Red Cross Roll Call Quota $5,000

Solicitors are now active in the various districts in town enrolling members for the Red Cross Annual Roll Call. The quota is $5000 to cover the program for 1940. The summary of expenditures for last year is as follows: Revenue raised in 1938 Roll Call, $4500; expenditures for relief, etc., $4725.11. The small deficit was taken care of by volunteer enterprises, by chapter workers.

Expenditures: public health nursing, $2418.78; shoes, $67.66; rehabilitation, $88.05; fuel, $3.66; clothing, $136.14; hospital, $163.10; milk, $754.72; medicine, $30.74; food, $389.67; glasses, $33.75; tuberculosis, $418.82; Dentistry, $156.95; first aid, $63.07; total $4725.11.

The local Red Cross Chapter maintains a public nursing staff which made 1675 calls last year. There are three local First Aid stations and an extensive Life Saving and First Aid program. Last year a Motor Corps and Disaster Committee were formed.

Care of the teeth, removal of tonsils, fitting to glasses, relief of families, Thanksgiving and Christmas Baskets, food, medicine, shelter, milk, transportation and innumerable other phases of charity are carried on by your local chapter.

Andover May Be Joined With North Andover, Lawrence Ward 1, And Possibly Methuen In Redistricting Plan

Andover will be in with North Andover and Lawrence's Ward 1 (Prospect Hill) in a double district, or with North Andover, ward 1 and all except precinct 3 of Methuen in a triple district, if present redistricting plans of county commissioner Fred Butler are carried out. Besieged on all sides by requests for advantageous redistricting, the special committee headed by Mr. Butler has a difficult task ahead of it.

The basis of districting is 7616 votes per representative, the 1935 census being used. Andover had a registration of 5446 at that time, and therefore it is necessary to add some other localities. However, no town with less than 12,000 voters can be split.

The double district would be: Andover 5446, North Andover 4186, and Ward 1 5816. The triple would add to these four Methuen precincts totalling 7607 votes, the Pleasant Valley precinct being added to Haverhill.

The difficult part about the Andover situation is that the town is on the county boundary and can only be grouped with towns on one side of it. Andover and Methuen make a perfect double district but this arrangement would throw everything off down through the county.

Christmas Seal Group Forms Plans

What will probably be the most successful Seal Sale ever launched here is being planned by Mrs. Frank L. Brigham, Chairman of Andover's 1939 Seal Sale Committee. Mrs. Brigham announces that other members of her committee include: Mrs. Lyman Cheever, Mrs. Edward C. Nichols, Mrs. Lloyd J. Thayer and Mrs. James L. Toohey.

Seal folding and letter assembling parties have been held in order to make ready for the sale which opens Thanksgiving Day and continues until Christmas.

The penny seals, bearing the double-barred cross, are sold annually to support tuberculosis prevention work throughout the world. The success of the 1938 Seal Sale in Essex County has made possible during the past year, nearly 100 adult meetings in the interest of tuberculosis education.

Half the funds raised in Andover stays here to carry on specific prevention programs. Fifteen percent of the total goes for State and National Tuberculosis work. Thirty-five percent supports the work of the County Association.

Appeal For Donations To Red Cross Baskets For Thanksgiving

The Andover Red Cross wishes to remind the townspeople that they may share with their less fortunate neighbors on Thanksgiving so that everyone may be assured of a happy day. The Red Cross packs and distributes to the needy the Thanksgiving baskets, the contents of which are given by the generous citizens of Andover. Donations of food, such as canned goods, fruit, potatoes or other vegetables should be delivered at the South Congregational church on Monday, November 27, or, if this is not possible, call Mrs. Roscoe E. Dake, Hidden Field, telephone 1455-W.

Contributions of money are badly needed for the purchase of meat and other perishables for the baskets. Those desiring to assist in this way are asked to send their gifts to Mr. Philip F. Ripley, 7 Abbot street.

The committee in charge of this work includes Mrs. Roscoe E. Dake, chairman; Miss Jean Mercer, Mrs. C. Bowen Hodges, Jr., and Mrs. Lyman F. Cheever.

