Requests Change in Zoning Laws

F. E. Cheever, Denied Permit to Build, Appeals to Town for Change

The following communication has been received from Fred E. Cheever: To the Citizens of Andover:

On October 15, 1934 the petitioner purchased the Francis H. Johnson Estate, comprising of 37 acres, for the purpose of developing the property into attractive lots and homes.

In April 1935 my engineer went all over the bounds and laid same out into 90 odd lots and six streets. The lots averaged 10,000 square feet and many running to 15 and 18 thousand square feet.

After the plan and blue prints of same were made the petitioner presented the plans to the Board of Survey, Dr. Daly, Mr. Shepard and Mr. Collins, which were unanimously approved, which was before the Zoning By-Laws went into effect, but not recorded.

The fact that one end of Cheever Circle, which runs from Elm street, through the development to Walnut avenue, was brought to a certain line in order to get the proper grade for sewer, water and ledge, two lots came under 10,000 square feet, lot number 76, corner of Walnut avenue and Cheever Circle is 9,178 square feet and lot number 79, 8,955 square feet.

The Zoning By-Laws were adopted in March 1936 and as the above two lots are under 10,000 square feet come under the following section, 12, giving the Board of Appeals power

"To adapt the requirements of this By-Law to irregular, narrow, or shallow lots or those unusual either in shape or topography, provided that the spirit and intent of this By-Law with regard to open spaces is preserved."

My attorney asked for a hearing to have these two lots allowed. The hearing was held July 30, 1937 and request denied by letter, received September 29, 1937.

No person appeared at the hearing to object to having these two lots allowed and owing to the above circumstances the petitioner feels the variance should be granted.

Considering that the Board of Appeals consisting of Attorney James S. Eastham, Walter M. Lamont and Selectman Roy E. Hardy rejected the petitioner's request, the petitioner and other voters now

Military Ball to Be Held Tonight

The British War Veterans' fourth annual military ball will be held tonight in the town hall, with old-time and modern dancing on the program. Master of ceremonies will be James Mitchell, James Nicoll assisting.

The committee: George Mitchell, chairman; Henry Batty, James Kew, Norman MacLeish, John Nicoll, and SalisWalton.

Chinaware to Be Meeting Subject

Mrs. Richard Cooley will be the speaker at the meeting of the November club on Monday afternoon, November 15. Her subject will be "Interesting Facts about Chinaware." Mrs. Cooley has for many years been a student of the manufacture and design of fine china, and brings with her many beautiful examples to illustrate her talk. She is an authority on her subject and claims that what she has to tell is what every woman should know about china.

To Give Second Lecture

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor gives the second lecture of her series "History in the Making" on Wednesday morning, November 17th at ten o'clock in the November clubhouse.

School Head to Address League

The Andover League of Women Voters meeting at the November clubhouse, Tuesday, November 16 at three o'clock, will have as the speaker Fred E. Pitkin, who will speak on the subject of "State Certification of Teachers with Special Reference to Massachusetts." This meeting is under the Department of Government and Education with Miss Clara A. Putnam as chairman.

Mr. Pitkin is a member of the committee preparing for legislative commission studying the matter: (1) Type of certification that is desirable; (2) Selection of best teachers; (3) The problem of raising age compulsory school attendance; (4) Visiting teachers in place of supervisors; (5) Teaching of lip-reading to hard-of-hearing children.

As is well known, the Governor, in his annual address recommended state certification of public school teachers in Massachusetts.

Dr. Fuess Will Give P.T.A. Talk

Dr. Claude M. Fuess, headmaster of Phillips academy, will speak on "The Modern Trend in Education" at the meeting of the Andover P.T.A. to be held Wednesday evening at eight in the Memorial auditorium. The Ballardvale and Shawsheen Parent-Teacher association members will be guests as will be the parents of children in the Indian Ridge school.

Mrs. Willet Eccles will sing.

CHURCH FAIR TODAY

The annual Free church fair is starting this afternoon at three and will continue through the evening, with a turkey supper to be served at 6.15.

GUEST AT TEA

Miss Ruth Tibbetts of Athens, Ga., was the guest of honor on Tuesday afternoon at a tea at the home of Mrs. Harold W. Leitch, Johnson road.

Historical Society to Aid Project

The Andover Historical society plans for early in December a meeting which should interest not only genealogists but all concerned for the story of their own families.

