Chats About You and Us and the Other Folks Here in Andover

TIME MARKS TIME—Officer Frank McBride had a hard night of it last Sunday morning. Frank, you know, goes on duty at one and is relieved at nine.

At two a.m. all the clocks were set back one hour to standard time, so that, despite the fact that Frank had already worked an hour here it was just one o'clock again, time for him to start work!

Of course in the spring he strikes a balance on the night the clocks are set ahead. He goes on duty at one, and at two the clocks are advanced an hour, so that after working one hour he has already worked two hours!

TELEVISION WANTED—Sometimes our town officials are too busy at their own businesses to get together to settle town matters. At such times the telephone comes into play, and while the 'phone is very handy, once in a while it involves difficulties.

Last Thursday a telephonic meeting of a sub-committee was being held by the chairman and one member in a town office and another member in his own office. Over the 'phone the absent member said: "I move such-and-such." The chairman repeated: "A motion has been made to such-and-such; all those in favor say 'aye'." The absent member said "aye" over the 'phone, and then he heard the chairman: "The chair is in doubt; all those in favor stand up!"

SMALL-TOWN SPEED—If any of you have friends in Lawrence who, once having seen our fire engine stop in the square to pick up a call from a fire, have not been never ceased chiding you about that little incident, this little story will tickle you as much as it did us.

After spending an hour at the state police barracks at the time of the fatal accident last Saturday night, we dropped into the local police station about one a.m. to see if the legless man had been identified as yet. The telephone rang and Officer Hickey answered, then asked Officer McBride to go with the ambulance to an accident near the Lawrence line. We chased off down there, and this is what we saw, as we've been telling our Lawrence friend ever since:

The accident was actually in Lawrence, over the Andover line. The injured were removed to the hospital in the Andover Fire Department ambulance, and the accident was covered by Officers Jowett and McBride of the Andover police department. Fifteen minutes after the Andover police officers arrived a car sped up with sirens shrieking with two Lawrence police officers coming to cover their own accident, and seventeen minutes after the Andover fire department ambulance had sped away with the injured.

News of Other Days
What You and Your Neighbors Were Doing in Days Gone By

Twenty-five Years Ago
George T. Abbott has remodeled his cottage on Elm street.

Harry Chadwick of Maple avenue, who has been ill at his home, has sufficiently recovered to resume his work at Smith and Manning's store.

H. A. Morse, who for some years has been employed by the Smith and Dove Manufacturing company, has severed his connection with the company.

The state primary under the new primary law was held on Tuesday, with 264 votes being cast, 197 Republican and 67 Democrats. To the Republican town committee were elected Hardy, Coutts, Simpson, Boutwell and Bodwell; to the Democratic town committee Mahoney, O'Donnell, Keane, Moyrillan and Crowley.

Through the generosity of Mrs. Joseph A. Smart and Mrs. Joseph W. Smith there have been placed in the Memorial hall two handsome tablets on which are inscribed the names of one hundred deceased soldiers of the Civil War who enlisted from Andover.

Deformed Man Killed in Crash

Hand-Operated Car Served as Home for Salesman—Beer Truck Tipped Over

An itinerant salesman with deformed legs, Fred Hammell, 48, of Route 4, Raleigh, N. C., was almost instantly killed about 11.05 Saturday night when his car crashed into a beer truck on the by-pass, 75 feet from the state police barracks. While he did have legs, they were badly deformed and useless, making it necessary for him to operate the car through hand controls. It was Andover's second fatality of the year.

The beer truck was turned over in the crash, and the driver, Robert O. Mailhilt, 32, of Somerville, crawled through the cab window, suffering only a cut knee. Travelling along behind the truck, another car crashed into it after the first collision, and its two occupants were slightly injured. They were: Josephine Kochanski of Cambridge, who sustained a bump on her head and an abrasion of the left knee, and Alex Mlozianowski of Lawrence, who was badly shaken up.

The dead man's car was badly damaged, its whole left side being a mass of wreckage. The beer truck was also considerably damaged, and its contents, mostly empty bottles, were smashed on the roadway. Traffic was detained for a few hours after the crash while state and local public works employees endeavored to clear up the wreckage.

The dead man was removed to the Lundgren funeral establishment. Nothing could be found on his person to identify him, and it was about half past one before officers found a certificate of ownership in the wreckage which established his identity. He had twice been refused a Massachusetts license, and on his person were found two unfiled North Carolina applications for license. The car was registered in North Carolina.

