Amateur Night to Be Held Tonight

Amateur Major Bowes to Preside at the Playground Novel Event

The first annual Central playground amateur night will be held this evening, with Malachi Lynch serving as Major Bowes. A large crowd is expected for this novel event. Popular applause determines the winners.

Carl Erler, Sr., acted as Major Bowes at the Shawsheen playground amateur night on Wednesday. Ted Peterson was the judge.

Ten-year-old Walter Thompson won the gold ribbon with his rendition of "Rainbow on the River." He won out over two other blue-ribbon winners, one being his sister, Pauline, who won the prize for the girls under twelve, and the other Christine Larkin, who won first prize for the girls twelve and over. Other prize-winners for girls twelve and over were Margaret Mitchell, second, and Mary Regan, third. James Marshall, a professional magician, visiting in the village, entertained the gathering with a few tricks.

John Miller won the gold ribbon at the Vale amateurs last night. Sherman Johnson was Major Bowes and Leslie Hadley referee.

The winners:

Girls under 12—Won by Diane Nowell, ballet dance; second, Lillian Bisset, acrobatic dance; third, Helen Nowell, recitation.

Girls 12 and over—Won by Virginia Lowry, tap dance; second, Gladys Sharpe, solo.

Boys 12 and over—Won by John Miller, solo.

Lighting Committee for T. P. A. Plan

Walter Coleman, chairman of the town street lighting committee, announced this week that his committee "will be very glad to allow a representative or any number of representatives of the Taxpayers' association to sit in on its budgetary meetings." Any suggestions will be welcomed, Mr. Coleman stated.

The trustees of the library, the only group which has not yet replied to the Taxpayers' association's request, will not meet until September, secretary Frederic S. Boutwell stated on Wednesday. The probability is that this board will grant the request, leaving the school board as the sole refusers.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

William J. Dolan, 32 Avon street, and Edna M. Muldoon, 196 Woodside avenue, Winthrop.

Seven Successful in Police Exam

Andover's new police officers, two of whom are to be appointed shortly, will be young men in their early twenties as the result of the recent civil service examination. Of the 40 odd who took the examination, only seven are known to have been requested to report on August 26 for a physical examination, and they are all under thirty years of age.

The successful applicants are: Joseph A. Davis, 37 High street; Joseph E. O'Brien, 135 North Main street; George S. Waldie, 8 Avon street; Samuel E. Furness, Jr., 2 Fletcher street; David Nicoll, 11 Bartlet street; William J. Stewart, 23 Brechin terrace; George F. Dufton, 25 Dufton road.

The selectmen following the physical examination will notify the civil service commission that they wish to appoint at once one police officer and another very shortly. The first will be an additional officer; the second will replace Officer Thomas Dailey whose retirement becomes effective at the end of September. It is assumed that the commission will submit five names for the selectmen to choose from, provided five of the above pass the physical examination. If one man is to be appointed, the selectmen are privileged to choose from the highest three; if two, from the highest five.

BLAZE SEEN HERE

Many calls were received at the police station last Friday night asking for the whereabouts of a fire which lighted up the sky toward the northeast. The blaze, which was in Georgetown, destroyed three ice houses and threatened several cottages. Apparatus from eight towns responded.

B. P. W. Presents Report on Work

The following is a report issued by the Board of Public Works on some of the main items of work in the various departments coming under the board's jurisdiction from January 1st to August 1st.

WATER DEPARTMENT

On Sunday, February 14th, the bronze screening at the end of the suction line at the Haggett's pond pumping station was renewed.

The Lawrence Water Department made changes in its systems in the vicinity of Mt. Vernon street, Lawrence and North street, Andover, and also on Union and South Main streets, Lawrence, so that water can be supplied from Andover to Lawrence and vice versa more efficiently in emergencies.

A hydrant has been installed near the boiler house of Phillips academy, the academy paying for all materials and labor.

Machinery Tax Elimination Slices Bill in Half—Academy Jumps from Seventh to Fourth Place

Despite better than a fifty percent reduction in its tax bill, the American Woolen company still remains Andover's highest taxpayer, figures compiled this week reveal. Paying $67,027.92 last year, the company this year has a bill of only $30,003.94, the reduction in large part being due to the elimination by the legislature of the machinery tax.

The Lawrence Gas and Electric company is still in second place with a bill of $26,630.33 as compared with last year's $28,444.45. Again in third place is the Andover-Shawsheen Realty company with $15,327.59 as against last year's $18,249.27.

The elimination of the machinery tax made some very decided changes in the next few taxpayers. Phillips academy, not benefited by this act, went into fourth place with $9,877.14, which with four fraternity houses included goes over into the $10,00.00 division. Last year the academy paid $10,761.66. M. T. Stevens, Textile Realty and Tyer Rubber finished in fourth, fifth and sixth last year, with the academy seventh.

