Call Minister to West Church

Rev. Donald H. Savage to Resign at Church at Norton Next Week

Rev. Donald H. Savage, pastor of the Trinitarian Congregational church at Norton for the past five years, will probably tender his resignation at a meeting of that church next week in order to accept a call to the West Parish church, where he will succeed Rev. Newman Matthews, retired. The West Parish and the West church both decided to call him at a special meeting on Monday evening. He preached at the church on Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Savage will be the fourth young pastor to be called to local churches this year. Rev. Herman C. Johnson at the Free church, Rev. Albert C. Morris at Christ church and Rev. Samuel B. Overstreet at the Baptist church are all, with Rev. Mr. Savage, in their early thirties.

Rev. Mr. Matthews moved early in the week to his new home on High Plain road.

The church meeting was held first Monday night, it being called at 7.30 by William A. Trow, moderator. Rev. Mr. Matthews offered prayer. Herbert P. Carter later presided as moderator at the parish meeting.

Rev. Mr. Savage was born in Pottstown, Pa., in 1907. In 1929 he graduated from Wesleyan university, received his master's degree from Boston University in 1931 and graduated from the B.U. school of theology in 1932. He was ordained in 1933. At Wesleyan he made Phi Beta Kappa. Mrs. Savage is a Wheaton graduate, and there is one son, four years old.

The pastoral committee: William A. Trow, chairman; Frederic S. Boutwell and Herbert P. Carter from the church and Mrs. Laurence Wood and Miss Phoebe Noyes from the parish.

CONDUCT SPEED TRAP

In conjunction with the present drive for highway safety during the three most dangerous months of the year, officials from the Registry of Motor Vehicles conducted a trap in Shawsheen village yesterday afternoon. Motorists driving at an excessive speed were clocked by the officials over an eighth of a mile stretch.

Will Speak on 53 Nationalities

The International Institute of Law, of which Miss Fannie E. Davis of this town is president, will have as a speaker on Sunday afternoon at three Miss Alfreda Mosher of the Boston International Institute staff. She will talk on "Adventuring with 53 Nationalities." Those interested are invited to attend.

Miss Mosher is well qualified to speak on this subject not only because of her frequent sojourns in Europe where she studied conditions, but her background fits her particularly for this field of service. Her father was in the consular service and her early girlhood was passed abroad where she became proficient in the language and customs of many people. Her work in this country at the International Institute where she meets people of many nationalities seeking opportunities gives her a practical knowledge that is exceptional.

Present Gift to Retiring Pastor

Rev. Lorentz I. Hansen, retiring pastor of the Baptist church, was presented with a chime clock at the annual roll-call supper held Wednesday night at the vestry. A reception followed the supper and business meeting, with Rev. and Mrs. Hansen and other church officers in the receiving line, which stood before a background of palms. Chrysanthemums decorated the tables.

The clock was presented in an interesting little ceremony by Clifford Dunnells, assisted by Mrs. Colver J. Stone and Perley F. Gilbert.

About 100 were present. The kitchen committee: Mrs. Harry Dennison, Mrs. P. LeRoy Wilson, Mrs. Marion Brown and Mrs. Henry Albers; dining room, Mrs. Madeline Dodge and Mrs. Mabel Otis.

Power Company Making Survey

The Lawrence Gas and Electric company has asked for permission to analyze the central school lighting system, and this request has been granted. The school committee has been considering the possibility of installing a Diesel engine to generate light and power in order to effect a saving.

Announce Speakers for Annual Contest

Principal Nathan C. Hamblin yesterday announced the speakers to take part in the Goldsmith prize speaking on December 17.

They are: Seniors—Mary Bailey, William Hannan. Juniors—Ruth Holt, Samuel Simpson. Sophomores—Joanne O'Riordan, William Ferguson.

Favor Taxpayers' Plan Unanimously

GET YOUR ITEMS IN EARLY
Since next Thursday is a holiday, it will be necessary for those having items for the Townsman to bring them to the office one day earlier than is ordinarily the case. All items so far as possible should be in Tuesday, leaving for Wednesday only those meetings, etc., which occur on Tuesday evening.

Union Service on Thursday Morning

Rev. Newman Matthews, retiring pastor of the West Church, will preach the annual Thanksgiving sermon next Thursday morning at the union services to be held at 9.15 in the South church. At ten at the Christ church there will be a service consisting of holy communion, music and a brief address.

Fireman's Ball Next Wednesday

The annual firemen's entertainment and ball will be held on Wednesday evening in the town hall. At eight the entertainment program will start, and at nine general dancing will follow.

The entertainment will include: Claude and Marion, singing duo; Anne McCarmack, fancy dancer; Wee Willie Dee Co., magic; Robert sisters, singing and dancing; Whirlwind skaters, roller skating.

ALLIANCE MEETING

The Woman's Alliance of the Free church held its regular meeting yesterday with a covered dish luncheon at noon. All sorts of tempting dishes were served by those in charge, Mrs. Whitman, Mrs. Frank Jamieson, Mrs. David May, Mrs. William Crowe, Mrs. James Souter and Mrs. Alex Sheriff.

At the meeting following Miss Clara Baldwin had charge of the devotional exercises and Miss Annabelle Richardson gave a talk on missions in Palestine.

Above are the items being considered by the town departments as special articles or increased expenditures for the next five years as reported by the department heads at the round-table conference held at the invitation of the directors of the Andover Taxpayers' association last Friday night in the lower town hall. Forty town officials and directors were present, and the vote was unanimous that the directors' suggestion of long-term planning for the purpose of avoiding a number of huge appropriations in any one year is a wise one.

One of the principal arguments for the plan of the directors was illustrated by Selectman Howell F. Shepard when in response to a question from library trustee Philip Ripley he said that when the library trustees had to expend in one year an unusually large sum of money to paint the library, the selectmen would arrange to paint the town hall another year. With this kind of co-operation between departments, a large total of heavy expenditures will be eliminated in a single year, and the tax rate will be levelled off over the five year period without going way up one year and back again the next.

"O" to "C" to "O"

That word "SCHOOL" just doesn't want to stay put. Several weeks ago we commented on the fact that it was spelled "SOHOOL" in the big white roadway sign in front of the Andover Garage. On the Friday afternoon that the paper came out Chief Dane sent the painters back to correct the spelling, and they did it by applying dark paint over part of the "O" to make it a "C".

But automobiles evidently like white paint better than they do dark, for today the dark paint has been worn off and the white paint remains, with the result that "SCHOOL" is still "SOHOOL" on Main street.

Official Crime

There's an officer in the Andover police department who deserves an indefinite suspension on two charges.

The first charge is misappropriation of a car, sometimes known as larceny. It seems that on Monday night Ev Collins and Shep were in the police station when a call came in requiring police action. Ev and Shep went off in Shep's car, while the officer hopped into what he thought was the police car. There were three cars outside the station, all the same make and model; two of them were police cars, but not until the officer arrived at Tewksbury did he find that he had stolen Selectman J. Everett Collins' car.

The second reason for suspending the officer is neglect of duty. He failed to arrest himself for larceny.

THANKSGIVING CANTATA

Mauder's "Song of Thanksgiving" will be rendered by the choir of the Free Church at the morning worship on Sunday. Choir director Ernest L. Thornquist will be in charge.

Engagements Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Pettus Vinton Hoyle of New York City have announced the engagement of their daughter, Claire Humphrey Hoyle, to William Harnden Foster, Jr., of Andover.

Miss Hoyle was graduated from Deering high school in Portland, Maine, and is connected with Harper & Brothers, Publishers, of New York City. Mr. Foster is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Harnden Foster. He was graduated from Pynchard high school in 1932 and from Dartmouth college in 1936. He is now connected with Remington Arms company, Inc., of Bridgeport, Conn.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cargill of 52 Stevens street have announced the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Mr. Philip Miles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miles of Portsmouth, N. H.