Police From Five Towns Scour Andover For Alleged Safe-Crackers

Andover's getting to be the shootinest town, with gunmen becoming runmen after local police give chase. Tuesday evening Officer Winthrop K. White's alertness gave two alleged safe-blowers a difficult few hours, with officers from Lawrence, Lowell, North Andover, Amesbury and state police all aiding Andover's police in an attempt to find the two men. White had noticed a suspicious-looking car speeding on the Hill, and he gave chase, picking up Officer Deyermond in the square. At the railroad station the men left the car, and White commanded them at gun-point to stop. They didn't stop, and the two officers gave chase.

Had they known that the car was a stolen one, that in it were burglars' tools, a stick of dynamite, and an electric drill whose serial numbers told Amesbury's chief that it was the one stolen and used on a safe in his town a couple of nights before, the two officers would have fired, but you don't fire at just speeders. When the car was examined, the aid of the other departments was enlisted, Lawrence sending eight, Lowell 3, North Andover Sergeant Hilton, Amesbury Chief Hetherman, the state police three cruisers, and a dozen Andover men were added.

Later one of the men was spotted near the academy by Chief Dane, whose day off it was, and Carl Stevens. The chief took two shots, the second one of which may have hit the man.

A speeding car during the summer was also chased by Andover police and state police. Its occupants, it was later learned, had just robbed a bookie joint in New Hampshire.

Punchard Students Observe Book Week

Book Week is being observed at Punchard, this week, with the school library club holding special exhibits in the school library. A vote is being taken among the students to find out what is their favorite choice in the line of books. A special ballot box has been placed in the library for this.

Friday, an assembly commemorating Book Week will be held, consisting of a book character parade, with Lillian Lovely in charge.

Joanne O'Riordan is the general chairman for Book Week, with Judith Hardy being in charge of posters, Ruth Cowan, chairman of the globe exhibit in the library. Peggy Addison, in charge of the tree exhibit, and the ballot box is under the supervision of Glenna Draper.

"Education For Good Citizenship Depends Upon Jobs For Young"

"The basic element of good citizenship is having a job," said Dr. Warren Seifert at the joint meeting of the Andover League of Women Voters and the Parent-Teacher association in Memorial auditorium last night. Professor Seifert pointed out that the problem of teaching the young good citizenship can be dealt with partly by the schools but only partly. The period when civic instruction is most urgent is the period between the time when a young person leaves school until he becomes old enough to become a member of adult society. At that time he is really suspended in space. He neither belongs to one group or another and it is during that time that deteriorative influences are liable to take their effect. It is then that the community should supply methods that will teach him good citizenship and that can only be done by allowing him an active participation in civic life.

Means of securing jobs for the young, especially those who are below the average in preparation or intelligence and who would find it difficult to gain employment themselves, is one of the most important steps. The provision of an extension vocational program that will offer opportunity for the newly employed to gain further instruction in their work is another important progressive step that should be accompanied by junior clubs such as junior service clubs and junior woman's clubs that will take time possibly allotted to pool rooms. Andover Village Improvement Society Conducts Annual Meeting

The work done by the Andover Village Improvement society during the past year was summarized in the clerk's annual report presented Monday at the annual meeting by Mrs. Harriet L. Holmes.

The report follows in part:

The aim of the Society this year has been to introduce some color into the landscape, and we hope that flowers will bloom next Spring on the fifty Japanese Crab trees planted in the Park and on the dog-wood trees which were planted in Rogers Dell.

For additional landscape effect in the park small evergreens were planted near the bridge and arborvitae on either side of the steps by the grandstand.

The entrance to Rogers Dell at the corner of School street and Lupine road has been sown to grass. A well cared for green plot there should add much to the approach of our town via School street.

The Upland Green at the junction of Upland road, Summer and Pine streets, continues to be a bone of contention. No tree has been planted there yet and the center still remains bare because no one in the neighborhood has availed himself of the privilege of providing a lot of land for the children in the neighborhood to use as a baseball field.

The damage done at Indian Ridge by the hurricane of September 1938 has been cleared away. The slash has been carried away and burned and the lumber sold.

The Manse Green at Central and School streets, the Ledges at the junction of Main street and Hidden road; Upland Green at Summer street and Upland road; the "Little Common" in Elm square; Shaw-sheen Green at North Main and Union streets; and the Silver Leaf Triangle at Shaw-sheen street and Stevens road, all of which plots are under the supervision of Mrs. Boutwell and her committee, have been well cared for as has been the custom for many years.

Other places cared for are Rogers Dell, corner of School street and Lupine road, plantings bordering the top of the retaining wall on the Henry Barnard Estate and the Indian Ridge reservation.

