League To Discuss Annual Warrant

The Andover League of Women Voters will hold its annual Town Warrant meeting on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Music Room of the Junior High school.

Several speakers will participate in the discussion of the Town Warrant. John Erving, who was appointed as a member of the committee to investigate possible sites for a new town house, will discuss the various articles in the warrant pertaining to that matter, and he will also discuss the school budget, from the standpoint of a school committee member.

Sidney P. White, representing the Board of Public Works, will be present to analyze the articles sponsored by that board and to answer questions.

Mrs. Angus of the School Committee will speak on the North school situation, and Mrs. A. Graham Baldwin will discuss Public Welfare as it relates to Andover expenditures.

Members are asked to keep in mind the change of meeting place.

Library Circulation Hits New Peak

Though February is the shortest month of the year, and the library was open only twenty-three days, it had the largest use in its history. The Memorial Hall issued 9739 books, and at Ballardvale 874 were borrowed, making a total circulation for home use of 10613 volumes. This is an increase of 1689 over February of 1938, and is the first time the monthly use has exceeded ten thousand books. The average daily circulation was 401, but on February 23, the Memorial Hall issued exactly 600 books.

DR. PFATTEICHER TO CONTINUE SERIES

On Sunday afternoon at 4:15 Dr. Carl F. Pfatteicher, Director of Music at Phillips Academy, will continue his series of recitals of the organ works of John Sebastian Bach with the following program: Prelude and Fugue in G minor; Two Choral Preludes; O Lamm Gottes unschuldig, Erbarme dich mein; Passacaglia in C minor.

Dr. Fuess' New Book On Stands Saturday

"Creed of a Schoolmaster" by Dr. Claude M. Fuess, headmaster of Phillips Academy, will be available at book stores and stands, Saturday, March 4. Author of "Daniel Webster" and "Amherst: The Story of a New England College," Dr. Fuess has also written for magazine publication three boys' stories and four biographies. At present he is working on the life of Calvin Coolidge and upon its completion, plans to take the initiatory steps toward the writing of other biographies of contemporary American statesmen. To put it in his own words, "My chief interest at the present time is in American political biography, in which field I have a sufficient number of projects to occupy forty men half a century."

The papers in the volume "Creed of a Schoolmaster" are contributions to a major philosophy which is not yet rounded out.

To Do Clean Job On Next Snowstorm

For the first two months of 1939 the Board of Public Works spent on snow removal and sanding over $7,000 less than for the same period a year ago. Through February 27 $4383.18 had been spent, whereas a year ago $11,684.76 had been spent.

It is understood that the board has decided to do a number one job on the next snowstorm, a much cleaner job than the last, but yet without the waste that has brought expenditures to such a high level in past years.

Motion Picture At S. And C. Meeting

The new sound motion picture, "Highlights and Shadows" dramatizing the story of photography, will be shown at the Square and Compass Club meeting this evening. It traces the steps man has taken to transmit his ideas through pictures, making photography perfected and popular. Brilliant camera work and clear comment are combined to show further the research and manufacturing facilities that contributed to this achievement.

"Highlights and Shadows" uses the photographic industry to show the effect physical sciences and modern machinery have on life today, how photography has become a vital method of communication and education.

Polls Open From 7 to 7 on Monday

Contests For School, Health, B.P.W., Selectmen

Four contests, none of them for the high-salaried positions but all of them very important, will appear on the ballot as Andover's voters go to the polls Monday. All six precinct houses will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

The only position that has attracted a large field is the B.P.W. membership. Here two are to be elected, with the first place pretty generally conceded to Edward P. Hall and the second depending a great deal on the strength of J. Harry Playdon, only incumbent. Clifford Marshall, Philip Hardy, William F. Barron, Matthew Burns, Robert V. Deyermond, George F. Riley and George Brown are the other candidates.

Selectman Roy E. Hardy is opposed by P. LeRoy Wilson.

For school committee Mrs. Julie S. Musk and Arthur R. Lewis are up for re-election and there is a battle for third place between Harold T. Houston and Charles J. Bailey.

There is a possibility of an overturn in the Board of Health where Franklin H. Stacey is being opposed by Harvey H. Bacon and Franklin B. Collins.

What You and Your Neighbors
Were Doing in Days Gone By

Fifty Years Ago

The grocery stores will be closed on Monday from 12 to 5 o'clock. This is not for the same purpose that saloons are closed in cities on election days, but that the patriotic merchants and their clerks may take part in the deliberations of the town meeting.

