Red Cross Drive Receiving Splendid Response In Andover

EARLY RETURNS URGED ON RED CROSS DRIVE

The following telegram was received yesterday by the local Red Cross Chapter:

With several million men locked in mortal combat on French and Belgian soil, the relief needs of Belgian-French peoples are reaching staggering proportions. Already five million pitiful refugees are clogging every road into central and Southern France, trying to escape bombing and strafing from airplanes. Our representatives in France report thousands dying by roadsides of wounds, fright and hunger. American Red Cross must rush relief of every kind if these innocent people are to be saved. We are expediting millions of dollars in money and supplies, but we need more and bigger contributions to carry on. Cannot urge upon you too strongly the need for prompt action if we are to befriend these sorely tried victims of brutal warfare. We count upon you to reach and oversubscribe your goal within shortest possible time. Every day's delay means hundreds may die because we have not brought them aid in this their saddest hour.

Norman H. Davis

A fine start has been made by the local Red Cross chapter in its drive for $2400 for relief of civilians in the war-stricken areas. Up to Tuesday noon $1574.02 had been subscribed. The chapter hopes to go well over the top in its drive.

Contributions may be left at the Andover National bank or mailed to the treasurer, Philip Ripley on Abbot street.

The list of contributions to Tuesday noon: F. H. Jones, Wallace E. Brimer, Fred H. Eaton, Miss Marie Campbell, Burton S. Flagg, Miss C. M. Underhill, Mrs. P. B. Whittemore, William C. Richards, L. S. Finger, Mrs. A. G. Baldwin, Mrs. W. K. Moorehead, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Paradise, Miss A. W. Kuhn, George B. Ripley, Mrs. Wallace, John T. Mercer, W. T. Rich, Miss Helen De M. Dunn, John McClellan, A. Memorial To Be Dedicated At Legion Lot On Memorial Day

Andover's patriotic organizations will again honor the town's war dead on next Thursday, Memorial day, with a parade and exercises at the various cemeteries and at the town's memorial buildings.

Schedule of Events

There will be two unusual features, the first being the initial appearance of the Legion Junior drum corps, and the second being the dedication of the Memorial at the Legion lot in Spring Grove cemetery. Here the Legion and auxiliary will be accompanied by the V. F. W., the Sons of Legion and the British War Veterans. It is expected that the auxiliary will present the Memorial to the Legion. Father Austin will give the invocation, Rev. Mr. Baldwin will be the speaker and Rev. Mr. Johnson will pronounce benediction.

The schedule follows:

7:45 a. m., assemble at Memorial hall library.

8:00 a. m., library services, Rev. Mr. Noss speaker.

8:15 a. m., move southerly to Chestnut street to Whittier street to Memorial auditorium, services by the Legion, invocation by Father Smith, address by superintendent of schools Kenneth L. Sherman.

8:30 a. m., proceed along Pynchard avenue to Main to Memorial tower, services by Legion, talk by Headmaster Dr. Claude M. Fuess.

8:45 a. m., proceed down Main street to School street to Old South cemetery, services at the Boulder by V. F. W.

9:15 a. m., divisions move by bus to West Parish, services at the Chapel by the Legion, Rev. Mr. Savage speaking.

10:00 a. m., leave for St. Augustine cemetery, services by the V. F. W., Father Austin speaking.

10:30 a. m., proceed to Spring Grove cemetery, joint service at the soldiers' lot, British War Veterans service at the Cargill lot, Legion services at the Legion lot with dedication of Memorial.

Parade Line-up

The various divisions in the parade will line up as follows:

Platoon of Police

Chief Marshal Ira Buxton

Four aides

First Division

Legion Drum corps, Legion, Junior Legion drum corps, Sons of the Legion, Legion auxiliary.

Second Division

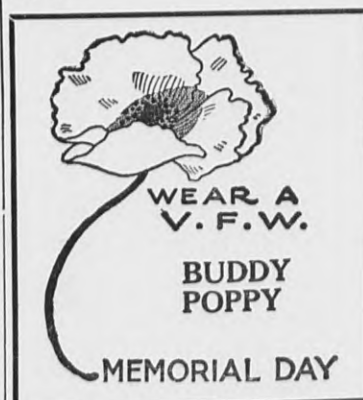

Brass Band, V. F. W., V. F. W. auxiliary, Sons of Union Veterans auxiliary.

Third Division

Clan MacPherson pipe band, British War Veterans and auxiliary.

Fourth Division

Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Buses for members of former Women's Relief corps and Sons of Union Veterans, clergymen and town officers.