Obituaries

May Campbell

Her life ebbing away despite all human efforts to save her, little May Campbell, two-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Campbell of Carter's Corner, passed away on Tuesday morning while the fire department ambulance was racing with her to the hospital where an oxygen tent might have grasped the slender thread of her life and restored her to health. Lobar pneumonia was given as the cause of death.

The call for the ambulance was received at 8.03 and Lieutenant Albert Cole raced to the house and back to the hospital. Mrs. Campbell was with the baby when she died.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the late home. Burial was in Spring Grove.

Surviving her are her parents, three sisters, Florence, Ethel and Marion; and two brothers, Maynard and John.

Mrs. Matilda Harwood

Word has been received of the death at Winter Park, Florida, of Mrs. Matilda Harwood, a former resident of Ballardvale. She was prominent in the work of the Union Congregational church and the Vale Improvement society.

Among her survivors is a sister, Mrs. Frank Thomas of Shawsheen village.

William J. Muldowney

William J. Muldowney, former resident of Andover and a brother of John F. Muldowney of this town, passed away Monday at his home in Akron, Ohio. He leaves besides his brother, his wife, Mary; two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith and Mrs. Jennie Holmes of Providence, R. I.

Legion Auxiliary Installs Officers

Mrs. Albert Robinson installed as president of the Legion auxiliary last night by district deputy Miss Bernice Beals.

Others installed were: Senior vice-president, Mrs. Annie Platt; junior vice-president, Mrs. Stafford A. Lindsay; secretary, Mrs. Arthur Jowett; treasurer, Mrs. John Keith; chaplain, Mrs. Joseph Levi; historian, Mrs. William Buchan; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. George Cilley; executive board, Mrs. Frank Borneman, Mrs. Freeman Abbott and Mrs. John Anderson.

Gifts and flowers were presented to the installing officers, the new president, retiring president Mrs. George Cilley, and the treasurer.

Songs were sung by Anna Hennessey and George Levi, with Barbara Terry singing and dancing. Mrs. Daniel Driscoll accompanied the two girls, and Mrs. Joseph Levi played for her son.

William V. Emmons

William V. Emmons, O.D., a former resident of Andover, has recently passed the State Board examination in Optometry and is now practicing in Boston.

A graduate of Pynchard in 1927, Dr. Emmons then entered the accounting profession where he was employed in a brokerage house until 1933 when he matriculated at the Massachusetts School of Optometry, graduating in June, 1936. While in school he was president of the Optometry club, the honor society.

Continuing at the school during the past year, Dr. Emmons has been an instructor in practical optometry as well as being connected with the Massachusetts Optometric clinic as a clinician. He has also served on the staff at the Boston Dispensary in the Orthoptic division of their eye clinic and at several of the Boys clubs of Boston.

At present Dr. Emmons is conducting his practice in the Optometry building, 1112 Boylston street, Boston.

Plan to Present Xmas Pageant

Plans are underway for the presentation of a Christmas pageant in the Free church on Sunday, December 19, at seven o'clock. The pageant will be written and directed by Emmanuel Booth, who has been the director of several pageants in the church.

Advise Early Course Enrollment

A course in preventive medicine to be given by eight or nine different doctors, specialists in their fields, has been planned to be given at Phillips academy this winter on nine Monday evenings at 8.40, commencing January 3, provided a sufficient number of people register for it. This course, one of twelve to be offered in the Andover Evening Study Groups program, has been organized with the help of the State Department of Health, the Harvard University School of Medicine, the Tufts Medical college, and local physicians. With emphasis on the knowledge necessary to the average man and woman to safeguard his health and that of his family, the course should prove of great practical value to the community. It will treat various important aspects of individual and public health, including healthy child development, diseases of the heart and blood stream and respiratory system, nervous and mental diseases, the influence of the glands on health and personality, and diet.

Those registering for "Architecture Past and Present" under Mr. Sawyer, curator of the Addison Gallery of American Art, will study some of the significant examples of architecture of the past and present. Through an analysis of form and structure in great buildings of the ages, it will make clear the principles on which modern architecture is based. It will discuss particularly some of the most challenging phases of the modern experimental architecture which is now in the process of utilizing new materials and adapting them to new ways of living. Slides and photographs will be used extensively for purposes of illustration. This course presents an unusual opportunity of becoming further acquainted with one of the most interesting of all modern developments in the field of art. It will meet on Wednesday evenings at 8.40, beginning January 5.

In view of the considerable number of registrations already received for the various courses, the directors of the Evening Study Groups wish to remind prospective applicants that early enrollment is advisable, especially in those courses in which, because of the nature of the work, the number enrolled must be definitely limited, namely: "Studio Art" (limited to 20), and the two courses in "Effective Speaking" (limited to 25 each).

Rev. Mr. Johnson to Be Installed

Rev. Herman C. Johnson, pastor of the Free church, will be installed on Tuesday evening at a service to be held at the church at 7.30. In the afternoon at 3.30 a council composed of the minister and a lay delegate from each Congregational church in the Andover association will meet for the purpose of examining him, and following this examination the vote on whether or not to install will take place. The delegates will have supper at six.

The council will examine him as to his religious training and theological background. He will then read a paper, and they will ask further questions, after which the vote will take place. If the vote is in favor of installing, a committee will be appointed to wait on him, and he will have the privilege of arranging the evening program.

The evening service will be open to parishioners and the general public. It will consist of organ preludes and postludes, invocation, reading of minutes by the scribe and moderator of the council, anthem by the choir, scripture reading, sermon, short talks by a number of ministers, charge to the pastor, charge to the people, installing prayer, right hand of fellowship, and benediction. A large number of ministers from all over the state will take part in the service.

When "The Flying Wedge" Was in Style

No, that's not Clint Frank with the big "Y" on his sweater. It is William Hardy, who's now down in New Jersey but who thirty-five or so years ago, played the athletic lead in "The Flying Wedge" presented at the town hall. Left to right the characters are: William Bliss (deceased); Elsie Holt, Isabel Haskell Shattuck, Sally Pratt Bryant, William Hardy, Mabel Pearson Miller (deceased), Agnes Gillen Martin and Dana Clark.

Bazaar Group to Meet Tonight

A final meeting of the general committee for the Christ Church bazaar will be held tonight at eight o'clock.

Much interest is being manifest in this event which will take place in the town hall on December 9 and 10. The committee states that Christmas shoppers will do well to save part of their money for purchases at the fair, for all kinds of nice things will be on display. There will be a doll table, handkerchiefs, aprons, jewelry, food, candy, vegetables and fruits, fancy work, and all sorts of pretty gifts from which to select remembrances for the holiday season, and a white elephant table where just the gadget one might want, to fill in a corner or niche, may be purchased.

Supper will be served both nights, and an entertainment will be furnished also. Reginald Wallace is in charge of a ballet by the girls of St. Catherine's Guild, which will be put on each evening, and Mr. Wallace himself will give acrobatic dances and stunts. Some outside talent has also been secured for the festivities and the whole affair is being planned for the public's enjoyment.

Not to Recommend New Town Hall

The present special municipal building committee will probably not recommend a new building, Selectman Roy E. Hardy revealed on last Friday night at the round-table conference of town officials and Taxpayers' directors. There is a chance that additional office space will be secured upstairs in the present hall.