The following real estate transactions have been completed by the W. Shirley Barnard Real Estate and Insurance agency: The two room apartment at 44 Chestnut street, owned by Mrs. Lindholm has been rented to Mr. and Mrs. Miller of Phillips academy.

Ready, aim, fire! and a volley of Sally's squishiest squash and lemon meringue pies tattooed a frothy design on the denuded chest of a good loser...Staunchly he stood while the odor of fresh-baked pies slithered past his nose and settled every place but in his mouth where it would have been most welcome...Uncringingly, he withstood the fire, although he strongly suspected that his adversary, a pie-hurler and a bet-winner, had diminished the 10 paces prescribed as the distance between the pitcher and the catcher in this particular game of Pie-ser...It even seemed that this pie-hurler and bet-winner was also an advantage-taker-of-blindfolds...And so the bet which had something to do with the Andover-Exeter game last Saturday and a football letter, was paid in full, and the loser made a quick trip to the nearest shower, looking exactly like an un-toasted marshmallow...

We refused to be victims of rumormongering and so we didn't believe the reports that some of the telephone operators had acquired masculine voices... "Oh, no," we said, "it's this cold weather and voices are getting a little hoarse"...but this time the rumors were factual and our guesses factitious...Keith Winthrop and Vernon Flanders of Georgetown are working as operators on the night shift during their training period in Andover...

"Grapes of Wrath" seems to be the subject for heated arguments all over the country and in one town in the west whose library has three copies now outstanding, the trustees have decided that when the copies are returned to the library, they shall be burned (nice incentive for the readers to rush right back with them). We're glad that our trustees are more appreciative and that we have two copies in circulation...if they were destroyed there would be plenty of readers who would be burnt up... Besides who ever heard of Ashes of Grapes...

It's getting nearer and nearer the time of the first edition of the Punch Harder and the debut of the Warming Up column...It may be true that we are all sisters (or brothers) under the skin, but just how warm will be the relationship between the writers of Warming Up and Cooling Off...Pun-kins?...

Streamlined Town Meeting Appropriates $7100 For Water

A special town meeting that was pretty much settled beforehand by virtue of an agreement reached between Taxpayers' association, officials and petitioners came to a highly satisfactory end in 12 minutes last Thursday night with the town voting an appropriation of $7100 for a West Andover water extension.

No more businesslike a town meeting has Andover ever had. After the Taxpayers' association directors, finance committee and Board of Public Works had reached an agreement with the petitioners to cut some $10,000 off the original request, Charles Garabedian, leader of the group who called the meeting, asked President Edmond E. Hammond of the Taxpayers' association if he would make the necessary motions. Accordingly, the article was read. Mr. Hammond made the motion and followed it with a brief statement of the reasons behind the decision, Chairman Harvey G. Turner of the finance committee stated his board was in accord, and the meeting, without another word, voted unanimously for the article.

"Unity of thought" was asked by Rev. Mr. Savage in the opening prayer in which he offered thanks for the democratic form of government which those assembled were later to exercise with an expeditionness that totalitarians don't like to believe possible. There followed the flag salute.

Mr. Hammond's brief statement told of the general feeling against special town meetings, nullified in this instance by the summer drought which had put the eight families involved in a serious predicament. He explained that the Taxpayers' association's study had revealed that of the $17,520 requested $10,000 would bring no immediate practical improvement, and that therefore an agreement had been reached to recommend an appropriation of $7,100.

The meeting ended shortly after, the article having evoked no unnecessary words, no long harangues, no hard feelings. It is expected that work will start immediately under the W. P. A. and continue as long as ground conditions permit. There remain but two more projects which the B. P. W. feels have merit in that section of West Andover, but neither apparently would bring any desirable results without the other. One is the completion of this particular job, the other the tying in of a line from Peterson's on Greenwood road to Lowell street, the two being sufficient to increase pressure enough so that the farmers can use the water in their fields. REEL FUN AT ALUMNI BARN DANCE

The Memorial auditorium danced in all its resplendent fall glory, Saturday evening, as Punchard alumni, students and friends, danced with their guests from Methuen and Johnson in a scene bedecked with cornstalks, "punkins," and other harvest decorations, with cider on tap in the "cellar"

"King Swing" ruled the evening in a most famous farmer fashion, with its "Queen," the Virginia Reel by its side. The "barn" was packed with fun-loving "farmers" who cast their cares away among the corn stalks as they indulged in an evening of old-fashioned fun.