Poppy Day Radio Programs Tomorrow

The local Veterans of Foreign Wars will take part in two radio programs tomorrow night in preparation for Poppy day which is to be held here Friday. The program will start with a march, followed by talks by representatives of Andover and Lawrence posts, solos by J. Everett Collins and talks by a representative of the Lawrence City government, possibly Mayor Griffin, and by Selectman Roy E. Hardy.

The program will come over WLAW from 7:15 to 7:30 and WLLH from 8:30 to 8:45.

Andover Choir Surpasses Twelve Clubs In New England Federation Contest

The Andover Male choir won again! A general feeling of suspense impregnated the large audience of about fifteen hundred people who gathered at the Melrose high school auditorium last Saturday evening to hear the superb performance of thirteen combined glee clubs who had that afternoon competed for the prizes offered each year by the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs. The feeling persisted throughout the first hour of the program which was broadcast over a New England hook-up and through the concluding selections until finally H. J. Gurney, founder and president of the organization, opened the sealed envelope which contained the names of the winning clubs. A hush fell over the audience and only the cracking of knuckles could be heard as friends of the choirs crossed their fingers too hard.

In the first group, composed of clubs of less than thirty-one members, the Anchor and Ark Glee club of Maynard ranked first with 384 points while the Telephone Male Glee club of New Haven and the Plymouth Men's Glee club tied for second place with 375 points each. Of the clubs with 31 to 45 members, the Andover Male choir led with 497 points followed by the Portland Men's Singing club with 430, and in the third group, clubs with forty-six members or more, the Wollaston Glee club's rating was 472 points and the Highland Glee club of Newton. 465, making Andover undisputed winner of the Grand Prize with a margin of twenty-five well-earned points.

As Conductor J. Everett Collins walked down the long aisle to the director's stand to lead the combined choirs in the singing of the prize song, "At Twilight," the silence changed to a roar of appreciative applause. After asking the members of his choir to stand to share in the honors, Mr. Collins then asked if friends from Andover would rise in the audience. Almost 200 people rose. "Gee," said a member of one of the other clubs, "no wonder they won with all that support!" But it took more than support to earn the 497 points out of a possible 600; it took many weeks of hard practice to achieve the exceptional pitch, diction, tone, ensemble and interpretation with which the judges, Charles Dawe of Cleveland, Ohio, Frederick E. Tillotson of Brunswick, Maine, and Quincy Porter of Boston, accorded the local choir.

The contest was held at 1:00 in the afternoon with Andover singing tenth. Only one note was struck on the piano to give the choir the pitch and both the prize song, which was sung by each of the competing choirs, and the choice song, "Go To Dark Gethsemane," were sung without accompaniment. Although the preceding choirs gave fine performances, there was a marked superiority in the interpretation of the Grand Prize winners. Applauding was not allowed during the contest, but after the Andover choir sang their selections, there were whispers of "the best yet," throughout the hall. Even the singing at the annual concert in Memorial auditorium recently was inferior to the choir's performance at the contest.

Andover has been the winner of the Grand prize three times, the first time being in 1936 when the competition was held in Fall River, and the last two times being last year in New Haven and last Saturday in Melrose. Besides these major accomplishments the local choir has also been the recipient of eight other prizes, winning first and second places in the medium class at its first Federation contest in 1930 when it was called the Square and Compass Glee club. Mr. Collins has been the director since its inception.

The concert program was as follows: "Brothers, Sing On," Grieg; "Chorus of Homage," Gericke;

Schools Present Combined Concert

Saturday evening at 7:30 in Cochran chapel, the combined glee clubs and orchestras of the Beaver Country Day school and Phillips academy will present their annual concert. The program will include the "Peasant Cantata" of Bach, written in the style of Haydn, the G Major symphony of Hawdn, and the Finale from the first act of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Princess Ida." Amy Brown Townsend, soprano, and J. Everett Collins, bass, will be the guest soloists, while Charles Gabeler and John Hickok of this town, and Stanley Clevelandland, formerly of Andover, will be student soloists.

Members and their friends are all invited. W. Shirley Barnard is chairman of the entertainment committee.

