Reunion Banquet Next Thursday

Hear ye, hear ye, all Punchard Alumni, it's time to plan now to attend the annual reunion banquet which is only one week away! At 6:30 all classes from 1940 way back to 1880, with special emphasis on the fifty-year class, will gather in the Punchard corridor to form the parade to the cafeteria where will await a most delicious supper that alone is worth the price of admission. But that is not all! After the business meeting which will possess the heretofore unknown quality of being "not too long" an entertainment which may, because of its interest, seem "all too short" will follow. Nor is that all! The occasion will conclude with dancing until midnight. Even then, your dollar will not be completely exhausted. It will make you a paid member of the Alumni Association until next year's banquet. You can't afford to miss it!

Tickets are now on sale by the members of the executive board, and it is requested that all orders be in by Tuesday, June 18. Tickets will be reserved at the door upon request.

Committee: chairman, Miss Eunice Stack; Joseph Doherty, Madeleine Simeone, Fred Gould, Evelyn Rutter, Gladys Downs, Everdike Thiras, Roger Whitcomb, Betty Buchanan and Annetta Anderson.

Andover Boys Win Nearly One-Fourth Of Academy Awards

Of the $6660 awarded in prizes and scholarships at Phillips academy yesterday morning, Andover boys won $1458.20, or nearly 22%. George Nicoll was the highest local winner, receiving the Amherst college scholarship of $400 and also the Dove prize of $20 in Latin. Lincoln D. Clark, Russell H. Lord, Jr., and Gerard N. Twomey each won special memorial scholarships of $250, while John R. White was awarded the Fuller Memorial scholarship of $200.

Andover songsters did well on the Hill. Of the four choir prizes of $10 each Andover won two, Charles P. Gabeler, Jr., winning the prize for second tenors, and Donald G. Thompson for second basses.

The $300 attendance prize was divided among 22 boys, five of them from Andover: Donald S. Burns, Thomas P. Dea, Jr., Edmond E. Hammond, Jr., Warren A. Lewis and Archibald D. MacLaren, Jr.

Eolo F. De Rosa won honorable mention in a Latin 3 award.

RED CROSS FUND STILL UNDER QUOTA

A total of $4513.37 has been subscribed for the local Red Cross war relief quota through Monday afternoon. This is still some $300 short of the town's quota, and since the need grows with every minute, it is hoped that everyone who possibly can, will contribute.

Knocking down a guard rail on the west side of South Main street, then cutting across the street some 80 yards, this car turned over after knocking a telephone pole some eight feet off its base last Friday morning. A youth who left the machine in a hurry was arrested later for stealing the car. (Sunette Studio)

Essayists Praise Training For Democracy As Practiced In School System

The honor essayists at the Punchard high school graduation Tuesday evening extolled the training for Democracy in school curriculum and defined its value to graduates about to compete for further honors in a democratic nation. Dorothy Christie, salutatorian, spoke on "Training for Democracy" and Elinor Houston and Eleanor Gorrie brought out how this training is given in the class room and in extra-curricular activities. Joanne O'Riordan, valedictorian, concluded the thought with her essay, "For The Value Received, I Promise To Pay."

Priests' March from "Athalie" played by the school orchestra, introduced the program as the 117 senior graduates marched onto the stage. Glee club selections, "The Lord's Prayer," by Malotte-Deis, and "O Singing Land," by Sibelius, were sung between recitations, and the whole assemblage joined in singing the Punchard Ode as a conclusion. Superintendent Kenneth L. Sherman presented prizes to the following: M. E. Gutterson Botany prize, $5, Lester Alleruzzo, '40, Legion prize for excellence in the U. S. Constitution, $5, and the U. S. History medal, both to Barbara Pullan, '41; Harvard club prize book, James McMahon, '41; William A. Doherty school citizenship prize, $5, Warren Richardson, '40;

Agnes Gillen Martin typewriting prize, $5, Henry Audesse, '40; Martin secretarial prize, $5, Eleanor Gorrie, '40.

Mr. Hamblin announced the decision of the trustees to divide the Margaret Hinchcliffe scholarship between Joanne O'Riordan and Dorothy Christie, and to award the Draper scholarship to Marilyn Lewis.

Warren Richardson presented the class gift of $100 to Mr. Hamblin to use as he sees fit, and an additional sum of $50 to be donated to the Red Cross.

