Police Stop 51 Cars in Drive

Twelve Trucks Included — To Warn Bus Company On Speed

A total of 51 motorists, 12 of them truck-drivers, were stopped last night at the corner of Morton and Main streets in an anti-speed campaign held by local police. From nine until one Sergeant Hickey with officers Stevens and O'Brien watched the vehicles for excessive speed. Also assisting were selectmen Shepard and Collins.

Only 50 trucks passed along Main street in that period, leading officials to believe that the truck-drivers were being tipped off. Most of the trucks lumbered along slowly as if they knew in advance that the drive was on.

The speed of street railway buses caused officials some concern, and the railway company will be warned about excessive speed.

The 51 names are to be sent to the registry, and the first offenders will be sent warnings, while second offenders will receive a seven-day license suspension.

Not a single drunken driving case was found.

Expect Welfare Money to Last

If the present pace of welfare spending continues for the remainder of the year, the chances are that the $27,000 appropriation will fill the requirements aided by a small transfer from the reserve fund.

For the first six months, the sum of $15,878 was spent, not including expected bills totalling between $1,000 and $2,000 from other cities and towns handling cases whose settlements are in Andover. At present, for the past three weeks, the rate of spending has been about $300 a week.

There has been considerable hospitalization lately, more so than in the winter, welfare officials state.

Dog Feared Lost in Fire Unharmmed

The fire department was called out Tuesday evening for a rubbish fire in the basement of the residence of Mrs. L. C. Connor on Windsor street, Shawsheen village. Smoke poured out of the windows on two stories in the rear of the house, and was noticed by neighbors. A private fire extinguisher was used on the blaze before the department arrived.

It was believed for a while that a black terrier had perished from suffocation in the fire, but he was discovered alive and well elsewhere.

Receives Pig For Lassoing Horse

A very nice little pig, nice as pigs go, was presented to Officer Carl H. Stevens last night by State Trooper Horan as a token of esteem for Carl's prowess as shown by his lassoing of a horse the night before. Barney had found the pig down the by-pass way, and having heard of Carl's lariat-tossing, he brought the baby porker down to Main and Morton streets where "Puncher Stevens" was booking errant motorists.

The night before officer John Deyermund had had a call from Mrs. Richard H. Wheeler of Eallardvale to the effect that a stray horse was eating up her flowers. Jock suggested that Carl, whose rope act dates back to a visit to a dude ranch in Wyoming, try out his skill on the frolicsome equine, and Carl proved equal to the task.

Then Jock decided to heap laurels on the lariat-tosser by letting the newspapers know of the feat. So last night Carl suggested to the state trooper that he bring the pig down to the square to let Jock take care of it. Jock provided the pig with board and room, but the board consisted of greens and the room consisted of Carl's car!

Candidates File Papers Here

Several candidates have filed papers for certification by the local board of registrars at the town house. Before the primary election which comes on September 20, there will be two registrations, one from 7 to 9 on the evening of August 24 at the town house and the other from noon to ten on August 31 at the town house. Before the November election there will be registrations in each precinct.

Papers filed here to date include: for governor: Charles F. Hurley (D), 57 Fresh Pond Lane, Cambridge; for register of deeds, Louis J. Scanlon (D), 26a Leslie street, Lawrence; for representative, Edward J. Grimley (D), 93 Andover street, Lawrence; James J. Darby (D), 94 Maple avenue; Arthur J. Ouellette (D), 75 Chester street, Lawrence; Peter W. Connors (D), 8 Portland street, Lawrence; Gordon R. Cannon (R), 54 Salem street.

Papers are in circulation here for Fred Butler for governor and Hugh Cregg (R) of Methuen as district attorney.

Health Board Calls Hearing

The Board of Health has called a hearing for Tuesday evening, August 9, to consider the food rules advertised as Chapter XVIII in today's Townsman. The hearing will start at eight.

These are the only rules on which such a hearing is required. They have to be advertised twice.

