"Most" Students Selected At Class Ballot

A peep at the Punchard senior class ballot suggests what certain ingredients mixed with what other certain ingredients produce certain enviable substances such as popularity, glamor and versatility. Take the title of Most Popular for instance, which was voted to Miss Bernice Mundy for the girls who also significantly captured the honors of Best Girl Mixer and Best Dancer, and to William Ferguson for the boys, also Best Boy Mixer and Wittiest, seeming to prove that friendliness and goodfellowship are the basic ingredients to popularity with wit and dancing ability adding extra flavor. Miss Thisbe Paparella, it was voted by the class, possesses more of that indefinable compound, Glamor, than her classmates and probably being the Best Dressed and Class Girl Dreamer had something to do with it. Miss Dorothy Christie's awards indicate that the Most Polite and Most Obliging have the Most Promise of future success as did Warren Richardson's, the only student to receive four titles. He was decided the Most Promising Boy, the Most Obliging, Most Respected, and the one who had Done Most For the Class.

Miss Judith Hardy, who is the Peppiest Girl, is also, incidentally, the Best Girl Athlete and the Best All Around while Miss Gloria Field, the Happiest, is also the Cutest. Miss Mary Johnson, Most Bashful Girl, was also discovered to be a Man Hater but the Woman Hater, Hubert Stuck, was decided

EDITORIAL

Care And Cars Of The Needy

The parking problem around the town house on Mondays is really quite serious, Monday being the day on which free food is given out to the needy of the town. The automobiles of the needy naturally take up much of the space ordinarily used by people who come to buy their food in the local stores.

Our merchants feel that they would do more business if this parking situation were relieved so that a person who wants to drop in to buy something wouldn't have to park a couple of blocks away. We have a suggestion that would help their business in three ways: have the government specify that persons who can afford to run a car should automatically be assumed to be able to afford to buy food for their families. This would help business in these ways: first, those who came to the town house for free food would not have cars to complicate the parking situation; second, those who found that auto-owning disqualified them for relief would sell their cars and save money in gas, etc., to make it possible for them to feed their own families by buying from the local merchants; and third, this would cut down the money spent by the government on free food and thus cut down the merchants' tax burden.

Anyone making that suggestion will be accused of not wanting to help the needy, of wanting people to go without food. Fear of such an accusation has made many a politician fall into the error of pampering the so-called needy.

But it's an ill-based accusation. In the first place, the "needy" would still be helped—it merely redefines the word "needy" so that it no longer includes someone who has money to spend on running a car; it merely limits the spending of public money to those who are truly needy. And in the second place, it does not mean people will go without food—it means that people will go without an automobile and so will be able to have food of their own.

America's in a bad way when a person will be allowed to say: "I'll run my car, I'll go to the movies, I'll have my liquor, but I can't feed my family—I'll let the government do that."

The BON MARCHE of LOWELL

Boy Sopranos In Male Choir Concert

The sixty boy sopranos chosen from the local grade schools to join with the Andover Male choir at the efficacious rendition of Schubert's "Omnipotence" recently, will repeat the performance Wednesday evening in Memorial auditorium at the Andover Male Choir Annual Concert. The boys will appear early in the program preceded by two selections by the choir, Bullard's "Hunting Song" from King Arthur and "Where'er You Walk" by Handel-Spross.

Miss Olive Appleton, well known coloratura soprano, will then sing "Rain On The River" by Fox, "Gute Nacht," a German Folk Song, and "Pilgrim Chorus" from Tannhauser by Wagner. Selections sung by Harry Newcombe, baritone, will be: "Monologo di Gerard Nemico della Patria" from Andrea Chenier by Giordano, "In to The Night" by Edwards and "If I Were King" by Campbell.

Following intermission the choir will sing "Italian Street Song" by Herbert with Miss Olive Appleton singing the soprano obligato, "At Twilight" by Felix Korling and "Go To Dark Gethsemane" by Tertius Noble. Olive Appleton and Harry Newcombe will sing a duet, "Dite Alla Giovini" from La Traviata by Verdi, and the Male Choir will conclude the program with "I Dream of Jeanie" by Foster, "Evening Pastorale" by Shaw and "Coronation Scene" from Boris Goudonow by Moussorgsky.