Trailing the academy this year was Textile Realty which went ahead of M. T. Stevens. This year's figure was $9,070.87, last year's $12,103.70. Still in sixth place was the Tyer Rubber company, with $8,208.17 as compared to last year's $11,767.60. M. T. Stevens followed with $7,885.23.

The New England Tel. and Tel., Andover Savings Bank and Henry W. Barnard et al continued in eighth, ninth and tenth with $6,985.42, $4,155.34 and $4,094.37.

A newcomer to the $1000 class this year is Fred E. Cheever, owner of Johnson Acres. Annette Curran is a newcomer, taking the place of Paul LaFrance, former owner of the property. Henry W. Keyes, Jr., of Haverhill, N. H., takes the place of Vina M. Rickard, former owner of the Joyce estate now occupied by Theodore Hoffacker. Bert G. and Arianna T. Spaulding went $5.05 under the $1000 real estate group, but a bill of $97.15 personal boosted them into the $1000 total.

The machinery tax elimination was shown most clearly in the list of personal taxpayers over $100 where the American Woolen company, the Andover Press, Ltd., Merrimack Card Clothing, Shawsheen Dairy, Smith and Coutts, M. T. Stevens, Textile Realty, Tyer Rubber and Watson-Park dropped out.

Taxes over $1000

Taxes over $1000: Abbot Academy, 2487.71; Andover National Bank, 2761.07; Andover Realty Co., 1004.07; American Woolen Co., 30003.94; Andover Shawsheen Realty Co., 15327.59; Andover Savings Bank, 4155.34; Henry W. Barnard, et al, 4094.37 and 649.90; Boston & Maine Railroad, 1330.62; William J. Burns, 1459.93; Smith P. Burton, 1669.64; Fred E. Cheever, 1027.84; Coriole Trust, 2632.43; Jerome W. Cross, 1611.35; Annette Curran, 1000.98; Maurice J. Curran, 1800.96; George C. H. Dufton, 1488.74; Roy E. Hardy, 1092.10; Marjorie S. Hayes, 1193.27; Henry W. Keyes, Jr., 1367.47; H. Bradford Lewis, 1652.22; Lawrence Gas & Electric Co., 1516.21; Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Co., 1595.94; Edith C. O'Connell, 1505.49; Phillips Academy, 9475.14; J. Augustus Remington, 2685.36; Samuel Resnik, 2147.35; Alfred L. Ripley, 1147.71; M. T. Stevens & Sons, Co., 7885.23; Textile Realty Co., 9070.87; Tyer Rubber Co., 8208.17.

Personal Tax over $100

Personal Taxes over $100: American Tel. & Tel., 665.98; Andover Cash Market, 111.22; Andover News Co., 124.62; Andover Steam Laundry, 163.48; Irma C. Beene, 236.38; Coriole Realty, 172.46; Maurice J. Curran, 176.21; Joseph J. (CONTINUED ON PAGE 8)

Pre-Natal Nuptial Blessing

Lieutenant Jimmie Donahue of the United States Army had a busy time on Sunday. In the afternoon he served as best man at the wedding of Miss Laura Fitzgerald, formerly of the Insurance offices, and Lieutenant Bernard P. Major; then he immediately dashed off to Boston.

During the reception Lieutenant and Mrs. Major received a telegram: Congratulations. Sorry I couldn't make it. Expected here tonight. Signed: The Donahue Heir.

Later in the evening Lieutenant and Mrs. Major learned that the expectations of Lieutenant and Mrs. Donahue came true at 8.39 p.m. at the Massachusetts General. And there was only one slight error in the telegram: it should have said: The Donahue Heiress.

Alarming Wind

Wednesday afternoon's rainstorm was accompanied by a lot of gentle zephyrs, the type of gentle zephyr that blows your hat off, turns your umbrella inside out, rips your awning apart and knocks the branches off your prize pear tree. One of the gentle zephyrs bumped up against the transom in John Grecoe's jewelry store and blew it open.

It was the first real test that John has had of his new burglar alarm system. It seems that if you open his door or his transom even the least little bit the burglar alarm will go off, and don't think you can break his window either: those nice silver decorations aren't decorations, they're made of a conducting material which at the slightest break will start the alarm ringing.

Sergeant Ray Hickey dashed up to the store, and with a step-ladder tried to stop the alarm which is in a box over and outside the door. But he had no luck and the alarm kept ringing until another tenant of the building found a way in through the cellar.

If a gentle zephyr can start the alarm and a police sergeant can't stop it, the chances are that John won't be bothered by any thievery while he's away from the store.

