WPA Workers Dropped Here

A number of local W. P. A. men were laid off this week on orders from the federal headquarters. It has been impossible to learn just how many received discharge slips, but yesterday it was rumored about town that as many as thirty had been dropped. Several of the men dropped into welfare headquarters yesterday. Some of the slips gave such reasons as "Unwilling to work" and they were apparently made out by timekeepers. It is understood that this is part of a nationwide cutting down on W. P. A.

With several of the mills picking up, local conditions look good. However, it will be necessary for the finance committee to transfer a sum from the reserve fund to the welfare account because of the heavy demands during the first half of the year. Of the $27,000 appropriated $15,878 had been spent through June, and in the early summer a large bill of around $2500 had to be paid to the city of Lawrence. Expenditures have gone down since then, however. For cash and groceries in April the weekly expenditure was $550, in June $560, September $167, and last week $200.

Christ Church Fair On December First

All those who are planning to attend the supper at Christ Church bazaar on December 1, are asked to get their tickets beforehand if possible, as they are to be limited. Supper will be served from 5:30 to 7:00 o'clock and is in charge of the Girls' Friendly Society, Mrs. Walter Howe, chairman.

The bazaar starts at 2 in the afternoon and there will be various booths of interesting things for sale. Movies will provide the entertainment in the afternoon for the children and there will also be another showing in the evening.

The famous Christ Church mince-meat will be for sale, and anyone desiring it before the bazaar, for Thanksgiving, may procure it by telephoning Andover 1167.

The Grab bag this year will be in the form of a fishpond and will be in charge of Miss Laura Marland, assisted by Miss Helen Smith and Miss Ruth Saunders. This table will be sponsored by the Sunday school.

Modern Architecture At Addison Gallery

"A house within a house" is one of the impressive innovations of modern architecture now on exhibition at the Addison Gallery until November 27. Designed so that the owner can have complete control of the temperature and humidity in this scientifically modern home, William Lescaze's plan of a steel and masonry outer shell with an inner shell of wooden frame makes it possible for a duplication of North Carolina weather in Tuxedo Park, New York.

Another outstanding accomplishment of the modern architecture is the illusion of spaciousness in even the smallest home, achieved by replacing the conventional fixed partitions by sliding or folding doors, curtains, or screenlike walls. The extensive use of full length windows and glass bricks increases this effect and widens the breach between the new scientific architecture and the buildings of our grandparents. Provisions for outdoor living are also indicative of our changed conditions, and in these example homes the garden becomes a very real part of the living room, and as in the house designed for Mrs. G. L. Miller by Richard J. Neutra even the pool is inside the house.

Frank Lloyd Wright's house on the side of a ravine adroitly harmonizes with its unique setting and like an organic form "grows its structure out of conditions." The walls are the same stone as the ravine and the balconies recall the form of the ledges below. His characteristic feeling for materials is shown to advantage, and his use of light for effect is continued on the outside where a concrete trellis from house to rocky slope creates an interesting play of light and shadow on the driveway beneath.

Among the most familiar of the modern homes on exhibition, are the models designed for Life magazine, economically planned, with an eye to their investment value, to best meet annual incomes ranging from $2,000 to $10,000. City planning, which humanizes physical surroundings, produces the ideal system of large super-blocks, often diagonally placed, with a minimum of through street allowing each family to enjoy the greatest amount of air, light, and view without the disadvantage of cut up lawns and garden space.

This modern planning for a maximum of light, air, and space at minimum cost is not restricted to dwelling houses alone, but has been applied to schools, offices, factories, and hospitals, and the photographs of examples include the Washington Triangle of Government Buildings showing the achievement in usefulness and monumental appearance, The Empire State Building and Radio City in New York, and the Penguin Pool in the London Zoo. All buildings demonstrate the three conditions of Modern Architecture, Firmness, Fitness, and Delight, the keynote of the exhibition. —Betty Buchan.

A. V. I. S. Has Annual Meeting

The Andover Village Improvement Society had its annual meeting on Monday evening with the annual reports again showing considerable work having been done toward beautifying the town.

