Selectman Everett Collins Enters Race For Representative

J. Everett Collins at the insistence of many friends stepped into the race for Republican nomination for representative from the fourth Essex district on Monday, with the necessary signatures being promptly secured. The selectman is the third Andover man to enter the field, Gordon R. Cannon and Ralph W. Emerson having previously circulated papers.

As far as is known, there are five Methuen men, one man from Lawrence's Prospect hill and one North Andover man in the field. The only candidate for re-election is Harold Pedler of Methuen, with representative Carl A. Woelkel in the field for county commissioner and representative Tom Barry in a new district as are Cornelius Twomey and William Casey, present residents of South Lawrence who are now representing Andover. Other Methuen candidates are Daniel Downey, Samuel Rushton, Herbert Bower and a former resident of Andover, Atty. Raymond W. Schlapp. From Prospect hill is Bruno Findeisen and from North Andover Alfred Taylor.

The Republican primary in this district is tantamount to election, since it is predominantly Republican. It can only be guessed how the district will divide within the party, with much importance being attached to the strength of each candidate outside his own town. According to the 1935 census, the district had 25425 registered voters. Estimates are as follows: North Andover 4700, Andover 6100, Methuen 11,800, and Prospect hill over 3000.

Legion Juniors To End Season Tonight

The local Legion Junior team will try to save something out of the wreckage of a disastrous season when it plays the final game of the season against Marblehead here tonight. In thirteen starts the local team has lost thirteen games, three of them during the past week. Friday East Lynn gained a 5-0 victory by allowing Andover only two hits, and on Sunday Hal Wennik hit his hardest streak of luck to date when he had to forfeit to North Andover 9-0 because not enough players showed up. Tuesday night Lynn won a 13-1 victory for Andover's 13th defeat.

LOCAL RED CROSS NURSE RETIRES

Miss Marie Campbell, local Red Cross nurse for twenty years, has tendered her resignation to the local chapter committee. It will become effective in the early fall.

Miss Mildred Lowe of 49 Balmoral street, 31 years of age, has been named her successor by a special committee headed by Mrs. Mitchell Johnson and including Miss Anna Kuhn and Mrs. James Toohey. Miss Lowe was graduated from the Lawrence General hospital in 1929 and has been serving as a district nurse from the hospital since that time. The Lowe family have been residing in Andover the past three and a half years.

Miss Campbell's resignation had been accepted with deep regret by the committee, since her work had been highly valued here, but the committee yielded to her desire for retirement.

During the month of August Mrs. Alma Thomson will again serve as substitute during Miss Campbell's vacation.

DISCUSS CIVIL RIGHTS DURING PRESENT EMERGENCY

Mrs. Alan Blackmer, chairman of the department of Civil Liberties of the League of Women Voters, spoke to a group of nineteen women at a meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. Edward Buchan, Ballardvale, sponsored by the League. Mrs. Blackmer spoke on Civil Liberty during the present national emergency, and, in the general discussion that followed, it was decided that a logical procedure would be one governed by common sense rather than by emotion. It was definitely decided that no person should be reported on suspicion not based on facts. The local police were complimented on their handling of the situation with common sense and reason.

CAREFULNESS---

Your well-being, physically and financially, demands that you exercise the utmost care in safeguarding your health. An early visit to your physician for a check-up may allow him to nip a serious illness in the bud. Care in selecting a druggist who exercises care in compounding prescriptions is also essential.

County Colors Climax County Commander Coleman's Career

Arthur Coleman of Florence street, county commander of the Legion for the past year, concluded his services Sunday at the final meeting held in Salem. The principal feature of the event was the presentation of the county colors, secured after twenty years of the organization's life. An impressive ceremony accompanied the presentation, with Harold Peters of Andover as one of the color guards and Joseph McCarthy playing "God Bless America" for the final item in the ceremony.

For the first time in the council's history, the members paid tribute to the retiring commander, with department vice commander Chester A. Grant presenting him with a cigarette lighter. It was the largest meeting of the year.

Andover's delegates and alternates are making ready for the annual convention. Joseph McCarthy is on the election committee, and Mr. Coleman will preside at the caucus.

