Church, Parish Fill Vacancies Caused By Death

The Boutwell name, long associated in the person of the late Frederic S. Boutwell with the treasurership of the West church, will continue in that association, the church last Thursday night having elected Sherman Boutwell, a nephew of the late treasurer, to fill his uncle's position. Both church and parish met the same night to act on the sad duty of filling the places left vacant both by Mr. Boutwell and by the late Herbert B. Merrick.

Leverett Putnam was elected clerk pro tem to fill Mr. Merrick's vacancy, and Harry Wright was unanimously elected treasurer of the parish.

Rev. Newman Matthews read resolutions on the death of Mr. Boutwell and Rev. Mr. Savage on the death of Mr. Merrick, both on behalf of the parish committee.

Moderator Arthur Lewis chose a committee of three members to bring in amendments to the by-laws of the parish, to be acted on at the next meeting.

B. U. Registrar To Address P. T. A.

George K. MacKechnie, registrar of the Boston University School of Education, will be the speaker next Wednesday evening at the meeting of the Andover Parent-Teacher association. The meeting will start at 8.

Salvation Army Group To Meet

Town Meeting Expenditures Bring Possible $32.75 Rate

"They do some funny things, but somehow or other, when it's all over, darned if they didn't do just about right." A few years back in a debate on open versus limited town meeting an elderly gentleman from Methuen made this remark. Had he attended Monday night's town meeting, he could have added "Amen."

There were some things done which some people didn't like, but barring these few personal peeves the net result of the meeting wasn't too bad. In fact from the point of orderliness and lack of vituperative tirades against officials, it was one of the best town meetings Andover has had in recent years.

The tax rate, which chairman Shepard was careful to say at the outset, could only be estimated at this time, may as a result of the town meeting appropriations be about $32.75—or $3.75 over last year's actual rate. Around $5600 was saved on the finance committee's recommended expenditures, but the main item which brought the rate into the 32's instead of the 34's was the $25,000 in free cash which the town officials decided over the week-end they could use to reduce the tax rate—on the basis that if ever we needed to reduce the rate it was this year.

The outstanding figures in the meeting were chairman Shepard, who successfully brought his many appropriations through the town meeting gauntlet and then said a "requiescat in pace" to the old selectman-BPW feud on the "Big Mike" by driving in the final verbal wedge on appropriating $1231 with his statement that the town would be throwing money away not to buy it; B. P. W. member Henry Bodwell, who led his colleagues to about as significant a victory as a town meeting has ever accorded a previously down-trodden board, a victory which brought with it the purchase of every single piece of equipment the board wanted; and Harvey Turner, finance committee chairman, whose clear, forceful twang influenced the meeting to accept the finance committee's lower figures on the tree and school budgets.

The principal saving that the meeting made under the finance committee's recommended expenditures came in the town hall site items, the first two of which were defeated and the last two withdrawn, the total saving this year being $6450. Steadily improving business conditions enabled the selectmen to ask for $2100 less than previously agreed on for the welfare items. The snow removal account was increased, but nothing like the amount the meeting expected and with too recent memories of shovelling would have probably approved. Mr. Bodwell estimated the cost of the pre-town-meeting storm at about $3500, but the increase over the finance committee recommendation was only $873. Had the storm not happened to come along at the time it did, the board would have asked for only $10,373. The finance commit-

The wise family man needs life insurance for readjustment just as much as his car needs a spare tire. Whether it is all the protection he owns, or simply one policy in a complete life insurance program, it is likely to be the most important factor in his family's financial future— if they ever have to go along without him.

The John Hancock readjustment plan is designed with the idea of continuing the breadwinner's support for a year or more after death. It gives dependents time to prepare for living on a reduced income or for arranging to replace the breadwinner's earnings with their own.

This special protection is within the reach of every man who can earn a comfortable living for his family today. Ask a John Hancock representative about the Readjustment Plan or write for descriptive booklet.

Teams from each community in Greater Lawrence will be competing for the championship title with the semi-final games scheduled for March 25 and the finals to be either March 30 or April 1.

