Anderson; clerk, Roy E. Spencer; directors for three years, Mrs. George M. R. Holmes, Foster Barnard, J. Duke Smith., Mrs. A. H. Chamberlain, Mrs. E. Barton Chapin and Mrs. George F. Sawyer.

Three Principals To Work On Rules

Superintendent Henry C. Sanborn has appointed the three principals, Nathan C. Hamblin, Kenneth Sherman and Miss Catherine Barrett to sit with the three chairmen of the school board sub-committees to recommend revisions in the school committee rules and regulations prior to a reprinting.

Three Parts To License Question

A maze of questions, involving biennial sessions, public taxicab stands, liquor license, and pari-mutuel betting will appear on the ballot in November. The license question is divided in three parts: hard liquor, wines and malt beverages, and package stores.

G. F. S. Supper

A turkey supper opened the Girls' Friendly Society season last Monday night, with Rev. Mr. Morris giving a short talk. Helen Smith and Doris Hilton sang original songs, and games were played under the direction of Betty Deyermond.

Ask No-School Bell Be Rung Earlier

A suggestion that the no-school whistle be blown at 7 instead of 7:15 in the morning was made at the meeting of the Andover Parent-Teacher council Monday evening by some of the Vale members.

Mrs. George Brown was elected president, Mrs. Joseph Gagne vice-president, and Mrs. Harold Eastwood secretary-treasurer, with John Avery presenting the report of the nominating committee.

Stanley Schultz gave a talk on "Radio and Education" last night at the meeting of the Andover P. T. A.

Hundred Drivers To Lose Plates

In thirty days or so over 100 Andover motorists will have their registration plates removed unless they have by that time paid their excise tax on their cars. In accordance with a new law that went into effect this year the local tax collectors have to send to the registry the names of all those who do not pay their excises in 30 days, and this week Tax Collector James P. Christie had to send over 100 names into Boston. These car owners will receive notices from the registry and if they don't pay their bills in the ensuing 30 days, their plates will be removed by the registry officials.

Many have been the protests against the new law, but it has succeeded in hustling up collections. To date on the 1938 excise there is only about $4000 outstanding, whereas at the end of last year there was $5856 out. Total commitments to date have been $26,860 of which $1162 is not due until November 10, and of this amount $22,816 has been paid. From Friday through Monday $1165 was brought in.

Chairman Shepard On Flood Board

Selectman Howell F. Shepard has been named to a committee including Mr. Duffy of North Andover and Mayor Griffin of Lawrence to confer with army engineers regarding immediate flood control work, which may involve dredging of the Merrimack and Shawsheen to eliminate the silt of the 1936 flood which apparently makes future floods much more possible. A large hearing was held in Lawrence Monday at which selectman Shepard told the gathering that Andover was "fed up with it." Selectman Hardy and Service club president Francis E. Wilson were present.

Free Church Fair Thursday, Friday

A special feature of the Free Church Fair Thursday and Friday of next week will be an exhibit and sale of hand-loomed fabrics with matching wool and a large assortment of blankets and baby-carriage robes under the personal charge of Mrs. Wolcott of the Meansweave Shop in Lowell. By a special arrangement with the Curtis Uniform Shop, a person's own material may be made up with one fitting at reasonable cost.

Assisting Mrs. James Edgar at the apron table will be Mrs. Edmund Dunwoody, Mrs. Edwin E. Perry, Miss Clara Baldwin and Mrs. William Faulkner.

Fall styles in Merrimack stationery and novelties will be shown by Mrs. Edward Coupe, assisted by Mrs. Walter C. Donald and Mrs. Irving Rogers.

Tea will be served on Thursday, supper at 6:30 on Friday, the fair being open from 3 to 6 Thursday and 3 to 9 Friday.

The food table, in charge of Mrs. Jessie Campbell, Mrs. James Purcell, and Mrs. A. D. Maclaren will specialize in jellies, jams, etc., on Fowl Work From The W. P. A.