Tree Warden Reports On Work

The tree warden has issued the following report on his work during the past few months:

A cold late spring with intermittent warm spells interrupted the development of insects. Young and nearly full grown caterpillars were present on leaves at the same time.

Frequent rains interrupted spraying operations. It was necessary to cut off tent caterpillar nests because rain prevented spraying at the time.

There was a heavy infestation of gypsy moth caterpillars in the woodlands in sections of West Andover, at Fosters pond and vicinity, Gould road and Jenkins road. Trees on and near the roadsides were sprayed twice in these sections. Some parasites and also a small amount of wilt disease was found among the gypsy moth caterpillars.

Elm leaf beetles were more numerous this year, the larvae of which were late in appearing. A special spray was applied in July to protect the elms.

Spraying in general is finished except for possible infestation of Fall Web Worms which come in August and September.

Many inquiries were received in regard to yellow spots and swellings on ash tree leaves. This is a fungus growth very widespread this year due to long wet periods. While not usually serious it caused many leaves to turn brown and fall off, particularly the leaves of the White Ash. Ash trees in the vicinity of Salem street and Holt road were most seriously affected. This fungus has an alternate host plant in marsh grass.

When desired this fungus leaf spot or rust as well as other fungus diseases of the leaves on other varieties of trees may be controlled early in the spring when the leaves are developing by several sprays of bordeaux applied directly before or after rain periods.

Feeding the trees to keep them in good growing condition helps to overcome these conditions.

Summerizing Local News

We hear that the Kennebunk River club is under the spell of a seventeen year old dictator who is also, incidentally, a member of the dance committee.... When Gibby Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gibson Brown of Phillips street, who is summering at Kennebunk, heard the rumor that the club was not planning to run a series of dances this season, but only one or two, he began to circulate around the vicinity collecting autographs which were attached to a petition advising, even demanding, the regular series of club parties... The long list of names which helped the committee to decide to vote on the first ballot seven dances before August 31 included, if we are to believe "High Tide," anyone whom Gibby happened to meet anywhere from Kennebunk to Boston... people who had never been to a club dance... people who couldn't even dance... and so Kennebunk owes a great deal of its social activity this season to young Mr. Brown who maintains that where there is life there is a hop...

Five-Pound Bass Makes Tasty Lunch For Fisherman McBride

Frank McBride, Jr., certainly enjoyed his lunch Tuesday noon even though there was some doubt whether he should have eaten it or framed it. It was as large and as beautiful a bass as has ever been caught in Pomp's pond, and it weighed—honest, he has witnesses—five pounds and six ounces. Frank, who spends most of his time at the pond showing human fish how to pass Red Cross Life Saving tests, also spends some of his spare time giving the fish outside the beach a few tests. Monday night was one of those times, and he and Charles Gregory rowed across the pond from the beach and started casting around for a little fish history that Mr. Gregory might be tempted to use in his classroom next fall. Both caught a couple of Hollywood fish who had been keeping their weight down between one and two pounds, but of course, those can't be mentioned in the same breath with the bass.

According to fisherman McBride—and he really did have witnesses—the avoidupois-ous bass had a girth of fifteen inches and was about twenty-two inches tall. You wouldn't catch a local druggist eating a fish that size, but then, maybe Frank's going to save the bones and mount the scale.

News of Other Days

50 Years Ago

The Andover Home for the Aged is an assured fact and has procured its charter from the corporation. The following officers will take charge: president, James B. Smith; 1st vice president, Mrs. Annie Sawyer Downs; treasurer, Dr. Merrill; auditor, Joseph A. Smart; secretary, Emma M. E. Sanborn. Andover is indeed very fortunate in receiving little damage from the terrible tornado which took such a heavy toll in Lawrence. However, many trees in West Parish were forced to succumb to the furious attacks of the wind. The home of John H. Leonard of Ballardvale was burglarized last night and about $75.00 was taken. George E. Parker has been enjoying life at his old haunt, The Porgy House, Ipswich. L. A. Belknap and family have gone to Kittery Point, Me., for a month.

