Reenters Contest for School Board

Mrs. Angus Drops Plan to Retire—Dr. McTernen, Dr. East, Not to Run

The entire complexion of the school committee three-year-term race was changed Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Annie S. Angus, present member, took out papers for nomination. She had previously expressed a desire to retire, but at the insistence of many friends she re-entered the race. Dr. Harry C. East, who also at the insistence of friends early in the race took out papers but did not circulate them, will not file his papers, it was learned, since he feels it might interfere with his practice. Dr. Malcolm McTernen, who was seriously considering entering the three-year race, stated Wednesday night that he definitely would not take out papers. If he runs for anything, it would be for the one-year term he stated, but he added that the chances were that he would not even enter this race.

Yesterday afternoon the fourth woman candidate, Laura Marland of Bartlett street, took out papers for the three-year term for the school committee.

There was very little other activity in political circles this week. Francis Zecchini of South Main street took out papers for the Board of Public Works, and Thomas D. Taylor of Lowell street is definitely in the tree warden contest. The tax collectorship contest seems to have reached a saturation point, the only activity this week being the confirmation by David Bell of the Townsman's previous statement that the papers he took out probably were for tax collector.

Only one more week remains for filing papers, the deadline being next Friday evening at five.

Invite Pastor to Vale Church

An important meeting of the Union Congregational church pastoral committee was held Sunday afternoon at the home of Steven T. Byington, High street. Rev. Claude Butterfield was present and invited to become pastor of the church.

Hearing Held on Proposed Amendments

A hearing on a number of proposed amendments to the zoning by-law was held last Friday night in the town hall before a small crowd. The principal speakers in addition to Chairman Walter M. Lamont were Herbert Lewis and William F. Barron. The amendments will be incorporated in the warrant.

NAMED RESERVE OFFICER

Joseph O'Brien has been appointed to the police department on the reserve list by the board of selectmen, he having been certified by the civil service commission.

Abbot Alumnae to Meet in Boston

Andover members of the Alumnae anniversary committee: Miss Jane Carpenter, Mrs. William Kurth, Mrs. Charles Sawyer, and Mrs. Reeve Chipman.

Abbot alumnae from all over New England as well as from New York and New Jersey are converging upon Boston next Tuesday evening for what promises to be the largest Abbot academy gathering ever held outside of Andover. Representatives of classes from as far back as 1883 up to last year's graduating class are included in the reservations already received.

The occasion is a dinner at the Hotel Somerset sponsored by the Abbot academy Alumnae Association and the Boston Abbot club in honor of the 110th anniversary of the issuance of the call for the original meeting which resulted in the founding of Abbot academy in 1829. On February 15th, 1828, a notice was posted inviting "those persons who feel favorably disposed towards the establishment of a female high school in the South Parish of Andover" to meet at James Locke's Tavern, the house on Main street now owned by Mrs. Katherine M. Pinckney.

The principal speaker of the evening will be Miss Marion Edwards Park, president of Bryn Mawr college, whose connection with the school traces back to her grandfather, Rev. Edwards A. Park. As a resident of Andover he was greatly interested in Abbot and served as a trustee for half a century in addition to having a wide reputation throughout New England as a theologian and an educator.

Miss Marguerite Hearsey, principal of the school, and Dr. Claude M. Fuess, headmaster of Phillips academy, will also speak. Honorable Channing H. Cox, former governor of Massachusetts, will preside and the Rev. Sidney Lovett, D.D., chaplain of Yale University and trustee of Abbot will act as toastmaster.

Departing from the custom of years standing of having an annual mid-winter luncheon, the alumnae this year are inviting husbands, parents of Abbot girls and other friends of the school to join with them at the dinner. Reservations may be made until Monday noon through the alumnae office at the school, telephone 683-W.

Harvard Club Plans to Give Scholarship

The Harvard club of Andover expects to offer for the academic year, 1938-39, its usual scholarship, an amount presumably in the neighborhood of $400.00 although this sum is not guaranteed necessarily.

