book to show the sources of materials and the processes of making yarn.

Girls' Sports
In the Girls' Sport Club, as many of the girls were not acquainted with each other, a contest was held to see who could learn the other club members' names in the shortest time. There are more than thirty girls in this club.

The second volleyball contest is near an end. The last game will be played this week.—Dorothy Christie

Lawrence Team Defeats Stowe
The Central Catholic High School of Lawrence opened its football season Saturday, with a victory over Stowe, 12 to 0. The Lawrence team's first score was earned in the first period by Laplante, who skirted Stowe's end for a touchdown. After the first period Stowe held their opponents until Slaughter of Central scored again. The game ended with the ball in the possession of Central on Stowe's three-yard line, with Stowe holding fast. The Central High team played well and Coach Jordan has reason to be proud of them. Forbes and Ska played well for Stowe.

Meet Brooks Tomorrow
Stowe will play their last game of the season against Brooks School Saturday. There will be a game for both squads "A" and "B" against similar teams. It is felt that the football season has been a great success for all concerned.

For the rest of November Mr. Sherman and Mr. Cole will develop track for the junior high school boys, ending with an intra-mural meet. This will be a great thing, for it will offer opportunity for both big and small alike.

in a place where they wouldn't be likely to catch on fire, or I can wash them. I can be sure that my father keeps the chimney clean and in good repair and rid's the attic and cellar of all old broken furniture, scattered newspapers, and all old kindling wood. Do not have any loose wiring around. Don't have electric wires run under carpets. It would be better to have them run over the ceiling, around the floor, or on the clap boarding. I can be sure that my mother doesn't leave undisonnected electrical appliances connected around the house such as sewing machine and cigar lighters. If one of these appliances is connected with somebody not knowing it, it might cause a disastrous fire. If I am on a hike or picnic and cook over an open fire, I must be sure that it is completely out before I leave and that any older people doesn't throw a lighted cigar or cigarette in the dry grass or wood. If I have any old unused oil or kerosene lamps, I must clean or discard them. I should clean the yard of all leaves, ashes and small kindling. I can be sure to have a fire screen in front of a fireplace so that sparks won't have to be the cause of a disastrous fire. Protect the floors under stoves with some kind of metal. The same holds true for oil and coal stoves. If a stove pipe runs along the wall, cover the wall with non-flammable material. Cover rafters with metal—rather that is directly over the furnace. They get very hot and they might start a fire.

To Give Concert Here on Thursday
It will be gratifying to the music lovers of Andover and the neighboring towns to learn that on next Thursday evening, at 8:15 o'clock, the Boston String Quartet, acclaimed by eminent critics as the finest in New England, will present a program of chamber music in George Washington Hall at Phillips Academy.

This quartet which is sponsored by the New England Conservatory of Music, is composed of members of the faculty of that institution. All four of these musicians have won high distinction in the music world. Harrison Keller, first violinist, won the chamber music prize in Stern Conservatory in Berlin and was pupil of Leopold Auer in Leningrad. Mr. Keller has been a member of the faculty of the New England Conservatory since 1921. The second violinist, Paul Fedorovsky, studied with Sevcik in Vienna and later became Director of the Imperial Conservatory in Vladivostock. Since 1925, Mr. Fedorovsky has been a member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. George Foul, who plays the viola, was formerly a member of the Paris Conservatory and Lamoureux Orchestras. He has been playing with the Boston Symphony Orchestra since 1921. The violoncellist, Alfred Zighera, was at one time soloist of the Paris Conservatory Orchestra and also of Dr. Koussevitzky's orchestra in Paris. Mr. Zighera is an eminent a player of the viola da gamba as he is of the violinello. He, too, is a member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, having played with the orchestra since 1925.

Punchard to Try to Break Methuen Streak Monday

An undefeated Methuen high team and a steadily improving Punchard team will meet at the Gill Avenue grounds, Methuen, in the annual Armistice Day classic Monday afternoon at two. The general consensus of opinion seems to give Methuen its first opportunity for victory in years, but Punchard may spring a surprise.

Coach Ernie Ramsbotham of Methuen has decided on his starting line-up definitely, although he may start Sullivan for Arnold and Bent for Morehouse. Coach Eugene V. Lovely plans to start the same line-up as he did against Manning, the only possible change being the substitution of the regular, Whiting, for Cederberg at guard, if Whiting, recently injured, is found fit before the game. Noyes may also start for Cederberg, depending on whether or not Punchard receives the kick-off.

O'Lenio is the chief scoring threat of the Methuenites, having scored 37 points on six touchdowns and a point after to date. Hackney has scored 33 points and Lynch 31. Graichen and O'Neil rate second for Methuen with 12 each.

Neither team has played any team that the other has; so there is no basis for comparison on the basis of records. Methuen boasts the better record as far as victories go, but Punchard has played some stronger teams than Methuen has. Methuen only tied Dracut 6 to 6, the same group of boys that Punchard defeated by about ten touchdowns last year.

The officials for the game will be as follows: Referee, James P. Liston; umpire, Tom McNamara; head linesman, David Blair.

EXCELLENT INTERFERENCE IN PUNCHARD 27-6 WIN

A 72-yard jaunt by Hackney around left end for a touchdown on the first play after the kick-off sent Punchard off to snare 6 victory over Manning high of Ipswich in a postponed game here Tuesday. Hackney's run was executed with the assistance of perfect interference, as was his second touchdown run of 47 yards in the second period. Lynch plunged across for the extra point on the first score, but the second try was unsuccessful.

Neither team showed any defensive ability whatsoever, both backfields gaining at will. In the first half alone Manning gained eight first downs to Punchard's four. As the half ended Punchard was on the Manning one-foot line, having taken the ball on its own 38-yard line. Lynch went around right end 42 yards, Dushame gained nine, and after a fumble, Dushame brought the ball to the goal line.

At the opening of the second half Punchard carried the ball on successive first downs to the Manning 23-yard line only to lose 15 on a penalty, but shortly afterward Lynch snared a forward pass and scored, with Hackney kicking for the extra point. In the fourth quarter Hackney passed from the Manning forty-yard line to Lynch for the final Punchard score and again Hackney converted.

Clapp recovered a fumble near the end of the game, and Paganis tossed to Hills for a touchdown.

ZILLY OUTSTANDING IN ACADEMY'S FIRST VICTORY

Ted Sharratt turned a forward pass play into an end run to make the only score in Phillips academy's 60 victory over New Hampshire fresh last Saturday. With the ball in play on the New Hampshire 14-yard line, Sharratt started toward right end, started to forward, but found no receiver, and then he eluded practically the whole visiting team as he skirted the end and scored standing up for Andover's first victory of the season.

Zilly, starting at end, was the outstanding player on the field. It was his interception of a pass on the New Hampshire 23-yard line that started the Blue off on the way to the touchdown. He also intercepted another forward and recovered a fumble at strategic points, in addition to making several fine tackles.
