Fire, Smoldering Overnight Damages Home

Damage estimated at between $3000 and $4000 was caused by fire Sunday in a vacant house owned by Attorney and Mrs. James S. Eastham at 29 Morton street. The fire had apparently been smoldering overnight and was just beginning to come out through the eaves when the department was called Sunday morning.

Chief Emerson reported that an oil heater had been left on overnight in the recently renovated house, with the timbers around the chimney becoming overheated. The blaze then worked its way up through the partitions. Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Bodwell who live next door stated that they had smelled smoke the night before and Mrs. Bodwell, investigating Sunday morning, heard the flames crackling in the basement.

Trapp Family Choir Here Tuesday

The Phillips Academy concert series will open on Tuesday evening with the appearance of the Salzburg Trapp Choir. This unique family, already popular at Andover as a result of their superb concert last year, will return to give an entirely new program of vocal and instrumental selections, as well as folksongs of the Austrian Alps.

On November 24, Miss Rosalyn Tureck, well-known pianist, winner of the Town Hall Endowment Award, and pupil of the former Mrs. Leopold Stowkowski, will give a recital.

Bazaar To Replace Annual Guild Sale

Contrary to the fable, the leopard can change its spots, and on October 28th when the Guild opens its doors at 9:30 to the bargain-bent public for its annual rummage sale, it will be found that great changes have taken place. A bazaar has been substituted,—new features have been added, and it is "rum-tiques" as well as rummage that will distinguish this sale.

Along with cast off mouse-traps and Gloucester hammocks and last year's high-chairs it is reported that rare and superior items are being offered for the sale,—so it has been decided to have a separate "Rum-tique" Shop where connoisseurs may ramble and poke in search of interesting bits to add to the splendor of their homes.

Also new is the "Better Dress Shop," where one may find women's and children's outgrown

Gould Elected As Academy Treasurer

James Gould, P. A. 1913, was elected treasurer of Phillips Academy by the trustees at their meeting last Saturday. He succeeds James C. Sawyer who retired last June after a long service of accomplishment.

Mr. Gould was prominent in his class at Andover, being president of the school, captain of swimming and hockey and member of the football team. He also graduated from Yale where he was also very prominent. Following his service in World War I he became connected with the Bankers Trust Company and the Commercial Factors corporation with whom he has been ever since.

Former secretary of state Henry L. Stimson was re-elected president of the trustees and Dr. Fuess re-elected clerk.

COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE TO START MONDAY; AIDED 1169 HERE LAST YEAR

Large Squad Of Volunteers To Assist In Concerted Appeal

A large number of Andover residents will start Monday on the annual Community Chest campaign which as usual brings together all the former separate appeals for funds by individual organizations, making it both more economical from the collection angle and more desirable from the viewpoint of the person solicited. Rev. A. Graham Baldwin is general chairman of the Andover campaign, and he is assisted by W. Shirley Barnard and Mrs. W. T. Rich, together with a large corps of volunteer workers.

The Chest last year aided 1169 Andover people who benefitted from 11 different agencies which used to conduct their own separate drives. The principal one was the Guild which provided wholesome recreation and leisure-time character-building activities for 408 boys and girls of Andover. Others were the Boy Scouts, the City Mission, the Girl Scouts, the International Institute, the Protec-tory of Mary Immaculate, the M. S. P. C. C., St. Ann's Orphanage, the Tuberculosis health camp, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

The local workers in the drive follows:

Districts Division: Mrs. W. T. Rich in charge—

1. Mrs. Charles Dalton, Captain, Mrs. John Sullivan, Mrs. Albert G. Coates, Mrs. Edward A. Wright, Miss Winona Boutwell.

2. Mrs. George Sawyer, Mrs. Southworth Cowden, Mrs. Wallace Brimer, Mrs. Arnold Graham, Mrs. Miles Malone, Mrs. Richard Douglas, Mrs. Geoffrey Glendenning.

3. Mrs. Arthur Reynolds, Mrs. James Selden, Mrs. George G. Brown, Mrs. Arthur Sweeney, Miss Emily Thompson.

4. Miss Evelyn Robinson, Miss Sarah Ballard, Milton C. Blanchard, Miss Miriam Putnam, Mrs. K. H. Barnard.

5. Mrs. Jerome Cross, Mrs. Leo Daly, Mrs. Jean Bernardin, Mrs. Jerome Cross, Jr., Miss Evelyn Bailey.

Bicycle Riders To Organize Police Force For Safety

A captain, eight lieutenants, patrolmen, even a judge and prosecuting and defense counsel—that's the set-up under which the young people of Andover are going to take care of the bicycle safety problem, according to plans now being advanced by the local V. F. W. post and the chief of police. It is expected that every bicycle-owner between 6 and 17 will join the Bicycle Safety club, which is part of the national youth program of the V. F. W.