The Daughters of the American Revolution have lately undertaken a vast project which may take fifty years of completion, nothing less than assembling at Washington all that can be discovered concerning American families. The data will be contributed mostly by people concerned, with the cooperation of historical and other societies throughout the country. A representative of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be at the meeting in December to explain the project and to discuss ways in which the Historical society and others can assist. All likely to be interested are invited whether members of the society or not.

Favor Punchard over Methuen

Punchard high will travel to Methuen tomorrow a heavy favorite to win the annual contest, unless an epidemic of colds continues to leave the local ranks depleted. Captain Mal Lynch who played through the game last Saturday after being in bed two days with a cold has been running a temperature since, and several of the other boys were out with colds at the first of the week. The starting line-up is necessarily indefinite.

Methuen's season has not been auspicious. Starting with a 12-0 defeat at Lawrence, it next fell 7-0 before the Tewksbury high team. Hudson won 13-7, Johnson 8-6 and Pinkerton 7-0 before the Methuenites managed to eke out a win over Howe 21-0. Last week Reading won 9-0. On the basis of comparative scores Punchard has the edge. It defeated Howe 27-0 and Reading 25-6.

The Methuen team averages 158 pounds, but the backfield is only 145. Except for Thompson at right end it is a veteran line, while quarterback Laroche, a real threat, is the only backfield veteran.

Armistice Day Exercises Held

Armistice day exercises were held at 11 yesterday morning at the Legion lot in Spring Grove cemetery, with the Legion and British War Veterans taking part. Taking part in the exercises were Commander Stafford A. Lindsay, L. Denis Peterkin, Rev. Henry B. Smith, O.S.A., Rev. Herman C. Johnson and Rev. Frederick B. Noss. The Legion firing squad fired a salute and the bugle corps played taps.

At the free Legion dance Wednesday evening exercises were held at eleven o'clock. Commander Stafford A. Lindsay gave the welcome, and Adjutant Joseph A. McCarthy read the roll-call of the dead. Taps were sounded by Joseph Keith.

Officials to Meet with TPA Tonight

Directors Hope for Expression of Opinion on Long-time Planning

All the town officials have been invited to a round-table meeting tonight by the directors of the Andover Taxpayers' association, in the lower town hall starting at eight. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss a proposal for long-time planning of extraordinary expenditures. It is a plan which was suggested indirectly to the association when Selectman Howell Shepard stated in a talk last summer that his departments do apportion their special expenditures over the years so that in no one year is the burden too high. The directors have not as yet reached any conclusion on the advisability of the plan.

The letter to the departments read in part:

Briefly the plan would be an attempt to allocate appropriations for all special departmental expenditures, such as replacement of equipment, large construction jobs, etc., over a period of years so that the total amount spent in each year for this purpose would be approximately the same. It would involve the listing of possible special expenditures by each department for a period of say five years together with the year in which it is believed each expenditure would be made. Then at a conference of all departments these appropriations would be allotted over this period of five years.

THANKSGIVING CANTATA

The morning worship at the Free Christian church on Thanksgiving Sunday, November 21, will be devoted chiefly to the rendition of Maunder's "Song of Thanksgiving" by the choir. Ernest L. Thornquist, organist and choir director, has had this cantata under rehearsal for several weeks and would appreciate a wide hearing.

Plane Talk

The first editor of the Townsman was the Rev. C. C. Carpenter, whose widow is now Andover's oldest resident. A Salem paper in an issue shortly after the first Townsman appeared printed the following poem on the Townsman, with its play on "carpentering" being to its credit than its poetry. But here it is:

"The Townsman" registers his name
And into publicity dips,
To win for himself due money and fame,
And a carpenter's known by his chips.

May the carpenter hew right down to the line

By an earnest purpose sped;
Speak boldly always as he may opine,
And hit the nail on the head.

May he evermore for the right speak plane,

Nor fail to act on the square,
Until he a level high attain
That augurs a fortune rare.

May he ne'er from virtue swerve a bitt,
Whatever self interest adz,
And with truth's old hammer always hit,
With good return of the brads.

May thought flow free as shaving curls,
No items to chisel out
And paragraphs bright as Orient pearls,
Be compassed all about.

