Large Audience At "Book Panorama"

In spite of poor weather, a large audience enjoyed Mrs. Eleanor Brooks Gutterson's talk "Book Panorama" at the November Club on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Gutterson surveyed current literature, fiction and non-fiction, mentioning outstanding volumes and giving with sympathetic understanding a brief analysis of each.

The Dramatic Department of the November Club meets on Friday, December 9, with Mrs. Field, 5 Wolcott avenue. Attention is called to the hour of the meeting, namely 2:30, that there may be time to read a complete play.

The Art Department will meet at the home of Mrs. George Sanborn, Johnson Hall, on Monday, December 12, at 3 o'clock.

The Literature Department will meet with Mrs. Emma Gould Carter, 1 Punchard avenue, on Wednesday afternoon, December 14. Miss Twichell will tell of "Rome at Christmas."

School Board Votes To Continue Married Teacher Policy

A policy against the employment of married women teachers, adopted in 1929, was written into the school board by-laws Tuesday evening, thus overthrowing a vote of the special rules revision committee. Five of the special committee, which includes some school board members and some teachers, were in favor of not including it in the by-laws.

Of the school board six voted to include it, one voted to retain it as a policy but not as a by-law, while one spoke against having it either as a policy or a by-law. The argument advanced was that merit should be the only criterion, regardless of marital state, while in opposition to this the opinion was given that there are just as good unmarried teachers ready to replace any teacher who does get married. The rule does not effect those married before 1929.

WELFARE MEETING

The General Welfare Club will hold a special meeting tonight at eight at the home of President Joseph Dennis on 8 Maple avenue.

Shawsheen Women's Club Has Meeting

The Shawsheen Village Women's Club observed Guest Night Monday evening in Balmoral Hall with Mrs. William Kurth presiding, and Mrs. Henry Simmers in charge of the program.

The subject of the lecture by Ralph C. Wildes was "Around America with a Color Camera," and these beautiful pictures ranged from White Mountain scenes south to North Carolina and Florida and across the country to the Rockies and San Francisco. Mrs. Laurence Kain, violinist of Lawrence, and Joseph Balsamo, pianist, gave pleasing selections.

Board Refuses To Declare Emergency

The board of selectmen declined on Monday night to declare a snow removal emergency at the request of the public works department, stating that it would be time enough to declare the emergency when it arose. The declaration would allow the department to incur expenditures not provided for in the appropriation. It was the wish of the selectmen that no money be spent unless it was absolutely necessary.

The finance committee granted the board a transfer from the reserve fund of $2200, instead of the $2700 requested, this to take care of the excess expenditures already incurred. On Monday but $28.28 remained in the augmented appropriation.

Some complaints have been heard from residents of Pasho and Bartlet streets where plows even turned back part of the grass plot between roadway and sidewalk.

Eastern Star Names Officers

The annual election of the local chapter of the Eastern Star was held Tuesday evening with the following being chosen: Worthy Matron, Mrs. Florence Thomson; Worthy Patron, Mr. Alex Thomson; Associate Matron, Ruth Goff; Associate Patron, Albert V. Smith; Secretary, Bertha Cuthill; Treasurer, Mrs. Frances Wade; Conductress, Beatrice Goff; Associate Conductress, Mrs. Janet Conway; Trustee of Permanent Fund for 3 years, Mrs. Mabel Wadman.

School Committee Considers Closing Two More Schools

There are nine people in town who will receive a good many telephone calls in the coming month, and most of the calls will be from West Andover, for on Tuesday night the school board finance and advisory committee recommended that the North and West Center schools be closed. In order to allow more time for study, the matter was laid on the table for a month.

Strong opposition is expected from the affected districts, with support expected from those who wish school costs kept down, or rather to come down. The sub-committee estimated an annual saving of $4234 on a present annual cost of $7158. It further advanced as a reason for the change, that better educational facilities would be opened to the children if they were transported to the Indian Ridge and the Shawsheen schools as proposed. At present there is one teacher in the North school, Miss Mary Collins, and she has the difficult job of teaching six different grades. At West Center there are four grades, with two teachers.

