Net Enrollment Of Local Schools Down

Andover's new teachers, together with Principal Kenneth L. Sherman, principal of the Junior High school. In the center is Miss Frances Hoskins, new domestic science teacher, and at the right is Mr. Sturke, social science teacher. (Surette Studio)

There are 34 fewer school pupils in Andover this year than there were last, according to the registration statistics compiled Monday when the grammar grades opened. The public school attendance went down 53 while the Parochial school went up 19.

Of the 1786 school children, the parochial school is absorbing 263 of which 11 come from the now closed North school. The total public school enrollment is 1523.

The figures by schools compared with last year's: Punchard down 11 to 388; Junior High down 35 to 433; Central Grade schools down 18 to 322; Shawsheen school up 19 to 185; Bradlee down 5 to 73; Indian Ridge up 8 to 72; West Center up 3 to 50; St. Augustine's up 19 to 263.

The figures were changed upward slightly Tuesday when 11 children whose sixth birthday comes between next January and March first passed the entrance examination.

Refuse Tax Cut Asked Because Of Closing Of School

Town Counsel Upholds School Committee In Overlooking Vote Of Town

A petition for a 25% reduction in valuation for the North District because of the closing of the North school was turned down by the Board of Assessors at their meeting Monday night. The assessors felt that the present valuation is fair.

At the request of the four delegates who presented the petition the selectmen asked Town Counsel Arthur Sweeney about the legality of the school closing in view of the town meeting vote appropriating $500 for keeping it open. Attorney Sweeney sustained the school committee, saying they were within their legal rights in closing the school.

The petition was presented by Ernest Fieldhouse, a parent of a school child, and Arthur Maddox, Joseph Gleason and George A. Kline. The preamble read: "We the undersigned taxpayers of the North District of the Town of Andover, petition the boards of selectmen and assessors for a reduction in taxes by way of a 25% devaluation of real estate as a result of the closing of the North school."

—Miss Mary Angus, daughter of Mrs. Annie S. Angus, 119 Main street, has begun her duties as a teacher in the Charlton public schools.

Bucknell Professor Presented With Gift

The Andover Male Choir held its first rehearsal of the season in the rooms in the bank building last Tuesday night, at which time J. Everett Collins, in behalf of the club, presented a zipper bag to William McCready. Mr. McCready is leaving town to take up his duties as Professor of mathematics at Bucknell University in Pennsylvania.

Rain did not prevent the choir from giving a commendable concert with the Haverhill Men's Singing Club at the Toppfield Fair, Sunday afternoon. Everyone moved inside, and the program went on as planned.

The annual get-together meeting of the Choir will be held next Tuesday night at the rooms. Members will render vocal and instrumental selections as part of the entertainment.

BLOW OUT HYDRANTS

The Board of Public Works has started to blow out every hydrant in the Andover water system in order to clean out the pipes. An attempt was made to do this some years ago but funds ran out when the experiment got as far as Lincoln street from the pond.

RESUMES PIANO TEACHING

Mrs. Gertrude Pearce Paige will resume her pianoforte teaching Friday, September 15. Class Lessons are being formed and a limited number of pupils may arrange for individual lessons at 53 Salem street.

—Miss Katherine E. Walsh of 11 Brook street is visiting at the World's Fair this week.

SAYS PROPOSED SCHOOL BUS NOT CAUSED BY CLOSING OF NORTH SCHOOL

Supt. States That Greater Savings Realized Than Were Anticipated

Rumors that the North School closing is responsible for the school superintendent's suggestion that another school bus may have to be put into operation shortly were dispelled yesterday when Mr. Sanborn stated that this is not so and that a bus if put on would probably not cost a great deal if any more to the town than the present transportation arrangement.

An apparently large number of people gained the impression after reading the reports of last week's school board meeting that the new bus could have as its only excuse the closing of the North school and the consequent transportation of the children to other schools in town. When a group of delegates appeared before the assessors Monday night to ask for a valuation cut because of the school closing, they implied that this was the case. However, the superintendent had made this suggestion even before it was decided to close the school, the aim being to gather up some of the loose ends in the present arrangements.