Arthur W. Hall, who was nearly drowned last Sunday when he fell from a motorboat at Gloucester, returned to his home in Andover. The funeral of Henry Bertram Symonds, 51, will be held from his late home, 127 Main street, Thursday afternoon, with services by Rev. Frederick A. Wilson. Traffic Officer John Deyermund has returned to his duties after two weeks' vacation which he and his family enjoyed visiting relatives in Philadelphia. McIntyre have returned from a trip to Jacksonville, Florida.

ALTAR BOYS ENJOY PICNIC

The Altar boys of St. Augustine's church enjoyed their annual outing Tuesday, at Salem Willows. About twenty-seven accompanied by Rev. Matthew McDonald were in attendance and besides water sports and a picnic lunch, a soft ball game was played with Father McDonald and James Doherty captaining the teams. The game ended after seven innings with the score favoring the latter team, 15-14.

May Be Champs

The result of the baseball game tonight at the Cricket field between the local St. Augustine's team and Lawrence St. Augustine's team will probably have a lot to do with who will represent Greater Lawrence in the Diocesan Playoffs. Both teams are top players of the league with Andover having the advantage having beaten and tied opponents already this season.

Last Sunday, the senior C. Y. O. team defeated St. Mary's at Lawrence, 5-3, and last Thursday overcame St. Patrick's, 5-1.

People's Choice vs. Puppet's Choice

What we want our country to be and what we want it not to be—that's the difference between the recent Republican convention and the Democratic convention. At Philadelphia the delegates whom we elected said: "Let's vote for the man we want, not the man some politician wants." They did that, in one of the most encouraging bits of democracy in years and Wendell Willkie stands now as a real choice of a democratic form of government. But out in Chicago we saw an evil against which our leaders have exhorted—dictatorship—force upon the Democratic party a presidential nominee who thus defies a principle that is the very essence of democracy, perpetuation of power in one man. Further than that, he forced them, under pain of his displeasure, to nominate a man they didn't want for vice-president.

The basic difference between the two conventions is well-illustrated by the Massachusetts delegations. At Philadelphia our delegates were early in the Willkie column, of their own free will. At Chicago some of them were for Roosevelt, others for Farley for whom the primary voters had shown a preference. When the formality of making the vote unanimous for Roosevelt came along, in Massachusetts alone was there a man who dared to say that he couldn't stomach Roosevelt even in order to make it look unanimous. And what happened to former Governor Ely when he expressed that opinion? A man by the name of McCormack from down Boston-way, a member of the House of Representatives and chairman of the state delegation, hushed him up, denying to him the right of freedom of speech which our Constitution guarantees. Senator Walsh announced that Ely had surrendered his credentials rather than vote for Roosevelt, but puppet McCormack was soon on his feet to say it was really all a mistake, everyone really did want so much to vote for President Roosevelt!

So many of those men who were at that convention are men whom you wouldn't want to employ in your own business, and yet there they were nominating a man whose chief aim seems to be running everybody's business. Roosevelt and Wallace were crammed down their throats; they won't be crammed down the American people's throats.

Now's Our Chance

Between now and the first Tuesday in November, the town of Andover can secure for itself a representative in the state legislature, but one thing is necessary; we must all stick together. There are three representatives to be chosen from our new district, which now includes Andover, North Andover, Methuen and Lawrence's Prospect Hill. Even in the most equitable election one of these districts would be left out in the cold, and we've been freezing long enough here in Andover.

Every one of you must have friends in each of the other parts of your district. Be sure to get in touch with them first before the primary on September 15, and then before the final election. We don't want the whole three representatives from our town, but we do want one. Let's make it our business to get one this year.

Oil-Truck Avenue

If ever there was a road that needs widening, it is the one that occupied the attention of several Andover and North Andover representatives at a public works meeting in Salem Monday. The Danvers turnpike which in Danvers they call the Andover turnpike is only two lanes wide, and whether they actually are or not, they don't seem to be the ordinary width, especially when you have an oil truck to pass. There seem to be more oil tank trucks per mile on that road than on any similar stretch in the state. If you're going in the opposite direction, you just have to pass the truck, and you hold your breath hoping that you'll make it without going off into the soft shoulder. If you're behind the truck, it's dangerous to pass because visibility ahead is almost impossible. In the interests of safety it would be well to add another lane where the old car-track ran.

mony, Thursday evening, in St. Michael's rectory, North Andover. Rev. Alfred J. MacDonald officiated.