May his work prove true to a mitred joint,
By rule both fair and strong,
With words as sharp as a gimlet's point,
To brad-awl who practice wrong.

Success to "The Townsman" come to stay,
With wisdom and merit well stored,
And welcoming him no more will say,
Lest he feel himself a deal bored.

Man, Burnt Out, Given New Hope at 65 by Generosity of Townspeople

Wood Hill road in West Andover is a combination gravel and mud road little known save to its very few inhabitants and the many young couples who have forsaken the front-room sofa. You can park your car diagonally across the street for hours without having to move it to let traffic go by, for there is no traffic to speak of. Wood Hill road is mostly wood, partly hill and not much road.

Three weeks ago tonight the Andover fire department became acquainted with the road when the stove of Francois Victor Henuset flared up and levelled his humble little abode. Save for some poultry, three quarters and a half dollar was all that he had left and even those coins were melted beyond recognition.

Town welfare agent Arthur Cole sent the coins to Washington through the bank, and in place of the fused metal the government returned $1.25 in red-tape-less speed. And almost as fast as the federal government renewed the money, a number of persons and agencies in Andover started to renew the very discouraged life of a 62-year old man, left destitute and homeless by a faulty stove.

Too self-reliant to ask for aid, his only request was for a lone blanket.

The first night he was given lodging at camp of Mrs. Champion near the pond. But the next night he slept in an out-house that he had built, and it was apparently his intention to stay there during the winter until such time as he could rehabilitate himself. With a bed in the little place one could just barely turn around. The walls were quite porous, and the chances are that he would have frozen if he had slept there during most of our winter nights.

Today Francois Victor Henuset is convinced that the world, part of it at least, is filled with a goodness of a type that demands nothing in return. Faced with hardship that most Andover residents don't realize actually exists in this town, he today is able to say: "I will carry on if only to prove my appreciation to those who have taken me at my word and proved by unbelievable deeds that there are fine minds and hearts around me who do freely without thought of recompense. If has been the surprise of my life. I sincerely hope time will permit me to prove worthy of the confidence so openly expressed by word and deed. On final analysis I have life which is the most important and the inborn ability to accommodate myself to any circumstances and the desire to keep occupied, with health enough to get about nicely. What more could any man ask for at my age? I still have absolute confidence of settling down to business and making the premises presentable."

We went up there Monday because Mr. Henuset had told Arthur Cole that he wanted in some way to express his appreciation for all that had been done and he thought that a newspaper fellow could word it better than he could. But in a little notebook that had been given him, he had written the above statement, and added to it: "I wish to refer to the manner of speech, patience, interest manifested by all, calculated not to embarrass me, and to make me feel welcome and on equal station with them. To me it is magnificent."

And what had been done? The above picture shows in the foreground the ruins of Mr. Henuset's old camp, a lone chimney with the guilty stove beside it, and the badly burned bedframes at the left. At the rear a new camp is being built, with a carpenter putting shingles on. There are two rooms, and the henhouse attached. He was able to save most of his hens from the fire, and he also has a number of ducks. From these he ekes out his living, from them alone he had planned—at the age of 62—to start his life all over again with capital of four fused coins! A person whose home is burnt out, who is left destitute, deserves help; a person who with an indomitable spirit like Mr. Henuset's has the world indebted to him. It owes him help.

Town officials, the Red Cross, friends, Phillips academy students—they all pitched in. Wood Hill road has seen in the past few weeks probably more people than it ordinarily saw in a half-year. And up on Wood Hill road today there is a 62-year-old man made supremely happy, not so much at having a new camp, not so much at being given a new stove, a bed, clothing etc., but at coming to the realization after 62 years of hard knocks that there are people in this greedy old world of ours who would give of their time and effort without expecting a single thing in return. What he may not realize is that the happiness they received in helping him is worth far more than anything else they could expect in return.

To Stage Horse Show Next Week

The girls of the junior and senior high schools have enjoyed a new sport this fall, horseback riding. In order to determine to whom the emblems rightfully belong the girls are having a show on Thursday at the playstead.

There will be four classes: exercises, form, and management, and a boy's group in horsemanship.

Two of the three judges are: Mrs. N. Penrose Hollowell, an excellent horsewoman, expert in both riding and jumping, and Miss Beatrice Tyler. Miss Tyler is a fine horsewoman and has also had the experience of being head riding councillor at a girls' camp this past summer.