The year's work was summed up in the secretary's report as follows:

The two outstanding accomplishments of the A. V. I. S. for the past year are the resetting of the capstones and repairs on the wall on the east side of the "Little Common" in Elm square and the placing of a sign near the junction of Main street and Hidden road to redirect traffic at that point—thereby removing a dangerous hazard at the narrow entrance to Hidden road from Main street.

The care of the cutting of the grass at "Rogers Dell" was added to the responsibilities of the Plot Committee. This committee with Mrs. Arthur Boutwell at its head, have seen to it that the nine plots under their care have been properly kept up during the summer.

The list of these beauty spots follows:

Rogers Dell—Corner of School street and Lupine road becoming more beautiful each year.

The Manse Green—at the junction of Central and School streets.

The Ledges—at the junction of Main street and Hidden road.

The Triangle—at the junction of Hidden and Porter roads, opposite Mr. Lewis'.

Upland Green—at Summer street and Upland road.

N. B. That no tree was planted in the center of it this summer as voted at the meeting a year ago. Possibly the one who had this responsibility sympathized with the youngsters who wish to use it for a ball ground. Possibly the police are favoring the boys too, as they fail to co-operate with Mrs. Boutwell who is trying so hard to keep the place sightly. Note: Here is a wonderful opportunity for someone to donate land for a play ground near that location.

The "Little Common" in Elm square.

The Precipice, or in other words the retaining wall of the Henry Barnard Estate. The planting at the top made a good showing for the first time this summer, with the vines trailing down over the sides, a dream of Miss Lincoln's beginning to materialize.

The Shawsheen Green—junction of North Main and Union streets, part of which was given by the late George Hussey.

The Silver Leaf Triangle—junction of Shawsheen and Stevens roads, added last year.

The Indian Ridge Committee have a tremendous undertaking to

Selectmen Visit Liquor Places

The selectmen made a surprise visit on Monday evening to all the licensed liquor places in town for an inspection on which will be based their decisions as to license awards for next year. The first group of license applications are advertised in the legal notice department of today's Townsman, the hearing to be held December 5.

Speculation has been rife about town as to which of the seven delicensed hard liquor victuallers will win the three available soft liquor licenses. It has been learned, however, that there is a possibility that some of the present soft liquor places may fail to secure renewals, thus making it possible for some of the hard liquor licensees to stay in business with the beer licenses.

Firemen's Ball Next Wednesday

The annual firemen's ball comes next Wednesday evening, with a fine program of entertainment promised to precede the dance. The firemen this year have the use of the Memorial auditorium and the gymnasium by special arrangements with the school department.

There are 14 people in the entertainment cast, with everything in the way of variety. The master of ceremonies will be Gary Webb, also a dancer, who has been with Shubert and Earl Carroll. Dobbs and Ray will provide acrobatics, specializing in hand balancing feats. Madeline Mayo, beautiful blond, who is known as Jean Harlow's second, will sing. Specialty dancing will be provided by the Woodlock sisters, and accordion selections will be played by Bonnie Brooks.

Williams and Company will feature impersonations of musical instruments and other things. Two women, Dunedin and Donald, will provide comedy, singing, talking and dancing, with Miss MacDonald playing the bagpipes. Tommie and Mary, boy and girl, fresh from New York night clubs, will give a dancing act.

Mrs. Robert E. Brown of Morton street was among those exhibiting gourds at the Autumn Flower Show and Gourd Festival in Boston.

Patriotic Groups Mark Armistice

Andover's patriotic organizations held their customary observance of Armistice day last week. Thursday night the Legion's free public dance was held, with exercises late in the evening. Friday morning the children of the town were guests of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at a free movie at the Playhouse. The Legion, V. F. W., and British War Veterans joined in a procession to the cemetery and exercises, with the latter group taking part in a Lawrence parade in the afternoon. In the evening the Legion heard M. Lawrence Shields talk on Americanism at their annual banquet at the Country Club.

Chaplain Frederick Cheever was in charge at the cemetery, assisted by Rev. Matthew McDonald and Rev. Donald H. Savage. Mr. Cheever read the roll-call of the dead at the end of the banquet. Commander Thomas Dea gave the welcome, toastmaster Stafford A. Lindsay spoke for the Red Cross, County vice-commander Arthur Coleman spoke, and an entertainment program was presented by Rep. Louis J. Scanlon.