Refreshments were sold in the cafeteria during intermission.

The Punchard Alumni will sponsor another equally enjoyable dance on Friday evening, December 22, in the gymnasium.

EDITORIAL

This Sober Town

In another column our respected commentator, Mr. Frost, takes issue with our editorial of last week in which we suggested that the liquor situation in Andover today is not as bad as he had pictured it. Any dispute over a definition of "saloon" would be a waste of space: Mr. Frost's definition is quite comprehensive, Noah Webster restricted his a good deal. The important thing would seem to be: are what Mr. Frost calls "saloons" anything to be alarmed at? And the answer to that lies in the answer to this: "Does anyone consume 'intoxicants' enough to befuddle his brain, render him devoid of common decency and nauseate his stomach to such an extent that it transgresses the boundary between public and private rights?"

"No man can be legally arrested in Andover for being drunk provided he is peaceable and does not violate any rights of his fellow citizens," says Mr. Frost. If he is peaceable and does not violate anybody's rights, why should he be arrested? It's his own brain that's befuddled, his own stomach that is nauseated, and our thesis on the whole matter is that if a man wants to get a stomach ache, that's his business.

No matter what you call it, a drinking-place, a saloon, if you will, is a subject of public concern only when it is so conducted that it violates the rights of citizens. Two calls for disturbance in a year is all the police have had—and they'd have many more if the last bus from Lawrence brought home a crowd of drunks as it used to. The liquor dealers are giving fine co-operation, with the police finding on many an occasion that they themselves had put names on a black-list before the police requested it. As for the voters, a year ago they voted and since that time, according to Chief Dane in whose integrity and competence to know the facts we have the utmost confidence, it's "lots better than it was," the selectmen having eliminated the really sore spots. The police drive too to keep the streets clear of drunks has brought good results: today they don't even have to speak to drunks to get them off the streets—they go when policemen come into view.)

Fire Totally Destroys Home

A small 16 by 16 foot house in Andover off Lawrence's Mount Vernon street was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning, with the Lawrence fire department being summoned, a Lawrence box being the nearest to the house. Damage was estimated at $700.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kuntzman, daughter Bertha and son Rene, asleep when the blaze started were saved from possible death when Rene awakened, smelling smoke. A nearby well was soon exhausted when the Lawrence department tried to pump from it.

Officers Jowett and Davis in Shawsheen noticed the glare and drove to the fire, the Lawrence department having been summoned in the meantime.

The town welfare board and the Red Cross took care of the family.

Mercury Coming From Dearborn

To students of mythology Mercury was messenger of the Gods, but Mercury this week-end will be a messenger from Dearborn, Michigan, to Andover. The Shawsheen Motor Mart, local Ford, Mercury and Lincoln Zephyr agents, have sent Walter Pearson and Joseph Dineen to Dearborn where 605 salesmen from all over the country have convened to watch how the 1940 Mercury is made. Tomorrow morning each one of them will start off in a new Mercury destined for their own agency. Weather conditions permitting, the two local men will arrive here Sunday night, state troopers meeting them at the state line.

How Many Saloons?
Andover, Nov. 13, 1939

Editor of the Townsman:

I note that in your editorial under date of November ninth you categorically deny the statements I made regarding the prevalence, increase and consequent results of the traffic in intoxicating liquor in Andover. First, you dispute the statement that there are fifteen "saloons" in our midst; but why split hairs on a technical definition? Technically the law forbids any saloon to operate in Andover. Practically there are sixteen public places in town where one can buy, if one has the cash, either personally or by proxy, intoxicants enough to "befuddle his brain, render him devoid of common decency, and nauseate his stomach."

Three of these sixteen places (two in the center of Andover and one in Shawsheen) masquerade under the euphonious name of "package stores" and judging by the number of empty liquor bottles found on neighboring lawns and in bushes by the highway, these "package stores" would seem to be doing a thriving business, especially as they have the exclusive right to sell whiskey, gin and other so called "hard liquor."

A full record of all licensed places is open for inspection at the office of the town clerk, and so far as I have been able to learn, no limit is fixed to the amount of intoxicating liquor procurable in any or all of them.