The scholarship is open to all residents of Andover and North Andover who expect to enter Harvard college in 1938. Application should be made in writing as soon as possible to G. G. Benedict, Rockwell house, Andover, president of the club. All candidates for this scholarship should announce themselves as candidates for the regular Harvard college freshman scholarships and should write at once to Dean Henry Chauncey, 12 University Hall, Cambridge, for application blanks and instructions.

The Forum String Quartet offers a program of chamber music. These four musicians, individually brilliant, have been playing together for a long time and have been moulded into a harmonious unit that presents the most difficult of classical compositions with spirit and feeling.

Budget Reports Given TPA Heads

Delegate Suggests Savings in Health Items—B.P.W. Cut by Finance Committee

The budgets of the selectmen, school department and the board of health were thoroughly gone over on Tuesday evening at a meeting of the board of directors of the Andover Taxpayers' association. No definite action on the various items has been taken as yet by the directors. Another meeting has been called for next Friday when reports on the Board of Public Works, library and cemetery trustees will be heard.

Dana W. Clark and Edward A. Anderson, representatives of the association at the school department budget meeting, reported that as far as they could see the item of $191,528 was not too high. It represents an increase of $6420, Mr. Clark said, and most of this comes in the pay restoration for the months of January and February. Mr. Clark added that the committee was possibly practicing poor economy in putting off until another year such items as the remodelling of the present unsanitary Bradlee school basement, the cost of which was estimated at $2500.

Various questions were asked on items in the budget. There was some discussion about the necessity of a dental hygienist, whose salary is $1300, and Mr. Clark replied that health was becoming increasingly a school function. Selectman Howell F. Shepard stated that a law was passed last year authorizing towns to spend money for dental work under the selectmen. In answer to a question it was stated that the dental hygiene work had been going on for at least a decade.

The discussion then went on to the expense of some of the newer "frills and fads" in the curriculum, but no definite action was taken, the discussion ending with a suggestion by director E. V. French that it was a problem that required a great deal of intensive study.

Health Board Savings

Sidney P. White, who represented the association at the board of health budget meetings, had a number of suggestions for savings. He stated that the Health nurse item calls for an increase of $75 for a substitute during vacation. Mr. White recommended that $25 be spent through (CONTINUED ON PAGE 9).

Must File Annual Articles by Five

This afternoon at five all articles for insertion in the annual town warrant must be filed with the town clerk. Early indications are that a large number of articles will be inserted.

In addition to those already mentioned in the Townsman previously, an article will be inserted for the sum of $1134.88 for the purchase of a water main on Sutherland street, Shawsheen village, from Leonidas Hamel, who has started a building development there.

This Sober Town

Chats About You and Us and the
Other Folks Here in Andover

POETICAL PIE

"While making observations I through a town chanced to pass
Not very far from Boston, they call Andover, Mass.,
A novel and unique idea soon popped into my head,
That to poetize the business would with interest be read;
So I interviewed the dealers there, to whom I now refer,
And if you peruse this novelty you'll know just who they were!"

This week a reader brought in an old flier which was apparently a rather ingenious advertising scheme. It started with the above poetry, and then had a verse for each merchant who paid the price. The verses weren't too bad, either. For instance, there was: "For wood, coal and hay, to John Cornell you should go; His place is in Carter's Block, his prices are very low." "For a practical hairdresser the people do declare; That there's none in Andover, who with J. M. Bean can compare." "There's the Andover Bakery, which the best of goods does make, And if you patronize it you'll surely take the cake." And so on, through Rea and Abbott's market, Driscoll's, E. Pike's stove store, T. J. Farmer's fish market, Valpey Brothers, Charles H. Shattuck harnesses, J. E. Sears', M. L. Ramsdell, George W. Chandler, Anderson and Bowman, H. McLawlin, J. E. Whiting's and G. C. Lyle's.

We didn't read all the poetry. We just couldn't go on any further after reading: "The breads, pies and pastry are made so light 'tis said, That people often use these goods to light themselves to bed."