So This Is Football

That Methuen fracas the other day was not a healthy situation, and if anything like it happened again Punchard should not hesitate to sever its relations with the Searles high school. That would of course be an unfortunate occurrence, for the trouble seems to have been caused not by the students of either school but rather by the hoodlum element in both communities. For lest we forget where the thing really started, it should be pointed out that three years ago when the game was played in the neighboring town, Methuen had plenty of trouble with some of our boisterous residents. Naturally, we cannot criticize Methuen too much for kicking over the traces here in Andover.

First of all, one concession should be made. Let them have the goalposts; today that is part of the game. Harvard, which has had plenty of opportunity to have its goalposts taken, tried several years ago using iron posts embedded in concrete, but that didn't work, either, and today the university merely puts up inexpensive wooden posts, fully expecting in the first few games of the season to see them come down. After all, with Gene Lovely at the helm, the chances are that not many goalposts will be sacrificed at Punchard, and as far as Methuen is concerned, one victory in 15 years would seem to be sufficient cause for taking the goal posts and parading them through the streets.

But the rest of the picture cannot be condoned in any way. No one likes Andover to have the appearance at night of an armed camp, with motorists being stopped to see if distraction-bent Methuenites were on board, young people being ordered off the streets, etc. This sort of trouble must stop; if it ever happens again, the two towns should promptly discontinue their football games with each other.

WHIST PARTY

The Free church Men's club will hold a whist party Monday evening. The annual V. F. W. Turkey whist will be held tonight in the post rooms.

Gives Talk On

Rise Of Dictators

About one hundred members of the League of Women Voters enjoyed a luncheon meeting at Fieldstones on Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Harold R. Rafton, presiding.

The guest speaker, Kendrick N. Marshall, an instructor at Harvard University, was introduced by Mrs. John S. Barss, Andover chairman of the Foreign Relations Study Group.

Speaking on "The European Situation and America's Foreign Policy," Mr. Marshall gave a scholarly interpretation of the degeneration of International relations since 1931; the break-down of Democratic leadership in the world in contrast to the co-operation of the dictator nations; the steadily declining prestige of Great Britain and the unscrupulous machinations of governing cliques in Europe.

Sports Exhibit At Abbot Gallery

A medley of sporting and recreational pastimes in paint and bronze is offered to local sport fans and art enthusiasts in an exhibition now in progress at the John-Esther Art Galleries at Abbot academy. It will close December 8th. It is the first exhibit of a new society of American Sporting Art, and it will shortly be routed to New York city.

The society was established to interpret the national interest in terms of Fine Art, by artists trained in the sport they depict and also an able craftsman in his profession. Big game hunting, wild fowling, trout angling, polo, racing, big game fishing, sailing and yachting, dog show, fox hunting, prize fighting and skiing.

GRANGE MINSTRELS

A very fine cast is working hard to make the minstrel show to be held in Grange Hall on Thursday and Friday, December 1 and 2, a success. The cast is rehearsing under the direction of Charles Jacobs of Lawrence. Arthur R. Lewis has charge of the tickets. Harry Dawson of Tewksbury will be the interlocutor.

Andover Grange will meet in Grange Hall on Tuesday evening, November 22, at 8:00. Election of officers for the year will follow the regular business meeting. A large attendance is desired.

push through. The damage done by the hurricane of September 21 must be taken care of. Many beautiful trees have fallen in the reservation, but even so, the place will not look too terribly barren and devastated after it is cleared, because of the young growth which was planted in 1928. At that time 3000 pines were set out, upon the recommendation of John Augus and under his supervision.

The signs which mark the Indian Ridge reservation have become weather worn and need replacing.

"Samson's Hawkey" is still standing in spite of the hurricane, which proves to us that we need not worry about the safety of allowing it to remain standing. We can let it enjoy its old age a while longer. The trees and shrubs planted about the Public Library last year are doing well.

The work of the society, as usual, has been carried on by four committees, made up of members of the board of trustees—namely, Plot, Indian Ridge, Tree, and Rogers Dell.

Three meetings of the trustees have been held during the year, the president, Mrs. Frank T. Carlton, presiding.