Again you deny my statement that "drunkenness is on the increase in Andover," and claim that my statement "belittles the splendid work that the Police Department is doing." But why drag our efficient body of police into this matter? They have no more authority to prevent a man from getting drunk than have you and I. No man can be legally arrested in Andover for being drunk provided he is peaceable and does not violate any rights of his fellow citizens. The prevalence of drunkenness in our town lies not with the police, but rather with the liquor dealers, and the indifference of the voters.

That drunkenness is on the increase in our town, is vouched for by those most competent to know the facts, and I have the utmost confidence in their integrity.

—The farm buildings belonging to George Cuttle situated on Lowell road, were destroyed by fire about noon last Sunday. There being no water at hand, everything was a total loss, not a thing being saved but a satchel which Mrs. Cuttle seized when going out. The fire broke out in the barn and rapidly spread to the house and shed. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is thought that two men who were smoking set it. These men, who were strangers, called at the house about noon and inquired for Mr. Cuttle who was absent. They were smoking and went to the barn. It was not long after that the flames broke out. The loss is about $4,000 with a partial insurance. The barn was well stocked and the loss is a severe blow to Mr. Cuttle. A short time ago, he lost a child from diphtheria, and during the fire, two other children, sick with the same disease, were removed from the house.

Fleet said he didn't know about the law, but the hens were taken from him and shut up in the police station. Upon telephoning to the State inspector, Chief Smith found that they could be killed here in town and then delivered to the markets in Lawrence. The Rabbi was summoned and the fowls were killed under his direction.

BRIGGS-ALLEN NOTES

Book Week brought pleasure and instruction to the pupils of the Briggs-Allen school. Tuesday morning, Miss Putnam and Miss Robin, son of the Memorial Hall library were hostesses to the older group. The girls enjoyed the hour very much.

This morning the older group were guests of Mrs. Theresa W. Richardson, librarian at Phillips academy. Mrs. Richardson had over fifty books on display in an attractive room at the library. Mrs. Richardson's talk was most fascinating as well as helpful.

At Hobby Hour Mrs. Burt read aloud from "The Golden Horse-shoe" by Elizabeth Coatsworth, while bookmarks, bookends, booklets and bookcovers were made by nimble fingers. Julia Augusta Gage finished first a belt beautifully embroidered with an Indian design.

Armistice Speaker Urges Preparedness

Don Bate, world traveler and journalist, speaking Friday evening at a memorial service conducted in the Memorial auditorium by the V. F. W., stated that the United States was truly justified in celebrating this Armistice Day for she was firmly upholding her part of the Armistice of 1918.

Mr. Bate blamed the Versailles Treaty for the success of Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin, and expressed a conviction that today's struggle was nothing but a continuance of the battle of "the haves against the have-nots."

"Must we fight?" challenged the speaker as he continued with the assertion that "America should be prepared for defense with a two-ocean navy, a motorized army and the best air corps in the world."

Scoffing at the idea that any combination of nations would dare attack the U. S., Mr. Bate declared that if navy men state that a fleet loses one-third of its efficiency every 1500 miles it ventures away from its home base, then a fleet composed of the war ships of all the nations abroad would destroy two-thirds of its own effectiveness in voyaging to our shores.

The Andover Brass Band also played some fine selections and Master Frank McCarthy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. McCarthy of Wolcott avenue, sang a few numbers.

RUSSEM MARKING ANNIVERSARY

Benjamin Russem, who first opened his business here in Andover 28 years ago, is this week marking his anniversary in his large store on Essex street, Lawrence. His early Andover days are recalled in the following statement which he issued on the anniversary:

"As many Andover residents will remember, my business dates back to November 11 when I first started in Andover house-to-house selling. It is from the hospitable residents of Andover that I got my inspiration and decided to make women's clothing my life's vocation. My business contacts have grown into close, loyal friendships which have proved my biggest boosters. I have kept turning back into improvements the profits that were made thereby expanding the facilities to serve the ever-growing patronage.

"Moved by a sense of gratitude I'm celebrating the 28th anniversary by passing along generous reductions on every purchase made during our anniversary sale.

"Our business has grown to an extensive proportion, employing today about 14 girls who are skillfully trained in the art of fashion service. Among those employed are Sadie Sullivan and Grace Cooper of Andover."

civic committees are reserved for adults that should be open to the younger generation," he further stated. To refute the general argument that the young are too irresponsible, Mr. Seifert said that the young men do not learn responsibility until they are given responsible positions.