The truck was travelling toward Boston, and the North Carolina car toward North Andover. Officials feel that the dead man's car struck a bump in the road, causing him to lose control. Mailhilt told police that he was shifting into second, going less than fifteen miles an hour when he saw the car, its lights flickering dimly, coming right for him.

A glance at the wreckage of the car showed the queer way in which the salesman had been living. The car was obviously an old one, transformed into a travelling home. The roof torn off during the summer months, the potatoes, and other vegetables, salt and pepper shakers, comb, shaving utensils, bandages, gave proof that the ramshackle old car was home to the crippled man. The rear seat was evidently the bed, and screens outside the windows had been put on to keep insects out during the summer nights.

On the rear of the car was this pitiable warning, a warning that failed: "Please drive with care—I have no legs—All operations by hand—Don't watch me! Watch your step!"

A. P. C. Sorority Installs Officers

The annual installation of officers of the A. P. C. sorority was held last night at the first meeting of the current season. Preceding the ceremony a supper was served by a committee headed by Mrs. Fred Gould and Mrs. G. Richard Abbott, and the installation was in charge of Mrs. Philip Hardy, Assisting Mrs. Gould and Mrs. Longe were Miss Louise Sherman, Mrs. Charles Cole, Mrs. Norman Pitman, Mrs. Carl Elander, Miss Etta Larkin, Mrs. J. Everett Collins, Miss Marianna Cromie, and Miss Jeanette Amedeo.

Officers Elected by Odd Fellows

The annual election of officers was held Wednesday night by the local Odd Fellows, with George Brown being chosen noble grand to succeed John Monro. Mr. Brown and the other officers will be installed October 14 by District Deputy Grand Master Morse and suite of Haverhill.

Other officers elected were: past grand, John Monro; vice grand, John Sutcliffe; recording secretary, Ira Buxton; financial secretary, Ralph T. Berry; treasurer, Alexander MacKenzie; and trustee for three years, Edward C. Emslie.

District Deputy Grand Master Lindsay Kinnear and a staff of past grands of the lodge will be in charge of installing the officers of the Lowell lodge next Wednesday evening.

PUNCHARD VS. DANVERS TOMORROW

Punchard high will face Danvers high here tomorrow afternoon in the second game of the season. Danvers last week went down to a 12-0 defeat at the hands of an unusually strong Johnson high eleven.

ELECTRIC RATES LOWER? The possibility that electric rates in this district would be lowered as a result of Lawrence's appeal for lower rates was mentioned in a story in the Boston Traveler this week. The Traveler predicted that the announcement would be made within a few days by the Public Utilities Commission.

JUST ONE MORE . . .

Next week you will see the last of the four-page Townsman—the following week you will see the new Townsman—more news, more features, more of everything you want in a newspaper, all wrapped up in the neatest, handiest, best-looking small-town newspaper you've ever seen—a real surprise for the newspaper-reading public of Andover.

Soccer League to Open Here Sunday

The opening game of the Merrimack Valley Soccer League will be staged on the Andover playstead Sunday afternoon at 2.30 when the Andover eleven will meet Peabody, a newcomer to the league.

The locals have secured five former Lawrence team players, Lee, McAllister, McIntyre, Wilson and Barclay, and have also signed Hunt, Deservich and Dundas from Forge Village for another season.

Sunday will be Booster Day for soccer on the playstead and a good lively game is in store for those who attend.

Series Tickets to Concerts Available

Series tickets are now on sale at George Washington hall for the Phillips Academy concert course which this season opens with Fritz Kreisler, the world's most beloved violinist, on Monday evening, October 19th and which also includes the famous Russian Symphonic Choir, now in its eighth American tour and John McCormack, the great Irish tenor, who returns to this country after several seasons of concertizing in Europe.

It has been the aim of the committee to not only present world celebrated attractions but to offer variety in the course and it is therefore from both points of view that we find an instrumentalist, a chorus group and a singer on this year's program.

Mr. Kreisler, of course, needs no introduction anywhere for there is not an important city in the world in which he has not been heard. He has a personality as well as his art and it would be presumptuous to attempt to describe it.