Posts Entertain Subs At Festive Reception

"The time has come," the walrus said," so the senior class put away their under-graduate manners and donned the more stately garments of "the graduating class" at the reception last Friday evening given in their honor by the Alumni executive committee. In fact, like the walrus, they got right in the swim, joining in the grand march with seniors and "grads" caught in the same whirl. The seven piece orchestra turned out to be an eight piece one (no complaints from the committee) which made the dancing all the more enjoyable. Birch boughs were the only wall-flowers and softly-lighted lanterns completed the decoration. Miss Ruby Laurie and George Gorrie were winners in the prize waltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene V. Lovely, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gould, Miss Eunice Stack, Joseph Doherty and Miss Evelyn Rutter composed the receiving line, and Misses Everdike and Antoinette Thiras, Helen Kimball, Mary Simeone and Mrs. Paul Simeone, Jr., served as ushers. Misses Gladys Downs and Betty Buchan were in charge of tickets.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria during intermission.

EDITORIAL

Let Them Go

"Let's declare war on Germany; let us send our armies 'Over There' again." Almost unheard a few months ago in the United States, this cry has gained new impetus in the past two weeks since Germany did what she did 25 or so years ago, invade Belgium on a dash to France. After the Norwegian invasion, there were some men who urged that we join the struggle, and after the Dutch and Belgium invasion more joined in the cry.

Mature men, these who want us to go into the war? Yes, they are. In fact, most of them are pretty well along, so far along that no draft could touch them. If we enter the war, it will be old men who urge it, it will be old men who decide it, it will be old men who plan it. It will be young men who will lie dead on the fields of France, some of them dying perhaps not far from the spot that their dads died back in 1918.

It is hard to imagine just why the United States would declare war on Germany, for Germany has done nothing to us. Yes, some day an all-powerful Germany might do something to us, but we'll tackle that problem when it arrives—and we'll be prepared for it, too, thanks to our reawakened defense program. Few over here have any admiration for the present leadership of Germany, but the fact still remains that they have done nothing to us. We have absolutely no casus belli; let's hope we will continue to have none.

What does matter to us now is our economic life which will be affected by the drastic changes which would come about if a victorious Germany joined with opportunistic Italy, wary Soviet Russia and ambitious Japan in a world-dominating coalition. That's an economic problem, not a human problem; we can aid with our economic resources, we have no reason for aiding with our human resources. In every way, economically, we should aid the Allies, and then when it's all over, we would be in a better position, having helped them, to try to convince them that world peace does not lie in their domination of the economic life of the world but rather in a worldwide program of wiping out national boundary lines, economically speaking. The world will be no safer with an Allied victory in the long run unless the Allies—and the United States, too—do everything to correct the thing that caused this resurgence of Germany's desire for lebensraum, the thing that made Germany a fertile spot for the Hitler disease to develop in. We thought World War 1 was horrible; we have no adjectives to describe the mass murder going on today; what will another war 25 years hence be like? Let's avoid it by aiding the Allies to find a solution that will help all Nations alike.

In the meantime we cannot help, and we have no reason to help, by sending over our young untrained men to be added to the sacrifice. We despise Germany for invading Holland when Queen Wilhelmina had scrupulously avoided doing anything to Germany; certainly aside from some bombastic remarks in answer to our bombastic remarks Germany has scrupulously avoided doing anything to us. That being the case, the only thing we should do in this line would be to adopt a policy of sending to France only those men who feel that we should send men to France!

Obituary

Somerby N. Chase

Sunday morning, just a few short weeks before he was to wind up an excellent career at Dartmouth college, Somerby N. Chase, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Chase of 13 Canterbury street, died of carbon monoxide poisoning in a tragedy that stunned the friends with whom he had grown up in the village, and his former classmates and teachers at Phillips Academy and at Hanover.

The young man had had an enviable all-round record at both the academy and at Dartmouth, gaining honors in scholastic pursuits, athletics and extra-curricular activities. At Andover he won his letters in football, hockey and baseball, and at Dartmouth he was on the hockey team. He held several class offices as well as fraternal positions.

Besides his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Alice, wife of Lester N. Thompson of Shawsheen, and Charlotte, wife of Homer W. Hanscom; two brothers, Ensign Elwood N. Chase, 2nd, of the U. S. N. flying service attached to the battleship Arkansas at Norfolk, Va., and Garfield S. Chase, Jr.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon. Rev. A. Graham Baldwin officiated.

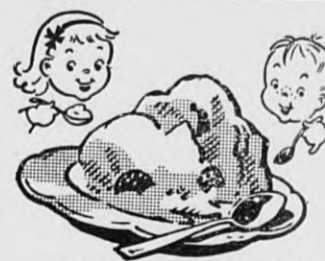

The bearers were: Harold Rutter, Robert Holland, Willard Currier, Elwood Chase, Homer Hanscom, Lester Thompson, Ralph Aulmann and Donald McCaffrey, the last two students at Dartmouth.