The winners will be the ones who have shown the most progress during the fall lessons. There will be about twenty taking part in this event.

A. V. I. S. Notes

The annual meeting of the Village Improvement Society was held Monday evening in the Compass club hall, through the visit of Frank A. Buttrick and Fred C. of York.

The society expressed itself grateful for the interest shown by the members of the society in the editorial last week. They have under advisement by the trust of Russell.

The report of the clerk following the planting of the grounds of the Hall library, directed by Perley and Mrs. Joseph A. Rand, was a project undertaken this year. The planting of trees and shrubs at the corner is designed to enhance the background of the building. Shrubs have been planted near the children's entrance.

The care of the Boulders, the Ledges, Manse Green, Upland Green, the Hussey plot in Shawsheen and throat islands in Shawsheen road, and Hidden road have been cared for as usual. This work has been carried on for so long a period that the neat appearance of these spots in various parts of the town is taken for granted and few people realize that unsightly they would be if it were not for the care of the society under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Boutwell and the committee.

At Roger's Dell, Henry Seabrook supervised the cutting of the brick veneer of Cedar road and Mrs. dumping ground since it is the possession of the society and is being plished a little each year it will present a pleasing appearance to the passers-by.

All the work of the society has been carried on by committees made up of members of the Board of Trustees.

Three meetings of the trustees have been held during the past year with Mrs. Frank T. Carlton presiding.

The members of the A.V.I.S. for the past year follow:

Sometime within the next few days someone will come to your door and ask you for some money. Were they to merely come and say: "May I have some money?" you would probably with perfect justification refuse. But no one who can afford to give any money can justifiably refuse this particular appeal.

For it's the American Red Cross that wants this money. It needs it, needs it badly, to carry on the greatest, most humanitarian work ever undertaken by man, the task of giving aid to unfortunates who through no fault of their own are in danger from disaster of some sort. Just recently an aged man, scraping up a meager living on waste land in West Andover, lost all his belongings including his humble dwelling, in a fire. He had no one of his own to aid him, no one to help him meet this disaster. The Andover Chapter of the Red Cross, with town officials, pitched in and helped him back onto his feet again. Last winter down in a little town called New London in Texas a school blew up, killing many children, maiming others. Anyone who listened to the March of Time after that day of horror will gladly contribute to the Red Cross. The way Red Cross nurses and workers sped to that scene, north, east, south and west is a fine example of the courage of the Red Cross.

The West Andover's massive scale disaster might have happened in Texas, and the school might have happened in Texas. For years we contribute to the Red Cross because through our papers we knew of the suffering being suffered by flood victims in the Mississippi valley. Two years ago we learned how the Red Cross helped people elsewhere in America. You can help us in our work by contributing to us to do our part for unfortunates in other parts of the world.

Andover's quota is $4500. It will be spent for our own town, for work, for first aid, for Christmas baskets, for milk, clothing, groceries, hospitalization. The Red Cross is doing even better than we can describe, and we will gladly

Piedmont Head to Preach Here

President Bellingrath of Piedmont college in Demarest, Ga., will preach at the South church Sunday morning on the Christian life as his experience has taught him. Andover has long had a cordial interest in Piedmont college, the late Rev. Frank R. Shipman at one time having been president of it. Miss Edith Valpey is librarian there now, and Miss Evelyn Hardy was connected with the college for several years.

Annual Red Cross Drive Underway

The Red Cross Roll Call campaign is now under way and the various district teams will canvass their respective sections within the next few days. The names of the captains and their teams are published today so that the people of the town may acquaint themselves with the persons who may contact them. If by chance anyone is not at home when the solicitor calls, the roll call committee would appreciate his calling up his captain or calling headquarters, Andover 1496, and arrangements will be made to collect the contribution.

The quota is $4500 and this means a little harder work on the part of the volunteer teams and also a bit more sacrifice on the part of the contributors. It makes no difference whether one can donate only a few pennies or a few dollars; if all will try to do a little the roll call will be successful.

A moving picture depicting various phases of the flood relief work of last spring will be shown at the Andover Playhouse during the campaign. Posters, window cards, and various attractive forms of advertising may be obtained at the American Legion rooms for anybody so desiring them.