The rules not included in last week's publication are included in today's paper. There are also several other regulations on which the law does not require advertising, but these are to be printed in booklets which will include all the regulations advertised in the Townsman.

Tax Bills Sent Out By Collector

The final batch of tax bills were put in the mail Tuesday night by Tax Collector James P. Christie. The first batch of property bills went out last Friday, and payments have already started.

North Main Street Inundated

Scenes vaguely reminiscent of March of 1936 were again presented to motorists and Shawsheen villagers on Monday afternoon when a torrential downpour inundated a large section of North Main street. Rain had been falling from nine in the morning, but a sudden downpour about four found the drains unable to dispose of the rain as fast as it fell. North Main street just beyond Stimpson's bridge, near the Hoffacker estate, was flooded with about eight inches of water, while the section near the Spa, including part of the Mall and extending part way up to Arden was covered by a pond that was a foot deep in spots.

Traffic was pretty well tied up for a while as some motorists tried to go through too fast, thus wetting their ignition. Other motorists' ignition was soaked from above. There were many scenes reminiscent of a much earlier flood, with cars coming two-by-two, the more fortunate ones pushing or pulling the less fortunate.

Some cellars were flooded in various sections, notably on Haverhill street below the railroad bridge. The W. P. A. is at present engaged in a diverting drain project which may eliminate this condition caused by backing up on the present drain. Part of the trench for the new drain across Burnham road caved in, and there was a cave-in on the other side of the road where the drain had already been installed.

There were several washouts, but none severe enough to warrant closing streets. They occurred on Walnut avenue, Chandler road and Magnolia avenue.

Rain this morning threatened to create as bad or even worse conditions than Monday's. Shortly after nine another downpour came, flooding roads all over the town.

Discuss Removal of Car Tracks

Public Works Board Studying Most Economical Plan To Remove Danger

The Board of Public Works on Tuesday night launched a study on the possibilities of removing the car-tracks which now constitute a danger to motorists in the center of Main street. The study will include within its scope the determination of the most economical way of removing the rails.

A few years ago an experiment was tried out with a special kind of cement which was purchased by the railway to see if the rails could be filled in permanently. The filling remained for a short while, but at present there is very little left. Lawrence is at present planning to remove some of the unused rail, and others have been covered over by a stretch of macadam about six feet wide.

The rails are still owned by the railway, and it is understood that the steel can be claimed by the company if the rails are removed.

The winter-time hazards of driving have been multiplied by the presence of the icy rails.

Retired Officer Calls Police

Officer Thomas Dailey retired last October, and so he doesn't have to do police duty any more. In fact, if any police duty is to be done, he can call the department and have someone sent down—especially if it is a particularly offensive job.

Yesterday morning the station received a call from Tom, who reported that in Ernest Edwards' barn across the street there was a skunk. He said that he had his best tie on, and didn't want it spoiled. So Chief Dane sent down his special skunk squad consisting of Bill Shaw and John Campbell. Bill shot the pretty little kitty, and Jack acted as undertaker, with Tom an interested spectator.

No Action Yet on School Bills

No action has been taken as yet on the transportation bills for school department supervisors which were held up by the selectmen because of the three dollar a trip charge to the North school. The school board has no regularly scheduled meetings during the summer, and unless a special meeting is called for some purpose, the bills will have to remain unpaid until September. It is expected that the school committee will also disapprove the bills and ask that they be resubmitted at the usual transportation price.

Forbids Swimming at Ballardvale Bridge

Chief of police George A. Dane on Sunday closed the Shawshen river at the Andover street bridge and Parker's Wharf to all swimmers, following in the wake of an accident there Saturday afternoon when a boy struck his head on a steel brace. The police had received complaints about conditions there.

Signs forbidding swimming were posted there yesterday. The chief is recommending that the children and adults use the bathing beach which the town provides at Poms pond.

Subscriptions cost but 4c a week.

Erect Memorial to "Bill" Crowley

A flag-pole with a Memorial tablet at its base has been erected at Poms pond as a tribute to the late William C. Crowley, former member of the pond committee who passed away after having been stricken at the annual town meeting last March.

