Hostel Trip Prize For Grade A

Time was when a young man strove for an A in school because of what he'd get if he didn't, but the modern generation has a much more pleasant plan as evidenced by the story of a fifteen year old hosteler who visited the Andover guild last week. The young man and his father had a wager on last year concerning an A grade and the young man won. Consequently he is traveling extensively and expensively this summer with his parents proudly paying the bills.

Tuesday evening fourteen girl scouts stayed at the guild and enjoyed bowling matches before turning in for an early sleep. Many other travelers have visited the local hostel in the past few weeks and over a hundred and twenty-five have registered this season.

Installing Water On Boutwell Road

The Board of Public Works at present is installing a water main on Boutwell road to Haggetts pond road, along Haggetts pond road to a point near High Plain road. A section has already been put in on Dascomb road.

It is also planned to put in a main off the by-pass, contingent upon the owners involved securing a release from a party through whose property the line must run.

Movement May Result In Poll Of Telephone Users On Toll Charge

A movement that may result in the holding of another poll of telephone subscribers to see if they wish to pay a slightly higher basic rate in order to abolish the five-cent toll charge to Lawrence, Methuen and North Andover is now under way, the aftermath of a meeting held in Shawsheen Village Monday night. Called as a result of the Public Utilities commission's altering of the foreign exchange rate, the meeting decided finally to replace the foreign exchange fight with one which would solve both problems by the entire elimination of the present arrangement.

The hearings held this spring by the commission were called on the foreign exchange problem, but most of the discussion from Andoverites dealt with the toll charge, and was ruled out by the commission.

It is understood that were Andover to merge with the Lawrence exchange, the local basic rate for a residential phone would be fifty cents higher than it now is, so that anyone making more than ten calls to Lawrence per month would realize a saving. However, there is a question as to what would happen to the phone users in the surrounding towns, for if the addition of the 2000 or so Andover phones to the Lawrence district total pushes the entire area into a higher rate bracket, there would be serious opposition from Lawrence, North Andover and Methuen to any such change. The committee plans to investigate this.

In the discussion Monday night it was stated that ten years ago five towns had arrangements whereby they had to pay toll charges to the adjoining large city, but that today Andover stands alone in this respect in the state.

There was considerable resentment expressed at the meeting regarding the recent public utilities ruling which dropped the mileage charge on foreign exchange from $1.20 per quarter mile to $1.00, but which at the same time also resulted in a sizeable increase for a number of Andover customers. If a person in Andover wants to have unlimited Lawrence service under this plan, it is necessary to run a line from the Lawrence exchange to the Andover exchange and thence to the subscriber. Prior to 1932 the charge was based on the distance from the foreign exchange to the house, but in 1932 the utilities commission ruled that the mileage charge should take in the distance from exchange to exchange. The phone company, however, applied this only to new customers or to changed service on old customers, and when the commis-

Dedication Ceremony Held At Central

An impressive ceremony marked the dedication of the new flagpole at the Central playground, Tuesday night, following the regular evening session. The pole was donated by the Playground association and a new flag was given by Matthew C. Burns, a former member of the committee.

In her acceptance speech, Miss Margaret Davis, playground supervisor, described the principles for which our flag stands and brought out the need for patriotism and national loyalty. The raising and lowering of the flag was done by Frank P. Markey, senior member of the playground committee and service officer of the American Legion, while Stewart Fraser of the junior drum corps beat assembly and Milton Lindholm sounded taps.

James T. Bisset read "America First" and Miss Eleanor Raidy, "Our Flag." Miss Mary Angus reported on the Red Cross work being done at the playground and concluded by reading "The American's Creed."

Mis Alma MacTammany led the community singing and James D. Doherty was master of ceremonies.

State Health Department Says Fishing Up To Board Of Public Works

Who says we can't fish in Haggetts, and why should they say it? At present the matter of fishing up there is still up in the air, with the Board of Public Works waiting for a reply from the State Department of Public Health to a letter which the local board sent a week ago asking in substance just which side the state department is on. After having received a number of letters stating that the health department prohibited fishing at the Town of Andover water supply, the Board was a little perplexed to read a letter sent by Health Commissioner Dr. Paul Jakmauh to William Thompson of 42 Walnut avenue stating that the "Board of Public Works of Andover does have these discretionary powers" to grant permits.

Mr. Thompson has now asked for a permit, and the town board has referred the matter to the state department.

"Why should they prohibit fishing at the pond?" Mr. Thompson claims that they shouldn't, saying that it has never been shown or proven that boating or fishing has been responsible for contamination of any water supply.

The letter sent to Dr. Jakmauh by Mr. Thompson follows:
Dear Sir:

Yours of June 27th in reply to mine of the 22nd duly received and contents noted.

I regret to say that I seem to be unable to get a specific reply to the question asked you.

May Change Party Before August 17

Any voter who has ever declared himself officially for any party may change his designation or become independent again within 30 days before the primaries, or by August 17. All that is necessary is the filing of a card at the town house.