The second attraction in the Phillips Academy Concert Course is the world famous Russian Symphonic Choir which under the conductorship of Basil Kibalachich, internationally recognized chorus leader, will give a concert on Monday evening, November 2nd in George Washington hall. The chorus was founded in Paris fifteen years ago by its present leader who was the concert master of the Russian Cathedral in Paris. After gaining great acclaim in the musical centres of Europe it came to America eight years ago and since that time public demand has made it impossible for it ever to return. Only Mr. Kibalachich has returned sporadically to fulfill guest conductor engagements with important European choirs. Today, the Russian Symphonic Choir has its own definite niche in the American music world, and has come to be the choral group by which other Russian groups are judged. Those who heard the Don Cossacks when they appeared on the course last year will be particularly interested in hearing this group of mixed voices.

Third Place Won by Baptist Troop

Troop 74 of the Baptist church with ten points won third place at the scout rally held in Methuen last Saturday. Troops 4 and 6 of Andover won awards for flood service, and troop 4 also won an award for attendance.

Joseph Cassidy of Shawheen village was the toastmaster at the supper which followed, and Carleton Schulz entertained.

Add New Numbers to Alarm System

Three new numbers have been added to the Andover fire alarm system, the new Townsman Tell-Tales which are now available for distribution show. Box 662 has been added at the Shawheen school, Box 471 at the high school near the park, and an imaginary box 341 has gone into effect at the corner of Vine and Holt streets. There is no box actually there, but on telephonic reports of fire in that section number 341 will be sounded.

The Tell-Tale also shows the new No-school signal schedule. With the two high school sessions eliminated and the placing of the junior high on the same schedule as the senior high, it is now possible to simplify the alarm schedule. At 7.15 the 333 will call off school for both junior high and high, at eight it will sound for all grades below the seventh, and at 8.30 it will sound for just the first three grades in the event that the 8.00 signal was not sounded. At 12.30 in the afternoon it will ring for the afternoon session of the grades below the seventh and at one for the first three grades. The W.L.H. radio signal will be heard between 7 and 7.30.

The girls made plans for a week-end party to be held at Mrs. Clark's camp in Ipswich on the week-end of October 17. Plans were also made for the candy table which the class will have charge of at the church fair on October 23.

P T A Plans for Coming Season

The first meeting of the Andover Parent-Teacher association, to be held on October 21st, will be an Andover Forum, with the following subjects to be discussed:

1. What the schools plan to accomplish through physical education and organized sports.
2. Science in the Junior High school.
3. Why the school day has been lengthened.
4. How parents may co-operate to extend physical education and organized sports to the lower grades.

The meetings are to be held on the third Wednesdays instead of the first Wednesdays, in accordance with a vote of last spring.

As the year's objectives, the association plans to widen the scope of its activities, with special emphasis on health projects. In these activities the association hopes to have an ever-increasing number of parents and teachers as members who will give their energetic support.

Parents are asked to sign the membership notice which will be sent to each, and return it with the 35 cents dues, or present it to the treasurer at the first meeting.

WOMAN'S GUILD TO MEET

The first fall meeting of the Woman's Guild of Christ church will be held next Thursday at 2.30 in the parish house. All women interested are cordially invited to attend.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBT PAID OFF

The final bond on the $100,000 Punchedard high school issue has been paid off by the town committee, clearing up the debt incurred twenty years ago.

To Give Harvard, B. U. Course Here

A course in Educational Sociology is to begin at the Andover high school Thursday afternoon at 4.15 as one of the Harvard-Boston University Extension courses. Professor Franklin C. Roberts of Boston University, a resident of Andover, will give the course. A credit of two hours toward the degrees of Ed.M. and B.S. in Ed. at Boston University will be given for successful completion of the course. The fee is sixteen dollars for the course of fifteen lectures.

The course is outlined as follows by the circulars issued by the officials in charge. An examination of education in the light of society's needs. A consideration of the relationship between the principles of sociology and education. The modifications that are necessary to meet changing social conditions. How may intelligent participation in the reconstruction of the curriculum and construction of the American schools be achieved? Education is here treated as the method of reform and progress.

TOWN TEAM TO PLAY DANVERS

The Andover Town Team will travel to Danvers Sunday afternoon to meet the Danvers Town Team in its third game of the season. It is hoped that a large group of Andover supporters will accompany the local team on its first out-of-town trip in quest of its third straight victory.

