Heavy Registration At Playgrounds

Opening day registration Monday at the three playgrounds presages a busy season. At the Central playgrounds 350 registered, at Ballardvale 80 and at Shawsheen 100.

Mass games have been played all this week. Heavy apparatus will be put up Friday morning, including swings, seesaws, etc. The first regular staff meeting will be held Friday morning at 9:00.

Friday evening flag exercises and couple races will take place on all three playgrounds. Parades will feature the events.

Three Eligible For Police Department

Three Andover men will be eligible for appointment to the police department when the occasion arises, they having passed the civil service examinations according to a list issued by the state civil service commission this week. They are: James R. Lynch, Gray street; John E. Haggerty, Andover street; Alan G. Chadwick, 34 Avon street.

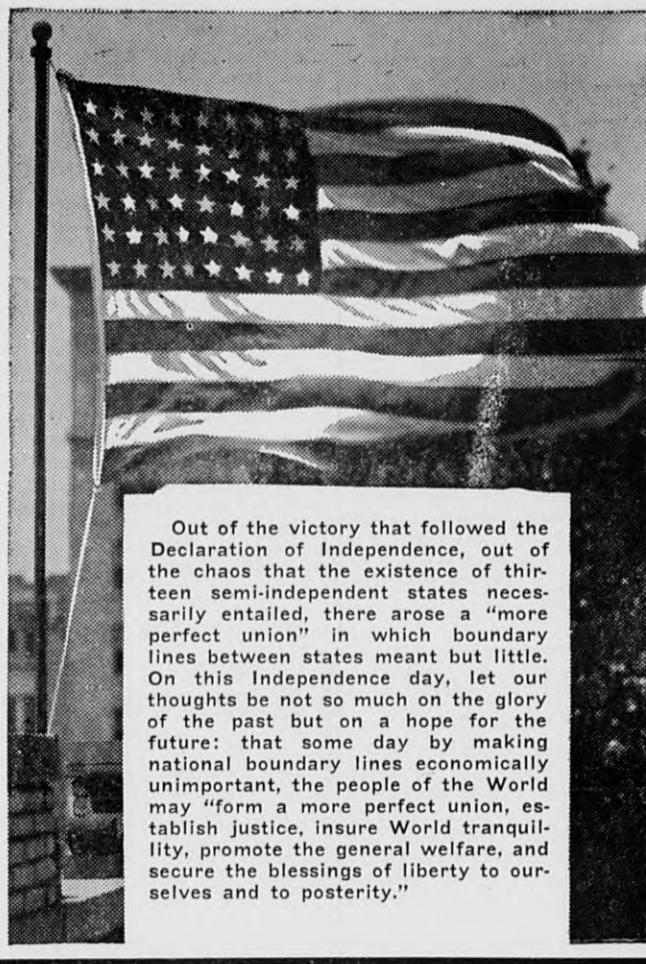

These men took a state-wide exam several months ago. If a vacancy occurs in the reserve list the selectmen will ask the Civil Service commission for a list of qualifiers, and these three men would be the available ones. At present officers Davis, O'Brien, Waldie and Dufton are on the reserve force until such time as they may be appointed to the regulars.

Allied Aid Group Elects

Edmond Hammond was elected chairman of the Andover Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies at an organization meeting Monday night. Others elected were: secretary, Joseph A. McCarthy; treasurer, John M. MacKenzie; executive board, Dr. Claude M. Fuess, C. Carleton Kimball, Alan T. Polgreen, J. Everett Collins and H. Garrison Holt.

After a brief discussion the committee adjourned subject to call of the chair.

Out of the victory that followed the Declaration of Independence, out of the chaos that the existence of thirteen semi-independent states necessarily entailed, there arose a "more perfect union" in which boundary lines between states meant but little. On this Independence day, let our thoughts be not so much on the glory of the past but on a hope for the future: that some day by making national boundary lines economically unimportant, the people of the World may "form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure World tranquility, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and to posterity."

Tyer Rubber Company Agrees To Election For Next Tuesday On C. I. O.

United Rubber Workers Desire Exclusive Rights

An election under the National Labor Relations Board with the consent of the United Rubber Workers and the management of Tyer Rubber company, will be held next Tuesday from 2:00 to 6:00 in the parking shed adjoining the office. The question will be, "Do you desire to be represented for the purpose of collective bargaining by the United Rubber Workers, Local 137, affiliated with the Congress of Industrial Organization (C. I. O.)?"

The workers will vote "Yes" or "No" on the question, and if a majority of those casting a ballot vote "Yes", the union will have exclusive bargaining rights with the company, while a majority must cast "No" ballots to have the present non-exclusive arrangement continue. Under the Labor Relations Board rules it need not be a "Yes" vote by the majority of all eligible workers, but just a majority of those voting.