Voting at any primary automatically enrolls a voter in the party whose ballot he marks, and thereafter he must continue in the party for primary purposes until he changes his designation. If a person wishes to become independent, he may do so and then on primary day take any ballot.

FISH STORY

In the first place, I do not underestimate the responsibility attached to your office in regard to Public Health but it is not any more so now than it was for your predecessors.

As a matter of policy, they recommend (as you do) that boating and fishing be prohibited on public water supplies. If, however, the communities interested did not concur, I should say that the responsibility was automatically removed from your shoulders and placed upon theirs.

You evidently are not a fisherman or you would understand how remote the possibility is that any bad effects could arise therefrom. Be that as it may, the important question is—does our local Board of Public Works have the discretionary powers as heretofore—or do you intend to depart from all precedent and seek to prevent their exercising same?

I hope you will answer the above so that he who runs may read: "I do not wish to enter into any controversial discussion on this matter" as I've no doubt you have troubles enough without my adding to them but incidentally my legal friends (well versed in municipal affairs) assure me that it has never been shown or proven that boating or fishing has been responsible for contamination of any water supply.

Best of luck!

Yours very sincerely,

William Thompson

Dr. Jakmauh answered Mr. Thompson as follows:

Dear Sir:

If you refer to such discretionary powers as those relating to granting of permits for boating and fishing in your inquiry of July 8, 1940, it is the opinion of this Department that the Board of Public Works of Andover does have these discretionary powers. The Board of Public Works of Andover has such powers under the rules and regulations adopted by this Department under date of August 6, 1908, for the purpose of preventing the pollution and securing the sanitary protection of the water supply of that town.

Relative to the intention of this Department to depart "from all precedent," the Department will upon complaint of any person interested investigate the granting or withholding of any such permits and make such orders relative thereto as may be necessary for the protection of the public health.

Respectfully,

Paul J. Jakmauh, M. D.

HAVERHILL DOLLAR DAYS

The semi-annual merchandising event—Haverhill Dollar Days—is announced for Friday and Saturday, August 9 and 10.

The official Dollar Days stores will be recognized by the orange and black pennants displayed in their windows and shoppers are urged to patronize these stores for protection as well as profit. This sale will have special significance as it will undoubtedly be the last opportunity, before the anticipated price advance, for the shoppers to secure such remarkable values at such exceptionally low prices.

Much interest is being manifested in the special gift awards, as the local merchants are offering over fifty gifts of various types of merchandise to the winners holding the lucky gift award coupons. These coupons can be obtained at any of the official Dollar Day stores on these two days.

Shoppers visiting Haverhill for this sales event may park their cars as long as necessary except near hydrants, in bus stops, on cross walks or other restricted areas, through the co-operation of Chief Lynch, of the Haverhill police department.

REPORT IMPROVEMENT IN BICYCLIST'S CONDITION

John Davidson, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Davidson of Lowell street, was reported by local police to be improving at the Lawrence General hospital yesterday noon. He was placed on the danger list Saturday afternoon when he was admitted after his bicycle had been in a collision with an automobile at the Essex street railroad crossing, but his name has been removed from the list.

He suffered a fracture of the right wrist and wrist and leg lacerations. He was thrown about seven feet.

Obituary

Miss Alice Cleveland Carter

Alice Cleveland Carter, daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. Clark Carter, died at her home on Bartlett street Monday morning.

She was born in Lawrence and attended the public schools of that city. After the removal of the family to Andover in 1895, she studied at Wellesley and Radcliffe colleges. She taught at Ballard Institute in Macon, Georgia, and was active in social settlement work in New Haven and at Denison House in Boston. For many years she has been closely confined to her home by ill health.

Miss Carter is survived by two sisters, Mabel M. and Harriet W., of Andover; by a brother, Edward C. Carter of New York city; and by two nephews and a niece of New York city.

The funeral services were held at her home Wednesday at 2:30 and were conducted by the Rev. John H. Grant, formerly of Fairfield, Connecticut. The bearers were Burton S. Flagg, Dr. Charles Currier of Andover; Miss Carter's brother, Edward Charles Carter of New York, and her nephew, John Alden Carter of Nashville, Tenn. Burial was at Spring Grove cemetery.

LOWELL DOLLAR DAYS

August, or Mid-Summer, Dollar Days in stores affiliated with the Merchants' Division of the Lowell Chamber of Commerce, will be held Friday and Saturday this week. The Chamber states: "These Dollar Days recognized as outstanding bargain days of the year, have special significance this week, inasmuch as they present perhaps the last opportunity that the shopping public will have for some time to procure unusual offerings, because of the stoppage of imports by the war in Europe and the national defense preparations.

"Inasmuch as the Dollar Days have been regularly conducted during the month of August, the members of the Merchants' Division of the Chamber of Commerce have in mind the event for the past several months and, whenever the opportunity presented itself to procure merchandise of exceptional value for the Dollar Days, it was immediately contracted for, with the result that exceptional bargains will be offered.

Phone: J. T. GAGNE, Andover 1067

"Incidentally, any purchases made in the Lowell stores during these Dollar Days, will constitute a contribution of the purchaser to assure a further improvement of business conditions. We repeat, this is probably the final opportunity that will be given to wise shoppers to obtain personal or home necessities at prices which, in the aggregate, will prevail within another month.