That was a new wrinkle on W. P. A. work that was unearthed by the chief of police, and it leads to the conclusion that if you really wanted to put some time into it, you could probably dig up some more "dirt" about the W. P. A. that the workers themselves could dig up if they really wanted to put some time into it. The Chief claimed Monday that he had had many complaints about chickens, farm produce and even loads of wood disappearing in those sections of the town where the Lawrence W. P. A. workers have been having a roaming holiday, and he even heard of a load of wood disappearing in a truck that had on its side: "City of Lawrence, W. P. A. Division."

Isn't it about time to do something about public works projects? We've seen these Lawrence men come into town, ostensibly to work on gravel farm-to-market roads, and it's really been shameful the way they have loafed. Some of you have seen them if you've driven along the out-of-the-way roads, and perhaps you have felt a little embarrassed that your driving along that road made it necessary for them to lean off their shovel and shuffle off the roadway. And to see something similar to it, you have only had to drive along North Main street where a large group of men, secure in their knowledge that they had been appointed by a politician and would be restored even if the foremen fired them, have just eaten up some $35,000 of the taxpayers' money doing practically nothing. That job could have been finished weeks ago if it had been done under private contract, and it would have been done at least $10,000 cheaper. There hasn't even been any attempt to do a fair day's work down there, despite the fact that there were plenty of trucks hanging around waiting to be filled. Somehow or other we must make these men realize that they have to work just as if they were on a private job. You can't blame it on the foremen, for it's the politicians behind these men that make them feel secure in loafing. And you can't blame the politicians, for we are the ones who put the politicians in there. Let's change it this November.

Siftings

We'll bet that if the government put the Lawrence W. P. A. men on a fruit picking project, they wouldn't work so hard on it.

Curley wants to abolish the Executive Council. If he gets elected Governor, we ought to abolish the governorship.

They're pouring cement on the state job on North Main street, and pretty soon the boys will go to a new resort for their vacation.

Romance Of Mexico In Academy Concert

The Romance of Mexico in Melody will be presented by Mercado's Mexican Tipica Orchestra, a remarkably picturesque group of musicians, in George Washington Hall, Friday evening, at 8:15, under the auspices of Phillips Academy.

With gay abandon the Ojeda Dancers will contribute to the program by presenting their authentic Mexican dances in beautifully embroidered costumes. No music so completely adapts itself to the art of dancing as the melodious strains and romantic tunes of the Latin American countries. From the almost unlimited list of theme subjects from which they have to draw, Luis y Josefina Ojeda have created a repertoire of strikingly artistic and attractive dances. This internationally known couple has filled extensive engagements in Porto Rico, Cuba, Mexico and the United States. The dashing brilliance, the absorbing intentness and the fiery enthusiasm which are so typical of the dance in the southern latitudes are well exemplified by the artistic work of the Ojedas.

In the long ago the beautiful songs of the poet-king David were accompanied by an instrument which was an early counterpart of the present day salterio. This ancient instrument which has undergone few changes through the centuries, possesses over 100 strings and is very difficult to play. Charming little Sarita Mercado is an accomplished artist on this unusual instrument and will be featured with it for solo work during the program of the orchestra.

Quite naturally, the Americans are not so familiar with the music of Mexico and the Latin American countries as with their own music. Nevertheless, all find it a distinct pleasure and a novel experience, and after seeing the program of Mercado's Orchestra, the memories of the haunting melodies and the artistry of the soloists linger with them for many days.

Tickets may be had at the ticket office, Tel. 720, at $1.50, $1.00 and 75 cents.

Historical Society To Have Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Andover Historical Society is called for next Thursday at 8:15, at Fieldstones, Main street, where there will be generous accommodations. Prof. Franklin C. Roberts of Boston University will speak upon the subject upon which he is an authority. Members may bring guests. Business will include the election of officers and the customary annual reports.

Holding the meeting at Fieldstones offers an opportunity to see another of Andover's early homes, fulfilling a desire of many members who enjoyed the recent pilgrimage to the Nicholas Holt farm at Mrs. Charles W. Ward's invitation.

Miss Sally Bodwell will welcome the group as hostess of Fieldstones, the old Jaquith home, an Andover name and landmark since 1804 and perhaps earlier. Little is known of its real story and if anyone can offer information both Miss Bodwell and the Historical Society will welcome such help.