The concert will begin at 8:15. Tickets may be purchased from members of the choir at fifty and seventy-five cents.

JR. KING'S DAUGHTERS PLAN BRIDGE PARTY

At their meeting Tuesday evening, the Junior King's Daughters made plans for the bridge party which will take place May 1 in Crystal ballroom with Frances Videto and Circle 7 in charge. Play will begin at 2:00 and continue until 5:00. Circle 6 will serve refreshments at the next business meeting May 7. Gloria Field and Circle 5 were in charge of Tuesday night's meeting.

TO SPEND LARGE SUM IN IMPROVEMENTS

A number of local telephone company employees attended a meeting in Manchester, N. H., last Thursday to discuss company plans and policies. John J. Robinson, president of the company, stated that although operating revenues reached a new high last year, net earnings were comparatively moderate because of operating expenses and taxes. About a million and a half will be spent on improving facilities in this district this year, he said.

Those attending manager Edwin L. Bramley, wire chief Wesley P. Humphrey, chief operators Ethel Sullivan and Rose D. Baril, and Walter C. Caswell, John Suzden, Russell C. Gray and Leonard F. Lawrence.

—Mrs. Thomas Mahoney returned to her home on Florence street Tuesday after being confined to the Lawrence General hospital.

At the other table are Mrs. Carl Stevens, Carl, Len Saunders, Ruth Saunders, Mrs. Hickey and Sergeant Ray. The party ate heartily of a turkey dinner... said Jock Deyermund, "I haven't eaten a thing for a week getting ready for this."

(4) Winners in the Barnards last Thursday night were Dorothy Christie, (second prize); Priscilla Moss, (first prize); Joseph McCarthy, (third prize).

Priscilla spoke on "The Family Mirror," Dot told of the Dartmouth carnival, and Joe's subject was "Construction on Two Scales."

(5) The Legion performed another community service Thursday night by presenting an oxygen tent to the town. Lewis Mears, looking quite well and happy, is inside, while on the left are Howell Shepard, Everett Collins, Garrison Holt, and Roy Hardy; on the right are Arthur Coleman, Stafford Lindsay, Thomas Dea, Chester Grant, Dr. Hartigan and Chief Emerson.

(6) Chosen as the class superlatives at Punchard this week were Judith Hardy, girl athlete and poppiest girl; Gloria Fields, cutest and happiest; Bernice Mundy, most popular, best girl mixer, best girl dancer; Dot Christie, neatest, most polite, most promising; Thisbe Paparella, best-dressed, class girl dreamer, most glamorous. On the steps are: Hubert Stuck, class woman hater, most polite, most serious; Ed Guild, most successful bluffer, Mexican athlete (bull-thrower, you know); William Ferguson, most popular, best boy mixer, wittiest boy; Augustine Rapisardi, best boy student; Tom Noyes, noisiest, class giant; Warren Richardson, most promising boy, most obliging, most respected and one who has done most for the class. Invisible behind Warren is Frank Haggerty, best dressed, handsomest and neatest. Sorry, girls, we don't know why he hid, either.

News of Other Days

Fifty Years Ago

—The half-mile track at J. H. Richardson's stock farm is nearly completed and is said to be a first class one.

—There are more water takers in Ballardvale in proportion to its size than in Andover. The Ballardvale mills are having it put into over forty houses and private takers are many.

—The notice of the Board of Health takes away what has been a principal feature of a summer excursion to Haggett's pond. Nevertheless, inasmuch as a man washes himself because he is not clean, and as the water at Haggett's must not be polluted, we suppose the Board of Health must see to it that the law is enforced and henceforth there must be no paddling among summer picnickers at this favorite spot.

Twenty-five Years Ago

—William Rae, the popular soccer, football player, has gone to the front in France to join his regiment, the 5th battalion Black Watch, of the British army.

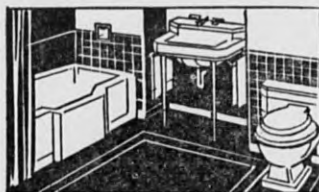

—At a convention in Boston, yesterday, the Prohibitionists named one of Andover's most esteemed citizens as a candidate for Governor. Few people have any idea that Mr. Shaw can be elected to this high office on the platform where he now stands. He, however, believes that he has a distinct duty to perform and with that feeling in control, there is no other course open to him.