The total cost at West Center at present, including teachers, janitor, heating, etc., is $5081.44, and at the North school $2076.69. Instead of three full-fledged teachers as at present, it is proposed to retain only one at $1800 and a cadet at $750. This would not necessarily mean dropping any of the present staff in those schools, since it is usual every year to have at least two teachers drop off as the hand of Father Time or Cupid beckons, and the present West Parish teachers would be transferred to the vacancies. At West Center at present

Help Give Christmas Baskets!

Christmas baskets will be packed for the needy this year if you, the townspeople, will help, for you are the ones who give them. The Red Cross nursing committee acts only as your agent in packing and distributing the baskets.

Barrels will be placed in the stores for your donations of staple foods, such as, potatoes, vegetables, fruits, cereals, tea and coffee, and canned goods, such as, soups, vegetables, fruits, fruit juices, canned meats and baked beans.

Donations of money, much needed to buy meat and other perishables, should be sent to Mr. Philip Ripley, 7 Abbot street.

Further information may be secured from Mrs. Roscoe E. Dake, who is in charge of packing.

Preaching Mission In Baptist Church

A preaching mission will be conducted by the Baptist Church December 13 to 16. This week of special services will be under the leadership of the pastor Rev. Samuel Overstreet, assisted by guest preachers and the three Baptist choirs. The chief theme of the program will be evangelism, and the visiting preachers have been chosen because of their outstanding skill in presenting the message of the church for young and old. Tuesday night Rev. Vaughan Dabney, D.D., dean of Andover-Newton Theological School, will speak, followed by Rev. Edwin B. Dolan, Field Secretary of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention on Wednesday, Rev. Ambrose M. Bailey, D.D., First United Baptist Church, Lowell, on Thursday, and Rev. W. T. Murphy, Jr., First Baptist Church, Reading, on Friday. The opening night, Tuesday, the Andover Male Choir will sing. On the remaining evenings of the series the three Baptist choirs will render special music.

The BALMORAL SPA
has outdone itself this year in its selection of inexpensive gifts for young and old.

Why Not Distribute the Work?

How would you like to work 94 hours in one week? How would you like to feel that in Andover there is only one truck driver? Yes, really only one.

We still have an unemployment situation here in Andover, with many men, including truck drivers, out of work and some of them being supported by the town welfare department. And yet in the week of the recent snowstorm, one man was employed by the Board of Public Works a total of 94 hours, or pretty nearly 14 hours a day for seven days, at 62 and a fraction cents an hour. In other words, with several truck drivers idle, he was given the equivalent of two men's pay in one week. And there were other cases, not so extreme as this, but even working seventy or so hours a week at a time when others could be hired seems an injustice to the unemployed and an injustice to the taxpayers whose money is going into large weekly stipends for a few men PLUS welfare funds for the men not hired. One of the regular employees worked his full week in his own department and then was given 27 hours extra on snow removal. Now snow shoveling isn't a job that demands the services of an expert; anyone can do it. Little wonder that one of the Board members refused to sign that payroll.

The unfortunate part of the whole thing is that the public works department knows that the welfare department wants to save the town money by putting these unemployed on the extra snow work. Some of the other town departments too could ease up on the burden this way instead of giving the money to men who don't need it as badly as the unemployed family men. In addition, these men who do get all the overtime work are given meal tickets—it's hard to believe, but honest, they do get their night meals on the town, with pretty strong suspicion being felt that cigarettes go on the tickets, too.

Can't we have these things changed? Isn't it time to put an end to this disgusting conduct of our town affairs?

A Real Privilege

Sixteen local establishments were awarded liquor licenses by the Board of Selectmen last week, and four who failed to get their licenses will evidently have to go out of business as far as their sale of liquor is concerned. The sixteen fortunate ones will, it is hoped, endeavor to conduct their business in the next two years in such a way as to make unnecessary the drastic action that the voters had to take this year. For it's not so much a license as a privilege that has been granted them, a privilege that can be taken away by the public if the public feels it has been abused. A person who is given an automobile license is given the privilege of driving a car along the public highways, but that license does not bring with it a freedom to do anything detrimental to the public good. No more does a liquor license: it merely allows these men to sell liquor; it does not allow them to sell it in such a way as to have any bad effect on the public.

To be still in business two years from now these men only have to be able to answer "Yes" to this question: "Am I conducting this business in the way that the Town of Andover deserves to have it conducted?"