A large trophy will be awarded the winning team and small basketballs to each player. Other prizes will be announced during the tournament.

Masses Held In Two Churches For Rev. Father Leonard

Solemn high masses were offered Saturday morning at St. Augustine's church and St. Mary's in Lawrence for the late Rev. John B. Leonard, O. S. A., who died last Thursday at St. John's hospital in Lowell. The provincial of the Augustinian Order, Very Rev. John T. Sheehan, Rev. Fathers Thomas B. Austin, Matthew F. McDonald and Henry B. Smith officiated at the mass in Andover and Father Austin delivered a fitting eulogy after which the casket was borne from the church by Fathers Smith, McDonald, Kelly, Egan and Fitzmaurice, and taken to St. Mary's.

Rev. Daniel Hughes, cousin of the late priest, conducted the solemn high mass there, while Rev. Daniel J. Leonard, only surviving brother, was seated within the sanctuary. Rev. Fathers Patrick J. Campbell and George C. Egan were deacons at the mass with Rev. Patrick M. O'Shea serving as master of ceremonies. Father O'Mahoney delivered the eulogy at the close of the mass.

Burial was in the priests' lot in St. Mary's cemetery. The bearers were: Fathers Egan, Kelly, O'Shea, Smith, McDonald and Fitzmaurice. Many of the St. Augustine parishioners paid final tribute to the late Father Leonard as his body lay in state on a draped catafalque, Friday afternoon, in the church where it had been borne in solemn procession from the rectory. Rev. Matthew F. McDonald, acting as Hebdomadarian and Rev. Henry B. Smith, as antiphonarian, recited the offices for the dead and other priests read the lessons. Several parish organizations, including the Blessed Virgin sodality, the altar boys, the Sacred Heart sodality and the Holy Name society, served as guard of honor during the evening.

Football Captain To Lead 1940 Basketball Team

Donald McLachlan, popular member of the junior class, was last Friday elected to lead next season's Punchard varsity basketball team.

McLachlan is also next season's varsity football squad captain-elect. He is a three-letter man, playing guard on last season's basketball team, third baseman on the varsity baseball team, and center on the varsity football squad.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McLachlan of 35 Shawsheen road.

Wouldn't You Like To Buy a Nice New Futuristic Kraftdurchfreudenwagen?

How would you like to buy a Kraftdurchfreudenwagen? All the members of the Harvard club of Andover who were fortunate enough to attend the very enjoyable winter meeting recently at the Shawsheen Manor know what you have to do to get a Kraftdurchfreudenwagen—Prof. J. Anton DeHaas of the Harvard business school faculty told them.

When he was in Berlin, the dramatically dynamic Dutch speaker decided to see if he could buy one of these Kraftdurchfreudenwagens. They used to be called People's Autos, but now the German government has given them the new name, which translated means: Strength-through-joy-auto. He asked the girl at the desk if he could buy one, and when she said ja, he reached in his pocket for his wallet. Ach, nein, you don't pay now. No? When do I pay?

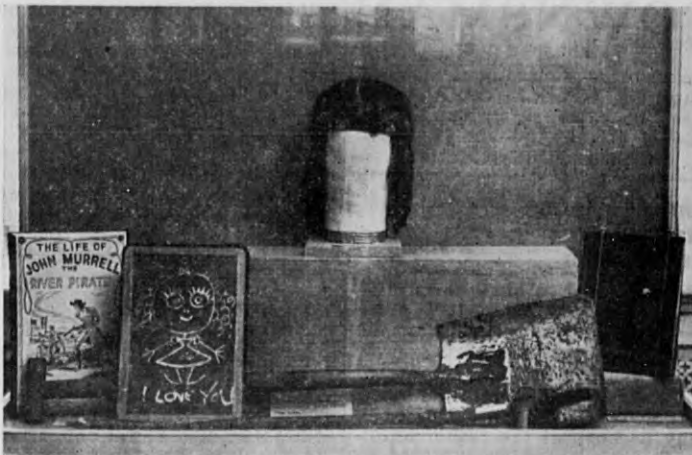

It's on the installment plan you buy these Kraftfretowagens. Five marks down, five marks a week, for a lot of weeks. And when do you get the auto? Gott nur weiss, says the girl, a strange admission for a totalitarian, but it's true. God only knows when the number on the card that you get for your five marks down and five marks per week corresponds to the number on the car which finally comes out of the factory. And why? Well, they haven't built the factory yet.