Walter Howe in Worcester Festival

Walter Howe, director of music at Abbot academy, is to be the organist and associate conductor for the 77th music festival of the Worcester County Musical association to be held at the Worcester Municipal auditorium from October 5 to 10. Albert Stoessel is to be the conductor.

The program will open Monday evening with "Samson and Delilah," with Joan Peebles, the rising young American contralto and the sterling tenor, Paul Althouse, in the title roles. Tuesday evening there will be a program of orchestral music with Josef Lhevine, famous Russian pianist, as the feature artist. Wednesday afternoon at 4.15 there will be an orchestral concert for young folks, and Thursday evening, there will be a program of short choral works, with soprano soloist, Helen Jepson, as feature artist. This glamorous young Metropolitan opera star sang on the radio, and appeared on the screen. Artists' night will take place Friday evening, when Lawrence Tibbett will be featured. The final night will be Opera night, with "Faust" being the choice for this year. Helen Jepson and William Hain will sing.

ADDRESS PHILLIPS CLUB

The opening meeting of the year was held by the Phillips club on Monday evening, with the new president, Dirk H. van der Stucken, in the chair. Headmaster Dr. Claude M. Fuess made a few brief and humorous remarks. Dr. Willet Zecles spoke of the work of the Registrar's office, and Alan R. Blackmer spoke on adult education.

ARBROATHIANS TO MEET

The Arbroathians will meet at the Guild Monday night.

Three Registration Sessions Coming

There will be three opportunities for new voters to register within the coming week. Tomorrow evening the registrars will be at the town house, Tuesday evening they will be at Ballardvale and Thursday evening at the academy. All meetings are from seven to nine.

Those who have naturalization papers should be sure to bring them to the registration if they have not previously registered for voting in this country.

Punchedard Wins Season's Opener

New Deal Foreclosed on 11,438 Farms in '35

Washington, D. C.—Mortgages on 11,438 farms were foreclosed during 1935 under the New Deal, records of the Farm Credit administration here show. This is more than two and one-half times the number of such foreclosures in 1934, and 1,369 more than in 1932. One farm in every ten is now under mortgage to the United States.

The federal government, according to the records, owned 27,516 farms at the end of 1935, roughly $300 more than it owned at the same time the year before. All had been seized through foreclosures.

Despite the large increase in foreclosures, 123,457 or approximately one-fifth of the loans of the FCA on Dec. 31, 1935 were delinquent. By ruling of the FCA on February 1, 1935, this did not include loans upon which an extension had been granted.

THE BUSY EVERY DAY LIFE OF HENRY CABOT LODGE JR.

Among Statesmen as a Child, Later Journalism Takes Him to Many Countries and Many Famous Men

All of Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr.'s life has had a political tinge for even as a child, association with his grandfather, the former Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, made politics and statesmanship part of his everyday life. Since those early days he has continued living in the midst of local, state and national affairs—and today his office in the cellar of his home in Beverly is a gathering place for his many local friends. By making his home his office, Lodge manages to see his wife and two sons, George and Harry, age 9 and 6, more than would otherwise be possible—and scarcely a day goes by that he does not find some time for his family. Besides politics and his family life, Lodge's only hobby is attending training camp, which he does regularly as a member of the organized reserves. He does a phenomenal amount of speech-making and traveling throughout the state. Since last October he has averaged one speech a day and has traveled 1000 miles a week over Massachusetts roads—consequently knows the Berkshires and the Connecticut valley about as well as the eastern seaboard where he lives. A strong believer in the importance of the personal element in politics, he knew 600 of the 706 delegates to the Republican state convention when it was called to order in Springfield.

Not only does he know his own state and its problems through his service as state representative since 1932, but during the years he served as reporter for Boston's Evening Transcript and the New York Herald Tribune he went to every section of this country and many foreign lands, having the opportunity of interviews with such people as Prime Minister Mussolini, Marshal Foch and others. In order to see Mussolini one was supposed to have special introductory papers, but Lodge calmly showed his Transcript reporter badge with Michael J. Crowley's name on it and thus gained admittance past a bewildered guard who knew only that the badge appeared official.