Bill Crowley was one of the best known of Andover men to sport football of Andover. Identified with all branches of sports over a long period of years, Bill saw youngsters grow up and dominate their particular field and saw others flash and fade as quickly as they had come up. His career dated back to the days when Al Stearns, former headmaster of Phillips Academy, was in his prime. Bill played at shortstop while Al covered second base, this when Al was not at his first love of pitching. Bill then went through the years, watching baseball, football, track, taking part himself whenever the occasion demanded. He umpired, managed teams and always gave advice that all sports might profit. It was during his last years that he lent his efforts toward building Poms Pond to a real swimming beach. That he succeeded in this is evidenced by the equipment, and general condition of the former swimming hole where many of the older residents first learned to swim, without the conventions of bathing suits and other apparel.

Funds for the Memorial were provided by a series of baseball games, the outgrowth of a series that Bill, many, many years ago, inaugurated. It was Bill, who with Jack Sweeney, Dick Hodnett, Joe Soutar, Hap Kelley, and others whose names will ever be associated with Andover sports, went to Ballardvale to play against the best that Ballardvale had to offer. These games were always played for blood, the rivalry being the fiercest that two neighboring towns could offer. If the winner proved to be the visitors it was invariably a hard time to get out of town without another fight.

This rivalry came down through the years and it seemed as though Bill Crowley were destined to always be in the midst of it. It is recalled that on one occasion Bill, who was holding the indicator and calling them from behind the pitcher, had to be escorted from the field by the police when one of his decisions went against the home team. Later, Bill gloried in bringing a team to Ballardvale, one that he managed and directed, and gloried further if he brought home a victory.

Bill was always fair in sports. If a contest could not be won fairly, Bill wanted nothing to do with it. Associations with Bill were associations that would develop a clean, fast-thinking mind; a knowledge, clear and concise, of sport; and a sense of fair play that would sacrifice nothing in realizing fair play.

Episcopal Bishops
Wed Local Couples

Two wedding ceremonies of interest to Andover were performed on Saturday by high officials of the Episcopal church, one by the Right Rev. Raymond A. Heron, Suffragan-bishop of the Massachusetts diocese, and the other by Rt. Rev. Arthur W. Moulton, bishop of Utah, who is acting as rector at Grace Episcopal church in Lawrence during the summer.

At the Diocesan House Chapel in Boston Bishop Heron united in marriage Miss Marion May Elliott of 34 Summer street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Elliott, and O. Lesley Sewell of 38 Greenfield street, Lawrence. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Barcroft of Andover, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. A number of Andover friends attended the ceremony.

Bishop Moulton had the pleasure of officiating at the wedding of a couple whom he had christened years ago, and whose parents he had united in marriage. Miss Elsie Hargeaves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hargeaves of 71 Main street, North Andover, and Attorney Arnold H. Salisbury, 2nd, son of probator officer and Mrs. Charles A. Salisbury of 77 Bartlet street, were married at a simple noon ceremony held at the home of the groom's parents in Andover. Mrs. Hargeaves and Mr. Salisbury were the attendants.

The wedding marches were played by nine-year-old Velma Jean Hinton, niece of the bride.

The bride wore a travelling ensemble which included a beige dress and Paris sand coat. Her accessories were in harmony and she wore a corsage of white orchids.

Following a reception at Wildwood, the couple left on a trip through New York state and Canada.

THE ANDOVER TOWNSMAN

Established 1887

Published on Thursday at Smith & Coutts Co., 4 Park Street, Andover, Mass., by Elmer J. Grover.

Entered at the Andover Postoffice as Second Class Matter

New W. P. A. Projects

Sometime between now and the next annual town meeting there should be a general meeting of town departments to try to see if some way can be evolved to eliminate throwing away W. P. A. money. Our present W. P. A. policy here in Andover seems to be based on a desire to use all we can get from the federal government and balance it with as little as possible from the town. Our town officials will admit that that is the plan, that that is the reason we were building gravel roads and we are cutting brush, and they will say that they feel the town does not want to spend any more money than it has to, a feeling which of course is very much justified.