A queer story, but it was just an illustration of a very serious point that the Professor succeeded in getting across: that the present post-Munich situation is not so serious as a threat of war as a threat of an economic collapse that is bound to come from the present artificially stimulated armaments industry. He spoke of the pouring in of the world's gold into this country, and the fear that the other countries will soon decide that they can get along without gold as a monetary basis. He spoke of the desirability of getting some substantial basis behind the recent Lima concord by strengthening the commercial ties between South America and the United States. He spoke of the possibility of making loans to foreign nations, to China et al., and of the probability that they'd never be paid back. But his main point throughout was the danger of an economic collapse which must come when the factories now so busy in an armaments race fail to receive further orders—when, to put it graphically, "there's not enough parking space for all the airplanes."

President G. Grenville Benedict, presiding, made several announcements about forthcoming events, with emphasis on the New Orleans National Harvard club convention. He also introduced the speaker who acknowledged the introduction with a fitting response. Other speakers of the evening were James H. Eaton and Yaleman Charles W. Arnold.

House-Cleaning That Brings Appreciation

Some surprise has been expressed in a few quarters since the town meeting concerning the excellent reception accorded practically every item that the Board of Public Works requested, a reception that was a surprise to many because of the rather unfortunate experiences encountered by the board in the past few years at town meetings. No one need search far for the cause, however.

During the past year the department was criticized frequently on a number of scores and from a number of sources. Some of the criticism was just and some of it was not. But the reason for the excellent town meeting reaction was not that the criticism was felt false, but rather that the board was cognizant of the criticism and took steps to clean house. Many of their items represented real savings, and they presented the figures on savings, in detail, to the town. They went into the finance committee with a complete breakdown of last year's expenditures compared with this year's requests, and the finance committee was very much impressed.

There remain things to be done, of course, but having tightened up the strings thus far, the board is apparently not unwilling to take a few more house-cleaning steps. We confidently expect that changes will be made here and there, augmenting some already made, so that in a few short months Andover will have one of the most efficient public works departments that any town or city can boast.

People were aware Monday night that the board had been trying pretty hard, and the endorsement given them through their requests was as much deserved as it was complete. To the retiring chairman, William D. McIntyre, it must have added emphasis to the vote of thanks accorded him at the start of the meeting, for it was under his chairmanship that the board started its house-cleaning. To the incoming chairman, Sidney F. White, and his colleagues it must have strengthened their desire to improve the department, for nothing adds impetus to an effort so much as the knowledge that that effort is fully appreciated.

To Close Or Not To Close

Whether to follow out a conceded legal right or to accede to something of a moral obligation is the problem that faces the school committee now that the town meeting has decided to appropriate $500 with the purpose of keeping the North school open. To the majority members who favored the closing of the school because of their sincere belief that a six-grade under-one-teacher school was an educational defect that should be remedied, it is a serious problem, for on the one hand they have the dictates of their conscience which tells them that the children would be better educated if transported to the Shawsheen school, and on the other hand they have the dictum of the town meeting.

We still feel, as the majority of the school board probably does, that closing this school would make the brighter students more bright, the slower students less slow. And yet the town in town meeting assembled, with both sides having had an equal opportunity to present their cases even if one didn't take the opportunity, voted the appropriation. It would seem then that the only thing for the majority to do is to accede to the town meeting vote, and at the same time to follow the dictates of their conscience by, as the minority suggested in last week's Townsman, educating the public and particularly the parents in the affected district to realize the better education the youngsters will receive if Andover does away with this six-grade-in-one-room arrangement.