When asked if all the savings hoped for from the closing of the

Much Work Done On Local Highways

Several streets have been re-finished by the Board of Public Works in the past few weeks, while others are now in the process. Whittier street and Maple avenue have been widened, and the gravel shoulders of Chestnut have been given two coats of pea stone and tar. Yesterday Punchard avenue was resurfaced.

Today work was started on giving a hard surface to Yale street in Shawsheen Heights. Sections of Dartmouth street and Princeton street will also be done.

The curbing for High street near Flint Circle has arrived, and it will be set shortly.

The W. P. A has been installing a drain near 67 Summer street. It will also widen and gravel Reservation road.

—Miss Mildred Forsythe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Forsythe of Bartlet street will attend McIntosh school in Lawrence this fall.

Cemetery Work Nears Completion

A new road was cut through the addition to St. Augustine's cemetery yesterday as one of the final steps in the new development. Rev. Thomas B. Austin, pastor, who has been in active charge of the work, part of which was done by volunteer workers, states that aside from seeding, etc., very little remains to be done.

On Monday work will start on the final improvement of the interior of the church. A new rubberized tile floor is to be laid in order to bring the appearance of the floor up to the standard set by the rest of the newly-painted church.

National Guard Major Believes U. S. Far Behind In Army Equipment

The United States army equipment is about as old-fashioned and about as effective as the Queen's parasol and the prime minister's umbrella—so it would seem from what Major Edward Sirois said last Thursday night at the Young Men's Republican meeting here. And the Major should know, because he had just returned from the war games in Plattsburg, N. Y. Insufficient personnel, antiquated equipment and consequent weak organization were the three charges that the General Court's Republican Whip stressed in his talk. The army has only one-sixth of the personnel needed to bring it up to fighting strength, so that if we went to war, five-sixths of the men would be green.

Among the antiquated equipment he mentioned the spiral puttees or knee boots which require about a half hour extra for putting them on in the morning, and the National Guard rifles which are obsolete. Our mechanized weapons are very inadequate, he said, there being only one brigade of this kind in the country.

He stressed the importance of having the infantry and artillery perform more maneuvers together since each is useless without the other.

Quadruple Crash In Shawsheen Village

A few weeks ago the Townsman photographer took a picture of three cars in a rear-end collision at the junction of Union and North Main streets. Last Sunday night he could have taken another picture at the same place, but his film would have had to be long enough to take in four cars.

It was a bad interference of interstate commerce. A Reading car hit a Rhode Island car which hit a Pennsylvania car which hit a Dorchester car. The two original contactors had passengers who suffered injuries, including an ankle fracture, an ankle sprain, a shaking up and a leg injury.

Local police are hoping that the Dionne youngsters never have a car apiece.

The various tables will display fruits and vegetables, food, domestic articles, flowers and plants, candy and so forth.

A Rummage Sale is also a feature. Afternoon tea will be served.

Former Officer Covers Accident

Former police officer Tom Dailey came out of retirement Monday morning and covered an accident. It was a hit-and-run affair, with Tom's car being the only known factor in it. Driving into town along Central street, Tom saw another car coming in the opposite direction. And it kept on coming, so close in fact that it banged into Tom's left fenders, running-board and door. There its desire to be close to Tom's car ceased, and it scurried off before Tom had a chance to alight.

GRANGE MEETS

Andover Grange met Tuesday evening. The program of the evening was in charge of Lecturer Ebba Peterson. The 60 members present each gave a short account of their vacation experiences. Norma Darby sang a solo and Irma and Norma Darby sang a duet. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Maude Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Paul L'Antigua and Mrs. Keating.

Father Divine Moving Heaven To Dascomb Road

Father Divine is coming to Andover.

So the Board of Assessors was informed Monday night by a local taxpayer who was one of the many attending the meeting to complain about their assessment. After the assessors had heard her story and she had heard theirs she told them of a plan.