—"Movie fans" can talk of nothing these days but Mary Pickford, and town interest is even more acute because of the fact that an Andover boy, Edward Hemmer, is now the manager and director of Miss Pickford in her work as a member of the Famous Players company of Hollywood, Calif.

Ten Years Ago

—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lovely and family of Carisbrooke street are spending the week at Gardiner, Me. —Elwyn Russell, Thomas Lynch, George Adams, Richard Zecchini, Carl Holt, Doris Coolidge, James Sullivan, Donald Dumont, William C. Crowley, Jr., Walden Basset, Irving Whitecomb, Sumner Davis, J. Ashley Barnes and Emma Stevens composed the cast of the melodrama, "The Mystery Man" presented by the Punchard Alumni Players in the town hall last Friday evening.

The boys' awards followed the same principle of combinations with Frank Haggerty, the Handsomest Boy, receiving even further acclaim for his pleasing appearance by the titles of Best Dressed and Neatest. Donald Mac-Lauchlan's Versatility went hand in hand with the Best Boy Athlete and Mike Prensman's title of Happiest and Most Original evidently had found expression in his teases as Class Cut Up, but the whole class can claim a share of originality having voted Tom Noyes Noisiest Boy. Tom also rose to great heights as the Class Giant.

The Mexican Athlete, Edward Guild, was decided to be most astute in the art of bluffing. The titles of Walter Edmunds were the only two bestowed on one person which didn't seem to have any correlation. Walter, of course, was voted the Class Redhead, but

Joseph A. O'Sullivan

A victim of cerebral hemorrhage according to Dr. John J. Deacy, medical examiner, Joseph A. O'Sullivan, 75 year old retired carpenter, was found in bed at his home, 99 North Main street, Friday morning by police who had been summoned by neighbors who noticed that Thursday's newspapers were still on the front porch. Finding all the doors locked, Sgt. William R. Hickey and Motorcycle Officer David Gillespie broke in the rear door and found Mr. O'Sullivan in his bed where he had expired. He lived all alone at the North Main street residence. He had lived in Andover most of his life coming from Ireland when he was a child.

He is survived by a niece, Miss Catherine Hannan of Lawrence, and a nephew, Lawrence J. Hannan of Andover.

A high mass of requiem was offered in St. Augustine's church Saturday morning by Rev. Matthew A. McDonald, O. S. A., and Rev. Thomas B. Austin conducted the committal services at St. Augustine's cemetery.

John C. Ralph

John C. Ralph, 79, a well-known resident of this town for the past fifty years, passed away at the Baker Memorial hospital, Boston, Wednesday afternoon after an operation. Mr. Ralph was formerly the head janitor in the central plant of the public schools before his retirement eight years ago. He was born in Wallace Bridge, Nova Scotia.

Active in club affairs, Mr. Ralph belonged to the St. Matthew's Lodge, A. F. and A. M., the Square and Compass club, the Eastern Star, the old Andover club and the North Andover club.

He is survived by his wife, the former Nellie Phare Lindsay; two sons, Blanchard E., of Glendale, Cal., and Lindsay H. of Providence, R. I.; two daughters, Pearl, wife of John P. Hoyt of Milton, Vt., and Gladys, wife of Eldred W. Larkin of Caribou, Me.; a sister, Mrs. John J. Watson of New York city, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the late home tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 with Rev. Albert C. Morris conducting the services. Burial will be in the Spring Grove cemetery.

Nature Program At Grange Meeting

The roll call at the Andover Grange "Natural History Night" Tuesday evening was no ordinary roll call. Each member answered by telling interesting bird and nature stories. Miss Gladys Hill gave a reading, "Making A Garden" and Miss Helen Corliss sang a solo.

At the business meeting which preceded the program, notice was given of the meeting of the Dramatic club tonight with Miss Bettie Dick, 68 Boxford street, Lawrence. The Grange will be the guest of the Dunstable Grange tomorrow evening and will provide part of the program. Degree rehearsals will be held at Grange hall April 30, and May 6 and 10. Miss Irma Darby will be Master of the 3rd Degree with John Hall, Jr., director.