Officials Willing to Co-operate

"We could reduce the municipal building appropriation one year to allow for the painting of the library." This statement made by Selectman Howell F. Shepard at the round-table conference called last week by the directors of the Andover Taxpayers' association sums up the really excellent co-operative spirit shown by all the town officials. One of the town officials mentioned that too often departments are apt to think only of their own needs and forget that the other department may have more urgent needs, but the unanimity which greeted the Taxpayers' proposal showed that at last this interdepartmental selfishness may be on its way out, that the departments will hereafter be working together to accomplish the most urgent things first, regardless of which department the needs come under.

Too often in the past, as Chairman Harvey G. Turner of the finance committee said, the desire of his committee for spreading out extraordinary expenditures was dispelled when a number of departments would all come in in one year to ask for large special appropriations. The result has been that some of the more necessary items have been often passed up in favor of something less necessary. There is a real danger of a very substantial increase in the tax rate if all these special requests go through in one year.

Now, thanks to the officials' willing acceptance of the plan, all these matters will be ironed out before town meeting. The town officials will presumably meet together before they present their special articles for insertion in the warrant, and an agreement will be reached as to which articles should have precedence and which could well be held for another year. The officials have never met together before; they have merely met at their own offices and decided on their own needs, possibly at times adding a few items in the hope that some of the others might not be asking for much that year, or in the suspicion that some of the others too were adding a few on their own.

This co-operation has shown that the officials have the interests of the whole town at heart and not just their own particular department. It

Siftings

A Bay State judge freed a driver who had killed two men, because he was too drunk to know what he was doing. For the benefit of that judge we should have a law to make it illegal for men to drink before they kill people.

The Merrimack river swelled over the week-end because of the heavy rains. Those who had attended football games is up to the public now to help bring the plan to its satisfactory conclusion by voting down non-official items which may upset the plans of the boards, all now carefully laid out for years in advance.

Where Is The Line?

Sometime town, state and federal officials are going to be forced to sit down and decide just where private expenditure should start and where public expenditure should end. The line between the two has been transgressed frequently and is being transgressed more and more when private parties ask for public action on matters that they themselves should take care of. Last Friday Selectman Shepard mentioned that the demands on the police department are increasing yearly, and in the next five years two more men will have to be added. One item he mentioned in particular occupies the attention of one officer during the summer months, and that is going around to check up on houses which are vacated for the summer. A certain number of residents, an increasing number, call the department and ask that this be done for them. Has the line been crossed there? Are the people who stay at home in the summer, as taxpayers, required to provide a watchman for those who go away? The houses should be protected, no doubt, but shouldn't the protection be paid for in this instance by the home-owner? Isn't it like the care of the trees in a person's property? The tree warden does such work, to be sure, but the home-owner pays the town for it. Isn't this one case where a slight fee for summer watchman service should be asked, the total of these fees taking care of the extra officers' salaries?

Possibly this reasoning is all wrong. Possibly the public as a whole will feel that just as much protection should be given these homes as is given banks and business houses. But it is something that should be given very careful thought, along with many other items in connection with the police department, such as just how much should be spent for traffic and how much for protection. All these matters should be studied carefully.

Dr. Fuess Talks at P.T.A. Session

The development of education from its old formal type in which no effort was made to develop a student's thinking powers to today's informal type in which the great aim is to teach the student to think was discussed in a talk on Wednesday evening at the Andover P.T.A. meeting by Dr. Claude M. Fuess.

In talking of what today's education must give the child, the academy headmaster said that the schools must teach the student to grow up to be a good citizen. He must know the language, how to write and speak it, and he must know something of our government, something of science, something of the beauties of nature, etc. Dr. Fuess also favored having every boy and girl learn the rudiments of some trade.

The really important thing, the headmaster concluded, is the teacher, for every dollar spent on teachers brings back a reward one hundred fold.

The association voted to donate five dollars to the Red Cross. A discussion was held on the Junior Programs, with Mrs. E. Dean Walen presenting a report. It is planned to give two programs, one in January and one in February. There was some discussion about changing the grammar school hours.

Alan A. Blackmer spoke briefly on the Academy's adult education program.

Miss Mary Bailey's room won the attendance banner for the second consecutive time.

Census of Idle Ends Tomorrow

The nationwide census of the unemployed will end tomorrow when all cards must be mailed to the post office. The cards were distributed to the homes on Tuesday by the carriers, and up to yesterday some 300 had been returned from unemployed and partly unemployed, mostly the latter.

The post office had to make only about 20 contacts because of errors in the cards, which is an exceptionally high average.

The committee in charge of the local census met on Monday afternoon to discuss the plans. It is imperative, in order to get a true statistical picture of the local unemployment situation, that everyone unemployed or partly unemployed file a card before the deadline tomorrow.

TALK ON PIGEONS

Sheriff Joseph McElroy and Frank Sullivan of Woburn spoke on pigeons last night at the Service club meeting. They had a number of birds on display. The club voted $10 for the Red Cross and $10 for the Christmas seals.

James T. French of the Motor Vehicles Registry spoke on the present safety campaign.

The Wednesday club held a very enjoyable whist party this week at the home of Mrs. D. D. Laurie, 94 North Main street.

Everett Collins has been elected captain of the Punched baseball team for next season.

Ten Years Ago

Miss Anna McCoubrie was removed to the Lawrence General hospital Tuesday morning where she was operated on for appendicitis.

Miss Roxie Smith and Reginald Norton will broadcast over WEEI weekly beginning Saturday, December 10.

Mrs. Harry Noyes has moved from Wolcott avenue to the Caronel Court apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Sullivan and family, formerly of Sheridan street, Lawrence, are living at the Caronel Court apartments.

Mrs. Sarah A. Long was installed as president of the Legion auxiliary last night.

The Andover Business men's club was formed last Wednesday night. Leo F. Daley is president.

Myron H. Clark has resigned as manager of the Tyer Rubber company.

At a ceremony on Wednesday evening Miss Katherine Hickey of Elm street became the bride of Gordon H. McIntosh of 13 Bartlet street. Miss Mae Hickey, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and William J. Young best man.

CLAN AUXILIARY INSPECTION

An official inspection was held last night at the Clan auxiliary meeting, with deputy Jean Lennon from Quincy making an official visitation. A delegation accompanied her from Quincy.

Plans were made for a public whist party to be held after the next meeting, at eight o'clock. Proceeds will be used to defray the expenses of the annual Children's Christmas party.

A short program was enjoyed, consisting of a duet by Mrs. Alex Duke and Mrs. Peter Doherty, and a solo by Mrs. Alfred R. Harris. Supper was served by the Good-of-the-order committee.

Urges Town Generate Electricity

To the Editor of the Townsman:

I read with interest in a recent Townsman the front page article on the subject of the central schools generating their own electricity. The article points out that such a departure would pay for itself in about eleven years. My reaction to this article was prompt because I have for two years back been wondering why the Town of Andover does not generate its own electricity. If the idea is good for the schools, why is it not also good for the town? And if it is good for the town, it follows that the schools ought not to install their own plant, but rather that the town should at once look into the matter of installing its own plant and of supplying the schools from the municipally owned station, with both heat and current.

That there would be a very substantial saving is apparent to me. I have given considerable thought to this matter. There are a sizeable number of towns in the U. S. A. that have their own electric light systems. These systems not only have paid for themselves in remarkably short order, but at the same time have supplied current at much lower rates,—often as low as one-third or one-fourth of the rate previously prevailing. This does not necessarily apply to the situation in Andover. In numerous cases the excess profits from the town plants have been used to greatly reduce real estate taxes. In some instances they have been sufficient to entirely do away with the tax burden. Surely, this matter is worth prompt and careful study. I have already brought it to the attention of some of our selectmen by mailing magazine articles on the subject giving statistics. But now that there is a distinct possibility of our schools installing their own lighting plant, it seems necessary to publicly point out that there are tremendous possibilities in the central municipal plant idea. There is no reason why this should not receive fair and open-minded consideration. It would be a mistake, I believe, for the schools to install a separate system, and especially one that does not also supply heating and current in the same unit. It is a halfway measure when we need a whole way measure. If the study proves that we need any, it will show that a plant that will supply not only the schools, but the entire town as well; and not only the public buildings of the town but all the private homes and industries that may wish to buy their current there.