The bride carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses, sweet peas and baby's breath and the matron of honor carried a Colonial bouquet of talisman roses and sweet peas. Popular Trio Receive Gold Ribbons

Miss Faith Dale Kenney was the youngest "fair lady" to win a gold ribbon at the Baby shows held Friday evening at the three local playgrounds. Miss Kenney, three-and-a-half-months old contestant at Shawsheen, charmed her audience completely and was acclaimed the most popular baby. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kenney of 53 Poor street and was entered by her sister, Virginia.

Next in age, but a gold ribbon rival for popular appeal, was Allen Smeltzer of the Ballardvale playground, also entered in the under-one-year group. Miss Central Playground is Miss Ruth Ann Frederickson, under-two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Frederickson of Chapman court, oldest gold ribbon winner of the evening, who according to the applause of the enthusiastic audience, has not lost a bit of her charm with the creeping up of old age.

Blue, red and white ribbons were awarded to winners of the different age classes and at Central the following children, with their sponsors, received awards: babies under one year: first, Robert St. Jean, sponsored by Rita Hanson; second, Mary Lynch, by Dorothy Duff; third, Richard White, by Charles White; under two years: first, Evelyn Jane Waldie, by Barbara Waldie; second, Alexander Auchterlonie, by Jean Auchterlonie; third, Anne Dolan, by Russell Spinney; under three years old: Ruth Ann Frederickson, by Bancroft Frederickson; second, Glenn Moore, by Joan McLaughlan; third, James Holt, by Ethel Hibbert; under four years old: first, Rosemary McIntyre, by Barbara Monroe; second, Joyce Williams, by Shirley Weed.

At Shawsheen, the winners were as follows: under one year: first, Faith Dale Kenney, by Virginia Kenney; under two years: first, Robert Gaudette, by Lucille Gaudette; second, Richard Janes, by Jean Fowler; under three years: Andrea MacLachlan, by Mavis Twomey; second, Thomas Andrew, by Frederick Beaudoin; third, Maxine Wainwright, by Jean Mulvey; under four years: first, Henry Richards, by Prudence Richards; second, Marcia Tagney, by Marie Reilley; third, John Court, by Jean Court.

At Ballardvale there was only one winner for each class: under one year, Allen Smeltzer entered by Crystal Cormey; under two years, Leigh Henderson, by Rowena Coon; under three years, Paul McFarlen, by Ann McFarlen; under four years, Ernest Dole by Eileen Stevens; under five years, Robert Henderson, by Marjorie Mears.

Besides the baby contest a doll carriage parade was held at Ballardvale and Dorothy Keating won the prize for having the prettiest doll carriage and Doris Nicoll, for having the prettiest doll.

Main Street Ambush Proves Successful In Practice Capture

Imaginary bullets poured down upon a marked enemy car which was trying to make a getaway down Andover's Main street, Thursday night, making its disputed way towards Boston. But the Marines having the situation well in hand fired from their ambush positions enough bullseye shots to render the fleeing car helpless. Of course, no real ammunition was used and no actual damage was incurred.

After making a successful capture, Company A, of the Second Battalion, U. S. Marine Corps Reserves, proceeded to Winchester where they were scheduled for rifle practice, and Main street residents once more drew an easy breath with the conclusion of such realistic maneuvers.

Plane Forced Down In Andover

Andover experienced a bit of the airplane difficulties which seemed to beset Massachusetts' skies Monday night when a plane en route to Boston from Vermont was forced down in a field off the Reading road because of motor trouble. Elsewhere in the state there were numerous air accidents, one of them fatal, with fog conditions being largely responsible.

Y. M. A. C. VS. C. Y. O.

Friday evening the Ballardvale Y. M. A. C. baseball team will face the Andover C. Y. O. on the St. Augustine's field at 6:15.

A few weeks ago the Vale defeated the Andover club by the score of 10-9 and another interesting game is expected.

