Andover Boys

Going To Washington

Six Andover boys will leave this afternoon for Washington and the World's Fair, the occasion being the ninth annual school safety patrol parade and convention in the capital city Saturday. This year the school committee gave approval to only one boy from each school. Those making the trip are: Robert Waugh, William street, Shawsheen; Stewart Fraser, of Elm Court, Stowe; William Christie, Brechin terrace, Indian Ridge; Alex Ness, Center street, Bradlee; Edwin Stevens, Center street, Ballardvale; James O'Brien, Church street, St. Augustine's school.

The boys will leave by bus this afternoon, embarking at 5:30 in Boston for New York. They will arrive in the Metropolis at eight tomorrow morning, and then go by bus to Jersey City where they will board a special train for Washington. There will be a four-hour sight-seeing tour in Washington and in the evening there will be an entertainment at the Washington monument. The parade takes place Saturday morning. After lunch they will leave for New York City again. Sunday morning after church they will go to the Fair, and at 5:30 they will leave for home by boat, arriving here Monday morning.

—Heinrich Rohrbach returned to his home on Sunset Rock road from the Hartford hospital, Tuesday, where he had been recuperating after a recent automobile accident. Mrs. Rohrbach returned last week.

Health Board Adopts Rules For Camps

The local Board of Health is adopting a set of rules and regulations for recreational camps, overnight camps or cabins, and trailer camps, under the provisions of Chapter 416 of the state legislature adopted last year. The law directs the state department, subsequent to the granting of the license and upon notice by the local board to inspect the premises to determine that the sources of water supply and means of sewage disposal are sanitary.

The new regulations are published as required by the law in today's Townsman.

Dogs Should Be Inoculated Again

An apparent failure on the part of dog-owners to realize that their dogs should be inoculated against rabies every year has kept down attendance at the dog clinics the past two Saturdays, that plus a super-abundance of week-end rain. Two more clinics will take place, one this Saturday at the Shawsheen Main street garage and one the following Saturday at the Central Fire station.

Andover has had a fine record in rabies, there not having been a case since 1938 while elsewhere in the state rabies has been on the increase. The free inoculations are believed to have played a large part in this record. Dog-owners are urged to help in the campaign against rabies by bringing their dogs to one of the two remaining clinics. There is no reaction for the dog.

P. T. A. MEETING POSTPONED

The meeting of the Andover Parent-teacher association scheduled to have been held next Wednesday, May 15, has been postponed to the following Wednesday, May 22. The program will be in charge of the Central Grade teachers.

Club To Sponsor Open Garden Day

An opportunity to see some of Andover's lovely gardens has been arranged for Tuesday, May 21, (the following day in case of rain) when nine gardens will be open to the public from 2 to 6:30 p.m. A moderate charge will be made for admission to all the gardens with a small additional fee for tea.

The garden of Mrs. John M. Stewart, on Bancroft road, has an interesting shrubbery planting around a recently remodeled house of the Cape Cod type. In the grounds of Mrs. Charles D. Thompson, off Main street, a brook has been transformed into a stream of bloom. An outdoor living-room with a fireplace is on a near-by terrace.

Mrs. E. Dean Walen at 68 Salem street also has a livable garden with an outdoor fireplace for picnic meals. Mrs. Frederic N. Chandler, 148 Main street, has developed a wild garden and pool, while her husband's hobby is roses. At 46 Morton street, Mrs. Joseph P. Bell has a hedge-enclosed garden which is a riot of spring bloom with a terrace on an upper level. Next door is the garden of Mrs. Robert Brown who has discovered the se-

School Board Makes Three

New Appointments

A new grade school teacher, a cadet teacher, and a supervisor of oral hygiene were elected at the school board meeting Tuesday night. Miss Katherine Sweeney of High street, who has been teaching in Presque Isle, Me., for the past three years, will teach at the North school which will reopen in the fall. While attending state teachers' college, Miss Sweeney did considerable practice teaching at Stowe school.

Miss Helen Hardy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hardy of Chestnut street, was named a cadet for the Stowe school. A graduate of Smith college last June, she has been doing some practice teaching in Andover this year.

The "Supervisor of Oral Hygiene" title is an evolution from "Dental Hygienist." Miss Donna de Rochemont received the appointment. A graduate of Colby college, she will graduate in June from the Forsythe Dental school.

Miss Frances Hoskins, domestic science teacher, and Miss Edith Moreton, school nurse, were reappointed.

—Miss Elizabeth Stephan has returned to her duties at the Junior high school after enjoying the Spring recess in Washington.

Calls For You, Mr. President

Does it look to you as if Germany will win the war, or does it look as if Great Britain through her superior economic situation will win? And do you think the Allies will win if we go in with them?

Nobody won the last war—nobody is going to win this one. No nation that allows its resources to be entirely devoted to war-making can expect to come out ahead of the game when peace comes. Its citizens broken physically, spiritually, its towns in ruins, its financial structure completely bogged down, its future nothing but years of reconstruction—is that victory? And can we help at all by sending our men over there to be massacred, by pouring our money into guns whence it emerges in death-dealing bullets, by wasting our resources and by plunging our nation deeper into debt than even this peace-time administration has sunk it?

The United States should bend its efforts not toward intensifying the struggle but toward insuring a peace that will bring with it victory not for any one nation but for the world—and that is the only really permanent peace. We are horrified over here at the utter disregard of national boundary lines, and rightly we should be, as far as armies are concerned, but if the world had only learned long ago to disregard boundary lines in an economic sense, these struggles never would have had to happen. If the German people had been well-fed, a man like Adolph Hitler never would have been given control of the nation. When we learn that the fellow across the boundary has as much natural right to live as we have, economically speaking, then he will have gained the right to live, militarily speaking. One nation can't be prosperous at the expense of another; it just won't last.