Those arriving by auto will find easy entrance and ample parking space. Bus service will be available, as the regular Boston bus leaves Andover square at 8:19, with a stop near the Historical house, 97 Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Allicon of Morton street attended the silver wedding anniversary of Mrs. Allicon's sister, Mrs. Alfred Higgins, in Fall River Sunday. Mr. Higgins is well known locally by members of the Male Choir.

Fine Coats WITH MINK typify the magnificence of the New Era of Elegance. There is no fur richer, more desirable than Mink. Nothing... unless it's an all-mink coat... will give you such a feeling of being richly dressed as a fine coat of nubby boucle wool with luxurious trimming of genuine Eastern Mink. And, because we agree with Harper's Bazaar that "fur hats are chic" our millinery department displays a highly dramatic collection of hats WITH MINK.

Former Teacher Wed At Mendon Home

Miss Helen Louise Pickard, for the past two years teacher in the West Center School, became the bride of Gilbert James Cromie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Cromie of Abbot street, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Pickard, in Mendon last Saturday afternoon, with Rev. Kenneth L. Palmer, pastor of the West Boylston Baptist Church, performing the ceremony.

The bride wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory satin, trimmed with seed pearls. Her ivory tulle veil was floor length and was held in place with a bow of sweetheart roses. Her maid of honor, Miss Marjorie Pickard, wore romance blue faille taffeta, princess style, with matching velvet headdress and slippers.

The little flower girl, Suzanne Terry of Amesbury, wore a floor length dress of pink taffeta laced with blue and she had pink and blue flowers in her hair.

The bride carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and baby's breath, her sister carried talisman roses, and the flower girl carried a basket of pink rose petals.

William Watson of this town was best man and the ushers were Sherman Boutwell and Herbert Pickard.

After a reception the couple left on a wedding trip. They will reside on Abbot street.

Punchard To Play At Winchester Saturday

The Punchard squad will play Winchester High away next Saturday afternoon. The local eleven has yet been undefeated after beating Danvers and Reading and playing a tie game with Concord last Saturday afternoon at the local field.

The tie was the first game it hasn't won since 1936.

The Concord boys held the Punchard lads to a 6-6 draw in a very closely-fought grid contest. Fields of Concord scored almost at the beginning of the first quarter, and Herb Muller, Punchard backfield star, took his cue shortly after that in the same period to score for the local eleven. After that, neither team threatened to score, until, near the end of the game, the Punchardites carried the pigskin down to the Concord 19-yard line, only to be held there by the Concord boys.

Muller, Towne, Haggerty, and Howe starred for Punchard in the backfield, and Brown, Gordon, Deyermond, McLaughlin, and Captain Paul McDonald, in the line.

News of Other Days

What You and Your Neighbors Were Doing in Days Gone By

Fifty Years Ago

The question of a street railway between Lawrence and Andover is being agitated, prominent men in both places having it under consideration.

William Poor has just finished a handsome milk wagon for Mr. Pellerin of Lawrence.

The number of pupils at Phillips Academy is so large that it has been necessary to add a new man on the corps of teachers.

George H. Poor and the local selectmen represented Andover at a meeting in Lawrence Tuesday to consider reimbursing the city of expenditures in rebuilding the bridges. Since most of the teams crossing the bridges are Lawrence teams, Andover was against paying for the repairs.

Twenty-five Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Chapin, who were married last Friday evening in Troy, N. Y., will take up their residence in Andover.

The house, barn and land at 130 Main street will be sold tomorrow by Auctioneer Rogers.

Clan Johnston is planning for an apron and necktie party which will take place on November 7.

Miss Alice M. Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Bell, left on Wednesday evening to take up work for the Y. W. C. A. in Cleveland.

Mrs. J. W. Crowe of North Main street left Tuesday to visit relatives in New York.

Ten Years Ago

Mrs. James Purcell of Elm street has returned to her home after spending a two weeks' vacation in Canada and Montpelier, Vt.

Henry J. Dolan of 32 Avon street is taking the Business Administration course at Bryant and Stratton.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Lannon who were married on October 1st have returned from their wedding trip and are living at 4 Burnham road.