GROVELAND DOG LOST; FRIGHTENED BY LIGHTNING

Have you seen a very frightened wire-haired terrier, license number 21, Groveland? Tuesday afternoon the little dog was in a car travelling down River road near the radio station tower. With lightning crackling all around, the dog became terrified, jumped out of the car and ran off. He hasn't been seen since. If anyone finds him, his Groveland owners would be grateful if the local police were notified.

Bakery Strikers Chased From Town

A bakery driver strike which tied up four large baking companies and resulted in heavy sales of bread by independent companies and others not bothered by the strike had local ramifications this week when the local police on three occasions ordered strikers to leave the town. They had been found holding up independent bakery trucks in an attempt to tie up the whole baking industry.

Saturday morning when Chief Dane and officer O'Brien were headed for the Lawrence District court they came upon a carload of six men stopping a bakery truck near Shawsheen Village. The chief told them there was no strike in Andover and that if they wanted to picket, they could picket at their bakery and not in Andover. On another occasion strikers were chased out of town after gathering on the Reading road.

Fines Levied In Local Court

Fines totalling $25 were levied on four out-of-town men by Judge Walter C. Tomlinson this morning in local court. Fred J. Rapisardi of Lawrence paid five dollars for failing to stop at a stop sign coming out of Morton street, with officer O'Brien the complainant. Andrew G. Szulc of Brookline paid $10 on charges of speeding and failing to keep to the right of way, officer Nicoll the complainant. Leon E. Ober, Jr., of Auburndale was fined five dollars for speeding on Main street, with O'Brien the officer, and Gustave Veekens of Malden five dollars for failing to keep to the right of way, with Nicoll making the complaint.

MRS. EDNA GILMAN DIES IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

Mrs. Edna Gilman, who lived here during the past several winters with Miss Evelyn Parker, local school teacher, passed away Monday at her home, Silver Lake, Madison, N. H. Funeral services were held yesterday with interment taking place in Madison. Miss Parker had been summering with her.

Mrs. Gilman had been in failing health for two or three years. She leaves no immediate survivors.

Officials Studying Dump Relocation

Announcement will be made in the near future relative to the possible relocation of the public dump. The selectmen and the planning board have held two meetings on the problem turned over to them by the town meeting, and several prospective locations have been examined.

Injured Youngster Remains In Hospital Two More Weeks

Two-year-old Madeline Carver of 96 Maple avenue will be confined for two more weeks at the Lawrence General hospital because of injuries received when she was struck and knocked down by a car in Andover square last Friday afternoon. It is expected that her mother, Mrs. John Carver, will be able to leave the hospital Saturday, but possible internal injuries sustained by the youngster make it imperative that she remain longer.

According to the police report, Mrs. Agnes Mura Deyett of Lyndonville, Vt., formerly of Shawsheen Village, was proceeding through the square when officer O'Brien put up both hands to stop the traffic. Mrs. Carver and her little girl started across under the protection of his signal, but Mrs. Deyett allegedly kept on coming. O'Brien yelled, "Watch out!" But it was too late. The car hit the mother and child, knocked them both down, and then front and rear wheels reportedly passed over the two.

While passersby picked up the victims, O'Brien rushed to the telephone in Post Office avenue and called the ambulance. The little girl sustained a possible fractured rib and a possible punctured kidney. Mrs. Carver had a cartilage injury in the knee, and both had contusions and abrasions.

Charges of operating to endanger and failing to stop for an officer were made against the driver. The case was continued until August 27 pending recovery of the little girl.

Free Church Troop Attends Camp Onway

Seventeen members of troop 72 of the Free Church boy scouts left for Camp Onway last week-end with their scoutmaster, Norman MacLeish, and accompanied by several of the parents and friends. At Sunday night's campfire the neckerchiefs, emblematic of position, were awarded.

Among them are: George Craig, John White, Richard Cargill, Joseph Keith, Russell MacLeish, Alan and William Munroe, Duncan Cairnie, Robert, James and William Lowe, Stewart Fraser, David MacCord, Joseph Auchterlonie, Norman MacLeod and David Cargill.