In a telephone conversation with the Townsman yesterday, a National Labor Relations board representative at Boston stated that the election arose out of a desire on the part of the union to have a formalized contract for exclusive bargaining, and the management had assented to the election as a means of ascertaining which plan the employees prefer.

The Labor Relations board representative stated that the union has been dealing with the company for the past three years, this arrangement being "very harmonious, from all accounts." However, during this time the company dealt with the union representing only the union's own members and not the rest of the employees. Feeling that a majority of the 600 employees are members of the union, the U. R. W. would like bargaining power for all the employees, members or non-members.

The company and union have agreed to limit the balloting to all production employees including inspectors and maintenance employees on the company payroll during the month of June, excluding supervisors, office, clerical, watchmen and laboratory workers and excluding employees who have since quit or been discharged for cause.

Treasurer Wallace Brimer is the company's representative, and Salvatore Camello is the union representative.

Bonfire At Midnight Before The Fourth

A bang-up Fourth of July program, featuring sports, aerial acts, snapcracker festival and a bonfire will be held the night before and on the Fourth at the former Smith and Dove Cricket field under the auspices of St. Augustine's church.

Following a six o'clock ballgame between the Intermediate C. Y. O. and St. Patrick's of South Lawrence, there will be aerial acts by Mr. and Mrs. Zecchini and some friends who worked with them on the Ringling Brothers circuit. The snapcracker festival will follow, and at midnight the bonfire will be touched off.

Races Thursday afternoon start at three and at 4:30 the C. Y. O. seniors will meet St. Mary's seniors. At the conclusion of the game there will be a band concert.

The list of races arranged by committee chairman James P. Doherty provides something for all ages, weights, etc. It follows: six and under, girls' 20 yard dash, boys' 20 yard dash; seven and eight, girls' 30 yard dash, boys' 30 yard dash; nine and ten, girls' 40 yard dash, boys' 40 yard dash; eleven and twelve, girls' 50 yard dash, boys' 50 yard dash; thirteen to fifteen, girls' 60 yard dash, boys' 75 yard dash; six, seven and eight, girls' shoe scramble, boys' shoe scramble; nine and ten, girls' three-legged race, boys' cock-fight; eleven and twelve, girls' three-legged race, boys' wheelbarrow race; thirteen to fifteen, girls' backward race, horse and rider race; tug-of-war, married men vs. single, and married women vs. single; fat men, 200 pounds or over, 50 yard dash; plump women, 35 yard dash.

Dance Held At Guild Benefits New Hostel

Youth Hostels are not always as well equipped as the Andover Guild, especially when they are first starting, so the local hostellers held an open house and dance last Saturday in the Guild to help out Georgetown, its neighbor hostel, which opened this year for the first time.

About sixty bikers, hikers and friends enjoyed the folk tunes of a four piece orchestra which had incorporated for the evening "to help out." A hosteler from St. Paul, Minn., who is studying at Harvard summer school, led the square dances and Virginia reels with great skill, having had experience

Twelve stayed at the Guild Saturday night after the dance and the same gayety and good fellowship of the evening before prevailed at the breakfast table.

Several people visited the hostel at Saturday afternoon's open house which was sponsored to give non-hostelers an opportunity to learn about the system. Few passes have been issued to Andover enthusiasts this year although North Andover has received five temporary passes.

Sixteen guests hosted at the Guild last Tuesday evening and enjoyed bowling and games, and Monday evening a lone biker from Cincinnati, Ohio, overnights en route to his home after touring the White mountains.

Summer Weddings

Cupid Busy
During June

June has once more the rites to be considered the month of orange blossoms, although last year brides showed a marked preference for August. June 1939 showed only 14 local weddings in the town records while August, 1939, fostered 20.

The month of June, Leap Year, 1940, has already reported 19 local marriages, and if, as often happens, more returns come in this week of weddings occurring out of town, then June will once more preme as "romantic month." But then, of course, July and August, 1940, haven't been heard from and it's still Leap Year!

Batchelder-Ferrier

At a quiet ceremony last Saturday afternoon, at the home of Rev. Herman C. Johnson, Cedar road, Miss Helen S. Ferrier, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Ferrier of Moraine street, became the bride of Sidney Abbott Batchelder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Batchelder of Argilla road. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. William Leahy.

The bride wore a white crepe ensemble with white turban and a corsage of white sweet peas and baby's breath. Mrs. Leahy wore blue chiffon with a white picture hat and a corsage of red roses.

After an unannounced wedding trip the couple will make their new home on Argilla road.

Murnane-Jagolto

A pretty double ring ceremony in St. Augustine's church, Saturday afternoon, united in marriage Miss Antonia Jagolto, daughter of Mrs. Frank Ostrowski of Holt road, and Henry Murnane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Murnane of Andover street, Ballardvale.

Eugene Murnane was best man for his brother and the ushers were John M. Cronin and James F. Haggerty.