A diesel plant can only generate current. A steam plant can do that also very economically and with the heat by-product can heat many centrally located buildings. Thus it kills two birds with one stone. Instead of having a heating system plus an electric light plant for the schools and other buildings, the one steam system can combine both functions into one. It should be so located and of sufficient capacity to be able to heat and light the greatest number of public buildings and such private ones as a survey indicates are likely to want to connect up with it.

The present is a very good time for a sound municipality to borrow money for financially self-supporting projects that can justify themselves in real savings. Money rates are low, among the lowest in history. There is no telling how long this favorable condition may continue. Once it passes, the opportunity to borrow as cheaply as is possible now may be long in returning. If the federal government decides to tax tax-exempt municipal bonds in future, this fact alone will make money much dearer to a town like Andover. It will cost the town much more to borrow the same amount of money by issuing taxable bonds than it does now where it can issue tax-exempt bonds. The reason for this is obvious. The tax-exempt feature is valuable and as such is reflected in the lower interest rate that a town will have to pay on its borrowings. Conversely, the ones who buy the tax-exempt bonds get a lower gross return, which they are willing to accept because of the insurance it affords against the vicissitudes of unpredictable tax rates. This seems fair to everybody and a distinct saving to the towns and cities of this country.

May I urge that this matter be given editorial publicity in your paper so that no mistake will be made and so that the citizens of Andover may benefit, as those of other municipalities already have, from reduced current costs and tax relief that are possible results from a scientifically planned, properly financed, intelligently operated, municipally owned power and light plant.

Sincerely,
CORNELIUS A. WOOD

Horse Show Is Very Successful

Andover's first horse show for young people was held yesterday afternoon at the playstead, with the post-show comments giving undeniable evidence that the large crowd attending was convinced that in this case the first should not be the last.

Miss Elinor Houston was awarded an emblem for exercises, Miss Eleanor Rafton for management and Miss Mary Carroll O'Connell for form.

Miss Esther Elliott has been the instructor of the class during the fall course, with Miss Frances Collins supervising.

The judges: Mrs. N. Penrose Hollowell, Jr., Miss Beatrice Tyer and Mr. Jerome W. Cross.

Those taking part: Exercises: Nancy Boyce, Dorothy Glines, Elinor Houston, Barbara Gahn. Management: Maroy Dunn, Mary Elinor, Eleanor Rafton, Janet Batcheller.

Boy's class in Horsemanship: Philip Blake, John Erving, Crosby Hitchcock, Theron Lane, William Rich.

NEW P. A. TRUSTEE

Rt. Rev. Henry W. Hobson, Episcopal Bishop of Southern Ohio, has been chosen a member of the Phillips academy trustees to succeed George B. Case, resigned.

Bishop Hobson graduated from Phillips Academy in 1910 and from Yale in 1914. He had held parishes in Waterbury, Connecticut, and Worcester, Massachusetts when, in 1930, he was made Bishop coadjutor of the diocese of Southern Ohio. He has been Bishop of that diocese since October 13, 1931, and is the youngest Bishop in the Protestant Episcopal Church. During the war he served as Captain and Major of Infantry with the 89th Division. He was twice wounded in the battle of the Argonne, and once gassed, and was awarded the DSC for bravery in action under fire. Bishop Hobson, whose home is in Cincinnati, is also a Trustee of Kenyon College and of Holderness School. He received his D.D. from Kenyon in 1930, and last June Yale also granted him a D.D.

To Widen Road at Wilson's Corner

Of interest to local residents is the announcement from State Senator Frank D. Babcock of Haverhill that he has been assured by the State Department of Public Works that a third lane is to be built in the spring on the road from Wilson's corner to the by-pass.

The Shawsheen river bridge over the Den Rock road will probably be widened too, Senator Babcock states. The widening of Great Pond road along Cochicwick is under consideration.

Circus of Science Coming Here

How music can be broadcast without wires or radio waves is one of the fascinating demonstrations to be performed at "Previews of Progress" Nov. 29 and 30 at the new school auditorium. Flickering neon lights provide the broadcast medium.

A glimpse behind the heretofore barred doors of the research laboratories will be afforded to residents of Andover when the General Motors "Previews of Progress" presents its circus of science at the Memorial auditorium November 29 and 30.

Secrets of the future will be disclosed. Experiments which make one stop and wonder what is in store, even for this generation, will be performed. And probably most surprising of all, the admission to this amazing spectacle is absolutely free.

Ernest L. Foss, science commentator, will make heavy metal rings leap into the air in defiance of the law of gravity. He will fry an egg on top of a newspaper, without the use of heat. He will broadcast music without the use of wires or radio waves, and will enable his audiences to see sound and hear light.

The antics of electricity are as amusing as the trained seals which perform at three ring circuses. Scientific apparatus of all sorts will be put through its paces, providing not only an evening of entertainment but a liberal education in applied science as well.

By arrangement with Henry C. Sanborn, superintendent of schools, special assemblies will be held for students of junior high and high school ages during school hours on Tuesday, November 30. Children under 16 not accompanied by their parents will not be admitted to evening performances.

Free Church Fair Very Successful

Over 300 attended the turkey supper and many more were present at the annual fair held last Friday afternoon and evening by the Free church at the parish house. Patronage at the various tables proved very good, and all were able to report excellent returns on their sales.

The supper committee: Mrs. E. Taber McFarlin, chairman; Mrs. Randolph Perry, Mrs. Floyd Napier, Mrs. Robert V. Deyermond, Mrs. George Murray, Mrs. Frank A. Buttrick and Mrs. James Purcell.

The following trustees assisted with the coffee: David M. May, Frank A. Buttrick, Thomas B. Gorrie and Leslie Christison.

The waitresses were: Misses Margaret McFarlin, Jean MacLeish, Alice Bertram, Emma Stevens, Betty Carmichael, Anne Jamieson, Frances Jamieson, Mary Deyermond, Marjorie Higgins, Isabel Deyermond, Margaret Gordon, Miriam Marr and Margaret Cargill.

Those who assisted at the various tables at the fair were:

Candy, Christian Endeavor: Misses Martha and Bella Thompson, Frances and Ruth Hartmann.

Groceries, young married group: Mrs. Alexander Black, Mrs. Roland Fraser and Mrs. Stanley F. Swanton.

Fruit and vegetables: David Black, chairman; George Thompson, Edmund Sorrie, Miss Doris Anderson, John Gallagher.

Sunday school, jams and jellies: Mrs. Alexander Sheriff and Miss Dorothy Monroe.

Grabs, Cliquote club; Misses Eleanor Gorrie, Dorothy Barnet and Roberta Cilley.

Street Lighting Cost Discussed

Street lighting, mainly the white way standards which have cost the town over $23,000, was one of the subjects discussed last Friday night at the round-table conference of the Taxpayers' association directors and town officials. Walter H. Coleman, chairman of the street lighting committee, was the principal speaker.

Mr. Coleman stated that it has cost over $23,000 more to light from Chapel avenue to the Lawrence line than if the lights were on the usual bracket. "It costs over $2,000 per year to maintain a decoration," he said, adding that he couldn't get the power company to concede anything.