The committee has issued the following statement:

A contribution and a membership in the roll call is a contribution towards the welfare of humanity. Greet your solicitor cordially and give what you can to this worthy cause.

The Andover Chapter would like to inform the people of Andover that our Red Cross nurse, who is employed by us for the entire year, is the only one that is compensated for her work. The entire directorship, all the solicitors, and the nursing committee who gave unsparingly of their time throughout the year, receive absolutely nothing.

The Roll Call workers:

Punchard Climbs into Second Place by Defeating Brookline

Punchard's football team, playing below the par it had established in earlier games this year, won a 13-0 victory over Brookline high last Saturday to bring its season's record to date to seven victories, no defeats and six shut-outs. Captain Mal Lynch had been ill in bed with a cold for two days, but he played the whole game and put on a better exhibition than his presumably healthy teammates. In the line Sanborn was outstanding, both on the offense and the defense.

By virtue of the win over Brookline,

Punchard climbed into a second place tie in Class C.

Lynch was the chief instrument in the first long early-game touchdown march. Receiving a punt on his own ten, he ran it back to the 32. On the next play he carried it to the 48. Walker picked up six and Bisset four, with fifteen yards of the gain being knocked off by a penalty for clipping. Lynch then took to the air, shooting passes to Walker, Miller and Noyes to bring the ball to the Brookline seven-yard line. Mal plunged over.

Fumbles marred the rest of the Punchard offense, especially when within scoring range. The Brookline boys however did not threaten until a Foster to Maguire pass started to click in the last period. Brookline was well on its way to a touchdown via the air route when Bisset intercepted a pass on Punchard's twenty, and behind enough interference to rout a team of elephants, he galloped 80 yards for the touchdown. Walker caught a pass from Lynch for the extra point.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shameklis, formerly of Andover, now of Ludlow, visited at the home of Mrs. Mary Carney, 75 Essex street, Monday and Tuesday.

Andover-Exeter Game Tomorrow

Phillips academy, with an unsatisfactory season's record, will go to Exeter tomorrow to play an Exeter team whose record seems to give Andover the edge. Neither school has a team equal to last year's, but the usual interesting Andover-Exeter battle is assured.

Exeter's starting line-up will average in weight 160 pounds, about eleven pounds less than the Andover average. The backfield stars of a year ago are gone, with Jackson, who scurried all over Brothers' Field in 1936, being a severe loss.

Andover's team, full of potential backfield material, never seemed to click consistently, partly because of a green line. Many of the Andover scores have been made on long runs around the ends or on passes, and the other teams with the exception of Bowdoin have all been able to cross Andover's goalline, playing mainly through the line.

DEFEAT EXETER 1-0

Jim Ryley's traditionally undefeated Phillips academy soccer team won a 1-0 victory over Exeter on Wednesday to chalk up another undefeated season and the eighth victory over Exeter in the ten-game season. The other two games were ties. Hagedorn, German exchange student, scored the goal in the first period.

GOLDEN WEDDING MARKED

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Morrison of Elm street observed their golden wedding anniversary Wednesday. They were married fifty years ago at the Grace church rectory, Lawrence, by Rev. A. H. Amory. A dinner was held Wednesday at the home of Alex M. Morrison in Shawsheen village, in their honor.

ACADEMY LOSES 7-6

NEW PRIMARY SUPT.

Mrs. Peter Black of Shawsheen village has been named the new superintendent of the Free church primary department and has already started on her new duties.

Plans are underway for Thanksgiving and Christmas observances. Children are asked to bring donations of non-perishable food for the Little Wanderer's home in Boston on November 21. Miss Frances Hartmann has charge of the Christmas party plans.

ALLIANCE TO MEET

The Free church Woman's Alliance will meet in the parish house on Thursday with a covered dish luncheon at one o'clock. At 2.30 there will be a devotional service and business meeting to be followed with a book review by Mrs. Dana Clark.

Book Week to Be Held Next Week

The nineteenth annual observance of Book Week will be held next week in schools, book-shops, and libraries, the slogan for the week being: "Reading, the magic highway to adventure."

At the Memorial Hall library the junior room's program for Book Week for the last few years, due to crowded conditions, has been to provide material for the use of teachers at school, rather than a general celebration at the library.

