Their Language"

Their Language"

"I happen to talk their language and can fight," was the keynote remark of Robert Bushnell, former district attorney of Middlesex county and now prominent candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, in a talk in the town hall last Friday night. Flaying the Curley dictatorship the former local boy blamed the Republican party for its failure because "it has put up candidates who can't talk the language."

He commented on the "escalator system" by which the Republican candidates for governor seem to be chosen from those who have gone through the various offices in the legislature. Governor Frank G. Allen, he said, did not go through the legislature, but he was well-qualified; and district attorney Joseph Ely was not in the legislature but won the governorship for the Democratic party by going through the state and talking to the people.

Town treasurer Thaxter Eaton, a neighbor of Atty. Bushnell when he lived in Andover, presided. Charles Brown, Bushnell's manager, also spoke.

Water Bill Payment

The Board of Public Works this week issued an order that all old unpaid water bills, water service and sewer service bills will have to be paid before May 15. If not paid then, a constable will be asked to collect, and if the constable is unsuccessful, the water will be shut off.

The action of the board came after receipt of the annual state audit which found the inancial condition of the town excellent except for these old debts. The auditors report read: "Attention is called to the uncollected balance of $2,668.78 appearing on the balance sheet, for unapportioned sewer assessments of 1926 and previous years. As this balance has been outstanding for a number of years, it is recommended that a determined effort be made to secure settlement of this account in the year 1936." And later: "Attention is again called to outstanding sewer connections which are long overdue. It is recommended that a determined effort be made to collect these accounts, and it is further recommended that a determined effort be made to recommended that a determined cost of the installation, before commencement of the necessary work."

address. The choirs will render special music for the occasion.

Transportation will be furnished any mother or did person who desires to attend this service. Those who wish to honor a departed mother can do so by furnishing flowers for the pulpit. The flowers will be returned to the donor or sent to the sick and shut-ins if requested. Wendell Kydd is chair-and the flower committee. Donors are asked to notify him before Sunday, May 10.

The Mothers' Day committee: Thomas B. Gorrie, David D. Black, Wendell Kydd, and George Keith.

The exercises will open promptly at 7.45 in the main auditorium where a short program will be given.

The program: Hymn, congregation; A Glimpse into the Past, Mrs. David May; A Few Reminiscences of a Wonderful Friendship, Rev. Newman Matthews; solo, Mrs. Alfred R. Harris, Mrs. John Angus, accompanying; reading, Mrs. Joshua Paine, pertinent remarks, Rev. William G. Poor of Upton; hymn, congregation.

The committee has planned that this program will end promptly at 8.45 and on its close the audience will adjourn to the parish house where an informal reception will be held, a social time enjoyed and refreshments served.

Everyone, young or old, who are members or who attend the church, is urged to come. There will also be an opportunity to turn in the Birthday Bags, but no one should stay "In October of 1925, Mr. Holt became second vice-president of the society, and the next year, first vice-president. On November 11, 1926, following the death of Dr. Abbott, he became president, and held that office ten years and three months, until his own death. During his administration the society and the plan for enlarging and improving the society's property, the results of which should begin shortly to appear. To him, largely, was due the high success of Andoer's tercentenary observance, an occasion which will long be remembered and which, incidentally, brought the society some $1600 addition to its permanent funds. His interest in the society and his zeaf for its success have been inspiring to his associates on the Board of Directors, and his sane judgment on the society affairs will be sorly missed.

COVIDO STORING COMPANY

By Arthur R. Lewis Several years ago your school committee, then in office, your superintendent of schools and a few earnest workers in our town had a splendid vision of the wonderful possibilities which the future might bring to the citizens of our whole town. (Note that I say the whole town, not just the school ch Idren or any other favored group.) After some unsuccessful attempts to make this vision materialize we finally stand on the threshold of the great door of opportunity. A new chance to make Andover a bigger and better town in which to live, to work, and to play is presented to every citizen, both young and old. Let each one of us consider ourselves an ambassador of good will for Andover as we go about on our business trips, our vacation trips and our plain everyday life during the coming summer. Let us tell the people everywhere of the fine opportunities this town presents for a first class, elementary and secondary school education through either public or private schools. Let us tell the people of the splendid new additions to our central school plant which puts Andover right up at the front among all towns of our size in the state and far ahead of many of them. We can also be justly proud of the splendid condition of our schools away from our central plant for they are all spic and span in fresh new coats of paint both outside and in, as you must notice when you go by them. Let us tell folks of the fine spirit of co-

PREPRIMARY ELECTION AGAIN FAILS TO ATTRACT SUFFICIENT PUBLIC INTEREST

The Townsman Editorial

INTERIORS—EXTERIORS
VENETIAN BLINDS AND WALLPAPER

The preprimary election was again proved to be an expensive and unnecessary adjunct to our electoral system Tuesday when a ridiculously small proportion of the voters throughout the state went to the polls to decide contests, the results of which with a very few exceptions could have been easily forecast in advance. When no more than ten percent of a state's voters cast their ballots on election day, it must mean that the people of the state do not believe that that particular election is an important one, and when ninety percent of the voters do not believe that an election is important, there should be no election.

It costs money to run an election, and no state or community today can afford to waste money. Andover for instance had to pay a considerable sum for Tuesday's election, in September it will have to pay even more. And yet in only the last of those elections is there a choice made for a public office. All the