Another occasion when Lodge was most fortunate was when Colonel Lindbergh had just returned from his historic flight across the ocean and was taken by a cruiser directly to Washington to have lunch with the President and Mrs. Coolidge. The morning of his arrival the phone rang in the Lodge's apartment and Ike Hoover, special secretary at the White House, asked if they would come to lunch—at first Lodge thought it was a practical joke, but having been assured of the seriousness of the invitation he and Mrs. Lodge proceeded to the White House. There they found Colonel Lindbergh and his mother were the only other guests—exactly why they were picked from the hundreds who could have been overjoyed to receive this invitation.

IS THIS REASONABLE?

"Within one month in his first year as governor, Curley opened the prison gates to seven murderers who were serving life sentences, to five who were serving up to 20 years for manslaughter, and to five gunmen serving long terms for armed robbery and not one of whom had completed half of the minimum sentence imposed by the courts. In one instance a lifer was pardoned in order that he might be deported. In two cases—one involving larceny and the other arson—"full and complete" pardons were granted "to avoid deportation."—"The Reign of James the First." It was a significant coincidence that on the same day seven of these pardons were being granted, a prison guard was killed by two convicts while being returned to prison after a court appearance.

President Roosevelt approved a project to spend $333,374 of federal money to improve 1,666 miles of the Purgatoire river in Colorado. The work has not begun. Someone discovered the "1,666 mile" river was only 200 miles long and even the New Dealers couldn't stretch it.

Mr. Roosevelt's half-baked potato program was laughed out of existence by the American people. The lowly spud need not now be wrapped in cellophane and you can have your fried or hashed brown without a potato tax.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

PRESS CLUB ELECTS

A meeting of the Press club was held last Friday. Warren Richardson was elected unanimously for editor-in-chief, and Joseph Payne was elected associate editor by a large majority. Business managers appointed were: Donald Boynton, Bruce Root, Stafford Lindsay, and Bradford Holt.—Benjamin Cole.

NEW CLUBS

There will be a cooking club under the supervision of Miss Madeleine Kimball for seventh grade boys. The present members are: Robert Sutton, Richard Stevens, Charles Sanborn, James Renny, Jack Pidgeon, Francis Reilly, Arthur Tisbet, and Gerard Twomey. Election of officers will be held soon.—Warren Richardson

THE LIBRARY CORNER

Compared with the overflowing bookshelves of last year's "Library Corner," we now have a library of distinction. Although the sum of books is small in comparison with the shelves, we hope soon to have the remaining bare shelves filled. During the past summer months a small collection of new Junior Literary Guild books was gathered.

At least fifty pupils have applied for admittance to the Library club. This shows the great interest the students of the junior high school are taking in their new library.

At present the last year's Library club members are busy cataloguing all of the books.—Madeleine Grout

ODDS AND ENDS

Members of the Practical Arts course, in division 9-6, under the supervision of Miss Gates, made towels for the cooking room and for the school cafeteria.

GIRLS' TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Jeanette Batcheller proved her skill at playing tennis by winning the junior high school tournament.

In the first round Jeanette Batcheller defeated Martha Tyrer; Janet Carter won from Anne Sparks; Patsy Arnold won over Christine Hill; Judith Hardy defeated Pauline MacMackin; and Helen Stott defeated Betty McDonald. In the second round Jeanette Batcheller, Patsy Arnold, Judith Hardy, and Madeleine Grout were the winners. In the final round Jeanette Batcheller defeated Judith Hardy 6-0, 6-0.—Marion Foye

THE NEW FIRE GONG

Last Friday everyone waited anxiously to hear the new fire gong. When it rang, there was no mistaking its Dong, Dong! Dong! Dong! repeated several times. In about two minutes after it first began to sound, the entire building was emptied.

ASSEMBLY

Last Friday a brief but impressive assembly was held. Mr. Sherman read several articles on the American flag. An old favorite, "Anchors Aweigh," was played over the radio as we filed from the hall.—Archie MacLaren

TRAFFIC OFFICERS

Temporary traffic officers have been appointed by Mr. Sherman. They will be replaced by regulars when the Student Council is organized. They are: Thomas Noyes, Donald Boynton, Jack Mudge, Frank Koza,

Stephen Thiras, George Brown, Elinor Houston, Jeanne Fiske, Barbara Gahm, Ruth Cowen, Dorothy Christie, and Ursula Schultz.—Gordon Elliot

SCHOOL ATHLETICS

On Monday afternoon eight teams reported to the football field for the fifth game of the league. R. MacMackin's boys played a fine game, but the strong Davies eleven was too much for them. R. Flanagan and F. Goebel starred for the winning team while R. MacMackin and B. Jenkins excelled for the losers. Ben Forbes scored three touchdowns for his team, and, with A. Bradish, led his team to a 24-8 victory.—Ben Forbes

Field hockey is proving very popular among the girls. In several weeks teams are to be formed. Soccer is gaining interest not only among the boys, but also among the girls. As yet, no definite teams have been chosen among the girls.

