To Name Health Board Member

Selectmen and Two Health Board Members to Meet Monday Evening

The members of the board of selectmen and the two remaining members of the Board of Health, Franklin H. Stacey and George Brown, will meet on Monday evening at 7.30 to choose a successor to the late Dr. W. Dacre Walker on the Board of Health.

The state law does not require that a town board of health have a doctor as a member, although there is such a statute for city boards. There is a possibility however that the group Monday evening will choose someone from the medical field.

Dramatic Club to Install Officers

The Alpha Dramatic club of the Baptist church meet Saturday night at 6.30 in the church vestry for supper and the annual installation of officers. Participants in the club's recent play will be invited guests, as well as Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Overstreet. Following the supper Mr. Overstreet will install the officers, after which the club will enjoy a moving picture entertainment. The new officers are: President, James Dodge; vice-president, Esther Stocks; secretary, Joyce Hansen; treasurer, Helen Goff; chairman of social committee, Mrs. Arthur Smith, Jr.

Andover District Women to Meet

The annual meeting of the Woman's department of the Andover District will be held at North Chelmsford Thursday, May 5, with sessions at 10.30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The speakers will be Rev. Horace G. Robson on "China," Dr. Hugh Vernon White on "India," and Prof. Charles H. McConnell on "Rural America." Mrs. E. Grabill will conduct the devotional service.

Dinner will be served by the ladies of the church.

Saltonstall to Oppose Butler

County Commissioner Fred Butler found his first opposition for the Republican gubernatorial nomination this week in the person of Leverett Saltonstall, unsuccessful candidate for lieutenant-governor two years ago. John W. Haigis, who ran for governor two years ago, has not as yet made an announcement, but will on June 1.

It was Mr. Butler who two years ago as chairman of the Republican state convention helped straighten out the deadlock between the Haigis and Saltonstall forces for the nomination for governor.

Garden Club Plans Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Andover Garden club will be held at the Log Cabin in the game sanctuary, off Highland road, belonging to Phillips academy, on Tuesday, May 3, at 11.00 o'clock a.m.

A plant sale will be carried on before and after the business meeting and everyone is requested to bring one or more things to be sold. This is a fine opportunity to help the club from one's own surplus and to add to one's own garden through purchases.

A box luncheon is to be enjoyed at the noon hour, dessert and coffee to be furnished by the hospitality committee.

The date for the flower show which is being planned has been set for May 24 from 2 to 8 o'clock p.m. The place—the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Johnson, 47 Central street.

Further details will be given later.

Essex Selectmen Elect Officers

Albert Wadleigh of Merrimac was elected president of the Essex County selectmen's association at the annual meeting held last Saturday evening at Phillips Inn. Roy E. Hardy of this town was named to the executive committee.

Chairman Howell F. Shepard gave the address of welcome. Axel E. Zetterman delivered the greetings of the State Selectmen's association, and Rep. Edward D. Sirois of Lawrence, erstwhile candidate for Congress, was the principal speaker.

Other officers elected were: vice-president, Samuel Conary of Wenham; secretary, Harry Cole of Boxford; treasurer, Roy H. Lane of Rockport; executive committee, Albert Elwell of West Newbury; Roy Hardy, George Tilton of Topsfield; Philip C. Wilson of Nahant, Theodore S. Burnham of Essex, and George H. Williams of Danvers; member of state committee, Harry Foster of North Andover.

The nominating committee included: Messrs. Wadleigh, Tilton, Foster, Conary, Cole and William Pearson of Newbury.

Women Voters' Annual Meeting

Academy Faculty Member to Speak on Emmeline Pankhurst

The annual meeting of the Andover League of Women Voters will be held Tuesday afternoon May 3 at three o'clock at the home of Mrs. Harold R. Rafton, Alden road. Following a business meeting, in which the members will vote on plans for next year's program schedule, Leonard James of Phillips academy faculty will talk on the life and career of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst. At the conclusion of his discourse refreshments will be served.

It is hoped that new members as well as old members will be present to enjoy this entertaining program amid attractive surroundings.