Ethiopia Wins at Playground

"Ethiopia" was defeated a couple of years ago by Italy, but Il Duce or anyone else couldn't defeat "Ethiopia" last Friday night. All summer a big black dog has been hanging around the central playground, and to him the children have given the name "Ethiopia." When the annual pet show was held on Friday night, the black dog was given the gold ribbon, the grand award. William Moore entered the dog.

The results follow:

Dogs—won by William Moore; second, Germaine Verrette; third, Thomas Garvey.

Puppies—Won by Patricia Smith; second, John Craig; third, Gladys Martinson.

Flyers—Won by John Avery; second, Irene Shorten; third, Victor Shorten.

Cats—Won by Pauline Dufresne; second, George Levi; third, Rita Downs.

Kittens—Won by Mary Louise Irwin; second, Shirley Granville; third, Muriel Smalley.

Zoo—Won by Beatrice Golden; second, Robert Moore; third, Pauline Erlor.

How Well Do You Remember?

How well do you read your Townsman and how good is your memory after you read it?

There are 15 questions below, all pertaining to January and February of this year. All the items appeared prominently in the Townsman. Following each question is the value of each. The answers appear on page 10.

We should be glad to hear how you made out so that we may know whether to make succeeding tests harder or simpler. No fair peeking at page 10.

1. What minister died and what minister retired early in the year? (3 each)
2. What important step regarding Andover did Governor James Michael Curley take as 1936 ended? (5)
3. How was the long-standing controversy over the corner lot in Shaw sheen square finally terminated? (7)
4. What noted singer, who has since retired, gave a concert at Phillips academy? (4)
5. What two members of what profession were early mentioned as possible opponents of Selectman Howell F. Shepard? Who actually opposed him? (8)
6. Who was elected president and vice-president of the Andover Taxpayers' association? (3 each)
7. Who retired and who succeeded him as president of the Andover National Bank? (3 each)
8. Name five of the tree warden candidates. (8)
9. What two facts made this year's town meeting of significance as precedents for the future? (8)
10. Who was the librarian of Phillips academy who announced her retirement early in the year, and who was appointed to succeed her? (4 each)
11. What recently retired public school teacher died early in the year? (5)
12. There were two fatal automobile accidents in the first two months. Where did they take place? What Andover man was the victim in one? (15)
13. Two local boys were heroes early in the year, one at a fire at his college the other at a near drowning in Poms pond. Who were they? What college was it? (8)
14. What was the name of the winter production of the Adventurers? (3)
15. What circumstance regarding the Sacred Heart cemetery made it a newsworthy subject? (5) nolly; second, William Rule; third, Joan Lefebvre.

Two Residences Hit by Lightning

Two local houses, one in Ballardvale and one in West Parish, were struck by lightning in a freak storm on Monday afternoon. Parts of the town did not receive a drop of rain.

The chimney of the home of Ernest Beaulieu on Andover street, Ballardvale, was struck, with the falling bricks tearing away some of the shingles. Several fruit trees were also destroyed at the Beaulieu property.

Harry A. Wright of Shawsheen road reports that while standing in his back doorway on Tuesday evening a bolt of lightning hit the chimney on his house and the tile was thrown all over the yard. The entire chimney above the roof was scattered about. Some damage was also done to the shingles on the roof.

Many trees were struck, some being badly damaged. The worst damage to trees occurred at the residences of Walter Edmands, William Clemons, Irving Shaw, and Edward Ward in the Vale and at the Alfred Ripley farm on Abbot street.

The Vale electric and telephone service was impaired for some time.

Hagget's pond pumping station were cut as follows:

On May 24th, No. 1 boiler was cut to 100 lbs.

On June 27th, No. 2 boiler was cut to 115 lbs.

Forty new water services have been installed.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

Catch basins on Argyle street, Carisbrooke street and York street which formerly entered a small Akron drain which runs to the Shawsheen river have been connected to the main culvert which runs through this vicinity. The small Akron drain takes the drainage from a number of houses in this area which heretofore backed water up into the cellars when the road drainage entered. The work was done by W.P.A. labor with the exception of supervision and materials.

The lower sections of the furnace sheets of the steam roller boiler adjacent to the mud ring had corroded to such an extent that it was necessary to renew them. This work was done by the Merrimac Boiler Works at a cost of two hundred ninety-four dollars and eight cents.

Salem street from Gray road to Jenkins road has been shaped up, gravelled in sections, rolled and given an application of "Tarvia B" and also of "Tarvia Retread." Hagget's pond road from Lowell street to a point in front of Mr. Hardy's property has been given a similar treatment. This work was done under Article No. 12 of the 1937 Warrant and cost four thousand, nine hundred forty-two dollars and thirty cents, ($4,942.30.)