Charles W. Hayward's account of his surveyorship for the past year in the Town Report urges the use of crushed stones in preference to gravel in our roadways. As a matter of economy, he advises that the town own a crusher, estimating that a yard of stones is worth four yards of gravel.

Dr. Scott had a valuable whip stolen from his carriage in one of the Andover villages on Sunday night. A man who would steal a doctor's whip while he is employed in the services of healing the sick, must be a hardened offender, and 'twere well to—

Put a whip in every honest hand
To lash the rascal round the

Twenty-five Years Ago

The contest for moderator, and for a place on the Board of Public Works, and the interest taken in the candidacy of a woman for school committee brought out a larger vote than usual at the annual election Monday. Alfred L. Ripley was the successful candidate for moderator, Thomas E. Rhodes was re-elected a member of the Board of Public Works, and Mrs. E. T. Brewster won by 82 votes a position on the School Board. G. A. Christie was re-elected for a third term, and principal Alfred E. Stearns for a second term.

The no-license rally of Sunday bore fruit for license was defeated by an almost 2 to 1 vote.

James W. Daley has purchased a new horse for use in his business. It was one of the western shipment.

Mrs. Maurice Curran and daughter, Miss Margaret, of the "Croft" left Tuesday for California and a tour through western United States.

Ten Years Ago

Matthew Burns, candidate for the office of Selectman and self-styled champion of the "forgotten man" rather than the "aristocracy," held a rally in the Town hall last evening with an attendance which about half filled the hall. William A. G. Kidd, also a losing candidate for selectman last year, acted as chairman and introduced the speakers of whom the principal one, Mr. Burns, took the opportunity to "hang, draw and quarter" Andover public officials.

An agreement as to the apportionment of the cost of building a reinforced concrete bridge in connection with the reconstruction of North Main street was arrived at at a private conference held Wednesday afternoon at the State House with representatives of the Boston and Maine railroad, Eastern Mass. railway, state, county and town of Andover present. The Boston and Maine will assume fifty per cent of the cost and the Eastern Massachusetts ten percent, leaving forty percent to be divided among the state, county, and town.

NOMINATED TO FOREIGN SERVICE

Harvard, Bates Boys In Keen Debate

Two very earnest young men from Harvard and two equally earnest young men from Bates endeavored to solve for the local Service club last Thursday night the problems of whether the federal government should attempt to stimulate business by pump-priming and deficit spending. The Harvard boys tried to uphold the policy of their illustrious alumnus who now is in the White House or cruising somewhere, while the boys from down in Maine—well, you know Maine.

Disregarding certain prejudices built up since 1933, the Bates boys presented a very substantial early argument, but fell down in the cross-examination period when Harvard's very able young lawyer asked what the Bates student would do with the 12,000,000 unemployed if pump-priming were to be halted. And then Harvard's first debater also fell down when Maine's pompously legalistic lawyer asked why there were still 12,000,000 unemployed after six years of pump-priming.

The Harvard boys found themselves slightly embarrassed on several occasions when the Bates lawyer asked them if they agreed with a certain quoted statement, which turned out to be something that the President said back in 1933 when he advocated relieving unemployment on the basis of need out of funds in the treasury rather than by deficit spending. All the boys from Cambridge could reply was that even the President can change his mind.

The Bates student who started the debate spoke of politics and wastefulness in relief and the fact that recovery started in all Europe and progressed faster than in the United States except in France where deficit spending is being tried. He alleged that the recession of a year ago followed the year of heaviest spending, and that as soon as the P.W.A. started in late 1933 the production index started dropping. He maintained that cessation of pump priming, while not perfect, was a step in the right direction, since it (1) would restore businessmen's confidence in the government; (2) decrease the deficit and eliminate fear of excessive taxes; (3) promote freer investment in capital goods; (4) reinforce private investment by the use of money now going into government bonds.