Young Republicans Banquet Tonight

Tonight at 6.45 the Young Men's Republican club of Andover will hold their reorganization banquet in the Square and Compass club hall. Election of officers and a short business meeting will be held. Robert L. Ayers, president of the Watertown Young Men's Republican club and chairman of the Republican City Committee of Watertown will give a short talk. Mr. Ayers is well acquainted with the political situation as it is at the present time and is an accomplished speaker.

The banquet is in charge of Irving Whitcomb with assistance from Richard Zecchini, Donald Bassett, Burton Abbott, Roger Lewis, Carl Gregg, Bruce Valentine.

Mrs. M. Phillips Graham of Johnson Acres is taking a very active part in helping the young men of the town in their reorganization plans. She is a member of the Republican State committee and is well-known in Massachusetts for the excellent work she has done in organizing young men and women.

Guests of the evening will be Raymond Schlapp, president of the Methuen club and Charles Vose, Jr., president of the Lawrence club.

Punchard Elects Class Speakers

The class supper speakers for the senior class of Punchard high have been elected as follows: prophecy, Edith Ross; history, Jacqueline Ferguson; statistics, Harold Walker; gifts, Mary Patterson and John Thomas; toastmaster, John Noyes.

A. P. C. BANQUET

The annual Mother and Daughter banquet and entertainment, sponsored by the A. P. C. sorority of the South church will be held Thursday evening, May 12.

All women and children of the church are cordially invited to attend. Tickets may be had, at twenty-five cents each, by calling Mrs. Frederick W. Gould, telephone 427, before Monday, May 9.

Women Voters' Annual Meeting

The Eighteenth Annual Convention of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters will be held at the Hotel Sheraton, Bay State road, Boston, May 17 and May 18. Those members planning to attend any of the sessions should communicate with Mrs. Harold R. Rafton in regard to transportation.

Mrs. Roscoe E. Dake and Mrs. Harold A. Rutter attended the finance meeting of the Massachusetts League held at the home of Mrs. Richard Field, in Weston, last Monday.

Voters' Hour Tuesday

"Labor Relations in Massachusetts," over Station WEEI Tuesday, May 3, at 3.30 p.m. will be discussed by Dr. Earl G. Latham of the Department of Government, Harvard University.

Townsmen Sold to Present Editor

Andover Press, Ltd., Transfers Ownership after Fifty Years of Publication

The Andover Townsman, published for the past fifty and a half years by the Andover Press, Ltd., was sold this week to Elmer J. Grover, who for the past six years has been serving in the capacity of managing editor of the paper.

Today's Townsman is the last to be published by the firm which launched the paper on October 14, 1887, and which has issued it every week since that time. Mr. Grover plans to continue the paper in the same magazine format in which it has been printed for the past year and a half, and the only immediate fundamental change that he intends to make will be the moving up of the publication day to Thursdays, a step which has been taken by a number of weeklies in order to make their advertising of more value to the advertisers.

The Andover Press is planning to confine its activities entirely to job printing and to the printing of quality books and magazines. For years the Press has specialized in class-book work, and at present the plant is working nights in order to get out the more than thirty books which are now being printed. Included are such books as the Harvard Album, the M.I.T. Technique, the B. U. Hub, the Wellesley Legenda, the Amherst Olio, the Phillips Academy Pot Pourri and a number of others.

The new publisher has made arrangements to have the paper printed in town, and his office will hereafter be at Smith and Coutts, in the Barnard block, with entrance at 2 Park street.

V.F.W. Auxiliary Elects Officers

Mrs. John P. Dowd was installed as president of the Ladies' auxiliary to the V. F. W. on Wednesday night. Mrs. Herbert V. Kent is the retiring president.

Mrs. Alexander Blamire, county vice-president and local past president, installed the officers, assisted by Mrs. Paul Simeone, past president.

The incoming officers were all presented with gifts as were Mrs. Kent and Mrs. James J. Feeney, a Gold Star mother.

The other officers installed were: Senior vice-president, Mrs. William J. Snyder; junior vice-president, Mrs. Emma Gauthier; chaplain, Mrs. Paul Simeone; patriotic instructor, Mrs. Herbert V. Kent; conductress, Miss Addie Finucane; secretary, Mrs. William D. Martin; inside guard, Mrs. James Fraser; color guard, Mrs. Herbert R. Folley, Mrs. Ida Taylor, Mrs. John Hart and Mrs. Peter D. Quinn; treasurer, Mrs. Alexander Blamire; historian, Mrs. James J. Feeney; trustees, Mrs. Walter Ebersbach, Mrs. Herbert V. Kent and Mrs. William Dryden.