Frederick C. Smith, chairman of the School Committee, gave out the diplomas to the following seniors:

Magdeline C. Addison, *Lester P. Alleruzzo, Norman H. Auchterlonie, *Henry D. Audesse, Dorothy E. Barnett, *Philip J. Beck, Harold P. Bishop, Wilfred J. Boucher, Daniel C. Folk-lore Theme Of Junior High Exercises

Folk songs and folk dances of the British Isles and how they have influenced American folklore will be the theme of the closing exercises of the Junior high school to be held next Thursday morning at ten in the Memorial auditorium. The children will appear in costume in the various numbers.

The Junior high prom will be held tomorrow evening in the gymnasium.

To Form Committee To Aid Allies

An Andover Committee to be part of the "Committee to defend America by Aiding the Allies," is now being formed, and its first meeting will be held Monday evening, June 24, at 7:30 in the Lower Town Hall. William Allen White, noted newspaper editor, is national chairman, Harvard president James Bryant Conant, is state honorary chairman, and former Governor Fuller is chairman.

We have many nice things to surprise him with.

Raw Materials Or War Materials?

"Mare nostrum." Benito Mussolini wants control of "Our sea, the Mediterranean," and now that Germany has Britain and France in a position where Benito thinks he can get control of that sea without any risk, he's going after it.

The United States' position today is clear: It is very much pro-Ally, with aid limited to providing all available material resources. Few will question the wisdom of this step, and in President Roosevelt's Monday night address it naturally attracted quite a bit of attention. But another statement in that address seemed to us to be more important than the several paragraphs the daily newspapers emphasized, because if this war is to be a short one, this question will be foremost, no matter who wins.

Why should it be Italy's sea? Why should Gibraltar be important, why should powers cast longing eyes at the Suez canal? Why in brief should there be wars? This government, President Roosevelt said, "expressed its willingness to endeavor to co-operate...when the appropriate occasion arose for the creation of a stable world order...through the construction of a more liberal international economic system which would assure to all powers equality of opportunity in the world's markets and in the securing of raw materials on equal terms." We in the United States today bear a very intense dislike for Hitler and an equally intense contempt for Mussolini, but it's more because of the way that they try to achieve their aims rather than the reasons for which they drew up those aims. Had there been a more liberal international economic system, Hitler and Mussolini might never have gained control of their nations, and certainly there would not be the intense hatred of the British Empire that many in Germany and Italy feel. It wouldn't matter much who governed colonies, and certainly there would be no point to having it mare nostrum, mare nostrum, or mare anybody elsum.

The United States today prays for an Allied victory. Those prayers should also contain a plea that hatred for Italy and Germany because of what they are doing should not grow so great that the peace terms at the war's end would fail to establish a fair international economic system and so a permanent peace.

Five To Graduate From Pike School

Five pupils of the Pike school will receive their diplomas at the closing exercises to be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the Brooks school. The presentation of diplomas to the graduating class which includes Margaret Howe, Sarah McDuffie, Paul Bryant, Allen Titcomb and Harry Dow III, will conclude the program of songs and plays.

June Weddings

Hajj-Bourdelaïs

At a pretty informal ceremony in St. Anthony's church, Lawrence, Saturday afternoon, Miss Florence Bourdelaïs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Octave Bourdelaïs, Jr., Chandler road, became the bride of Charles Hajj, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hajj, 69 Beacon street. Rev. Joseph David officiated.

The bride was wearing a pink suit with a corsage of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Her sister, Mrs. Catherine Riley as matron of honor, wore a blue suit with a corsage of pink roses and larkspur. Manny Hajj was best man.

After the reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents, the couple left on a trip through the White Mountains and will reside at 23 Bourque street, Lawrence, upon their return.

Lynch-Roche

Miss Anne Marie Roche, daughter of John Roche of Wood lane, North Andover, became the bride of James R. Lynch, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lynch of Gray road, at a pretty ceremony in St. Michael's church, North Andover, Sunday afternoon.

Wearing a charming gown of white lace and tulle with a long circular train and finger-tip veil of illusion, the bride entered the church with her father. She carried a bouquet of white roses. An Alice blue maid of honor gown made similar to the bride's was worn by Miss Marguerite Roche who also wore matching accessories and carried tea roses.

John Lynch was the best man, and Joseph Lynch and James Roche were the ushers.

After a reception at the North Andover club, the couple left on a wedding trip to New York and Washington, D. C. They will reside in Andover upon their return.