Helping Hand Group At St. Patrick's Tea

The Woman's Alliance were the guests of the Helping Hand society at a St. Patrick's tea Tuesday afternoon in the parish house of the Free church. Mrs. Joshua Paine gave the welcoming address and an entertainment of Irish songs and poems followed. Mrs. Robert Lochhead sang several selections and Mrs. James McMeekin and Mrs. Edmond Dunwoody read some of the old Irish poems.

Green and white predominated in the table decorations and refreshments. Mrs. James Purcell, Mrs. Archibald Maclaren, Mrs. Thomas Neil, Mrs. Hugh MacLay, Mrs. Joshua Paine and Mrs. George Murray composed the committee in charge.

A memorial service for the late Mrs. Sarah Mackenzie, one of the charter members of the Helping Hand, was offered during the business meeting preceding the tea. Mrs. James Edgar presided.

TOWN MEETING

Special appropriations approved were: police car, $475; remodeling town hall for B. P. W. offices $1500; Austin grader, $1231.53; five B. P. W. trucks, $7500; hard-surfacing $4600; W. P. A. $10,375; Whittier street water main $1200; chapter 90 maintenance $1000; B. P. W. garage $3000; B. P. W. compressor $3200; High street walk $1600; Osgood road straightening $150; skating area $400; Hall mains $468; Shawsheen Heights mains $3398.70, and roads $1150; Gould water mains $1030.73; Ballardvale road main $1425; North school $500.

The appropriations disapproved were: Shaw and Grout property $6450; Elm street articles $7400; bleachers $2000; River street sidewalks $1850; West Andover water mains and hard-surfacing $20,500; Sutherland street hard surfacing $1750; Pine street survey $1200; W. P. A. sidewalks $5000.

On the non-financial articles, the town did the following: decided to sell B. P. W. horses et al; established a reserve police force, refused to do likewise for the fire department; decided to begin every future town meeting with a prayer and a salute to the flag; accepted Flint Circle and Shawsheen Heights roads; decided to have the selectmen appoint the Spring Grove trustees starting in 1940; swapped a right of way for some land down South Main street way.

The meeting started off with a vote of thanks to the retiring chairman of the Board of Public Works, William D. McIntyre for his many years of service to the town. There followed the reelection of Arthur W. Cole to the Cornell fund trustees.

Then by unanimous consent Chairman Shepard called attention to the recent figures secured from the state house which with a possible $25,000 from free cash would make a rate of about $33.15 if all the finance committee recommendations were passed. The effect of the increased state tax and the reduced state income was an increase of about $2.75, so that traceable to the town alone would be an increase of about one dollar, and that can be traced to the hurricane appropriations of about $17,000 made last fall.

The first discordant note of the meeting came on the salary establishing item where tree warden Abbott moved that the combined salary of the warden and moth superintendent be $43 instead of the present $35. This was defeated with little support.

Tree Increase Out

The meeting dashed through the regular budget items with few pauses, the first being when Mr. Abbott moved for increases of $500 in the moth department and $4500 in the tree item. The moth increase went out with little discussion, but on the tree item Mr. Abbott spoke of the value of the town's trees, and of the experience and training his men have had. Here Mr. Turner made his first main entry into the arena, stating that the finance committee had failed in every instance to find where an increase was necessary. He mentioned that during the past few years the warden has had the benefit of W.P.A. men to work with him on the trees and moths, leaving the regular men free to do the more difficult work. He added that the warden contemplated cutting down on the private work, and expressed his belief that if this were done the appropriation should be cut instead of increased. A large amount was spent last fall for the hurricane damage, he said, and the tree warden today has 600 less trees to take care of than he did before the hurricane. Mr. Turner's amendment to keep the figure at $5000 carried.

Matthew Burns made his first entry on the street lighting appropriation when after calling in vain on the chairman of the committee he asked a cut of $2500, stating that the town for 19 years had been paying $20 apiece for the standards in Shawsheen village. A motion made by him to have the selectmen investigate the matter was ruled out of order, and Mr. Burns promised it for "any other business."

