John Weeks Becomes Town's Oldest Man; Mrs. Hussey Oldest Resident

John Weeks
(Surette Studio)

The Post Cane, presented by the selectmen to the oldest male resident of the town and held until his death this week by Charles Rea, will apparently be awarded to John Weeks, 91, of 86 Central street. Mr. Weeks, who has lived in Andover for 60 years was born October 20, 1847.

Both the town's oldest man and oldest woman have died within a few months of each other. The passing of Mrs. Feronia Carpenter, 99, gave the title of oldest woman and oldest resident to Mrs. Mary Hussey of Chestnut street, who was according to the street list 96 as of January first. Of the six other Andover women who are over 90, three of them are named Elizabeth and one Eliza, interesting even if not an absolute guarantee of longevity. The six are: Eliza A. Whitney, 27 Highland Wayside, 94; Elizabeth P. Smith, 5 York street, 93; Elizabeth E. Jones, 6 Whittier court, 92; Elizabeth Locke, 133 Highland avenue, 91; Annie W. Rogers, 9 Maple avenue, 91; and Abbie Abbott, 4 Punchard avenue, 91. All ages are as of January first according to the street list.

Mr. Weeks is the only living Andover man who was 90 or over as of January first. Alexander Lamont who was 92 and Samuel Bailey who was 90 have both passed away since the first of the year. There are a few who were 89 on January first who have joined the nonagenarian ranks since then.

Stamp Exhibit At Junior Library

Richard Kimball of School street has arranged a very attractive stamp exhibit for the Junior Room which is being enjoyed by the boys and girls. Many first day covers are included. There is the one commemorating the inauguration of Washington; as well as the Cooperstown issue honoring the birthplace of baseball. The newest stamp, that which preserves the memory of the opening of the Panama Canal, is included. Other first day covers are: the "Heroes of the American Army and Navy." The presidential issue is almost entirely represented.

The Air Mail stamp is represented by a first flight cover: that of the Northern trans-atlantic.

There are some interesting foreign stamps. Spain is well represented by the Columbus issue of 1922, as well as the Madrid press conference stamps of 1936. Belgium is represented by an attractive set of the mother and child

SCHOOL OPENS

An enrollment of thirty-five students was reported last Monday when Mrs. Pike's private school in Shawsheen commenced its fall season. Added to the teaching staff composed of Mrs. Leonard Leach, Mrs. Preston Kelly and Mrs. Walter Pike will be Miss Elizabeth Butler who replaces Miss Elizabeth Orr. Miss Orr is now employed at the Methuen public schools.

Diamonds Valued At $10,000 Stolen

The southern part of the town of Andover is a bad place for jewelry salesmen to stop. Seven and a half years ago two New York salesmen stopped on the by-pass near Stinson road; later they reported that their car had been robbed of $15,000 in sample jewels. Monday noon a New Jersey salesman, representing a New York house of considerable repute, stopped for a bite at quarter of one at Howard Johnson's, itself the scene of a midnight hold-up a couple of years ago.

When the salesman came out from the lunch counter, he found a small inch and a half hole in the window of the right door, surrounded by about an eight-inch shattering of glass. What he didn't find was his suitcase with its $10,000 worth of diamond rings. Apparently the robbers had pulled some wires to get the jewels, the wire having been used to pull up the door-handle.

Police incline to the belief that the job was done by professional thieves who had followed the salesman from Boston. The only other possible excuse for anyone taking $10,000 worth of diamond rings would be to sell them to a foreign dictator to use at mass weddings.

—Rev. Donald Savage of the West church and Rev. Herman Johnson of the Free church attended the Congregational Ministers Retreat held at Adeleynwod, South Byfield this week.

Shifty Colleges Problem In China

His experience as a teacher for the past two years at Yale-in-China has given Edward Vose Gulick a keen insight into the lives of the Chinese people, their desire for progress, their struggle against poverty and the increasing influences of Japan and Russia. At a tea at the home of his mother, Mrs. Myron E. Gutterson on Chestnut street, Saturday, Mr. Gulick related some of his experiences to about fifty guests.