"The official red and canary Dollar Day signs will indicate the stores which have especially prepared for the event."

Too Much Pepper

The other night a young man stepped before a microphone and broadcast a message over a nationwide hook-up. Not so many years ago that same young man returned from France to receive the plaudits of his country in a wild demonstration symbolic of the wild 1920's. This week the plaudits were few, the taunts many.

Colonel Charles Lindbergh's talk was not popular, particularly with such men as Senator Pepper of Florida, who took up Congress's time not so much by breaking down the logic of the Lindbergh speech as by calling him names, such as the "leading fifth columnist" of the United States. We'll wager that in 1927, or in 1937, Senator Claude Pepper would not have dared to rise to say a word against this young man; he would not have had the courage. But in 1940 when it's fashionable to suggest means by which we can mix up in European affairs, Senator Pepper does find this courage. And in 1940 it's not fashionable to preach anything which suggests that Germany might win this war and that we should confine our efforts to being prepared for that eventuality. Colonel Lindbergh did that, though, and since he knew just what difficulties he was facing, it took just as much courage for him to approach a mike with that message as it took him to hop off for Paris all alone over a decade ago.

Let's be fair. Let's not lose our heads. We need men like Colonel Lindbergh whose ultra-isolationist views should be broadcast to provide a counterweight to the rabidly interventionist views of such men as Senator Pepper. Between the two we'll find a wise course. We don't feel as Colonel Lindbergh does that we should keep on friendly terms, or make friends, with Adolf Hitler, but at the same time, we don't feel that we should go to war with Germany just because of Adolf Hitler, and surely that is where Roosevelt, Pepper, and company want to lead us. Why war with Germany? Because they have done so much in the way of aggression? Where were we when Italy cleaned up Ethiopia, or weren't the Ethiopians important enough? Where were we when Japan did to China just what Germany has been doing to Poland, Belgium, et al? Why didn't we sell our airplanes and our destroyers to China?

We'd like to bet that Colonel Lindbergh much prefers England to win. We do, too. And we'd wager too that Colonel Lindbergh knows that what happens to England is of vital importance to the United States. But he is facing what Senator Pepper doesn't face, and that is the imminence of a Nazi victory over Great Britain. What then? Will the chip that this administration has been carrying on its shoulder help us any while we wait four years for our fleet to get ready? Or will Adolf decide to knock off the chip before the four years are up?

We can't help but recall, when we think of Pepper's remarks about Lindbergh's supposed allegiance to Germany, just how tragic the flyer's life was made by a German, if our courts judge correctly. We can't help but recall the flights he made to other countries.

Good-will flights, to cement our peaceful relationships with those countries. Senator Pepper might give the young man credit for still being imbued with a desire for peace, instead of calling him names. If a person doesn't agree with you these days, the thing to do apparently is not to provide any valid arguments, but just to call him a skunk, or something like that.

Lindbergh presented a point of view. It merits careful consideration. We still have Freedom of Speech here, and that means freedom for Colonel Lindbergh just as much as for Senator Pepper. We're inclined to believe that Pepper's ideas are a bit on the Corrigan pattern: he wants our young men to stay in the United States, so he says, but if he doesn't watch out, he'll land them in Europe.

We must prepare. We must prepare in a military sense. We must prepare, in a political sense. And heaven help us if the politicians talk so fast that they'll get us into trouble before the military units are prepared for it. If men like Lindbergh can slow the politicians up in their talking, and others can speed them up in their acting, we might come to a fairly good solution of our problems, and that solution can only lie in policies which will insure peace for the world. Let's bend our patriotism then toward peace, not toward belligerency.

You save money by paying $2.00 a year for the Townsman.

Let's Find Out

Let's have another telephone poll, to settle this problem for another few years. Some people want to pay the fifty cents higher basic charge and eliminate the toll charge to Lawrence. Others don't make ten calls to Lawrence a month and so would not want the higher basic charge. But certainly it is time now to find out how many want which.

sion recently learned that some subscribers were getting the same service as others at less than half what the newer ones were paying. It ruled that all should pay the new rate. The company is allowing change-overs now to these old subscribers without the usual change-over charge.

An executive committee was named to carry on the work Monday night, as follows: chairman Joseph A. Mulvey; Dr. Henry Dearborn, George Mellen, Emil Shulze, Walter C. Wilson and secretary J. Augustus Remington. Working with them will be the Service club committee of Mr. Remington, Judge Walter Tomlinson and Fred Cheever.

COLORADO

A land of gold and silver, snowy peaks, lakes and trout streams. Go out there this summer, spend two weeks in spruce forests a mile and a half above sea level. Ride, tramp, fish, take photo shots at wild game—or just relax. A fire in the fireplace every evening. Sleep under plenty of blankets.

On the way out, ride the smooth-running, eighty-mile-an-hour streamliners "Denver Zephyr" or "City of Denver."

Expenses low.

Better make an appointment to talk over your trip—no obligation.