Those who join fill out an application which contains a description of themselves and of their bikes. After agreeing to ten safety commandments, they are given a reflector license tag and a license. Then all they have to do is to live up to the commandments.

If they do, the bicycle safety aim is achieved; if they don't, they are given a ticket by one of the patrolmen, lieutenants or captain, and then they appear in court before one of their fellow-members wearing the robes of a judge. Another young bicyclist does the prosecuting and still another acts as defense counsel. The youthful patrolmen testify on the alleged violation.

If the judge finds the supposed culprit to be a real culprit, a fine of say 10 cents might be levied or his license to operate the bicycle may be suspended for a week. And it's no fun being grounded.

If the alleged violator does not appear in answer to the summons, he is defaulted, expelled from the club and the complaint referred

Andover Harvardians Second To Memphis

Second among the Harvard clubs in the world is the Harvard club of Andover at present. Recently released by the Harvard Alumni association were figures showing the percentage of alumni in each section who are dues-paying members of the club in that section, and Andover stands second.

The local club is out this year to make first place, now held by the Memphis, Tenn., club. Just a slight margin separates the two, while the other clubs are well behind.

Extra Police For Saturday's Game

Extra police will be on hand Saturday at the Winchester-Punchard game to forestall any repetition of the brawl which took place in Winchester last year when some of the overly-exuberant local spectators created a minor riot which made the front pages of Boston's Sunday papers. At least a dozen officers will be on duty.

Masterpieces To Be Reproduced In Show

The local Public School Department has announced that an exhibit of 150 of the finest reproductions of recognized masterpieces of art has been engaged to be placed on display to local students and the general public. The exact date and place will be announced shortly.

A small admission charge will be made, and the fund thus raised will be used to purchase pictures for all schools participating.

In making the announcement Miss Alice M. Olliff, art supervisor, said: "Recent improvements in color photography and printing now make it possible to bring the art of the world to even our smaller towns and villages through the medium of faithful reproductions. These reproductions are true to the originals in all respects, with the possible exception of size. Even the most delicate variations in color are maintained. In most instances the brush strokes in the original picture are clearly discernible."

GIRL SCOUTS ELECT

Four new officers were elected at the annual meeting of Troop 25 Girl Scouts. They were, the American Flag Bearer, Carol Reading; American Flag Guard, Constance Ormsby; Troop Flag Bearer, Betty Lefebvre; and Troop Flag Guard, Carol Paradise. Merle Drouin the previous week was elected as Troop Scribe. Plans were made for the plays which are to be presented by the girls that are working for the Dramatic badge.

to the town police—the only place in which town officials step in.

To Organize Monday

Next Monday night at 7 in the V. F. W. rooms, Musgrove building, the organization meeting will be held. There will be speakers including local police officials and the V. F. W. head of the state bicycle clubs. The organization will include a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, a captain (chief of police), eight lieutenants, at least eight patrolmen, a judge, grand counsel and defense counsel. There will be a lieutenant for each school. Punchard, Junior high, Central Grammar, Shawsheen, Bradlee, Indian Ridge, West Center and St. Augustine's. Announcement of the plan was made in all schools this week. It costs 25 cents a year for membership.

The plan has the enthusiastic support of Greater Lawrence police chiefs. A club is now operating in Lawrence, and one of the most interesting phases has been the recovery of a large number of stolen bicycles through the descriptions on the application blanks.

Male Choir Enjoys

Social Evening

The Male choir held another social hour at its meeting Tuesday evening, with Harold Holt starting the program with "God Bless America." Charlie Cole topped off the evening's program with a sleight of hand performance, Miss Marion Abbott accompanied.

The Choir will make its first public appearance of the season at a service in the Derry, N. H., Baptist church Sunday evening, October 29, at 6:30.

Hundreds Of Alumni Expected Saturday

Phillips Academy will hold its first Alumni Day on Saturday. Each of the 10,000 graduates of the school has been invited to attend, and from the replies so far received it seems likely that a group of several hundred will find it possible to come to Andover for that day.