A freshman entering a University in China not only must worry about the whereabouts of classrooms, dormitories, etc., but also the whereabouts of the University itself. "Three of the big universities in Peking," Mr. Gulick said, "had to be moved from 700 to 1,000 miles westward." But the complications which the students and faculty have to overcome in being hurriedly shifted from one place to another, are no more deterring to the pursuit of education than lack of money.

Mr. Gulick will be a resident counsellor at Yale this year, having charge of 15 freshmen, and at the same time he will study at the graduate school, majoring in history.

MRS. SMART MARKS 90th BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Joseph A. Smart of 119 Main street received the best wishes of friends and relatives last Friday when she celebrated her ninetieth birthday. Mrs. Smart is another one of our "oldest" citizens of whom the town is so proud, and her daily activities in her home and garden indicate a youthfulness that has nothing to do with birthdays.

She received many cards and lovely bouquets of flowers in honor of the day.

CHURCH HOUR CHANGE

The Sunday morning services at the West Church will be held at 10:45 during the fall and winter months beginning this week. During the summer the services were held at 10:00.

Knights Of Columbus To Discuss Future

Organization May Vote To Disband At Meeting Wednesday Night

The future of Andover's Knights of Columbus, whether it will continue or disband with members who wish joining the Lawrence council, is to be decided next Wednesday evening at a special meeting in the Park street rooms. Special agent John F. Daily will be present.

If the Council decides to discontinue, it will be another in a long list of fraternal organizations which have fallen by the wayside because of the many other attractions in today's life. At one time the Council was a very strong group, with a home of its own on Chestnut street right behind the Andover Savings Bank which has now converted it into apartments.

Cornelia Otis Skinner Coming

Cornelia Otis Skinner, whose undisputed rank as the most outstanding monologist on the American stage today gives her a pretty good claim on the rank of the most outstanding player of any kind on the stage, is coming to Andover.

Phillips Academy is presenting her in George Washington Hall on Friday evening, October 6th, at 8:30. She will give a costume monodrama entitled "Mansion on the Hudson."

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cole of High street are spending the week in Washington, D. C., and the New York World's Fair.

Charles Rea, Town's Oldest Man, Dies

Andover's oldest male resident, who celebrated his ninety-third birthday last March, passed away last Sunday at his home on 69 Park street.

Although he was born and educated in North Andover, and learned the machinist trade at the Davis and Furber company there, his life is associated with Andover and many of the old established customs of the town. At one time he was a printer and turned the press for the Andover Advertiser, a paper which has been out of existence for over half a century. At another time he was in the teaming business and for six years he was an engineer on the old "Andover Steamer," becoming chief engineer about 1880. The firemen's musters, which were a main attraction in those days, were always attended by Chief Rea.

Mr. Rea retired from active business only seven years ago and it has been only since last September that he has been confined to his wheel chair. The Boston Post Cane, which is awarded to the oldest man in the town, has been in his possession for the past six years.

His sister, Mrs. Alice R. Dearborn, is now the only survivor in the family. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Grace Ayer and Mrs. Ella Curtis, with whom he resided, and a son, William T. Rea.

Funeral services were held at the late home yesterday afternoon and burial was in the Spring Grove cemetery. Rev. Frederick B. Noss officiated.

FIRE CHIEF'S CAR GOOD CLIMBER

The next time Fire Chief Emerson goes to a fire, he's just going to let his car climb right up the ladder. Early Tuesday evening he was driving on South Main street when his rear axle broke and the wheel flew off. The car got out of control and climbed a stone wall near Carter's corner, leaving one end pointing toward heaven and the other end pointing downward.

—Robert H. Wheeler, son of Mrs. Richard H. Wheeler of Ballardvale road, has been awarded a freshman competitive scholarship by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

—James D. Doherty of the William A. Doherty Insurance Company attended the National Conference of agents of the Aetna Life Insurance company in Swampscott, yesterday.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. Richard Abbott and family visited with the former's sister in Hudson on Sunday.

