Man Injured; Cattle Burned

John Marudzinski of River road was injured early Thursday morning at a fire which destroyed a barn, seven cows and twenty tons of hay belonging to Albert Hardy of River road. Marudzinski had awakened the family and then rushed over to attempt to save the cows. The family found him lying by the side of the barn later. He was rushed to the General hospital. Yesterday noon it had not yet been determined what had happened to him, since he was still unconscious. He was not on the danger list, however.

Chief Emerson stated that he thought defective wiring was the cause of the blaze, damage from which he estimated at $4-5,000 partly covered by insurance. The department was summoned by a call from the Lawrence phone exchange at 1.30, but when it arrived at the farm the barn was beyond saving. At 5.45 the department returned. The reflection from the fire lit up the sky and was visible miles away.

A brush fire in the woods near the Country club house was extinguished Tuesday afternoon by the fire department.

Wednesday morning box 74 brought the department to a fire in a henhouse at the rear of the home of William Corliss on Osgood road. Hot ashes which ignited dry grass is believed to have been the cause. The damage was slight, since the owner attached no value to the property.

P.T.A. to Sponsor Projector Party

On Tuesday evening, March 29, at eight o'clock, in the memorial gymnasium, the Andover Parent-Teacher association will sponsor a card-party. The proceeds are to be used to purchase equipment for a projector which will enable the children in all the various schools to have the privileges of practical classroom work. This also includes a fund for films.

Tickets for the card-party may be secured from Miss Barrett, at the Stowe school, Mrs. James Eaton or Mrs. Harold Houston. Mrs. Howard Sawyer is general chairman and she has several active committees assisting her.

Refreshments will be served and prizes awarded at each table.

FAN EXHIBIT WEDNESDAY

Over 150 fans from all corners of the globe will be on display next Wednesday at the Baptist church vestry, with the entire proceeds going to church work. The exhibition will continue from three to four. Mrs. C. P. Smith of Methuen, the exhibitor, collects fans as a hobby.

Admission will be 25 cents for adults, 15 cents for children.

BRIDGE PARTY HELD

A bridge party was held last night at the Square and Compass club, with a large group in attendance. The committee: Carl Elander, Charles Foster and Philip Graham.

Tax Collector Cheever Retires

"Can you give me a figure on printing the poll tax and excise tax bills for this year? I've got to get them right out."

When you've been 19 years on a job, and you only have two weeks left, the ordinary person doesn't get all excited about getting bills out in a hurry. Bill Cheever had worked for the town as tax collector a total of 987 weeks, and that usually entitles you to take it easy on the 988th and 989th, but not so Bill. And maybe that's why he was unbeatable in his many campaigns for public office.

Bill will be 78 on June 29. That's a respectable old age to be working for the town in such an important position. By the time you get to be 65 or so, you're expected to start slipping, but Tuesday morning town treasurer Thaxter Eaton gave us some figures which showed that in Andover's population class Bill Cheever had the fourth best record for collection of 1937 taxes.

Bill had been working in T. A. Holt's store for 35 years when John W. Bell.

Tax Rate to Be Close to $30.00

Largest Meeting in History Goes Below Budgets Recommended

A tax rate conservatively estimated at $30.60 will result from last Monday night's town meeting action in approving expenditures totalling $660,571.41. Town treasurer Thaxter Eaton stated at the close of the meeting that the rate might be as low as $30.50 or as high as $32.00 depending on how close the estimate of receipts, valuation, etc. proves to be. If receipts from the income tax come in higher than the selectmen now dare to expect, there is still a possibility that the rate might be brought down closer to $30.

Of the total appropriations $628,875.66 is for the regular budgets and $36,695.75 for special articles. The town meeting refused sanction to several items approved by the finance committee, including the brush fire truck, the two Elm street jobs, and the High street sidewalk. All the regular budget totals were adopted as recommended by the finance committee, with the following small exceptions: state aid, up $210 to $450; town report, up $1.00 to $651; Interest, down $300 to $14200; school board, up $57 to $189,160; public welfare, up $5,000 to $27,000. The snow removal appropriation, which the board asked to be raised to $20,000 from $15,000 was left at the latter figure. In every other instance the finance committee was followed.