Burial was in the family lot in Merrimac cemetery, West Newbury.

BIRTH

A son to Mr. and Mrs. William F. Simeone of 87 Chestnut street, at the Lawrence General hospital, Friday.

TREES PLANTED BY TREE WARDEN

Thirty-two young trees were planted by the Tree Warden this spring as well as forty-five trees given to the town by the Andover Village Improvement Society and a few trees given by individual citizens.

Varieties planted were Sugar, Norway, Red and Schwedleri Maples, also elm and oak. Bone meal was used as a fertilizer and a new method of planting with a mixture of peat moss was tried this year. Results will be watched with interest.

TOWNSEND CLUB VISITS SICK MEMBERS

The Townsend club members visited two of their members who were confined to their homes by illness last Thursday evening instead of holding their regular business meeting. Mrs. James Thomson and George York were the two members visited.

Many of the members are planning to attend the Conference of all Club Councils in Districts 5, 6 and 7 which will be held Sunday afternoon in Newburyport with a public mass meeting in the evening featuring many Townsend national speakers.

Mrs. Greene Writes Book About Panama

In view of the newly awakened interest in Panama, both as a travel objective and as a critical spot in this country's defenses, there is an especial timeliness in the publication this week of a little book entitled "Panama Sketches." Andover residents, however, have an additional reason for interest, for the author of the book is Eleanor D. Greene, formerly of Bartlet street. Mrs. Greene is the wife of Colonel Edward C. Greene, who was transferred last September to the North Beach Air Field on Long Island; they are now living in Great Neck at a short distance from the airport.

Mrs. Greene's account of the pleasures and trials that confront a northerner settling in the tropics will bring back memories to army people who have been stationed there, and cannot fail to interest all her readers in this important corner of America.

Many Enjoy Exchange Ministers

Congregational church goers were kept in suspense as to who would be their minister last Sunday morning when the Andover ministers held their annual exchange of pulpits. Members of the First Unitarian church welcomed Rev. Frederick B. Noss while Rev. Cornelius Heyn of North Andover was enthusiastically received at the Free church. Rev. Herman C. Johnson addressed the Baptist church parishioners; Rev. Samuel Overstreet went to the South church. Rev. Donald H. Savage of the West church and Rev. David Segerstrom of the Union Congregational church, Ballardvale, exchanged pulpits.

A large congregation attended each of the churches and was well pleased with the arrangement.

BRIGGS-ALLEN NOTES

To Exhibit Doll House

A doll house fully equipped with furniture, handsome in every detail, has just arrived as a gift to the Briggs-Allen school. The Hobby house, Colonial in style and containing several rooms, was built by Lawrence T. Gieringer of Reading, Pa., and its designer and decorator was Mary Keine Johnson. The house has been on exhibition in Reading, Pa., for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week from 2:00 to 6:00 p. m., open house will be held at the Briggs-Allen school that friends may see the house. In order to increase the Red Cross funds, adults will be charged a dime and children five cents. Come to see the living room with its attractive furniture, the French telephone, the cigarette package and the other unique and interesting accoutrements.

You save money by paying $2.00 a year for the Townsman.

Thank You, Neighbors!

- This month sees us entering our seventh year in the jewelry business in Andover.
- We wish to take this occasion to express our sincere appreciation to you for the patronage with which you have favored us.
- You have made it possible for us to make available to Andover a jewelry store that might well be regarded a credit to any community.
- The lines carried in stock will compare favorably with those lines stocked by the finest jewelry stores in America without exception.
- The excellence of the service offered here, whether it be an unusual item to be procured or a complicated repair job, has become well-known to everybody in Andover.
- A transaction in this store is never complete until you are entirely satisfied that you have received full value for your money.
- We are determined to continue to serve you in a manner that will merit your continued confidence and patronage.

Frances Little Wins Speaking Contest

The last speaker at the Stowe Prize Speaking contest, last night, was the winner of the first prize, in the program presented at the Parent-Teachers meeting by the Central school teachers. Frances Little gave "Famous Eulogy of the Dog" by Hon. George C. West and won the votes of the three judges, Mrs. C. E. Buchan, Miss Miriam Putnam and Miss Evelyn Robinson, and the applause of the large audience present. Mary Frances Driggs was acclaimed second with her recitation, "I Am An American," author unknown, and Ruth Gillespie, giving Edna Kingsley Wallace's "Growing Up" was awarded honorable mention.