Expert on Apes and Men to Speak

Professor E. A. Hooton, of Harvard, author of Apes, Men, and Morons, will speak in the Meeting Room at Phillips Academy at 8:15 tonight. Professor Hooton is known for his biting wit and his satirical comments on the human race, and his recent book has been universally reviewed as a rare combination of learning and humor. He has not set a title for his lecture but says it may be called "The Higher Life of the Lower Primates," or "Our Poor Relations," since it is going to deal with apes, monkeys, and other disputables.

Professor Hooton reports that he began his education by studying Greek and Latin, because they were the most respectable studies. At Oxford, where he was a Rhodes Scholar, one class with Gilbert Murray on Sophocles turned him away from the classics forever, and made him an anthropologist. Discovering, as he says, a latent taste for the ghoulishness of unearthing bones and skulls, he became a professor of anthropology, and has now been at Harvard for 25 years.

Professor Hooton claims that he has been almost nowhere, since it is harder to stay home and get the money for research than to actually go out and "bite the leg of the savage." He says he has received too much publicity lately—most of it abuse—like the reference to him by Mike Gold, a writer in the Daily Worker, who stated that the only things we are hearing about Harvard now-a-days are the record of the football team and the sayings of Professor Hooton. In Mike Gold's opinion both of them are rotten.

The public is cordially invited to attend. There will be no charge for admission.

As the play progresses the audience will have an opportunity to see Hoya, the boy, play the Hopi corn-cob game, a game that Hopi Indian children have played for generations. Also may be seen many of their tribal ceremonies and the masks worn during the rituals.

Numbered among the Broadway cast of the show are Mona Graham, Norman

Laird, Richard Benedict, Hilda Prevo, Mabel Arnold, Mona Segal, Charles Edwards and Aubrey Hymes.

Why a Sales Tax?

"If there is anyone who is not already fully tax conscious it is because he has been taxed into that state of unconsciousness where dreams are still sweet." Thus concluded an editorial in a recent issue of the Banker and Tradesman relative to the proposed sales tax, one of the chief arguments for which was based on the thought that if people had to pay a tax every time they bought something, they'd be more tax-conscious.

Why should people be made tax-conscious? The answer of course is that being tax-conscious they will realize what a high price they are paying for government. And yet if governmental costs weren't so high, there'd be no need for a sales tax, no need for making people tax-conscious. The thing to do instead of trying to eke more revenue out of the already very much overtaxed citizenry is to bring down costs to meet the present income.

There seems an inclination in the mind of the public and certainly in the mind of public officials to regard any function that was done last year as one which must be continued this year without even bothering to question its necessity or its desirability. Sometime we must stop and take stock of what we've been piling up on ourselves by adding function after function, year after year. It's a superstructure that can't hold up forever. Something must be done to eliminate the extravagances and so to better maintain the necessities without proving a strain on industry, mercantile houses and taxpayers in general. We must go below the surface, way below, if we hope to stem the rising tide of taxation.

Official is Private

At five o'clock this afternoon the annual town warrant closes, and indications are that there will be the usual large number of special articles. Shortly everyone in Andover will know what is being asked in the various articles, and possibly will be forming opinions as to the merits or demerits thereof. There is one very easy formula that could be used in determining whether any article should pass. Merely ask yourself this question: "Was this article inserted by a town board or by a private individual, and if the latter, is it a request that the board would have made if it deemed it necessary?" At a fall meeting of the Taxpayers' association directors one member of the Board of Public Works said that privately-sponsored special articles often upset that department's long-range planning, for usually they are appropriations much less needed than those requested by the department. Town boards are in a position to see a given subject such as highway maintenance as a whole, whereas an individual citizen interested in his own particular street will often overlook the fact that some other street needs the appropriation much more than his. So if there is any question on a privately-sponsored article at town meeting, ask the department involved this question: "If we were to give you this money without specifying what street it is to be spent on, would you spend it on this particular street or would you spend it on some other street that needs it more?"