Salary Cut Doomed

After Edward P. Hall was elected to the Cornell fund trustees, the meeting went into finances, with entire approval of the elective officials' salaries at 1937 rates spelling the doom of any attempted salary cuts later in the meeting. The first few items went through quickly, with the

Cast Sick; Put Off Huck Finn

"Huckleberry Finn," play which was to have been presented by the students of the Junior high school yesterday afternoon and this evening, has been postponed because of illness of three members of the cast.

Due to the emergency the play will instead be presented on Wednesday afternoon and Thursday evening of the coming week.

GIRLS' FRIENDLY SOCIETY PLANS ANNUAL PLAY

The Girls' Friendly society of Christ church have started rehearsals for their annual play, to be presented after Easter.

The play, a comedy in three acts, entitled "Take a Chance," is being coached by Miss Laura Marland of Bartlet street.

School Committee Re-elects Officers

Frederick C. Smith was re-elected chairman and Elmer J. Grover secretary at the annual organization meeting of the school committee Tuesday night. The two new members, Mrs. A. Graham Baldwin and Mrs. George Musk, were present for the first time.

At the close of the meeting Chairman Smith announced his appointment of sub-committees for the coming year. Mrs. Baldwin was appointed to the finance and advisory committee, along with Mr. Smith and Mr. Erving, and Mrs. Musk was named to the buildings and grounds committee with William A. Doherty and Arthur R. Lewis. Mr. Grover, formerly on buildings and grounds, was shifted to the teachers' sub-committee in the position held formerly by Dr. Stowers, retired. Mr. Smith, Mr. Doherty and Mrs. Angus are respective chairmen.

Robinson Company Station to Open

The J. W. Robinson company, long well-known in the automobile field, will open its new show-rooms and service station on Park street tomorrow. For several months the company has been making extensive changes in the shop formerly occupied by the Buchan Furniture company. The public is invited to inspect the new shop tomorrow.

The old furniture show-room has been changed into a modern automobile show-room, with large plate-glass windows replacing the previous small panes, thus allowing a better view of the Dodges and Plymouths that the concern will feature. A comfortable waiting-room is being provided, and there will be a sales office. Arthur Parent is in charge of the sales department.

The entire rear of the building has been made over, with the first floor being used as a service shop and the second as a storehouse for new and used cars. The old vertical supports have been removed and trusses substituted thus allowing a floor devoid of obstacles. Entrance will be from Park street and exit at the rear. The floor is now a concrete-like composition instead of the old wood floor, and the previously unfinished walls have been lathed and covered with fireproofed plaster. A new sprinkler system was installed and a complete new heating system, with three large blowers circulating the heated air. A special ramp was built at the rear on which to run the cars up to the second floor.

In the service shop there is a stock room containing all replacement parts not only for Dodge, Plymouth, DeSoto and Chrysler but also for all other makes of cars. A complete selection of special tools qualifies the station for work of all kinds. A washstand and a lubritorium are other features, and the equipment includes Weiderhoff Engine analysers to eliminate guess-work. Albert Walker will be service foreman.

CHOOSE COACH LOVELY AS LEAGUE PRESIDENT

Coach Eugene V. Lovely of Punchard high was elected president of the 1938 Merrimack Valley Suburban baseball league at a meeting held Tuesday at the Lowell Y.M.C.A.

Attending the meeting with Mr. Lovely was Joseph B. Doherty of the high school faculty.

Economy Keynote of Board Session

Numerous budgetary matters were taken up at the opening meeting of the school board Tuesday evening, with the members in general expressing a strong feeling that every economy should be practiced this year in an endeavor to turn back a balance to free cash this year and to reduce the budget request next year.

Superintendent Sanborn reported that he had already undertaken a study of the transportation problem based on a suggestion made an earlier meeting that the present large sums paid for this item might be reduced by the substitution of a new bus route combining work now done by the street railway and the railroad at a heavy charge. Mr. Sanborn said that his preliminary study showed that there would be a definite saving here. He expects to make a definite recommendation for the next meeting.

Action taken at a previous meeting to dispense with noon-day caretaking of children was rescinded, but an amendment putting a definite stop to this feature at the end of the school year was approved. This will represent an annual saving of $900.

The study of the electricity costs is continuing, and the Lawrence Gas and Electric company has agreed to install a demand chart for a year in an effort to see if the system is receiving the most favorable rate.

It was decided to secure bids on fuel for the coming year, co-operating with the other departments. Chairman Shepard of the selectmen was notified of the action on Tuesday evening and he stated that he would get in touch with the Board of Public Works.