—Mr. and Mrs. David Henderson are occupying their new home on Bellevue road.

Obituary

Mrs. David Ferguson

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Joan (Gordon) Ferguson, formerly of this town, who died Thursday night at her home on Chandler street in Arlington, were held Sunday afternoon in the West Parish Chapel. Mrs. Ferguson was born in Arbroath, Scotland, and lived in Andover for some time before she moved to Arlington seven years ago. She was a member of the Free church while she resided here.

Besides her husband, she leaves two daughters, Mrs. Jessie Christofferson of Acton and Mrs. David Tait of Arlington; a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Frazer of Andover; three brothers, Alexander of Andover, Norman of Methuen and William of Cambridge.

Interment was in the West Parish cemetery.

FINED $50

Although he denied in District court Wednesday morning that he had had three beers in Reading, a Lawrence man was fined $50 when the court apparently put more credence in Officer Carl Stevens' story. The man was involved in an accident on South Main street in August.

More Bus Business—

Regardless of figures, there are going to be people who will know more about school transportation problems than the school authorities. Even if shown that a new bus would take up enough of the present expensive loose-ends to pay for pretty near its annual cost, they won't believe it. Fortunately however town officials usually pay attention to figures and not to those who feel that they are authorities on everything from steam boilers to higher education.

The transportation problem will probably take up much of the school board's time at the next meeting. They'll be criticized of course if they decide that a new bus is consistent with economy, and people will rave about what an expense school transportation is. But listen sometime to those ravings. We heard one man, and he's typical of many, criticizing the school board the other day because they were spending so much on transportation—and a few minutes later he was criticizing them because they weren't making any provision for picking up his children! Consistency, thou art a jewel—a very rare one.

It's really our fault that transportation is such an item. Our children must be transported. The state law requires that they be transported if they live over two miles from the school, but here in Andover transportation is extended to all over a mile and a half and to the younger children over a mile. Do you think that the school committee should stick to the two-mile limit and eliminate all the transportation for children living nearer than that? We do, but do you think the school committee could get away with it? What a howl of criticism there would be! Of course you walked when you were youngsters sometimes even farther than two miles—and the weather was just as bad, worse apparently, in those days. But no, not today. We mustn't let the youngsters today walk. Of course, it's grand exercise—but, oh, no, they mustn't walk!

Neutrality—Passive and Positive—

They're talking about neutrality down in Washington now, but neutrality is something that we've got to do more than talk about. We have to act neutral, and that means more than not openly favoring any of the belligerent nations; it means not doing anything that would even indirectly favor any power—it means, in other words, a complete abstinence from doing anything or dealing in anything of a warlike nature. If our President and our Congress are really interested in keeping the United States out of war, the best thing that they can do is to keep the country out of the war business. Even if Germany and Great Britain were equally able to pay cash and to carry away munitions from our shores, by allowing this trade the United States is helping to continue the war, and the longer the war goes on the more chance there is of our getting into it.

The United States can play an important part in this struggle, not only by refusing to supply the implements for the nations to use in killing each other's young men but also by making every effort every day to end the war. There will be those who will want the war to go on until Hitler and Hitlerism is wiped off the face of the earth, but is that worth the sacrifice of so many lives, French, German and British? Nothing was gained by the last war; nothing will be gained by this. But unless something is done, it's going to go on for years. Thousands will be killed between the Maginot and Siegfried lines and in the cities; London, Paris and Berlin, with the beauty that the centuries have given them, will be gone.

Recent Bride

Mrs. Eugene Farley (Sarah Dean) married at a home wedding in Shawsheen a week ago Saturday.