It seems that she's been reading stories of Father Divine locating his Heaven across from the Roosevelt Hyde Park estate and receiving an invitation to wing his angels to a new Heaven in the society yachtsmen's haven of Newport. And so, just by way of steering the assessors along the right track, right to her, she stated that unless something was done about her assessment, she would buy some property opposite the residence of Chairman Howell F. Shepard and rent it to some of Father Divine's disciples.

From what we understand of assessors' action in the case, the good shepherd doesn't mind being near Heaven.

BRIGGS-ALLEN OFENS

The Briggs-Allen school opened Monday, September 11, with pupils from the fourth grade through the eighth. Tests for children entering the first grade will be given every day this week. Next Monday, September 18, all pupils will be present.

WHY Blend ANTHRACITE LIKE TEA?

EVERY cup of tea is a blend. No one tea can taste good, smell good, and brew as ideally as the blend you drink. Teas with different characteristics make up the perfect cup you drink. Strangely enough, the finest Anthracite is blended too.

COLONIAL Blended ANTHRACITE

All anthracite is either the quick-burning high heat type called "Red-Ash" or the steady, lasting type called "White-Ash". And we found the one colliery which mines both and blends them scientifically to produce anthracite which is both quick burning and long lasting —both hot and steady. No one coal could do it. Only Colonial's Blend is ideal for cold snaps, warm days, and all-season heating.

This symbol marks a coal which is superior to all other anthracites because it is a blend. Try it. One ton is convincing.

Transport Children Who Are Living On Wilmington Road

The Andover school department has to transport a family of children who live on a Wilmington highway, so Superintendent Henry C. Sanborn learned yesterday. Last year there was some doubt as to whether the house then occupied by the Woods was in Wilmington or Andover, but after some reversals of opinion it was finally found that it was in Andover. This year the house is being occupied by the Goff family, and since the town has to transport the children, Superintendent Sanborn asked the Board of Public Works if they would make some minor repairs in the road. However, it was learned that the road is in Wilmington, the boundary line running along the road between the road and the house.

WEENIE ROAST

The hot dogs won't get away this time. The Townsend Club is definitely going to feast on luscious roasted ones tonight at Harry Martin's home on Elm street. Twice before they have planned to hold a weenie roast and twice before circumstances prevented it, but tonight is the night and it is expected that three times as many dogs will be eaten because of the three weeks time in which the Townsend appetites have had to grow.

First Graders Think They Like School

Volume 1, Number 2, of the Daily Sentinel was out Saturday. Cost us a penny too, but then the editor bought one of our papers containing the article about his first edition, and that left us four cents to the good. Pretty good return on a penny, so maybe we should give another little description of the youthful Brechin terrace editor's endeavors.

The lead story this time is about a young aviator who is being detained from making a flight to Europe to convince them that they really want peace. Another tells of precautions on ships coming back to America, the "mobilization" of Canada, and the imminent fall of Warsaw. They found space for a little sports news about a Cuba street team of which "Most of the people say that they will play some good games this year."

Then there was one about the "We The People" broadcast which "had the most outstanding guests you ever heard of. But one of the most important was Mrs. So and so in other words a princess in Turkey. She gave a personal message to everyone quote—"I am glad to be living in a free country like America—unquote." Right below it was a story showing one of the limits of that freedom. In a tone reminiscent of obituaries, it told about the starting of school. "Some children," it said with a scornful bit of grown-up wisdom, "who are starting their first year think they would like to go." But it seems the bigger children have a different slant: "I wish we had vacations twice as long and school-days twice as short." Philosophically it concludes with: "But wether children like it or not they must go to school."

Is that worth a nickel, boys?

Beauty Spot In Andover—

(Surette Studio)

Pretty sight, isn't it? That can't be in Andover? Well, it can be, and it is.