A letter to the editor included the following criticism. "In front of Ballardvale's antique parade went a car in which were two men wearing hats of stovepipe pattern and one of the men had a cigarette in his lips. That won't do. Those hats and that cigarette don't go together. Men of Reputation commonly smoked cigars... but they had nothing but contempt for the cigarette."

Presents Program

By Jane Weldon

At her home on Cedar road, Miss Marion L. Abbott presented one of her pupils, Jane Weldon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Weldon of Johnson road, in a program of pianoforte music, recently. A large group of little Miss Weldon's friends thoroughly enjoyed the brilliant technique of musicianship of a child of eleven years. Her renditions proved her a pianist of great promise and her progress will be eagerly watched.

Program: Sonata in C major, Allegro, Andante, Rondo-Allegretto Grazioso, by Mozart; Gavotte in B flat, Handel; Variations on Nel cor piu non mi sento, Beethoven; Scherzo on a Theme by Haydn, Krentzlin; Two Preludes, Opus 28 No. 7, Opus 28 No. 15, by Chopin; Hungarian, MacDowell.

EDITORIAL

"Democracy By The People"

One night a week ago the Townsman, life-long Republican newspaper published by a life-long Republican in a life-long Republican town, almost became Democrat, Farmer-Labor, Prohibitionist, or something else. Over the airwaves, and in the daily newspapers, there were many stories about the Republican Congressional leaders launching a "Stop-Willkie" movement, and we who had with thousands, millions of other Americans seen in Wendell Willkie a chance to rescue the Republican party from everlasting fuddy-duddyism became disgusted. Then the name of Willkie was placed in nomination, and the response from the floor was not good, but thunderous applause came from the galleries where there were 15,000 persons of whom only 600 had tickets from the Willkie leaders. In that conflicting response we felt that the convention would decide whether this is a Democracy controlled by people or a "Democracy" controlled by politicians.

At the end of six ballots the outsider was in, and the Townsman is more Republican than ever because now we have a leader who has a splendid record of progressiveness behind him in addition to having plenty of personal magnetism to offset the much-heralded "charm" of President Roosevelt. The party and the Nation have been looking for a man to rescue it from the inevitable near-collapse in which it will be involved if the Rooseveltian impulsiveness is given any more opportunity. The Nation knew that no one with Taft's lack of appeal or "terrifying complacency" as Lippman put it, and no one with the light weight of Dewey with all due respect to his racket busting accomplishments, could defeat Roosevelt, but the Nation did not know whether the party realized that. In 1936 it had put up a man who had had a fine record but whose personality was no match for "My Friends." That man for that reason had no opportunity to show what a good job he could do. That is why the Nation produced the "Willkie miracle," and it is to the everlasting praise of the Party's delegates that they finally swung to Willkie.

Wendell Willkie typifies America as the "land of opportunity." Descended from a family of refugees from autocratic Germany, he forged ahead by his own hard work and his own ability, taking off time in the World War to fight against that same autocratic Germany. Some say that since he's not a professional politician, he can't make the highest post in the land—today the Nation doesn't want a professional politician in the White House.

Regardless of who is nominated at the coming Democratic party, it looks very much as if there will be a lot of people in this country who will be like Willkie in one sense: "used-to-be Democrats." For the Republican party has by choosing Willkie made this Democracy of the people a Democracy by the people, and next January it will be a Democracy for the people.

Premature Fourth

The Townsman has been receiving this week the usual quota of complaints about premature use of fireworks, and also about some of the abuses, such as throwing firecrackers under passing automobiles. We can't help but feel that the celebration of our Independence would be much more effective if parents did not allow their youngsters to fire off their explosives until the night before the Fourth and then let them go with a vengeance. And of course no one should allow children to misuse firecrackers; an explosive going off under a passing car may result in serious injury to the occupants if the driver loses control even if only for a fraction of a second.

PLUMBING and HEATING
CHARLES HUDON

It's really a problem for the parents. The police can't be everywhere that a firecracker might go off. And the prohibition of the sale of fireworks in town until the day before would not help appreciably unless similar rules were adopted in all surrounding towns, nor would it be fair to the local dealers. We'll just have to wait until the state legislature provides further statewide safeguards, and in the meantime the parents will just have to co-operate with the rest of the public.

Courteous Circle Entertains Town's Older People

A few of the older people of the town were entertained by the Birthday committee of the Courteous Circle of The King's Daughters at the home of Mrs. Frank S. Crawford on Hidden road last Saturday afternoon. About 25 were present, among whom was Mrs. Elizabeth Jones of Whittier Court who is 93 years old.

Mrs. Clifford Chapman, leader of the Courteous Circle, welcomed the guests after which a little entertainment of reading and songs was given by Misses Helen Dowd, Joan Hartigan and Ruth Martin. A feature of the refreshments was a birthday cake cut by Mrs. Crawford as Miss Hewes, chairman of the committee, read a poem written for the occasion by Arthur Bassett.