Currier-Campbell

Miss Margaret Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Campbell of 8 William street, became the bride of Dr. Charles A. Currier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard A. Currier of Kensington street, last Saturday, at a pretty ceremony in the South church. The bride's attendants, gowned in rose, pink and blue satin, made a colorful procession against the green ferns and palms and white gladioli that decorated the church. The bride wore cream satin, princess style, and a flowing illusion veil. Her bridal bouquet was of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Miss Phyllis Campbell, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Helen Filor of West Haverstraw, N. Y.; Mrs. Walter Price of South Orange, N. J.; Miss Mutiel Smith of Providence, R. I.; and Mrs. James Walsh of Lawrence. Each wore a sweetheart hat to match her gown and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

The groom's brother, Willard H. Currier, was the best man and the ushers were: Dr. George Currier, Sudbury, Edward B. Thomas, Bedford, Douglas Richmond, Brookline and Burton Webster, Boston.

Rev. Frederick B. Noss performed the ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her father. A reception followed at the Andover Country Club.

Mrs. Currier is a graduate of Centenary Collegiate Institute, N. J., and the groom is a graduate of Howard and Tufts Medical school.

On their return from their wedding trip, the couple will reside at 33 Wolcott avenue.

Smith-Day

The marriage of Franklin A. Smith, to Dare Merle Day of Brooklyn, N. Y., on June 17, has recently been announced by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith of George street, Mr. Smith is, at present, stationed on the U. S. S. Dahlgren at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and has just re-enlisted for a two-year extension in the Navy.

ENGAGEMENT

Rev. Charles W. Henry, former rector of Christ church, and Mrs. Henry of Chelmsford have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Joyce Compton Henry, to Mr. Allen Gates Woodhead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Woodhead of Pittsfield and Brick End farm, Chelmsford.

Miss Henry is a graduate of Abbet Academy and Radcliffe College. She also attended Katherine Gibbs School. Mr. Woods attended Brown and Nichols School and the Donaldson School, Ilchester, Md.

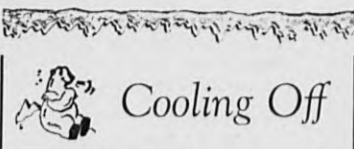

No date has been set for the wedding.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Kenneth J. Eason, 26 Wolcott avenue, and Mary Wazniah, 499 Essex street, Lawrence.

Frederick J. Harkins, 8 Cottage street, Everett, and Rita T. Carroll, Dale street, Ballardvale.

Daniel E. Hughes, Jr., 78 School street, and Mary T. McCartney, 15 Highland road.

Cooling Off

A series of alarming incidents announced the change of address of John Grecoe and family from Binney street, Shawsheen, to Florence street, Andover, last Monday...beginning with a bonfire kindled (source unknown) in the back seat of his car while it was innocuously parked outside the Andover Press...pressmen swarmed from doors and windows to extinguish the blaze...later they reported to John that "Maybe his Plymouth was a good car for burning up the roads, but now it was just burning..."...Maybe it's just an endless chain of jinx, but that same evening, about 10:15, a burglar alarm boomed out on Main street...a crowd gathered around to see what size of a burglar would be robbing "the biggest little jewelry store in the state"...nobody wanted to rob anything...Mr. Grecoe turned off the alarm and turned in...a busy, busy day...

Things have been humming in West Parish lately, too...the steeplejacks who have been beezily repairing the church steeple find that previous occupants are not too ready to move out...ah, yes, the bee is a hymenopterous insect... But horses are different...Officers Stevens, McCarthy and O'Brien, Andover's mounted police, think so anyway, as they enjoy a canter at Flint's riding stables...Officers Stevens and McCarthy find their motorcycles' saddles more befitting...there were no casualties but nobody was very casual either...

Arthur Lewis told us a surprising story about horses...someone...he didn't say who...lifted two of them in his bare hands and carried them up the Grange stairs... must have been awfully straw-g... because the horses must have been awfully full... They supported the table all during the supper the other night without once whining for something to eat...

Dr. and Mrs. Lorentz Hansen and Whitney have returned from their trip to California where Joyce is to attend the University of Redlands...nothing special happened...on the trip home there was a terrific cloudburst over the mountains and desert...three trains were tied up...including the one upon which the Hansens were traveling...maybe it's hard to find a needle in a haystack, but hundreds of people found Needles, California...everyone piled out of the trains and piled into stages which were to carry them to Seligman, Arizona...when Whitney was looking for his baggage he found an unfamiliar suitcase marked Andover, Mass...it belonged to Albert Lowe...they had quite a jolly reunion in the desert before each proceeded on his way...Mr. Lowe went on to Texas...wait until he gets back home and hears about the local Texas...oh, he is back?...well, Father Divine has not arrived in town yet and according to the boiling over at the assessors' meeting he'd be in-fer-no good...