Bume-Montgomery

At a pretty wedding in the German Presbyterian church, Lawrence, last Wednesday, Miss Ruth Louise Montgomery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Montgomery, 1 Berkeley court, Lawrence, became the bride of Frederick L. Bume of Sanford, Maine, formerly of Shawsheen Village. Rev. Hans Sidon, Ph.D., performed the ceremony.

Margerison-Despres

Miss Cecile Despres, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Despres of Water street, Lawrence, became the bride of Clifford Margerison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Margerison of 21 Haverhill street, at a pretty five o'clock ceremony in St. Anne's rectory, Lawrence, Saturday afternoon. Rev. Jean B. Capesius, S. M., officiated.

The bride, wearing a gown of white taffeta and net with finger-tip veil of tulle en train, was attended by Miss Rose Despres who wore a pink taffeta frock with matching coronet. The bridal bouquet was roses and lilies of the valley and the maid of honor carried pink roses and sweet peas. Lester Cockcroft was the best man.

A reception followed at the French Social hall, Lawrence, and after the wedding trip through the White Mountains and Canada, the couple will reside at 308 Water street, Lawrence.

Glendye-Mignaneli

At a pretty ceremony in St. Joseph's church, Ballardvale, Sunday afternoon, Miss Edna Mignaneli, daughter of Mrs. Eugene Murnane of Andover street, Ballardvale, became the bride of Joseph Glendye, of Water street, Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Glendye. Rev. Henry B. Smith, O. S. A., performed the ceremony, and Miss J. Frances McAvoy was the soloist.

McCarthy-Kelley

Miss Helen Rita Kelley, daughter of Joseph J. Kelley of 201 Middlesex street, North Andover, and John J. McCarthy of Dufton road were united in marriage at a ceremony in St. Michael's church Sunday afternoon by Rev. Alfred L. MacDonald. Miss Catherine Cain was maid of honor and Cornelius Barry best man.

Both bride and maid of honor wore white marquisette, the bride's embroidered in pink and blue, and the maid of honor's in orchid and yellow. They carried colonial bouquets.

Following a reception the couple left on a wedding trip to New York. They will reside in North Andover.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Ernest N. Lowd, 68 Thompson street, Amesbury, and Marian K. Deal, Phillips Academy.

Sidney A. Batchelder, Argilla road, and Helen S. Ferrier, 1 Moraine street.

Alphonse H. Becotte, 129 Bowden street, Lawrence, and Mary Margerison, 61 Haverhill street.

Charles H. Murnane, Andover street, and Antonia A. Jogolta, Holt road.

Rufus O. Carter, High Plain road, and Eva O. Earle, 34 Flint street, Somerville.

ObituariesMrs. Bessie M. Jenkins

The funeral of Mrs. Bessie M. Jenkins of 22 Verndale street, Bradford, who died Tuesday morning at the Morris Convalescent home, Bradford, after a short illness, was conducted this afternoon by the Rev. Frederick Noss at the South church. Interment was in the South church cemetery.

Mrs. Jenkins, born January 27, 1867, at Andover, was a daughter of John Brooks and Ellen (Holt) Jenkins. Until her marriage to William Jenkins of Bradford, she helped her parents to maintain the spirit of hospitality for which their home was noted. After her husband's death in 1926, she moved from his farm to her more recent home.

Although afflicted with deafness for many years, she radiated cheerfulness and enthusiasm. Her neighbors, young and old, were her friends and their interests were hers.

A member of the Andover Historical society, she furnished much information for record on her husband's family as well as her own.

James Dick

James Dick, 54, who was born in Andover and educated in the local schools, passed away Sunday in Los Angeles, California, where he has been residing for several years. At one time he served as a clerk at Crowley's drug store and during the World War 1 went overseas with Battery C, Lawrence.

Among his survivors are his father, Alexander Dick of Cuba street and Mrs. James Brierly of Ballardvale.

Michael Coleman

A solemn high mass will be held tomorrow morning at 9:30 at St. Augustine's church for Michael Coleman, who died Wednesday at his home, 83 Pine street. Born in Ireland 70 years ago he had lived in this vicinity for over half a century.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Catherine (Dempsey) Coleman; four daughters, Mrs. John F. Scott of Wakefield, Mrs. John J. Haddon of Lawrence, Mrs. Leo A. Campbell of Stoneham and Anne Coleman of Malden; two sisters, Mrs. P. J. Gorham and Annie Coleman of Pride's Crossing; a brother, John of Boston.