An attractive program has been arranged, including tours about the campus and visits to classes in session. These will be followed by a luncheon in the Commons, at which John H. Cuthbertson, 1940, President of the Student Council, and Headmaster Claude M. Fuess will speak. At 2 p. m. the football game between Andover and Harvard Freshmen will be the attraction, the alumni being guests of the Athletic Association. After the game Dr. and Mrs. Fuess will welcome the returning graduates for afternoon tea at their home. Supper in the Commons will be followed by the usual Saturday night moving pictures, except that a special program has been arranged consisting of "Goodbye Mr. Chips," and some of the earliest films ever made of life at Phillips Academy. These latter should be interesting because of their quaintness and because they show many of Andover's beloved teachers who have since passed away.

In spite of the many changes and improvements made in Phillips Academy in the last twenty-five years, graduates will find it fundamentally the same school—a school based conservatively upon its 162 years of New England background, and yet a school thoroughly alive to the changing and liberal ideas in the educational world and ready to adopt those innovations which have proved their worth. It is a school which is essentially American and democratic. Its fees are lower than those of almost any school of its size, and, as has always been true, boys of very limited means are encouraged to attend the Academy and pay for their tuition by work outside of study hours. About one-third of the student body is helping to pay their own expenses at Andover.

Houseware And Hosiery

Did you ever go into a department store, buy things in different departments, and charge them? If you did, you received one bill; you didn't receive a bill from the household department, another bill from the hosiery department, another from toiletries, etc.—you just received one bill. There are two good reasons why stores do this: (1) it is more economical for them to centralize their collections; and (2) it is less of a bother to you to receive just one bill.

Next week you will receive one bill for several different departments. Someone is going to come to your door and say that he is representing the Community Chest which is making its annual appeal for funds. There are 13 departments represented on that one bill, and you used to receive an individual appeal from each of them. But they're not bothering you that way any more; they've centralized their collections for efficiency's sake and for convenience's sake. They're asking you once to aid these thirteen organizations.

There's no doubt as to what a true Andoverite will do when the committeemen come around. He'll dig down and do all he can to help out. The Andover Guild is our chief interest in this campaign, but there are also the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts in addition to a number of Lawrence organizations which extended their helping hand this past year to Andover people a hand which was extended just as if no boundary existed between the two communities. In like manner we should extend our help; human need as well as human kindness knows no boundaries.

So dig down deep and help willingly, with a smile for these committee workers who are giving their time and their efforts voluntarily to help out. And here's another little thing to remember: when you spend a dollar in the household department you can't use that same dollar to buy hosiery with in another department. Maybe you used to give a dollar to the Guild and a dollar to the Y. M. C. A. when there were separate drives; now that these organizations have combined into one drive for your convenience, don't forget that they all need funds. Give as much as you can; they are all doing a great work and you can help in that work.

Winchester Group In Gallery Exhibit

The current exhibition of the John Esther Art Gallery at Abbot academy presents the work of an enterprising group of women who call themselves The Winchester Studio Guild.

For the most part the drawing and painting displayed represent the kind of achievement that the members of the group have been able to make by devoting one class day a week to the problems of art.

This fall marks the beginning of the third year of the organization. There is a limited membership under a president, Mrs. Truman M. Godfrey, and an instructor, Elizabeth Lobengier. The Guild maintains its own studio. It outlines a program of visits to museums and galleries throughout the year.

The effect of the exhibition as a whole belies the amateur classification of the group. Many of the pieces have the touch of acquired skill, while others provide the freshness of untutored expression. Some of course are between, at the self-conscious state. The entire display signifies that a healthy interest and a lively endeavor must support this unique body.

Andover District Meeting Planned

The Board of Directors of the Andover District, Congregational Women's Missionary groups, has planned a new type of meeting for the Fall meeting in Trinity church, Lawrence, Thursday, November 2, at 10:30 a.m.

There are to be three separate conferences during the latter part of the morning session. Three speakers have been secured to have charge of these groups: Mrs. Royal Whiting, Associate Executive Director of the National Council for Social Action, will conduct a forum on International Relations; Mrs. Franklin G. Field, State Chairman of Education on "Education and Programs"; and Mrs. Myron Guterson of Andover on "Worship."

Besides these conferences two speakers are coming to present the work of the Younger Churches at home and abroad. Miss Mary D. Uline, National Secretary of the American Board, will speak on "The Progress of the Southern Negro," and Miss Mary McClure, Fenchow, China, will present her field. These are outstanding speakers, and with the conferences and a candlelight service in charge of Mrs. G. W. Hathorn presages to be perhaps the strongest program yet presented to the district. All women interested are cordially invited to attend.