The Stevens street bridge was scraped and then painted with a coat of red lead and asphaltum paint. The planking was renewed with treated material, the bottom planking being three and the top two inches. This work was done by L. Muise, the lowest bidder at a cost of five hundred ninety-five dollars.

The following streets have been given an application of "Tarvia Retread":

North street, a section of Chandler road from North street to Beacon street, Lovejoy road, Sunset Rock road, Holt street, Florence street, Whittier street extended in the way of the Park, High street, Ballardvale, Chester street, Lincoln street, Fleming avenue, Ayer street, Wolcott avenue, Arundel street, Argyle street, and sections of Riverina road, Ballardvale road, Tewksbury street, River street, Dascomb road, Highland road, Summer street, River road, Magnolia avenue, High Plain road, Reservation street, Beacon street, Greenwood road, Pine street, Chestnut street, Highland road,

High street, Walnut avenue, Liberty street, Porter road and Hidden road.

The entire length of Stratford road has been gravelled and rolled.

Curbing has been laid on the east side of Buxton court and on Chestnut street in the vicinity of the Andover Savings Bank building. This curbing was provided by the plot of land (located at the corner of Main and Lowell streets) recently taken over by the town.

SNOW REMOVAL

Of the Snow Appropriation of $10,000, the following has been spent: Sand and sanding, $759.82; repair and parts for ploughs, $137.37; storage for truck and grader, $98.15; shovels and tools, $65.39; snow-fence, $123.19; equipment, $1,729.00; making a total of $2,912.92 and a balance of $7,087.08.

SEWER DEPARTMENT

A sewer line was installed on sections of Elm street, Cheever Circle and Coolidge road, later in another section of Cheever Circle and a section of Walnut avenue. This work was done by Ellsworth Lewis, contractor, supervised by the town, and paid for by Mr. Cheever.

A six-inch sewer line was installed by Louis Cyr, contractor, on a stretch of new road which is a continuation of Sutherland street. The town inspected the work to see that elevations shown on the plans were followed in case the street is ever taken over as a town highway.

A six-inch sewer line was installed to care for the new houses recently built by the academy in the vicinity of Professor Moorehead's house. This work was done by Ellsworth Lewis, contractor, and supervised by the town, the academy paying for both installation and inspection.

Twenty-three new sewer services have been installed.

PARK DEPARTMENT

A wire fence was erected at the playground in the vicinity of Basso and Gilliard's properties. This work was done by George Nesbitt & Son of Lawrence, Mass., (the lowest bidders) at a cost of seven hundred ninety-nine dollars and ninety-five cents.

The brook in the vicinity of the playground has been cleaned.

TEST TOWN GASOLINE

A test of the gasoline used by the town departments under the new one-pump system was made recently in Chief Emerson's car. The gas tank was disconnected, and a quart of each of three different gasolines tried out for starting, mileage, power, etc. They all proved equally good, it was reported.

Gang War Victim Treated by Firemen

The firemen at the Central station tried surgery on Sunday night in an attempt to help out a casualty of an Andover "gang-war."

Tommy Campbell, nine-year-old Abbot street resident, came into the station after the band concert with a long thorn in his flesh, stuck there, so he and his chums claimed, by "one of the Village Gang." Lieutenant Albert Cole, Captain Fred Collins, and drivers Alex MacKenzie and Gordon Goutts used the ambulance first-aid kit in the successful operation on Tommy.

A visit to the North Cambridge Clan and auxiliary is planned by the two local groups for September 3. The committee in charge is Mrs. Anna Driscoll, Fred Scott and Edward Brown.

Reading's Light Display Brings Dismay to Serious-Thinking Motorists

Everyone admits that Reading square during the Yuletide season is very attractively decorated with its large number of vari-colored holiday lights. The town officials down in our neighboring town liked the appearance of the square so much that they decided to carry the Christmas decorative scheme along through the whole year, and now the square presents a gala array of red, green and buff lights—mostly red.

There is no doubt that the installation of some eighteen or so standards with almost innumerable traffic lights thereon in the square was truly a magnificent accomplishment—for the salesman who sold them. And there is also no doubt that the town of Reading is not only having to bear the burden of paying for all these lights but it is also having to bear the brunt of some very justifiable criticism because of the light-headed action of its officials.