This particular dump is up on Red Spring road, and there have been other unauthorized dumps in other places in town. You can probably imagine what the picture doesn't show: the smell of decayed food and other rotten rubbish, the night-time scurrying around of rats and field mice, the congregating of flies, mosquitoes and other insects which prove excellent disease carriers.

We don't want to leave this rubbish and garbage around our houses, because it does smell and it does attract insects. So in order to prevent it from being a menace to our private health, we take it along to the side of the road and make it a menace to the public health. It's happened all over town; we're just too tired to take it to the public dump. Once down on High street just below Walnut avenue there was an unauthorized dump, created because someone didn't want to go down High street a little farther to the public dump, which is taken care of by the town employee. Because it's a nuisance to go to the public dump, we launch a real nuisance.

Of course a town like Andover should have a rubbish collection system. From the standpoint of public health and from the standpoint of tidiness there should be a public collection of rubbish each week, as is the case in many towns which we think inferior to ours. We want Andover to be healthy; roadside dumps can neutralize all the excellent work done by our doctors. We want Andover to be beautiful; roadside dumps can do much to neutralize the beauty of Andover's trees and her buildings.

But until the day when Andover takes this forward step, can't we as citizens strive to take a few extra pains in order to prevent the development of these dumps? And if we as citizens don't do what we should, can't our town officials find some way of making us show our loyalty to the town and our desire to diminish the possibility of the spreading of disease?

Don't Believe It—

"Don't believe all you read in the newspapers." It's really good advice when applied to all the stories you see at present about the European war which we'd like very much to keep European. For whether you're an addict of the yellow sheets or a devotee of the pure whites, you're going to be crammed with stories about the war that have only a semblance of truth about them. You'll want to believe some of them, and you won't want to believe others. Don't do any selecting; if you don't want to stay awake nights wondering whether your son, your dad, your brother is lying wounded or dead on a bomb-shattered battlefield, don't bother believing any of the stories.

Everything from abroad is being censored. Four nations are in a state of war, and an important part of war today is propaganda. Those nations want our aid, money, munitions and finally men. To get that aid is a piece of military strategy. There's very little reporting being done first-hand over there; the correspondents are taking what is handed them by military authorities, and although they're probably tempted to season the stories with a bushel of salt, they have no other choice than to take them as given. Germany will say one thing; Poland will say another. When it's all over, we'll really know what's happened but until then you and I are going to be objects of a propaganda attack so that our boys can be the objects later of a military attack.

You'll hear of atrocities; you'll be shocked by the stories. But remember that stories like these were what caused us to ship our boys off to France 22 years ago to make the world safe for something or other. It's war—anything goes, but let's let it go in one ear and out the other.

We have a little book here in the office, entitled: "Andover, Massachusetts, In the World War." It tells of what was done at home and abroad in the War To Start Another War. In it is a list of the boys who served, and beside some of the names are statements like these: "wounded six times and gassed in action"; wounded by shrapnel in right leg at Juvigny"; malaria, followed by pneumonia." And then there are pictures throughout the book, boys you knew who died over there.

We don't want to ever have to print another book like that.

NEW SCHOOL BUS

school had actually resulted, Mr. Sanborn stated that there would be greater savings to the town since 11 of the children have entered the Parochial school, thus saving on books, supplies, ect.

The new bus, if finally decided upon, would eliminate some of the present street railway transportation and would also absorb some of the extra transportation caused by children living on the borders of the town. Two cases were cited, one the Goff case on the Wilmington line, off the regular bus routes. Here there are a number of children being transported, including one who had planned to continue in Wilmington high but who finally decided to go to Pynchard. The cost to the town would be around $500. Another case is the Grassi family in the last house on Lowell street. The bus now goes up there, but it involved extra mileage over the contract rate, and the driver gets an additional 15 cents per mile in accordance with his agreement. This costs about 75 cents a day extra, and that gets up into the hundreds of dollars for a year.

The bus would also make it possible to eliminate some of the long waits that the children now have because of the involved, crowded schedule, and it would also eliminate some of the long round-about rides for some of the children.