Advocates Change In Japanese Policy

"The United States is killing hundreds of people in China," said Dr. Walter H. Judd in a talk at Phillips academy Tuesday night.

"Japanese planes cannot operate without our petroleum products," he said, "and we keep supplying gas and oil to Japan. Furthermore, we are spending a lot of money building warships for a Pacific fleet to protect ourselves because Japan is building warships, but she wouldn't be building them if she didn't have United States steel."

Dr. Judd maintained that we should immediately change our foreign policy by stopping both exports and imports with Japan. He painted a gloomy picture for the future of democracy if Japan conquers China through its murdering of civilian populations, destroying of China's education system, and feeding of opium to the inhabitants.

Bandits Threaten To Wreck Press

Three bandits are taking freedom of the press too literally. In fact a local paper has received a letter saying: "Beware, we will wreck your press."

But let's let the Brechin terrace Daily Sentinel tell its own story: "Three daring bandits or three former bandits sent our paper an ominous letter which reads as follows: Beware Sentinel. We will wreck your press. We have heard nothing from them since. And our press, we wouldn't have cared if they had wrecked it because we have a new one. They didn't want us to mention their names, but they are as follows:—" Whoops, it's good these boys don't use the postoffice for mailing their papers."

Cooling Off

(By the Assistant Editor, On vacation—so-called)

By courtesy of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., here I sit in the press box of the Senate beside correspondents of the Evening Star, largest newspaper in Washington, who, can you imagine, have never heard of the Townsman, largest newspaper in Andover. Maybe the manager of the press box knew the anniversary issue had twenty-four pages, because I was accorded every privilege of the press as well as a front seat. The galleries are crowded with spectators, although I can only count twenty Senators on the floor. Lodge is among those present. Anti-repealist Senator Rush D. Holt of West Virginia is turning the heat on England and her so-called democracy, cooling off only occasionally by gulps from a tall glass of water.

One of the senators from Oregon has accused the United States as blowing hot then cold regarding its foreign policy to which Holt responded that the "blowing hot and cold" depends upon the draft from Downing street. W. C. Bullitt was also put on the carpet. Senator Holt described him as "our Ambassador to France between cocktail parties." In one of his recent speeches in which he expressed the United States' determination to aid France, Senator Holt said the ambassador showed an astounding knowledge of Bordeaux wines. It was left for the audience to conclude that if United States intends to stay neutral it shouldn't send a bullet abroad.

In condemning the Cash and Carry plan, the senator changed the words to Clash and Bury which provoked a smile among his fellow Senators. He hooveyed the idea that England is our first line of defense, saying that it is a good excuse for the English to remain in their homeland in case our country is ever attacked. He wondered if scare of our country's being attacked by Germany was agitated by the fact that Hitler is having his soldiers learn to swim. That being just another one of the fish stories that we are hearing.

From the context of Senator Holt's long speech, it's pretty clear that he doesn't intend to Rush us into another World War. We don't want British and French boats to Car'away munitions from our shores, although we haven't much doubt that those countries would Hale our cooperation. It is up to the Senate to be Wiley and

Hatch some new ideas on how to keep out of the conflict. There's no sense in sitting in Glass houses and criticising the false Tydings from abroad when a lot of our propropaganda comes from within the country. Senator Holt seems to think that we are Neely in a state of war now. and we will have plenty of complaints to Lodge if we find ourselves fighting for a democracy that has a King at its head. That seems to be a Bone of contention with Holt. who is hot as Pepper anyway when he thinks of sending our boys over again. But maybe that's crossing our Bridges before we come to them and there is still time for the warring countries to wave a White flag. Then it would all come out in the Walsh. But if we are called upon to help France, Holt suggested, instead of saying, "Lafayette, we are here," we should say, "Lafayette, we've been there."

To Insert Articles In The Townsman

Club publicity agents or private individuals wishing to insert notices of any sort in the Townsman are asked to observe the following suggestions:

(1) Copy should be written legibly, typed if possible, on one side of the sheet, with about a two inch space left at top of the first sheet.

(2) Items dealing with events happening before Tuesday should be at the Townsman office no later than 6 p. m. on Tuesday, earlier if possible. Copy will be accepted on Wednesday only if it deals with Tuesday night or Wednesday events. Late deaths and other last-minute news will be accepted Thursday morning.