For each light on one of the white way standards the town has to pay an extra charge each year, over the current charge. Henry S. Hopper asked Mr. Coleman who owns the cable and standards, and the latter replied: "The town pays for them, but it will never own them."

Ernest Edwards, also of the street lighting committee, mentioned that over half of the standards were given to the company by the American Woolen company, but the town was still paying for them, there being a slight concession. The town is paying, heavily, Mr. Coleman charged, because of defective workmanship when the cables were laid.

Education Talk at League Meeting

With the president, Mrs. Harold Raf-ton presiding, the League of Women Voters' meeting Tuesday opened with a brief talk by Mr. White, a representative of the Department of Public Safety, in connection with the campaign going on now in Massachusetts. The speaker stated that accidents are classified from the standpoint of both the driver and the pedestrian and requested each one to speak to ten acquaintances in the next ten days of ways and means to prevent acci-dents.

Several leaders spoke of subjects to be carried on in the different departments. Mrs. John S. Barss, leader of the study group, on "America's Stake in the Far East," meeting during February and March, told about the "Neutrality Legis-lation" in regard to aid or shipment of arms to China and requested those inter-ested to join the study group. Miss Helen Chickering announced that her study group will have for its subject "National Reorganization of the Merit Service." First two meetings will be a review of "Civil Service of Massachusetts with reference to Veterans' Preference." The first will be held Monday, November 29, at 2.30 o'clock at Miss Chickering's home, 72 Central street. The second will be an open meeting at the home of Mrs. Horace M. Poynter, 6 School street, the time to be announced later.

Many members took advantage of the opportunity to procure League calendars and almanacs which were displayed by Mrs. Horace M. Poynter.

The highlight of the meeting was a very pleasing presentation of his subject, "State Certification of Teachers with Special Reference to Massachusetts" by Superintendent of Schools Fred E. Pit-kin, of North Andover.

Since Mr. Pitkin is a member of a state-wide committee of the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation, which has been at work on the subject, he was able to speak authoritatively and his remarks were a startling revelation to many of his audi-ence. That Massachusetts is the only one of the forty-eight states not having such a requirement, surprised and shocked many. Attempts have been made to secure same such law, but without success: in 1914-1915, 1919, 1924. No special bill is under consideration now.

As to the need, the study of this com-mittee revealed the following facts: Massachusetts stands far from the top with comparison with other states having such a law; efficiency seems to demand it; protection of the trained teacher demands it.

From this point on the speaker dis-cussed, "State Aid for Education." Under the existing law the cost of education is obtained chiefly from the tax on real estate, 90 percent from this source, and the balance 10 percent from the state treasury.

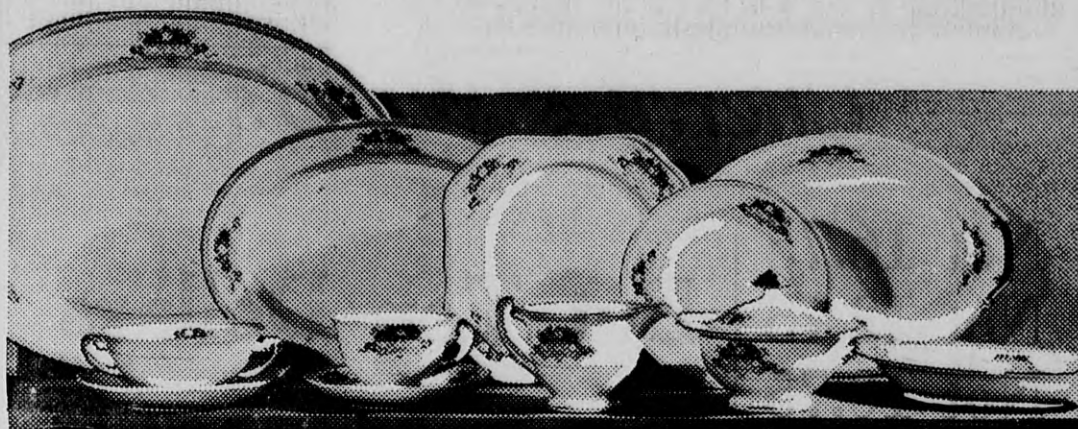

From the speaker's remarks it would seem that some readjustment in obtaining the required revenue is desirable.

Gives Lecture on Chinaware

An interesting lecture on Chinaware was given at the November club meeting on Monday afternoon by Mrs. Richard Cooley of Boston. She traced the develop-ments in the making of pottery from its earliest known date in Egypt, where it was used 4000 years ago, to the present time, explaining the experimental stages through which its production has passed, until finally the perfected process for making the finest of china was reached. Mrs. Cooley brought with her many samples of china from the well-known English factories, some from continental Europe, and some of American make.

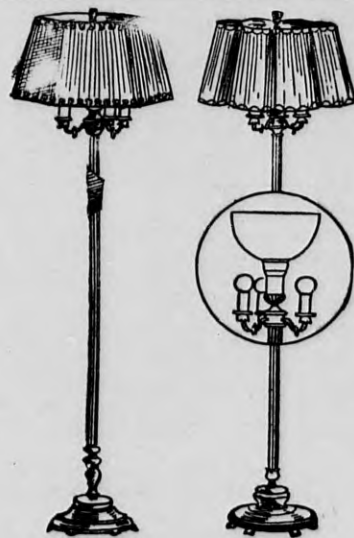

At the social hour which followed the lecture, Mrs. Eben Baldwin and Mrs. William Bevins poured.

No Casualties in Thespian War

Financially, things do not go too well for Margaret McFarlane in the Adventurer's Play, "The Path of Glory," to be staged in Memorial Auditorium, December 7th, at 8:30. She is cast as Baroness Risotto who has converted the Villa Risotto into a Hospital. But of course, she had expected her patriotism to pay. Fifty beds all aired, twelve days of war and not a casualty. Margaret storms the general's office, with, "I must have more casualties. At least half of my beds must be filled by the fifteenth. If I am to do war work, I insist upon doing it thoroughly." Baroness Margaret McFarlane Risotto is sure to please her audience in this role.

The committees on the play follow:
Publicity—Agnes Dugan, Chairman; Mary E. Bailey, Marion MacDonald, Mrs. Minton Warren, Reta Atkinson.

Ticket Chairman, Mrs. Frederick Hulme.

Committee for Play Program Design—Edward Weeks, Chairman; Hildah Lynne, Betty Dix, Mary Winkley, Cecelia Nicoll, Constance Gregg, Evelyn Oliver.

Ushers for Play—Katherine Sawyer, chairman.

Committee on Properties—Betty Dix, chairman; Marion Hill, Margaret McFarlane, Ernest Young, G. Clifford Emmons, Sheila Westgate.

Committee on Costumes—G. Clifford Emmons, Chairman; H. I. Emmons, Gladys Hill, Constance Gregg.

LEGION AUXILIARY NOTES

All those who are contributing to the veterans in the hospital are asked to leave their donations at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Margaret Cilley, 46 High street, sometime Saturday. If it is not possible to leave them there, donors are asked to call 1075-W and they will be called for. The auxiliary will go to the hospital Sunday.

CLUB ELECTS

Mr. Blanchard's Handicraft club has elected their officers as follows: President, James Collins; vice-president, Glenna Draper; secretary, Muriel Fone. Mr. Shute our guest and speaker spoke of club plans.—Muriel Fone

DECLARE DIVIDEND

The Board of Directors of the A. J. H. Experimental company has declared regular monthly dividends of one cent (1c) per share on the Capital Stock of this Corporation, payable in the week of November 15, to stockholders of record.—Florence Nicoll

LIBRARY CLUB ELECTS

For many reasons this is an important week in the history of the Library club. On Monday the club elected these officers: President, Priscilla Proctor; vice-president, Eleanor Rafton; recording secretary, Barbara Pullan; corresponding secretary, Ralph Manning; treasurer, James McMahon; statistician, Fred Rapisardi.