Roy Dearborn has returned to his duties in the Andover Savings Bank after enjoying a vacation at Cape Cod.

Miss Alice Hinton of Clark road observed her seventieth birthday, last Sunday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Summers of Clark road.

Miss Mary Jane Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Bailey, 71 Elm street, is studying at the Chandler Secretarial school in Boston, this year.

Miss Glenna Draper of Bartlet street entertained a group of friends at a week-end house party at her camp at Cobbetts Pond.

Dear Friends:

Being comparative newcomers to Andover, we would like to make your acquaintance. The cozy interior of our shop at 96 Main street, near Punchard avenue, will surely please you, and only the best of newly perfected equipment has been installed. We know you'll be pleased with our operators, including our male hair stylist. Do come in and visit us.

P.S. Our 'phone number is not listed in the directory, so why not just jot it down in your book—Andover 1325?

The weather ideal, boating and swimming were greatly enjoyed. Those present were Gertrude Batchelder, Virginia Stevens, Angeline Thiras, Anne Sparks, Althea Morrison, Ruth McLaughlin, Margaret McFarlin and Glenna Draper. Mrs. Draper acted as chaperon.

On September 18, Mrs. Alfred N. Hurlburt, formerly of 64 Bartlet street, Andover, opened a new shop at 1323 Connecticut avenue, Washington, D. C. The shop is operated under the name of Flora Hurlburt and features decorative accessories, china, glass and silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Robbins of Red Spring road will leave for New York this week-end where they will spend a week visiting the Fair and New York City.

Muller, Haggerty, Anderson And Noyes Slated To Start In Punchard Backfield Saturday

Coach Gene Lovely last night announced his probable starting line-up for Punchard's opening game Saturday against Storey High of Manchester at the playstead at 2:30.

Muller will probably start the game at the signal-calling berth, with Boucher as a possible starter. Haggerty at left half, Anderson at right half and Noyes at full will very probably make up the rest of the backfield.

Deyermund has at present a slight lead over Lindsay for right end. McMackin seems pretty certain at right tackle, Collins will undoubtedly get the call at right guard, and captain MacLauchlan is to be the center. Brown, a stand-out last year, will again hold down the left guard position and Simmers will get the call at left end. Rennie and McMahon are fighting it out for left tackle, with the former having an edge at present.

The Storey eleven, also playing its first game, is reported to have a veteran team. Punchard has not played the Manchester outfit since three years ago when the local boys won 6-0.

Coach Lovely and assistant coach Joseph Doherty attended the Winchester-Arlington game Saturday to get a line on what the Winchester team has.

Coach Sorota Cuts P. A. Varsity Squad

Coach Steve Sorota cut his varsity squad on the Hill last Saturday from over 100 aspirants down to 47, of whom 17 are lettermen. The opening game will be played with Nichols Junior college of Dudley a week from Saturday. The first scrimmage was held on Monday, with Burke at quarter, McLaughry at left half, Anderson at right half and Harris at full on the A team.

Tim Hoopes and Jack Brennan seem to have the call so far on the end positions. Gene Constantin looks good at tackle, and Hart and Macomber have the call at guards. Seekins seems secure at his old position at center.

Bill Hart was elected captain last Saturday to take the place left vacant by the decision of Maurie Gould not to return to school. A layvee at the start of last year, Hart, a former Shawsheen boy, won a regular position at guard. He plays at third base on the baseball team.