There are two occasions during the day when the traffic lights in Reading square are absolutely useless—when there is a lot of traffic, and when there isn't a lot of traffic. Route 28, the main line from Boston to Lawrence, from the Cape to the White Mountains, runs right through the square. Most of the time, especially on weekends, the traffic on Route 28 is very heavy and according to all good traffic-handling precepts, it should be kept moving right along. But they don't believe in that particular precept down in Reading. They like to see that long line of traffic halted; they like the idea of cars having to stop, shift into first, go a few feet, stop, go a few more feet, and so on, until after about ten minutes or more the motorists are finally able to get out into the clear again, with the memory of those red spots before their eyes helping them make a mental resolve to put Reading on their blacklist for all purposes, residential and commercial included.

The town ought to make an appropriation to allow its officials to ride down to New York city where the traffic is actually as great a problem as the Reading officials think theirs is. If New Yorkers saw as many lights in one place as Reading has in its square, they'd think that the city was celebrating the arrival of some famous person. Down there they use traffic lights as an aid to traffic, not as a hindrance. They try to keep the traffic moving so that it won't clog up the highways, and they do it by using far less lights per square mile than the metropolis to the south of Andover uses.

In heavy traffic such as route 28 often experiences, there is really only one way to handle it properly. There should be an officer or possibly two out in the square pushing the main-line traffic through as fast as possible, stopping only when actually necessary to allow the passage of pedestrians and the entrance of cars from side streets. When there is little traffic through the square, there is no need for an officer and no need for lights. The only saving grace about the Reading lights is that late at night they do change then to flashing yellow for the main highway traffic and flashing red for the traffic entering the main street. Andover doesn't know enough to do that.

As it is now, Reading has a multitude of lights and an officer to operate those lights apparently intent on keeping motorists in Reading as long as possible. The result is that the town also has a very bad reputation with the motoring public, which now is intent on seeing Reading as little as possible.

Siftings

With Ballardvale defeating the central fire station in hose-coupling, the odds on Andover will not be too strong when the Shawsheen old-timers baseball team meets Andover's old-timers.

STOPPING AT THE HOTEL HARRINGTON

Along with other North Shore resorts the Harrington hotel at Rye, North Beach, N. H., has been having an excellent season. Many Andover residents have stopped there.

Miss Marion Hill and Mrs. Eunice Dailey of the academy offices, down on a long week end visited the Sunshine Gift shop run by Mrs. Harlow of the Harborn shop. Mrs. John Buchan of Lincoln street and Mrs. James Purcell of Elm street stopped in from a North Shore trip.

Samuel Bailey and his niece, Miss Madeleine Hewes of Porter road spent their July vacation at the hotel, while Judge and Mrs. Colver J. Stone with their son Gilbert have been frequent guests.

Miss Lois Ferguson and Miss Muriel Higginson both of Chestnut street were guests of Mrs. Joseph Higginson.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Holmes of Bartlet street were guests at the hotel of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Berry of Detroit, Mich., now visiting in Andover.

J. L. Phillips of the academy and Mrs. Phillips spent part of their vacation there before taking a longer trip.

Other arrivals were Hans Haakensen of Salem street and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Harrington and their daughter, Ida Mae of High street, and Mr. and Mrs. George Horne of Sunset Rock road.

Miss Fitzgerald Bride of Lieutenant Major

Miss Laura Bancroft Fitzgerald, for the last few years a secretary of the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance office, became the bride of Lieutenant Bernard P. Major of Sackets Harbor, N. Y., at a pretty ceremony held last Sunday afternoon in St. Mary's church, Lawrence. Rev. Thomas G. Delaney, O.S.A., united the couple in marriage.

Mrs. Bernard Major
(Laura Fitzgerald)

The bride was attractively gowned in white satin, with a face veil of tulle en train. Attending her was Miss Eileen MacKay of Norwich, Conn., a classmate of the bride at Boston University. Miss MacKay wore flowered chiffon and carried a bouquet of talisman roses, while the bride carried a prayer book with a marker of lilies of the valley. Mr. Frank Fitzgerald, the bride's father gave her in marriage. The wedding music was played by organist Joseph Walsh.

Lieutenant James M. Donahue, now stationed at Newport, R. I., was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fitzgerald of 58 Buswell street, Lawrence. The couple left later for a wedding trip through Connecticut and New York state. They will reside at Madison Barracks, at Sackets Harbor on Lake Ontario.

The bride graduated from Boston University's College of Practical Arts and Letters. Lieutenant Major received his commission at West Point in June.

During her few years at the local Insurance offices, the bride has made many friends. She had one of the leading roles in the winter production of the Adventurers.

Lose Laundry in Blaze on Tuesday

A considerable quantity of finished laundry and some woodwork was damaged Tuesday evening when fire broke out in the Andover Steam Laundry delivery room. The cause is believed to be spontaneous combustion in the finished goods. Hours after the fire when laundry-workers were unwrapping water-soaked packages of laundry, the center of the packages were still hot. Everything was covered by insurance.