John Little and Loring Batchelder from the West Parish troop are also enjoying a stay at the scout camp.

Public Utilities Commission Lowers Foreign Exchange 'Phone Rate Slightly

Deal Results In Raising Some Rates

The Department of Public Utilities this week announced a reduction in the foreign exchange rate affecting a number of subscribers in Andover who have Lawrence service, but it also considerably increased the rate of a number who had had old contracts with the company for this type of service.

In the spring two hearings were held on this matter, but most of the testimony offered by the local people interested dealt with the question of abolition of the five-cent toll charge between the two communities. This the commission ruled out as not germane to the matter under discussion, which concerned only those people now in the Andover exchange who wished direct service to Lawrence. These rates for the state had been figured on the mileage basis, the rate being $1.20 per quarter mile away from the exchange. Even in Shawsheen this brought the monthly charge up to over $20. It was reduced in the new order to $1.00 per quarter mile. However, under old contracts some subscribers had been paying only about $8.00 per month and these are being upped to around $20.00.

Naturally the small amount of the reduction and the increase in certain cases has caused considerable indignation among some subscribers particularly in Shawsheen and they are planning to combat it in whatever way they find possible. The department of public utilities in its report stated that the cost of this special service should not be handed down to the general public but should be sustained by those using such special service.

Another service was slightly changed. In some instances business men have a service which permits their absorption of their customers' toll charges. Formerly this was limited to calls of ten cents or over, and the initial rate has now been lowered to five cents.

FORMER LOCAL MAN RUNS FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Atty. Raymond W. Schlapp, 16 Strathmore road, Methuen, has announced that he will be a candidate for Representative to the Massachusetts General Court in the 4th Essex District which comprises Methuen, Andover, North Andover, and Ward 1 in Lawrence. He will seek the Republican nomination.

Atty. Schlapp is no newcomer in the political field having been active for several years in local, and state politics. In 1936, he was a candidate for State Senator, in the district comprising Lawrence and Methuen. Although defeated, he carried the Town of Methuen better than two to one and received a flattering vote in the City of Lawrence. At the present time, he serves the Town of Methuen in an unpaid position on the Methuen Advisory Board, having unanimously been chosen to be its chairman.

Atty. Schlapp, a former resident of Andover, received his preliminary education in the public schools here and was graduated from Pynchard High School in 1924. He was graduated from Bowdoin College with a B. A. degree in 1929.

He received an LL.B. degree from the Law School of Boston University in 1933 and was admitted to practice in the fall of the same year. He was admitted to practice in the Federal Court of the District of Massachusetts in 1936.

Attorney Schlapp is a member of the Lawrence Bar Association and has served on the Committee of Legislative Affairs for that body.

Regarding the possibilities of an electric railroad in Andover, a townsman points out that in Boston even skilled employees of the company are sometimes caught by the 500 volt thunder bolts. If some one in town had already been favored with an introduction to a "trolley wire" by a handshake with an electric fluid of 500 volt power, perhaps he could better tell the town how dangerous is the project for Andover... Perhaps it would be well, or even better, for the Selectmen to try it for themselves before giving the desired license... Dennis Driscoll, the electric light trimmer, received a bad shaking up Sunday night when he was repairing the incandescent light near Stimson's bridge... He was standing on the top step-ladder which rested in the wagon... Dropping the lamp globe, he started the horse and the action threw Driscoll to the ground, bruising his head... J. W. Why Disrupt Lives?

There's many an American young man today, between the ages of 21 and 31, who is not looking forward to the future with very much hope. Down in Congress they are talking about his immediate future, and they're not paying an awful lot of attention to his slightly more distant future. He graduated possibly from high school or college in the dark ages between 1931 and 1939. He had a hard time getting started in adult life. Jobs were scarce. Businessmen were laying off, not hiring. Possibly he had a good break, and after months and years of waiting around, of being discouraged, he secured employment. His talents perhaps made his position secure, and at last he was looking ahead to a future when he could begin to enjoy the ordinary comforts that we in America have learned to think an integral part of America. He was planning to get married, build a little home, raise a little family—all predicated on the very valid assumption that he had made his position secure.