Respectfully submitted, Harriet L. Holmes, Clerk

Turkey Time Marches On

Next Monday at about 3:00 P. M. the best and plump-est of the birds in the Thanksgiving Parade will stop off at the J. E. Greeley Co. store.

Last Monday we visited the Turkey Man and placed our order for four hundred and twenty No. 1 grade turkeys. We gave our order early for two reasons: first, to be sure of getting the pick of the crop, and second, to get the exact sizes our customers want. The weight of these turkeys will be as follows: From 7 to 8 lbs; from 9 to 10 lbs.; from 11 to 12 lbs.; from 13 to 14 lbs.; from 15 to 16 lbs.; from 17 to 18 lbs.; and from 19 to 20 lbs. In the latter will be six fancy show birds from 22 to 25 lbs. each.

Many people have been asking what the price of turkey will be. No dealer knows at the present time, as the wholesale price will not be set until Monday, November 21.

We are taking orders all this week at 37c per pound. If the price of turkeys goes down next Monday we will lower our price accordingly. If the price goes up we will fill every order that is on our books at no advance in price. You take no chances when you place your turkey order with us.

Here is what you get for the confidence you place in us to select your Thanksgiving Turkey:

You get the pick of the flock.

You get the exact size bird your family requires.

At the present time, over half of all the turkeys we have ordered have been spoken for, and by Wednesday some of these sizes may be all gone.

Southern Turkeys such as those from Texas or Kentucky will sell for about 33c per pound.

We shall also have our usual complete supply of "fixings" such as: Nuts, Layer Figs, Table Raisins, Dates, Brandied Mince Meat, Hard Candies, Chocolates, Plum, Fig and Date Puddings, Cranberry Sauce, Etc.

Punchard To Play

Johnson Thursday

Punchard will play the Johnson high grid squad at the local play-stand next Thursday morning, Thanksgiving day. The kick-off will be at ten o'clock. Last season Punchard beat Johnson 13 to 0.

Last Friday afternoon, Armistice Day, Methuen beat Punchard 12-0 for the first time in fifteen years. While Methuen fought enthusiastically to break down the decade and a half tradition, the Punchard boys seemed to lack the pep that they displayed in some of the previous games.

About the middle of the first quarter, Hewson of Methuen intercepted one of Doug Howe's passes on Methuen's 40-yard line and ran 60 yards for a touchdown.

At the very beginning of the second quarter, Ralph of Methuen scored the second touchdown of the game on a short march to scoring position that had been started at the end of the first quarter.

Twice after that, once in the third period, and again in the fourth, Punchard threatened to score. Both times, however, Methuen intercepted and succeeded in getting the ball out of scoring territory. In the third period Punchard got as far as Methuen's 7-yard line, and in the fourth period Punchard reached Methuen's 2-yard line. Both teams did a great deal of punting and Methuen played mainly a defensive game.

Doug Howe played outstandingly, with Alfred White and George Chandler also starring for Punchard in the backfield. Warren Deyermund and George Brown, Jr., deserve praise for their work in the line.

Briggs-Allen Notes

The Briggs-Allen School was favored by having Susan Bacon Ripley give a violin recital for the pupils. Before her playing she gave an excellent talk about the way a violin is made. Miss Ripley has studios in Providence and Cambridge but is in Andover for pupils on Monday.

Miss Natali, a teacher of Choral Reading and Elocution from Lawrence, visited the school and told stories to the children which were much enjoyed.

Book Week is being observed throughout all the grades. Libraries have been visited and librarians have shown choice books to the group. Posters are on display at the school. Friday, a prize for the best one will be given.

The Christmas recess starts on December 21, with special exercises at the South Church.

Townsmania

It was midnight after the Methuen game. In the police station were gathered about six or seven officers plus two of the selectmen. Soon another officer came in, sat down in a chair and promptly dozed off. Len Saunders unfolded his long form, walked into the locker room, and presently came out again with a firecracker. Shep took the firecracker and Len's cigar, throwing the resultant combination under the officer's chair. When the bang came, the officer jumped and rushed headlong for the locker room. Soon he emerged, wiping his mouth, and said, "Damn it! I nearly swallowed my chew!"