Classes Divide Barnard Prizes

The fortieth annual Barnard prize speaking contest for Punchard students was held last Friday evening in the Memorial auditorium, with each class winning a prize in order of their rank. Valerie Simmers, popular senior, won the first prize of twenty dollars; Philip Wormwood, a junior, won the second prize of twelve dollars with his essay, and Joanne O'Riordan, sophomore, who, incidentally, won the first prize in the Goldsmith prize speaking held last December, won the third prize of eight dollars. The program was as follows:

International Cook
Book Art Work

The cook book, to be presented June 3 at the November clubhouse at morning coffee and afternoon tea combined with an exhibit and food sale, by the International Institute, is to be more than a fine collection of the best recipes from all lands. It is being illustrated with exquisite pen and ink sketches by Miss Annette Bernardin and Miss Lillian Bruce is doing all the printing by hand which makes it a work of art.

The book will be divided into sections containing recipes from one country and will have as a frontispiece an appropriate sketch of that particular country. Each page will be illustrated with small sketches which are as authentic and perfect in detail as hours of research and checking can make them.

Not only will the connoisseur of foods be interested in the book but it will be appreciated as well for its artistic value and many will find the mere reading of the recipes fascinating. The book will doubtlessly solve for many hostesses the problem of "something a little bit different" for a special luncheon or dinner.

ORATORIO SOCIETY FORMS
SUMMER PLANS

The executive committee of the Boxford Oratorio society has decided to give the Beggar Student by Millocker for its annual outdoor opera presentation Saturday afternoon, July 30, at the Pine Grove, Kelsey-Highlands Nursery.

It has also accepted the invitation of the executive committee of the Topsfield Fair to give a performance of the Pied Piper of Hamelin by Clokey, words by Beiswenger, at the opening night of the Fair, Wednesday, September 7th.

Rehearsals for these operas will be held at the Boxford Chapel Tuesday evenings at 7:45 during May and June, and both Tuesday and Friday evenings during July and August; beginning Tuesday evening, May 10. Any singer wishing to take part in either opera should be present at one of the first rehearsals. There will also be a large children's chorus for the performance at the Fair and several groups of juvenile dancers. These will

MEMORIAL EXHIBIT BY MEAGHER COMPANY

The Memorial Exhibit of the John Meagher company, Memorial Manufacturers of Peabody, is this week attracting many visitors for a variety of choice memorials, made of Smith's genuine Westerly, R. I. granite have been completed, and these are being sold for erection by Memorial Day, at attractive prices. At no time during the entire year is their display as complete as at the present time when every conceivable type of memorial is displayed—it offers many interesting specimens of memorial art.

The Meagher memorial company have a reputation for quality memorials at reasonable prices. They have devoted nearly half a century to the memorial manufacturing industry, and their plant is the largest and the best equipped in this state; many beautiful specimens of their work appear in the local cemeteries.

A visit to their plant and exhibit will prove very interesting; it is one of the few places in the state to make a memorial from start to finish and to see the block of granite taken in its rough state and then through the various processes of construction moulded and finished into the beautiful specimens that are on display, is indeed an admirable sight. The public is invited to visit their cutting plant and exhibit, and for the convenience of their patrons the exhibit will remain open daily until 9.00 p.m. and all day Sunday for inspection.

Pitchers Fan 28 in Andover Win

Harvardmen sitting in the stands at Brothers' field Saturday were pretty forlorn. True they were watching a marvelous example of pitching skill, but one of the pitchers was Joe Wood, Jr., son of Smoky Joe Wood, and now a Yale freshman, while the other was Ted Harrison, senior at Andover who next year will be a freshman at Yale. In two years, Harvardmen realize both young Smokey and Ted will be pitching for Yale varsity.