BRITISH AUXILIARY MEETS

The British War Veterans auxiliary met Wednesday evening. The refreshments committee: Mrs. David Wallace, Mrs. Jessie Wynton, Mrs. Annie Thomson, Miss Agnes Stewart, Mrs. Tilbury, Mrs. John White and Mrs. Annie Stewart.

IT LOOKS DIFFERENT FROM THE OTHER SIDE OF THE FENCE

Siftings

Headline in the Phillipian: "Cock Robin' Scenery Being Built at Graves." If we didn't know that Graves is an academy hall, we'd be inclined to think from the last we heard of Cock Robin that graves would be a convenient place to build scenery for him.

Choicest bit in last week's Townsman: "Guests were present from Connecticut, New York and other Bay State communities."

All Hitler wants for Germany, sentenced back in 1918, is a parole. But look what some of the parolees over here do.

Births

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gaudet of 17 Cuba street, February 8.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Johnson of Lincoln street at the Lawrence General hospital Monday.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Allen (Marion Souter) 384 Broadway at the Lawrence General hospital, Wednesday.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis of Park street Tuesday at the O'Donnell sanitarium.

In Memoriam

Mrs. George A. Rowe

God called her and she answered,
To travel the lonely way
But she has only gone ahead,
To greet us all some day.

So let not our hearts be troubled;
We must not think her gone,
For the memory of her dear sweet smile
With us will linger on.

Miss Lawson competed with three other Abbot seniors for the honor of broadcasting at this time. The other essay of this week's program was presented by a student of the Brown and Nichols school.

Mrs. Marion Rogers Erskine will give her second talk of the year on Saturday night when she will speak at 8.00 on the subject "The Art of Orderly Living." Mrs. Erskine made a deep impression when she spoke to the students last November on "The Importance of Good Manners."

Record Promised for Tax Ass'n Membership

The Taxpayers' association membership is continuing to mount, with the most encouraging indication of public interest being the announcement this week that close to 100 new members who had never been on the rolls before had voluntarily joined. Tuesday evening at the directors' meeting Chairman J. Augustus Remington of the membership committee announced plans for a personal follow-up on the few remaining last year members who have failed to renew their membership, and that campaign is already showing marked results. Indications now point to the greatest enrollment in the association's history.

Taxes Catch Up With The Joneses!

NEWS ITEM: Special additional motor levies put the average car-owner in the position of losing the cost of his car through tax payments every four years. While the estimated value of the average car is only $200, motor taxes cost the average driver $50 a year! Of the $50, more than $30 represents cost of duplicating federal and state taxes on gasoline consumed in 40 days of travel. The year-round driver may lose his whole investment through taxes in one year!

DOLLAR DAYS IN LOWELL

February Dollar Days in stores affiliated with the Merchants' Division of the Lowell Chamber of Commerce, are being held today and tomorrow. While these Dollar Days have become recognized as outstanding bargain days of the year, those to be conducted this week have special significance, inasmuch as they will probably be the last opportunity that the shopping public will have for some time to procure unusual offerings.

The current business recession naturally has brought in its wake bargains in personal and home necessities of a character unequalled in recent years. All persons who are connected in any manner with industry or the mercantile business of the country portend rising prices for the next few months. The members of the Merchants' Division of the Chamber of Commerce had in mind the February event for the past several months and whenever the opportunity presented itself to procure merchandise of exceptional value for the Dollar Days, it was immediately contracted for, with the result that exceptional bargains will be offered.

The official orange and black Dollar Day signs will indicate the stores which have especially prepared for the event, and shoppers are urged to patronize them for protection as well as profit.

"What! You want four pairs of trousers with this suit?"

"That's right. You see, I just received a playful St. Bernard as a present."

LEGION AUXILIARY WHIST

Mrs. Arthur Jowett of Binney street held a public bridge party for the benefit of the American Legion auxiliary at her home on Wednesday evening. The following persons received prizes: Mrs. Margaret Cole, Mrs. G. Peters, Mrs. Evelyn Cole, Mrs. A. Hastings, Mrs. M. J. Hill, Mrs. John Keith, Mrs. Lionel Dufor, Mrs. Ethel Robinson, Doris Hilton, Julie Anderson, Mrs. George Davies, Arthur Jowett, Mrs. Daniel Regan, Nathaniel Hill.