The latest edition of the Saturday Evening Post carries a cartoon showing our President listening eagerly to a trans-Atlantic telephone. On the table beside him stand several other telephones, jangling violently. They are labeled "America," "labor," "unemployment," "debt." Better take care of them, Mr. President, so that we'll be in a position to offer something constructive when that trans-Atlantic telephone carries the news that we all want to hear.

Guild Youth Hostel Begins New Season

Miss Katherine E. Walsh, houseparent of the Andover Guild Youth Hostel, is preparing for a busy season having received the official AYH charter for 1940 from National Headquarters. 99 hostellers coming from 11 states visited the Guild last year and enjoyed the comfortable accommodations and the use of the gymnasium. The hostellers especially appreciated the use of the bowling alleys which help to make the Andover hostel a favorite stopping place.

There are 68 other Youth Hostels in New England to which hikers and bikers are welcome. Each hostel provides beds, blankets and heavy cooking utensils, making it possible for the travelers to carry only light equipment. The charges are twenty-five cents for overnight and the AYH pass which is recognized by 4700 hostels in 18 countries, costs $1.00 for those under twenty-one and $2.00 for those over that age.

Committee members sponsoring the local hostel are: Roy E. Hardy, Rev. A. Graham Baldwin, Mrs. Walter E. Pike, Mrs. C. Carleton Kimball and Mrs. Charles D. McDuffie.

BELT-TIGHTENING

Editor of the Townsman:

Permit me to thank you for your editorial of April 25 relative to those persons among us who treat themselves to the luxury of a car while calling upon the taxpayer to feed their family. It is high time that mushy sentimentality now so manifest in our town give place to sober common sense.

To help a man when he is fully able to help himself takes from him the very qualities that constitute manhood. It robs him of pride of independence, knocks the props out from under personal initiative, builds up within him an "inferiority complex," and substitutes a wish bone for a backbone...

There doubtless are in our town persons whose need is of a nature that justifies outside aid. These persons find themselves, through no fault of their own, plumb up against a financial wall. They need help and should be given it ungrudgingly. But no man should be granted financial aid save as the last resort, when by the most rigid economy and self-denial and by tightening his belt to the last buckle he still is in need of food and clothing, then and only then, should his manhood permit him to lean his weight on the taxpayer to supply them for him.

PRAISES MALE CHOIR

The recent concert by the Andover Male choir warranted a "Sold out House," whereas the rows of empty seats, both on the floor and in the balcony showed little appreciation of fine singing, as well as a lack of support of a most worth while town organization.

The program was arranged with discriminating musical taste and, by a nearly flawless performance, demonstrated the intensive and enthusiastic training which has placed this group in first rank among singing clubs of New England. Andover owes much to Mr. Collins for organizing and training this group and to Miss Abbott for guidance as a sensitive and able accompanist, as well as to the members of the choir who have responded so earnestly to the musical training thus opened to them. The addition of many young boys' voices in the "Omnipotence" was an interesting innovation. The zeal and accuracy with which the children's voices blended with the chorus justified the work of rehearsal, which this must have entailed and must have interested the adult singers even as it did the enthusiastic audience.

The soloists, new to Andover, received merited applause—especially the sopranos, Miss Appleton, whose clarity of tone and accuracy of pitch were outstanding in her well-chosen numbers.

The program afforded much pleasure to an appreciative audience.

ATTENTION! Friends of 4 H.

Camp Leslie may be for you, your boy or girl, or your friend's children.

Have you ever been to a camp? Wasn't it fun? Remember the thrill of swimming twice a day, hiking through the woods, learning to know the trees, flowers, and birds, and gathering each night around a campfire for songs, stories, and stunts? What a wonderful experience! All this may be for our Essex County boys and girls this summer, and for many more summers to come if you will help us to purchase CAMP LESLIE.

Camp Leslie is situated on Pentucket pond in Georgetown and was used last year for the first time by 4H club members. It is a beautiful 14 acre tract of land with over 800 feet bordering on the pond. The lodge with its large piazzas overlooks the lake through a virgin pine forest. It has a large recreation field, a tennis court, and the swimming facilities are excellent. It is an ideal spot for a county 4-H camp.

To purchase the land, buildings and to equip the camp for use this summer the committee must raise $5000 at once. Letters have been sent to many former 4H members in Andover, present club members are trying to interest their families and friends, and the Andover Grange has done its share by holding a very successful bakery sale.

Your town committee includes Miss Clara Putnam, who has been interested and conducted garden clubs for boys and girls before 4H club work was established by the passing of the Smith-Lever Law by Congress in 1914.

Many of our Andover young men owe to Miss Putnam their knowledge of forestry and a greater appreciation of nature. Mrs. Herbert Lewis has always had an active interest in young people and she and her husband have been carrying the idea of an Essex County 4H camp into the Pomona Grange and the town granges of the northern section of our county. Mrs. G. Richard Abbott has conducted clothing clubs for the past nine years. Frances Hartmann as a Service Club member and leader of smaller girls is an inspiration to many, and Foster Zink as a former 4H club boy has won many honors for himself and his clubs. These people constitute your local "Camp Committee" and any contribution you would like to make will be very gratefully received by them.

Florence M. Abbott
Com. Chairman.

—Joan Moody, student at Boston University, is chairman of the committee which will produce "June Mad" this evening. The play is one of a series of events planned for Junior week.