Or perhaps he is still in college. He has been studying for a career of some sort. In the year or two that he's been in college, he has learned many things, among them being the all-important feature of learning how to learn. He is in stride, and the next year or so will see him develop, will see him gather momentum. And then he would come out into the world ready with four years of consistent training behind him.

But Congress now is considering disrupting the life of this young graduate and this young student. Congress is thinking of drafting him into the army, taking him out of the life that through his own efforts he had created for himself, taking him away from his soon-to-have-been-realized dreams of the future. Why? To make America safe so that he can enjoy that future?

No. That's not why Congress is considering setting these young men back years. If they're in business, they will really have lost more than the year. Some of them may return from their training period to find their jobs gone. Some of them may still find their jobs, but they'll find that others have been improving their positions while they now face the task of again becoming used to their jobs, of learning the new things that have developed which they would have absorbed in the course of their work. And the students—it's more than a year out of college. They'll have to spend much time relearning what they have forgotten before they can go on, and relearning how to learn.

They have a right to ask a few questions. They have a right to wonder why the United States has to draft men to raise an army. They have a right to wonder why with ten million unemployed, a recruiting drive failed to bring enough recruits. They have a right to ask why Congress doesn't pay Army recruits wages that would make army life financially attractive. They have a right to wonder if this Administration, with its policy of passing out funds right and left to the needy and make believe needy, has so pampered Americans, made Americans so soft, that they would refuse to secure employment in the Army because they'd have to work too hard. They who have jobs or are in college have a right to say:

"Why, with people out of work, do they have to take me from my position?"

In fairness to the young men of America, young men who in a minute would fight for their country if she needed them, Congress should consider these questions carefully before it says to these young men: "Come on, boys. Your lives are not yours for the next year. Regardless of what it does to you and your future, we're going to disorganize your life."

Brush a Hazard

Some of Andover's street corners are becoming more and more of a traffic hazard because of the growth of brush which now blinds the view of motorists. In some cases the brush has grown so high that safety signs have been covered. A little aid from the tree department possibly with the use of welfare aid might avoid a serious or even fatal accident.

Mrs. Thomas Brown of Morton street was removed to the Whidden Memorial hospital in Everett, last Friday afternoon.

Miss Maroy Dunn is recuperating from an operation at the Parkway hospital in Brookline where she was taken last Friday.

Legion Juniors Win Final Game

The Andover Legion Junior team, with a thirteen defeat and no victory season behind them, covered themselves with glory last Thursday night by defeating the Marblehead team 7 to 3. Carl Erler held the Marbleheaders to two hits, while the local boys made nine, two of them by Art Coleman who led the team with an average of .324 for the season.

Marblehead got away to a two-run lead in the second on two miscues and a hit. Art Coleman's triple and Jim Collins' single in the third gave Andover a run after Wood had tallied after his own. Gordon's and Lewis' singles in the second. Collins' bunt squeezed in Erler in the fifth after Erler had singled to reach. Successive singles by Lewis, Boynton, Erler and Coleman counted for four runs in the sixth.

GLASSES FOUND

Some people who lose things make a mistake in not applying at the police station, for most found articles are left there. Saturday a pair of glasses were found on Elm street and turned in at the station, but no one has applied for them as yet. They may be had on identification.

The same day Miss Margaret Reid of Dufton road lost a purse with eleven dollars on High street. She notified the police, and officer Gillespie made a search. Two days later the purse was found way off the road and returned to Miss Reid.

RECOATING PRICE DOWN

A sizeable reduction in the cost of the recoating for local streets will result in a real saving to the town this year. The new equipment purchased recently is also providing for more efficiency in this work.

TRAVEL IN COMFORT

In the sweltering heat of yesterday afternoon I saw some people off for the West. Their air-conditioned Pullman was delightfully cool. You can travel westward in equal comfort, to regions that are high, breezy and surpassingly beautiful, such as Colorado, the Yellowstone, Crater Lake, Mt. Rainier and Glacier National Parks, the Canadian Rockies, Lake Louise and Banff. Remember San Francisco, the coolest summer city in the United States.

Better make an appointment to talk over your trip—no obligation.