By way of celebrating Book Week the club is arranging for display some twenty five or thirty manuscript leaves of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries, all of them fine examples of the work of the monastic scribes and illuminators in France, Germany, Italy, England, and Flanders. This beautiful exhibit was loaned to Miss Atkinson by the Cleveland School of Art.

Also on display are pages from a number of Holiday House books, illustrating the variety of page arrangements and type which are used.

A third exhibit of real interest to book-lovers is pages showing the steps in book making from author's manuscript to book jacket, given to us by Frederick A. Stokes company.

Many have been the moments of delight experienced by those working for a school library, beginning with the time when Sutton Munro and Reginald Wallace made their plea for support to the newly organized Parent-Teacher association.

Right now we have the biggest cause for rejoicing so far in our history, thanks to the trustees of Memorial Hall library. Each school day Miss Evelyn Robinson of the junior room spends an hour and a half or more in our library. Her special attention is fixed on the cataloguing system—correcting, enlarging, completing it—but everywhere we feel the benefits of her helpfulness and skill. Miss Robinson will be with us two months, working to make our library system as nearly as possible like that of the junior room.

On Friday the Book Week questionnaire will be given in all home rooms.

SOCCER RESULTS

The soccer games are well under way now. Cole's team is in the lead with two wins and a tie. Gilman's team is close with one win and a tie. The other captains are Forbes, Anderson and Rapisardi, who have not won any games.—W. Bolton

BOOK WEEK

The week November 14-20, is National Book Week. The theme of this year's Book Week is "Reading—the Magic Highway to Adventure." Nineteen thirty-seven's Book Week is emphasizing in particular books of imagination like fairy tales rather than serious books and ones of fact.

Book Week dates back all the way from 1919 when it was founded to interest the youth of the nation in good books—not for just the one week in the year but to introduce books to people for fifty-two weeks in the year. If we learn to appreciate good literature when we are young it will help us when we become older to enjoy worthwhile books.—Frederick McDuffie

COMMENDATION CARDS

GIVEN TO PUPILS

On Friday, November 12, the school celebrated Education Week by having a visiting day. Many parents came to visit classes and to enjoy the delicious lunch prepared in the cafeteria. During utility period the guests attended an assembly in the auditorium, at which time commendation cards for good scholarship were given out as follows:

their demands in one year in favor of others.

Philip Ripley, library trustee: heartily in sympathy with it.

Walter Lamont, planning board: idea sound.

Walter Curtis, cemetery trustee, all trustees very much in favor of it.

Mr. Lamont stated during the meeting that he thought the tax rate score board at the last meeting was unfair in that it showed a rate of $30.25 and it had to be reduced a dollar when Town Treasurer

Thaxter Eaton moved to vote an extra $15,000 from free cash to reduce the rate. Town Treasurer Eaton answered that he had to make this motion at the end of the meeting, since it was his policy to move to appropriate a sum sufficient to keep the rate at last year's figure, and that couldn't be done until he knew what the appropriations totalled.

The total direct value in the Merrimack Valley due to 1936 flood damage is estimated at $11,938,000.

Favor Taxpayers' Plan Unanimously

In connection with the above items, Selectman Shepard after speaking of the ever-increasing welfare costs, mentioned that sometime the town should spend $5,000 more to survey the land in the outlying districts, West Parish and Ballardvale, which are the only remaining parts of the town still unsurveyed as far as land is concerned.

Police Increase

The police are continually receiving more and more demands from the public, Mr. Shepard stated, and in the next five years two more men will be needed, he said. The other motor equipment items are routine replacements.

The fire department should have more callmen, and two more permanent men should be added in the next five years, the chairman of the selectmen reported. At times now when the ambulance is out, one of the pieces is left uncovered, which would be a serious situation in case of fire. The new ladder truck would replace the present Stutz, with the motor of which the department has always had trouble and for which it is hard to secure parts. When Chief Emerson retires, a car will be needed for the chief and deputy, the present agreement being that the Chief uses his own car and the town pays for running it. This coming town meeting a new brush fire truck will be asked for.

No unusual expenditures were suggested by William A. Doherty of the school committee and Superintendent Henry C. Sanborn, both of whom analyzed the school budget. Mr. Doherty stated that he thought it was a good idea for the departments to get together in a meeting of this sort, for too often "we see our own department's problems and forget the needs of other departments."

Henry A. Bodwell, spokesman for the Board of Public Works, said his board thought the taxpayers' plan was a very wise one. Budgeting in advance has always been hard, he said, because of the non-official special articles. The Board has a long-range program of work to be done, streets to be reconstructed, sidewalks to go in, water extensions to be laid, and the most necessary items are asked for first, but at town meeting somebody else asks for a water extension which as far as urgency is concerned is well down on the list.

In mentioning the reservoir Mr. Bodwell stated that the present reservoirs will hold at the most a two days' supply of water. It would cost $18,000 for a new low service reservoir, he said, and the board is considering this without having decided on whether or when to ask for it.

$7,000 for New Boilers

The Board will ask in March for a new boiler, a duplicate of the present one, to cost $6-7,000, he said. This is in lieu of the $13,000 request of last year.

Mr. Bodwell mentioned the possibility of the purchase of a snow-loader, at $8,500, to eliminate the huge expense of shovelling away the snow from the Main street after heavy storms. The board has not decided either way on this.

On the two cars which were defeated last March, Mr. Bodwell reported that since the first of January $300 has been spent on one old car and $357 on another. The dump truck is in bad shape, and it is no economy to run this, he said.

The B. P. W. spokesman also mentioned several other possible expenditures listed above, on which the board has made no decision. A considerable sum was spent last year on the old steam roller, he said in recommending a new gas-driven Diesel roller.

Express Opinions

Other expressions of opinion from town officials on the Taxpayers' plan were:

Harvey G. Turner, chairman of finance committee: believes entire committee in hearty sympathy with it; finance committee would like to allocate these expenditures over a number of years, but it has been difficult when two or three departments would all come in in the same year and ask for large sums.

Hugh Bullock, finance committee member: a wonderful scheme; may be necessary for some departments to relinquish

Punchard Meets Methuen Tomorrow

The Punchard-Methuen game, postponed last Saturday because of rain, will be played tomorrow at the Gill avenue field in Methuen. Mal Lynch, Punchard's captain, has been ill, but he has recovered and is expected to play in tomorrow's encounter. Several other members of the local squad have been ill with colds, also, but they are on the mend and will take part in the annual classic. The kick-off is scheduled for two o'clock sharp.

Next Thursday morning at ten o'clock the Johnson high team will journey here to see what they can do against Coach Lovely's lads. The Punchard starting line-up for both these games is necessarily indefinite.

The players and numbers for tomorrow's game are:

Punchard—31, Chandler; 32, W. Anderson; 33, Miller; 34, Dushame; 35, Blamire; 36; Towne; 37, R. Gordon; 38, Howe; 39, G. Brown; 40, Crosby; 51, Lakin; 42, R. Anderson; 44, K. Gordon; 45, Bisset; 46, Walker; 47, McDonald; 48, Jones; 49, Sellars; 50, Captain Lynch; 51, Noyes; 52, Flaherty; 53, Price; 54, Haigh; 55, Sanborn.

Methuen—1, Moran; 2, Morse; 3, Ball; 4, M. Saba; 5, Shuter; 6, Massaschi; 7, Kayworth; 8, Findeisen; 9, Nicholson; 10, Thompson; 11, Larochele; 12, Hewson; 13, Fleming; 14, Dyke; 15, Lewis; 16, Adams; 17, Snow; 18, Barry; 19, Harting.