Other speakers also gave admirable presentations and showed a great deal of confidence and poise. They were: David Anderson, "Which Loved Best" by Joy Allison; Charles Waterman, "The Old Refrain" by Kreisler; Bernice Bryant, "How The Little Kite Learned To Fly," author unknown; Jane Weldon, "Hungarian," McDowell; Helen Dowd, "The Spider and the Fly"; Frank McCarthy, Jr., "Mother of Mine," H. T. Burleigh; Barbara Johnson, "Selection from Hiawatha's Childhood," Henry W. Longfellow. The Stowe Choral society opened and closed the program with the selections, "Salutation" and "Cradle Song."

During the business meeting, the following slate of officers was accepted: president, Roscoe E. Dake; vice president, Mrs. Lorentz Hansen; recording secretary, Mrs. Robert Deyermund; corresponding secretary, Miss Evelyn Oliver; treasurer, John Avery; directors,

Many Attend Open Garden Day

Many people visited the ten gardens on Tuesday afternoon in spite of the cloudy skies and threatening rain and some of the guests are pictured above as they enjoyed the informal tea which was served at the home of Mrs. Charles Arnold on Central street. The new garden of Miss Mary Byers Smith attracted many admirers as did those of Mrs. John M. Stewart of Bancroft road, Mrs. Charles D. Thompson, off Main street, Mrs. E. Dean Walen, 68 Salem street, Mrs. Fred N. Chandler, 148 Main street, Mrs. Joseph P. Bell, Morton street, Mrs. Robert Brown, Morton street, Mrs. Mitchell Johnson, 47 Central street, and Mrs. William T. Rich, Jr., Central street.

(Surette Studio)

Miss Catherine Barrett, Mrs. Douglas Pitman and Kenneth Sherman.

Mr. Sherman accepted the radio presented to the Central schools by the association and Miss Miriam Sweeney accepted the gift of twenty-five dollars which is to be used for the purchase of band instruments. Miss Eunice Stack's room won the banner.

Miss Oliver was in charge of the decorations and Miss Sweeney, the music.

TO SERVE SUPPER

A chicken a la king supper will be served at the South church next Tuesday evening at 6:30 under the sponsorship of the Junior King's Daughters. Tickets are on sale at fifty cents.

ATTEND MEETING

Mrs. George Winslow, president of the Tuesday club, and Mrs. Frederick Smith, president of the Shawsheen Woman's club, attended a meeting at the Prescott Chapter Tea House, Georgetown, yesterday morning. Mrs. Lawrence G. Dodge, director of the tenth district of the State Federation of Women's clubs, was hostess to the presidents of the various clubs in the district.

CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS TO HEAR PHYSICIAN

The Catholic Daughters will have a local physician as their guest speaker next Tuesday evening at their social meeting, as part of the Cancer education program which is being observed by the various town organizations. A question box will follow.

DR. CURRIER TO SPEAK

The Police Relief association will hold their Cancer education program on June 5 at which time Dr. Charles Currier will speak.

REBEKAHS MEET

After the regular business meeting of the Rebekahs Tuesday, the members enjoyed a mystery march and Chinese auction. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Marie Goudreau, Mrs. Mary Skea and Mrs. Mary Manning.

The next meeting will be held June 2.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

All the Andover patriotic organizations will attend the memorial service at the Baptist church on Sunday morning at 10:45 a. m.

The British War Veterans will hear Capt. L. Denis Peterkin of Phillips faculty tomorrow night.

Elect Dr. Chase Harvard Club Head

The metamorphosical reign of G. Grenville Benedict as president of Andover's Harvard Club came to an end Tuesday night in a way which demonstrated amply how thorough that metamorphosis had been. There was a time when Harvard club meetings had an atmosphere that verged on the erudite, (Harvard for "stuffy"), but today the intellectual stimulus, while not of course overlooked, is replaced by a good-time stimulus.

The Benedictine influence has had some very excellent results. Tuesday night the club had one of the largest attendances on record, as befits the second largest (proportionate to possible alumni membership) Harvard club in the world. Treasurer Valz was able to report that financially the club was in good condition, too.

Taking over the prexyreins will be Dr. Alston H. Chase, head of the Greek department at Phillips academy. Irving Sargent, who according to nominating committeeman Samuel Rockwell, has not made a single error in his duties as vice-president, was re-elected. Dino G. Valz, secretary-treasurer, retired, and in his place was elected a man by the name of G. Grenville Benedict. The new regime immediately dedicated itself to a pursuance of the policies of the old.

David MacCord, editor of the Harvard Alumni Bulletin, spoke briefly on the recent Federation meeting in New York and ended with several of his poems.

