This Sober Town Chats About You and Us and the Other Folks Here in Andover

EXIT JEHOVAH-Judge Colver J. Stone

Pollice OFFICER—Officer Jock Deyermond was guilty of aiding and abetting crime a few days ago. Imagine selling anyone, especially a small child, a pistol!

Afew nights ago a youngster came running into Danny Hartigan's drug store with a very perplexed, very disappointed look on his face. "Gee," he said, "I went into that store over there to buy something, but there ain't nobody there to wait on me." Danny's clerk, Jimmy—the fellow that writes those Bisma-Rex and Mi31 ads for the Townsman—told the youngster to run back to make sure that there wasn't anybody there. The boy disappeared into the store and shortly came out again, shrugging his shoulders in a futile gesture. So Jimmy called up Jock to advise him that the store door had been left unlocked.

Small Paintings in Gallery Exhibition

During the Commencement season at Phillips academy the Addison Gallery has arranged an especially interesting exhibition of "Small Paintings and Small Sculpture by Contemporary Americans." The exhibition will open on Saturday, May 23 and remain at the Gallery until the 21st of June. It is the purpose of the exhibition to suggest that size has no relation to quality and that small objects may be especially suitable for enjoyment and decoration in the home. No attempt will be made to represent a cross section of American painting or to "interpret the American scene." The exhibition will include examples by artists comparatively unknown as well as by some with national reputations.

A special exhibition of work done in the fine arts by students at Exeter, Middlesex and Phillips academy will be held from May 21 to 31.

secaped with only slight injuries.

The car which Mrs. Parquette was driving crashed into six heavy angle irons which protruded about eight feet from the rear of a truck which had stopped for the lights at Union and North Main streets. The irons went through the windshield, struck Mrs. Parquette's head, and came out through the back of the car.

According to the police report, Mrs. Parquette was driving toward Lawrence and had started to bear right onto Union street on her way home when she suddenly remembered that it would be shorter to take her friend home to Methuen along route 28. She swung the car back onto North Main street and in so doing crashed into the angle irons. The truck was owned by a Somerville concern and operated by Leo B. Martin of 69 Empire street, Allston.

By Cornelius A. Wood.

In the "hoss and buggy" days—and they weren't so bad at that—there was an old timer that met every train at the Andover Station with his two horse hack. When the automobile came, it put him out of a job, nor could he learn the new trade. So he came around to a prominent citizen of our town, a many who during his life gave out more work to Andoverians than has anyone before or since. The old timer asked this man for a job as night watchman. The heard friends that he could hardly see the length of his mose. But his spirit was as young and frisky as ever, and that is saying a good deal. In his youth he had been a practical joker, to put the best interpretation, possible onto his astounding behavior. So, when he applied for the job of night watchman he said in commendation himself, "Tim not so old nuther: I can still jump over the traces."

Out west this winte: I was having a cup of coffee with some Arizona cathlemen, the salt of the earth, shoot-fronthe-hip type, when a hornet—or was it a black widow spider?—stung me where the sitting was best and I upset my coffee. "Don't yer mind that, stranger, said a burly old grizzler," Here, take mine: it's all tasted, saucered an blowed." Now that is what I call read western the hoss and buggy days, and we aren't out West. Miss Bell J. Butterfield
Miss Bell J. Butterfield of 27 Summer street passed away Monday morning at her home. She was very well-known and liked in Andover, being a member of the November club, the Historical society, the Garden club and Christ church. She was a desendant of some of the town's early settlers, and was a granddaughter of William Jenkins, one of the founders of the Free church.
Miss Butterfield was born in Tyngsboro 67 years ago, but had lived here the greater part of her life.

Our local police court justice and the police department co-operated last Saturday in making it very probable that the next time "Jehovah's Witnesses" come to Andover, it will be with considerably less noise than was the case in their last two trips here. This supposedly less noise than was the case in their last two trips here. This supposedly religious sect, which has attracted considerable attention because of its opposition to saluting the flag, endeavored to spread its teachings in Andover by means of a loud-speaker truck which perambulated up and down our streets shouting forth the dictates of this newly-found Jehovah.

The Constitution, both State and Nation, guarantees freedom of religion and freedom of speech. A young man who after two years of high school and the reading of some books becomes a clergyn an in this new sect has the right to go about and say what he wishes to about his "religion." but he does not have the right to shout it. "The World Is Too Much With Us"

By Willard Davis
Sunday morning an old friend dropped in at camp down here at Foster's Pond just to tell me "Hello" ... good old scout he is, too, to the seen out of steady work for months. He had turned cynic, sour on the world and everyone in it.

Well, after a breakfast of bacon and eggs, but he's been out of steady work for months. Well, after a breakfast of bacon and eggs, but he's been out of steady work for months. He turned over on his side and looked at me with sort of a sneer and said:

"I saw some skunk cabbage."

That shut me up like a clam.

We sat in silence mayor for ten minutes on the wharf pulling away at morning pipes, and at the ready of the steady of the

HERE'S HOW THE FORD V-8 TRUCK IS Selling itself TO AMERICAN BUSINESS

Why not try it on your own job now?

TOST Ford V-8 Trucks are being rugged Ford dependability-plus new adbought by, rather than sold to, truck operators who try before they buy. These owners haven't been asked to listen to sales arguments-they are choosing their Ford V-8 Trucks strictly on the basis of superiority proved by "on-the-job" tests.

Their experience confirms what owner records show-that the 80 horsepower Ford V-8 Truck engine offers the ideal balance of power, speed, flexibility and economy for modern hauling. That chassis, frame and bodies are designed to meet 90% of all hauling needs, and built to stay on the job!

Now, in the Ford V-8 Truck for 1936. you get time-proved V-8 performance and vancements that give even smoother opera tion and longer life. Examine for yourself the many vital features of this truck. Consider how much they mean to anyone who wants to cut trucking costs

Ask your Ford Dealer to lend you a 1936 Ford V-8 Truck. Put your own driver at the wheel and put it on the toughest job you have. Then check results-and draw your own conclusions. There's no charge or obligation to you for this convincing test.

CLUB NOTES—On Thursday afternoon,
May 14, nine of the Nature club members went to the bird sanctuary to view the spring birds. A mallard duck, a canada goose, an English sparrow, a yellow warbler, a Baltimore oriole, two rose-breasted grosheaks and a red-start were the birds seen. Those attending were: Frederick McDuffie, Mary Helen Brother, Peggy Little, Benjamin cole, James Carmichael, Frank Rockwell, Henry Parsons, Philip Toohey, Ernest Lakin and Miss Hird.
On Saturday the Stowe school 4-H members will have an opportunity to go to the annual Field Day to be held at Hathorne. In the morning after registration, there will be the judging of poultry, vegetables, clothing, canning, and handicraft contests. Then comes a baseball game. After lunch there will be a song dramatization contest, state music memory contest, and athletic events for both boys and girls. The last event for the day will be a treasure hunt.
The Knitting club voted to have an exhibition of the year's work on Friday, May 29.—