But is the town being really economical when it follows this policy? The W. P. A. plan is based primarily on a desire to give men work, but it has another feature of great importance, and that is getting some necessary work done. If we spend, as we did, $10,000 for materials and truck hire for putting gravel on roads that won't retain the gravel, we're wasting $10,000 of the town's money and much more of the federal government's money. But if we spend something more than $10,000 on materials for needed projects, we're not wasting it, we're investing it.

Why not then have the town departments compile a list of possible W. P. A. projects, together with figures on cost to the town, etc. They should be projects that are really necessary ones, not just projects chosen in order to have projects. Over in Lawrence recently when faced with the desire to get Lawrence's W. P. A. men off West Andover's roads, a call for projects was issued. Soon there came forth suggestions for a municipal auditorium and a new district court house, neither of which Lawrence needs or can afford, but they were mentioned because the city thinks it is getting a bargain. Just because we are receiving some money for labor is no reason why we should spend it on unnecessary projects. Let us use it to the best possible advantage on sewers, water extensions, sidewalks, and other things which are really needed, and which we in a few years would have to build ourselves without the financial aid from the federal government.

A Coat That Fits

"Are you the editor?"

"I am."

"Are you the fellow who writes those articles about W. P. A. men drinking?"

"I am."

"Well, don't you know that that hurts us fellers on the W. P. A., men who don't drink? Don't you know it hurts our families?"

"Don't you drink?"

"I've never had a drop to drink in my life."

"Well, if you don't drink, the edi-tentials on W. P. A. drinking didn't refer to you at all."

"I've never—I never drink. It hurts us fellers who don't drink. I've lived in Andover for 35 years and I've never been drunk."

We know what tea smells like, we know what coffee smells like, and we know what milk smells like—but we're sure that what we smelled from the breath of our W. P. A. critic the other day was neither coffee, tea or milk. On checking up his record, we found that he was not speaking for himself when he spoke for the fellows who don't drink, because once or twice he's vacationed at a state institution down in Bridgewater, not the State Teachers' College. Yes, it's the "fellers" who do drink that hurt the "fellers" who don't drink on the W. P. A., and it's the "fellers" who do drink that put up the loudest cry when someone suggests that W. P. A. men drink.

Siftings

Corrigan, the young Irishman who made a solo flight from New York to Dublin, claims that he thought he was heading for California. He shouldn't kiss the Blarney Stone; it should kiss him.

Imagine flying around the world so fast that you don't get a chance to see any of it.

A lot of mill-workers who used to look forward to their vacation in July were mighty glad that their vacations ended in June.

The Massachusetts portion of the Merrimack River is 50 miles long and the total drainage area of the River is about 5000 square miles of which about 1200 square miles are in the Bay State.

SALUTE THE FLAG

The ever-increasing lack of courtesy to the flag as evidenced in the last Memorial day parade has prompted veteran Robert V. Deyermont to write the following appeal:

Whenever I see our flag pass by,
A common sight makes me sigh;
It's the lack of courtesy to the Flag
That is something more than a colored rag.
It's full of honor and fair play
It's full of courage every day.
To guard your life, wealth and home
Wherever you may chance to roam.

This flag that bears the Stars and Stripes,
Is not the boast of blather skites;
Its purpose is to lend a hand;
In trouble it will firmly stand.
It bears a very honored name;
Every thread is spun with fame.
So don't be bashful as it passes by,
Salute it with a steady eye.

Let the thrill of its colors true
Be your support in all you do.
Be honest and free, let your love acclaim
For it more glory and greater fame,
Remember this, and oh, please do
Salute Old Glory, as it passes you.

How do you do it? Why simply stand;
Across your left breast hat in hand.
Just look as though an angel bright,
Had just renewed your failing sight.
Don't lie around or sit in a car
Get up or out, let nothing mar
The respect that you ought to pay
To the Stars and Stripes in the proper way.