Communications

And, Oh, Yes!

(Ed. Note: Because this communication covers so many points, the editor is taking the liberty of answering each as it is presented. The statements in parentheses below are the editor's.)

Reading your editorial of December 1st I find no fault with your criticism, for I feel it is an editor's duty. But, dear friend, criticize where it is needed and please find a reliable source for your information.

Let me explain a few facts in the case, as I find them from first hand. First, you stated that the State paid 50 cents or lower, for sand delivered as far as Haverhill, which is not true. That price was for sand delivered in and around the Andovers. (If delivered on the state road in North Andover, that sand wasn't far from Haverhill. If "around North Andover" it might have been in Haverhill. However, since our Board of Public Works supplies Andover, the main point of the editorial, that Andover was paying $1.20 or so as against the state's 50 cents for sand delivered in Andover, is indisputable.)

This was possible because of the large amount of sand delivered in a short time. By the way, B. P. W. just purchased a quantity of sand for about that price. (Fine, and now that it's been found that sand can be bought for 50 cents, let's not waste $1.20 on it.)

Secondly, anyone that knows anything about construction machinery knows that the work the Red Mike did could not be done by trucks. Let us face the facts, and we find that the Mike was not called out until the last minute, as were the hired road plows. By that time, it was almost too late to do satisfactory work. (If it was just last-minute work that they did, it was a pretty big bill. If the Red Mike does work truck plows can't do, what do the other towns do that haven't had one of these things wished on them? And is it worth seven dollars an hour, plus salary for a driver and helper, as compared with $3.50 and $5.00 for trucks with drivers and helpers? The editor learned this week that the $7.00 doesn't even include the fuel for the Big Mike.)

Third: Let us remember that an early storm must be taken care of because of the possibility of another storm tying up all traffic. (The Townsman feels that storms should be taken care of; it doesn't feel that money should be wasted on unnecessary clearing.)

Fourth: May I ask the editor if he ever sat in the B. P. W. office, shortly after a storm, and heard the complaints of irate citizens, and good Taxpayers' Association members are many, because certain pet walks are not sanded, streets and private ways are not plowed, sometimes just after a few flakes have drifted earthward, and snow is not removed from their favorite parking place? (The editor certainly has sat in the office after storms, and has nothing but sympathy for whoever has to take the numerous calls. But does the writer feel that the answer should be "Yes" on "certain pet walks," and "private ways"? The Town certainly should not be forced to pay for work done on private ways, should it? Certainly a polite refusal should be given when the town in town meetings assembled has set a definite figure for an appropriation.)

Fifth: The cost of proper sanding, and removing snow, is nothing compared to possible loss of life and damage to property. Note, the loss of one life, a personal injury and damaged autos, as a result of insufficient money. (Saving life and property is never an excuse for wasting money; they can be saved by spending money just where needed. Mike and $1.20 sand will save no more lives than trucks and 50 cent sand.)

Sixth: If we are to perform these necessary services, let us spend a few dollars for proper equipment, and elect officials who are interested in the work, not in the honor of holding office. (We're with you on that.)

And last, but not least, may I criticize the editor, just a bit. (Go ahead) Why not censure the selectmen for not following the wishes of two town meetings, on the matter of purchasing land for a playground at the West Center school? (Maybe they knew the school board might close the school, or perhaps the owner wouldn't come down to the town's price. The selectmen would not want to incur an overdraft.)

How about the fire laddies, who haven't had a real fire drill since Hector was a pup, and can't raise a ladder to the first floor, without Shep's supervision? (They can, too; we saw them.)

How about the brave officers of the law, who smash cars and play with lost piggies, while speeders race along the Lowell road, and petty thievery is everywhere. (Now, boys, no more pigs, see!)

And, Oh! Yes, how about the School Committee (we knew this was coming) letting out nice jobs at a fat salary, supposedly on bids, to persons not capable of holding them. (This possibly refers to the bus driving contract, but this was an appointment, and not even "supposedly on bids." The driver has proved very capable. The writer should refer to editorial in May 5th issue, in which the editor suggested that the contract should be put out on bids.)