Five teachers whose salaries were not restored to the normal scale last year since they were not on tenure were granted the restoration.

The committee spent considerable time discussing the loud-speaking equipment and the ventilating system in the auditorium, neither of which were satisfactory at town meeting.

Mr. Sanborn reported that the cafeteria in short-month February showed a profit of $67, the net loss for the school year being $21.

Mr. Erving reported on a reflector arrangement which it is claimed will save considerable electricity.

Abbot Committee in Meeting Today

Members of the Andover local committee for the campaign to raise the Abbot Second Century Fund met this morning at the home of Mrs. William W. Kurth, Aberfoyle, Shawsheen village. Mrs. Kurth is national alumnae chairman for the campaign which has as its objective the raising of $150,000 from alumnae and friends of the school. This money is to be used to provide memorials for Miss Bailey and Miss Means, former principals of the school, and for Miss Chickering who taught for many years until her death last summer.

Mrs. Annie Smart Angus is chairman for the Andover community and Mrs. Southworth Cowden is vice-chairman. Plans were discussed for securing the contributions of all alumnae and friends of the school in Andover. It is the plan of the executive committee of the campaign to complete the alumnae solicitation in this vicinity by the end of March and reports of progress are to be made at that time.

Members of the Andover committee are: Mrs. Eugene Bernardin, Miss Sarah Bodwell, Miss Jane Carpenter, Mrs. Philip Churchill, Mrs. James L. Dean, Mrs. James H. Eaton, Mrs. Ruth L. Hammond, Miss Alice C. Jenkins, Miss Edith Kendall, Mrs. Arnold Graham, Jr., Mrs. Bartlett Mercer, Mrs. George H. Musk, Mrs. Henry G. Tyer, Mrs. Clarence S. Waugh. Members of the North Andover committee are: Mrs. Charles D. McDuffie, Mrs. Fritz Ostherr, Mrs. Roland H. Sherman, Mrs. Ames Stevens and Mrs. Alvah H. Weaver.

Dies as Result of Train Accident

Henry J. Riley of River street, Ballardvale, passed away at the Wentworth hospital at Dover, N. H., last Saturday evening, two days after he had fallen while alighting from a train at Rockingham junction on his way to do spare work as a railroad telegrapher. He sustained a fractured skull, and an injury to his right arm which necessitated amputation.

Mr. Riley was born in the Vale 63 years ago, the son of John Riley and Rose Gibney. He was employed by the railroad for 40 years, most of the time as a baggage-master and more recently as a spare telegrapher.

He leaves a brother, Laurence F. Riley of Andover, and three sisters, Mary, Catherine and Rose, all of the Vale.

A high mass of requiem was offered in St. Joseph's church Tuesday morning, burial following in the St. Augustine's cemetery.

Legion to Show Baseball Picture

"Batter Up," a Legion junior motion picture on baseball, is to be presented without admission charge at the Memorial auditorium on Monday evening, April 4, by the American Legion. An official of the Red Sox is expected to be present.

A luncheon is to be served the 1937 Junior Legion baseball team in the cafeteria prior to the picture.

The school board decided Tuesday evening to grant the Legion the use of the auditorium and cafeteria without charge, it being the first time this has been done. It was felt that since it was a Memorial auditorium, the veterans had a right to use it.

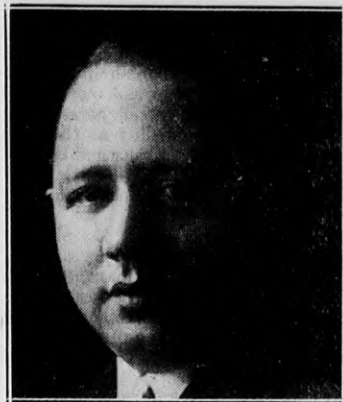

MARSHAL VOSE TO ADDRESS POLICE

The Police Relief association is planning a social to be held Thursday evening, April 14, in the Legion rooms. It is expected that Marshal Vose of Lawrence will speak. A luncheon will be served. The committee: Leonard Saunders, Carl Stevens and George Waldie.

This Sober Town Meeting

A "Little Hitler" and a "Big Hitler," both in one town!