ARBROATHIANS TO MEET BRECHINS

Amateur Night at Playground

Amateur night will be held Friday night at the three playgrounds, weather permitting, starting at seven. The first three days of this week all playground activities had to be suspended because of the rainy weather, thus postponing the start of the annual summer tournaments.

In the amateur contest there will be two divisions, the first up to and including eleven years of age, and the second twelve and over.

Judge Scored Andover Perfect

If it hadn't been for one judge who was evidently badly in need of a Bromo-Seltzer when the Male choir was singing recently at the New England competition, Andover would have had a nearly perfect score. Recently the choir received the point score given by the judges, and it learned that one judge had given them 100 points for both the prize song and the choice song, another had given them 98 on the prize song and 96 on the choice, while the headachy gentleman passed out a meager 72 on both for them.

The 100 per cent judge stated: "I give this singing the highest rating yet. This is good singing. Not perfect but good. Good interpretation. They feel their singing." The next judge remarked: "The thing that made the prize song absolutely distinctive was the ability to move a phrase lightly in a good line, singing as one man. Usually the balance was excellent." Then came Grumpy: "I can only congratulate the chorus on its fine singing. You are certainly on the right way."

BRYANT AND STRATTON SCHOOL IN 74th YEAR

The seventy-fourth school year of the Bryant & Stratton Commercial School of Boston will open on the day after Labor Day. Some classes starting at this time are composed of beginners, and others are made up of students already possessing some knowledge of business subjects. These are admitted with advanced standing which makes it unnecessary for them to repeat any work which they have previously covered. This method of forming classes as well as the fact that as far forth as possible students progress in accordance with their own ability in the school's unique system of individual advancement permits any student to complete his or her chosen course as soon as the requirements have been completed.

This school maintains a free employment service for its graduates. Whether recent or former graduate, experienced or inexperienced, this department is always willing to discuss with its candidates the business opportunities which come to the attention of the Director. For over fifty years this Department, one of the first of its kind in the city, has been serving the graduates of this school with utmost satisfaction.

Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Cregg of the Aberdeen Apartments spent the week-end at Poland Springs, Maine.

Fifth Inning Spells Defeat

If it wasn't for the fifth inning last Friday night, last-place Andover would have defeated first-place Salem in a Junior Legion contest at the Playstead, but since the fifth inning was counted, the five runs the Witch City boys scored in that inning gave them a 6-2 victory.

Salem scored one in the fourth, and in the fifth took advantage of three hits, three free tickets and an error to put them safely ahead. Andover scored one in the last of the fifth and another in the last of the sixth.

Andover did as well as Salem at bat, but the hits were scattered. Brucato, Bishop, Proctor, Morrissey, Burnham and Calvin Deyermond made a hit each. Warren Deyermond fanned three and passed five.

Last night there was a game scheduled for the playstead between the local Legion Juniors and the Connery post Juniors of Lynn, but the rain and resultant wet grounds forced its postponement.

Andover square, lightless a week ago last night, was without one light Sunday morning when a Lowell motorist crashed into the lamp post near the Cross coal office. Arrested for operating under the influence, he failed to appear in court on Monday morning and was defaulted.

Publicize "Bay State Paradise"

An unusual, if not unprecedented, step in a state's program of advertising its recreational advantages is being taken this month by the Massachusetts Development and Industrial Commission when it inaugurates a campaign of advertising in daily and weekly newspapers within the state itself. An advertisement in this campaign appears in today's Townsman.

Decision to make the move was based on two factors which developed following the Commission's initial two-month campaign in out-of-state newspapers and the leading national magazines. One was the response of hotel, resort and transportation leaders, demonstrating their interest in and enthusiasm for the campaign; and the second was the fact that out of the 20,000 or more inquirers so far, several hundred were from Massachusetts people wanting to know more about vacation areas within the state.

The result is an advertisement being run in dailies and weeklies which urges Massachusetts people: "Stay where the fun is—here in Massachusetts."