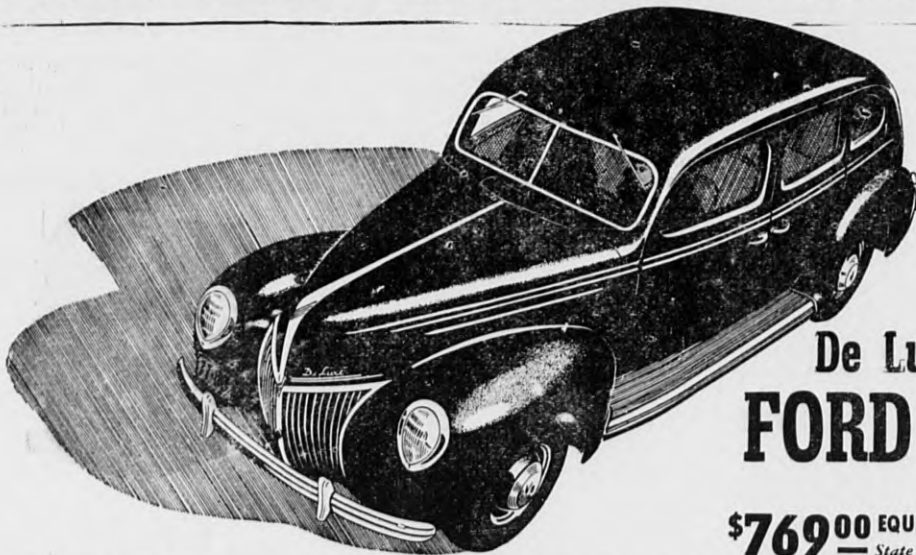

The Harvard debater went into economic theory in his argument, claiming that this depression had not seen the old economic laws followed automatically as in past depressions, with prices not dropping in proportion to national income. The only desirable solution, he said, was to stimulate business by raising the national income, and the only way to do this is by deficit financing, the deficits being paid off eventually by the addition of new revenue.

Many Present At League Musical

The musical program, given for the benefit of the Anover League of Women Voters, at Mrs. Poynter's home on the morning of February 23, was a great success from a musical, social and financial standpoint.

Coffee and doughnuts were enjoyed by those present, prior to the delightful program for which the League is much indebted to Mrs. Roger Higgins.

Andover is fortunate in having a group of amateur musicians who could present so enjoyable a program. Miss Susan Ripley's performance, both as a soloist and accompanist, was especially out-standing.

The piano, violin and oboe trio number by Mrs. Higgins, Miss Ripley and Bartram Kelly was de-lightful.

Mrs. Willett Eccles was in splendid voice and her group of songs very well chosen. The number with violin obligato by Miss Ripley was particularly lovely.

Mrs. Charles Thompson and Mrs. Higgins rendered a piano duet with much precision and charm, and Mrs. N. P. Hallowell played an unusual piano solo.

The work of Mrs. Philip Ripley, who accompanied her daughter Susan, merits praise.

The spritely minuet and allegro of Mozart's Eb symphony—8 hands at 2 pianos—was well played by Mrs. Ripley, Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Horace Poynter and Mrs. Higgins.

Hill-billy Elections

You have a job to do Monday, and all it will require is a few minutes anytime between seven in the morning and seven at night.

No, it doesn't take you much time to vote, but it should take you a good deal of time before you vote. There are contests in four offices, all important ones; your vote may mean a lot.

When you mark those crosses on the ballot on Monday, what is it that influences your choice? Last November the United States had some queer elections, with hill-billy bands and other such rational vote-getters evidently carrying much weight with some people. We laugh at it up here, but don't we often do the same thing on a smaller scale? True we don't vote for people because they can yodel a nice mountain tune, but aren't we doing practically the same thing when we vote for or against a man for any one of the following reasons heard often here in Andover: "he'll dig up all the dirt in that board," or "he'll make them sit up and take notice," or "so-and-so is in favor of him, I won't vote for him," or "if so-and-so thinks he's all right, I'll vote for him," or "he's been in a long time, why not give someone else a chance," or "he's been in a long time, let's keep him in."

What we're trying to put across is this: that you should choose your candidates on the basis of their ability to fill the position. It doesn't matter who is for or against him; it doesn't matter how long he's been in, or if he's never been in; what does matter is how he will act if he gets in or stays in. On present office-holders the decision is easy, for you've seen them in action. For potential office-holders it's harder, but still the conduct of their own private and business life will give a good idea of how they will act in public life. Ask yourself these questions: is he clear-headed and common-sensible, is he willing to view both sides without bias, can he take criticism without being indignant to feel that anyone should criticize him and instead act on the merits alone of the criticism, will he think only of the town in forming his decisions?

If everybody will act on the contests with these points in mind, the town of Andover should be congratulated next Monday evening for the fine group of officers it has elected.

LEGION NOTES

A get-together membership meeting in celebration of the 20th anniversary of the American Legion will be held at the rooms at 8:00 this evening. Dr. Hall, Commander of district 10, and Department Vice-Commander Chester Grant will be the guest speakers. A spaghetti and meat ball supper will follow the meeting. Any veteran in the town is invited.

All candidates are asked to attend town meeting night, Friday evening at the Legion rooms, at which time there will be a discussion of the town warrant.