You who left early were told about "Little Hitler" but if you had stayed until the meeting adjourned at 11.30 you would have seen the "Big Hitler" in action. Selectman Howell F-for-Fuehrer Shepard was referred to in the fire truck debate as the "Little Hitler" by Matty Burns whose own Hitlerish ambitions with the so-called Truck Drivers' association ran aground last week when a plebiscite failed to confirm him as the Reichsfuehrer. Shep however proved that he was no Hitler by taking the castigation with a grin and not following it up with a purge.

But the real excitement came later in the evening when "Big Hitler" arrived. When the town's leading Republican passes over the gavel to the town's leading Democrat, something is bound to happen, and it did. Fred Butler had to leave for Washington, and so he bestowed the gavel on Judge Joe Hargedon, who decided that the meeting had already lasted too long. The first couple of articles dealt with appropriations, but after that Joe developed full steam ahead and it took a lot of lung-power to halt him. He'd read an article, not wait for a motion, and merely say: "Those in favor say 'aye,' those opposed 'no,' 'sa vote!'" Prospect hill road was changed, absentee voting was granted, the report of the municipal buildings committee was accepted, and the sales tax was opposed. Or was it?

Sailed Through Sales Tax

By this time Joe just couldn't be stopped. He was going in high, and was already reading the next article when the shouts became so loud that he couldn't even hear himself. Carleton Kimball was up protesting just as loud as he could, and finally Joe heard him. Carleton said he wanted to speak on the sales tax, and Joe told him that the sales tax article had been passed and since he wasn't on his feet it was too late now. Mr. Kimball said he was on his feet. Fred Cheney was up clamoring to be heard and Ernest Edwards was also demanding that the meeting go a little slower. And a hundred other voices were all shouting at once. Finally Joe shifted from third to reverse and granted the request that there be discussion of the sales tax. Mr. Kimball spoke for such a tax, and then Fred Cheney started in on it. Fred gave the arguments for, and then proceeded to start on the articles against, with shouts of "California Here We Come" drowning out Fred's explanation of how the tax was working in Missouri and Alabama. Finally Joe banged down the gavel, and said: "The gentleman is entitled to the floor and to quiet." And then in a real loud aside: "You asked for it; now you've got it!"

But finally the motion went through: Joe said it did anyway. The fish regulation motion was thrown out, the two parcels of land were approved for eminent domain proceedings, Thaxter disposed of the free cash, and the town reports were accepted. Finally Ralph Emerson asked that he be allowed to present a resolution, and Joe said: "It's getting too late, Ralph. Motion has been made and seconded to adjourn: allinfavorsayaye,allopposedno,'savote!"

But although those fifteen minutes reached a peak in town meeting bedlam that hasn't been seen here for years, the rest of the town meeting was not without its moments of humor. The "Phantom Voice" was of course one of the highlights of the evening until it became so highlight that it was put out. That microphone system—well, the school committee checked up on it after it was all over and found that the system had been tested carefully at five o'clock and had been found in perfect working order. It was all set for voice, but when the thunder started overhead, it was found that someone had switched the system to "music"—if you can call it that. This was cleared up, and then the only one that seemed to be able to make it work was the phantom in the anteroom. Some say the speakers were at fault. To use the mikes you're supposed to be very close to them, since they're not the supersensitive type used in radio stations. But after Monday night we think it takes more than that, and maybe even prayer wouldn't help.

Just Whistle

Early in the evening a new method of attracting attention was used by Bob Deyermond, who in a communication in today's Townsman praises the town meeting's privilege of free speech but who called to the moderator five times on one occasion and finally had to whistle to get the floor on another.

The zoning law skirmish, while in general pretty dry, had a few touches of humor. Knowing Fred Cheever we don't think there was any malice aforthought in his action in placing the big plan of the disputed development up in such a way that Roy E. Hardy could see nothing but the back of it. Later in the discussion Fred Butler was able again to put in his remark about "Wisconsin town meetings," a phrase which depicts the particular type of informal meeting where the chair is out of the discussion and where as in this one Matty Burns merely leaned on the stage and chatted away with Jim Eastham.

Alex Blamire also added to the humor of the evening with his talk on the conditions in the floods caused by the Shawsheen drain. "We get it in front, we get it in the rear, and we get it in the sides," he said in near Ancient Mariner style. Earlier he had told of the flood's subsiding, at which time he noticed "bottles hanging from the trees." He didn't say what kind of bottles they were, but all that drainage comes from the cow pastures above, so they were probably milk bottles.

Just as a suggestion for next town meeting: Bromo-Seltzer, Anacin or aspirin are all pretty good, but it'll take a day for it to wear off anyway.