The fire was first noticed by Frank A. Welch who was at his own shop. He called the fire station which immediately sent over one engine with the new engine leaving the hose-coupling contest.

Some of the laundry was burned and a considerable quantity was soaked by the sprinklers. Little damage was done to the building itself.

Mrs. Nellie Rand, part-owner of the laundry, was at the scene early, while Albert Budger, manager, was later located at the country club. A number of laundry-workers came in and worked until late at night in an attempt to straighten out the burned and wet laundry.

Chorus Directed by Walter Howe

Under the heading: "Six Thousand See Walter Howe Direct Mass Chorus of Five Hundred Voices," the following article by Marion Bauer appeared on Monday in the Chautauquan Daily, published at Chautauqua, N. Y., where the Abbot academy music director is spending the summer.

The annual Choral Festival, in which outside organizations are invited to participate, took place Saturday night in the Amphitheater before an audience of almost six thousand. The Choir, augmented by the Erie Choral Society, Charles Le Sueur, director; Warren, Ohio, Augmented Church choir, Carl Scheig director; Jamestown Choral Society, Prof. Samuel Thorstenberg, director, numbered over five hundred voices. They were accompanied by the Chautauqua Symphony orchestra, with Harrison Potter at the piano, and were directed by Walter Howe.

A special vote of thanks is due Mr. Howe for reviving "The Creation" by Haydn, an Oratorio which a century ago was almost as popular as Handel's "Messiah."

The work of the chorus was splendid and showed careful rehearsing on the part of the Chautauqua Choir and the visiting choruses. They responded extremely well to Mr. Howe's baton, showing familiarity with the work and well-trained attention.

Mr. Howe conducted both chorus and orchestra with authority and enthusiasm. Mr. Potter accompanied the many recitatives artistically.

Miss Martha Howe is a member of the Chautauqua choir and sang in the chorus at the Choral Festival.

"Johnny, go wash your face and neck."
 "Neck who, Ma?"

Before Barnard Block Was Built

James Oldroyd directed the Vale crew, and he stayed so close to the scene of action that a cameraman, trying to get a picture of the actual coupling, wasted two plates on excellent photos of Jim's back. Gavin McGhie was also with the Vale crew.

Eugene V. Lovely and Donald Dunn were the timers.

Later in the evening Fred Collins at the Central station was contemplating the possibility of holding another contest the Saturday after Labor Day with Reading, North Andover, etc. Spectators at the recent affair think it's a good idea, but hope that Andover is represented by its first team—from Ballardvale.

An Irishman, an Englishman and a Scotchman were out of work. They traveled together in search of employment and came to a farmer's house and applied. The farmer said whoever could tell the biggest lie could have the job. The Englishman said he went to the North Pole in a tub. The Scotchman said he swam to the South Pole. The farmer then asked Pat: "Well, Pat, what's your lie?" "Begorra, sir," said Pat, "I believe these lads." Pat got the job.—Kablegram.

Woman's Rights

The rights of woman, what are they?
The right to labor and to pray,
The right to watch while others sleep,
The right o'er others' woes to weep,
The right to succor in distress,
The right, while others curse, to bless.
The right to love while others scorn,
The right to comfort all who mourn,
The right to shed new joy on earth,
The right to feel the soul's high birth,
The right to lead the way to God
Along the way the Saviour trod.

Vale Fire Laddies Show Local Boys How to Couple

If you find a fire blazing away in your house in the future, don't call 212—call 281. When Frank Welch noticed the glare in the Steam Laundry delivery room Tuesday night, he called 212, but that was because he hadn't yet heard that the Ballardvale engine company could couple up hose and deliver a stream of water in several seconds less than the Central fire station boys could.

As it was, Frank did prove a hero to the laddies from Park street for if he hadn't called the department, the Vale boys would have had another opportunity to show that they could do better than their previous time of 42.7 seconds and much better than Andover's time of 51.1. Their chief regret was that he didn't notice the fire before Andover's second try, when sixteen fingers became sixteen thumbs, threads were crossed, and someone tried to make a monkey out of the wrench. That particular stream of water has not been delivered yet.

The Andover boys were first—on the scene. Pretty soon a chug-chug was heard from the direction of the Vale, of which Andover, if this keeps up, will shortly be a suburb. The 25-year-old combination hove into sight, followed by several car-loads of loyal rooters who were unable to drown out the back-firing of the truck. Andover was able to laugh at that, but Ballardvale did all the rest of the laughing.