CHANGES MIND WHEN FACED BY FINE

Howard Davidson of Cambridge was arrested on January 22 by Carl Stevens after a truck crash in Shawsheen village because he claimed that he was driving one of the trucks. Tuesday he was released in District court because he claimed that he was not driving. He had earlier assumed responsibility because he did not want his employer to know that he was allowing someone else to drive the truck.

Little Eric's uncle came to stay with the boy's family, and Eric had to give up his bed to make room for him. One morning at breakfast uncle remarked:

"I must thank the thoughtful person who put the glass of water by my bed. I found it very refreshing when I woke up during the night."

"Oh!" cried Eric, "have you swallowed my tadpoles an' everything?"

Open House Replaces Washington Ball

The Andover Historical Society will not, this year, hold its time-honored Washington's Birthday Ball. Instead, on the afternoon and evening of February twenty-second, the Society will keep open house for its members and their friends.

There will be special exhibits of portions of the Society's collection, supplemented by important borrowings and while there will be no formal addresses, several experts, local and from out of town, will be on hand to explain and discuss the various objects. Various ladies of the Society will act as hostesses. Light refreshments will be served. The object of the affair is to make members of the Society acquainted with one another and with the details of their collection, the extent and value of which not all members realize.

Budget Reports Given TPA Heads

the Red Cross for this item, thus saving $50.

He stated that an item of $100 is inserted for slaughter inspection, to be spent at $3.00 per head. This amount will probably be turned back to the town in free cash, because for several years past there has been no slaughter, Mr. White reported. "They have, however, been paying $180 for no services rendered," he added.

Chairman Stacey stated last night that there is no item for slaughtering inspector included in this year's budget, the fees if any to be paid out of miscellaneous funds, and that therefore there can be no return to free cash on this account. Mr. Stacey also objected to certain other items in the report, but said there would probably be a statement forthcoming later.

He recommended that the board of health office be moved to the town hall, the selectmen having told him that there was ample space upstairs. This would save the present $240 a year rent, plus $70 for heating and a number of other small items. When asked if $200 could be spent on fixing up an office in the town hall, Selectman Shepard stated that for that sum a sumptuous office could be provided. Mr. White said that the chairman of the board objected to having an upstairs office, but he had checked up and found that Methuen, North Andover and Lawrence have second-floor offices for the health board.

He suggested that at least $50 could be saved in the $350 expenditure for use of the nurse's car, since it travels only about 2500 miles per year, which means 14 cents per mile. He also reported that $156.50 was spent last year on rabies treatment, at 75 cents per head, whereas he secured a price of 50 cents per head from a veterinary who would have to come a much greater distance than the present one.

Bacteria Count Equipment

Going on to the proposed purchase of bacteria count equipment, Mr. White said he had consulted the county agent and Fred H. Smith, director of the county agricultural school, who said that the school could do the work at a very reasonable price. He also added that there will be new bacteria-testing equipment on the market soon at a lower price.

The milk inspector's salary would be increased 10 percent to $220 this year, he said, because the board felt that he should have the cut restoration that other town employees received last year. However, Mr. White said, when the cut was given the town employees the milk inspector was receiving only $75 annually as against the present $200, it having first been increased to $175 and then to $200.

Mr. White, in concluding, expressed appreciation for the splendid co-operation given him by Dr. Walker and Mrs. Johnson during his study.

Old Age Now at Peak

Harold Houston and Henry S. Hopper reported on the board of selectmen's items substantially as Selectman Shepard reported the previous week. Mr. Hopper said that there was an increase of $46,700 over last year, most of this being for welfare purposes and for the town retirement fund. The Old Age assistance account has been changed again to $26,000, and Mr. Shepard reported that this is probably the peak, there being 146 cases at present. Speaking on the public welfare items, Mr. Shepard said that there was some evidence of relief from the unemployment compensation payments by the state, but not as much as the board had hoped for.