Ted finally edged Joe 1-0. Both pitchers struck out 14, with the Yale fresh boy giving three free tickets and Harrison none, Wood five hits and Harrison four. Wood's strike-out mark was the better, 14 in eight innings against Ted's 14 in nine, but Ted had more to contend with in the form of three careless fielding errors by his teammates.

When with two down in the ninth Ellis hit a single Ted's string of only three men per inning was broken. The week before he had gone in with none out in the fifth against the Town Team and for the remaining five innings only three men faced him, which, added to the Yale fresh performance, brought his string to 13 innings, in which he struck out 23 men.

Wood was wonderful in the pinches. In the third with three on and none out, Dudan was forced at home, and then young Joe struck out Bergfors and Walsh. In the fifth after a run had scored, with one out and three on, Joe again steadied, struck out Walsh and caught a weak pop fly from Hart.

SNOW WHITE PROVES ABOVE A CARTOON

Walt Disney's first feature-length animated production, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," is definitely not an elongated cartoon. It starts at the Warner in Lawrence tomorrow.

The musical feature is done in soft tones of color, not in the bright hues of the Mickey Mouse and Silly Symphony shorts. Each scene is an exquisite composition of color and shading. Each frame of film could stand alone, comparable in its beauty to the most ambitious painting.

Whereas the Disney short subjects are one continuous laugh from start to finish, his first feature presents all the elements of great entertainment: romance, pathos, suspense and humor.

Although the other established Disney characters are all animals, for "Snow White" he has created human beings with human emotions, intended to be as real to the audience as flesh-and-blood players.

Country damsel about to travel alone for the first time entered the station. The station master asked her politely: "Where are you going, miss?"

"To New York," she replied, so he put her on the New York train.

"Ha, ha," she murmured as the train pulled out. "I fooled him that time. I'm going to Pittsburgh."

An irascible old soldier was kept waiting on a golf course while a woman with a baby in her arms sauntered across a path that happened to be a right of way.

"Hurry up, there, with that baby," shouted the soldier.

"Baby yourself!" retorted the woman.

"Playing with that little ball, and in those silly short trousers. Go home to your mother, you naughty little boy."

Abbot Academy Notes

Senior Promenade

Tonight and Saturday afternoon the members of the Senior and Senior-Middle classes are holding their annual Senior Promenade dances. Guests are expected from Amherst, Dartmouth, Yale, and a number of other colleges as well as from Phillips Andover, Exeter, Governor Dummer and Tabor. The prom committee is composed of Catherine Flaherty of Wilmington, Del., chairman; Joan Brown, of Boston; Marie Appleby, of Asbury Park, N. J.; Anne Flaherty, of Wilmington, Del., and Betty McBride, of Savannah, Georgia. The decorations in Davis hall will be nautical, and the music will be provided by Al Dwyer's band.

Philharmonic Orchestra

On Sunday night the Worcester Philharmonic orchestra will give a concert in Davis hall at eight o'clock. Friends of the school are cordially invited. Walter Howe, head of the music department at Abbot and director of the Worcester orchestra, will conduct. The orchestra is visiting Abbot as a tribute of its appreciation of its director. The program will include an original composition of Mr. Howe's.

Open House Coming

Next Saturday, May 7, the academy will hold its annual open house, or "Visiting Day" for friends and patrons of the school. Exhibitions will be shown in the various activities of the school—scholastic, athletic and recreational. A short program of music and drama will be presented in Davis hall at 4.30, and tea will be served to the guests.

Street lighting by gas was adopted in Boston in 1822.

Living Pictures in School Program

A "living picture" program is being given this afternoon in the Stowe assembly hall by the children of the Stowe, John Dove and Jackson schools.

The first picture to be shown is Baby Stuart in his quaint costume portrayed by Harold Dodge of Grade 1. The accompanying music is a "Lullaby" to be sung by Patricia McLay, Shirley Ann Northam, Irene Yancy, Robert Beauchesne, Henry Gallant, and Robert Bergstrom.

The story of the picture will be read by James White.

The Sistine Madonna will be portrayed by Carolyn White of Grade 2. John Sherman will read the story to explain this religious picture. The accompanying music is the most delightful "Lullaby" by Brahms. The singers are Constance Burns, Nancy Elliot, John Gillis, Robert Deyermund, Robert Wetterberg, John Sherman, Bruce Noble, Maynard Campbell.