The A. G. Butler Dye House have opened an office in the Meltzer building.

A Republican rally will be held in the Town Hall on Monday, the speakers to be Frank G. Allen, candidate for governor, Congresswoman Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, Senatorial Candidate B. Loring Young, and candidates for representative Thaxter Eaton and Atty. Arthur A. Thomson. There will be a moving picture on "Hoover, Master of Emergencies."

"MOUNTIES COULD NOT HAVE BEEN MORE EFFICIENT"

"I wish, if you know any of the local policeman, you would offer the thanks of a Canadian tourist for the splendid way in which they handled the emergency. I am sure that our own mounties could not have been more efficient, and that should be a compliment to any police force." Expressing his pleasure at the very courteous treatment accorded him and his party on their way back to Canada, Grant Deachman, who had been visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. James McMeekin on Salem street, wrote a very interesting note to his hostess in which he described the trip back through the devastation of Western Massachusetts. It took a whole day to get to Greenfield, via a back mountain road, and in the Greenfield hotel were a large number of people who had been waiting for two days to get through to Boston.

League Formulates Annual Program

The Andover League of Women Voters inaugurated its annual program with a luncheon meeting at the Andover Country Club Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Harold Rafton, presiding, spoke of the varied list of Study Groups and urged every member to consider the feasibility of joining at least one of the following groups:

Government and its Operation: "Taxation in Massachusetts," or "The Sales Tax"; Government and Town Affairs: "Know Your Town"; Government and Economic Welfare: "Public Welfare in Massachusetts"; Government and Child Welfare: "Juvenile Delinquency"; Government and Foreign Policy: "American Foreign Policies for Peace or War?"; Legislative Committee: "Legislation for State and Federal Support"; "Safeguarding of Constitutional Rights to Freedom of Speech, Assembly and Press"; State Program Discussion.

Following luncheon, the ladies had the pleasure of listening to an address by Mr. Herbert B. Ehrmann, Boston lawyer, who is active in the Old South Forum and the newly organized "New England Town Meeting." Mr. Ehrmann said in part, "It is necessary to use those rights given us by democracy, to preserve Democracy. Freedom of speech is one of the fundamental rights of democracy. We are in danger of destroying our own liberties to keep others from doing so. Massachusetts has held its liberties through many crises; there is no need to commit suicide to retain them now."

Abbot Academy Notes

The Yearbook staff for 1939 was announced by the Principal at the Tuesday morning chapel service as follows: Editor-in-Chief, Carol Parker; Business Manager, Lloyd Pierce; Assistant Business Manager, Jeanne Waugh of Andover; Literary Editors: Mary Woodman, Audrey Rugg; Art Editors: Barbara Bobst, Elizabeth Scanlan, and Constance Smith, Elizabeth Travis was elected school song leader. On Saturday evening there will be a program of informal entertainment in Davis Hall. Dr. Raymond Calkins of Cambridge, will speak at the Sunday evening Vesper Service. Friends of the school are invited to attend in Abbot Hall at 7:30.

On Friday, October 28, the Countess of Listowel will speak on current political affairs. This will be her second visit to Abbot Academy, the first having been in 1936. The Countess is Hungarian by birth, her father having been an official in the old Austro-Hungarian Empire. She is a graduate of the University of Budapest and of the London School of Economics, a distinguished writer and speaker on politics, and wife of William Hare, Earl of Listowel, who is a member of the British Labor Party, though she herself is a member of the Conservative Party. In June 1935 she was asked to present her views on the Balkan situation to a special committee of investigation of the British House of Commons. Prior to this, in 1932, she discussed the Austro-Hungarian problem before the Royal Institute of International Affairs. Recently arrived from England, there is no doubt that her penetrating interpretation of the crises and her comments on the recent European events will be most enlightening.

The Countess will speak in Davis Hall at 8 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend. The admission fee of fifty cents may be paid at the door. Seats will not be reserved.

Among the local people enjoying the Harvard-Army game last Saturday were Irving Whitcomb, Chief George A. Dane, and David and Gordon Coutts.