The retirement fund will take $12,872, and Taxpayers' president Hammond, member of the retirement board, said that there is no way to reduce it since it is set by the state board on an actuarial basis. Next year it may drop $1150, he said.

Finance Committee Cuts $13,000

Although the Board of Public Works report is not due until next Friday's meeting, there was some discussion, with Eldon E. Stark reporting that the finance committee had effected several changes in the budget totalling $13,000. Reductions included highway maintenance $13,000 down to $10,000; water maintenance down $3000; W.P.A. materials and truck hire down $2,000; hardsurfacing down $5000. The finance committee was opposed to including the $2500 telemeter under the water maintenance budget item. The taxpayers directors' are suggesting that the clause on W.P.A. materials: "that this item be made a permanent part of the budget" be stricken out, and also that the type and use of the three automobiles requested be specified rather than lumped together.

A general meeting of the Taxpayers' association is planned for Wednesday, March 9th, at the town hall at which time the results of all the fact-finding investigations, etc., of the directors will be presented to the association. Much more time is being spent by the directors this year than ever before on the regular budgetary items, in an endeavor to eliminate waste if any.

Many An Andover Home Was Painted from This Shop

This week's old-time picture shows a place that we know of with characters that we don't know. It's the old paint-shop which stood on Essex street just below the M. T. Walsh plumbing shop, more recently the Colonial Theatre. We'd be glad to hear from anyone who recognizes the photogenic quintet above. The teachers in the Punchard faculty of 1903 pictured last week were: Top row, William

J. Henderson, Mary J. Hodgdon, Adelaide Perkins, S. Hale Baker. Bottom row, Frances Eleanor Brooks (Mrs. Gutterston), Grace Burt (Mrs. J. Edgar Park), Alice A. Brown.

Sports on the Hill

Phillips academy athletes showed up very well last Saturday, but the pity of it was that they were Phillips academy graduate alumni. Frank DiClementi's pupils for instance scored 57 points, but Andover lost to Yale fresh 34 to 31, the pupils who did most of the damage being Joe Zilly, John Cobb and Ray Anderson of last year's Andover team. They scored 26 points of Yale's 34. Then down in the pool Coach Roscoe Dake had the same trouble with his graduate pupils: Mahoney, Heywood and Metcalf. Mahoney took five points for Yale by showing how well Mr. Dake had taught him to dive, Heywood added three in the freestyle, and Metcalf clipped two-fifths of a second off the pool breaststroke record that he set last year as a student.

Coach Carlson was worried about the Milton wrestling team before the meet, but if it hadn't been for an academy default in the unlimited class poor Milton wouldn't have scored a point against the Carlson grapplers. Hockey on Saturday and Wednesday was taboo because of poor ice. Ray Shepard's tracksters took New Hampshire fresh 43-20 Saturday and his Jayvees' defeated Lawrence high Wednesday by 35-33.

Tomorrow will be an off-day in Andover, with the Harvard fresh track meet the only locally-scheduled event. The main event will be the annual hockey game which Exeter is favored to win at the Arena in the early evening; basketball and wrestling will be played at Harvard fresh and swimming at Worcester, and if the weatherman will favor George Sanborn's landlubber skiers, they'll take part in the interscholastic meet at Ashburnham. Wednesday the basketball team will go to Worcester, the fencing team to Harvard fresh and the swimming team will meet Huntington here.

MEET METHUEN TONIGHT

Tonight the Punchard boys will journey to Methuen to meet the Methuen high school squad at 7. Next Monday afternoon Punchard will meet Johnson high at Johnson, Wednesday the local outfit will meet the Andover J.V.'s at the academy, and next Friday evening Tewksbury will come here to play. On the following Monday, February 21, Punchard will play Central Catholic away in the last game of the Punchard scheduled season.