St. Augustine's Carnival This Week

New attractions will be featured at the annual St. Augustine's carnival to be held tonight, Friday and Saturday at the school grounds. A special performance will be held for children tomorrow afternoon. Saturday night a large number of cash awards will be made. The Ballardvale Hill-billies will be one of the extra attractions. Andover's own aerial artists, Jack Zecchini and his wife, will perform. In addition there will be dart games, penny pitch, canes, baseball bottle throw and a number of other carnival features.

The Mothers' club will hold a beano party at the home of Mrs. Priscilla Manning Tuesday evening.

Valiant Efforts Of Colonists Typified In Cheever Mural

In the lobby of the Madison post office, Conn., there now hangs a new mural of great feeling and historic significance, depicting Colonial farmers gathering seaweed on the shores of the Sound. William Abbott Cheever, the artist, has caught all the purposeful strength of the early settlers in their valiant efforts to cultivate the stubborn soil, and has paid tribute to the enduring courage in their efforts to establish homes in a free land.

Mr. Cheever was considered for the Madison commission on the basis of the competent work which he submitted in a recent anonymous competition and he was asked to submit a design of a subject suitable to the locality. Upon learning that the early Madison settlers, an agricultural people, were accustomed to enrich their land with shells, rockweed and seaweed, Mr. Cheever based his design on a series of sketches recently made in England where seaweed gathering is still an accepted agricultural practice. The storm-tossed sea in the background adds to the drama of the scene which typifies so well the hardships endured by the Colonists.

Stores To Move To New Locations

Andover's constantly changing Main street will shortly undergo a further realignment of its business establishments when Miss Irma Beene will move her department store to the shop formerly occupied by Harry Hyland, two stores away from her present location. The First National Store will take over the present Beene shop, converting the entire area into a super-market.

TO SERVE LUNCHEON

Mrs. Grant Silva and her mother, Mrs. Austin Huggins of Waltham, will entertain the members of the Woman's Union of the West church at luncheon at 1:00 next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Silva on Greenfield street, South Lawrence. Those planning to attend will notify either Mrs. Silva or Mrs. Carl Stevens as soon as possible.

National Red Cross Commends Work Of Local Chapter

The Andover Red Cross is justly proud of the quantity and quality of the work which is being done by local volunteer workers and the following letter of appreciation has also been received from national headquarters:

Dear Miss Kuhn,
The splendid box of garments from Andover chapter as samples of their work has been received and accepted. They are beautifully made and most attractive. We are very glad to have them for display for a time before sending them abroad. Thank you so much for giving us an opportunity to see the very fine work done by the ladies in your chapter.

Sincerely yours,

Mabel T. Boardman
Director, Volunteer Service

Sewing meetings will continue to be held every Tuesday in the Christ church parish house. Material is furnished and the Red Cross will be grateful for all assistance given.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY NOTICE

Notices of the annual meeting of the Bay State League of historical societies, which is to be held at Rockport on the afternoon of June 22, offer a program of wide interest, because Rockport is celebrating its centennial year, first settled in 1690. There is offered an all day program with open houses and special studio exhibits.

The Sandy Bay Historical Society is the entertaining hostess. The formal session will be held in the First Congregational church at 2:00. The building will be open from 10:00 a.m., as headquarters, and there will be an exhibit of early silver and other parish relics. At 1:30 the church bell will be rung. At 2:00 the meeting will open when the Rockport Centennial choir, in costume, will sing. After the necessary business of the day, Mr. Frank Whitcomb Tarr will make an address entitled "History and Centennial Stories of Rockport."

All historical societies who are members of the League are entitled to three delegates, but each member is assured a cordial invitation to attend.

PIANOFORTE PUPILS TO PRESENT PROGRAM

A group of Miss Marion Abbott's pianoforte pupils will present their annual program in the music room of the Junior high school at 7:30 Tuesday evening, June 18. The public is cordially invited.