Chester Abbott's bus which went into operation a little over a year ago has resulted in savings of around $2000 to the town by the absorption of loose ends. While the new bus could show no such savings, there would be very little net additional cost, Mr. Sanborn stated.

You save money by paying $2.00 a year for the Townsman.

Maguire, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Maguire of 152 High street. Rev. Henry Smith, O. S. A. performed the ceremony.

Harty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harty of Lawrence. The bride's cousin, Rev. Louis Kearn of Malden, performed the ceremony.

The bride was gowned in white taffeta, Elizabethan style, and she wore a veil held in place with a Juliet cap of pearls. She carried a floral prayer book. Mrs. Tammany wore aqua taffeta and the bridesmaids wore raspberry taffeta.

A reception followed at the bride's home and after a wedding trip through the White Mountains, the couple will reside in Lawrence.

Mardirosian-Hagopian

Miss Mary Hagopian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hagopian, 113 Chandler road, became the bride of Mardiros Mardirosian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nazaret Mardirosian, 90 Gardner street, Worcester at a mid-afternoon ceremony in Holy Trinity church in Worcester last Sunday.

Gowned in white net over satin, the bride wore a tulle veil which was held in place by a becoming tiara of pearls and she carried a bride's bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Louise Ovia of Worcester was the maid of honor and her gown, like the bride's, was blue net over satin and her veil was blue with a silver tiara. Lawrence Ovia, also of Worcester, was the best man.

Farley-Dean

Against a colorful setting of pink and white gladioli, palms, ferns and roses banked against staircase and fireplace, Miss Sarah Rives Dean, daughter of Mrs. William Dean of 354 North Main street, became the bride of Dr. Eugene Dodson Farley of Oshkosh, Wisconsin, last Saturday afternoon at the home of her brother, James L. Dean, on Kensington street.

Reverend Frederick B. Noss performed the ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by James L. Dean.

The bride wore a very dainty dotted white marquisette gown with floor length tulle veil decorated with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and maiden hair fern. Mabon Roper of Illinois, her bridesmaid, wore peach marquisette with aquamarine ribbons and her hat was aquamarine ostrich feathers with matching ribbons. She carried a bouquet of Joanna Hill roses and Transvaal daisies.

Miss Martha Alice Dean, niece of the bride, played the wedding march. The bride's brother, Edward Paige Dean, was the best man.

The bride is a graduate of Abbot Academy, 1934, and of Rollins College, Winter Park, Florida, 1938. The groom received his master's degree in chemistry from the University of Wisconsin and his Doctor's degree from the University of Illinois.

After the wedding, the couple left on a wedding trip to visit Dr. Farley's family in Wisconsin and to spend ten days at his cabin on Three Lakes, before returning to Elizabeth, N. J., where they will reside.

Miss Duff received many gifts.

Dear Ed:—

People seem to have been carrying out the suggestion all too well... this is a week of suspended animation, too cold for swimming, too soon for football... no snow so far, and unless towns men are holding out, nobody's doin' nuthin'... the only bright thing blazing on the landscape seems to be a perfectly (censured?) green striped jacket sported by one of the Phillips boys

...did overhear a telephone conversation (had to stoop to snooping since nobody will talk) in which one of the students proved that the proverbial professor is not the only one in the classroom that's absent-minded... His object was to call the railroad station (you know, 123?) but his subconscious mind objected... he just said 23... a careful scanning of the telephone book brings to light the following astounding fact... 23 is the number of Abbot Academy...

Philip Mooar's pigs are getting fatter and fatter... no date has been set for the slaughter, but I'll be there to get the story... and that's not sow-r grapes, either...

Of course you've heard about Harvard's Phi Beta Kappa society... they repealed the ninety-two year old law that forbade the serving of "spiritous liquor" at the dinners... unanimous vote... can toasts and liquids make a banquet?... Phi! Phi!