Or expending sums of money for medical examinations and care, for which we get nothing but a note sent to the parents' home? (Neither the school physician nor the school nurse is paid for giving treatment to children; that remains the parents' duty. They are paid for detecting symptoms of illness or other defects which may have a bad effect on the child and by contagion on other children. To give treatment would cost plenty.)

Or hiring a little local talent for school teachers? (The writer ought to look up his facts; he would find that in the last few years there have been very, very few out-of-town teachers named, and that all Andover potential teachers qualified to teach with two years' recent experience have been appointed. In addition, a number of local young ladies without experience have been given an opportunity to prove their worth under the cadet system.)

In closing, dear Editor, may I propose that instead of slashing necessary services, in order to save a few pennies, let you and I, and all of us strive to have our town affairs run in a more economical way by electing interested town officials, and by not cutting our budget, but by spending our money in a more businesslike manner. (Editor and writer end on a note of entire harmony.)

Musicians' Club To Hear Talk

The Andover Musicians' Club has arranged an unusual program for its December meeting. Mr. Hugh Miller, an experienced musician who is doing work for a Musical Doctorate at Harvard University, is to speak and will illustrate his talk with piano music, which he has chosen to play instead of the organ. His speech will center around the great 17th century Italian organist and composer Frescobaldi, and he will develop the musical background of the period as well as the form and style of Frescobaldi's own music. He will also illustrate the influence of Frescobaldi, particularly on Froberger and indirectly on Bach. This program will give the members an opportunity to hear some fresh views on how to listen to music and what to listen for. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, December 14, at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Roy Spencer, 21 Phillips street.

Children Aided By Christmas Seal Sale

Showing the intense interest in Christmas Seals among patients at the Essex Sanatorium there is now on display at the entrance to the Sanatorium, a large Christmas Seal poster made by the patients with the assistance of the student occupational therapist. This poster, which is an enlargement of the 1938 Christmas Seal, was made as a special project in the art class of the Occupational Therapy Department at the Sanatorium.

Tuberculous patients are proving their desire to help others avoid the disease which has attacked them, by purchasing many of the Seals. Perambulatory patients, wearing costumes of distinction, sell the seals among visitors and patients alike. Last year $138.76 was raised among the patients alone.

A portion of the funds from Christmas Seals enables children to be sent to health camps. Many of the patients have children of camp age, and knowing the benefits derived from camp life, are urging the whole-hearted support of the Seal Sale.

This is the time of year to set aside funds which will enable more children to receive camp care next summer. The amount of money raised in Andover during December 1938 will help to determine the number of local children who will be able to attend camp during the summer of 1939.

Six Injured In

Accident In Fog

Monday morning's fog brought with it one serious accident in which six persons were injured on South Main street when two cars crashed head-on in the center lane. Five young ladies, all from South Lawrence, being transported to their work in Boston in the car of John Moriarty of Shawsheen Village, were injured, one receiving a serious head injury which at last reports was coming along satisfactorily. The driver of the other car just received a scratch.

Both ambulances were pressed into service to bring the injured to the hospital.

Nervous Suitor: "Sir, er—that is, I would like to—er—that is, I have been going with your daughter for five years."

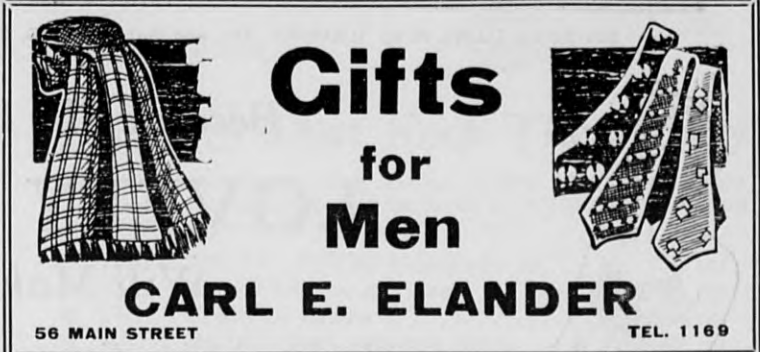

Father: "Well, whadda ya want—a pension?"

Inspect Dairy

Three members of the school board visited the Wild Rose Dairy on Lowell street to inspect the plant. This dairy, operated by Sidney P. White, has supplied the school milk for the past year and also two years ago. At the meeting Tuesday, the finance and advisory committee recommended that the contract be renewed, since the dairy was found to be spotlessly clean and since frequent tests during the year had shown the milk to be above the specifications set by the board.