DOMINO AND CARD PARTY TO FINANCE CHOIR SUPPER

A card and domino party will be held in the primary room of the Free church Friday evening at 7:45 by the Helping Hand Society. The proceeds will be used for the annual Junior Choir supper which the society will sponsor June 6. The Ways and Means Committee is in charge.

TO HOLD TWILIGHT MEETING

The Essex County Agricultural school will hold their next twilight meeting at the farm of Porter I. Livingston on Lowell street. Everett L. Agnew, Associate County Agricultural agent of Middlesex County, will be the speaker.

R. P. C. MEETS

The R. P. C. club met with Miss Winona Boutwell of Shawsheen road, Tuesday evening. Miss Phoebe Noyes will entertain the members at her home, Lovejoy road, at the next meeting, June 3.

A. P. C. SORORITY TO ELECT

The A. P. C. Sorority will hold its annual business meeting and election of officers at the South Church this evening.

CHOIR TO SING

The Andover Male Choir will sing at the graduation exercises of the Lawrence General Hospital tomorrow evening in the Trinity Congregational Church in Lawrence.

ENGAGEMENT

The engagement of Miss Rosemary Joan Smith to Douglas B. Stott of Detroit, Mich., was announced recently by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith of Holmes road, Pittsfield.

Mr. Stott, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Stott of 403 Main street, is employed by the U. S. Rubber company of Detroit. Miss Smith is an instructor of home economics at the Topsfield high school.

The marriage will take place in August.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Donald C. Plimpton, 40 High street, North Wilmington, and Lora Winslow Ramsey, 174 Lowell street.

Leo H. Poisson, 160 High street, and Edna M. Beauparlant, 30 Aiken avenue, Lowell.

Clifford Margerison, 61 Haverhill street, and Cecile Despres, 308 Water street, Lawrence.

SHOWERS TENDERED

A miscellaneous shower was recently tendered Miss Betty Deyermund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Deyermund of 62 High street, at her family home in honor of her coming marriage to Roy Russell of Ballardvale.

Miss Elith Mignally, daughter of Mrs. F. Murnane of Andover street, Ballardvale, was recently entertained at a shower in the French-American hall, Lawrence, in honor of her coming marriage to Joseph V. Glendyne, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Glendyne of Lawrence. The ceremony will take place June 9 in St. Joseph's church, Ballardvale.

Miss Martha Sweeney, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. Arthur Sweeney, 64 Central street, will become the bride of Howard Wood Read, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bond Read of Conshohocken, Pa., at a ceremony tomorrow afternoon at the Christ church.

Weddings

Arundale-Johnson

Wearing her mother's wedding gown of ivory satin, Miss Jane Houston Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Edward S. Johnson of Haviland street, Boston, became the bride of H. Burton Arundale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Arundale of Beacon street, Boston, at a pretty ceremony in Trinity church, Saturday afternoon. Mr. Arundale is recently of this town.

The bride's gown and tulle veil were trimmed with heirloom rose pointe lace and she carried a bouquet of white snapdragons. She was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Donald L. Milliken. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Erving Arundale of Union, N. J., wore a yellow gown of embroidered organdie with matching hat, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses and blue delphinium. Miss Grace E. Johnson and Mrs. Donald Milliken, sisters of the bride, wore bridesmaids' gowns of pink embroidered organdie with matching hats. Both carried bouquets of pink roses and blue delphinium.

Erving Arundale was his brother's best man and the ushers were J. Alfred Herrick and Paul Weston, both of Boston. Rev. Robert M. Hatch performed the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to New Hampshire, Mr. and Mrs. Arundale will make their home in Boston.

Attending from Andover were Miss Ida Arundale, Mrs. Minnie B. Knowlton, Mrs. Charles H. Hollis, Mr. and Mrs. John Erving and son, John.

Outstanding American Paintings In Addison Gallery Exhibit

An outstanding group of American paintings from the collection of Stephen C. Clark of New York has recently opened at the Addison Gallery of American Art at Phillips Academy. Supplementing beautifully the notable examples of American painting in the permanent collection of the gallery, these paintings of Mr. Clark's complete a display of nineteenth century American painting which would be difficult to surpass.

Of especial interest are the splendid group of early Winslow Homers, painted before the middle of the 1870s: "The Morning Bell," "Croquet," "Return of the Gleaner," and "Weaning the Calf." These are all painted with the wonderful atmospheric effects, clarity of color and light, and simplicity of composition which make Homer America's best known painter. Two other paintings of the same style as the early Homers are "Eel Spear- ing at Setauket" by William S. Mount, painted in 1845, and "Rail Shooting" by Thomas Eakins. These nineteenth century paintings show the literalness with which artists painted at that time, the quality which makes Currier and Ives prints so popular.