Anyway, the new bowling alleys are striking the fancy of many and teams are springing up all over the town... maybe by next week I can pin something on them... they ought to have news to spare...

Miss Katherine Walsh, house-mother of Andover's Youth Hostel, has gone to the World's Fair and she didn't even take a bike...

Honestly, even the number of weddings is dwindling... couples just don't seem to be cooling off the way they used to... So, I guess there just won't be any column this week...

Ten Teams Have Already Signed

Up For New Town Bowling League

Two More Hoped For; To Elect Officers Next Tuesday

Ten teams have already entered the new Andover Bowling League which will get under way shortly at the Andover Recreation Center alleys. An enthusiastic meeting was held at the Legion rooms Tuesday night and another will be held next Tuesday night at which it is expected that officers will be elected.

The committee hopes to have two more teams in the league which already includes a number of business establishments and several town clubs. Each team will have five men. The bowling alleys have been secured for Monday and Tuesday nights.

The teams which have entered to date are: Young Men's Republican club (two teams); J. E. Greeley's, Andover Steam Laundry, Andover Coal Company, American Legion, Square and Compass, British War Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Andover Boys' Club.

Backfield Problem

For Coach Sorota

Stephen Sorota, former Fordham star and backfield coach at Phillips Academy, began his career as head coach on Tuesday when 47 boys reported to him. His biggest problem this year will be backfield material, for a number of boys graduated and two others, was-to-have-been captain Maurie Gould and Bill Townson failed to return to school this year.

Ellie Harris, who came in to his own as backfield man number 1 in the Exeter game last year, has returned, but during the summer he underwent an appendectomy and may not be able to play. Burke and Arnold are also back, although they didn't see much action last year.

Veterans back in the line are: centers Jack Fisher and Seekins; ends, Brennan and Hoopes; tackles, Rollo Fisher, Hart and Burnam; guards, Macomber, Fineberg and Coty.

Most promising of the newcomers is Bob McLaughry, son of Brown coach Tuss and brother of Brown captain John. He like his brother before him played at Moses Brown before coming to Andover. It is said that he is better than his brother. John seemed unable to get under way at Andover, when he played alongside Torb MacDonald, now Harvard captain, who also couldn't seem to do much at Andover.

—Warren Gauthier, Lewis Keith and James Boardman who will attend Essex Aggie this fall have already reported for freshman football practice.

BOYLE IN PARIS

Eleven Children
Pass School Exam

They won't be six until sometime between next January first and March first, but a little thing like an examination didn't phase them a bit. Seventeen of them, boys and girls, walked into a room in Punchard High Tuesday, one at a time, with far less of a worried look on their faces than the Punchard seniors have when entering the same room at mid-years. There they met a state educator, who put them through a series of tests, asked a lot of questions, and watched carefully the reactions. Seventeen of them walked out of the room, one at a time, and on the faces of each of them was a "That was a cinch" look.

Six of them shouldn't have had that look. Eleven passed and are now qualified to enter the first grade as a special concession.

Local Red Cross To Aid War Victims

Once again the women of America are called to render volunteer service under the banner of the Red Cross for relief of war victims in Europe.

The immediate needs are for hospital and refugee garments. The Andover Chapter of the Red Cross has appointed Miss Anna W. Kuhn Chairman of the Committee, to take charge of the production of these garments. The opening of a workroom will be announced shortly.

In the meantime the Chapter will welcome gifts of various types of cloth, materials and yarns suitable for workroom use. Such gifts should be made through Miss Kuhn, telephone Andover 46. Donations of money for the purchase of materials should be sent to Philip F. Ripley, Treasurer, 7 Abbot street.

The situation has not yet developed to a point where the American Red Cross deems it necessary to make a solicitation for war relief funds. It is willing, however, to receive contributions designated for relief in any of the countries involved in the war. The American Red Cross will apply such gifts to the purchase and transport of hospital and medical supplies to the Red Cross Society in the country designated. Such contributions should also be sent to Mr. Ripley.