Andover Adult Singing Group Open To All

The Studio Art class of the Andover Evening Study Groups has been full since December 1. So many others wished to join the group that the Art Department has arranged for a larger class which will overflow into another room. This section, too, is now full and further registration in this course is impossible.

Registration is still open in the other thirteen courses to be held at Phillips Academy from January 9 to March 9, 1939. A form of expression which should prove as exciting and as popular as that in the art class will be found in the group which will meet at eight o'clock on Wednesdays to sing together simple, yet good, music which they all like. They will start out singing well known Gilbert and Sullivan choruses, negro spirituals, and similar music, and go on to other music chosen by the group.

Almost everybody likes to sing and Mr. Whittredge Clark, who will direct this course, hopes that everyone, whether or not he has special musical knowledge or the ability to read notes, will feel free to join. Instead of being a class, it is expected that this will be a friendly gathering of people with a similar interest. The hour and a half of each meeting will be broken with a few minutes of rest and conversation in the middle.

The informality of the group should make it possible for everyone to enjoy himself while becoming more familiar with good music. This is an opportunity to do something yourself, in company with others, instead of listening to or watching someone else perform. Those who have tried it in the art class have found it so much fun that this course in singing was organized on the same principle.

Rector's Pageant

To Be Presented

Sunday evening, December 18, at 7:30 a Christmas pageant written by the Rev. Albert C. Morris and entitled "The Old, Old Story" will be presented at Christ Church.

The pageant is written in a series of five episodes with a prologue and epilogue.

The prologue opens with a candle procession by the Heavenly Host. The extinguishing of their lights by the Spirits of Sin and Darkness symbolizes the world in its darkness before Christ came. The episodes: Episode I, Scene I: Annunciation to Zacharias; Scene II, Fulfillment of the Promise; Episode II, Annunciation to Mary; Episode III, The Nativity; Episode IV, Presentation in the Temple; Episode V, Coming of the Wise Men.

The church choir under the direction of Mr. J. D. Newall will sing the chants and carols which are an important part of the pageant.

Woman's Union Of Church Elects

The annual meeting and Covered Dish Luncheon of the Woman's Union was held in the vestry of the West Church yesterday. After the usual business meeting which was presided over by Mrs. Todd, the Nominating Committee report was read by Mrs. Herbert Merrick as follows: President, Mrs. Henry Todd; Vice President and Social Committee Chairman, Mrs. Carl Stevens; Secretary, Mrs. Arthur Lewis; Treasurer, Mrs. William A. Trow; Neighborhood Committee, Mrs. Herbert Carter; Missionary Committee, Mrs. Herbert Merrick; Auditor, Miss Dora Ward.

MAY CLOSE SCHOOLS

are Mrs. Kenneth Hilton and Miss Louise Sherman.

The cost for teachers retained would be $2550. Then there would be an additional transportation charge totalling $373.80, the total cost being $2923.80 as against the old $7158.13. All the members will be furnished with cost sheets shortly.

A few years ago it was proposed that the North school be closed, there being only about ten pupils there then. However, there were meetings of protest from the residents of that section, and the school was kept open, its enrollment having more than doubled since.

At present most of the children in the two schools have to be transported, since West Andover is so spacious. Nearly all at the North School remain there for luncheon, and many of those at the West Center do also. The new plan would mean they'd be transported an additional mile or so.

The rearrangement would mean a much higher pupil per teacher average in the two other schools. At Indian Ridge at present there are only 16, 10, 12, 9, 13, and 6 in each of the six grades.