School Budget Defeated

The next pause in the budgetary items came when the school committee chairman Frederick Smith asked for $185,500 instead of the $181,328 recommended by the finance committee. Mr. Turner stated that the last thing his committee wanted to do was to in any way curtail the education of the children. He listed a number of suggested items which could be cut, and concluding stated that he felt that $181,328 would provide the children with a good deal of education.

In rebuttal Mr. Smith stated that the committee originally asked for $189,035, and he asked how any business concern could get along without a reserve similar to the unaccounted item mentioned by Mr. Turner. Without it he said the committee would have nothing to work upon. The fuel bill will go considerably over if the present weather keeps up, he said, and he wouldn't want to have to go to the finance committee for extra money. He mentioned the ever-increasing use of the auditorium, rental on which goes directly into the town treasury and the expenses for which come out of the school budget. He corrected Mr. Turner on his statement that cadet teachers are "merely to fill in," stating that two have regular classes and are saving the town the full salary of a regular teacher, while the third is an assistant to Miss Barrett, principal of three buildings.

Taxpayers' association president Hammond then said that he felt the school committee was doing a very good job, but in this year of extraordinary expenditures, it would be best to go light on some things. Mr. Burns brought in the time-worn phrase of fads, follies and fancies, forgetting frills.

Mrs. A. Graham Baldwin of the committee spoke on the large amount of time the committee spends on the school expenditures. Robert V. Deyermund, father of four now in school, said that to cut educational expenditures would

Andover Police

Police chief George A. Dane last Saturday afternoon declined to follow the lead of his fellow-chief, Alfred McKee of North Andover, in asking newsdealers to remove

"Life" magazine from the stands because of some pictures of nude statuary which is to be exhibited at the New York World's Fair. While the magazine authorities in New York wondered at indignation over pictures of statues that millions of people are expected to see, Addison Art Gallery curator Charles Sawyer stated that nude statuary was art back in the days of the Greeks and Romans, and it would seem a little late to do anything about it now.

The local police department had a fond spot in their hearts for the magazine, because the week before it had contained a picture of toga-draped John Deyermond, Jr., Syracuse football star, who is the son of officer and Mrs. Deyer-mond. But in explaining his reaction to the picture, chief Dane mentioned a complaint that he had received a few weeks before about a certain magazine. "I went to the store," he said, "and I looked at the magazine. Then I glanced at some of the other magazines, and if I was going to ban that one, I'd have to ban most of the others, too."

Satisfactory Snow Job Done At Half Old Cost

Only about $3100 had been spent up to last night on the heavy week-end snowfall, with public works officials estimating that a year ago some $6000 to $7000 would have been spent on it. And yet there were very few complaints, with the job being a very satisfactory one, far ahead of any city or town in the vicinity.

It was estimated that perhaps around $400 to $500 could have been saved had the town had its own fleet of six trucks. And the job would have been—will be after the new trucks are bought—even more satisfactory at less cost, because the trucks will be sent out earlier plowing, the department having delayed as long as possible on the start this time rather than to spend money on five dollar an hour trucks in the early stages. About 15 trucks were finally called out.

Plan To Continue Chapel Vespers

Motor Truck Club

Boosts Rerouting

Once at loggerheads with the local safety committee regarding the rerouting of truck traffic over the by-pass, the Motor Truck Club of Massachusetts is now co-operating wholeheartedly with the committee in its rerouting endeavors. The recent issue of the club magazine contains an emphatic statement calling the attention of truckmen to the dangers involved in Route 28.

The article concludes with: "In the interests of safety every motor carrier when going North with no deliveries to be made in the Town of Andover are urgently requested to use Route 125 and they will receive the thanks of an appreciative citizenry."

A previous edition had carried not only an article but a display advertisement.

Here it is, Big Mike itself—or himself. The object of much controversy the past few years, the Austin 77 was finally purchased outright at town meeting, despite some of the arguments which would imply that Andover would have to seek some of the Christmas seal money next winter in order to give Mike plenty of fresh air, sunlight and proper food. The above picture shows the machine scraping away the Main street ice a few weeks back.