Music Students

In Abbot Recital

Saturday evening at 8 students of the Abbot music department will give a piano and vocal recital in Davis Hall. The public is invited. The program:

Early Morning Fire Ruins Argilla Road Home

Fire at the Colombosian home on Argilla road early this morning caused damage estimated at $4,000 and sent its seven occupants out into a bitter cold night. Taken care of temporarily at the home of Mrs. Mary Sheehy, three children, with no clothes saved except for the nightclothes they were wearing, and Mrs. Colombosian were removed to the Convalescent home.

The fire was discovered by the occupants in time to make a safe exit. Arthur B. Newman called the fire department when he saw the blaze from his home. When the apparatus arrived, the house was enveloped in flames. Firemen worked several hours.

The above picture of firemen working to extinguish the blaze is the first example of arrangements recently made by the Townsman with a Lowell engraver to provide cuts of events happening shortly before presstime.

The Red Cross issued an appeal this morning, for furniture and clothing for the family made destitute by the fire. There is a man 52, a woman 42 wearing size 40, and the ages of the children are: boys, 12 and 10, girls, 11 and 10. Any one with contributions should call Arthur Cole, 323.

Hymn Festival
 Coming March 12

On Sunday afternoon March 12, at 4:30 o'clock a Festival of Hymn Singing will be held in the Cochran church at Phillips Academy. This is the second time that the choirs of many churches in Andover, Lawrence, Methuen, Haverhill and Lowell have been invited to come together for the singing of some of the great hymns of the church. Among the groups that have participated have been the Phillips Academy Choir, the Abbot Academy Choir, the Andover Male Choir, and the church choirs of the Baptist, Methodist, Episcopal, Congregational and other churches of this general vicinity.

Rehearsals will be held for this occasion on Friday evening, March 3, at 8 o'clock in the Cochran church at Phillips Academy, and Sunday afternoon, March 5, at 2:15 in the Central Methodist Episcopal church in Lawrence. These rehearsals are open to all choirs and all individuals who are interested in participating in this Hymn Festival.

At this service last year approximately twelve hundred people were present to join in the singing of such hymns as "A Mighty Fortress is our God," "Our God Our Help in Ages Past," "How Firm a Foundation," and other familiar hymns of the church. It is anticipated that the service this year will be equally impressive.

WARRANT DISCUSSION

A general discussion of the town warrant will be held at the open meeting of the Young Men's Republican Club tonight. Refreshments will be served after the business meeting.

Choir Enthusiastically Received In Broadcast

Telegrams and messages from various clubs and individuals praised the program given by the Male Choir last Saturday evening over station WNAC. Sponsored by the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs, the half hour of singing with George Walton of North Andover playing a clarinet solo was broadcast over seventeen affiliated stations of the Yankee network.

The comments and congratulatory telegrams resulting from the program show how widely the choir's ability is recognized outside of Andover, and it is expected that the town itself will prove its appreciation and good wishes by attending the performance of "Moonlight Sonata" at the Playhouse next Wednesday. Part of the proceeds from the ticket sales will be contributed to the financing of the trip to New Haven where the choir will compete in the annual New England contest in May.

Last Sunday night the choir sang at the United First Baptist church in Lowell.

SAFETY FIRST

This year the committee appointed for the Co-ordination of Recreation has asked for an appropriation of $500. The committee feels that the summer activities of the town are very well taken care of but the sad experiences of some of the past winters still linger in our minds. Only recently has it been brought to our attention the dangers that exist where proper protection is not provided for areas where children love to skate and slide. Surely the few pennies involved in the tax rate where only $500 is asked for would not alarm or cause any parent to feel it an added burden. Indeed there are very few cities and towns but what provide a safe skating or sliding area for their children. We feel that a start could be made next winter and as soon as parents are relieved of the anxiety concerning their children while enjoying winter sports, it would not be long before our citizens would want and demand that we bring this part of winter activity up to at least the standard of our surrounding neighbors.

W. P. A. Orchestra Well Received

The Public School Teachers' Association merits the appreciation of all Andover music lovers for sponsoring the State Symphony concert at the Memorial Auditorium last Thursday night. Appropriately choosing a New England Rhapsody by Robert Manton for the first selection, Alexander Thiede had the orchestra playing so softly that it was hard to believe that there were sixty-five members present. The rambling composition suggested the Robert Frost interpretation of New England, peaceful and rich in inspiration.

Mr. Wolfson's violin solo in Mendelssohn's Concerto in E Minor received a tremendous acclamation, and Debussy's Reverie, even more familiar since its "swing-time" adaptation, was encored by the Blue Danube Waltz, by Strauss. The peak of the program was reached in Brahms' Symphony No. 1 in C Minor, a welcome contrast to the lighter selection which preceded.