"Love Among The Students," Theme Of Adventurers' Play Tuesday

"Love among the Students" might be the theme song of the play being presented next Tuesday night at Memorial Auditorium by Andover's ever-ranging "Adventurers." Beginning with the sparkling "Candlelight" three years ago, the locale of which was the Vienna that was once gay and brilliant, the Adventurers have played on sets depicting London drawing rooms, Italian gardens, Ruritanian frontiers, or the nearer home, bright and flowery living-room of a house on Long Island. And in each case the plays were admired as much for the brilliant illusion and charming colours of the settings, as for the acting. Now the stage is set more sombrely. In a shabby little boarding house in Edinburgh, we shall follow during a period of four years, the lives of half a dozen young people, who are learning to know their professions, life and each other. At the end of the play we shall feel as though they were old friends; we shall be glad at the final resolving of their difficulties, the attainment of their ambitions, the reunion of their loves. The volatile Gilbert, played by Steven Whitney of the Andover faculty, the stolid and likeable John, played by Carl Gregg, the cynical French doctor, played by Clifford Emmons, make the lifelike human background for the touching love story of Charles, played by Bartlett Hayes, and Ann, the calm and beautiful New Zealand girl, played by Irene Morgan, who is a vital factor in Charles' success, but is willing to give him up to the shallow butterfly, Jill, played by Jane Herrick. This deep, unselfish affection of Charles and Ann does have its theme song—Shakespeare's "The Wind and the Rain," sung as they look out of the window at the pelting rain in the Edinburgh street. The haunting rhythm of the ancient melody, originally sung by the philosophical clown in "Twelfth Night" has in it the reflective, melancholy charm as well as the touches of humor of the play named after it.

PANSIES IN THE SNOW

Charles Keirstead of Morton street has long been well-known for his pansy gardens, but this year he surprised even himself. Over the week-end he found, in the snow, a number of pansies in full bloom, looking just as good as the more seasonable variety.

Launch Drive To Naturalize Aliens

A campaign to interest Andover's 400 non-citizens in becoming naturalized was launched Tuesday evening by the school board. Someone will be hired to make contact with the 400. At present Miss Mary Bailey is conducting a class of 19 adult aliens, evenings; some of them cannot read or write, while others have had considerable schooling. The state, which pays half the teacher's salary, has recommended hiring another to devote her time to the beginners, and this will be done.

Games and an entertainment program were enjoyed. Mr. Hacker was presented with a travelling case. There were 35 guests present.

TO HIRE NEW CADET

Employment of a cadet teacher for the Central Grammar schools was authorized at a meeting of the school board Tuesday evening. For the past two years there has been a cadet at this school, but no one was hired this year. The cadet will also assist in noon-hour duty, formerly carried on by special help at a cost of $900 a year, but now handled by the teachers.

Chief Urges No
All-Night Parking

Leaving your car outside the house parked on the street hereafter during the winter may cost you a towing bill if it snows. Chief Dane on Friday issued a statement saying that all-night parkers would have their cars moved by tow-truck if they were so parked as to make plowing difficult.

No. Main Street Project Held Up

The town's special town meeting appropriation of $500 as its share of the cost of the chapter 90 project on North Main street south of the river was found insufficient when the figures were secured by the state department recently. The selectmen endeavored to see if any of the $13,150 highway fund granted by the legislature in the summer could be used for this, but the state department has ruled against such a use of the fund.

Announce Marriage

The early morning shift of the police department has a propensity for going off to Maine and getting married. Just about a year ago Officer McBride took a bride in Maine. Last week it was announced that Officer David Nicoll, who has been doing much of the early morning watching, had married in Sanford, Me., Miss Josephine Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ford of Lawrence.

TO ASSIST IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Practice teachers in physical education from Boston University may shortly come to Andover to aid in the elementary work. The town will pay the fare, but no salaries. The school department received a request from the Shawsheen Parent-Teacher Association that Miss Mildred Schruender be employed as physical instructor in the Shawsheen School, with Superintendent Sanborn recommending that no school be given preference over any other. Instructor Donald D. Dunn is now supervising the work in the elementary grades.

RECEIVE NEW MEMBERS

New members will be received into the Blessed Virgin Mary and Sacred Heart Sodality of St. Augustine's church this evening at 7:15. The latter sodality will meet tomorrow evening after devotions.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT FINANCES SAFE

The school department will it is expected finish out the year well within its appropriation. It is possible that there may be a return to the town of $1000 or so, mainly savings resulting from the use of the new bus since last May.

Men's Club Plans

Membership Drive

"The Andover Men's Club," recently organized with the purpose of "giving to the community an organization worthy of the Town of Andover," are planning for a spelling bee, a debate and a minstrel show to be held late in February. A membership drive is now on. The next meeting will be held Tuesday in the Legion Hall. The charter closes December 22.