Selectman's Daughter

Seriously Injured

Eleven-year-old Judith Shepard, daughter of selectman and Mrs. Howell Shepard, is at the Children's hospital in Boston at present, and she will have to remain there for some time. The youngster was seriously injured last Friday evening in the first bad accident that the town has had because of slippery road conditions. She sustained a fracture of the right leg below the hip joint, and a broken nose in addition to bruises and bumps.

According to the police report, the station wagon in which Judith was a passenger was struck by an automobile which went out of control in a skid at the corner of Andover street and Dascomb road. The drivers and passengers in both cars received injuries, but except for Judith's, they were all of a minor nature.

VIEW COMPRESSORS

Two compressors were demonstrated yesterday to the available members of the Board of Public Works and to selectmen Shepard and Collins. One more was scheduled to be demonstrated today and one tomorrow.

Interviews on the new trucks will start on next Tuesday.

School Committee

Considers Budget

And North School

Two questions faced the school board Tuesday night when they organized for the year. One was: shall we exercise our legal privileges and close the North school in defiance of the town meeting vote to the contrary, and the other was how shall we save the $4000 that the town meeting cut off our budget?

On the first question it was finally voted not to rescind the committee's previous decision to close the school, but that doesn't mean defying the town meeting. The whole question has been deferred to the next meeting when the finance and advisory committee will also bring in a report which it is hoped will solve the budgetary question. There was a long discussion on both items.

Frederick Smith was re-elected chairman, and Arthur R. Lewis was elected the new secretary. Mrs. Julie S. Musk was appointed to the teachers' sub-committee, and the new member, Harold Houston, was placed on the buildings and grounds committee in place of Mrs. Musk.

Miss Miriam Sweeney, music supervisor, was granted permission to conduct out-of-school-hours classes in instrumental music in the school rooms, under the superintendent's supervision. A slight charge will be made for those interested.

Dr. Fuess Urges Alumni Leave Ivory Towers

Speaking at Phillips academy's New York Alumni Association dinner at the Hotel Roosevelt in New York last Wednesday, Dr. Claude M. Fuess, headmaster, advised the graduates to leave their "ivory towers" and acquaint themselves with the hardships that the underprivileged are forced to face. In spite of his aversion to the suggestion of smugness in the term, "noblesse oblige," Dr. Fuess expressed the desire that members of the Alumni would adopt the sentiment in assuming their share of society's burden. He advocated programs of adult education and scholarships as a worthy contribution to community welfare, stating that "Andover must represent an aristocracy of intelligence and morals, an aristocracy of character."

Richard W. Besse, a present member of the senior class, spoke on the ten "political parties" existing at Phillips and the regrettable snobbishness of the fraternal groups.

Allan W. Buttrick, '23, son of Frank A. Buttrick of Wolcott avenue, was a member of the committee in charge of the dinner, and among those present were: Dr. Fuess, Horace M. Poynter, School street, instructor in Latin; Scott Paradise of Hidden Field, English instructor; Allan V. Heely, formerly of Andover, headmaster of Lawrenceville; and Melvin Grover, class of '31, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Grover of Harding street.

Pythian Sisters Plan 25th Birthday

At the meeting of the Pythian Sisters last Thursday evening, initial plans were made for a supper and observance of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the temple to be held April 13.

Mrs. Mary Murdock, chairman of the committee, will be assisted by Mrs. Bertha Tierney, Mrs. Annie P. Davis, Mrs. Lily Harris, Mrs. Thomas W. Neil, Mrs. Elizabeth Wright, Mrs. Thomas B. Gorrie, and Mrs. Edward L. Roby.

WHEATON CLUB MEETS

The Wheaton Club met on Wednesday evening at Baronial Hall, Abbot Academy. The hostesses for the evening were the Misses Margaret Snow, Virginia Rogers, and Jane Sullivan. During the business meeting the Club voted to send a substantial sum to Wheaton College for the Student Alumnae Building Fund. This money was realized from the Wheaton night held at the Andover Play House.

Miss Martinson and two other candidates were guests of honor at the regular meeting of the Chapter held last Thursday in the Y. W. C. A. in Lawrence.