Wheaton Club to Display Fashions

The fashion show sponsored by the Merrimack Valley Wheaton club, to be held on Friday evening, March 25, at eight o'clock, in the Memorial gymnasium, will be presented in three pantomimed scenes written and directed by Mrs. John M. Birdsall. The setting will be that of a garden terrace. Members of the club will model the gowns of Mrs. Carter of Haverhill and the hats of Miss Tewksbury of Lawrence.

The fashion show will be followed by bridge, with individual table prizes, and refreshments. Tickets are 50 cents and may be obtained from Mrs. Cleveland Gilcreast, chairman, or other club members.

Comps When Handlebars Were in Vogue

There have been many changes in the Andover Press since the above picture was taken. New equipment has of course been added, and the presses, shown in the rear, are now all located downstairs. But the most pronounced of all the changes is in the personnel, for today there is not a single handle-bar physiognomy in the plant.

only interruption being Taxpayers' President Edmond E. Hammond's plea for rigid economy. When it came to town officers, John F. O'Connell suggested a ten percent cut, or $2197 off. He said he was not one to advocate a cut in wages, but he felt the meeting should cut the appropriations and leave the rest up to the town officials. William F. Barron pointed out that since the elective officials' salaries had already been established the only way to cut would be to slash the clerks. Matthew Burns brought up the assessors' survey again, but selectman Howell F. Shepard presented a defense of it and Robert V. Deyermond supported him.

On a standing vote Mr. O'Connell's amendment was defeated 501 to 373.

After a motion to cut the moth department to $4000 by Ralph T. Berry had been defeated, Mr. O'Connell again made another ten percent cut suggestion on the police appropriation, but it failed of support.

Cut Snow Removal

The only other question under the regular budgets came on snow removal, the motion for which included $4000 for equipment if needed. When Mitchell Johnson asked what kind of equipment this was, Mr. Bodwell told of the Austin 77, familiarly known as the "Iron Mike." The town has been buying this on a rental basis for several years, he said, and there is $2200 due on it. Theodore Waddell state director of accounts, however, has ruled the rental arrangement illegal, and Mr. Bodwell suggested that the town would either have to pay the $2200 or sacrifice the money already spent. An amendment by Mr. Hammond cutting the appropriation to $15,000 was passed.

The $695 moth sprayer was approved, with Matthew Burns amending it to $300 and being supported by Ralph Berry who said that a $300 machine will do the work. Harvey Turner for the finance committee stated that the machine was necessary.

Fire Truck Out

Mr. O'Connell asked that the fire truck be transferred to the next town meeting, and Charles B. Roberts called for a halt on expenditures, comparing town spending to household spending. Matthew Burns moved indefinite postponement after stating that last year's truck was bought so that the ladder truck could stay in the station and this year's truck so that last year's could stay. The motion carried, with the selectmen making no attempt to push the purchase.

The B.P.W. superintendent's car, defeated last year, went down again, but Mr. Hammond moved reconsideration and the purchase was approved, with the other two B.P.W. vehicles requested.

On hard surfacing gravel roads Ralph W. Emerson spoke and asked indefinite postponement. Mr. Turner and Mr. Bodwell spoke for it, as did Paul L'Antigua, and the project was approved. John F. O'Connell's motion to indefinitely postpone the Elm street work carried over the objection of Mr. Yeaton, an Elm street resident.

A question as to the meaning of the clause on the W.P.A. material article: "and establish this item as part of the regular budget," evoked comment from Mr. Emerson, Mr. Bodwell, C. Carleton Kimball, and Matthew Burns, with selectman Shepard finally clarifying the situation by amending by adding: "until the regular town meeting of 1939." The clause gives the board a right to buy W.P.A. material in January and February of next year, while the Shepard amendment prevents W.P.A. from being a fixture in the budget.

The school committee withdrew its generating-plant article, since it still has the problem under consideration. The three privately-installed water mains were purchased.

Cheever By-Law Passed

The zoning by-laws took up the most time of any other matter that came before the town meeting, with the planning board's amendments finally being thrown out and the Cheever amendment being passed, reducing lot acreage to 8500 feet from 10000. Much time was wasted in discussing which article should be treated first, while all the time most of the speakers were discussing both together. Speaking for Mr. Cheever were Judge Frederic N. Chandler, attorney Joseph L. Burns, Mr. Roberts, Roger Lewis, William F. Barron, Judge Joseph Hargedon, and Matthew Burns. For the planning board were Roy E. Hardy, Henry Bodwell, and attorney James Eastham. The planning board's amendments fell short of a majority on a vote that required two-thirds, while Mr. Cheever's amendment passed 442 to 92.