"The Forest of Arden" by the mystic painter Albert P. Ryder, has been shown at many important exhibitions, the most recent being in Paris in 1938, where it helped illustrate the development of American painting.

More modern painters are Arthur B. Davies represented by a landscape, and George Bellows with two striking portraits. One is a charming picture of his youngest daughter, "Lady Jean," in old fashioned dress, at about the age of ten. John Kane, the Pittsburgh house painter who has recently become famous, is represented by a view of "Through Coleman Hollow up the Allegheny Valley," painted in a childlike way, but with beautiful combinations of greens, and a striking effect of space and atmosphere.

Two contemporary painters are shown, both conservative painters:

Rare Steaks Held At Annual Potato Race

Spuds are all right in their place but they have more box office appeal on the dinner table than they'll ever have on a race track, it was decided Monday evening at the Shawsheen manor when the Adventurers competed for the annual potato race. It resulted that Mrs. J. Oram Sheppard had the only champ, winning by an eye, while the other competitors proved to have only small fry.

The balloon blowing contest turned out to be a big bust when Guy Howe accidentally (?) approached a glowing cigarette too near one of the balloons, indicating that the contests were more or less of an "out of the frying pan into the fire" affair. However, the competition in make-up, decided by applause, divided honors among Harry Emmons, Fred Hulme and Roland Fraser, who, having been rigged up as artists, glamour girls, washerwomen, etc., managed to look exactly like artists, glamour girls, washerwomen, etc. Lyman Cheever also showed artistic qualities as a soft shoe dancer.

A good time was had by all Adventurers and guests attending the banquet and the quips of William Hughes, toastmaster, did not pass unappreciated. In fact, a unanimous opinion proclaimed Mr. Hughes "a natural." After the banquet remarks were offered by President Clifford Emmons and ex-president Charles Armitage. M. Phillips Graham and Fred T. Cronin entertained at the piano.

Committee: William S. Hughes, chairman; Harry I. Emmons, Mrs. Frances Cheever, Miss Thisbe Grieco and Attorney Carl Gregg.

Sculpture Exhibit One More Week

An excellent exhibit of Limited Editions of works of sculpture will continue at the John-Esther Art Gallery at Abbot academy through the coming week. The sculptures are not reproductions but duplicate originals, with the true original used as only the model and all the products of the model are of equal character and importance. Each sculpture is individually handled and finished as though it were the only one produced and it cannot be released without the respective sculptor's approval and signature. Some of the pieces in the exhibit are identical with pieces in famous museums or private collections.

The media used are cast stone, carved solid mahogany, teak and walnut, terra cotta and hard plaster.

REGULATIONS FOR SPRING GROVE ON MEMORIAL DAY

The Spring Grove trustees have announced regulations for the cemetery traffic on Memorial day, with automobiles being forbidden in the cemetery after 9:30 a. m., the only exception being persons with heavy baskets. Even these must be out of the cemetery by 11. The gates will again be open as usual at the end of the services.

Those planning to attend the services will find a parking place provided off Spring Grove avenue, a short distance from the Legion lot. Those wishing to park here should do so before arrival of the parade. No parking will be allowed on the left hand side of Woburn street or on both sides of Spring Grove avenue. Police will enforce these rules.

It has been a rather quiet week on the Suburban league front.... Punchard and Johnson were rained out last Friday...Chelmsford continues on its merry way...without a defeat...The supposedly weaker clubs are beginning to worry the top ranking outfits...Tewksbury held Chelmsford last week...and Wilmington forced Johnson to the limit...

Punchard defeated St. James of Haverhill in a non-league game at the Playstead on Monday, 11 to 4... Calder held the opposition to five hits...and looked good all the way...

Hal Wennik's Legion team is shaping up after several practice sessions...He is faced with the task of building up an almost entirely new team...However, Hal likes the kids and they are sure to like him...

The St. Augustine's C. Y. O. baseball teams are hard at work each evening on their newly acquired athletic field...Under the direction of their pastor, Father Austin, the boys have put in a lot of work on the field, and it is now in pretty good shape...

The parish will have three teams in the Greater Lawrence C. Y. O. league this season...The league season will start this week-end... The seniors beat the Lawlors of North Andover in an exhibition game last Saturday by the score of 1 to 0...Warren Deyermund shut out the visitors with four hits...The winning run was scored by his brother Calvin in the eighth, when he scored from second base on an attempted double play...