Grade 2 will present Mother and Daughter, represented by Mary Giata and Louise Crossley. Jane Lynch will read the story telling about the picture of this mother artist. "Mother Love" will be sung by Elma Miller, Joan Pomeroy, Richard Kydd, Clifford Stedman, John Campbell.

Sayward Cook, Jr. of Grade 3 will portray "The Primitive Sculpture." Helen Dowd will read the accompanying story. The related music is entitled "Indian Prayer." The singers are: Deighton Emmons, Carl Lindsay, Shirley Sawyer, Myrtle Harding, Marjorie Ann Weeks, LeRoy Wilson, Jr.

The music is accompanied by the rhythmic beating of the tom-tom by Marvin Sayles.

Shirley Knowles and Virginia Hardy are the characters in the next picture. Grades 3 and 4 present "Carnation, Lily, Rose," both as the title of their picture and their song. The singers are Paula Dimlich, Robert Greenwood, Evelyn Smalley, Joseph Peters, Evelyn McLay, Frank Chick, Shirley Smith, Charles Waldie.

The story of this picture will be given by Jocelyn White.

With spring comes "The Blue Boy," portrayed by the fair-haired Philip Markey. Jane Weldon will render the accompanying piano solo, typical of sweet spring flowers, "Narcissus" by Nevin. The reader from Grade 4 is Mary Lynch.

Barbara Knowles of Grade 5 will portray the happy peasant in the "Song of the Lark." Winslow Hallowell will read the story. The song, "Hark, hark, the Lark," will be sung by June Fettes, Hazel Murphy, Edith Gilman, Ethel Bourdelais, Warren Knipe and Sally Brown.

Grade 5 will bring another picture portraying the joyful season of spring, "The Spring Dance." Cascia Brown, Anne Boyce, Ruth Gregory, Joan Holdsworth, Beatrice Paine and Evelyn Locke will represent the graceful dancers. Loring Batchelder will tell us about this picture. The accompanying music, "Welcome Sweet Springtime" will be sung by June Peever, May Peever, Barbara Hill, Suzanne Leland, Ruth Innes, John Thomson, Richard Kimball, Lawrence Bars and John Eastham.

Dorothy Abbott of Grade 6 brings the peasant picture known as "The Angelus." The characters who will pose for this picture are Annette Bourassa and George Benvie. "Evening Prayer" lends itself as an appropriate selection for this setting presented by Marilou Lindsay, Laura Earley, Fred Temple, Barbara Koerner, John Crossley, and Hilda Gaudet.

No more suitable setting for the climax of the program could be found than a subject typical of the season. Joan Sweeney of Grade 6, as the "Flower Girl of Holland" with her gay costume and spring flowers portrays this character. The accompanying related music is "The Flower Girl of Holland" and will be sung by Dwight Killam, Chester Jenkins, Rosalie Benton, Billy Morgan, Shirley Hardy, Charlotte Leland, Gladys Deyermund and Jeannette Matton.

The story of this picture will be read by Robert Lowe.

Dr. Fuess to Visit England's Schools

Dr. Claude M. Fuess, headmaster of Phillips academy, will sail on Tuesday for England aboard the Europa with Mrs. Fuess. The headmaster, who this week is attending a conference of educators at Annapolis, is making the trip to England under the auspices of the English Speaking Union, in an effort to give the English schools an insight into the political and economic situation in this country.

Dr. Fuess will speak at the following schools: Cheltenham, Clifton, Christ's Hospital, Eastbourne, Harrow, Marlborough, Rugby, Radley, Stowe, Malverin, Sherborne and Wellington. While there he will visit three exchange students who graduated from the academy last June.

Dr. and Mrs. Fuess will return June 1 on the Queen Mary.

The conference at Annapolis is being held to give criticisms and suggestions regarding the Naval Academy.