PUNCHARD WINS 42-7

Punchard high's quintet overwhelmed the Lawrence Central Catholic high team Monday afternoon, 42 to 7. The Punchard seconds beat the Central Catholic seconds 41 to 9. Bissett, Walker, Bishop, MacLaughlin and Noyes starred for the local outfits.

JOHNSON WINS 10-5

Last Saturday morning the Punchard Independents lost to a sextet from Johnson high, 10-5, at the Brooks school rink. Bailey Lenane, Ken Gordon and Walter Lindsay, each scored one point for the Independents and Herbert Muller scored two. The Independents will play the Andover J.V.'s at the academy rink in the near future.

HOLD DANCE AND PENNY SOCIAL

Two events were held by the Young Ladies' sodality of St. Augustine's church at the parochial school hall this week, a mid-winter dance Wednesday evening and a penny social last night. The dance committee: Josephine Hurley, Mary McNulty, Flora Raidy, Alice Small, Helen Beer, Marian Connolly, Mary Darby, Marcelle Poisson, Agnes Carter, Gladys Small, Mary Doherty and Margaret Reilly. The penny social committee: Mary Doherty, Hannah Collins, Margaret Carroll, Christine Sullivan, Mary Harkin, Margaret McCarthy and Catherine Leahy.

New Acquisitions at Local Gallery

A new painting and a new sculpture have just been added to the Addison Gallery collection. In the case of the painting, it is not only a new acquisition but also a very recent work by Waldo Peirce, a graduate of Phillips academy, who had a one-man show at the Gallery last spring.

The picture, purchased by the Gallery is not unlike "Haircut by the Sea" which was shown here and later purchased by the Metropolitan. "Haircut by the Sea," showing Peirce's young wife trying to cope with her twin boys against a simple background of sea and sky, was larger and more monumental in design. "The Birches" is more intimate and has a more elaborate composition. The mother, dressing a little girl on her lap, is seated in a grove of birch trees, the slightly angular lines of the figures harmonize with the interlaced pattern of the birch trees and the figure of Waldo Peirce himself in the distance sketching, with his dog by his side, adds depth to the composition. The subject and the painting of it, with its fresh color, suggest all the pleasures of summer on a sunny day by a softly sparkling Maine sea.

The new sculpture is by John Flanagan, a Massachusetts artist trained in Minnesota; it also has for subject a mother holding her child and is called "Monkey and Young." It is carved directly out of a roughly triangular block of unpolished granite, and seems almost to grow out of the natural formation of the stone. The watchfulness and the aloof melancholy characteristic of little monkeys are well expressed by the huddled group with its simple lines, and the lightly carved little hands and faces, so startlingly life-like.

They provided a complete picture of the every-day life of circus folk from early morning until late at night, including arrival in a town, unpacking and unloading of vans, setting up of tents and apparatus, performing, etc.

Tea was served after the pictures, with Miss Ella Pennington and Mrs. John L. Phillips pouring.

HAVERHILL DOLLAR DAYS

The Retail Trade Division of the Haverhill Chamber of Commerce announces February 18 and 19 as the dates for the mid-winter Dollar Days in Haverhill. Nearly eighty Haverhill merchants have been preparing for many weeks for this event and are offering values to make this the outstanding sales event in years. With indications of ideal weather conditions prevailing and exceptionally good road conditions, many shoppers are planning to come to Haverhill for this event.

The official Dollar Days stores will be recognized by the orange and black pennants in their windows. Shoppers will find it possible to purchase winter merchandise and new spring merchandise at most attractive prices, as the merchants have solicited the cooperation of the manufacturers in order to secure valuable merchandise at exceptional savings. Hundreds of dollars worth of gifts will be given away to the holders of the lucky coupons, and these coupons will be obtainable at all official Dollar Days stores. Much interest is manifest in this feature, and it is expected that there will be a large demand for coupons.

Through the cooperation of Marshal Lynch of the Haverhill Police department, shoppers may park their cars as long as necessary except near hydrants, in bus stops, on cross walks or other restricted areas.