Punchard took Howe over the jumps at the latter's field yesterday afternoon...Max Bishop twirled for the local boys...He had a shutout until the seventh inning...Les Alleruzzo, the cartoonist, had quite a day at the platter...single, double and triple...Bishop and Proctor came through with round trippers during the proceedings...George Knightly's Chelmsford boys continued their surge...

Punchard plays host to Methuen at the playstead tomorrow at three.

Spring Field Day

Saturday is Spring Field day when the Gargoyles and the Grifins go into their last combat for the coveted shield which is awarded at the last chapel service on June 1. The program will begin with the finals in tennis at 10:45 a. m. The championship baseball game will be played at 2:00 p. m., and this will be followed by free-for-all contests including a sack race, water race, three-legged relay, hoop rolling relay, obstacle race and a tug-of-war. Honors in spring sports will be announced at a school gathering later in the afternoon. Friends of the school are invited to see any of the day's activities, all of which will take place on the athletic grounds of the school.

Evening Service

The Reverend Morgan P. Noyes, D.D., of the Central Presbyterian church of Montclair, New Jersey, will be the speaker at the evening service on Sunday at 7:30. Friends of the school are welcome.

Final Examinations

The final examination period will begin Tuesday morning, May 28, and will end at noon on Friday, the 31st.

Century Old Company Began In Andover

"An Andover Printer Had An Idea In 1840." So runs the head of an article published in the April New England Editor and Printer in commemoration of the hundredth anniversary of George H. Morrill Company, today, the world's largest manufacturers of newspaper inks.

Samuel Morrill began his pioneering in inks in the kitchen of his colonial home which, it is understood, was on the corner of Abbot and School streets. Lamp black, made from burning oil collected after days of painstaking effort, was boiled with linseed in a vegetable kettle, poured in kegs and pails and delivered to Morrill customers, the number of which increased steadily as inks from abroad grew less and less satisfactory.

Mr. Morrill and son, George H., conducted a modest factory in an old book shop until the increased volume of business necessitated a move to the old brick machine shop of the Boston and Maine Railroad, the site of the present Andover Playhouse. Even here it was impossible to meet the demands of a growing market, so the next move was to Norwood where water power was easily available. Then follows a saga of American enterprise from a vegetable kettle in 1840 to 150,000 pounds daily capacity production of 1940.

THE FORD WAY OF DOING BUSINESS

The Ford Motor Company was founded by a working-man for working-men. Its present officers began as employees of the Company. It was the first company to pay a minimum wage, beginning in 1914, at the then astounding figure of $5 a day. That was double the prevailing wage of the time. The Ford minimum is now $6 a day for all employees engaged in production work. And from that, the wages rise to $10.80 a day, with the average wage $7.25, exclusive of salaried employees.

The Ford Motor Company was the first large company to establish the 8-hour day—also in 1914. And the 40-hour week was inaugurated by the Ford Motor Company in 1926, years before any such laws existed.

The Ford Motor Company employs men without regard to race, creed or color. It is common knowledge that working conditions in the Ford shops are the best that science and constant care can make them. A square deal, a just wage and stabilized employment for a large proportion of our employees—and as fully stabilized for all as conditions will permit—enable our men to retain their personal independence.

In consequence of these policies the Ford Motor Company has one of the finest bodies of employees in the world. The larger proportion are mature men of long service with the Company—sober, decent family men. Hundreds of them have been with the Company for more than 25 years—thousands for more than 15 years. Their health record, home ownership and citizenship records are good.

All this is reflected in Ford products, whether cars, trucks or tractors. The work is honestly done. Materials are the best that can be made or procured. Less profit to the Company and more value to the customer is known throughout the motoring world as "Ford's way of doing business."

Ford Motor Company was the first to make a motor car within the means of the average family—quitting the manufacture of what was then the largest selling model in the world to do so. Its chosen field in all the 30 years since that time has been the average American family—for which it has consistently provided car facilities which formerly only the wealthy could buy.

It is the policy of the Ford Motor Company to share the benefits of advanced methods and management with workers and public alike. Increased wages and employment over a period of many years have resulted in

A 300 per cent increase in the built-in value of the Ford car and a 75 per cent reduction in its price.

Henry Ford and Edsel Ford keep daily personal touch with all phases of Ford manufacture. In a conference with his staff, Henry Ford often says: "Go ahead—I'll sit here and represent the public."