Habit Conquers
Eaton Once More

If Jimmy Eaton applies for a building permit shortly, chances are that it will be an addition for housing the championship trophies of the Andover Country club. Last Sunday's victory brought his total of club championships to eight since 1926; somehow or other he did relinquish his monopoly five times to let somebody else have a chance.

Somebody must have served a writ of Habeas Cuppus on Jimmy, and so having eliminated all the preliminaries, he went out last Sunday morning to prove that he had legitimate reason for holding the cup. Paul Collins too had done a bit of eliminating, but Eaton was destined to prove his undoing. It didn't look at all one-sided in the morning round. Jimmy got off to a lead, but at the end of the first nine holes they were all even. Then Paul went ahead, giving the Country clubbers a fleeting hope that the jinx of the links was broken. But by the fourteenth they were all even again, and the fifteenth and the sixteenth—but on the seventeenth Jimmy went ahead and stayed there right through the rest of the morning and all the afternoon until the 33rd hole, when with Jimmy four up, the match was brought to a close.

Changes Made In Boys' And Girls'

Library Pleasing To Young People

The Boys' and Girls' Library room is now open from two until eight daily, except Saturday, when it is open from nine until twelve-thirty and from two until six o'clock.

There have been some changes in the room which will please the young people. The younger children's collection has grown so rapidly that it now occupies an entire section. There is also a fourth grade section for those who have graduated from the "easy books." Here may be found many of the old favorites such as, Leslie Brooke's "Johnny Crow's Garden," "Who goes there?" by Dorothy Lathrop, and Marjorie Flack's "Angus and the Ducks." Among the newer books are: the amusing though pathetic tale of Susanna B. and William C. by Rachel Field, and Munro Leaf's "The Watchbirds," (which may "get you if you don't watch out!") Everyone likes to read about manners when they can be presented as cleverly as is "Manners Can Be Fun."

There is an intermediate section too, this year; for those who like adult books. Such adult favorites as "Alone," by Byrd, Lindbergh's "Listen! the Wind," and Coatsworth's "Here I Stay" may be found in this corner.

The collection of picture books is developing so that we have sufficient titles for the pre-school child which may be borrowed by parents registered in the Senior Library.

In other sections of the room may be found new titles, such as, Elizabeth Enright's "Thimble Summer," which won the Newbery prize for the most outstanding children's book for 1938. The heroine of the story found a silver thimble which she believed brought her luck. Then there is the fascinating story of "An Ear for Uncle Emil" by E. R. Gaggin. You would never guess who Uncle Emil was (no fairs telling if you know).

So visit the Boys' and Girls' Room soon so that you may meet some of the book friends which we have mentioned as well as many others.

Exchange Students Favored Hitlerism

Do the German people hate Hitler? With the British Royal Aviation Force using bulletins instead of bullets in an effort through propaganda to have the German people themselves overthrow Hitler, it is interesting to note that the exchange students from Germany at Phillips academy in the past few years lauded Hitler and Hitlerism in no uncertain terms, and some of them may now be fighting for a cause that they think is just. Those who had contact with the boys state that they thought little of democracy and approved unqualifiedly of Totalitarianism. Apparently the British barrage of air-mailed propaganda is aimed mostly at those who have not been brought up in Nazi-controlled schools.

No exchange arrangements were made by the academy with German schools this year.

Uncensored News

Last week, because some of the large stores had no sugar or limited their customers to very small packages, false rumors were spread about a sugar shortage.

There was plenty of sugar for stores that would go and get it. We hauled our own sugar from Lowell, Lawrence, and Boston, and not one person was refused sugar at this store, whether he was a customer of ours or not. Each person was given 5 or 10 lbs. according to his needs at a cost of not more than 1/2 cent a pound above our cost.

Also, we have an ample supply of canned vegetables and fruits and there will be POSITIVELY NO ADVANCE in our prices until a higher cost to us makes it absolutely necessary.

Compare the service of your Independent Store last week, against the service of your chain stores and decide to Trade Independent always.