SERVICE CLUB MEETS

At the meeting of the Andover Service Club last Thursday evening, Selectman Roy E. Hardy outlined the factors that had led to the consideration of the Shaw and Grout estate for a possible town hall sight. The members discussed the issue freely and welcomed the explanations of Mr. Hardy. Dr. Nathaniel Stowers was elected moderator.

be to cut our own throats. He said five times more money is being spent on criminals than on education. The board isn't throwing money away, he concluded.

John F. O'Connell, prefacing his talk with a mention of the four dollar tax increase, said that all the finance committee is doing is asking nine competent, intelligent, good-looking citizens to spend $181,328, and it is not asking them to cut out the Schick tests, etc. This four dollars means $4000 to a firm like the Gas company, he added.

Mrs. Fay H. Elliott recalled reading in the real estate pages that the towns and cities which had the biggest building booms were the ones which maintained the highest school standards. Mr. O'Connell bounced right back to state that he had also read that the best building booms were in the towns with the lowest tax rate.

Then Harvey Turner added that the school teachers in Andover were the highest paid of any teachers in any city or town of Massachusetts, and William Barron and Mr. Smith jumped to their feet instantly, Mr. Barron being first recognized to deny the allegation. Mr. Turner said that he had said: "among the highest paid."

Voting on Mr. Turner's amendment the meeting with a standing vote that left room for no doubt sided with the finance committee.

North School Closing

Next the meeting shifted to article 51, the question of keeping open the North school in contravention of the school board's recent decision to close it. Ernest Fieldhouse and Mrs. Albert A. Hardy spoke in favor of it, with William Barron speaking at length from a prepared manuscript which used as its basis the Townsman editor's rebuttal of the minority report printed in last week's paper. Mr. Barron rebutted the rebuttal point by point, being applauded at intervals. No one spoke in favor of the school board's decision, the board because of a division within itself having agreed not to speak. The first voice vote was close, but on a recall vote moderator Butler announced that Mr. Barron's side had won.

B. P. W. Equipment

By request of Mr. Bodwell the meeting proceeded to the B.P.W. equipment articles before the regular B. P. W. budget, since if the equipment was voted savings would be possible as printed in the chart in last week's Townsman. The $13,150 gas tax fund was voted for highway maintenance, and the town hall remodeling went through without argument. Then came the piece de resistance which Mr. Burns had been awaiting these many months. He spoke of the old contract with Alexander Supply company, concluding that the firm owed us money for what he described as a tubercular machine, a piece of junk. It needs new tires, he claimed, and then moved that the company pay us $150 and give it to us. Sidney P. White of the board felt that the value at present was a conservative $2500.

Moderator Butler next was presented with a quandary. Two men in different parts of the hall arose, and he was puzzled. Should he recognize Mr. Lewis or Mr. Lewis, one the father, the other the son. He finally felt that the chair shouldn't allow any family quarrel, and father Herbert gave way to son Roger. Roger claimed no private contractor would buy it for $1200, and then Herbert asked how much it would cost to put the machine into operation. Mr. White said that the tires would last some time. Mr. White stated that the last contract was entirely legal, and Mr. Shepard clinched the argument with his contribution as mentioned above. After Mr. Burns had promised to check all the repair bills this year, the town voted to buy the "Big Mike."

There was no debate on the trucks or the horses.

The only item under the regular B.P.W. budgetary accounts to occupy much attention was the snow account, where storm warnings that there would be a town meeting storm because of the first unsatisfactory storm job came to naught. A total of $13,373 was approved.

After a few routine actions the meeting went on to the town hall site problem. Selectman Roy E. Hardy reported for the special committee which was calling the town's attention to a possibility that might not be existent next year. He mentioned four points: the gradual approach to the starting of a new building; the large area and extended frontage of the Shaw property which came on the market this year; the possibility of using the present site for parking; and the reduction in bond payments in the next few years. The earliest the town should contemplate actually starting the building would be 1944, he said. The motion was indefinitely postponed, with C. Carleton Kimball adding that he thought the committee had done a splendid job. Mr. Hardy withdrew the Grout articles.