Railroad avenue was accepted as a town street, after chairman Shepard urged consideration of the acceptance and Tyer Rubber Treasurer Wallace Brimer told of the work that had been done there and the large amount of through traffic on the street.

All the water extensions were defeated, with Dean B. Hudgins and Frederick J. Kearny speaking for them. Mr. Turner suggested a committee to bring the B.P.W.'s 1926 plan up-to-date, but finally the whole matter was laid on the table.

Recreation Study

Mrs. E. Dean Walen, petitioner for $500 for skating facilities, withdrew the article, and substituted therefor a motion providing for a study of a coordina-program of recreation for the town. It read: "I move that the Moderator be authorized to appoint a committee to give early consideration of Coordinated Recreation for Andover, this committee to include the present chairman of the Poms pond committee and the playground committee. The committee to make an immediate study of skating facilities in Andover." The motion passed.

At this point Moderator Butler turned over the gavel to Judge Hargedon, since he had to leave for Washington. The bacteria count article was indefinitely postponed on motion of Mr. Hammond, and the Shawsheen diverting drain was approved for $4500, with Charles B. Roberts and Alex Blamire speaking for it. Of the remaining articles only the fish regulation was defeated, with the sales tax occasioning the only comment. On this C. Carleton Kimball spoke for such a tax as a relief to real estate, and Fred G. Cheney argued against it. The meeting went on record against such a tax.

Plans Progress for "The Mikado"

Plans are well under way for the big theatrical event of the season, "The Mikado," in the Free church. Since the performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pinafore" played during the term of Robert V. Deyermund as school superintendent, many attempts have been made to bring another of these celebrated operas so lovers of amateur theatricals in the Free church. Owing to the great task involved, the committee were unable to secure anyone who was willing to undertake the weeks of labor necessary to put one of these musical comedies over the top. However, Mrs. William Edwards, a lover of dramatic art, and a very efficient coach both in amateur and professional circles, was secured to assist Mrs. Allison Morse who so successfully directed "Pinafore," in 1935.

Those who have attended the rehearsals and auditions, have been enthusiastic and warm in their praise of the patience and skill employed by these two directors, and the committee have been complimented on their wise judgment. Auditions were given to secure the best possible talent in the school and the directors have chosen the following for the leading roles: The Mikado, William Taylor; Nanki Poo, John Hickok; Yum Yum, Constance Forsythe; Ko Ko, Ralph Manning; Pitti Sing, Isabel Dobbie; Pooh Bah, Joseph Payne; Peep Bo, Gladys Deyermund; Pish Tush, Richard Christison.

A few more are needed to swell the large chorus, and anyone interested is asked to come to the rehearsals.

Two performances will be given, one on Wednesday evening, April 6 at 7.45, and the other on Friday evening April 8, at 7.45. Tickets will go on sale this week, and can be secured from Superintendent Mrs. Leslie Christison and Treasurer George Keith.

Tax Collector Cheever Retires

collector, died, and the following March at the suggestion of John N. Cole, he ran for tax collector, leading the field then and ever since. He made many friends in a position in which there is a grand opportunity to make enemies, and yet he got results. Not too easy nor yet too severe, he was willing to grant extensions to anyone who he felt would pay, cracking down only on the few who were deliberately dilatory.

Last summer he took sick, and he hasn't been well since, but he kept on with the job. Now he plans to rest at home; no travelling, no sight-seeing—just a much-needed rest.

Missionary Rally Held Yesterday

Those who attended the 19th Inter-Church Missionary Rally at the South church yesterday found the rooms downstairs transformed into harbinger of spring. Pussywillows and forsythia were massed together here and there; a large French bouquet graced the platform; the tables in the dining room were decorated with small pots of begonia. The rain might be driving against the windowpanes; indoors it was festive and friendly. Miss Madeleine Hewes presided, introducing the various speakers.

The roll call of churches presented to the eye seven Andover ministers, six of whom are new to this locality, Rev. Frederick B. Noss being their dean. In a brief speech each of these men voiced what he hoped to accomplish in his parish.