Win Another Shoestring Victory

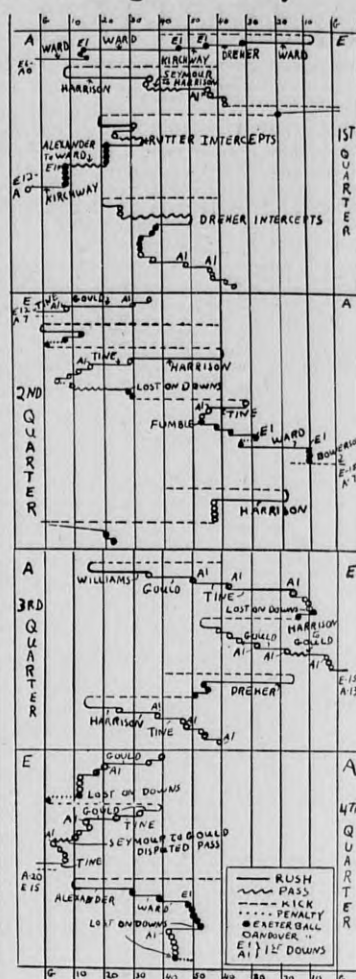

Phillips academy's football team won its second straight victory in a row over Exeter last Saturday by a last-period shoestring catch, 20-15. A year ago Al Hearne managed to scoop up a forward which bounced off an Exeter boy to place Andover in a position to score the winning touchdown. On last Saturday, after waging a dogged up-hill battle, Andover was placed in scoring position when Maurie Gould, promising lower middle, performed a shoestring catch on a pass from Seymour. So close to the ground was the catch that many of the Exonians felt that Gould had caught it on the bounce, but those nearest the play, and apparently the officials too, say that Gould's hands were on the ground and that therefore the ball hadn't hit the ground before he caught it. The chances are that if any boy, Exeter or Andover, hadn't caught the pass in such a situation, he'd tell the officials so.

Andover, going into the game a heavy favorite on the basis of early-season records, was swept off its feet in the first period by a furious Exeter onslaught that piled up a 12-0 lead before Andover could quite decide what it was all about. Exeter received the kick-off and without any apparent bother at all swept down the field in five plays, Ward scoring on a fifteen-yard run on the sixth play. A few minutes later Rutter intercepted an ill-advised Andover pass deep in Andover territory, and soon Kirchway had added six more for Exeter.

Andover was still slightly disorganized, but it finally took possession on its thirty-eight and as the period ended was on its way to make a touchdown. Maurie Gould ran 24 yards to bring it to the six in the second period and then Hal Tine romped over with the first of his three touchdowns. Ted Harrison went in to boot the goal.

Coach Shepard's hasty shaking-up of his backfield probably accounts for the victory, because second call backs Tine and Gould were the largest factors in the win. Both Ted Harrison and Hovey Seymour did excellent work, but Shep split them up and found the team functioning better.

Captain Bowersox' beautiful field goal a few minutes later brought it to 15-7 for Exeter, but the second half showed that Andover was equal to getting the necessary two touchdowns. It played its best ball of the year, pushing relentlessly against the Exeter wall, not making the spectacular long runs of the early season, but chopping off first down after first down with apparent ease on little runs of six yards or so. Their only mistake was when it was fourth down with a yard to go and instead of skirting the ends they tried to plough through the center for the extra yard. Twice they lost the ball on downs, but they came right back with their never-say-die plugging. Tine scored both touchdowns, and Ted Harrison scored one extra point.

The final score came when Hovey Seymour on fourth down tossed a short pass to Gould, who caught it to make first down. The next two plays after the disputed pass saw Exeter shoving the Andover team back from the goal line, but then in a play that was a beauty to behold, Tine skirted right end. Every Andover man did his part on that play, with the blocking being superb.

Jack Lindsay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lindsay, played the whole game at guard. John Murphy, Lawrence boy who was unable to play because of an early-season arm injury, was elected 1938 captain after the game.

HONOR SOCCER COACH

Jim Ryley, Phillips academy soccer coach who has just completed his fourth undefeated season, was presented with a watch chain and pocket knife by the members of his squad at the victory dinner Sunday night. Richard D. Conant of Brookline was elected 1938 captain.

Play 3rd Annual Scoreless Tie

The Andover A. A. and the Ira D. Carty club of North Andover played their third annual scoreless tie on Sunday afternoon at the Andover playstead. The individual star of the game was Dick Lavin of the Cartys who was on the receiving end of no less than six Andover passes. Of the fourteen Andover passes eight were intercepted and five completed. Playing for Andover were R. Deyermund, Lanni, Winters, E. Roberts, Hickingbotham, Barton, Morrissey, Gouck, Tammany, Sorire, Chlebowski, Platt, Gibson, Williams, Poisson, and McDonald.

Abbot Academy Notes

Armistice Day was celebrated at Abbot Academy with a special chapel service, at which Miss Hearsey read a story by Hendrick Van Loon, showing the futility of war, and with the observance of two minutes of silence at 11 o'clock.

Miss Hearsey attended the fall meetings of the Headmistresses Association of the East, held at the Spence School in New York November 12 and 13.

Fall Field Day Held

The Annual Fall Field Day was held on Monday afternoon, November 15. The rival teams, the Gargoyles and the Griffins, together with their respective cheering sections, gathered in the circle immediately after luncheon, and with banners waving and songs resounding, the entire student body and the faculty marched to the athletic grounds to witness closing contests in the various fall sports. The participants and scores were as follows:

Tennis—Singles—won by the Gargoyle 6-2, 6-4, Doris Sawyer, Andover, Gargoyle; Barbara Tudbury, Salem, Griffin. Doubles—first Team Match won by the Gargoyles 6-8, 6-3, 8-6, Sally Cole, North Andover, Jeanne Sawyer, Andover, Gargoyles; Molly Chase, Milton, Constance Abbott, Clinton, Griffins; second Team Match won by the Griffins 6-4, 6-2—Lucy Freeman, Chicago, Mary Toohey, Andover, Gargoyles; Beverly Bridge, Concord, N. To Talk on Manners

On Saturday night of this week Marion Rogers Erskine will speak in Abbot Hall at 7:45 o'clock on the subject "The Importance of Good Manners." Mrs. Erskine has been in residence for the past three years at the Masters School, Dobbs Ferry. The headmistress there said of her, "A vivid, charming personality, a knowledge attained through a wise understanding of her own children and of the students here, a keen sense of humor and a rare ability to convince her audience of the essential value of gracious living, have made her talks a necessary part of our school life." The lecture is open to the public.

Talk On European Situation

On Sunday night, November 21, Mr. Bernard Floud, of the International Student Service, will speak in the chapel at 7:30 o'clock on the subject of the present European situation and youth's relation to it. Mr. Floud is twenty-two years of age, the son of Sir Francis Floud K.C.B., British High Commissioner in Canada. He is a graduate of Wadham College, Oxford University, specializing in modern history. He also studied at the University of Berlin, University of Grenoble, and the University of Toronto. As secretary-general of the International University Federation for the League of Nations, as president of the League of Nations Union and a member of the executive committee of the British Youth Peace Assembly in England, and as a British delegate to the World Youth Congress at Geneva, he holds more important student and youth leadership posts than almost any other young Briton.

The public is cordially invited to attend this lecture.

Rachmaninoff in Exeter Concert

Of interest to Andover music lovers is the announcement that Sergei Rachmaninoff, outstanding figure in the world of music, will give a recital under the auspices of Phillips Exeter academy in Thompson Gymnasium at Exeter, N. H. on Sunday night, December 12th.