Andover, having lost the toss as the first of a series of losses, had the first chance. Kerr Sparks, who drove the new truck for both stations without discrimination, started the truck off for the hydrant in front of Mitchell Johnson's with the Andover crew hanging on behind. At the hydrant Jimmie Williams and Bill Ross jumped off with the coupling and the end of the hose, while the truck went on 250 feet laying the hose as it tore along. Jimmie and Billie went right at work on the hydrant while Bob Jackson and Herb Brown attached the nozzle up near the South church. In 50.4 seconds water was being played.

Better Andover Time

Then the Vale boys came along, with Charlie Murnane and Eddie Buchan at the hydrant and Pat Murnane and Howard Colbath at the nozzle. In 45.4 seconds their task was done, despite their claim that the Andover boys tightened up the gates too tight.

Andover's second try was disastrous. By this time the crowd, even the central-ites, were very much pro-Vale, and the great American pastime of razzing was indulged in to a considerable extent by the spectators parked around the hydrant as Jimmie and Billie returned with the couplings. Nerves were becoming a little frayed, and things just didn't go right. One of the gates went on cross-threaded, and the wrench for the top of the hydrant wasn't properly adjusted. The nozzle up at the other end was on in about 35 seconds, but the spectators waited in vain for a flow of water that never even left the hydrant.

After this default, the Vale laddies went at it again. Town house janitor Bill Brown felt pretty sure that they couldn't improve their time and besides after the Andover performance he didn't think that water could come out of the nozzle. In exactly 42.7 seconds Bill was given a bad soaking, thanks to the Vale nozzle boys who must have remembered that Bill's son Herb was an Andover nozzle-boy.

Win White was sent in to replace Billy Ross in Andover's third try. In 51.1 seconds the stream spurted from the nozzle, but sooner than that it spurted from a gate that the Andover nozzle-men forgot to close at the hydrant. Among those on the receiving end of this particular shower was Andover sub-fireman Gordon Coutts' sister.

Fire Alarm Sounds

The Vale boys lined up again, knowing that they could win the meet if they were no more than 5.6 seconds slower than their slowest time of the evening. And then came box 52.

Off rushed the Andover crew while the Vale boys made ready for an impromptu celebration. The new piece rushed up to the laundry, and several men took the hose and dragged it down the length of Post Office avenue, across the square to the hydrant which someone recently knocked over in the square. They coupled it up, and interested spectators estimated that they did the whole job of dragging and coupling faster than they did in the contest. The Vale boys pooh-pooh this idea, however.

Among the spectators at the fire was H. Lester Utley, manager of the Shaw-sheen Laundry, who had been serving as starter at the contest, and the three judges, Shep and his song and dance men, Ev and Roy.

Breakfast of Champions

After the fire was over, the Vale boys paid a little visit to the central station with a group of automobiles whose horns all seemed to get stuck and with some postmature fireworks. With all the dignity befitting the impressive occasion, they presented Captain William Collins of the presented runners-up with a package of a breakfast food to which ad-writers ascribe the prowess of Red Grange, Joe DiMaggio, Jane Fauntz, Babe Didrikson, and many other champions. Later the defeated boys sent down a box of cigars to the Vale fire-fighters; the cigars haven't exploded yet.

Mark Dollar Days in Up-River Lowell

Challenged by the changed conditions of the buying mart which have come into being during the six months, the buyers of the business establishments of Lowell, where mid-summer DOLLAR DAYS are to be observed today and tomorrow, August 13 and 14, under the auspices of the Merchants Division of the Lowell Chamber of Commerce, have found it increasingly difficult to uphold the traditional values established since the originating of these days. It is said, however, they have met the situation most successfully and that the values which will be offered to the shoppers in the Lowell stores during this cooperative event, called the gold standard one of the summer season, compare most favorably with those of past Dollar Days. Definitely established as a semi-annual affair, the Dollar Days, unlike other sales programs can be planned for in advance and of course, this is to the advantage of the buyers.

The experienced buyer even under the present inflationary conditions, has an uncanny method of finding extraordinary and unusual values in merchandise and the Lowell store buyers, by past demonstration when such efforts are required, have shown that their ability to do so compares most favorably with that of similar store executives to be found in municipalities of much greater area and population. The quick turnovers, so common in the stores of Lowell, also materially aid the stores in their search for merchandise. Naturally, wholesalers, jobbers and even manufacturers dealing directly with the retailers, court the patronage of our establishments which are so aggressively and successfully managed in preference to those of the contrasting type. Such is the type of stores participating in Lowell Dollar Days. The management of each is ever alert and desirous of maintaining an establishment known for its modernness rather than its obsolescence.

The official stores are distinctly set apart by the red and yellow streamers and strips prominently displayed in the windows and throughout the stores. Only in such stores will the best purchases be available.

White Hopes Defeat Brick Tops

Monday evening at the Shawsheen athletic field, Captain Bert Malley's "White Hopes" won for the second consecutive year over the "Brick Tops" by a 9-3 count.