Last year, a "Do You Know?" book game proved to be both popular and instructive, with the result that another was requested for use this year. These questions are distributed to pupils in grades six to nine, and are given as a game rather than a test. After the papers are completed they are sent to the junior room, corrected, averaged, and kept on file to use as a guide in building the individual reading backgrounds of the children. Then a book-list, consisting of titles referred to in the book game, is sent to the teachers, with the suggestion that the pupils read the titles during the school year. In the spring a second "Do You Know?" questionnaire is sent based upon the first one. It is gratifying to note that many of the children take this opportunity to read the books with which they are unfamiliar. When these papers are completed, the answers are read to the pupils, and they correct their own papers. It is expected that with the help of this yearly reading check, the pupils will have an excellent knowledge of outstanding books, upon completing Junior high school. The book game consists of titles taken from the State Certificate Reading List.

This way of celebrating Book Week seems to be a most practical means of observing the week, since it creates an interest in books which continues throughout the year, rather than confined to one week.

A display of children's books will be exhibited in the senior library throughout the week. Parents and friends are cordially invited to take this opportunity to become acquainted with books suitable for Christmas gifts.

Abbot Academy Notes

Members of the Student Government Council at Abbot academy will entertain the student body informally on Saturday evening with a "wiener roast" and a school "sing." Weather permitting, the party will be held on the campus, in the hollow behind the woods.

Rev. Carl Kopf, pastor of the Mt. Vernon church in Boston, will speak at the Vesper service on Sunday at 7.30 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The annual fall field day, famous for fierce contests between the Gargoyle and Griffin rivals, will be held on Monday afternoon, November 15. Finals in basketball, hockey and tennis will be played, marking the end of the fall sport season.

Interesting forerunners of the final games were the match games in hockey and basketball played last Monday and Tuesday afternoons, and won by the Griffins 1-0, and by the Gargoyles 30-28, respectively. The only goal in the hockey game was scored by Sally Sutor of River Forest, Ill. Line-ups for the games were as follows:

Hockey: Gargoyles—Sally Walsh, New York City; Anne Flaherty, Wilmington, Del.; Phyllis Crocker, Cambridge; Beatrice Tyer, Andover; Phyllis England, Malden; Jean Appleby, Asbury Park, N. J.; Susan Wallace, Rye, N. Y.; Mary Howard, Kinderhook, N. Y.; Sally Peck, Derby, Conn.; Norma Forsyth, Lawrence; Betty Moser, Glen Ridge, N. J.; Marion Altreuter, Montclair, N. J. Griffins—Eleanor Martin, West Roxbury; Catherine Flaherty, Wilmington, Del.; Carolyn Cross, Utica, N. Y.; Sally Sutor, River Forest, Ill.; Elise Duncan, Pelham Manor, N. ASSEMBLY HELD

Last Tuesday members of the ninth grade held an assembly, at which films were shown. The first film was entitled "The House of Dreams" which brought out the points that a house at a glance may be good looking but if you look the piping system over you will find that it is not a "House of Dreams."

After the first film was shown the members of the seventh grade came to see the others. The second film was about a rubber plantation and the way rubber is refined and sent to the United States. The last film was on water power.

These films are being shown in connection with the Science and Social Studies classes.—Mary Ring

BOYS' SHUFFLEBOARD

RED CROSS CLUB ELECTS

The Red Cross club held its first meeting Monday. It elected the following officers: Donald Whalen, president; Robert Emmons, secretary. Plans are now being made to draw up the year's program using First Aid as a project.—Leo Ryan

PRESS CLUB ELECTS

The Press club at its meeting Monday elected the following people to office: President, Joseph Payne; secretary, William Beaulieu; managing editor, for Townsman notes, Frederick MacDuffie; and program committee, Harriet Broughton, John Hickok and Thelma Fairweather. Constance Forsythe was appointed to keep a scrapbook of all the Junior High school activities for the year.—Constance Forsythe

RED CROSS ASSEMBLY

Last Wednesday we had one of the finest assemblies of the year. It was a round table discussion of Red Cross activities, in which Mr. Sherman, Miss Anna Kuhn, Miss Marie Campbell, and John Humphries, Stafford Lindsay, Mary Sleeper and Charles Sawyer took part. Miss Campbell's talk on work in Andover was especially interesting. Afterwards we saw moving pictures of the damage done by flood in the United States and the relief given by the Red Cross. These pictures were run off by Billy Rich.—Philip Blake

ARMISTICE DAY PLAY

The eighth grade gave an Armistice Day play Wednesday afternoon during Utility Period. The name of it was "Lest We Forget." This is a story to remind us of the horrors of war and the bravery of those men who have fought in them.