Elm Street Out Again

The Elm street articles called forth considerable comment. Mr. O'Connell moved that it be postponed to the next town meeting. The principal speaker in favor was

Mr. Deyermond, who claimed that the street was one of the lost divisions. Delving back into history he said that George Washington had gone over the street back in post-revolutionary days. Without laying any blame on the Father of His Country, he said that there had been a hole there ever since.

Mr. Hammond said that it was not the worst street in town, but Mr. Deyermond wouldn't accept School street as an example of a main street. Ernest Edwards stated that he had failed to find the much-discussed ruts. The motion was lost, and the following two articles withdrawn.

Walter M. Lamont of the planning board successfully fathered the High street sidewalk and the Osgood road land-taking, both being voted because of potential and past-proven dangers.

Reserve Force

On the reserve police force article chairman Shepard stated that it would increase efficiency at no expense to the town, substituting a permanent list of the four men who have passed the civil service examinations for the present temporary provisional force which has to be renewed every 90 days.

The Husseys pond purchase went out with very little struggle, with no one from Shawshen responding to selectman Hardy's request for an opinion from that section.

Skating Area Passed

The first special article passed without the finance committee's approval was the request for a skating area, Mrs. E. Dean Walen cutting the requested appropriation to $400 in her motion. Stafford Lindsay spoke for it, mentioning the viewpoint of safety and adding that superintendent Gilliard had said the playstead could be flooded. The latter replied that it was a gamble on the weather.

Joseph B. Doherty, athletic association treasurer, spoke on the $2000 bleacher article, stating that the finance committee's recommendation that the association take care of it was not practical. Mr. Turner mentioned that the bleach-

TOWN MEETING

ers would be needed only five or six times annually, and Mr. Doherty countered with the statement that standing around in the mud at a game is injurious to the health. The bleachers would be moved around by students, he said, at no cost to the town. Mr. Burns, foreseeing a Rose Bowl, mentioned the present borrowing of the academy bleachers, and the meeting evidently favored continuing this plan. Prayer and A Salute

A strange interlude came when Paul A. L'Antigua moved his article to have a prayer and flag salute precede the meetings. One young man favored prayer, but felt that it was not in keeping with democracy to force a flag salute. After one gentleman made an "amotionment to amend the amendment by striking the article from the warrant," Mr. L'Antigua lauded the flag and its meaning. Professor Franklin B. Roberts asked an amendment to strike out the word "Christian" in deference to the non-Christians in town, and this was passed, the main article also receiving town meeting favor.

On the Shawsheen Heights road the finance committee suggestion that this be done out of the regular B.P.W. appropriations was defeated when Mr. Bodwell stated that having pared everything to the bone, the Board had none left for this work. The $1150 was voted as an out-and-out appropriation. Narrow Escape

Fred Gould was almost out of pocket $1,000 as the result of a town meeting vote, and he has Henry Bodwell to thank for his escape. The town threw out his request for $1030 reimbursement for a Salem street water main which he installed, mainly because it felt that whoever had granted permission to a private individual to open up a public way should not have done so. But later at Mr. Bodwell's suggestion the town rescinded and decided not to penalize Mr. Gould $1,000 because someone else had made an error.

The fire department reserve suggestions found its proponents holding all their arguments in reserve, and without even a motion being made it was passed over.

Cemetery Election Changed

Mr. Deyermond presented his motion to have the cemetery trustees elected by ballot at the annual town election hereafter instead of from the floor at the town meeting proper. However, trustee John M. Erving's motion to have the appointment made by the selectmen prevailed. Two will be appointed for four years, two for two and one for one, in 1940.

The Pine street survey occasioned some comment, with Messrs. Bodwell, French, and Philip Hardy speaking for it and Mr. Turner winning the case against with his statement that it was a survey on private property that a real estate agency should conduct.

Mrs. Jenkins' article for a water extension on Ballardvale road was voted with the proviso that a house be started there this year. A business man in Boston is contemplating building, she reported.