Girl Cheerleaders Chosen At Punchard

The Punchard football team cheerleaders have been elected by the student body as follows: Renice Mundy, captain; Claire Flaherty, Helen Carmichael, Isabelle Debbie, Marv Dunn, Joanne O'Riordan, Catherine Jowett, Pauline

St. Mark's Football Coach Appointed Purchasing Agent

George D. Brenden, P. A. 1919, has been appointed assistant comptroller and purchasing agent at Phillips academy. Captain of his football team here, he later went on to Harvard, and during the past eight years has been football coach, business manager and mathematics instructor at St. Mark's school.

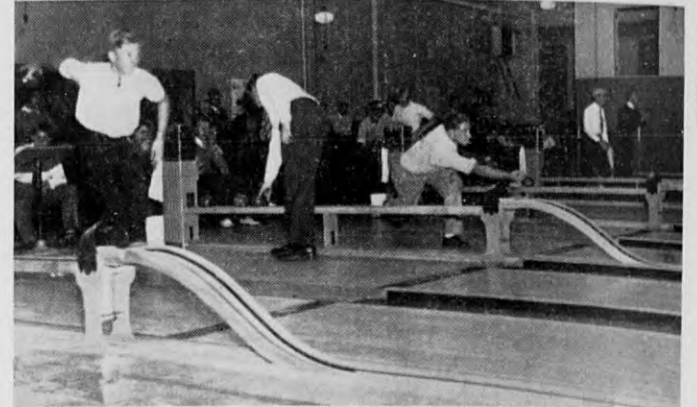

As purchasing agent he takes the place left vacant by the retirement of Virgil D. Harrington. He will also serve as assistant to comptroller Henry S. Hopper.

P. A. SOCCER TEAM PROMISING

It looks like a good year again for Jim Ryley—although Jim probably won't admit it until another undefeated season has passed for the Phillips soccer team. Nine of last year's lettermen are returning, including Don Boynton of Andover who is also a hockey and baseball letterman. Charles Richardson English boy, looks like an excellent addition to the team.

A game with Governor Dummer has been arranged tentatively for September 30.

"Penny A Meal" To Help Paint Church

"A penny a meal" is the unique way which the members of the Methodist church in Ballardvale have of helping to defray the expenses of the church. The boys of the Sunday school classes and several of the members built miniature green and white churches with a slot in the roof of a convenient size for a penny to slip through. Each family has one of the banks and if they faithfully drop in "a penny a meal" for a month, then their names are put on the church honor roll. The larger the honor roll, the more certain becomes the possibility of having the church freshly painted for its ninetieth birthday in 1940.

Neutrality Bill To Be League Topic

The Andover League of Women Voters will hold a special before-season luncheon meeting on Monday, October 2, at the Andover Country Club, to consider the all-absorbing question of American neutrality. Professor Rupert Emerson, of the Department of International Relations of Harvard University, will be the speaker. He will discuss the present neutrality bill, with its proposed amendments, and the effect of each of the proposed measures on American neutrality, on American economic affairs, and on the belligerents.

Professor Emerson has been a favorite speaker at the Schools of Foreign Affairs sponsored by the Massachusetts League of Women Voters in Cambridge, and therefore his talk here should interest everyone concerned with the vital problem of American neutrality.

—Edward Bradford of Main street is enjoying his annual vacation, part of which he is spending touring Maine.

Service Club To Hear Talk On War Maneuvers

General William I. Rose, commander of the 51st Infantry Brigade, will give a talk on the United States War games at the meeting of the Andover Service club tonight. The former adjutant-general of Massachusetts, himself a veteran with a fine war record, will give a first-hand account of the maneuvers at Plattsburg.

Colonel Albert Spaulding of the regular army and a member of General Rose's staff will also be present at the meeting.

After the meeting the members will hold a bowling tournament at the Andover Recreation alleys on Park street.

TWO BEERS AT $25 EACH

Two beers in Medford had such a hold-over effect on a Somerville truck driver on September 10 that he had to pay a $50 fine in District court last Friday because officer David Gillespie had ascertained him driving at a high rate of speed when he reached Andover. The officer told the court that the driver staggered and seemed to be in a fog, this sufficient evidence having replaced the method mentioned in today's Ten Years Ago column.