The characters were as follows: Grandmother, Virginia Humphries; Gold Star Mother, Gladys Monroe; Spirit of Abraham Lincoln, Vasco Nunez; Spirit of a German Shoemaker's son, John Sweeney; Spirit of a British Soldier, Robert McDonald; and the announcer, Gerard Twomey. Angelina Thiras read the Armistice Day Proclamation.—Marguerite Goodwin

MAKE COMMUNITY SURVEY

In the Social Studies classes this half year includes study and discussion of problems of American culture; to make it more practical, a community survey of Andover is being carried on at the same time. Five of the ninth grade divisions are making large maps of Andover showing the following: 9CA Public Ways and Buildings, 9CB History, 9B1 Occupations, 9B2 Nationalities and Races, 9B3 Physical Features. These maps will have guide books to go with them, the illustrations for which will be pictures taken by the students on their camera hunts.—Harriet Broughton

TO GIVE IVANHOE

Some of the members of 9CA have chosen as their project the characterizing of a few scenes of the book, "Ivanhoe" by Sir Walter Scott. The characters are under the direction of John Erving, Wright Bolton, Glenna Markert and Mary Ring. The play will be given before the 9CB and 9CA divisions in about two weeks. The characters are as follows: Ivanhoe, Stafford Lindsay; Cedric, Fred Goebel; Athelstane, Karl Harig; Friar Tuck, John Humphries; Lady Rowena, Isabelle Johnson; Rebecca, Julie Barbarien; Black

Knight, Ben Cole; Fangs, the dog, Donald Burns; Isaac, Philip Toohey; Brian de Bois Guilbert, William Beaulieu.—William J. Beaulieu

DANCE FOR RED CROSS

A dance will be held November 19 in the gymnasium. The committee in charge is as follows: Nornie Johnson, Mary Carol O'Connell, Ben Forbes, Fred Rapisardi, Warren Lewis, and Glenna Markert. The proceeds obtained from the refreshments will be forwarded to the Red Cross. The gymnasium will be decorated in the Thanksgiving spirit. Bill Simeone's orchestra will furnish the music.—Helen Carmichael request the Planning Board for a public hearing date to be set by them, on the following article to be inserted in the Warrant for the next annual Town Meeting in order that these lots can be allowed and be built on.

Requests Change in Zoning Law

"To see if the Town will amend Section IX, Paragraph 1, of Article VIII, being the Zoning By-Law, by striking out the words, "10,000 square feet," and inserting in place thereof, the words "8500 square feet," so that said Paragraph 1 shall read as follows:—

Paragraph 1. SIZE OF LOTS. Land subdivided after the adoption of this By-Law shall provide for lot frontages of not less than 75 feet and for lot areas of not less than 8500 square feet."

The literal enforcement of the present By-Laws will involve substantial hardship to the owner if these two lots are not allowed. The sewer, water main and road have been installed by a certified engineer who states their location was necessary.

If the petitioner had cut the lots into small areas of 5000 square feet, more or less, and same was recorded, the Board of Appeals would have to allow them. But instead the petitioner purposely had the lots made larger regardless of more revenue from small lots.

The petitioner regrets exceedingly it is necessary for him to insert the above article in the warrant for the next Annual Town Meeting and sincerely hopes all fair-minded citizens and property owners will see that justice is due him, and that the Zoning By-Laws will be amended.

Yours truly,

FRED E. CHEEVER

Census of Idle to Start Tuesday

Plans are underway for the conduct of the census of the unemployed here in Andover to be conducted under Federal auspices in a nation-wide endeavor to ascertain the actual unemployment in the country, the places of greatest need, etc. On Monday evening the board of selectmen appointed a committee of nine in connection with this work. It includes: Town Clerk George H. Winslow, welfare agent Arthur Cole, postmasters John H. McDonald and Richard O'Brien, James Gillespie representing Tyer Rubber company, William Faulkner representing Marland mills, Needham Brown representing Shawsheen mills, and newspapermen William A. Doherty and Elmer J. Grover.