Junior High Notes

Soft-ball

Room 9 is leading the softball league with two wins. The other scores were: Room 6—15, Room 4—12, Room 9—14, Room 5—13, Room 9—10, Room 6—8. The leaders for the highest batting average are Stedman, Burnham, Bolton and Berube.—W. Bolton

Home Rooms

Entertain Each Other

At the last home room meeting of Room 4 a motion was made that this ninth grade room would ask Room 5 to join them on a visit to Canobie Lake Park in the near future. Room 5 accepted but there has been no definite date set.—Nancy M. Jones

Last Friday afternoon the members of Room 7 gave the members of Room 6 a party with ice cream and cake. Those on the committee were Eleanor Rafton, Frederick McDuffie, and William Morrissey. It was enjoyed by all the pupils.—Sheila Clare Ryan

Spelling Contest

During the past term the Tuesday utility periods have been given over to oral spelling. In the home room versus home room matches these were the winners: Grade 7—Rooms 2 and Mechanical Drawing tied; Grade 8—Room 8; Grade 9—Room 4.

Last week home rooms held contests to determine champions.

In assembly this week these champions took part in a match to decide the school champion. This match was won by Gene Farnsworth of Grade 8. Second place was won by Pauline MacMackin of Grade 8. In Grade 7 Rovena Eastman stood longest; in Grade 8 Gene Farnsworth and in Grade 9 Eleanor Rafton. The following participated in Wednesday's match: Rovena Eastman, Room 1; Eileen Fitzpatrick, Room 2; Donald MacLellan, Room 3; Leo Ryan, Mechanical Drawing; Dorothy Campbell, Room 4; Isabelle Dobbie, Room 5; John Humphreys, Room 6; Eleanor Rafton, Room 7; Marjorie Smalley, Room 9; Elizabeth Yeaton, Room 11; Cary Lindsay, Room 12; and Pauline MacMackin, Room 13.

The word that the winner spelled correctly was "soldering."

Philharmonic Orchestra Here Sunday

Abbot academy will offer an unusually interesting concert to the public on Sunday night at eight o'clock, when the Worcester Philharmonic Orchestra will play in Davis hall. The orchestra, which will bring about sixty-five players from the society, is coming to Andover as a compliment to its conductor, Walter Howe, who is also Director of Music at Abbot academy, conductor of the Worcester Oratorio society of 400 voices and Choral Conductor of Chautauqua Institution at Chautauqua, N. Y. Since this is a complimentary concert no admission will be charged and the public is cordially invited.

The Worcester Philharmonic Orchestra was founded in 1930 by Alexander Blackman who was conductor for two years before going to Richmond, Virginia as concert-master of the Richmond Symphony orchestra. Albert Wassil was conductor from 1932-1936 after which time Mr. Howe was appointed leader. Mr. Howe's first move was to reorganize the orchestra and take the concerts to the fine old Mechanic's Hall where larger audiences could be accommodated. This proved effective and now the orchestra plays to capacity audiences of about 1600 people.

Worcester regards its orchestra as one of its most cherished musical forces. The orchestra is composed of professionals and non-professionals who find in it an outlet for their continued development. Many of its players have gone on to other orchestras and are holding responsible positions.

The program will open with Bach's Concerto for Three Pianos and Orchestra in C major. This is a most extraordinary work, all three pianos and orchestra participating in an unforgettable ensemble. The three soloists will be Miss Ruth Sauter, Miss Rosamond Critchley and Mrs. Lillian Hurowitz. Miss Sauter and Mrs. Hurowitz are piano teachers in Worcester and Miss Critchley, who will play the second piano in the Concerto, has been blind from birth. Her performance in such a complicated ensemble is almost a miracle.

The familiar and beautiful Air from the Bach D major Suite is for strings alone and the orchestra recently made a very beautiful recording of this piece.

Mozart's great "Jupiter" Symphony will be the major work on this program. This was Mozart's last symphony and is now recognized as one of his three greatest works in the symphonic form.

Mr. Howe's new "Radio Suite" which has been played by three different orchestras within the past few months, will be given under its composer's baton. The suite is designed as a musical setting for Marionettes.

Sibelius' universally popular "Finlandia" with its thrilling brass passages and folk-like middle section, will bring the concert to a close.