"The good minister is one who is a friend to the people, in God's name; he is a counselor rather than a policeman," said Rev. Herman C. Johnson of the Free church. "He must be a psychiatrist rather than a doctor."

"Our first duty is the educating of our youth," said Rev. Albert C. Morris of Christ church. "We must do away with spiritual illiteracy. Christ said, 'Feed my lambs.'"

Rev. Samuel Overstreet of the Baptist church urged that all the churches cooperate, lest we perish.

"We co-operate; we do not compete," said Rev. Donald H. Savage of the West Parish. He has high hopes for the future of the Lenten study-group of young people in his church.

Arriving in Ballardvale only on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Claude Butterfield was indeed the youngest pastor present. He stressed the fellowship of Christian churches. He hopes to build up interest among the men of his congregation.

The South church host, Rev. Frederick Noss, feels that pastoral work is of increasing importance. The coming of all this new life into the Andover churches has reacted favorably upon them all. Together, the clergy can make Andover a church-going town.

Vacation at Phillips academy excused that institution from the roll call. Abbot academy was represented by its teacher of Bible, Rev. Winthrop H. Richardson, who spoke on the religious attitude of the girls in his classes. They object to what he called Churchianity, not to Christianity. They see clearly that there is no conflict between science and religion. Their attitude inspires one with hope.

Howell F. Shepard, chairman of the board of selectmen, made a brief but very illuminating report on welfare work in Andover. $6800 is the appropriation for Mothers' Aid where there are dependent children under sixteen. Andover spends $48,000 for Old Age Assistance, fifty percent of which is contributed by the Federal Government. $3000 goes to Veterans' Relief, $27,000 to Public Welfare. The town stands the entire burden of this last item. A big problem of morals and morale is involved in public welfare.

Mrs. Myron Clark, of the Congregational State Education committee, gave the women in the audience some practical hints as to programs and methods for the Women's Unions.

Talks On Japanese

Mrs. John L. Deering, formerly of Yokohama, spoke for half an hour on the Background of Japan, explaining the present Japanese by their antecedents. Theirs is the oldest dynasty in the world, 2595 years old; therefore they obey the Emperor implicitly. For military and naval greatness, for the science of medicine, they have turned to different teachers in the West, becoming one of the five great world powers. Japanese women have been emancipated.

Music was furnished by Miss Susan Ripley, violin, and Mrs. Donald H. Savage, piano, after which Mrs. Arba J. Marsh of Lawrence led the devotional service.

Following the luncheon period there was, first, a group of songs by John K. Hill; then two speakers, Dr. W. A. Petzoldt, for 35 years missionary to the Crow Indians of Montana; and Miss Jeannie L. Jillson, ex-Near Eastern missionary.

Dr. Petzoldt tears through his subject like a March freshet. In 1903, the Crows lived on an open reservation, in tepees and tents, sans furniture. Small babies were raised in papoose boards. Now the reservation is open, having graded roads. But the American Indian is the same, both childish and childlike. Working for the Indians he has always found romantic.

Miss Jillson based her remarks on two different verses in the Bible: "An open door and no man shall shut it"; and "Go forward." Turkey, modernizing industrially, needs to give its youth spiritual knowledge. Its youth does not understand Victory through Defeat. But its Christian educated youth are doing a splendid piece of summer work in isolated rural communities.

The following chairmen and assistants put on the Inter-Church Rally.

ON HONOR ROLL

Edmond E. Hammond, Jr., has won a place on the first honor roll at Phillips academy for the past term, it was announced yesterday. He is a lower middler. Andover boys winning places on the second honor roll were John A. Lindsay, a senior; John A. Rogge, a senior; and Lawrence H. Bixby, Jr., an upper middler.

Social Conference Next Tuesday

The speaker at the morning session of the District Conference of Social Work to be held on Tuesday, March 22, at Phillips academy will be Alfred F. Whitman, executive secretary of the Children's Aid association in Boston. Mr. Whitman with Mrs. Edith M. H. Baylor and George T. Swartzott of the Children's Aid association and Dr. Reynold A. Jensen of the Judge Baker Guidance Center will present at a staff conference the story of a child who was cared for by the Children's Aid association. In dramatic form will be shown the methods which are used in the care and treatment of children who need special attention. After the presentation the accomplishments and methods of work will be carefully scrutinized and evaluated. An opportunity will be given for the audience to discuss the results.