(3) Do not make articles unnecessarily long. They stand much less chance of being inserted since the average reader does not care to read lengthy articles.

(4) Preference is always given to articles which have not appeared elsewhere prior to the Townsman insertion. No article will be accepted if it is presented verbatim as it has appeared in another medium.

Secretaries of clubs and societies are urged to fill in and mail to the Townsman the blank printed below:

Winchester Team To Give Strong Opposition

With its goal-line still uncrossed Punchard will meet a strong aggregation from Winchester high at the playstead Saturday afternoon. The visiting team has lost to Arlington, played a scoreless tie with Marblehead and defeated Lexington and Stoneham. It has a strong line featured by a fine defensive center in De Teso, Marabella, a fine kicker, is the star of the backfield along with Galuffo.

The Punchard team Saturday played a very listless first half, but in the second half the boys came to life, winning 31 to 0. To date the team has scored 101 points and its opponents none.

Coach Lovely plans to start the same lineup as he did last week.

Dime Dance After Winchester Game

A dime dance will be held following the Winchester-Punchard game Saturday afternoon in the Memorial Gymnasium. In charge are Mrs. Madeleine Simeone, Roger Whitcomb, and Richard Sutton, members of the executive board of the Punchard Alumni Association which is sponsoring the dance.

A barn dance will also be held in the gymnasium the night of November 11th by the association. Details will be announced after next Monday night's meeting of the Board.

SOCCER TEAM LOSES

All good things must come to an end, and even Jim Ryley's soccer team at Phillips can't defy that axiom. Saturday, after having played 37 games without a defeat, the soccer team lost to Deerfield 2 to 1, although it outplayed the victors.

You save money by paying $2.00 a year for the Townsman.

Academy To Meet Harvard Freshmen

The Phillips Academy team, with one good victory over Yale fresh and two half-hearted victories against Nichols Junior college and Northeastern fresh, will meet a strong Harvard fresh team Saturday afternoon at Brothers Field. Far from pleased at the boys' playing Saturday when the backs seemed able to get to the Northeastern fresh 20-yard line with ease but beyond that the attack bogged down, Coach Sorota has been drilling his charges hard this week. His particular problem has been the filling of the center position, Seekins having dislocated his shoulder Saturday.

Emmy Harris, backfield man, may also not see action against the Crimson fresh.

PITMAN WINS

Joseph Pitman, local sportsman, won the Essex county shoot at Newburyport, Sunday, with a score of 22 hits.

A. P. C. WOMAN'S UNION MEET TONIGHT

Rev. Russell Loesch of Danvers will talk this evening at a joint meeting of the South church A. P. C. and the Woman's Union, starting at 8.

Former Sexton Of South Church Dies

Jonathan Holt, sexton of the South church for many years, passed away Tuesday night at Mrs. Purcell's, 36 Elm street, where he had been staying for some time since becoming seriously ill.

Mr. Holt was a familiar figure at the church which he practically made his home. Daily visits, even after his retirement a few years ago, proved a custom which he seldom varied.

He was born in West Parish 74 years ago and had lived in Andover all his life. He was a graduate of Phillips academy.

The only survivor is a nephew, Francis Gustin of South Amherst.

Many South church members are expected to attend the funeral services for their faithful member at the church tomorrow afternoon at two. Rev. Frederick B. Noss will officiate. Burial will be in the West Parish cemetery. Until the services the body will be at the Lunderen Funeral home.

Annual Historical Meeting October 30th

Members of the Andover Historical society are reminded of the meeting of the Bay State Historical League on October 21 at the Unitarian church in Concord, Andover delegations at these meetings have usually been among the largest. Mr. William A. Trow, President of the Society, can be reached by telephone for details.

The annual meeting of the Historical Society will be at 97 Main street at eight o'clock on Monday evening October 30th.

This meeting, instead of having the usual address by some important outsider, will be more a social affair for its members. The general subject of the evening will be Early Andover—for several recent experiences show the need of authoritative records. Members are asked to recall briefly events and persons within their own experience. It is expected several newcomers to Andover who have taken up old houses will describe for the Society their projects and accomplishments. There will be the customary old-fashioned refreshments.

Old pictures will be on exhibition, mostly photographs of persons and places, some of which have thus far defied identification. It is especially important just now to have these inspected and reported on. The map of the Andovers before 1830, now under construction, will be displayed for additions and corrections. In short the watch-word of the meeting will be "INFORMATION PLEASE."