FRENCH BIOGRAPHER TO GIVE LECTURE

Andre Maurois, foremost French biographer-essayist, will lecture on "French Wit and English Humor" next Tuesday evening at 8:30 in Symphony Hall, Boston. A Frenchman by birth, Maurois became attached to British Headquarters during the war as a liaison officer, and his notes taken of the things he heard and saw during that time developed into the humorous "The Silences of Col. Bramble." His passionate love for England and English democracy colored the successful books that followed (Ariel, Life of Shelley, Disraeli and The Miracle of England) and he became noted for his interpretations of that country.

Plan Annual Missionary Rally

The annual Andover Missionary Rally takes place this year at the South church on Thursday, March sixteenth, Mrs. Lillian Gould, presiding. The morning session opens at 10.15 with a brief devotional service. Following this, Mrs. Oswald Tower of the Academy Chapel will describe the work for the local blind, including some from North Andover.

During the winter school term Mrs. Tower is responsible for four meetings. They are held under the auspices of the Benevolence Society of the Academy Chapel.

Rev. Samuel Overstreet of the Baptist church in Andover will occupy a half hour with the discussion of "The Church can hold its youth."

The last speaker of the morning session is to be Mrs. Franklin Field, chairman of the Education Committee of the Woman's Department of the Congregational Conference. By request, Mrs. Field is repeating an address made in January at Brockton, at an all-day District Conference. Its title is, "Christian Education for Women."

Following luncheon at 12:30 and an intermission for sociability, the second session will open at two o'clock with a devotional service conducted by Miss Fannie Davis. The speaker will be Dr. James Dexter Taylor of Johannesburg, South Africa, superintendent of the Transvaal and Inhambane fields of the American Board for Foreign Missions. He has charge of 16 centers and 77 preaching places, supervising night schools in the coal and gold mine compounds.

Massachusetts born, Dr. Taylor went out under the American Board in 1899. He was educated at Amherst College and Auburn Theological Seminary. Dr. Taylor has just returned from the International Conference at Madras, India; therefore his message to the Andover Rally should be one of very special interest.

"Moonlight Sonata" Next Wednesday

The Andover Male Choir and its Auxiliary have completed plans for the benefit show to be held at the Andover Playhouse on March 8. They have sold many advance tickets and manager Samuel Resnik has reported many requests for these special tickets which are also on sale at the box office.

The picture "Moonlight Sonata" will bring to Andover the long awaited first and only screen appearance of the world's greatest pianist, Ignace Jan Paderewski, who is soon going into retirement. Those who miss the opportunity to see it will perhaps regret it the rest of their lives and many who have already seen it are planning to see it again. The supporting cast includes Marie Tempest, Charles Farrell, Barbara Greene and Eric Portman.

Showing on the same bill are Jack Oakie and Ruth Donnelly in "Annabel Takes a Tour" and Walt Disney's "Mother Goose Revue." The latter is being shown by special request having been shown recently in Boston.

Members of the Choir and Auxiliary have worked hard for the success of the event, and since many heard Paderewski play "Moonlight Sonata" on the radio last Sunday it is hoped no one will want to miss his picture.

Mrs. Herbert Merrick is chairman of the special benefit show. Mrs. Roger Peabody has charge of the tickets and Mrs. Carl A. Wetterberg is publicity chairman.

Valley Tourney To Open Tonight

With an eye on one of the cups donated by the merchants of the town of Andover through Harry Hyland, the Johnson team opposing Essex Aggies will do their best to equal their success of past years in the opening game of the third annual Merrimack Valley Interscholastic Basketball Tournament tonight at 7:00 o'clock. Since it is necessary for a team to win a place for three consecutive years before the prize can be kept, no team is eligible for the permanent possession of one of the cups this year.

The first contest in the series was won by Johnson, with Howe in Billerica placing second and Punchard winning the consolation prize, and last year Methuen was first, and Punchard and Johnson won second and third places. The actual scores at the close of the match last year would have determined Punchard as the winner, but an ineligible man had been allowed to play so Punchard forfeited her place to Methuen. If the playing is comparable to past years, there will be a great rivalry between Punchard and Johnson since both teams have scored first place in alternate years.

Methuen and Johnson will be lined up against each other in the second game of this year's tournament, and Punchard will follow, playing against Central Catholic. Whether the final games will be played Friday afternoon or evening will depend on the outcome of the first contests.