Mr. Whitman is a nationally-known child welfare expert and has had a very practical experience as the head of one of the largest child placing agencies in Massachusetts. He is a member of the executive committee of the Child Welfare League of America and serves on many national and state child welfare committees.

At the luncheon session at 1.00 p.m. at the Phillips Inn, Miss Ida M. Cannon, chief of social service at the Massachusetts General hospital, will speak on the topic, "Goals of Social Service."

The afternoon session will resolve itself into a "town meeting" with Fred E. Pitkin, superintendent of schools of North Andover as moderator.

The "warrant" for the town meeting lists eight questions for action or expression of opinion by the Conference. They are as follows:

Article 1—To see what measures should be taken to improve public understanding of the objectives and methods of social service.

Article 2—To see whether anything should be done to include in councils of social agencies or in district conferences a broader representation of persons who are not engaged in professional social work.

Article 3—To see whether or not the State Conference should sponsor legislation requiring agents of boards of public welfare in towns to be under civil service.

Article 4—To see whether or not the State Conference should engage in a legislative program, and if it should, what the general scope of the program should be.

Article 5—To see in what ways, if any, the social work of churches should be developed.

Article 6—To see what action, if any, social workers should take in regard to questions of labor and industry.

Article 7—To see whether the board of public welfare and private welfare agencies should make written agreements as to the kinds of cases which each agency should accept.

Article 8—To see how far youth agencies should adopt a joint program with case working agencies for the prevention and treatment of delinquency.

It is expected that local speakers will engage in a lively discussion upon some of these questions which are of interest to the district and to the entire state.

The success of the district conferences which were held last year in ten districts of the state has led the executive committee of the Massachusetts Conference of Social Work to continue them this year for the purpose of strengthening and supporting the work of local social service and public health agencies and developing a united front among social workers.

Social workers, members of boards of directors of social agencies, public health nurses and persons interested in public and private social work will come from Lowell, Lawrence and the rest of Merrimack Valley to attend this conference. The meetings are open to all who are interested in social service.

SENIOR CLASS PREPARES TO PRESENT PLAY

The senior class of Pynchard high school will present "Twelfth Night" a Shakespearean comedy under the direction of Mervin Stevens on Friday evening, April 1st at eight o'clock in the Memorial auditorium.

Alfred Miller will be seen in the role of Antonio, a sea captain. Antonio is a warm-hearted, hot-headed sailor, ready to take an enemy's life in fair fight or to lose his own in friendship's behalf. Alfred is enjoying his part and gives excellent promise of a role well executed.

Coach Addresses

Andover P. T. A.

James Holland of Winthrop, coach of football, track and baseball at Mechanics Arts High school of Boston, gave a very interesting talk on "The Boy and His Activities" at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher association Wednesday night. School committeeman Herbert P. Carter, a colleague of Mr. Holland's at Mechanics Arts, introduced the speaker.

Mr. Holland emphasized in his talk his feeling that there are "no such things as athletic scholarships." A good boy in athletics wants to go to college, he said, and a good college wants good athletes. The boy has to pass mental examinations. The school gives him work, and pays him for services rendered, and the boy pays the treasurer of the college for tuition.

The teacher-coach he said is a "second dad," with the boys placing a lot of faith in him and benefitting by his exemplary character. He spoke of the value of training, mentioning that where in other countries guns and bombs predominate, over here our youth indulges in friendly encounters on the field of sport.

Football develops courage, confidence for later life, the ability to take it on the chin and say nothing, the speaker said.

Scoutorama to Be Held Next Week

On Monday and Tuesday evenings the people of Andover and neighboring towns will have an opportunity to see some of the accomplishments of the Boy Scouts. The North Essex Council of Boy Scouts is giving a Scoutorama at the Recreation center, Hampshire street, Lawrence on those evenings from 7.30 to 9.30.

Thirty to forty booths will be run by the boys who will be doing and making things that they have learned about in scouting. Of especial interest will be a showing of the difference between summer and winter camping. Cooking, forestry, Indian lore, first aid, and safety will be demonstrated. High flyers will be interested in the aviation, bird study, and poultry booths. Several handicraft and hobby projects will be in operation, such as leather, metal and wood working; photography and radio. The Press club will be in full swing. The older boys plan to put on a troop's ship program while the little boys will be represented by a booth on cubbing.

Three door prizes will be awarded each night. Tickets are only 25c and may be obtained at the door.