The horseshoe tournament is still in progress. The first round games have been completed.

EXTRA-CURRICULA FINANCES

The Student Government association of the junior high school voted today on a plan for financing its program of extra-curricula activity. This plan will eliminate the various calls for money made during the year by substituting weekly dues of three cents. It is often difficult for a boy or girl to get fifteen or twenty-five cents together at one time to pay for a special assembly, a dancing lesson, or a class party, but there are few pupils who are not given or cannot earn three cents a week.

The Student Government association wants every child to join, not only to benefit himself but to enable those who are working out the program of activities to have as large a fund as possible to use in planning work and interesting enterprises for everyone. If every child in junior high joins and pays three cents weekly for thirty-five weeks, there will be approximately four hundred and eighty dollars in the treasury. Those who pay one dollar before January first will be considered paid-up members of the association.

At school every child will receive far more in return for this small sum than he could get elsewhere. Following is a list of items definitely promised those who join. Additional items of similar nature will be added as the year goes on. A pupil who is not a member of the association will be required to pay for the items separately at the prices stated, which were the charges made last year.

Three assemblies (with outside entertainers, moving pictures, etc.), 10c each; three dancing lessons, 20c each; a separate party for each class, 10c; an exhibition basketball game (1 for girls, 1 for boys), 10c; a season ticket to all junior high athletic contests, 25c; free athletic equipment (jerseys, etc.) for school teams, 95c; awards for home-room activities, and awards (letters, numerals, etc.) for participation in after-school athletics, 10c; class dues, 10c; club dues, 10c; three issues of the Townsman, 15c, plus a 70 cents annual saving on the other copies.

Since this is only a partial list, it can readily be seen that paying for separate items would be an expensive proposition, and that child will want to miss the good times offered him by the association.

Fairbanks Wins Club Championship

Charles Fairbanks of Lowell became the new Andover country club champion last Saturday when he defeated Charles Bradley, Jr., of Shaw sheen village, one up in a 36 hole match. Fairbanks played the morning round in 73 and the afternoon in 76 for a total of 149 as against Bradley's 75-77-152.

Saturday evening the annual list of prizes were awarded to those who won tournaments during the season. Winners of prizes were: C. S. Waugh, F. A. Dushame, John Fairbanks, Charles Fairbanks, Edgar Best, C. M. North, J. R. Kay, H. Black, N. K. Wiggin, A. W. Badger, E. R. Taylor, M. J. Lane, L. E. Stirling, C. C. Fowler, A. Murphy, J. H. Boss, W. E. Billings, P. Abbott, R. H. Patterson, J. H. Eaton, Charles Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Houston, F. E. Marcotte, W. V. Higgins, John Dalton, George Weldon, A. Taylor, R. Quigley, S. A. Lindsay, J. A. Levek, G. A. Clark, H. Anderton, R. K. LaRose, E. J. Carney, W. R. Hill, W. E. Titus, W. M. Sullivan, E. A. Anderson, A. Taylor, Jr., H. Griffin, K. Batcheller.

P. A. Teacher Tells of Labrador Trip

M. Lawrence Shields of the Phillips academy faculty spoke at the meeting of the Square and Compass club last night on his trip to the wilds of Labrador. Part of the journey was made by boat and part by plane.

He vividly portrayed the exciting adventures he experienced with the huge icebergs on uncharted and boisterous seas. He told of life with the Esquimaux and of their customs. He said they were a very friendly people, fond of good music, but he added that they had a lot to learn about personal cleanliness.

The highlight of his talk was the amusing description of the incidents while he was a guest on board one of the vessels of the British Navy on his return trip.

LONDON LEADING

Of 39 states reporting in the national small-town weekly poll in which the Townsman participated, London leads in 28 and Roosevelt 11. London has 447,973 votes and Roosevelt 295,882. Small-town Massachusetts is overwhelmingly for London, 6,858 to 1,782.