The program:

Concerto for three pianos and string orchestra		Bach
Vivace
Adagio
Allegro
1st piano, Ruth Louise Sauter
2nd piano, Rosamond M. Critchley
3rd piano, Lillian Hurowitz
Air from the Suite in D major, No. 3		Bach
Symphony in C major (Jupiter)		Mozart
Allegro vivace
Andante cantabile
Mennetto: Allegretto
Finale: Allegro
Radio Suite (Marionettes)		Howe
March
Pastorale
Amour
Play-time in Peiping
Folk-lore
A Jig-full of Spirit
Finlandia		Sibelius

After the Bach Air, the curtain will be drawn so that the three pianos can be removed and the orchestra reset. During this time Mr. Howe will play some organ solos on the Dorothy Davis Rimmer memorial organ.

Girls' Friendly Play May 6th

"Truth is stranger than fiction"—granted, but when that fiction is an exact reproduction of everyday life, it too becomes very strange. The play, "Take a Chance," is based upon the incidents of daily life. In it the Girls' Friendly society has found a play in which there is rollicking fun and unusual characterization. In depicting the rise and fall of the Hadley family, this play will touch the hearts of the audience with its kindly atmosphere. Miss Taylor as a typical blase society lady "with a hobby" is sure to do full justice to the part, which requires keen study and interpretation. Those who have attended rehearsals will vouch for the fact that Miss Betty Deyermond as Jim Burke, a gas station attendant, presents in a charming manner the part of the lover willing to wait and to forgive the frivolities of his sweetheart. Miss Mildred Forsythe in the role of Ruth, the shy, whimsical young girl, tired of the round of duties in the office is sure to win the audience as she blooms into the little rich girl seeking her lord. But alas, lords are hard to find in these days!

If you are contemplating taking this pleasure cruise with the cast and audience, make reservations early. A laugh a minute is guaranteed. Time: May 6.

There will be a sale in connection with the play starting in the afternoon at 2 two, and lasting through the evening. Tea will be served in the afternoon. Aprons, fancy work, dolls, novelties, candy, nuts and food will be on sale. The public is cordially invited to attend.

May Breakfast to Be Held Saturday

The annual May Breakfast will be held tomorrow morning at the Legion rooms from 6 to 9. Fruit, coffee, beans, ham, rolls, doughnuts, relishes and pie will be served for 25 cents.

Miss Ethel Hilton will have charge of a candy table and there will also be a flower table.

Co-chairmen for the event are Mrs. Henry S. Wright for the Sons of Veterans auxiliary and Mrs. Albert Robinson for the Legion auxiliary.

SERVICE CLUB TO SEND BOYS TO WASHINGTON

The Service club last night voted to appropriate $50 to send two schoolboy patrolmen to the annual convention at Washington the coming week.

A nominating committee was chosen to report at the last meeting in May when officers will be elected. It includes Frank A. Buttrick, Chester W. Holland and Howell F. Shepard.

The speaker of the evening was A. Marshall Jones of Boston who spoke on "Harnessing the Business Tides."

N. E. History Teachers Meet

The New England History Teachers' association met last Saturday at Phillips academy for the annual spring meeting. "The Foreign Policy of the United States" was the chief topic, with Dr. Claude M. Fuess speaking on the importance of biography in history.

Other speakers were: Prof. Theodore Collier of Brown university; Professor G. Nye Steiger of Simmons; Professor Clifford C. Hubbard of Wheaton college; and Kendrick N. Marshall of Harvard.

ADVENTURERS PLAN FINAL MEETING

The Adventurers will hold their final meeting of the year at Fieldstones on Tuesday, May 10. A dinner and social will be held. The following committee is in charge: Carl E. Gregg, chairman; Irving J. Whitcomb, and Marion Macdonald.

MOTHERS' CLUB TO MEET

The meeting of the Mothers' club is to be held May 11 instead of May 4 because of the school vacation.

The directors will meet at the home of Mrs. Fred L. Collins Friday afternoon May 6.

School Janitors Special Officers

Head janitor Fred L. Collins of the central plant and Henry G. Todd, janitor at the Shawshen school, were appointed special policemen at the meeting of the selectmen Monday night. The school board had requested the appointments, since both men are on night duty frequently. William Snyder, regular night man, was appointed a special a week ago.

CORNELL FUND TRUSTEE

Arthur W. Cole has been named a member of the Cornell fund trustees to succeed the late Dr. W. Dacre Walker.