Statistician Discovers Gigantic Polypede

The strange and terrifying apparition, assembled some years ago in Andover, and which has gaily tripped through the town streets and Punchard corridors gracefully carrying its 7½ tons of mass weight, pricked up its 234 ears Monday evening to listen with suspicion to the statistical description of its renowned and illustrious self as given by Thomas Davies. Could it be that the daring Tom was referring to the same class of 1940 which had gathered on the Memorial auditorium stage to hear the class day speakers? Could it be that this unattractive compound could be composed of some 117 seniors who, as individual components, presented a very pleasing, yes, attractive—picture? That seemed to be exactly what Tom had in mind as he continued with the class statistics, the further qualifications of which brought out the mitigating information that the average female weight is 120 pounds and the male, 150. Goodness, but Tom certainly had his classmates worried for a while.

Barbara Gahm did a little compounding herself with the result that the highlights when fused into a class history brightened the beams on the faces of the reminiscing graduates, especially when Barbara related the antics during the current year. From these years of beneficial experience it seemed only fitting and proper that the seniors should pass along a little advice to their successors, although William Ferguson, dedicated to the task, bemoaned, "You framed me, chums!" Framed though he was, he wasn't exactly a "still life" as he traversed the stage, keeping the underclassmen in the audience worried as to whom he would point to next.

Nancy Thomas, class attorney, who drew up the will, had Tact as her assistant and ran little risk of ruining happy friendships by her bequests. Nor did Ruth Cowan's prophetic visions find the seniors wanting in aspirations or accomplishments. In the City of Realized Ambitions, Ruth met her classmates again after years of absence and found them all happy and industrious in the modern city mayored by—guess who—Warren Richardson. Besides imagining all kinds of delightful futures for her friends, the seer also discovered a new magazine, "Pursuit of Happiness," companion to the present "Life" and "Liberty."

Preceding the speeches, the class supper was served in the cafeteria, and succeeding, a dance was enjoyed in the gymnasium.

Committee: chairman, Pauline Dufresne; George Brown, Ruth Porter, Robert MacMackin, Frances Videto, Maroy Dunn and William Renny.

Ninety Abbot Alumnae attended the Banquet in the November Club House, on June first. All ages were represented from the class of 1880 to 1937. An enjoyable feature was singing by the classes of 1930 and 1935. Mrs. Mildred Frost Eaton, President of the Alumnae Association, exhibited a silver bowl to be presented to Mrs. Mary Gorton Darling of the class of '86, an enthusiastic and beloved alumna and friend of Abbot. Miss Hearsey gave a delightful report of the school activities, and at the end all rose to sing "Abbot Beautiful," words of which were written by Miss Bailey. Seated at the head table were Mrs. Eaton, Miss Hearsey, Mr. and Mrs. Burton S. Flagg, Mr. Irving Southworth, Miss Dorothy Taylor, and Miss Jane Carpenter. Surette Studio

Jr. Legion Team Opens Season On Flag Day

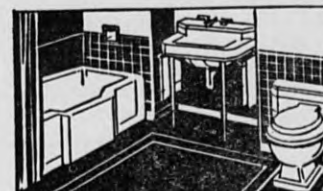

The Junior Legion baseball team will open their season tomorrow at the playstead with special Flag Day exercises beginning at 5:30. American flags (made in America) will be distributed to all attending and the proceeds will go to the Junior Drum corps which will give a demonstration on the field. The game starting at 6:30 will be with the William P. Connery Post of Lynn.

The Legion baseball team for the year 1940 will be as follows:
Ralph Manning, Stephen Moss, Carl Earler, Arthur Coleman, Kellogg Boynton, Kenneth Lewis, Robert Wood, Edward Polinski, James Collins, L. Cleary, David MacDonald, Arthur Green, James Renny, William Gordon and Lewis Anderson.

Warren Kearns has been chosen to be manager of the team for the year and will assist the coaches.

Joseph Wennik will be mascot. Coach Wennik wishes to thank the candidates who came out for the team, and regrets that he has been unable to choose more of them. However, only 15 can be on the squad according to the American Legion rules. Those who were not chosen will be welcome at all practice sessions, and may participate in these sessions.

I'm training my husband to live right

"Those days when my husband used to drive in town to work, and tie up 'our' car all day are gone - forever.

"He saves money now that he commutes by B and M train - commuting tickets cost him less than 2 cents a mile - and he works better, plays better, feels better - because the train trip gives him a chance to rest and relax.

"And I get the car all day - and use it!"

From Garden to Table

Now is the time to insist on native grown vegetables. By doing this you accomplish two things. You get vegetables right from the garden onto your table the same day, and you help the Local Farmers that help to pay your taxes.