Professor Seifert challenged the old idea that knowledge is the important thing in regard to the school's contribution to the development of good citizenship by saying that it is not an accumulation of facts that builds up good citizenship but rather the attitude toward those facts that is important. It is therefore necessary for the community attitude to be exemplary and cooperative with the schools. The ideal school system does not employ teachers who have a lot of factual knowledge but who have no opinions or who, having opinions, keep them to themselves. Another aid to good citizenship that can be developed in the schools is the opportunity of students to belong to committees that have no teacher overseeing their decisions.

Mr. Seifert's talk on "Education for Citizenship" was preceded by a short meeting of both the League and the P. T. A. Mrs. Roscoe Dake introduced the president of the P. T. A., Mrs. Stafford Lindsay, who extended a welcome to all members, old and new. A resolution was read and adopted regarding the great loss the community and Andover schools have suffered in the death of Mr. Henry C. Sanborn. It was voted that the resolution should be sent to the survivors of the late superintendent of schools, Mrs. John D. Little, president of the League of Women Voters, elected by the board upon the regretted retirement of Mrs. Frederick Butler, was then introduced. She reported on the study groups which will meet during the year which include the Health Insurance group which will meet with Miss Helen Chickering, the Government and Town Affairs group which is in charge of Mrs. M. Phillips Graham, and the Civil Liberties group which will be given again this year in the spring if those interested will contact Mrs. Little.

Mrs. Dake then introduced Professor Seifert who asked that the large assembly should not be frightened by his many notes. "No notes," he said, "no college professor." Professor Seifert is a professor of education at Harvard and was recently appointed by Governor Saltonstall as a member of the youth commission.

Punchard's Goal Line Crossed For First Time In 6-6 Tie With Methuen

Punchard was scored on for the first time this season Saturday afternoon when they played a 6-6 tie with Methuen.

During the second and third periods, both teams fought rather strongly back and forth, but neither threatened to score until the end of the second when Punchard ended up on Methuen's 5-yard line as the whistle blew for the half. Near the end of the third period, Punchard recovered a Methuen fumble on Methuen's 16-yard line. A few plays later Tom Noyes lost the ball as he was crossing the goal line, but Warren Deyermund fell on the ball in the end zone for the touchdown. The try for point after was disallowed.

Thanksgiving morning, Thursday, November 30, Punchard will play host to the Johnson high aggregation. Punchard's lineup in the Methuen game was as follows: le, Renny, Lindsay; lt, Renny, Stocks; lg, Brown; c, McLaughlan; rg, Collins, McMahon; rt, MacMackin; re, Deyermund; qb, Muller; lhb, Haggerty; rlb, Boucher, Anderson, Connelly; fb, Noyes.

Basketball Season Getting Underway

Basketball is getting under way again, with Coach Dunn issuing a call for candidates yesterday and the formidable Andover Boys' club already having started practice. There are 15 on the latter squad, and they will appear in new uniforms of royal blue and scarlet trim. Frank Fettes is captain, Carl Porter coach and Roger Whitcomb manager. Anybody wishing games should contact either of the last two.

L. G. AND E. HAS PERFECT RECORD

Final results in the 31-day safety drive, conducted last month by operating companies of New England Power association, show that the Lawrence Gas and Electric company, local unit of the system, went through the campaign without a lost-time accident.

Heavy Ticket Sale For Adventurers' Play

The advance sale of tickets for "The Butter and Egg Man" has been encouragingly heavy, Mrs. Louise Hulme reported at the Adventurers' meeting Monday. Public sale starts Monday. Two scenes from the play were shown.

Miss Katherine Sullivan of Lawrence, formerly of Andover, teacher of dramatics and public speaking, gave a short talk in which she emphasized the power and influence for good that a community theatre group can exercise. Mrs. Lyman Cheever introduced the speaker.

Prof. Arthur Darling of the Phillips academy faculty gave the Armistice Day address in which he remarked that Armistice Day in 1918 was significant for having marked the end of the harvest of war by the Grim Harvester.

Dreams Do Come True

Because it helps him to procure the sizes his customers want, it is the wish of every Independent Market man to secure as many turkey orders one week before Thanksgiving as he possibly can.

At this time we have well over two hundred orders for turkeys, and by next week it will be double this number, which shows the confidence the trading public has in this firm. With the advance orders in already, it looks as though my wish will come true this year.

JUST A PREDICTION:

Turkey prices will be no higher than last year, and the way the present market looks they may be lower.