Miss Delight Hall to Wed in August

The engagement is announced of Miss Delight Dawson Hall to Mr. Tyge Ernst Rothe of Copenhagen, Denmark. Miss Hall is grand-niece of Miss Julia E. Twichell, and niece of Mrs. Brownell Gage (formerly Miss Delight Walkley Hall). Her father, Mr. Edward Twichell Hall, formerly of Andover, is director of the Universal School of Handicrafts in Radio City, N. Y. Miss Hall graduated cum laude from Abbot Academy in 1934, where she was an active member of her class.

She is an ardent sportswoman, being especially interested in skiing and riding. She has trained a number of her own riding horses, thereby following the family enthusiasm of her great-grandmother, Lady Esther Dawson, famous horsewoman of Dublin, Ireland. Among other notables in her family connections were the late Senator John Dalzell of Penna., and the late General Constant Williams of Schenectady, N. Y. Through another great-grandmother, Lady Ann Grey, of London, she is descended from the royal line made so famous by the fate of the unfortunate Lady Jane Grey.

Mr. Rothe is head of an importing and exporting business, and has many connections in Central and South America. It was in Costa Rica that the young couple met. Mr. Rothe's family is one of a distinguished history in Denmark since the Twelfth Century.

The wedding will take place in Copenhagen early in August. Mr. and Mrs. Heinz Warneke and Miss Priscilla Alden Hall, younger sister of the bride-to-be, will accompany Miss Hall to Denmark for the ceremony. After the wedding the couple will make an extended motor trip through Europe. Miss Hall after her marriage will make her home in Copenhagen.

The Way We Do It

Assembling and taking care of your food needs during hot weather requires real experience. Every morning we meet the local farmers and buy from them the produce we need for just that day. It is the only way to assure you of getting real fresh vegetables every day and having them reach your table when they are at their best.

This same method is used in supplying our customers with fresh fish—chickens—broilers—fowl and those meats that don't require ageing to better them.

Only the Independent Merchant can do business this way. During hot weather it is the only way.

Magazine Has Article on Shepard Pool

Selectman Howell F. Shepard's swimming pool at his home on Dascumb road is the subject of an interesting article by Mrs. Shepard which appears in the August issue of "The American Home" which has just appeared. Accompanying the article is a picture of the pool with an inset of the chicken coop which was previously on the swimming-pool site.

The article follows:

"The lure of keeping hens, turkeys and ducks had gone—so something had to be done about our lonely old hencoop. One of our friends had a swimming pool that looked to me like a glorious combination of Heaven and Hollywood, and others had recreation rooms fixed up to resemble everything from ships to night clubs. But we were not to be outdone! We put our imaginations to work and finally decided to try making a swimming pool and using the coop as a sort of recreation room.

"A capable landscape architect who liked informal gardens and approved of glorified hencoops was called in to help us carry out our plans. It was finally figured that the coop could be rejuvenated and the pool made for about seven hundred dollars. Soon the work began, which was not easy because, where the pool was to be, the rocks were endless and grew in size with each shovelful of dirt. Later, we planted trees and bushes to lend privacy.

"Now our whole yard is transformed by the new additions. With the swimming pool, recreation-hencoop, comfortable deck chairs and shrubbery we are more than satisfied. I suppose the moral might be that even 'making something out of nothing' isn't as much fun as making something out of a hencoop."

This Sober Town

Andover's Story-of-the-Week

Robert Ayers, earnest young Republican from Watertown who addressed Andover's young Republicans recently told a very interesting story which may make the present very much persecuted Jewish people smile. The young man told of a very proper headmistress of a girls' school who decided that her 200 girls really should have a dance. But there was a serious problem: "Where could she get 200 boys?"

Finally she hit on the idea of asking the colonel at the C. C. C. camp to send 200 boys up for the evening, and the only specification she mentioned was that they should not be Jewish. At eight that night the doorbell rang and she went to greet the young stags, only to be faced by a large group of colored boys. "Er, Er, Er, why, I'm afraid there's some mistake," she said.

"No, ma'am," said one of the boys, "Colonel Goldberg, he done never make no mistake."