The mail carriers will deliver the census cards on next Tuesday, and will collect them on the following Saturday. The cards should be filled out by all persons unemployed or partly unemployed, anyone wanting work or more work, those on the W.P.A., N.Y.A., and C.C.C.

Only one card will be left at each house, unless the carrier has reason to believe that there are more than one unemployed in the house. Additional cards may be obtained at the post office.

All information will be treated confidentially, and will be used only statistically to aid in formulating a work program, etc., in Washington.

PARKING CHANGED

Opposition to the proposed prohibition of parking on the north side of Essex street grew to such a point last week that on Friday the signs were changed to the other side. The new rule forbids parking on the south side of the street, save for a ten-minute stop in front of Greeley's Market.

V.F.W., Auxiliary Installs Officers

Edward Dodge was installed as commander of the local V. F. W. post and Mrs. Herbert Kent as president of the V. F. W. auxiliary at a joint ceremony in the Musgrove building last Friday evening. Past commander William Snyder and Past Commander Harold Cates were the installing officers for the post, and Past County President Mrs. Carrie Fitzgerald of Haverhill and Past County President Mrs. Hazel Fellows of Peabody installed for the auxiliary.

Retiring Commander Robert V. Deyermund received a past commander's badge and Mrs. Peter D. Quinn a past president's pin. Bouquets or gifts were presented to Mrs. Quinn, Mrs. Kent, Mrs. James J. Feeney, chairman of the National Home committee which had charge of the raising of $200 for the Massachusetts Cottage, now all paid for, Mrs. William G. Martin, Mrs. Alexander Blamire and the installing officers.

The Post officers: Commander Edward Dodge; senior vice-commander, Frank R. Petty; junior vice-commander, John O'Neill; chaplain, John Henderson; adjutant, Peter D. Quinn; color guards, John Hart and Robert Dutton; officer of the day, Robert V. Deyermund; judge advocate, John M. Erving; quartermaster, Arthur W. Cole; publicity officer and historian, William Snyder; trustees, George A. Abbott, Frank R. Petty and Charles Bowman.

The auxiliary officers: President, Mrs. Herbert Kent; senior vice-president, Mrs. Herbert Fraser; junior vice-president, Mrs. Thomas Brucato; chaplain, Mrs. Paul Simeone; secretary, Mrs. William G. Martin; treasurer, Mrs. Alexander Blamire; guard, Mrs. Daniel F. Porter; conductress, Mrs. John Dowd; color bearers, Mrs. Thomas Taylor, Mrs. William Snyder, Arleen Stubbs and Rita Stubbs.

Free Church Society of Other Years

This is the Free church Ladies' Benevolent society back years and years ago. The picture was taken at an outing held at the J. Newton Coles at Clifton. From various sources we find that the names probably are: Back row: Mrs. David Leslie, Gertrude Jackson (Mrs. David May), Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Hussey (?), Mr. Cole, Mrs. George Lawson, Mrs. Alex Dear, Laura Goff, Mrs. B. Holt Farnham. Third row: Mrs. Georgianna Dole, Mrs. Henry Goff, Mrs. Joseph Soutar, Mrs. Alex Black. Second row: Mrs. Ireland, Mrs. William MacKenzie, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. A. L. Whittemore, Mrs. Joshua Paine. Front row: Mrs. Ramsay, Ethel Clark (Mrs. Honeywell), Mrs. Walter Rhodes, Mrs. David Lindsay.

Make Plans for Play Production

Preparations for the presentation of "The Path to Glory" on Tuesday evening, December 7, were advanced by the Adventurers at the monthly meeting Monday night. Geoffrey Nicoll is accepting associate memberships until November 22, and after that time individual tickets may be secured from Mrs. Frederick Hulme.

Miss Marion Macdonald gave a talk on "Model Making."

Reta Atkinson, Marion Hill and Constance Gregg took part in a one-act play entitled "Wrong Numbers" coached by Edward Weeks.

The first friction matches in the country were made in Chicopee.

"I Always Market Here"

Of course, Mrs. Brown always markets here. She's a typical, modern housewife... smart, thrifty, quality-conscious, and with a genuine pride in her table. She shopped around of course before she decided to buy here, but by comparing our prices and quality with others, there was no alternative but to shop here—because her food budget goes farther here. Try it yourself and notice the difference. You save when you buy here.