Rachmaninoff was born at Onega in the government of Novgorod, and early showed musical ability. At the age of nine, he entered the St. Petersburg Conservatory, to study the piano, but three years later transferred to the Moscow Conservatory, studying first with Tchaikovsky's friend Zvierev and afterwards with Siloti, and taking theory and composition with Tanciev and Arensky. In 1892, he won the gold medal for composition, quitted the conservatory and went on a long concert tour through the cities of Russia. In 1897, after he had already gained fame as a concert pianist and composer, he was appointed conductor of the Moscow "Private Opera." His own one-act opera, "Aleko" had already been produced with success at the Moscow Opera and his piano pieces, songs, large secular choruses and orchestral works were beginning to be recognized far and wide.

An invitation from the London Philharmonic Society to appear in the three-fold capacity of composer, conductor and pianist, afforded Rachmaninoff his first great success outside of Russia, and his performance here established him immediately as no longer a Russian but an international artist. His first symphony was played at a concert of the Royal Philharmonic Society in 1909, Arthur Nikisch conducting. The story of his career since these debuts as composer, pianist and conductor has been one of cumulative success in all three, and when he made his American debut in 1909, he already occupied the very distinguished position he holds today in the music world.

Mormons to Give The Last Gequire

Cornelius A. Wood, local playwright, is still enjoying successes with his play, "The Last Gequire," given here last April by the Concord Players. After reading a great many plays the High Executive Council of the Mormon church at Salt Lake City, Utah, have chosen "The Last Gequire" for one of the four or five plays to be given this winter by church branches throughout the country. It will appear under another name, not as yet determined upon.

The Children's theatre of Duluth, Minn., has chosen Mr. Wood's children's operetta "Peggy Plum" and will produce it in that city during 1938 in conjunction with the Federal Theatre project and P.W.A. orchestra.

On November 16 the Wellesley Players are producing "The Last Gequire" in Wellesley.

BRIDAL SHOWER

Mrs. Jerry Pike, formerly Miss Hetty C. Farnsworth of Elm street was tendered a shower recently at the family home on Elm street by her sister, Miss Betty.

The guest of honor opened her gifts beneath a pink canopy, from the following: Barbara MacLachlen, Isabella Calder, Rita Silvia, Ruth Hartmann, Ruth Albers, Harriet Newman, Irene Dantos, Marion Farnsworth, Betty Croy, Helen Albers, Peggy Nicoll, Kay Jamieson, Evelyn Hurebutt, Mrs. Walter Stuart, Betty Farnsworth, Martha Thompson, Bella Thompson, Gene Farnsworth, Grace Lambert and Frances Hartmann, all of Andover; Mrs. Eva Pelletier and Stephanie Dzioba of Lawrence; Rita Moriarty of Nashua, Mrs. Robert Corey of Needham, Lillian Adams and Beatrice Rogers of Ward Hill and Mrs. Fred Cushin of Torrington, Conn.

During the party, the bride announced her marriage which took place last May.

The groom is Mr. Jerry Chase Pike, son of Patrolman and Mrs. James Pike of Salisbury.

BACKWARDS PARTY

The Sunday evening Free church C.E. service was led this week by Miss Martha Thompson. She chose as her subject, "Christians' Responsibility in the Fight Against Liquor." Following the prayer service, plans were completed by the social committee for a backwards party to be held this evening in the parish house at 7.30.

It was voted to invite the South Congregational C.E. Society of Lawrence to come and also to invite several young people in the church who might be interested in joining the society. Each member of the Free church society is bringing a partner.

All people planning to attend this affair must come dressed backwards. Anyone who is properly dressed will be fined 10 cents.

Two Injured in By-Pass Crash

Two persons were injured Sunday afternoon when the car in which they were riding was allegedly sideswiped by a car on the by-pass, forcing it off the road, turning it over twice and then landing it in a ditch. A Providence man was arrested on a charge of operating to endanger, it being alleged that he cut in too sharply after passing.

A Boston girl received a cut over the right eye and injuries to her shoulder, right hand and right side. The driver, a Belmont man, received a head bruise.

INJURED IN CRASH

Robert V. Deyermund of 91 Elm street sustained head injuries yesterday noon when his car was wrecked in a collision with another car at York and Haverhill streets, Shawsheen village. He was treated and held over night at the Lawrence General hospital for observation.

APPOINT BALL COMMITTEE

The Police Relief association met last night and appointed a committee for the annual ball which will come in February. It includes Sergeants Hickey and Saunders, and Officers Walker, Dobbie and Campbell.

Play Night Held by APC Girls

The A.P.C. Sorority of the South church held its annual play night last evening in the church vestry, and put on three sketches for the enjoyment of the large audience.

The first two were short and snappy, one about a boy who admired a girl and wanted to tell her so but got terribly mixed in his metaphors when coached by his chum. When he ended the embarrassing scene by telling the object of his adoration that her "face would stop a clock," the curtain mercifully was drawn. The second farce was the discovery of the falsity of a high and mighty woman about her position in life, by the woman, formerly her school chum, who had advertised for a housekeeper. The collapse of the first woman's dignity was comical.

The last play on the program was a two act comedy about a young man in difficulties with a chorus girl, his daily squabble with his real sweetheart, a rich uncle who wouldn't leave a cent to his nephew if he had anything to do with a woman who didn't wear "stays," a fussy mother, two well meaning friends and a maid "rescued" from an institution but who still had tendencies toward "kleptomaniac, not thievery, oh no!"

All the parts were well taken and the laughter was continuous especially when the maid appeared.

The participants and coaches deserve much credit for the way in which the entertainment was carried through.

During the evening candy and nuts were sold by Muriel Smalley, Dorothy Abbott, Gloria Carter and Judith Hardy.

NOTICE

Mrs. Grace Blake, staying temporarily at 6 Washington avenue, telephone 1305, is working at present for the benefit of the Andover Guild through magazine subscription solicitation. Mrs. Blake was here last year in the same capacity.

Early American Prints at Gallery

The Addison Gallery is presenting an exhibition of Early American Prints, from November 20 until December 19. It was assembled under the direction of Charles D. Childs of Boston, Director of the Museum of the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities, and a specialist in this field.

During the 18th and early 19th centuries prints took the place of the newspaper photograph and the newsreel of today. Important persons, events, and places were made familiar to every household by engravings. The Pre-Revolutionary and Revolutionary portraits, political prints, and views trace the social and political development of this country.

The prints in this exhibition, although small in number, include some of the rarest and most interesting works of the earliest engravers. Before 1800 engraving and publishing in English-speaking America was confined to a few cities, chiefly Boston, New York, and Philadelphia. Portraits, maps, views, and historical engravings, with lesser work such as bookplates, heraldic devices, currency and the like, occupied the attention of most print-makers, and the era of lithography, cheap and easy print-making and picturing the American scene in its kaleidoscopic variety had not yet arrived. The dearth of early prints, even of many known to have been engraved but not now existing, may be explained by the fact that glass was scarce in the colonies, and that framing, glazing, and protecting prints was not considered as important as it is today. Again, few houses and their contents of colonial times have remained intact through the years.

Do You Know?

Do you remember the books you read when you were a youngster? Why not try yourself out on the following questions, presented this morning to the Junior High pupils under the auspices of the Memorial hall library junior room.

"Fixin's"

Turkey may be the principal item on your Thanksgiving menu but it's the "fixin's" that keep that fine meal in your memory long after the turkey is gone. We have long been noted for carrying the best of these holiday specials and as it is yet too early to establish a turkey price we are quoting special prices on "fixin's."