A crowd of between 200 and 300 saw plenty of wild balls, one of which struck Malley in the second inning. H. M. Gerion of the "Brick Tops" was nervous after he threw that one and sat on the side lines.

At the end of the sixth inning when it was getting dark the game was called.

Representative Louis Scanlon and Eddie Sirois were the umpires.

The "Brick Tops" were ahead 2-1 in the fourth inning. Bert Malley pitched superb baseball in the final stages.

The fans had a lot of laughs during the practice session just before the game started and instead of a lot of limbered up men most of them entered the real game stiff in the joints.

Captain Ed Reilly of the "Brick Tops" didn't get his hands on the ball out in center field but he made a hit in his first trip to the plate, later being caught napping off first. He had to retire then as he got a turned ankle out of it.

Jimmy Cole of Andover was at the loud speaker.

Judge Joe Hargedon was missed this year, but he was out of town.

During the evening the horseshoe courts were busy under the direction of Jim Mosher. Ralph Emerson, conducted a baseball throwing contest, which was also well patronized by the crowd.

Those who played were:

White Hopes—Todd, c.; Malley, p.; Donovan, 1b.; D. Campbell, 2b., c.f.; Higgins, 2b.; Erler, 3b.; Deyermond, 1.f.; Thompson, 1.f.; MacLachlan, 1.f., s.s.; C. Campbell, 1.f.; McMahon, 3b.; Greenfield, 3b.; Sullivan, c.f., r.f.; Lamondra, c.f.; Mealey, r.f.; Jowell, 1b.; Regan, 1b.;

Gerrish, 2b., c.; Ripley, 3b., p.; Doyle, s.s.

Brick Tops—Gurtin, c.; Gerrior, p.; Collins, p.; Flanagan, 1b.; Bell, s.s.; Cregg, 2b.; Gordon, 3b.; Peterson, 1.f.; Fraser, 1.f.; Muller, r.f., p.; Winters, r.f.; Piper, r.f.; Riley, c.f.

The proceeds from this ball game will go toward the improvement of the Richardson school community center.

Carnivals to Be Held Next Week

The local playground system enters its next-to-the-last full week on Monday, with the feature of the week being the annual carnivals to be held Wednesday at Shawsheen, Thursday at the Vale and Friday at the Central.

The carnivals are run by the different playgrounds with the co-operation of the parents and other interested adults of the community. All proceeds are used for the erection of equipment on the playground where the money is raised. The principal feature of the carnival each year is the handwork exhibit demonstrating the work which the children have accomplished during the summer in sewing, crayon-work, painting, drawing, wood-work, bead-work and other similar projects.

The annual playground tournaments are scheduled to end this afternoon at five. There will be ribbon awards for first, second and third places, to be made on each playground the night of the carnival. The first place winners in the tournaments will compete in the play-off the early part of the final week. Tournaments include sand-building, heel-toss, box hockey, checkers, jackstones, croquet, bowling, horseshoes and high jump.

Winners in the high jump at the Central playground yesterday were:

Under 13—Won by William Moore, 3 ft. 6 in.; second, Donald Lynch, 3 ft. 2 in.; third, Charles West, 3 ft.

13 and over—Won by Donald Surette, 4 ft. 11 in.; second, Kenneth Gordon, 4 ft 10 in.; third, James Morrissey, 4 ft. 8 in.

Aboard Liner in Crash off Boston

John P. S. Doherty and Joseph B. Doherty of Harding street were aboard the liner Duchess of Atholl which struck and sunk the Danish freighter Maine southeast of Boston Wednesday evening. No one was injured on the liner. The local passengers were enjoying a cruise that was to have included Montreal, Quebec and the Gaspé Peninsula.

INJURED IN CRASH

A questionable fracture of the right leg and multiple abrasions of the face, arms and leg were suffered by Arthur Harkin, 19, of 2 Sweeney court in an accident last night. Harkin's truck left the highway on River road and struck a tree during the heavy rainfall immediately after midnight.

OPENS UP TWO ROADS

Fred E. Cheever, owner of Johnson acres, has just opened up two new roads, with gas lines, water mains and sewer mains being provided at his own expense. The roads are in the vicinity of Cheever circle and Coolidge road.

Abraham Lincoln was noted for his pungent and appropriate wit. The Great Emancipator was resting with his campaign manager in a hotel lobby. As usual the village cut-ups congregated there and one bolder than the rest remarked:

"Mr. Lincoln, your speech was good but there were some points quite beyond my reach."

The simple Lincoln looked up and chuckled.

"Then I am sorry for you. I had a dog once that had the same troubles with fleas."
